DEADLY RIOTING AT OHIO STEEL PLANTS SPREADING; STRUTHERS CALLS FOR HELP; MILITIA SENT

PART OF EAST YOUNGSTOWN IS DESTROYED

Drunken Mob Causes Night of Terror to Residents of Village.

One Man Killed and Nearly 100 Others Are Wounded.

Ten Blocks Burned, Entailing Loss of at Least $1,000,000.

Youngstown, Ohio, Jan. 8.—Gen. Speaks has received an appeal from citizens of Struthers to send help at once to that village for protection from rioting there. The message stated that a mob was formed and is engaged in a general fight in the streets, men shooting and beating up each other. Gen. Speaks at once sent two companies of militia to Struthers in automobiles.

Led by Mayor A. B. Stough, 200 citizens of Struthers village, which lies across the Mahoning river opposite East Youngstown, armed themselves and massed on the bridge leading across the river ready to repel a threatened invasion of strikers. The men are armed with rifles and revolvers.

A charge of fifty pounds of dynamite has been placed beneath the bridge and a wire made ready to carry a current to set off the blast and blow up the bridge the moment a mob starts across. A notice has been posted to this effect and all persons warned away from the bridge.

Damage to property had been threatened in Struthers.

Fearing a new outbreak of rioting this morning when a crowd of strike sympathizers gathered on the hill opposite the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company plant, Brig.-Gen. John C. Speaks ordered four Cleveland militia companies of the Fifth regiment to the strike scene.

Brief Stop at Amsterdam.

Amsterdam, Jan. 8, via London.—The Ford party arrived at Amsterdam this morning on the way to The Hague and made a brief stop here.

The Rev. Charles F. Aked of San Francisco, the Rev. Jenkin Lloyd Jones of Chicago, and Judge Ben B. Lindsey of Denver, have made arrangements for the first public meeting at The Hague next week under the auspices of the Ford party, at which all neutral nations will be asked to unite for peace. Members of the party express confidence that peace sentiment is spreading.

GREEK KING SAYS HE IS NOT PRO-GERMAN

Declares He Is for Greece Same as Wilson Is for United States.

Athens, Jan. 8, via Paris.—"I hope you will make the people of the United States understand that I am no more pro-German than your president," said King Constantine to the Associated Press correspondent. "I am pro-Greek, just as your president tries to be only pro-American.

"It is one of the saddest evidences of the blind hatreds and prejudices evoked by this war that people who should and in their sober senses do know better insist upon imputing to others motives which they never could conceivably have entertained."

The king's statement was made in communicating to the correspondent an important declaration of his policy which he had given to a representative of the Lokal Anzeiger of Berlin. This declaration was made with a view to clearing up any misunderstanding respecting his intentions which may exist in Germany.

ZEPPELIN WRECKED AT NAMUR; TWO KILLED

London, Jan. 8.—The accidental wrecking of the Zeppelin at Namur, Belgium, yesterday, is reported in an Amsterdam dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company. According to this information the dirigible became entangled in telegraph wires while attempting to make a landing. Two members of the crew are said to have been killed.

Russian Losses in New Year's Fighting Said to Be Heavy.

Austrian Troops Reported Within Ten Kilometers of Berane.

Berlin, Jan. 8, via London, 3 p. m.—A portion of a trench to the south of Hartmans-Weilerkopf was captured from the French yesterday by German troops in a surprise attack, according to the German official statement given out today.

Austrian Statement.

Vienna, via London, Jan. 8.—Russian losses on the Bessarabian frontier and the Stripa region during the New Year's fighting were at least 50,000 according to the official statement yesterday. The statement follows:

"Russian theater—Yesterday on the northeast front, comparative calm prevailed, fighting occurring only on the Styr. The enemy occupied the churchyard north of Czartorysk, but was soon repulsed by the Austrian landwehr. This morning the enemy repeated his attacks in East Galicia. Russian sharpshooters advanced upon our line northeast of Buczacz before daybreak and penetrated our trenches for a short distance. Our Honved infantry regiments Nos. 16 and 24, by quick counter attacks, expelled the enemy, capturing numerous prisoners and three machine guns.

"According to the declarations of prisoners, before the last attacks against the armies of Gen. Pflanzer and Baltin, Russian troops everywhere were informed that a great battle, with a view of breaking through hostile line, was imminent, and would bring the Russian army again into the Carpathians.

"Trustworthy estimates of the enemy's losses in the New Year's fighting on the Bessarabian frontier and in the Stripa region, make them at least 50,000.

"Southeastern theater: The troops of Gen. Koevess, after violent fighting, forced the Montenegrins from their positions near Mojkovac on the Tara river near Goduso, north of Berane and west of Rozaj, half way between Ipek and Plav. Our advanced troops are now within 10 kilometers of Berane.

POLICE FOIL ROBBERS' PLOT

Shoot Three and Capture Two More in New Jersey Town.

Attempt Made By Gang to Rob the Pennsgrove Postoffice.

Pennsgrove, N. J., Jan. 8.—A gang of six or seven burglars attempted to rob the postoffice here early today with the result that three of them are in a hospital with bullet wounds and two others are in the Camden county jail, after a fight with a posse of citizens, policemen and postal inspectors. The men in the hospital are John Mayo, St. Paul, Minn.; Frank Matson, Galesburg, Ill., and Charles Collins. None of the men is seriously wounded. All of the burglars were heavily armed but none of the posse was struck.

Rapid Increase in Population.

Because of the great increase in the number of employes at the Dupont powder works at Carney's Point, N. J., Pennsgrove has grown from a quiet little village to a thriving town of about 25,000 persons, in consequence of which the postoffice is a busy place. On payday at the powder plant two weeks ago an attempt was made to rob the postoffice and as yesterday was again payday another visit from the robbers was anticipated. Chief Marshal Harbeson of Pennsgrove enlisted the services of half a dozen citizens to help his force of four police-

LIFEBOATS NOT PLACE OF SAFETY

Germany's Note Agreeing With United States Is Made Public.

Latest Document on Sinking of American Ship Frye.

Takes Up Question of Indemnity and Arbitrating Disputes.

Washington, Jan. 8.—Germany's note accepting the American contentions that the mere placing of non-combatants in life boats when a prize is to be destroyed is not under all conditions to be considered assuring them a place of safety, was made public today by the state department.

The note is the latest communication over the sinking of the American sailing ship W. P. Frye and beside making the important concession regarding the question of small boats, takes up the question of an indemnity for the sunken ship and for arbitrating the disputed provisions of the Prussian-American treaty.

Two Communications Received.

Two communications from Germany reached the United States yesterday—one containing a proposal to pay an indemnity for the Americans lost in the Lusitania disaster, which may bring negotiations on that subject to a conclusion, and the other conveying assurances that German submarine commanders operating in the Mediterranean would not torpedo non-combatant ships of any character without warning them, and according safety to their passengers and crews.

The communications were delivered

THOUSANDS ATTEND GOGGIN FUNERAL

Chicago, Jan. 8.—Thousands of friends of Miss Catherine Goggin, financial secretary of the Chicago Teachers' Federation, who was killed accidently Tuesday night by an automobile struck at a dark street corner, thronged the city council chamber today where her body lay in state before its removal to the Holy Name cathedral where funeral services were held.

In the procession to the cathedral were state, county and city officials, representatives of the Chicago Federation of Labor, the teachers' federation and various organizations with which she had been connected.

Governor Dunne was an honorary pall bearer.

MINNEAPOLIS WOMAN CUTS OFF CHILD'S HEAD.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Samuel Hokenson, wife of a railroad man, during an attack of what physicians called acute insanity, today seized a butcher knife, drove a nurse from the house, snatched her own week-old daughter from a crib and carved off the child's head. She then plunged the knife into her own throat, inflicting wounds that probably will cause death.

When the police arrived the woman lay in bed clutching to her the headless body of her child.

UNITED STATES SENDS SHARP PROTEST TO BRITAIN AGAINST DETENTION OF AMERICAN MAIL

RESULTS OF RUSSIAN OFFENSIVE IN GALICIA NOT DEFINITELY KNOWN

Petrograd Claims Full Possession of the Village of Czartorysk.

Austrians Deny Any Advance Further Than the Cemetery.

Teutonic Forces Fighting Desperately to Maintain Their Positions.

London, Jan. 8.—The Russian offensive still occupies the most important place in the news of the war, with the capture of Czartorysk as the latest achievement reported. The Russians claim full possession of the village but the Austrians deny they have advanced any further than the cemetery.

The Austrians apparently are fighting desperately in this region in the effort to hold their positions as a screen for Kovel and a link between the Austro-German armies in Galicia and those further north in the neighborhood of Pinsk, which is threatened with envelopment as a result of the Russian advance.

Must Be Taken With Reserve.

The news regarding Czartorysk must be taken with reserve. A German report dated later than that of the Russian, claims that all the lost ground has been retaken. The town may become a second Cernowitz which apparently is untenable by either side.

On the British front in the west the Germans have attacked near the Lille-Armentieres railroad, but according to official British advices, have been repulsed. Both the British and French heavy artillery were busily engaged yesterday.

Constantinople reports the allies have again bombarded the narrows from land and sea.

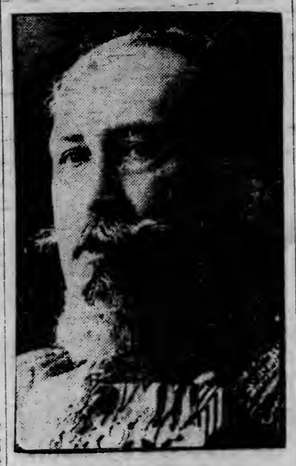

Adjournment of parliament over the week-end has brought a lull in the controversy over compulsory military service.

FINAL SESSIONS OF PAN-AMERICANS

Washington, Jan. 8.—The second Pan-American scientific congress met today in final session, with the Latin-American diplomatic corps, high government officials and members of congress as invited guests.

The program included action on resolutions proposed in sectional meetings, the usual exchange of courtesies between the United States and visiting delegations, announcement of the selection of Lima, Peru, as the meeting place of the next congress in 1921 and the farewell address of Eduardo Suarez, ambassador from Chile and president of the congress.

NO REPORT FROM JURY

Unable Thus Far to Agree in Case of New Haven Directors.

Charge of Judge Regarded as Favorable to the Defense.

New York, Jan. 8.—The jury in the case of William Rockefeller and ten other former directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, charged with conspiracy to monopolize the railway traffic of New England in violation of the Sherman law, was still out today. After ten hours' consideration of the evidence yesterday the jury was unable to reach an agreement and was locked up in a hotel at 11 o'clock last night.

The case was submitted to the jurors for decision shortly before 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon. All of the defendants, except William Rockefeller, who was ill, had been present in the courtroom during the evening to receive the verdict. They faced the possibility of jail sentences of a year, should the case go against them.

Judge Hunt's charge was regarded by many in the court as favorable for the defense. He held that the jurors must first satisfy themselves that the alleged conspiracy to monopolize the commerce in New England must have been continuous from the date named in the indictment, that of the enactment of the Sherman law, 1890 until the date the indictment was found. Otherwise the government's case failed, he said.

"THE THREE PIGEONS," FAMOUS INN, CLOSED

Associated With British Literature for Several Centuries.

London, Jan. 8.—"The Three Pigeons," one of England's oldest and most famous inns and last existing tavern of Elizabethan times, was closed yesterday by the Middlesex licensing justices in accordance with a movement inaugurated some time ago by the temperance leaders to restrict the number of licensed inns.

"The Three Pigeons" was used as a background for the low comedy scenes in the "Merry Wives of Windsor," Ben Jonson's "The Alchemist" and Goldsmith's "She Stoops to Conquer," and is alluded to in Dickens' "Our Mutual Friend." The inn perhaps has had more literary associations than any other English tavern.

SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT REPORTED FAVORABLY

Washington, Jan. 8.—The Susan B. Anthony amendment providing for woman suffrage was reported favorably today to the senate by the suffrage committee.

TAKEN FROM OCEAN SHIPS AND CENSORED

Confiscation of Correspondence to Neutral Countries Is Also Charged.

Vessels Held Up and Taken to Port for Examination of Mail.

Numerous Complaints Received From Business Men of Many Cities.

Washington, Jan. 8.—The United States has sent to Ambassador Page at London for presentation to the British foreign office a note vigorously protesting against the British authorities interfering with and censoring mails from the United States to neutral European countries.

The note is understood to have already been delivered to the British foreign office.

The state department plans to make public its text here later today.

Numerous Complaints.

Numerous complaints have been received from American business men and others that their mails destined to points in neutral European countries have been opened by the British censors. Steamships carrying neutral mails to and from the United States have been held up by British warships and taken to British ports, where practically all mails have been removed by the British authorities. The steamships then have been allowed to proceed and the mails detained and examined by the British censors. After complete examination the mails have been sent forward to their destination.

This has resulted in much delay and in some instances, confiscation of correspondence.

GERMAN COMMENT ON CRISIS IN ENGLAND

Berlin Papers Print Reports on Conscription But Venture No Predictions.

Berlin, Jan 8, via London.—The German newspapers display much interest in reports of the conscription crisis in England, but venture no prediction regarding its outcome.

The Morgen Post speaks of the British government's "pyrrhic victory" and says the Asquith cabinet emerged from the struggle greatly weakened.

The Socialist organ, Vorwaerts, is disposed to think that conscription in the form proposed will be carried through. It says that a hard struggle is ahead, but if the war last sober calculation will have to reckon with the fact that the present active resistance will be overcome.

The Post, in a remarkably objective dispassionate leader, warns the German leaders against building great hopes upon England's internal conflict. It points out that crises have a habit of adjusting themselves and adds:

Makes Little Difference.

"What difference does it make, anyhow, if England really should have a crisis. Today's cabinet would go and tomorrow's cabinet would come and would begin where this one left off. England must wage war with all her powers to ward off misfortune and any new minister who might come would come with this feeling. Just as victory is certain for the ministry in parliament, just so will the ministry maintain itself before the people if new elections come. Despite all outcries of anti-conscription gatherings, there is no evidence to show that the English people today would resist conscription as strongly as they certainly would have done a year ago. English voters, along with their leaders, have learned their lesson. One must at least wait to see whether they will desert their leaders in such an hour."

ROCKEFELLER PLAN EXTENDED TO CAMPS

Employe Appointed as the Representative of President Welborn.

Denver, Colo., Jan. 8.—Extension of the Rockefeller industrial plan to the steel works and quarry camps of the Colorado Fuel & Iron company is announced in a bulletin to employes issued today by J. M. Welborn, president. Harrington Shaffer, an employe at the Minnequa plant at Pueblo, has been selected for a position to be known as the president's industrial representative, "who shall act as an intermediary between the company and its employes at the steel works and quarries."

In connection with the extension of the plan, announcement is made that an election will be held on Jan. 11 at which thirty representatives, apportioned from each department, will be chosen by secret ballot.

A conference between officials of the company and the representatives of the men has been arranged for Jan. 20 at Pueblo.

to Secretary Lansing by Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador. The secretary immediately sent them to President Wilson.

Official Washington considered that America and Germany were near a final agreement regarding the conduct of submarine warfare. Officials made no attempt to conceal their gratification over the attitude Germany apparently has assumed. It was considered to be virtually in harmony with the American viewpoint.

Statement By Lansing.

The following statement was issued by Secretary Lansing:

"The German ambassador today left at the department of state under instruction from his government the following communication:

"'First—German submarines in the Mediterranean had, from the beginning, orders to conduct cruiser warfare against enemy merchant vessels only in accordance with general principles of international and particular measures of reprisal as applied in the war zone around the British isles, were to be excluded.

"'Second—German submarines are therefore permitted to destroy enemy merchant vessels in the Mediterranean —i. e., passenger as well as freight ships as far as they do not try to escape or offer resistance—only after passengers and crew have been accorded safety.

"'Third—All cases of destruction of enemy merchant ships in the Mediterranean in which German submarines are concerned are made the subject of official investigation and besides submitted to regular prize court proceedings. Insofar as American interests are concerned the German government will communicate the result to the American government. Thus, also in the Persia case if the circumstances should call for it.

"'Fourth—If commanders of German submarines should not have obeyed the orders given to them, they will be punished; furthermore the German government will make reparation for damage caused by death of or injury to American citizens.'"

Proof From Duluth Citizens That Dr. Mitchell Is Effecting Hundreds of Cures After Other Methods Fail.

Dr. Mitchell has had many years' experience in treating by natural methods, without drugs or surgeon's knife.

The Electric Magnetic Treatment has restored health and strength to those who have given up hope of ever walking, seeing, hearing or enjoying health again. He asserts without fear of contradiction that the great majority of cripples will yield to his advanced method of treatment, and a large number heretofore pronounced incurable can be cured to stay cured and others greatly relieved. The percentage of hopelessly incurable cases is exceedingly small. This is also true of deformities. Of course there are some who are beyond help, but all over this country there are thousands who are lame, wearing braces, stays and other contrivances, walking with canes, crutches, or limping through life, who could be made as others are by Dr. Mitchell's Electric Magnetic Treatment.

Mrs. W. H. Sweet, formerly of West Duluth, 125 North Fifty-sixth avenue, cured of paralysis of right side.

DEADLY RIOTING AT OHIO STEEL PLANTS

plant to reinforce 100 strike guards and the other two companies patrolled the opposite hill to prevent the mob organizing. Operations at the mill are entirely suspended today.

Three hundred office employes are marooned in the plant, where they spent the night for safety and to keep fires going.

Quiet in Morning.

With three companies of the Ohio National Guard under command of Brig.-Gen. John C. Speaks patrolling the smoldering ruins of the village of East Youngstown or encamped in the hills nearby, it is believed that for the present at least, an end has been put to the scenes of rioting and looting that marked last night. One life at least was lost and fully ten blocks of the town was burned, with a loss of at least $1,000,000, it is estimated. Physicians called to attend the injured said that 100 were wounded, although but fifteen were taken to hospitals. Practically the entire business section of the town was burned, including eighteen of the twenty saloons.

Trouble Starts.

The trouble started when the workmen left the mills of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company yesterday afternoon. As they were crossing the bridge that separates the town from the site of the mills they were met by a crowd of about 200 men and women who jeered at them. A single shot was fired, drawing a volley from the guards stationed at the bridge, who fired over the strikers' heads. The mob replied and the guard replied with another volley, wounding a number, among them two women.

Fires Started.

The mob then fired the employment office of the company and later a small warehouse. A saloon was next looted and then fired, after which a clothing store was cleaned out. The mob had by this time become maddened and as they looted saloons and stores they set fire to them until the business section was a mass of flames. The liquor secured in the saloons was passed around and the mob soon was in a frenzy. The police force of the town was unable to control the crowd and the sheriff admitted his inability to cope with the situation. A call was then sent for state troops.

Hundreds of Drunks.

Meantime the rioting had been in progress for several hours and it was seen that the business section could not be saved. Every minute the crowd seemed to grow until there were hundreds of drink-crazed men and women roaming the streets. The fire department had been called out at the first alarm of fire, but the hose was quickly cut to pieces, and helpless, they called on the Youngstown fire department. Chief Joseph Wallace had men and equipment ready to send from the city, but found it was useless to risk lives and property as long as the mob held the town.

Scenes of the wildest disorder were everywhere enacted and the fires mounted higher and higher until toward 10 o'clock Wilson avenue for the entire length of the village was in flames. Absolutely no attempt was being made to extinguish the flames or save the thousands of dollars in property being carried away or destroyed.

Postoffice Attacked.

Early in the evening the mob had attacked the postoffice. It was a small building and the dozen or more men who entered it made short work of it. Additional excitement, if such were possible, was created by the report that the mob had dragged the safe into the street and blown it to pieces. Later it was stated that the men had been content with robbing the strong box before applying the torch to the building.

One of the handsomest buildings in the village was the banking house of G. Y. Hamory. The mob paid no attention to it until after 10 o'clock. Then it was recalled that a saloon had stood in that section, and there was a rush to the place. The saloon was quickly looted and fired and the flames, spreading to the bank soon doomed the structure.

Dry Goods Store Next.

A dry goods store near Seventh street and Wilson avenue shared a building with a saloon. The particular party of rioters who selected it for their prey made the mistake of attacking the dry goods store first. As they approached the door a man appeared at a window in the living quarters above the store and fired one shot from his revolver. A rioter, who had not been identified this morning, fell dead in the street and the rest fled. They withdrew to the other side of Wilson avenue, and after a conference tossed a brick through one of the plate glass windows. No shot came from above and, encouraged, they stormed the place.

Barrels of Whisky in Street.

At a dozen or more places in Wilson avenue barrels of whisky, with the heads gone, stood in the roadway, and surrounding them were many men and women, gulping down the raw liquor or passing it to friends in the crowd who could not get close enough to help themselves. A number of clothing stores fell a prey to the rioters, and almost immediately men began exchanging their old clothes for the loot they had seized. This change of apparel was made in the street, lighted almost to noonday brightness by the flames from half a hundred burning buildings.

Once the rioters were frightened. A passenger train, steaming along the railroad tracks at the foot of the hill, slowed down as it approached the burning buildings, a shout "the militia is coming" rang out, and for a minute or two there was a pause. But when it was seen the train did not stop the orgy went on.

Better Citizens Flee.

By this time so much property had been destroyed and the mob had become so inflamed that the better citizens of the town had fled. Many families came to Youngstown and others took the street cars to communities farther away, as the conviction was growing that if the disorder spread to Youngstown nothing could save the city. Finally a dozen or more citizens, led by Oscar Diser, city solicitor of East Youngstown and former member of the Ohio legislature, gathered at the police station and pleaded with police and other city officials to attack the rioters. It was almost midnight before a force of some forty armed men had been gathered in Wilson avenue. Then with Diser to lead them they moved down the street.

Fire Over Heads.

Only a block away the rioters were looting the last building in the block and the citizens fired over their heads. They broke and ran but, finding no one had been killed, they turned and sent shot after shot toward the posse. No one was hurt and the posse fired again. This time half a dozen or more rioters went down and the mob tore down the street. The panic gathered strength and scores of men, their pockets bulging with loot, stumbled over each other in a mad rush to get away. The posse followed closely, and wherever possible chased the rioters into side streets, men being detached from among the citizens to round them up. In half an hour Wilson avenue had been almost cleared of the mob, but small squads were scattered about the hillside, as fast as possible these men were driven by main force to the police station and automobiles took them to Youngstown. Some were taken to the Mahoning county jail and others to the city prison.

Many Arrested.

By 2 o'clock this morning more than a hundred had been rounded up and brought here, while the little police station in East Youngstown was filled to overflowing. The majority of the men taken were armed, and many of them were under the influence of liquor.

Clearing the streets gave the Youngstown fire department an opportunity to get into East Youngstown and men and equipment were rushed to the village. There was still some work for them to do and water was thrown on the ruins the rest of the night, but the wreck wrought by the mob was almost complete. By daybreak the walls of many of the brick buildings burned began to fall and the principal streets were roped off and sightseers excluded.

Mob Disappears.

What became of the mob when it fled before the bullets of the posse has not yet been determined, although it is known that hundreds of men streamed along country roads leading out of Youngstown, while many others made their way into Youngstown.

Gen. Speaks had been in communication during the night with Governor Willis at Columbus, and anxiously awaited the coming of the troops at daybreak. The troop trains came without any definite announcement to the public and not until persons passing along Front street saw the long trains stretched out along the tracks did they realize that the military had taken the situation in hand.

Surrounded at Midnight.

The postoffice was surrounded at midnight by this guard and at 2:30 a. m. the robbers entered the building, leaving one man outside as lookout. Soon afterward the posse closed in on the postoffice and the lookout opened fire. Instantly his accomplices appeared at doors and windows and started shooting, the posse returning the fire vigorously, three of the burglars being wounded. Two others were later arrested.

Trying to Locate "Mayo."

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Chief of Police John J. O'Connor today started an investigation to determine the identity of "John Mayo," shot at Pennsgrove, N. J., with other members of the gang who attempted to rob the postoffice there. None of the Mayos listed in telephone books or city directory here in St. Paul could give the police information desired. Chief O'Connor gave it as his opinion that the name "John Mayo" would prove to be an alias for the man who claims St. Paul as his home.

W. T. Irwin carried off Buff Orpington prizes in 118 entries as follows: First for pen, fourth for pullet.

GAVE CHINESE CHECKS THAT WERE WORTHLESS

Hibbing, Minn., Jan. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dominick Santora alias Dominick Pilleggi, a former employe of a local garage, was arrested yesterday by Officer David Williams on a warrant charging issuing worthless checks. It is alleged he gave checks to two local Chinese for his laundry without the necessary funds in the bank.

The complaint against him was made two days later. In that time he had left Hibbing and had gone to Duluth. Officer Williams and Chief of Police Dwyer located their man yesterday at Woodbridge, near Buhl. He was placed in custody last night. He will have a hearing today.

POLICE SEARCH IN VAIN FOR BURGLARS

No Trace of Men Who Robbed St. Paul Revenue Office.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Admittedly without a tangible clew on which to work, Twin City police and Federal secret service agents continued their search today for the robbers who early yesterday looted the vault in the office of the internal revenue office here and escaped, presumably in an automobile, with more than $575,000 in negotiable revenue stamps and approximately $3,500 in cash. Deputies in the revenue office completed a checking of accounts early today and announced that $676,077.51 in stamps, principally documentary tax stamps, were missing.

Abe Martin

Th' country boy that plows all day has got th' city feller that don't know what to do with himself beat a mile. You kin allus fool enough people t' git int' society.

To Kin Hubbard.

The Father of His Countryman, Abe Martin.

P'tends he's a Brown county fixture—
A kind of comical mixture
Of hoss-sense and no sense at all!
His mouth, like his pipe, 's allus goin',
And his thoughts, like his whiskers, is flowin'—
And what he don't know ain't worth knowin'—
From Genesis clean to baseball!
The artist, Kin Hubbard, 's so keerless
He draws Abe 'most eyeless and earless;
But he's never yit pictured him cheerless
Er with fun 'at he tries to conceal—
Whuther onto the fence er clean over
A rootin' up ragweed er clover,
Skeert stiff at some "Rambler" or "Rover"
Er new-fangled automobeel.
It's purty steep climate old Brown's in;
And the rains there his ducks nearly drowns in
The old man hisse'f wades his rounds in
As calm and serene, mighty nigh,
As the old handsaw hawg, er the mottled
Milch-cow, er the old rooster wattled
Like the mumps had him 'most so well throttled
That it wuz a pleasure to die.
But best of 'em all's the fool-breaks 'at Abe don't see at all, and yit makes, 'at Both me and you lays back and shakes 'at
His comic, miraculous cracks,
Which makes him—clean back of the power
Of genius itsse'f in its flower—
This Notable Man of the Hour,
Abe Martin, the Joker on Facts,
Very truly your old Hoosier friend,
JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY.

Abe Martin begins his appearance in The Duluth Herald Monday, Jan. 10.

MAY URGE IRRIGATION

Public Affairs Committee Will Have Flathead Project Before It.

Montana Booster Visits City in Attempt to Influence Congress.

At the next meeting of the public affairs committee of the Duluth Commercial club a resolution will be presented indorsing the demand being made by people in the Flathead district in Montana that congress appropriate $1,000,000 for furthering the irrigation plan in that section of the state, and asking the Minnesota senators and congressional representatives to support such a bill.

Whether the resolution will be adopted by the committee is, of course, another matter, but wholesalers of Duluth are in favor of it in view of the fact that the territory involved is a trade center for this point, and Duluth houses obtain considerable business there. With the irrigation project furthered or completed, settlers will naturally go in, it is pointed out, and the trade will proportionately increase.

James Harbert, chairman of the irrigation committee of the chamber of commerce of Folson, Mont., was in the city yesterday, and met a number of the wholesalers and other business men, who indorsed the project for which he is working. Mr. Harbert is an old schoolmate of Norton Mattocks, and was shown about the city by the latter. In talking about the project, he said:

Small Appropriations.

"The estimated cost of the completed plan is $6,500,000 and in the last seven years $1,500,000 has been spent, in small amounts at a time, not nearly enough to furnish water for irrigation to the settlers who have come in at the invitation of the government, which opened the reservation there. There are 2,980 irrigable farms which will be available when the work is completed, and dry farming is an impossibility. Our country is semi-arid in character, the average rainfall in the irrigable territory being about twelve inches per year, not nearly enough to grow crops without irrigation. In the foothills where the rainfall is about 50 per cent greater than on the prairie land, beautiful crops are raised, and it is aided by the sub-irrigation which is constantly seeping from the mountain sides.

"According to government reports, this project was, on June 30 about 25 per cent completed, after expending approximately $1,500,000. About 2,800 men and women, comprising Indians and white people, have taken these irrigable units with the express understanding that their lands were to be irrigated by the government.

Settlers Disappointed.

"The fact remains that the Indian and the white man alike went upon these lands in good faith, expecting the government to carry out its express and implied pledges made to them at the time they made entry. It is true that no especial time is named for the completion of this reclamation scheme, but it is only reasonable to assume that it was the intention of the government to provide water for domestic and irrigation purposes within a reasonable length of time, thus giving the entryman an opportunity of making a living for himself and family and meeting the payments on his land. The government has been very exacting in its demands of the settlers and in addition to paying water construction and maintenance charges and complying with the homestead laws, he must pay the appraised price of the land, paying one-third in cash at the time of making entry and the balance in five equal annual installments, plus usual fees and commissions.

"We are not asking for any gratuitous appropriations in connection with this project. The unit holders have pledged their lands and their very lives for all construction and maintenance charges. The government is holding the first mortgage and takes precedence over every other form of indebtedness on the land and your Uncle Sam is not taking any chances whatsoever."

"AIDA" SUNG BY SAN CARLO COMPANY

Verdi's Beautiful Opera Attracts Audience That Fills Lyceum.

"Aida" was the opera chosen for the second night of the engagement of the San Carlo Opera company at the Lyceum.

The audience last evening completely filled the Lyceum, being nearly double the proportions of the audience of the opening night, and apparently the company will receive the recognition it merits in Duluth.

"Aida" was sung by an entirely new cast of principals from those heard on the opening night.

The opera was composed by Verdi as an assignment from the khedive of Egypt in the period when a khedive of Egypt was actually a ruler and not an automaton dancing to the piping of British military bands.

It heralded to the world the conquest of Ismail over the sandy barrier which had separated the Mediterranean and the Red sea, and presented a problem upon which sovereigns had worked unsuccessfully for 4,000 years.

The story of "Aida" is not, of course, the romance of the Suez canal. It is a simple tale of the love of an Egyptian captain of the guard for an enslaved Ethiopian princess, but it seems plain that when Ismail assigned Verdi to the task of writing an opera which should be suitable as a major feature of a celebration of the opening of the canal, the composer became imbued with the spirit of the occasion and rose to levels of dignity and grandeur unreached by him in his previous work.

Mary Kaestner, in the title role, displayed a soprano voice of telling quality, and was greatly applauded. Her acting, too, revealed histrionic powers of no mean order. This was shown, notably in the great scene of the third act.

The mezzo soprano role of Amnerls was well taken care of by Caroline Zawner, whose voice was heard to especially good advantage in the second and third acts.

A fine impersonation in every respect was the Amonasro of Allessandro Modesti. He possesses not only a finely vibrant baritone voice, but a thorough knowledge of stagecraft.

The tenor in "Aida" is put under the disadavantage of having to sing his principal, indeed, his only real solo, the beautiful aria, "Celeste Aida," within perhaps ten minutes of the rise of the first curtain.

Emanuel Salazer betrayed no nervousness on this account, and acquitted himself so well that he was the recipient of loud and long continued applause. His voice is of the robust type, and the high B flat at the close of his solo was sustained with the greatest ease and with much power.

The minor roles were on the whole most acceptably taken.

EVERYBODY NEEDS PURE, RICH BLOOD

Pure blood enables the stomach, liver and other digestive organs to do their work properly. Without it they are sluggish, there is loss of appetite, sometimes faintness, a deranged state of the intestines, and, in general, all the symptoms of dyspepsia.

Pure blood is required by every organ of the body for the proper performance of its functions.

Hood's Sarsaparilla makes pure blood and this is why it is so successful in the treatment of so many diseases and ailments. It acts directly on the blood, ridding it of scrofulous and other humors. INDIANS ARE GOING AHEAD

Fond du Lac Band of Chippewas Made Progress During Past Year.

Residents of Reserve Generally Have Achieved Much in Many Ways.

Cloquet, Minn., Jan. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Notable among the achievements in this section during 1915, was the progress made by the Fond du Lac band of Chippewa Indians, many of whom have moved onto their allotments on what was formerly the Fond du Lac reservation, adjoining the city on the west, built homes, cleared land and are now making a success of farming, in which business they not only compete successfully with the white settler but give promise of much greater achievements along this line.

The Indians now have a total of 720 acres cleared and under cultivation and much more work of this kind will be done during the coming season.

The Fond du Lac reservation comprised originally 100,000 acres and lies partly in Carlton and partly in St. Louis counties. It was set apart for the Fond du Lac band of Chippewa Indians by the treaty of 1854, and allotted to them under the general allotting act of 1887, according to the provisions of the Nelson act of 1889. Of the 100,000 acres originally set apart, approximately 40,000 acres have been allotted to Indians and 60,000 acres have been opened to settlement and homesteaded by the whites.

Big Improvements Made.

Before the homesteader came, and before the Indians began moving on to their allotments, the reservation was a veritable jungle. Now there are forty miles of good roads, besides numerous trails and tote roads that can be used in the winter, but very few of these cut out roads can be used during the spring, summer and fall. Good roads is one of the chief needs of the reservation.

The Fond du Lac band of Indians numbers 1,020 members. About 500 of these reside permanently on the reservation. The remainder live in Duluth, Superior, Solon Springs and elsewhere, scattered over the country from New York to San Francisco. There are 322 males, 498 females and 370 children of school age. There were 34 births and 12 deaths the past year.

The total wealth of the band, including property, allotments, timber, individual Indian money and tribal funds, is $1,250,000.

There are two church missions on the reservation. The Catholic mission is located near Cloquet and the Methodist mission is near Sawyer. Most of the Indians are members of one or the other of these churches. There are only about 100 Indians that are considered pagan, that is, they do not belong to any church and do not profess any religion. The old Indian custom marriage and divorce is a thing of the past among the Fond du Lacs. They are governed in these matters by state law. Most of these Indians can read and write the English language. They have good school facilities. There are two schools on the reservation, but most of the children either attend non-reservation government boarding schools or mission schools.

The health and sanitary conditions on the reservation are very good. The Fond du Lac reservation is comparatively free from trachoma, and tuberculosis is not as prevalent as formerly. The sanitary conditions are carefully looked after by a sanitary board composed of the agency physician, the Indian farmer and police.

Building New Hospital.

A new hospital is now nearing completion at a cost of $25,000. This will help a great deal in improving the health condition on the reservation and in taking care of feeble or sick Indians. This hospital is just about finished and will be furnished and opened for patients early next month in all probability. It will accommodate thirty patients, is complete with every comfort and convenience, modern to the last detail and will prove a most helpful institution. It will have a resident physician in the person of Dr. Virgil D. Guittard, now stationed at White Earth, who will be assited by a corps of competent nurses, housekeeper, etc. A new council hall was also built and dedicated at Sawyer last year.

This gratifying progress among the Indians is due very largely to George W. Cross, the local superintendent. That he has been able to accomplish these things in the short space of four years shows conclusively that he is the right man in the right place and deserves much credit for what he has accomplished on this reservation.

PUTTING ONE OVER ON CITY COUNCIL

Ice Being Cut Before Ordinance Goes Into Force.

Can the city stop persons from cutting ice in the restricted zones, provided for in an ordinance that does not go into effect until the last week of this month?

This question is puzzling Commissioner Silberstein and Health Director Fahey, who have received reports that ice is being cut in the restricted zones at this time. As the new ice ordinance does not become effective for two or three weeks, they are at a loss as to what to do.

The new ordinance prohibits the cutting of ice between Commonwealth avenue and a point three-fourths of a mile east of Lester river, without special permission of the health department. Local ice dealers are already conforming to the new law, Dr. Fahey said this morning, but private individuals are evading it altogether.

BOUQUET SOMETIMES MIXED WITH BRICKBATS

Compliments are so few and far between that they are always welcome at the city hall.

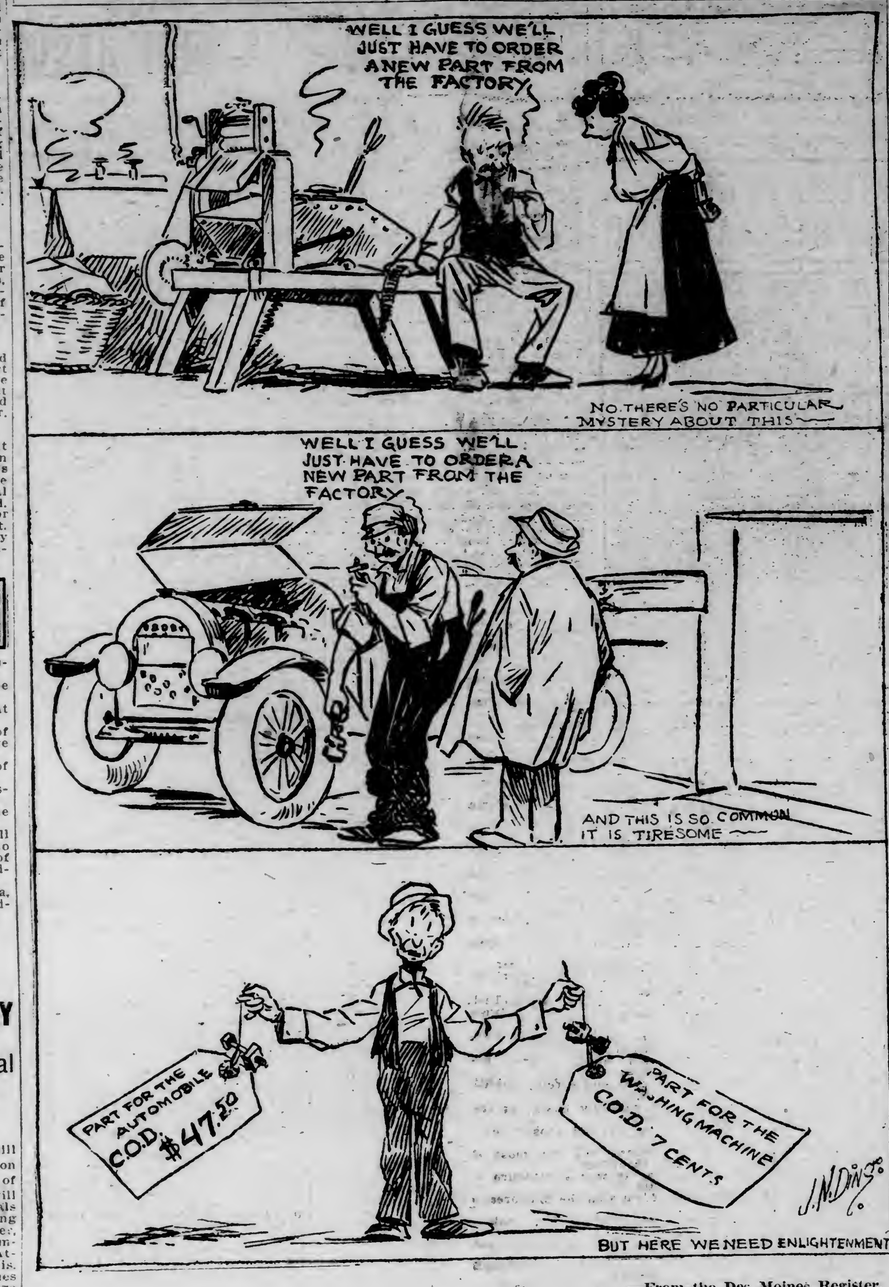

This morning Commissioner Silberstein, safety head, received a welcome note from J. T. Rose, vessel broker, who praises the fire department and Chief Randall for the effective work done in fighting a blaze at his home on Dec. 30 last. The fire was out and the men were all gone within fifteen minutes after the call was sent in, he writes.

"These are the kind of notes I like to get," Commissioner Silberstein said.

Even if it did not, added the speaker, its intentions were laudable.

REGGIE MUST FACE ONLY ANGRY FATHER

Every cloud has a silver lining, and Reginald Germain Williams' sky contains lots of clouds, with many, many silver linings.

He gave himself up at police headquarters several days ago and said he "was down and out and flat broke." Detectives started helping him get a job and he spoiled it all by confessing that he had embezzled $500 from the Marine National bank of Milwaukee.

Yesterday the bonding company decided not to prosecute, because Reginald's father has squared things all around, and everybody is happy. Pater happens to have a large bank account, police say, and so Reginald's only cause for worry is what his father may say to him in the private of the library at home.

He left for Milwaukee yesterday, owing the city of Duluth forty cents for meals, but Chief R. D. McKercher didn't seem to be worrying about it.

THE SIREN OF LA PRENSA.

Costs the Buenos Aires Paper $500 a Toot for a Big Story.

San Antonio Light: If you were asked what is the most modern newspaper in the world, with the finest plant and most sensational methods of reaching the public, what would you reply? Some New York newspaper, probably. At any rate, your guess would be a journal published in the United States; that goes without saying. It usually surprises residents of North America to learn how large and important a city is Buenos Aires, and it is equally surprising to learn that the finest newspaper equipment on either American continent is that of La Prensa, a daily paper published in that city.

La Prensa's latest achievement in sensationalism is one to make the managers of New York "yellow" newspapers green with envy. Why couldn't they have thought of it first? On the office building of La Prensa—which, by the way, is not only equipped with the latest word in mechanical plant, editorial rooms and business offices, but has facilities for allowing its reporters to live under its roof and even a small but practical hospital for their minor ailments—has been installed a loud and penetrating siren. Whenever there is very important news La Prensa puts out an enormous bulletin and then blows the siren.

Now the city officials of Buenos Aires have decided that the blowing of this penetrating whistle constitutes a public nuisance, and every time it is sounded La Prensa's owners go to court and pay a fine of $500. Naturally they do not use the siren except when the news that is to be announced is really important, but when they do have important information to communicate to the public they do not let $500 interfere with their siren tootings. The people of Buenos Aires know whenever they hear the siren that La Prensa is spending $500 of its good money to let them know something has happened, and crowds swarm from every nook and corner of the city toward the newspaper office to see what has been posted on its bulletin board.

HIS FAMILY STANDING.

Tit-Bits: A cockney angler, thinking his Highland boatman was not treating him with the respect due to his station, expostulated thus:

"Look here, my good man, you don't seem to grasp who I am. Do you know that my family has been entitled to bear arms for the last 200 years?"

"Hoot! That's nothing," was the reply. "My ancestors have been entitled to bare legs for the last 2,000 years."

SHERIFF SELLS LEASED LOTS

West Superior Street Property Disposed of in Referee Proceedings.

Lots Adjoining Spalding Bring $85,100; Other Property Included.

For a consideration of $85,100, the West Superior street property adjoining the Spalding hotel and occupied by Frerker Bros. & Co., wholesale liquor dealers, was sold at public vendue by Sheriff John R. Meining this morning to William E. Boeing and Caroline Boeing Poole. There were several bidders for the property. The property was sold subject to a ninety-nine-year lease, which has many years still to run.

The property is described as lot 74, block 1, Duluth Proper, Third division and lot 74, block 8, Central division. It was formerly owned by heirs of the estate of Marie M. Owsley, M. H. Alworth and others, and was disposed of in accordance with an order of the district court.

The proceeds of the sale will be distributed pro rata among the various joint owners.

The sheriff this morning sold other property located in the city and on the ranges and in all the sale netted $105,479. The purchasers and the amounts of their bids were: William E. Boeing and Caroline Boeing Poole, $94,862; M. H. Alworth, $7,300; D. C. Eaton, $2,710; Frederick D. Owsley, $407; A. J. Frey, $210.

Not All Property Included.

The sale conducted by the sheriff this morning does not include all of the property affected by the several partition proceedings instituted by the various joint owners. It does, however, dispose of holdings to be sold by a referee under two of the nine actions which have been brought. Three of the nine suits affect holdings in St. Louis county and the other six concern property scattered throughout seven counties of Minnesota. Real estate valued at several thousands of dollars is involved.

William E. Boeing is the owner of an undivided five-twelfths interest, Catherine Boeing Poole an undivided one-fourth, Frederick D. Owsley three-twentieths, the Minnesota Mining & Investment company one-sixteenth, and the trustees under the will of the late Marie M. Owsley, one-sixth. M. H. Alworth, Julius H. Barnes and others who are named as parties to some of the actions, own interests in some of the properties, which have been taken into account.

Marie M. Owsley, during her lifetime, was many times a millionaire. She died Dec. 10, 1910, leaving a $3,000,000 estate in St. Louis county.

FOLDER TOURS

No Matter How Slender the Purse, Its Owner Can Afford One of These Trips, and Can Get Real Enjoyment and Profit Out of It, Says the Spokane Spokesman-Review.

Where can the vacationist find larger or gamer fish than those in the folders issued by the railroad companies? Where does Nature show more striking color effects than on the covers of these folders? The answer is: Nowhere. It is, therefore, obvious that to enjoy unrestricted, expensive and soul stirring summer trips one need have no other equipment than a strong imagination and a desk drawer well filled with folders. Accounts of my own trips through the scenic folder paradise will, I hope, give force to my contention.

As I entered the folder, I was struck by two unusual groups arranged on opposite sides of a Chinese ochre rock in the immediate foreground. Let me remark in the first place that I have never seen nature in a more lavishly lithographic mood. Prussian blue hills in the background were surmounted by a delicate mauve sky. Enamel white geysers spouted, one on each cover, and in the foreground polychromatic wildflowers were sprinkled through delicately tinted grass. A vacation spent within such covers as these, I felt, would be an esthetic delight.

On the right hand cover was a trapper in cooskin cap and fringed buckskin Prince Albert, leaning on a rifle and flanked by two Indians who, in spite of wearing hardly any clothes, did not seem to be very heavily tanned. They carried bows and arrows. On the opposite cover, gazing intently toward the Prussian blue hills in the distance, were a young man and woman, evidently easterners, in spotless khaki.

I went up to the old trapper. "What is your function here?" I asked as politely as I knew how. "Are you hired by the hotel people to be picturesque, or do you really trap?"

"I see, sir," he said, "that you have never traveled through the folder country before. These Indians and myself mean nothing except as we are taken in conjunction with the up-to-date young people on the opposite cover. Then we are symbolic of the primeval days of this eccentric region. We represent the early times when the geysers spouted with never a kodak to record their spoutings, of the time when the cliffs you see yonder did not have any initials of New Jersey high school students carved on them."

I passed into the park past a plain but attractive title page and found myself in front of a hotel two columns wide and beautifully engraved. Once inside the park I found that the bright colors noticeable from the outside gave way to plain black and white effects, mostly in halftones.

Although the scenery around the hotel was rich in descriptive matter of a great variety of softly shaded tints, I did not strike the rugged type of natural beauty which is the chief charm of the folder until the stage coach rumbled along, a beautiful white margin about half an inch wide into the mountain country on page nineteen, where Mammoth Hot Springs are located.

Fearing that if I continued as directed I might stray from the beaten path and become lost in the thick undergrowth of boldfaced nonpareil type which stretched about on all sides, I returned to the hotel, where I met one of the most interesting characters of the place, an old compositor who had set the type for every Yellowstone folder since the time when the Mammoth Hot Springs were just beginning to come to a boil.

"The old folder hasn't changed as much as you'd think," he told me, as we sat beside an attractive cut of a mud volcano. "The lithographing is better than it used to be, but that, after all, is only for the convenience of the tourists and doesn't add to the natural beauty of the place."

I found several old residents of the park who even went so far as to say that the reduction of the size of the Yellowstone Falls cut visible from the summit of page forty had done much to destroy the elegant perspective of the falls that used to be so much admired by Western visitors.

On the whole, however, the trip was delightful. When we finally drove up to the schedule of summer rates at the end of our journey and alighted, dusty but thrilled, in front of the pretty railroad trademark, we all voted that Yellowstone had been to us a liberal education. Indeed, I much doubt if in any great out-of-doors playground there is to be found clearer or more concise English or more careful proofreading.

PEACE TREATIES.

Chicago News: "No," insisted the tall, sad man, "there can't be war between this country and England, or France, or Russia, because they have signed a peace treaty."

"Then," responded the tobacconist, "that's a mighty good thing, that peace treaty idea. If it works among nations it ought to work among men and women.

"Now, for instance, suppose a man gets married. All he needs is a peace treaty signed by himself and wife, and there'll be no divorce court for them."

"Yes," said the tall, sad man, "and if he's going to have his mother-in-law with him he can sign her up, too. It ought to work out well."

"When people join the same theatrical show they should sign up so that when there is only one star chamber to divide among forty stars there can be no fights.

"In business it would work out well, also. If I am selling amalgamated mush at fifty-seven and along comes a mutt who says he will let my customers have the same for forty-nine and all they want of it, a treaty will prevent a fight.

"Wherever there is a treaty of peace there can be no fight, you see. Suppose two fellows are keeping company with the same girl, and one fellow confides to the girl that the other is a hyphenated, two-faced, double-dyed villain, hypocrite, knocker and cigaret-smoker. When the other fellow comes, along suppose the girl tells him everything that his rival has said about him, adding a lot of interesting data by suggestion. Then the two happen to meet in a vacant lot."

"Here's what'll happen then, being as they have signed a peace contract," broke in the tobacconist. "Fellow No. 1 will say: 'I intend to stand by my peace contract, but here goes a little friendly nod anyway,' and then he lands on No. 2's beak. Then fellow No. 2 says: 'Far be it from me to fight with one whom I have sworn to hold in the holy bonds of friendship, but here goes a token of my esteem,' and he swings on the other's jaw.

"'Between friends,' observes No. 1, 'we should not stand on ceremony, and so here goes a little stimulate familiarity,' and he kicks No. 2 in the stomach.

"'I'll never allow a friend to outdo me in friendliness and neighborly interest,' replies No. 2, and he bounces a brick off No. 1's bean.

"Fellow No. 1 believes in returning favors, so the brick is promptly restored to its owner and dispenser, who again serves it hot and with the proper dressing. If it wasn't for the peace contract there's no telling what those fellows might do to each other."

WORK DELAYED THREE WEEKS

Eleventh-Hour Changes Are Made in Morgan Park School Plans.

Larger Building Planned; Contract Must Be Let By Feb. 20.

Eleventh-hour changes in the plans for the Morgan Park school, which have been suggested by the Minnesota Steel company's architect, will delay the work for three weeks or a month.

Directors of the board of education last night examined the revised plans and approved them. They then instructed Clyde G. Kelly of Kelley & Williams, architects, to rush work on plans and specifications, so that the contract could be let not later than Feb. 20.

"This building must be ready by Sept. 1," said President F. A. Brewer of the board, "and if the contract isn't let in February we will have a hard time getting it ready before school commences in the fall."

The steel company will replat the site and pay the additional cost of the building the way it is to be erected. It will be 440 feet long, instead of 402, and will be faced with brick costing $24 instead of $16 per thousand. Windows for the rooms at the end of each wing will be moved around to the rear, instead of being on the end.

The changes will make the building but forty feet shorter than Central high school building, and the longest school structure in the city, with that one exception.

"We told the steel company that we had gone our limit on the original plans," explained Director H. J. Granlis, "and said that if any more frills or embellishments were to be added, that they would have to stand the cost. This they agreed to do.

"It will be better, in a way, for the building will have two more rooms, and it will be situated on an enlarged site."

Mr. Kelly said it would take three or four weeks to prepare specifications, but agreed to "do his level best" in getting out the work.

GET REVENGE ON SUPERIOR

Western Curlers Take Second Contest By One-Sided Score.

By what was probably the biggest margin ever piled up in a Manley-McLennan trophy contest, the players of the Western Curling club last evening defeated the rinks from the Superior Curling club at West Duluth. The score was Western club, 53; Superior, 29.

The game was the second played in the event and leaves a tie for the right to play the Duluth club. The tie will be played off at Superior on Monday evening.

Emil J. Zauft, who suffered a very one sided defeat on Thursday evening at Superior at the hands of Clough Gates rink took his revenge on Clough's brother, Joel Gates. Zauft won the game 15 to 5.

The Clough Gates rink had, according to Mr. Gates, the time of its life, winning from Richard Wade. The "skits" started out by laying big heads and scored one five and another four head. In the eleventh frame the boys were five up but by exceptional guarding Clough laid five stanes tying the score, 13 and 13.

Irving Russell had little show playing against the Minnesota state champs. The Donald boys laid stanes about where they pleased and kept their opponents busy throwing runners. The score ended 13 to 5, the twelfth head being a blank.

Frank Wade, president of the club won easily from A. K. Smith. The score was 12 to 6.

If the Western Curling club wins the final game Monday from Superior it will be the first time in the history of the club that the local members have won out in the series. The event will be played between the winner and the Duluth club the latter part of next week.

The visit of the supreme archon is the first to the West Duluth council since they were organized. Steady increase in membership during the last three years has attracted the attention of the head officials to these lodges and is responsible for bringing the officials to the city.

R. J. Fisher was re-elected secretary of the club and Mason M. Forbes was re-elected vice president. David Sang was elected treasurer to succeed Charles G. Futter.

The new directors are: Lucien A. Barnes, Angus G. Macaulay, P. H. Martin, Louis Ramsted, H. H. Phelps, Thomas Olafson, Andrew Myles, C. M. Brooks, John A. Eklund, W. A. Pond and John F. Frey.

Following the meeting an oyster supper was served to the members. The work of the club during the last year was given in a report by the officers and the club's work for the coming year discussed.

"I have not had time to consider any plans for the year," said Mr. Zauft this morning. "The election was a surprise to me. I was too busy last night trying to get back at the Superior boys to consider the plans for the future work of the Commercial club, and this morning we have been holding an autopsy of the games.

"The Commercial club will unquestionably carry on its work for the benefit of the community during the next year and will miss no opportunity to boost this end of the city."

CITY BUDGET IN MILLIONS

Total Disbursements for 1915, $2,585,205, Auditor's Report.

Treasurer's Report Showed Cash Balance of $213,000 Jan. 1.

For the first time in the city history, the city auditor yesterday completed his annual report before the remaining reports of all the city departments were placed on file in his office on Feb. 1.

By the adoption of a day book on Jan. 1, 1915, City Auditor B. J. Campbell has been able to keep his account right up to the minute every day of the past year, and at the beginning of this year, was ready to prepare his report. It required several days, as his balances must tally with those of the city treasurer, before the report could be officially given out.

The auditor's report shows that the city received a total of $2,576,522.28 from the appropriations, licenses and bond issues during the year, which, together with $219,740.71 on balance on Jan. 1, 1915, makes a total of $2,796,262.99 for the year. The disbursements in all the departments in carrying on the city business for 1915 amounted to $2,585,205.46, leaving a balance at the opening of business on New Year's day of $213,683.91, with $2,626.38 outstanding in city bills. Deducting this last amount, the city's actual balance is $211,057.53.

Net Figures.

Net cash receipts and disbursements are $83,000 less than the above figures, according to the report, due to the issuance of tax certificates last fall, anticipating the collection of taxes next spring, sold and redeemed within the last year, as follows:

Fire department, $22,000; police department, $20,000; health department, $2,000; library fund, $4,000; park department, $8,000; welfare department, $2,000; public works fund, $2,000; permanent improvement fund $3,000; general fund, $20,000; total $83,000.

SUNDAY RULE BLOCKS SALE

City Can't Buy Block From Simon Clark With Restriction.

Was to Be Used for Social Center at Washburn School.

The city council will not buy block 7, Glen Avon, Third division, from Simon Clark on his offer of $5,000, because he has stipulated that the grounds must not be used on Sunday.

Mayor Prince made this announcement today, following receipt of an opinion from City Attorney Samuelson, who states that a breach of the condition contained in Mr. Clark's offer will allow him to re-enter in possession of the property and that it is unwise for the city to accept such a conveyance. A forfeiture, he states, might result without any fault of the city.

Several weeks ago residents in Hunter's Park started a movement for a public social center and playground on the block adjoining the Washburn school. They agreed to improve the grounds, erect a suitable building and pay all necessary expenses for the upkeep, if the city would buy the square owned by Mr. Clark, who offered the property to the city for $5,000. In his offer, however, Mr. Clark states that the property must not be used on Sunday.

Unlimited or Not at All.

The offer was referred to the mayor, who is head of the parks and welfare department, and he asked the city attorney's office for an opinion, which was submitted yesterday. Unless Mr. Clark changes his offer, so that the property can be open to the public at all times, without the imposing of any special conditions, the city will not take the proposition under consideration.

In his opinion, City Attorney Samuelson cites several similar cases in Minnesota, where the courts ruled that conditions specially imposed in contracts were valid.

In conclusion, Mr. Samuelson states: "As this property, when acquired by the city for playground purposes, will be largely under the control of the community in which it is located, the members of that particular community could control the same to the extent of preventing sports and games being carried on upon that property, without the condition appearing in the deed."

WILL SENTENCE DRUGGIST MONDAY

Proctor Man, Convicted of Selling Liquor, Denied New Trial.

H. I. Schell, Proctor druggist, convicted at the September term of the district court on a charge of illegally selling liquor, will be brought before Judge Dancer for sentence Monday.

Judge Dancer today filed an order denying Schell a new trial. It is not known whether or not an appeal from the judgment of conviction will be taken to the supreme court.

Schell was indicted by the September grand jury on a charge of having sold intoxicating liquors at Proctor on Aug. 27 without the required license. On Sept. 17, after a jury trial, he was found guilty. The court granted a stay of sentence and on Oct. 15 he asked for a new trial. The motion was argued before the court on Oct. 30.

BEATING THE NEW RATES

Plans Expected to Circumvent Increase in Passenger Fares.

New Schedule Will Go Into Effect Next Saturday on All Lines.

One week from today the increased tariff on interstate railway rates will become effective, and this means that there will be devious methods employed, in all probability, by many travelers to defeat the aim of the ruling to give the railroads more passenger revenue for business that is interstate.

For instance, there is a 2-cent fare in Minnesota and the new interstate tariff calls for 2.4 cents. If a man wanted to go from Duluth to North Dakota, say Fargo, for instance, he could buy a ticket to Carlton, buy his ticket from that point to East Grand Forks, and thus ride the major portion of his journey on a 2-cent a mile ticket, instead of paying for a complete ticket at the interstate rate of 2.4 cents.

Luggage a Handicap.

Should a passenger have a lot of luggage, no doubt he or she would experience some trouble and considerable inconvenience in getting by with an attempt to evade the interstate rule. In buying a ticket to the state lines and then rebuying a ticket to a destination beyond, it would be necessary to recheck baggage, and in some cases this might require a lay-over.

There is little question but that the placing in effect of the extra 4-10 of a cent on interstate business is going to make some trouble for the railroads. The railroads in the first place asked for an increase of ½ a cent, which was granted and then later modified to 4-10, thus causing a change of many tariffs and a vast amount of work.

Now that the railroads have secured the increase in interstate passenger rates, railroad conductors and station agents will be put to additional trouble by additional ticket selling.

SALARIES INCREASED

More Than 100 City Employes Will Get Higher Pay.

Policemen Given $5 Raise Commission Agrees on Schedule.

More than 100 city employes will be given salary increases next Monday afternoon when the council adopts the 1916 salary schedule, which was unanimously agreed upon by the commissioners at a special conference yesterday afternoon.

A resolution authorizing all the salary changes agreed upon for this year will be introduced by Commissioner Voss, head of the finance division, at the meeting Monday, he announced this morning.

Sixty members of the police department, including all the lieutenants, detectives, sergeants, mounted patrolmen, patrolmen and Secretary Johnson, are each given a blanket raise of $5 a month, beginning July 1, next. The new schedule follows: Five lieutenants, $110; three detectives, $110; six sergeants, $100; six mounted patrolmen, first grade, $115, second grade, $110, third grade, $105; thirty-nine patrolmen, first grade $90, second grade, $85, third grade, $80. Fred Johnson, secretary, will receive $105.

Only one increase will be authorized in the fire department, that of Assistant Chief Wilson, who will get a raise from $150 to $175 a month.

J. Harris Trux, secretary to Mayor Prince and Commissioner Silberstein, will receive an increase from $125 to $140 a month. Gust Hedman, dairy inspector, is reduced from $100 to $85, while Miss Margaret Beresford, stenographer, Miss E. Evanson, welfare nurse, and David Larson, inspector, will each receive a raise of $5 a month.

In Utilities Division.

In the utilities division three repair men and two apprentices will be granted $5 increases; two bookkeepers and two clerks $10 a month; John Bernt, foreman of the New Duluth water plant, from $75 to $80.

Following are the raises to be authorized in the finance division: City Auditor Campbell, $2,000 to $2,100; City Treasurer McLean, $2,000 to $2,100; auditor's clerk, $85 to $90; treasurer's cashier, $95 to $110; treasurer's clerk, $85 to $90; assessor's third year clerk, $70 to $75; assessor's chief deputy, $125 to $130; assessor's chief clerk, $110 to $120.

In the works division slight raises are allowed for twenty employes, including an increase of $300 a year for Secretary Culver. The department will operate with four less men this year, so that the salary changes will not increase the payroll for the next twelve months.

The library department's roll is balanced by several increases and decreases, as follows: Librarian, $125; reference librarian, $100; cataloger, $81.66; two assistants in ciculation department, $45; assistant to reference librarian; $45; assistant cataloguer, $60; superintendent of branches and stations, $75; children's librarian, $67.50; periodicals and binding department, $70; assistant at West end branch, $45; janitor at main building, $85; janitor at West Duluth branch, $75; janitor at West end branch, $65.

With the exception of the police department, all employes will receive their raises on Jan. 24, the payday for the first half of this month.

In addition to the consideration of the salary schedule, the council will award the contract for a sanitary sewer in Luther avenue to Gust Hiner on his bid of $2,211. Several ordinances will be advanced to the second reading, including the measure establishing the new election districts at Woodland and Kenwood Park.

Daily Mail to Goodridge.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Jan. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village of Goodridge, the terminal of the Minnesota Northwestern Electric railway, twenty miles east of this city, will have regular daily mail service commencing on Jan. 17. It is probable that a complete re-arrangement of the rural and star routes in the territory east of here will follow, as the several postoffices are now supplied from here. The mail for Grygla, which now goes by way of Germantown, will also probably be routed through Goodridge.

FEARING INSANITY, MAN TAKES LIFE

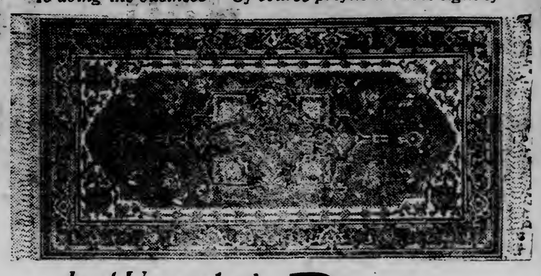

Donnybrook, N. D., Jan. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—It is said that fearing insanity, Ferdinand Brandt, shot and killed himself at his home near here yesterday. The bullet went through his brain. Brandt recently made a will in which he provided for the distribution of his property, most of which goes to his nephew, August Brandt, of Henderson, Minn. At the time he made his will, Brandt said he would rather be dead than go to an asylum.

MANY ORIGINAL IDEAS ADVANCED FOR THE BETTERMENT OF DULUTH

Contestants Suggest a Breakwater, Wider Superior Street, Homes for Wage-Earners and Ownership of Utilities.

Municipal ownership of public utilities, a breakwater for the Duluth harbor, the widening of Superior street, a home for every wage-earner, and the abolition of second-hand stores are among the latest suggestions offered by contestants in The Herald's "What would you do for Duluth?" prize competition.

Municipal Utilities.

C. Sundley, 2824 Minnesota avenue, a municipal-ownership advocate, sends in the following suggestions:

"I would acquire for Duluth all its municipal utilities. It could be accomplished along the lines followed in taking over the waterworks. Then I would consider the city established on a perfectly sound financial basis, and then it would also be possible for our city government and officials to render the utmost service to their constituents.

"I would establish a city hospital fully adequate in size and equipment with a staff sufficient for day and night shifts (so a repetition of the Duluth Heights incident would not occur), whose business it should be to attend to sick people, regardless of any consideration. Let them pay if they can or let them extract a permit from the clerk of the poor commissioners afterward.

Free Legal Advice.

"I would increase the staff of assistants in the city attorney's office sufficient to invite the citizens of Duluth, who were in trouble and could not easily afford the money costs of a lawsuit to come in for advice and assistance. It should be the business of this office to try to adjust differences where possible, but in all events to see that nobody lacked justice on account of lack of money."

Homes for Wage Earners.

Homes for every wage earner is one of the suggestions offered by J. Henry Butters, 807 East Seventh street. He writes as follows:

"In my mind the three most urgent needs of this city are:

"A breakwater or a larger canal. In rough weather this is a very small opening for a big boat to make. The best way to do this would be with good concrete. This would help, if not eliminate destruction of life and property which we have witnessed from our very homes.

"A home for every wage earner. One owned by himself. Not given as a gift but earned by worker. This could be done by forming a company with a large amount of capital. They could purchase a large tract of land. No better place than on the Duluth Heights or above the boulevard could be mentioned. Here let the company build homes to suit owners. The company could finance the deal. The worker would pay interest at 6 to 6½ per cent, payments to be made like rent. A system somewhat like this is in practice at Proctor, Minn. It helps greatly to form a community-loving people.

"A college. One in which law, medicine, sciences and arts would be taught. It is not right that boys and girls of Duluth after completing high school should not have advantages of a good school at home. Many a young man and young woman of rare ability is forced into other occupations. Many fathers and mothers have not the means to send their sons and daughters away to school. If Duluth had a school of this kind many thinkers would have opportunities which they have not now. This school, if possible, should be a school supported by taxowners. Surely, there is more merit in this than in a $10,000,000 postoffice, a big ammunition plant, or a "pork" river and harbor appropriation."

Opposes Second-Hand Stores.

David Winer, 2116 West Third street, would abolish second-hand stores. He also advocates a cleaner, healthier city. Here is his letter:

"First of all I would make a neat, clean and healthy looking city by making laws to keep back yards clean, keep the alleys in good shape, tear down old buildings where it is necessary, because Duluth is a city where thousands of tourists visit annually and through them it gets its reputation.

"Secondly, I would encourage the educational department with all my heart because the world greatly demands men with an education, and make the fire department larger because Duluth is growing fast and it needs to be protected. I would make a law that the saloon should be closed Christmas and New Year's because it makes me feel very sad to see men having a high time at the saloon whereas they should be spending a peaceful and happy holiday at home with the wife and children.

"Last, and not least, I would close up the second-hand stores because they disgrace Duluth and give the man a poor deal."

Would Widen Street.

The dream of a Greater Duluth would be realized if Superior street were widened and traffic conditions improved, if the city owned the street railway system, and if congress would appropriate money for harbor improvements, suggests A. A. Vogt, 403 Wolvin building. He writes:

"The three things, if I had the power (and we have), that I would (and we will) do for Duluth, are:

"First—I would have Superior street widened. If there is (and there will be) to be a Greater Duluth, traffic conditions will necessitate our doing so.

"Second—We would have a municipally owned street railway. I would carry the "franchise question" to the United States supreme court and have this proven, that one generation cannot vote another's rights away. For example, the seemingly perpetual franchise under which the street railway is being operated.

"Third and lastly—I would have congress make an appropriation for the dredging of the bay and river to encourage and in anticipation of the rapidly developing industries of the western section of our city.

"Apparently these three things are idle thoughts of a dreamer, yet they are problems of the future."

Wants Clean Sidewalks.

John S. Mueller, 926 East Second street, has some ideas about clean sidewalks, reduced rates to the steel plant from the city, and traffic problems. Here is how he expresses them:

"The three things I would do for Duluth if I had the power would be:

"First—Compel merchants and occupants (owners) on the main streets and in the center of the town to keep their sidewalks (pavements) free from ice and snow.

"Second—Compel the Northern Pacific railroad to reduce their rates to the steel plant and greatly improve the service.

"Third—Keep culverts and street crossings (as at Second avenue west and Superior street) covered with sand or gravel, also all smooth steel coal and man hole covers should be replaced by roughened or corrugated ones, or covered with sheet lead like the Mason treads on stairways.

"If there are ordinances covering any of the foregoing I would have them enforced."

FOSTER RESPECT FOR HOLY NAME

Rally of Big Catholic Society Will Continue Three Days.

A Holy Name rally for the men of Duluth will open at Sacred Heart cathedral Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock and will close Tuesday evening, Jan. 11. Special services for the men will be held morning and evening during the three days and a general invitation has been extended to the members of all parishes in the city to participate.

The rally will be under the leadership of Rev. Father Eckert, O. P., of the Dominican Priory of Minneapolis. The Holy Name movement is under the patronage of the Dominican Order, and Father Eckert is one of the most noted promoters of the movement in the Northwest.

Father Eckert will open the rally with a sermon at solemn high mass Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Rt. Rev. James McGolrick, bishop of Duluth, will attend and will give solemn benediction. The Cathedral choir under the leadership of John L. Golcz, director, and Miss Theresa Lynn, organist, will be assisted by Helmer's orchestra for the occasion, and William Ashmall's mass in F will be sung. The soloists will be Mrs. J. F. McKanna, soprano; Paul Van Hoven, tenor; Miss Alice Farrell, contralto; Miss Mae Maloney, contralto; Miss May Lydon, soprano; Miss Louisa Lyons, soprano; Robert Hamp, tenor; James Lynn, tenor; Ed Coates, basso; Walter Zellman, basso.

At benediction, an arrangement of "O Salutaris" by A. F. M. Custance and "Tantum Ergo" will be sung by a quartet. The recessional will be "Unfold Ye Portals" by Gounod, sung by the choir with orchestra accompaniment.

Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock, Father Eckert will deliver the second sermon of the rally. The Cathedral male quartet and soloists will furnish special music. The soloists will be Miss May Lyden and Paul Van Hoven.

The rally is intended to give impetus to the Holy Name movement in Duluth by increasing the membership of the Holy Name society of Cathedral parish and promoting the organization of branches of the society in other parts of the city. The Holy Name society has an enormous membership of Catholic men throughout the country, and is making its influence felt. The object of the society is as its name implies—the fostering of respect for the name of God and the suppression of profanity. The branch of the society at the Cathedral parish has been in existence for about five years and has recently been one of the most active organizations of the parish.

SCOTS AWAIT THE PIPERS

Arrangements Almost Complete for Robert Burns Anniversary Observance.

Attractive Program Prepared; Dance Will Follow Speech and Music.

Arrangements have been about completed by the amusement committee of Clan Stewart for the Robert Burns banquet on the evening of Jan. 25. The affair will take place at the Spalding hotel, and it is expected that, as usual, it will be largely attended. At every celebration of the birth anniversary of Robert Burns, Scotland's great poet, the Spalding ballroom has been filled. Not only do the sons and daughters of Scotia, and their descendants attend in full numbers, but hundreds of other Duluthians make it a point to be present, for Jan. 25 is one of the gala nights of the city, and Clan Stewart, aided, abetted and assisted by Simon Clark, has long since established a reputation, well maintained, as host that serves as a model for other societies.

The chief speaker of the evening will be John Z. White of Chicago, a student of the life and works of Robert Burns, and said to be an eloquent speaker. Mr. White will be in the city giving a series of addresses on the single tax, and some time ago accepted an invitation to make the speech of the evening on Burns.

Program Following Banquet.

Rev. George Brewer, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will give the invocation which will open the banquet. Following the meal, during which Scotch and "profane" viands will be served, there will be a musical program, and, following that, a dance. The program follows, as completed to date, more numbers to be announced later:

Bagpipe selection .....
Clan Piper Robert Mowbray.
Invocation .....
Rev. George Brewer.
Quartet—"There Was a Lad Was Born in Kyle" ..... Burns
Solo—"My Laddie" .....

Address .....
John Z. White.
Song—"Ca the Ewes tae the Knowes"
Miss Bessie Richardson.
Dance—Highland fling .....
Miss Daisy Macaskill.
Quartet—"Corn Rigs" ..... Burns
Auld Lang Syne .....

The quartet consists of Bruce Brown and J. R. Batchelor, tenors, and George Macaskill and Philip Gordon Brown, bassos.

PRAISES HEROIC ACTIONS OF CREW

Captain of Thessaloniki Tells of Their Working in Four Feet of Water.

New York, Jan. 8.—The story of how the crew of the Greek steamer Thessaloniki, before abandoning the vessel on Jan. 5, worked for ten days in from three to four feet of water in a desperate effort to keep steam in the ship's boilers and work the pumps, was told today when Capt. Goulandris and the crew of eighty-nine arrived on the steamship Perugia.

Capt. Goulandris said the actions of his crew was so heroic that he did not give up hope of bringing the Thessaloniki into New York until the coal supply was entirely exhausted on Jan. 5. He declined to comment upon statements made by some of the Thessaloniki's 17 passengers when they arrived here yesterday on the Patris that he had refused to send out wireless calls for assistance after the steamer had sprung several leaks.

Capt. Goulandris said he believed the vessel, the first he ever commanded, had sunk soon after he and his men boarded the Perugia. He added that the Thessaloniki was badly strained by a series of storms. It was then that all the crew turned to and despite the water that swirled about them worked constantly at the boilers, engines and pumps.

LIFEBOAT SHOWS EVIDENCE OF ATTACK

One From Ancona Has Several Holes Stopped With Women's Apparel.

Rome, Jan. 8.—A fishing vessel put in at Anzio today with a lifeboat from the steamship Ancona which has been picked up. Examination of the boat seems to bear out the assertion that it was fired upon and sunk while containing passengers, among whom were women, by the Austrian submarine which torpedoed the Ancona. Many hairpins were found in the boat. Several holes in it, apparently made by shells from the submarine, had been stopped up with shawls and torn skirts.

The primary election will be held March 7.

Indiana will be the first state to vote in the presidential primaries.

The presidential and vice presidential candidates for whom petitions were filed follow:

For president: President Woodrow Wilson, Democrat; Former Vice President Charles Warren Fairbanks, Republican.

For vice president, Vice President Thomas R. Marshall, Democrat. For United States senator, Senator John W. Kern, Democrat; Arthur R. Robinson, Capt. H. S. New and James E. Watson, Republicans; and James B. Wilson, Progressive.

Oshkosh Pair Sentenced.

Oshkosh, Wis., Jan. 8. — Archie W. Benjamin and Edward P. Stecker after pleading guilty to charges of embezzlement preferred by the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat & Power company, were sentenced yesterday to two years in the state reformatory at Green Bay. Benjamin was charged with having embezzled $1,796 and Stecker $2,036. The young men were employed at the Neenah and Menasha offices of the company.

STUDY RURAL CHURCHES

Survey of Such Bodies in Minnesota Is Being Arranged.

Movement Is Part of Nation-Wide Work on Same Line.

Organized survey of rural church conditions in this state was in prospect today. The movement probably will be started within a few months and completed in about a year, with the aid of a small army of volunteer workers, including churchmen and agriculturists. Present plans call for use of the survey as a basis for a future extensive campaign for church and country life improvement in the state. All work will be inter-denominational.

Word of the prospective church survey came today from headquarters of the commission on church and country life at Columbus, Ohio, and names of a number of men in this state who have the plans under consideration were made known. The arrangements were discussed at the national church and country life conference held recently in Columbus, where President Wilson was one of the speakers. Delegates from this state held a special conference at that meeting to formulate tentative plans for a rural church survey, to be started as soon as possible after their return.

Leaders In Minnesota.

Among the persons who are expected to be leaders in the movement in Minnesota are E. H. Edwards of Castle Rock, J. H. Kolb of St. Paul and Rev. Fred B. Hill of Northfield.

Similar surveys are contemplated in most other states. Working plans are to be modeled after those used during the last year in Ohio, where the first state-wide scientific inquiry into country church conditions ever made in the United States is now being completed by a state association working under the supervision of the commission on church and country life, a subsidiary body of the Federal Council of Churches, an inter-denominational organization of heads of churches in the United States.

Each of the hundreds of volunteer workers who would be employed in such a survey as that contemplated in this state would ascertain facts about country churches within the township or locality assigned to him, such as these, for examples: Membership, location, distance from another church and nature of members (whether farm owners or tenants). These facts would be reported to a central office and assembled there.

Object of Survey.

The results shown then would be used as the basis for an educational campaign to make churches extend their functions to include some of these interests. Federation of several churches in each community, good roads, public health, better farming with special stress on agricultural college extension work, co-operation among farmers for buying, selling and producing, consolidated schools, public recreation and establishment of social and recreational centers and churches. Country preachers are to be urged to educate themselves more thoroughly in the practical interests and needs of a community without sacrificing purely religious work.

Among the results indicated by the incomplete rural church survey in Ohio are these: Eighty-three per cent of the churches have less than 100 members and 21 per cent have less than twenty-five. Only one in sixteen has an individual preacher and a large proportion of preachers get about the same pay as a day laborer. Less than 40 per cent of the rural population are church members. Only one-third are increasing in membership and one church in nine has been abandoned in recent years.

FIVE BODIES ARE TAKEN FROM WRECK

Found in Hold of Partly Wrecked Steamer Aztec in New York.

New York, Jan. 8.—The bodies of five men were removed today from the head of the partly sunken oil tank steamship Aztec on which an internal explosion occurred last Monday while the vessel was at a Brooklyn dock. The bodies of two men were recovered on the day of the explosion, making a total of seven known dead.

The pumping of the tanker is being continued and it is thought that five additional bodies of men missing from the ship will be recovered.

BABY BANDIT GANGS ARE UNDER ARREST

Ten Boy Criminals, None Over 17, Captured in Chicago.

Chicago, Jan. 8.—Three "baby bandit gangs" were taken in custody by the Chicago police in the last twenty-four hours. Ten boys, none older than 17 years, according to the police, were arrested. Three of the youths captured today, the police said, had confessed to burglarizing restaurants. Others of the young offenders are charged with holding up pedestrians. One group of five boys, all under 14 years old, were accused of robbing a scrubwoman of $17.50, which she had been more than a year in saving.

GREAT RELIGIOUS REVIVAL.

Theosophical Lecturer Will Discuss Conditions to Follow War.

Irving S. Cooper, the theosophical lecturer, believes in the second coming of Christ, and during his lecture Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in the Little theater, entitled "The Great Awakening and the Inner Meaning of the War," it is his intention to state his reasons for such a belief, he says. Mr. Cooper is of the opinion that after the great war and the social and economical disturbances which are apt to follow it, there will develop the greatest religious revival in the history of the world. He claims that from a study of the mental undercurrents in civilization, it is possible logically to anticipate such an awakening. During his lecture, Mr. Cooper will give a thorough outline of these undercurrents, which, he states, are of intense interest. In addition to his theosophical lecturing, Mr. Cooper is one of the national officers of the order of the Star in the East, a world-wide organization, the members of which are expecting the return of the Christ.

RISKS PRISON FOR BROTHER

Alleged Store Swindler Is Brother of Ralph Miller, Pickpocket.

Prisoner's Life Brightened By Money From Fraudulent Purchases.

Desire to help his brother, who faces a penitentiary sentence for robbing S. L. Reichert, treasurer of the Duluth Street Railway company, of $1,600, proved the undoing of Clyde Partello, 23, alias Clyde L. Rose.

Police learned last night that Partello, as he styles himself, is a brother of Ralph Miller, and that he came to Duluth to be near the latter. He has been bringing meals to him at the county jail for some time, and Monday he will be transferred to a cell there himself.

Partello, with Clarence Anderson, alias W. H. Huck of Indianapolis, Ind., 30, was arrested Thursday night by Detectives Roberg and Barber and accused of "purchasing" goods at department stores which he charged to accounts of various prominent Duluthians.

Police know that $52 worth of merchandise was purchased at the Glass Block store by the two men, representing themselves to be D. H. Clough, 924 East First street, a contractor.

They have started checking up accounts at other department stores, in the belief that they will find where several hundred dollars' worth of merchandise has been secured by the same pair, operating the same game.

"In a week or so now, after people receive their December statements, we will begin to get more complaints, I believe," said Capt. A. G. Fiskett. "It is hard to tell just how much they have stolen in this way."

Anderson and Partello were arraigned before Judge W. H. Smallwood in municipal court yesterday afternoon. The former pleaded not guilty to a grand larceny charge, and was held in $200 bail for a hearing Jan. 10. The latter was arraigned on three petit larceny charges, and held in $50 bail on each count. He will be tried Jan. 11.

PLAN BAZAR FOR TEUTONS' RELIEF

Several meetings of German, German-American, and Austrian women were held this week in Duluth for the purpose of arranging for a German bazar for the benefit of the German and Austro-Hungarian Red Cross and war relief fund, to be held some time in March. It is planned to hold the bazar under the auspices of all the German and Austrian women's clubs, lodges and aid societies. Delegates will be appointed from all the societies and a general executive committee will be elected Tuesday, Jan. 18, on the second floor of the Exchange building at 8 p. m.

At a meeting held yesterday afternoon by the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Paul's Evangelical church, delegates were appointed to represent this aid society at the general meeting. Mrs. August Toettcher, on East Fifth street, was the hostess at that meeting. M. Einheim, editor of the German Press, was requested to make the necessary arrangements for the mass meeting.

Secretary of State Schmahl, with whom the articles were filed, is of the opinion that $50,000 is too low on the company's Minnesota valuation and has asked the company or additional information.

ARMOUR INQUIRY TO BE CONTINUED

Washington, Jan. 8.—Notice was given by the interstate commerce commission today of its intention to continue its inquiry into the ownership and control of the Armour Car line and Armour & Co., and announced that Chairman McChord would begin hearings on Jan. 21 in Chicago. During a previous inquiry Frederick W. Ellis, an officer of the Armour Car line, refused to answer certain questions. His right of refusal was carried to the supreme court and the commission won a partial victory. It is probable Mr. Ellis will be asked to testify again.

FORMER MAYOR IS GROOMED FOR SENATOR

Cumberland, Wis., Jan. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—A movement has been started among friends of George T. Vorland, former mayor of Colfax, Wis., to induce him to become a candidate for state senator for the district comprising Dunn, Barron and Polk counties and it is quite probable Mr. Vorland will make the run. A Lucid Study.

WHAT IS A CHRISTIAN? By John Walker Powell. New York: The Macmillan company. $1.

(By Dr. John W. Hoffman, pastor of the First M. E. church of Duluth.)

Our author is a working pastor and a discriminating student of men and books. He is therefore eminently qualified for the lucid and comprehensive study he offers us in this volume. In seven chapters he sketches the salient features of Christian thought and life. He reminds us that his treatment of each aspect of Christianity is not exhaustive, neither is it final. He aims rather to give us the indispensable background of Christian experience and Christian activities. His rational optimism and intelligent grasp of the fundamentals of Christian faith and practice are most refreshing. His book is timely, illuminating, and invaluable to the many who are reconstructing their moral world in accord with modern thought.

The introduction is a rapid survey of our modern religious situation, of the leading ideas of the New Testament, and the progress of Christian doctrine through the centuries. In this broad review of the past and the present our author finds that there is a "Christian way of thinking about things, of interpreting the world in which we live; there is a Christian type of moral life; there is a Christian spirit; there is a Christian type of society; there is a Christian hope for the destiny of the individual and of the race; and there is a Christian organism in which the whole movement finds embodiment and expression."

Dr. Powell then proceeds to analyze his understanding of the faith of a Christian in broad outline. While our creeds are seen to be the outcome of a reaction from opposing forms of thought, yet four elements are discoverable which constitute a Christian philosophy. "They are the Fatherhood of God, the Brotherhood of Man, the Mastership of Jesus Christ, and the Immortal Destiny of the Human Soul." In unfolding the content of these essentials we learn that God is conceived to be personal, loving, and just; that human beings are free, related to each other, of infinite worth and akin to God; that Jesus is unique, creative, redemptive, and revealer of God; that the Christian has a destiny of infinite duration and possibilities. "This, then, is the Christian philosophy." It is the thought-world of the one who is loyal to God as seen in Christ. Our author forgets not to observe that the eternal value of human life carries with it the tragedy of deterioration due to moral wrong and moral cowardice.

In the chapter on the Ethics of Jesus the author exhibits the Christian standard of life. In his examination of the teachings of Jesus, Dr. Powell finds that Christ used the paradoxical method. He enunciated universal principles rather than specific rules, and His aim was the awakening of the soul rather than the outward conformity of the life. Remembering these facts about the way Jesus taught, one escapes the dilemma of the literalist and the irritating confusion of the sceptic as well as the errancies of the ascetic. Analyzing the truths of Christ one finds that character is of the supreme good, love the most valuable dynamic, service the finest expression of life, and judgment falls upon motives rather than actions. Loyalty to truth, forbearance, love and helpfulness are the supreme virtues to be cultivated.

In applying the Christian idea and ideal to war, our author believes that the Christian can only engage in it for purposes of defending the values essential to life and progress. Notwithstanding the much advertised benefits of war, the ideals of Jesus require persuasion, not coercion, service and sacrifice on the part of the state as well as of the individual, and the international practice of forbearance and hospitality. In this view the state is simply a method for advancing the welfare of the race in general and the highest human interests of those included within its sovereign sway.

We are told Jesus emphasized human worth, truth, justice, love, character as the supreme aim of life rather than the acquisition of wealth. Christ was not an economist, neither was He a Socialist. He had no industrial program. If one would be Christian in his methods of production and distribution he must adjust these to the moral passion and purpose of Jesus. We must learn that service rather than profits is the aim of commerce, and souls as well as steel must be figured in the cost of production.

Whatever one's intellectual view of Christianity, the really great thing is an experience of God. It is this inward realization that is vital and basal. Only thus will one be aware of spiritual forces and enjoy a fine comradeship with God. Love will be a divine reality and service a noble passion.

We must neither regard the Christian hope as a bribe nor as a threat, but as the consummation of the most worthy forces and processes of life and soul. We are thinking of heaven today as the flowering forth of the noblest functions of the universe and as offering a career of infinite beauty and richness.

The Christian ideal must "embody itself in institutional form for the sake of perpetuating itself in the world, of implanting its ideals in the human heart, and stamping its impress upon human history." In these words Dr. Powell gives us a conception of the Christian church flexible, clear, comprehensive and relieved of all historic impediments. One can readily see that such an embodiment of the Christian ideal can neither be final in authority nor lay claim to any exclusive priestly function, nor yet think of itself as an end to be served. Identification with such a body is a self-evident necessity. Only thus will the increasing determination to secure social justice be moralized and our new social order be Christianized.

Most heartily do we commend a careful reading of this volume to all who covet a clear, vivid, sympathetic, sensible appreciation of the moral leadership and regenerating power of the Christ. We believe that it is only those who have the vision of the singular excellence of the Lord Jesus that are competent for every task and the noblest achievements of a Christian civilization.

Dr. Albert C. Knudsen of the school of theology of the Boston university has written this tribute to Dr. Powell's book in a letter to the author:

Lucid, compact, masterful—such were the words that came to me as I read your book. The librarian at the General Theological library told me the other day that they regarded this book of yours as the best book of the kind that had been issued since the beginning of the war, and with this estimate I am ready heartily to agree.

What I think impressed me most in your book was the aureness of your touch. Dealing with quite a variety of topics of a controversial character one might naturally except that a man who had not been a specialist in these different departments would prove a little unsteady here and there, a little uncertain of himself. But I found no trace of it anywhere. With admirable balance and soundness of judgment, as well as with remarkable lucidity, you have handled these complex and difficult themes. Your book is certain to commend itself to thoughtful readers everywhere. It is pure muscle, no padding anywhere.

The Inquiring Religious Mind.

SOME CHRISTIAN CONVICTIONS. A Practical Restatement in Terms of Present-Day Thinking. By the Rev. Henry Sloane Coffin, pastor of the Mission Avenue Presbyterian church of New York. New Haven: Yale University Press. $1 net.

(By the Rev. T. W. MacLean, Canon of Trinity Cathedral.)

This work is admirably fitted for the purpose for which it is avowedly intended. The author, in his preface, says: "Some of my listeners had been trained in the church, but had thrown off their allegiance; others had been reared in Judaism or agnosticism; others considered themselves 'honorary members' of various religious communions—interested and sympathetic, but uncommitted and irresponsible; more were would-be Christions, somewhat restive intellectually under the usual statements of Christian truth." For such an audience the practical statements of the book could not well be improved upon.

The writer, or rather speaker—for the work is not a mere transcription of abstract truth, but is the living word to living men; is personal, with the vital current moving to and fro—does not, it seems to us, give an interpretation of the so-called "new theology," but places the old theology, Catholic (not Roman) theology, orthodoxy, in relation to the new light of modern criticism and modern experience.

The old truth, ever new, eternal in its substance, is viewed in its present environment.

The arrangement of the topics is perfect—logical, corresponding to experience, illuminating. "Religion," "The Bible," "Jesus Christ," "God," "The Cross," "The New Life," "The Church," "Life Everlasting," reveal an outer order of logic and inner process of spiritual experience. He does not stress the virgin birth, but he speaks strongly for the resurrection, while giving no personal conviction of the former, leaves his whole argument, throughout the book, to implicate and suggest it, we think.

The introduction is one of the most suggestive and satisfying chapters of the work and we wish we might extend this notice to consider it at length. It will amply repay careful reading by casual reader and expert theologian alike. The whole book is readable, suggestive and illuminating.

An Interesting Study.

ECONOMIC ORIGINS OF JEFFERSONIAN DEMOCRACY. By Charles A. Beard. Professor of Politics in Columbia University. New York: The Macmillan company.

(By Bert Fesler, Judge of the District Court.)

This is the second of a series of books by Prof. Beard "intended to be a modest contribution to American history rewritten along economic lines." The first was an "Economic Interpretation of the Constitution." The author quotes on a flyleaf that "we may trace the contest between the capitalist and the democratic pioneer from the earliest colonial days." Yet the book is the production of a highly trained historical investigator who takes a pride in searching out original sources for his facts, and has that wide sweep of experience which enables him to generalize accurately and fearlessly. The book is not a propagandist's book. It presents the facts as the records have them, relates dispassionately the viewpoints of the leaders of the political thought of their generation, discusses them without antagonism, and permits the reader easily to drop on the Whig side or the Tory side of the question, according as he has been predisposed. The book will not and evidently was not intended to make converts; but be the reader Whig or Tory, he will lay aside the book with a more intelligent understanding of the fundamentals of his own political philosophy, and with a more generous appreciation of his opponent's point of view.

The author first pursues an investigation of the party alignments during the first decade of our national history, and compares them with the advocates and opponents of the adoption of the Constitution. A political biography of each of the "fathers" is given, and the student only of high school histories will have many of his idols shaken from their pedestals while reading through the list. The personnel of the first administration forms the title of one of the chapters and one cannot they could certainly have overcome the 35,000 volunteers mustered by the Confederates, with possibly the loss of 6,000 men. The war would have been settled in a few months, and the saving in life would have amounted to nearly 350,000 men and in money to over $5,000,000,000. A striking argument for preparedness.

Throughout the entire work the author justly extolls the patriotism and gallantry of the American volunteer, who, trained and properly armed, has no equal for initiative and resourcefulness. He also justly criticizes the government for the use of such splendid material in battle in an untrained condition, thereby occasioning such appalling sacrifices of life as have been made in past wars.

One of the most striking criticisms quoted in the work comes from Gen. Richard Henry Lee of Revolutionary fame: "A government is the murderer of its citizens which sends them to the field uninformed and untaught, where they are to meet men of the same age and strength, mechanized by education and discipline for battle." This criticism and many others in the work should be emblazoned in the halls of congress so that each succeeding body may be warned of the frightful sacrifice that their neglect has imposed on those who have taken up arms in the defense of the United States government.

The Wizard of Plants.

LUTHER BURBANK—HIS LIFE AND WORK. By Henry Smith Williams, M. D., LL. D. Illustrated. New York: Hearst's International Library company. $2.50 net.

This is a popular account of the work of Luther Burbank, the famous Santa Rosa plant experimenter with fruits, vegetables, flowers, lawn grasses, fodder, shrubs and trees. The author has enormously increased the value of his work by holding to the purpose of enabling the interested reader to follow out experiments along similar lines if he chooses and has the time, facilities and intelligence. As editor-in-chief of the Burbank publications, Dr. Williams has been brought intimately into contact with the work of the Santa Rosa experimenter and creater of new things in plant life. Moreover, he is himself an experienced practical horticulturist with wide biological knowledge. Besides an interesting account of Mr. Burbank's experiments, methods and results, Dr. Williams gives lucidly the latest theories of heredity and covers such practical subjects as these: Seed-planting and the care of seedlings; pruning, grafting and budding fruit trees; pollenizing all manner of flowers to produce new varieties; and selective line breeding to produce new varieties. There are also suggestions on the breeding of the "human plant."

Food, Health and Life.

NOT BY BREAD ALONE. By Harvey W. Wiley, M. D. New York: Hearst's International Library company. $2 net.

Food is a pretty important business, to which altogether too little attention is paid by some and altogether too much by others. Dr. Wiley strikes the happy medium, and talks sense. Those who regard food simply as filling, and eat whatever will satisfy hunger and fill the stomach, those who simply follow their appetites and gorge on things that please them, and those who wander off on diet fads, all make mistakes which Dr. Wiley exposes. Ruskin said that "to be a good animal is the first duty of the citizen," and you can't be a good animal unless you eat sensibly. For your cow you can measure off so much of fats, so much of carbohydrates, etc., and get precisely what you want—so much butter-fat, so much beef. Unfortunately you can't work it quite as mathematically as that with yourself, but you can use sense and science and moderation in your diet and get good results. Dr. Wiley, in a very sensible way which estimates diet fads adequately and accurately, tells how it can be done; and his book is well worth reading, studying and heeding.

A Valuable Digest.

DIGEST OF WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION LAWS IN THE UNITED STATES AND TERRITORIES, WITH ANNOTATIONS. Revised to December, 1915. Compiled by F. Robertson Jones. New York: Workmen's Compensation Publicity Bureau, 80 Maiden Lane. $2, paper bound.

It is interesting to note from the fourth annual publication of this valuable digest that there are automatic workmen's compensation laws in thirty-one states and two territories. These various enactments differ widely in their administrative details and in the amount and method of compensation, though all designed to meet the same end and having many features in common. In this digest the law of each state is analyzed under forty-five headings, which cover the essential features of compensation laws in this country. The arrangement is ingeniously convenient, and the information complete. Lawyers and other students of the subject will find the digest of large value to them.

The Scientific Detective.

THE GOLD OF THE GODS. By Arthur B. Reeve. New York: Hearst's International Library company. $1 net.

In this story Craig Kennedy, the marvelous scientific detective, solves a mystery of the Incas that involves a mysterious murder, queer poisonings, a hidden Inca treasure and a love story. There is plenty of incident, the mystery is well concealed to the end, and the story will interest. Mr. Reeve's writing is some times hastily done, and shows it; but that probably won't mar the pleasure of most of those who will enjoy the book.

Funny Anecdotes.

"SOME STORIES" BY FAMOUS MEN. New York: Hearst's International Library company. 50 cents net.

Whether or not the famous men thought up the stories, their names are connected with them, and probably they told them or at least are willing to stand for them. At any rate, the stories as a whole are above the average of current anecdote, and some of them are very good stories indeed and are handy to be sprung on your friends or in your speeches.

Real Devils and How to Get Rid of Them.

THE GREAT EXORCISM. By Arthur Crane. Published by the author, 1278 Market street, San Francisco, Cal. $1 net.

The ancients, with their talk of and belief in evil spirits; the early Christians with their belief in devils that inhabited men's bodies and otherwise manifested themselves; the modern materialists with their theory of non-development and adverse qualities in nature; and the various cults with their several expressions intended to represent error or evil or wickedness in the universe—all these but furnished different names for the same thing, according to Mr. Crane, who points out (and reasons logically and convincingly to prove) that after all the real devils and evils and such are in fact "influences" of one sort or another.

Against them all he offers the one "great exorcism"—the exercise of "the Christpower." He says further:

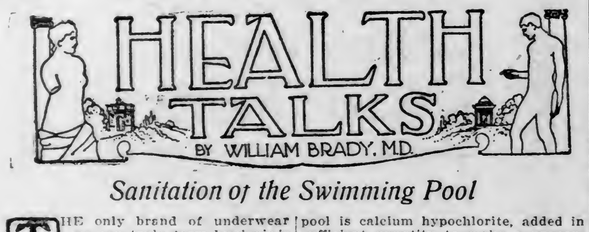

"This is a living faith. It has life now, independent of the past. It has joy now, independent of the future. But the principal thing it has is POWER."

Here is another sentence that is bound to attract attention from the thoughtful:

"I may fearlessly walk this earth, scorning accident, disease, misfortune, sorrow, pain, slander or death, if my mind is set only on the advancement, development and progress of mankind as a whole."

What he teaches, in brief, is unselfishness; willingness to become as nothing, to undergo all things, for the good of the rest of mankind. At the same time he concedes that "no thinking man can be ready to sacrifice all for the divine ideal, unless he feels a oneness with the race; a vital gladness in the thought of its advancement, and a consciousness that his real ego is identical with the imperishable Logos."

Coming a time when men's thoughts are turning more generally in the direction of religion than has been the case for many years, "The Great Exorcism" is bound to attract attention.

Sanitation of the Swimming Pool

THE only brand of underwear we can truly term hygienic is a clean, healthy skin. The public swimming pool, the swimming school, the public bath and the old swimming hole in swimming season are all hygienic factors. Yet, like the common drinking cup, the common bath is open to disease germs every day in the year, and hence a possible source of infection.

Typhoid fever has certainly been transmitted from carrier to victim in the swimming pool, no matter whether the pool be owned by club, school, city, private individual, steamship or religious organization. The water of the pool should be examined at definite intervals for colon bacilli just as in the control of a source of drinking water.

Bathers should be required to furnish a certificate from their physician, stating that they are free from contagious disease. Furthermore, although it seems a paradox, bathers should be compelled to bathe before entering the pool, for the same reason that a cook should wash her hands before she hulls the strawberries.

Frequent refilling and dilution of the water is economical and efficient when combined with chemical disinfection of the water.

Venereal disease may be transmitted through the swimming pool. Conjunctivitis and ear inflammation may likewise be acquired from the infected water.

The larger the pool the more sanitary it will be. The smaller the number of persons using it the more sanitary the pool.

The most efficacious chemical disinfectant for the water of the swimming pool is calcium hypochlorite, added in sufficient quantity to make a proportion of one part of chlorine to one million of water—and added to the water often enough to keep the proportion at that ratio.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

The Common Cigar Cutter.

What complaints have been made against the common cigar cutter as a transmitter of disease?

Answer—The same complaint as has been made against the common drinking cup and the still more common towel. A good many men moisten a cigar first, and cut it afterward. That contaminates the cutter with saliva, and common saliva is a pretty dangerous medium of exchange.

Baby Holding His Breath.

How long is it possible for a baby to hold his breath? a worried mother inquires. Our little boy, 5 months old, sometimes alarms us when he shows his temper that way.

Answer—A minute easily, perhaps two minutes, without much effort. You need have no fear—he'll begin breathing again when he gets ready. If you wish to do something, just sprinkle some very cold water upon his face.

Olive Oil.

Please advise if olive oil will clear a complexion.

Answer—Yes, sometimes, if taken, say, in tablespoonful doses an hour after meals.

Second Attack of Whooping Cough.

Can a child catch whooping cough the second time.

Answer—Possibly, but it would be doubtful. Better have the child thoroughly examined at once.

THE VICTORY OF THE AMERICAN SYSTEM.

Germany's final response to America's demands in the Lusitania case is a complete victory for America. Germany agrees with every contention, agrees to give compensation for lost American lives and, moreover, in addition voluntarily agrees not to torpedo non-combatant vessels of any kind in the Mediterranean without giving warning and taking care of passengers and crew.

It is a great victory for the United States. It is a great victory for President Wilson and his policies. It is a great victory for the American system, for which any imaginable amount of armament would be but a sorry substitute.

Germany refuses to disavow the sinking of the Lusitania, but insists that it was an act of reprisal for the British blockade. It is more to Germany's interest than to ours that she should disavow and repudiate that act of coldblooded murder. The hurt of her failure to disavow it is hers, not ours. Her promise not to do it again, and her agreement to make reparation, is a substantial compliance with American demands.

It is a great victory—the greatest diplomatic victory gained by this or any other country in generations.

And it was gained without taking a single life or firing a shot or leveling a gun!

The world may yet have a chance to say to Uncle Sam, "Good morning; how's your merchant marine?"

WAR AND BUSINESS.

The Nation's Business, which is spokesman for the United States Chamber of Commerce, an organization representing the business of the country, has sounded the indictment of business against war.

"We must," it says, "substitute law for war. Until the present day, business men have not discussed practical methods for the prevention of war. Since, however, the European conflict began the peaceful neutral world has begun to realize that there may be within its reach a means of preventing future conflicts in a general understanding to use economic pressure against nations or peoples which refuse to listen to the voice of reason and conciliation. American business men very generally have come to recognize the world's imperative need to substitute law for war. They realize also the stake of every American citizen and particularly of American business men in the prevention of future wars."

The United States Chamber of Commerce recently submitted to its members the report of a committee appointed to consider this matter, accompanied by a referendum on certain definite proposals. It is to be regretted sincerely that the importance of these proposals seems to have escaped the Duluth Commercial club, which has failed to take action upon them. But in the final appeal made by this report to the intelligence and business sense of its members, the committee spoke these true words:

> We cannot escape it if we would, we would not if we could. The call of women and children, suffering indescribably from needless war, is an inevitable compulsion to all Americans, and not least to American business men.

It is pleasant indeed to note that most of the commercial organizations making up the Chamber of Commerce of the United States participated in the referendum on this question, and that they voted overwhelmingly in favor of the very practical proposals it contained. The proposal to bring economic pressure to bear against any nation that resorts to arms without submitting its grievance to an international court, though it met the most opposition of any, carried by a vote of 556 to 157. It is worthy to note that the proposal to use concerted military action if economic pressure proves insufficient failed to get enough votes to commit the organization to it, though it now stands committed to all the others.

In brief, the plan proposed in the referendum of the United States Chamber of Commerce, which the Duluth Commercial club apparently has not deemed worthy of any action whatever, consists of the formation of an international agreement for arbitration of arbitrable issues and conciliation where issues are not arbitrable, together with an agreement to exert economic pressure against any nation that goes to war without referring its grievance to the proper tribunal. The plan is practical, though neither radical nor visionary: and it deserves at least the respect of thorough consideration.

There is a moral side to war, and a sentimental side. On both counts war stands condemned, with not a friend to raise a voice in its behalf.

But there is also a material side, a side that must appeal to business men, even to those business men, if there are any such, who are immune to the moral and sentimental appeal.

For war is bad business. Preparation for it absorbs labor, decreasing the supply and increasing the price. Preparation for it burdens industry and commerce with needless taxes. War itself first absorbs more labor, and then destroys it; besides adding to the tax burden. Paying for war after it is over—war debt and pensions—still further increases the tax handicap on commerce and industry. Even though it is able to pass much of the financial burden on to its patrons, business is one of the first and most direct sufferers from war in all its angles. Business ought to be against war as surely as it is again inefficiency, thriftlessness and other wastes that hurt business.

Business in this country, generally, IS against war. It may not delude itself with dreams of an immediate millenium; it is too hardheaded for that. But also it is too hardheaded to let itself be deluded by the superstition that anything so bad for business as war is beyond the reach of human will and purpose.

"Roosevelt men," says a Twin City report, "are preparing to put his name on the Minnesota presidential primary ballots." It is interesting to note that these willing workers are not described by any party designation.

MORE HERALD FEATURES.

In accordance with its traditional conviction that the best is none too good for its readers, and that in serving its constituency no feasible expense should be spared, The Herald has pleasure in announcing a number of new features which will appear regularly hereafter in its pages.

Today begins Herbert Kaufman's forty-two-centimeter prose and verse of power, punch and purpose. Mr. Kaufman will write for The Herald regularly, appearing each Saturday.

Monday several exceedingly interesting figures will join the staff for regular daily appearances.

There will be Walt Mason, poet of humor and horse sense, who William Allen White truly says is the poet laureate of the American democracy.

There will be quaint Abe Martin, by Kin Hubbard, for whom Meredith Nicholson, eminent American novelist and litterateur, writes this testimonial:

> Persons who have tried all known patent medicines without relief will do well to try Abe Martin's dandelion and sassafras cocktails before turning their faces to the wall. Abe is now an established institution, and no supper table is complete without him. The clods are softer under the weary hoof and the plow-handles easier to manage after a moment's communion with Abe. He is Plato on a cracker-barrel, or radiant Socrates after Xantippe's departure to visit her folks in Tecumseh township.

Then there will be Ruth Cameron's "Side Talks," containing practical advice and counsel cleverly expressed.

Nor will the little ones be forgotten, for there will be Bedtime Tales by Clara Ingram Judson—quaint little stories, good to read to the younger folks when bedtime draws near.

For the housekeeper there will be "Efficient Housekeeping," by Henrietta D. Grauel,—practical discussion and advice by a practical housekeeper.

Last but not least, our friend Scoop will be joined by Absentminded Abner, the new comic figure by the inimitable Walt McDougall, who will perform his comic blunders daily for the edification of The Herald family.

A six hundred-foot freighter is to be built in Superior this season, and if other motive power fails they might get the Duluth oarsmen to make it go.

THOSE RESOLUTIONS.

How are you getting on with the New Year's resolutions?

Finding them a pretty heavy load? They'll be that for awhile, but once you get the hang of it the load lightens amazingly. There is no better exercise for character-making than sticking to a resolution. It breeds a new strength that pretty soon you will be glorying in.

It's tough enough at first. The first adjustment of the resolutions to stop doing this or that, or to start doing someling or other, finds you weak—a lot weaker than you realized. The habit you are trying to throw off has subtly undermined your strength, and you find it out when you seek the strength to discard the habit. That strength you can regain in but one way—by grimly determining to beat that habit or perish in the attempt—and by beating it. That gives you a strength worth sacrificing much for, because it will help you in a lot of other things.

Some people make a joke of New Year's resolutions, and that's wrong. They are no joke. Those who make them do so out of a realization of wrong-doing. They are doing something that hurts themselves or hurts others, and they know they ought to quit it. So they resolve to quit it. The trouble with many is that they take these resolutions too lightly, without properly counting the cost and the struggle; and when the cost proves great and the struggle bitter, they fall by the wayside and slide back. And that's as bad for character as it is good for character to stick to it and come through a victor.

If you have already broken your resolution, try it again. Keep on trying. Each time you break it your strength will be a little less; but remember that the only way on earth to gain the strength of character you ought to have and want to have is by just such struggles as this. Be a little afraid of being a coward and a weakling, as you confess yourself to be if you admit that your habit is stronger than your will. Refuse to be a coward and a weakling, and beat that habit. By so doing you will develop muscles of character and fit yourself for other struggles, perhaps more vital still, later on.

Don't let anybody laugh you out of your resolutions, and don't laugh anybody else out of his. It's a serious matter, and it means a lot.

A man comes to realize, on the morning after his New Year's eve drunk, that he is drinking too much and that it is hurting him—hurting his will, his strength, his ambition, his efficiency. He tries to quit. He goes a little way on his hard and narrow road of self-denial, and then falls. And people make a joke of it! It's a tragedy, not a joke.

A man comes to realize that he is spending too much money and not laying anything by for the future, and he determines on New Year's day to live within his income and save something. Then, a few days later, temptation comes and habit proves too strong and he buys something he has no business to buy. His resolution is broken, and people make a joke of it. It's no joke, but a tragedy; for who is to care for this man when he is old and his earning power is gone?

Stick to your New Year's resolutions. If you find yourself slipping, stick on like grim death, shut your eyes and clench your teeth and tighten your grip. After a little while the worst of it will be over, your habit will be broken, and you will have earned a new strength of character and a new self-respect that is well worth the struggle—or any struggle, however hard and bitter.

If the wind in the congressional speeches had half the penetration of some that comes over the hills, these days, how much more they would accomplish!

FORBES-ROBERTSON.

Duluth is to have the privilege—and it is a privilege—of seeing Forbes-Robertson once more before his farewell tour ceases and he retires from the stage. He is to be here three days next week, playing his two greatest parts—the Passerby in "The Passing of the Third Floor Back" and "Hamlet."

Forbes-Robertson, who it is fair to say is the greatest English-speaking actor living, is superb in both these roles, but to our thought "The Passing of the Third Floor Back" is a greater role than Hamlet, because it is more human. From a literary viewpoint—from a technical dramatic viewpoint, too, so far as that is concerned—of course this play is not to be compared with "Hamlet." From a human viewpoint, on the other hand, "Hamlet" is not to be compared with the Passerby.

In this strange and undramatic play the Passerby, a gentle, humble, kindly figure, comes into a squalid, dingy London boarding house, infested with mean, bickering, backbiting specimens upon whom time and hard knocks have made vicious marks. First, there is a picture of this ugly collection, epitomized by the slatternly maid-of-all-work when she says: "Wot's the good of us all?" Then, one by one the Passerby summons back to life the submerged and forgotten better selves of these miserables, and this transformation is the play. At the end, his work accomplished, the Passerby passes on to other work, the subtle atmosphere of holiness that surrounds his gentle figure through the play growing more vivid at the end. Witnessing this transformation of human beings from what they ought not to be to what they ought to be, developed by the Passerby as Forbes-Robertson plays it, is a real privilege.

And yet "Hamlet" is a great play, the prince of Denmark is a great role, and Forbes-Robertson is a great Hamlet.

After a lifetime devoted to art of the highest type, Sir Johnstone Forbes-Robertson is about to retire at the height of his powers and in the fullness of his fame. His has been a life worth while, and the good wishes and good will of his thousands of admirers on this side of the water will go with him into private life.

Congressional opponents of pork will please remember that hawg-killin' time isn't entirely over yet.

AMERICA'S PURPOSE.

The New Republic is a new "journal of opinion." Its matter is supplied by a very clever coterie of young men, and as a rule it is good; though sometimes the publication is so over-burdened with its vocation of highbrowism that it grows stilted. Then, too, it is in danger of finding itself cursed with a chilled, bloodless intellectualism so over-refined that it floats so high into rarefied upper atmospheres as to find itself beyond glimpse of human truth.

For instance, one of its editors has a piece complaining of a lack of American purpose:

> We Americans have been witnessing supreme drama, clenching our fists, talking, yet unable to fasten any reaction to realities. Ferment without issue, gestation without birth, is making us sullen and self-conscious and ashamed. The source of our trouble may be traced directly to the president's first message to the American people, when we were asked to be neutral in feeling. That negative injunction was bound to fail, and the vacillation of America has ever since grown more serious. What President Wilson seems not to understand is that the enunciation of a great purpose which enlists emotion is the only way to avoid that clashing of emotions from which we suffer.

The suffering described is, we fancy, confined largely to Editor Lippman and perhaps his colleagues of the New Republic. The above quotation, like the piece from which it is extracted, is one hundred per cent plain tommyrot, and not the less tommyrot because it is couched in pseudo-psychological terms.

President Wilson never asked the American people to be neutral in feeling. He did ask them to refrain from unneutral acts. Nobody has been neutral in thought except the ignorant. There is nobody who has not been pro-Teuton or pro-ally; though of late we see encouraging developments of a sentiment that is pro-humanity, and that puts the interests of the common humanity higher than the interest of any nation or any alliance of nations.

But to say that America lacks a purpose is to state a silly falsehood.

America HAS a purpose, and it is a purpose passionately held. President Wilson exemplifies and expresses that purpose by every word and act, and partisanship forgotten—when it can be forgotten—the whole American people shares it with him.

That purpose is to keep aloof from Europe's domestic quarrel if it is possible; to hold aloft meanwhile the threatened lamp of civilization; to uphold persistently the rights of neutrals, in which are bound up the rights of the common humanity; to keep America freed from the contagion of militarism, which is a chronic disease that broke out in violently acute form in August of 1914; to yield justice freely to every other people and nation and to exact justice—and nothing but justice—from every other people and nation; to avoid war by avoiding the wanton affronts and arrogant covetousness that provokes war; to help make war impossible by giving the world the most vivid proof that nations that behave toward other nations as one civilized man behaves toward other civilized men are in no danger of war.

The purpose of the United States—a purpose passionately held and ardently pursued—is the purpose to exemplify justice and fairness and decency in international relations, and so to teach the world that it is possible for nations to live together without war, and to uphold national ideals without sacrificing men, women and children on the altar of international brigandage.

The difficulty the New Republic has in seeing this purpose, and the ease with which it finds occasion to make captious criticisms of the president, can be more easily understood when it is realized that its editors were mainly ardent Bull Moosers three years ago, and that the New Republic is affected by an irresistible impulse to regard Theodore Roosevelt as the Alpha and Omega, the sum and substance, the beginning and the end of all statesmanship and patriotism and the personified epitome of all wisdom.

Only one of our ex-presidents is actively urged for the supreme court vacancy.

THE ANOMALY OF DUPLICATE CITIZENSHIP.

A Biwabik man asks about the anomalous condition of "dual nationality" which has been one of the unexpected discoveries of the war.

It is a delicate situation, and one that might some time be prolific in trouble. Yet it is a situation that can hardly be cured while the war is in progress, and its treatment must be postponed until peace comes. With the end of war, this country should arrange treaties with the nations concerned that will remove this difficult anomaly.

There are certain nations that do not recognize the alienation of citizenship. A man comes to the United States from such a country, makes his home here permanently, meets the requirements of the law and becomes a citizen of the United States after renouncing allegiance to his former ruler, marries and rears a family. To us, he is a citizen of the United States—an American—and his children of course are Americans.

But to the country from which he came he is not an American, but a subject of the sovereign of that country—and not only he, but his children. If he should go back—or if his adult son should go back and he should be discovered to be the son of a former subject—he is liable for military duty. In short, he and his children are regarded legally as though they had never been away.

Of course we can't tolerate this, and of course some time it is likely to make trouble. The situation has been adjusted with some countries, but not with all. Probably it can't be adjusted while the war is on, but as soon as the war is over it ought to be adjusted promptly.

William Waldorf Astor's hope appears to have been well founded—that he could achieve a British title buy-and-buy.

My Prayer.

Great God, I ask Thee for no meaner pelf
Than that I may not disappoint myself;
That in my action I may soar as high
As I can now discern with this clear eye.

And next in value, which Thy kindness lends,
That I may greatly disappoint my friends,
Howe'er they think or hope that it may be,
They may not dream how Thou'st distinguished me.

That my weak hand may equal my firm faith,
And my life practice more than my tongue saith;
That my low conduct may not show,
Nor my relenting lines,
That I Thy purpose did not know,
Or overrated Thy designs.
—Henry David Thoreau (1817-1862).

Gary Dinners—No. 1.

By Savoyard.

Washington, Jan. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—In response to the G. O. P.'s signal of distress, Wall Street is to the rescue. Now, Wall Street is a practical concern and shoves aside the score or so chips and whetstones, favorite sons, who are candidates for the Republican nomination, and presents Theodore Roosevelt as the favorite of Big Business to boss the job of president of the United States. A Republican campaign without boodle would be like hospitality without food, and it must be pleasing to many of the faithful that Wall Street is again enlisted. But Wall Street serves notice that it must name the head of the ticket.

The political slate is to be wiped clean of all the old issues except a faint trace of the tariff, and "preparedness for war" is to become paramount, as pronouncedly so as the tariff of 1892, or silver of 1896. There is but one man in the country fit to lead such a campaign as that, and his name is Roosevelt. That war over yonder will come to an end a year or two hence, and our munitions plants will be out of customers. So a domestic market is to be created. Roosevelt is in favor of an army and a navy that can lick all creation, while Wilson would be content with a preparedness that would hold Japan in check, our only possible antagonist for years to come.

Such a campaign, financed by Wall Street and led by Theodore Roosevelt, would be very formidable. All the jingoes would flock to the standard and the mercenaries would enlist to a man. It is announced in the New York Tribune that Col. Roosevelt would sooner support Wilson than any Republican running on a platform that does not denounce Germany. That is a shrewd move, for it is notorious that the sentiment for the Entente allies is overwhelming in our country, and a skillful and agile politician like the Colonel can be depended on to play this string for all it is worth and make a million damphools think that a vote for Wilson is a vote for Germany.

Now, there is the scheme—Roosevelt for president, "preparedness" the platform, "to hell with Germany" the battle cry. Then make Cortelyou manager of the campaign, give him a boodle fund that would make Mark Hanna a piker, and the country would witness a campaign, the storm of which would make that of 1896 a zephyr.

Everybody knows that no Republican ticket will stand the ghost of a show unless it has the O. K. of Theodore Roosevelt. There is the best authority for it that the Colonel has eliminated all the Republicans "mentioned" except Hughes, Hadley and Knox. Hughes has eliminated himself and it would be suicide to name either Knox or Hadley. Root and Burton engineered the Taft steamroller that ran over Roosevelt in the national convention of 1912 and all the other favorite sons from Weeks to Alden Smith, from Fairbanks to Borah, are simply impossible.

Then there is nothing to do but to name Roosevelt, put Fairbanks at the tail of the ticket, set Cortelyou to manage the campaign, levy contributions on Wall Street, go in for an army that can lick Germany's, a navy that can beat England's, and cuss the Dutch. That is the scheme as at present contemplated, and the country might as well reconcile itself to endure it. And it might win. Ours is an emotional and a mercurial people. Time very likely would undo the the enterprise, as time beat Greeley in 1872 and Bryan in 1896. Both Greeley and Bryan had the country overwhelmingly for them in August before the November elections. So did Hancock in 1880.

The New York Tribune, the leading Republican organ of the country, is out for Roosevelt, and making fun of that regiment of favorite sons. The Kansas City Star, a great and powerful newspaper with an enormous constituency, is for the Colonel. The Progressives—if they are back in the party—compose a majority of the party; Wall Street is for the Colonel, and who and what are to prevent his nomination? Corporations have no souls; but the Steel trust has gratitude, a mighty good substitute for a soul, as souls go in Big Business circles. Mr. Gary remembers the indulgence President Roosevelt granted him to absorb for his Steel trust the Tennessee Coal & Iron company and the twelve-billion dinner the other Friday was a Steel trust spread.

Of course the "Old Guard" would kick; but the Colonel has winning ways and on occasion can practice the philosophy of Talleyrand and treat his enemies as though they were become friends. Besides, your Standpatter is like Tammany Hall. He is bound to support the ticket. Your Standpatter is what the late Murat Halstead called a "yaller dog politician," and holds to the idea that a bolt is the same as treason, or a little samer.

Here and there, of course, one would run across a Standpatter who looks on the Colonel as Theodore Hallam looked upon William Goebel. Hallam was making a speech for John Young Brown, the anti-Goebel Democratic candidate for governor of Kentucky in 1899, and someone interrupted to butt in:

"Theodore, I heard you say you would vote for a yaller dog if he was the Democratic nominee."

"So I did and so I will," answered Hallam, "but lower than a yaller dog I flatly refuse to do."

But there never was but one Theodore Hallam.

"Through the brightness before Him were coals of fire kindled."—2 Sam. xxii, 13.

My Father, give me back my youth. Give me back the glow of expectation which lived in tomorrow and had no yesterday. Give me back the glass of hope that swept the coming horizon and saw no cloud therein. Let Thy Christ make me a child again—a child on fire with promises. If His flame shall kindle my bush, no earthly care shall consume it. If the Promised Land be before me, clouds and darkness shall in vain be around me; their elements shall melt with fervent heat in the brightness of hope's glory.—From "Day Unto Day."

It is well to live in the valley sweet,
Where the work of the world is done,
Where the reapers sing in the fields of wheat,
As they toil till the set of sun.
Ah, yes, it is well to live on the plain
Where the river flows on through the fields,
Where the ships sail down to the boundless main,
With the wealth that the valley yields.

But beyond the meadows the hills I see,
Where the noises of traffic cease,
And I follow a voice that calleth to me
From the hilltop regions of peace.
The airs, as they pass me, sweet odors bring,
Unknown in the valley below.
And my spirit drinks from a hidden spring
Where the waters of comfort flow.

Aye, to live is sweet in the valley fair
And to toil till the set of sun,
But my spirit yearns for the hilltop's air,
When the days and its work are done.
For a Presence breathes o'er the silent hills,
And its sweetness is living yet,
The same deep calm all the hillside fills,
As breathed over Olivet.

Photoplay Magazine: Little Edna is always frightened at the appearance of Indians upon the screen at picture shows.

"Mamma," she whispered to her mother the other night at the theater, "are there going to be any Indians in this show?"

"No, dear," answered the mother.

"But, mamma," persisted little Edna, "have the Indians been out yet?"

"Why, no, Edna; I told you there were no Indians in this play."

"But, mamma, who scalped all those men down there in the front seats?"

Grip Fast.

The coat of arms of the ancient Scottish house of Leslie bears three golden buckles and the motto: "Grip fast." The device was granted centuries ago by a grateful sovereign to Bartholomew Leslie for his gallantry in saving the Princess Margaret from drowning. The young lady's part in the exploit was hardly less creditable than that of her rescuer, she clinging fast to his stoutly buckled girdle while he swam with her to the shore.

The old motto may well have been recalled by the Countess of Rothes, a descendant of the brave Leslie, who, in the terrible Titanic disaster, first took the tiller of the lifeboat she was in, and later pulled an oar for three hours in agonizing pursuit of the slowly receding lights of a distant vessel.

The legend is one for all of us to write indelibly in the memory and in the will. Whenever life comes to a crisis, when courage burns low, when foundations seem slipping from beneath us, it is time to bring the words to full consciousness and to respond to their ringing challenge.

There are some things of which no mortal should ever let go who wishes to maintain his serenity—we had almost said his sanity. Losing them, he is in sorry straits indeed. Think, for example, of that great trilogy of graces named by a mighty Christian thinker of long ago. "And now abideth," says St. Paul, "faith, hope, love, these three." Because they abide, these are realities to tie to.

He is lost who ceases to look out upon life with a heart of faith. To lose grip on the doctrine of Divine Providence is a tragic loss. Nothing so saps a man's courage, when confronted with the world's problems, as skepticism. The dismal confession of Ernest Renan, written after he had abandoned religious faith, is appropriate for anyone under like conditions. Says the gifted Frenchman: "Since Christianity is not true to me, nothing interests me or appears worth my attention." Unbelief everywhere and always is a brief for pessimism. Whatever difficulties stand in the way, let one cleave to faith. That is to walk through life on the sunny side of the road and to discover, even in the midst of trial, the secret of a great peace.

Hope is a second spiritual fact of which one may strive not to lose grip. No "fell cluteh of circumstance" can conquer one who clings to hope. It is a beacon light gleaming across the stormiest sea. In one of his most eloquent orations Daniel Webster speaks of the hope that animated Columbus and held him to his course across uncharted wastes. A touching and pathetic scene it was, indeed, when the discoverer stood on the deck of his shattered little caravel, "straining westward his anxious and eager eyes till Heaven at last granted him a moment of rapture and ecstasy in blessing his vision with a sight of the unknown world." Aren't we glad that the intrepid sailor held on to hope?

Third, and supreme, in the immortal trilogy stands love. It is what Drummond called it: "The Greatest Thing in the World." It is the philosopher's stone that transmutes all the baser elements of our human nature into gold. No one can meet ultimate loss who clings to love. He carries his riches safe within. Van Dyke comes to the heart of the matter in the hymn:

Who looks to heaven alone to save his soul
May keep the path but will not reach the goal;
But he who walks in love may wander far
And God will bring him where the blessed are.

Why Newspaper Reporters Dine at Midnight.

Boston Globe: "The newspaper life must be very fascinating."

"What was the most exciting experience you ever had?"

"Do you go to all the theaters and everything free?"

"What system of shorthand do you use?"

"We must be very careful what we say, there's a reporter present."

"You must hear a great many bright things, having to report so many public dinners."

"Newspapermen don't get very good pay, do they?"

"I'd just love to be a newspaper woman."

Recognition for the Bridegroom.

Houston Post: While it is true the bridegroom amounts to nothing at the wedding, by the time he comes to pay the hotel bill at the honeymoon terminus and engages the stateroom for home he has at least been able to obtain a little recognition from the waiters, maids, porters, bellboys and cabmen.

A Death-Bed.

Her suffering ended with the day,
Yet lived she at its close,
And breathed the long, long night away,
In statue-like repose.

But when the sun in all his state
Illumed the eastern skies,
She passed through Glory's morning gate
And walked in Paradise.

"The Low Brow on Olympus"

WHAT DIDO DID

ON the sands of Armenia (or somewhere quite near,
We scholars don't hope to make everything clear,
Tradition must therefore supply the vague note)
A lady named Dido decided to vote,
And forming a feminist party, selected
The throne for her job, and was duly elected.
(The reason's unknown and has long been a mystery—
The page that contains it is torn out of history),
But, having achieved her ambition, they say,
She was far from content—women have been that way—
And, purchasing passage upon a swell liner,
Set sail from her queendom in far Asia Minor.
(I can't guarantee that this statement is true,
But since no one can prove that I'm wrong, it will do.)
In time she arrived at a spot on the sands
Where the principal hotel of Tunis now stands;
—If not there, 'twas midway 'twixt Tangier and Cairo—
"I'll prove that a lady king isn't a tyro,"
She remarked to her court and proceeded to plan
A city to shame all the efforts of man.

But it chanced that the beach front she chose for a site
Was already possessed by a chieftain of might.
"This skirt for a neighbor—nix—no—I don't think,"
He remarked to a follower—passing the wink.
And, being a person of some little wit,
He framed a neat joke on Dido—and she bit.
"Your highness, accept as a gift, from my hand,
For the site of your city as much of this land
As a bull's hide will cover—don't thank me, I pray—
I'm just in a generous humor today."

She heard a maid snicker, she heard a groom jeer,
And plainly beheld more than one covert leer;
An indiscreet page gave a hoot and cried "Stung!"
(He was afterward beautifully quartered and hung.)
"What a break!" cried her rivals. "She's failed in her mission.
Tonight we'll get busy and breed opposition.
The moment is here to upset Dido's rule.
Womanlike, given rope, she has played the blamed fool."

But faster than plotter could knit at his net
The queen's mind has acted: the problem is met.
The throng presses forward and hangs on her lips.
"It's a cinch!" she exclaims. "Cut the hide into strips."
And by sunrise her face is a playground of smiles,
For, pieced-out, the bull's hide has covered ten miles.

Moral:

Dear ladies, who hunger for power and plan
For the day when you, too, hope to rule over man,
Remember the secret of Queen Dido's pull
And learn as she did how to handle the bull.

"These Are Mine Own People."

OUT yonder, Death in khaki sits wearily at an adding machine tapping his tally—

At home, the women and the elders stand fearfully before the daily lists and learn the worst at once.

But for our expatriate neighbors there is no posting of the fatal numbers.

Every battle wounds them afresh with its uncertainties—their dead die a hundred times.

While their eyes pace the vague news lines, imagination turns the huddled heaps and races from stretcher to hospital, searching for familiar faces.

Daily they gamble in hope and doubt and fearfully await the long delayed mails.

Months pass until they learn that brother or father was a coin in the price of this victory or that defeat.

Whether right or wrong, the cause is the Motherland's, the devastated villages their birthplaces.

American citizens, still they cannot alienate memory.

They brought themselves, but they could not take the past of their hearts along.

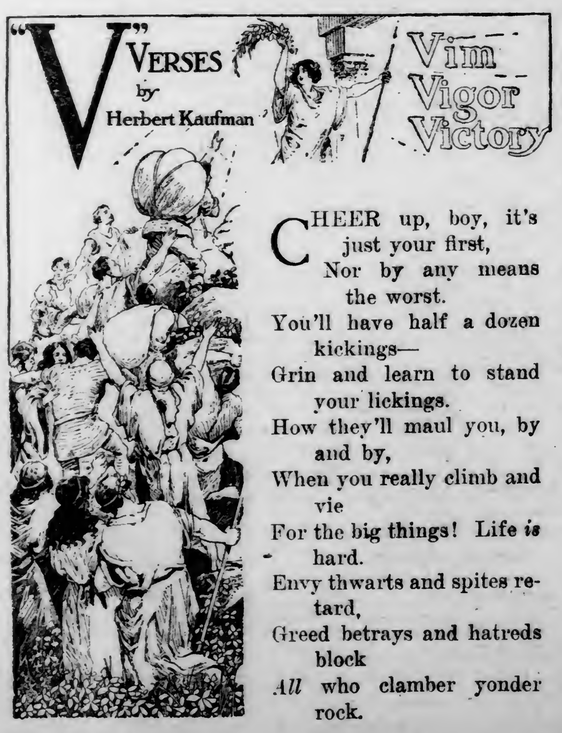

We may reason, and fairly, that their first duty is now to the land to which they have sworn allegiance. But reason cannot still the urge of instinct.

The choice was theirs; we did not bid them come.

They are oathbound sons of the Republic, blood brothers to every native born, pledged to loyalty. And they will serve when called.

But their own are out there across the miles—bone of their bone is splendidly dying and piteously starving.

They suffer. Let us suffer their outbursts understandingly. We hold opinions—they hold griefs.

CHEER up, boy, it's just your first,
Nor by any means the worst.
You'll have half a dozen kickings—
Grin and learn to stand your lickings.
How they'll maul you, by and by,
When you really climb and vie
For the big things! Life is hard.
Envy thwarts and spites retard,
Greed betrays and hatreds block
All who clamber yonder rock.

Thieves Don't Believe in Visiting Cards.

CHEATS and swindlers keep out of the public eye. They can't operate after they are recognized. Their success depends upon the ability to stay out of sight. Substitutors and adulterators, quality skimpers, sweaters and other members of the business underworld do not believe in advertising.

Only an honest man and an honest product dare to bear a name in the open.

When a manufacturer adds a trademark to his goods, he bets the consumer that they are right. When he stamps that mark in printers' ink and impresses it on the country, he bets that they are better than unadvertised brands.

Advertising is a step further than money's worth—it's money's worth plus guarantee. It's the detective force of retailing—it arrests dishonesty.

Widely known men and articles can't misbehave. Everybody talks about them. Advertised goods must maintain their character. They can't escape criticism.

Crooked merchants and makers avoid publicity for the same reason that a thief doesn't leave a visiting card.

"When money is the latchkey, insincerity is host."

All men have natural weaknesses, just as all metals are cheapened by their slag. Only the crucible can refine strength. The most vital of all educations is that which subtracts folly from force and tells us what we must not do.

ANOTHER WEEK WILL BRING TO DULUTH THE ANNUAL NORTHWESTERN BONSPIEL

The Greatest Skips of the West Will Be Entered in Various Events; Efforts Being Made to Induce Bob Dunbar to Play in the International; Duluth Business Men and Merchants Should Co-operate With Curling Officers.

BY BRUCE.

ONE week from Monday the Northwestern Curling association's annual bonspiel will be offering Duluth congenial companionship. The largest and in many respects the most novel curling spiel staged in the United States, the twenty-third annual meeting of the association promises to eclipse former efforts and set a lurid pace for future bonspiels to follow.

Lines are out for all of the prominent Western curlers. In a measure the territory included by the association is not confined to the Northwest, for this year it is rather certain that curlers will come from the tier of Eastern states, with the possibility that the extreme East will be represented by devotees of the ancient Scotch game.

Secretary F. W. Hargreaves of the association has already been assured that most of the prominent skips of last year's spiel will be here.

Reedal and Parkinson of Phillips, Wis., yesterday mailed in their entrance cards, while Sandy McNabb of Grand Rapids, Mich., Cameron of St. Paul, La Batt of Minneapolis, Hastings of the same city, Rochon of Winnipeg and possibly Grady of the same city, are all expected to be here with strong rinks.

Every effort is being made to induce Bob Dunbar of St. Paul, generally recognized as the greatest curler in the world, to enter a rink in the Duluth spiel. Dunbar has not thrown a rock in a Duluth spiel for the last four years. This season, however, pressure is being brought to bear to coax the canny Scott to come along and give the United States a strong representation in the International event.

With Dunbar aligned with the American rinks it is believed that the International trophy could be weaned away from its present stewardship. It was the great curling of Mack Rochon and "Wild Bill" Carson of Winnipeg in the spiel of last year that took the coveted cup across the international line. With the great Bob Dunbar as an anchor on the American team the chances would favor the Uncle Sam crowd in the big midweek event of the spiel.

A Great Week Expected.

BONSPIEL week is a sort of gala one in Duluth. It is the big winter sport event of the season. Some of our prominent business and professional men rest up a trifle and take the opportunity of taking part in the games or lending moral support to the home rinks. It might be conservatively stated that interest has never been so great in the big event as it is this year, which promises to go down as a red letter year in the history of Northwestern curling.

Yesterday the finance committee held a meeting and started the funds campaign. Duluth receives more advertising from the big spiel than any other winter event, and it should also be mentioned that the annual Northwestern bonspiel brings to Duluth hundreds of visitors.

Not only is Duluth situated right in the heart of the greatest curling country in the United States, but it possesses in the mammoth curling club structure the finest club of its kind in the entire country. The curling club is a credit to Duluth, a municipal asset, and an institution that has brought heaps of laudatory comment down on the heads of the home citizens. It is because of this magnificent club house and because of the fact that Duluth is in happy possession of a lot of sportsmen of the big and broad type, that this city has come to be looked upon as the home of the Northwestern bonspiel.

A city is made a real, live and progressive city and a more desirable place wherein to dwell by the fact that it annually plays host to events of the delightful character of the big spiel. The Northwestern Bonspiel brings to Duluth a crowd of fine men, big, broad and thoroughly genial men, whose very presence proves a sort of inspiration, takes the average citizen out of his round of everyday life, and leaves the city better for their coming.

The Northwestern spiel advertises Duluth far and near; its results are chronicled in every city in the United States, and the good time provided for those coming to the spiel as a rule sends every curler and every visitor home loudly chanting the praises of the Zenith city.

Business and professional men of Duluth, even though they have never thrown a rock or witnessed a curling game, can do much to enhance the success of the spiel. The entire burden of making this big annual event a thorough success should not be permitted to rest upon the shoulders of those intimately connected with the running of the spiel. Business men and merchants should willingly cooperate with the association officers and officers of the Duluth Curling club to make the bonspiel of 1916 one that will crane its proud head above the eminence achieved by past spiels, and thus indelibly stamp the spirit of Duluth spirit and progressiveness upon the mind of every visitor and every outside curler.

There have been twenty-two spiels held in the past, the majority of them staged here in Duluth, and practically all of them have been great curling events. It is the desire of the officers of the Northwestern Curling association to make the bonspiel of this year one of the greatest in the history of the association, and to accomplish this end it will be necessary to have the thorough co-operation of the citizens of Duluth.

STECHER MAKES HOLY SHOW OF JOHN STONL.

Stecher won each fall with a scissors and toe hold, the first in three and a half minutes and the second in one and a half minutes.

FORMER N. D. COACH MAY FOLLOW DOBIE

Washington University Not Unlikely to Call Dr. Sweetland.

Grand Forks, N. D., Jan. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dr. G. J. Sweetland, former coach of the University of North Dakota football team, may succeed Gil Dobie as coach at the University of Washington, according to advices received in Grand Forks by friends of the former Dakota coach.

If Sweetland is chosen and there is a very well defined sentiment in the Washington institution in his favor, the Western University will have had the services of two former Dakota coaches—for Doble also was at one time located in North Dakota, coaching the Aggies.

Sweetland left the University of North Dakota in 1908, going to Willamette college, a small school in Oregon. He was successful there, and shortly afterwards went to Hobert college, where he has been even more successful. It is because of Sweetland's record in those two colleges that the Washington authorities have been attached to him.

As coach of the University of North Dakota football team, Sweetland attained no little distinction, and it was a team developed by him that gave the University of Wisconsin a mighty tight squeeze, the Badgers beating North Dakota by a lone touchdown, gained in the last few minutes of play.

GWYNNER MAY BUY CLEVELAND INDIANS

Owner of Pittsburgh Federals Only Awaiting Right Price.

New York, Jan. 8.—After a long conference here yesterday between James A. Gilmore, president of the Federal league; Harry Sinclair, owner of the Newark Federals; Edward Gwynner, president of the Pittsburgh Federals, and C. B. Comstock, vice president of the same club, President Gilmore said Gwynner would buy the Cleveland Americans if he could agree on terms with the banking committee that is now running the club.

"The price is nothing like what has been reported," said Mr. Gilmore, "but it still is a little high. We know what the club is worth and when the committee meets our figures Gwynner will buy."

Mr. Gilmore would not make any definite statement as to whether Sinclair would buy the New York Nationals.

"Just now, Sinclair is out of baseball," he said, "but I am not saying he will not be back. I think Sinclair will be a good man to own a club in New York."

Denial was made by Gilmore that Sinclair owned any stock in the Chicago Nationals or St. Louis Americans under the new order of affairs.

Mike Glover Pleads for Kramer in Milwaukee Ring, Then Kayos Him.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 8.—Mike Glover, Boston welterweight boxer, toyed with Billy Kramer of Milwaukee for nine rounds of a scheduled ten-round bout here last night and in the final session, after knocking Kramer down for the count of nine, was forced to knock Kramer out with a right swing, after vainly pleading with the referee to stop the bout to save the local boxer from further punishment.

COFFEY IS POTTED BY MORAN'S DRIVES

Willard's Future Opponent Beats Dublin Fighter Second Time.

New York, Jan. 8.—Frank Moran of Pittsburgh knocked out Jim Coffey, the Dublin giant, in the ninth round of their ten-round match at Madison Square garden last night.

This was Moran's second victory over Coffey in twelve weeks, the first fight ending in three rounds. Last night, however, Coffey showed much improvement, and it was not until the eighth round that Moran's terrific smashes showed any effect.

Coffey was knocked down four times in the ninth round, in each instance remaining on the mat for nine seconds. The last time Moran almost drove him through the ropes, but he managed to get up within the time. His seconds realizing that he was beaten threw a sponge into the ring to avoid a complete knockout.

During the first seven rounds Coffey was completely master of the situation and it looked as if he would win on points. Moran tried vainly to land on him, but missed many times and each time Coffey published him severely with heavy uppercuts. When Moran finally cut loose in the eighth it was all his way. The weights were Coffey 205½, Moran 196½.

Houghton, Mich., Jan. 8.—Portage Lake yesterday defeated Calumet at hockey, 7 to 5.

JOE STECHER PRESENTS A NEW TYPE OF ATHLETE

The Nebraska Farmer Is as Innocent and Unassuming as a New Hired Girl, Yet Has More Confidence Than Gotch or Hackenschmidt Ever Possessed—Young Joe Is One Honest Wrestler.

BY BRUCE.

Once there was a blase city man who jaunted to the country and became wildly enraptured with rural simplicity, sort of enthusiastically dippy, in fact, over the naive frankness and naturalness of those who live in close commune with old Dame Nature.

Spending an afternoon with Joe Stecher (Joe says that's the correct way to spell his name even if all his printing spells it Stecker) is a wholly refreshing experience to any sport writer who as part of his professional duties has mingled with some of the greatest athletes of all time. Young Joe Stecher is a positive physical freak, yet possesses a mind so simple and so frank as to cause one to stop and ponder deeply.

J. F. Hetmanek, Stecher's manager, was seated in a big lounging chair, smoking a thick cigar country style. Joe Stecher was stretched out in another chair with those wonderfully long and powerful legs wrapped nonchalantly around the lower rungs. Tony Stecher, Joe's trainer, was sitting on the bed.

"Honestly now," we started, "do you think, Hetmanek, that Joe can beat Gotch? Give it to us straight!"

Hetmanek smiled; not the usual grin of gulle and self appreciation, but the frank smile of a man who has been raised in a small town and who has not as yet worn away the unsophistication.

"Well," he came back, "we'll wrestle Frank any way he wants, that is as to the division of the purse, you understand. We're perfectly willing to wrestle winner take all."

Then we turned to Joe. He was smiling, too.

"How about you?" we asked. "What do you think of your chances against Gotch?"

Stecher is merely a kid in years, just a great big lanky country boy, and he smiles like a kid who has been given a new sled for a Christmas present.

Joe's smile started easily and then expanded, showing the even white teeth. He looked at his big hands, which are still marked by country tan, and then smiled in a sort of embarrassed way.

"I can beat him," he said, and there was no more trace of braggadocio in the remark than if you were to say that you could keep a date.

"How about Yussiff Mahmout?" we queried.

Do you think young Joe looked scared at the mention of the name of a wrestler who is credited with possessing a pair of legs nearly the equal of the million-dollar underpinnings of this young Nebraska marvel? He did not.

Joe smiled, the same boyish smile.

"I think I could beat him, too," he said.

Thinks Stecher Invincible.

Here Hetmanek cut in.

"You ask if Joe isn't too young to meet Mahmout," he began. "I don't think so. I saw the receipt for the money sent to Europe that is to bring the Bulgarian over here, and we have already given our consent to wrestle him. Sure, we think we can beat Mahmout, but even if we didn't, we'd wrestle him anyway." How can you beat that sort of confidence?

We have interviewed Frank Gotch and George Hackenschmidt, both before that last match, and neither possessed the quiet but supreme confidence of this country kid, a boy scarcely out of his teens and a lad who has been off the farm but a few times until the past year.

Some persons have said that there is no honesty in the wrestling game. There is; Joe Stecher is so honest that it is an obsession with him.

"Joe wouldn't let an opponent remain on the mat a minute with him, if he could help it," said Hetmanek. "We believe that the American public pays its money to see what a man can do. We've been beating them all in jig time; all but one or two, and some have told us it is not good business. We believe it is. We believe that the American people will like Joe all the better when they learn he is always going to do his best and that they will see his best when they pay to see him wrestle."

How Stecher Started.

Few persons outside of Nebraska know that Tony Stecher, Joe's trainer, is one of the greatest wrestlers in the world. Joe has usurped the place in the sun that might possibly have been occupied by Tony.

"You see," said Hetmanek, "Tony was the wrestler of the family. Tony is older than Joe; there's one boy in between them, and he is a graduate of the United States naval academy of Annapolis. Well, Tony would go out around Nebraska and throw all the tough guys. He had to have someone to wrestle with, so picked on Joe. Tony used to beat up Joe something shameful. Then Joe got so good he could beat Tony and we started sending him out to beat the real tough ones—and he always did.

"The boys around Freemount, Neb., were always willing to risk their money on Joe, that is, after he began to beat them all. Some Omaha sports heard that the country jakes would drop their roll on Joe, so they sent down South and got Adolph Ernst, one of the greatest wrestlers in the world.

"'We're coming up to Freemount and take your money,' they said to us. 'Come right along,' we fired back.

"Ernst came under an assumed name, but we found out before the day of the match who he really was. That didn't scare us. We took all of the Omaha money and then asked for more. They quit betting and looked at us with their mouths wide open.

"That was one of the greatest battles in Joe's career. Ernst gave Joe everything he had, and he had a lot. The match was wrestled Jan. 5, 1915, and Joe took the first fall in one hour and eleven minutes. Ernst was all in and Joe beat him the second fall in seven minutes. Right then we knew that young Joe was a great wrestler."

Then came Cutler, last July. Billy Rochelle, a business man of Chicago, who deeply admires and really likes Cutler, bet $11,000 on him. Charley wagered about all the money he possessed in the world, $4,000.

That match is history. Stecher excited derision from the "wise" Chicago crowd as he crawled through the ropes. The tall, awkward kid, rather thin of shoulders, gangling and with the look of a green farmer lad, made some of the wise birds rock with laughter.

Across the ring sat Cutler, a giant in build, huge of torso, bulky of arm and with thighs like huge columns of marble. It was preposterous to think that Stecher could even make a showing against this giant.

An Athletic Wonder.

Well, Stecher won, and won in so convincing and decisive fashion as to leave the followers of Cutler and even his own Nebraska admirers gaping in wide-mouthed astonishment.

Students of anatomy and followers of athletics never could dope Bob Fitzsimmons out. Someone was always saying that those attenuated legs of old Fitz would someday break. They never did. Fitzsimmons' hands broke first of all, because he punched so hard that bone and muscle couldn't withstand the shock.

Likewise students of form can't for the life of them comprehend how Stecher wins. We can't either, for that matter. But he wins, and wins in so decisive and so startling manner as to make those who have witnessed his victory refuse to believe what their eyes have beheld.

The owner of a minor league baseball club refused to recommend Alexander because he pitched with a side arm delivery. Well, Alexander was the greatest pitcher in the National league last season.

When Fitzsimmons began training for the battle with Jack Dempsey, those who were chosen as his sparring partners, expressed mingled contempt and pity for the gangling and shuffling man of six feet who scaled at 154 pounds. You know what the freckled freak of nature did.

Maybe lots of persons in Duluth didn't realize it at the time, but last Wednesday night they looked at one of the wonders of the present athletic age. There are two wrestlers in the world with authentic records. Frank Gotch is one and Joe Stecher is the other. At 22 years of age Joe Stecher has wrestled sixty matches and he has never lost a fall.

If this almost frail appearing country kid is a wonder at the tender and immature age of 22 years, which is very young for big men, how good will he become?

Let Sweeney answer that question.

Every once in a while Nature, who is a humorist, a philosopher and a grave instructor all in one, produces something totally unlike all previous clay forms. Dressmakers and first class bartenders often achieve much the same ends in their respective lines. Joe Stecher is Nature's latest freak, totally unlike anything in the past ages, and that's precisely the way the broad girdle of fame is already draped about the slender waist of this most peculiar athlete of all time.

CURLEY ULRICH IS NAMED BOUT REFEREE

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 8.—Curley Ulrich, well known in boxing circles throughout the Northwest, has been appointed referee for the Twin Cities by the Minnesota boxing commission. The action was taken by Chairman Frank B. Thompson and Commissioner Mike Molan Thursday night, but was not confirmed until yesterday afternoon.

Ulrich undoubtedly will act for the first time at the fight between Gibbons and Jake Ahearn at the St. Paul auditorium the night of Jan. 18. He has had long experience in the ring and as a prize fight manager.

C. H. S. LOSES TO SUPERIOR

Nelson Dewey Quint Has Advantage in Basket Ball Game.

Strange Baskets and Small Floor Prove Undoing of Duluth.

Unfamiliarity with the strange baskets and the small, slippery floor proved the undoing of the Central high school basket ball quint in its first game of the season last night when the local lads journeyed over to Superior and lost a hard-fought contest to the husky Nelson-Dewey high school five by a score of 28 to 15.

The game was fast and cleanly played up to the very last minute. The first half concluded 15 to 11 with the Superiorites on the long end. The playing in this period was very even and the Duluthians appeared to have an even chance. Duluth had considerably more chances at the basket than did their rivals, but the strangeness of the goals could not be overcome and most of their shots went wild.

Nelson-Dewey came back with a spurt in the concluding frame. The two teams fought very evenly for awhile and the game became fast and interesting from all standpoints. To give all of the Duluth men a chance to play in the first game Coach Blake sent in several subs. All of the men played unexpectedly well considering the small amount of practice that they had and Coach Blake appeared very well pleased with their showing.

Even Up to Close.

The game was very even right up to the last minute when the Superiorites suddenly spurted and caged several sensational baskets that looked rather fluky to the Duluthians. This put the Dewey men into a lead which the Red and White men could not overcome.

The game started with Maggard and Mason in at forward for Duluth, Goggins at center and Rosenberg and Hermanson at guard; Bush, Ekburg, Henrickson and Bondy were sent in by Coach Blake during the latter part of the game so that he would be able to get a line on the ability of the men. Coach Blake was pleased with the showing of his men and believes that they will be able to avenge their defeat if the Superiorites are brought over here.

Next Friday evening the Central quint will play its second game when they meet the fast Denfield high school aggregation of West Duluth.

CATHEDRAL HAS GOOD MATERIAL

Catholic Basket Ball Squad Promises Fast Team; Full Schedule.

The prospects for a championship quint look very bright at Cathedral high school this year. Frank Daugherty, the Duluth football star, has been secured to do the coaching, and from all appearances it looks as though he is going to put forth one of the best quints that has represented the school on the hill thus far.

A large squad appears for practice every night, so there will be good competition for the different positions. There are but two veterans left from last year's team, these being Capt. Cole and "Slim" Lee. It is practically certain that Lee will be back at center, and Cole will take care of one of the guard positions as he has done for the last three years. McDonell and Fitzpatrick are showing up in good style at the forward positions, and unless the dope is upset they will most likely take care of these two positions. "Smoke" Farah, who up to the present time is taking care of the other guard, will most likely land that position, as he is going along nicely.

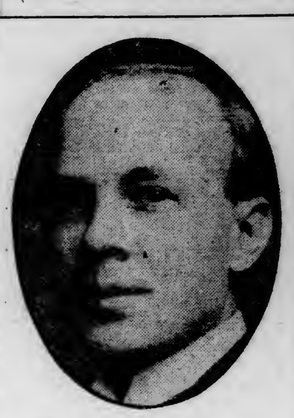

The Cathedral basket ball schedule will open on Jan. 14 with Nelson Dewey playing in the Catholic gym. All of the other teams in the vicinity will be given a chance to try their luck against one of the strongest teams that has represented the school in years.

The Athletic association of the school has gone to an expense of about $100 toward general improvements of the locker rooms and the gym, making it one of the best gyms in the Northwest.

Dickerson of Grand Rapids, president of the league, who was here, said the Central league hoped to include South Bend in the 1916 circuit.

OAK HALLS HOLD LEAD IN MAJOR BOWLING LEAGUE

The Clothiers Are Making a Great Showing With the Sharkcrafts Gamely Hanging on—Berini of the Oaks Is Leading the Individual Bowlers With Steigler Close Behind.

Another week finds the Oak Halls leading the Major Bowling league by two games. The Sharkcrafts are in second place with a two-game lead over the Elcoras, who are tied with the Big Duluths for third place.

Foster of the Sharkcrafts hung up the high three-game mark for the week with a count of 602. Server of the Elcoras made the high one-game score at 255.

In the matter of high team score, the Fitzgerald and Winchester team hung up a score of 1,029 and also knocked down 2,872 pins for the high three-game total.

The Elcoras dropped a point in the pin average, but still retain their lead in this department with a small margin for the 36 games rolled, their mark being 932.

Apparently the two weeks holiday layoff had no ill effect on the form of the bowlers, for all of the pin men are again rolling in good form. Berini of the Oak Halls leads the individual bowlers with a mark of 197. Steigler of the Big Duluths is second with an average of 193. During the present week there were 22 games rolled over the 200 mark.

Next week's important games will be those between the Sharkcrafts and Elcoras, Oak Halls and Fitzgerald and Winchesters, and the Big Duluths and Empress team.

NAVAL DIVISION TEAM WINS FROM WHEAT MEN

The Second division naval indoor baseball team defeated the Board of Trade team in the new armory last evening by a score of 14 to 0. The game was entirely too one-sided to be interesting. Brian, pitching for the tars, was in rare form, allowing but one hit and whiffed twenty men. The lineup:

UNIVERSALS AND BIG DULUTHS ARE WINNERS

Flour Makers Defeat Northern Hardwares in Amateur Hockey League Contest and the Clothiers Find the Bagley Septet Rather Easy Picking.

Last night the Universal Hockey team came vividly to life and in a spectacular battle that contained a multitude of thrills, defeated the strong Northern Hardware septet by the score of 4 to 2 in a game that was among the best ever staged in the big rink.

The Bagleys fared badly against the Big Duluths being scuttled to the extent of 5 to 0 by the Norsted clan.

Earl Harris was a bear on the Universal side in the first game of the evening. His playing was both effective and spectacular. The youngster showed speed and puck-carrying ability of a high order and starred with Bartlett and Parsons. The playing of the flour makers was far different from the form shown in the opening game of the season.

The Bagleys, lacking team work, failed to give the Big Duluths much of an argument. Some new players are needed on the jewelry team.

Arnie Olson's playing and the great work of Sullivan were features of the play of the Big Duluths.

A big crowd witnessed the games and was hugely pleased at the playing of the kids. Those present agreed that the work in the first game was up to big league par.

NEW ORLEANS MAY SEND CREWS HERE

James E. Ten Eyck Endeavoring to Line Up Southern Oarsmen for the National Regatta.

The Ponchartrain Rowing club of New Orleans may enter crews in the National Rowing association races that are expected to be held in Duluth during the coming season.

At least this is the belief of James E. Ten Eyck, coach of the Duluth Boat club, who is in New Orleans at the present time and who has been told by officials of the New Orleans club that they will do their best to send some oarsmen up here.

While trailing around the country in the interests of the Western Rug company, James is endeavoring to line up rowing clubs for the regatta that Duluth is attempting to land. In a letter to The Herald, Jimmy says New Orleans has given him assurance that every effort will be made to have a real rowing representation here.

Ten Eyck has been made head salesman of the company he has been representing all year, which may mean that his coaching days are nearly at an end. Some time ago Ten Eyck confided to friends that he did not want to remain in the coaching game, a business career holding a better future.

LEAGUE GAMES OPEN TUESDAY

Commercial Basket Ball Teams in Fine Shape for Season.

Evenly Matched and Good Contests Are Looked For.

The schedule of the Commercial Basket Ball league has been completed and the first games will be played next Tuesday evening at the local Y. M. C. A. The preliminary round, which was completed before Christmas, put the several teams into shape and the playing from now on should be considerably better than seen before. Games in the preliminary round were played on Friday evening, but in the regular schedule they have been shifted to Tuesday evenings.

All of the eams are evenly matched and some great games are looked for. The Kelleys won the flag last year and made a great record in the preliminary round also. The other teams have been strengthened, however, and the hardware aggregation will have to work hard to win again. There will be but four teams in the new league, the Northern Electrics having been dropped. The new league is composed of the Kelleys, Northern Hardwares, Fenton-Dubys and the Big Duluths. The schedule, as arranged by Physical Director Olsen and the directors of the league, is as follows:

Tuesday, Jan. 11—Northerns vs. Kelleys; Fenton-Dubys vs. Big Duluths.

Tuesday, Jan. 8—Northerns vs. Fenton-Dubys; Kelleys vs. Big Duluths.

Tuesday, Jan. 25—Northerns vs. Big Duluths; Fenton-Dubys bs. Kelleys.

Tuesday, Feb. 1—Northerns vs. Kelleys; Fenton-Dubys vs. Big Duluths.

Tuesday, Feb. 8—Northerns vs. Fenton-Dubys; Kelleys vs. Big Duluths.

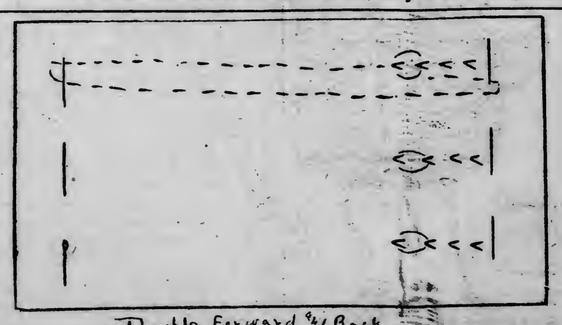

Tuesday, Feb. 15—Northerns vs. Big Duluths; Fenton-Dubys vs. Kelleys.

SOME WINTER SPORTS

Written for The Herald By J. R. Batchelor, City Recreational Director—No. 13—Relay Race.

In Relay Race No. 4 one man of each team skates backward and the other forward hands on each others' shoulders. They skate the length of the ice and without turning skate back, this makes the man who skated backwards going up the ice, skate forward on the return. After finishing the course the next pair may start and so on until all of each team have skated, the first team to finish winning the race.

OPEN NIGHT AT DULUTH SKI CLUB

Monday Evening the Club Grounds Will Be Thrown Open to Public.

There will be an open night at the Duluth Ski club Monday evening. The general public is invited to come out to the Chester Park club and inspect the grounds, use the toboggan slides and generally have a good time. The idea of the open house night is to interest many Duluthians who do not belong to the club in the great winter sport organization.

The grounds will be lighted, there will be an attendant on hand to take care of the needs of all present, and dishes will be found in the clubhouse for the use of everyone.

Just as soon as it is learned whether the National Ski association will sanction the date of Feb. 20, work will be started in the effort to make the tourney the greatest in the history of the club.

Nebraska Gets Rutherford.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 8.—R. B. Rutherford captain of the 1915 Nebraska football team, will be signed as assistant all-year coach at Nebraska at once, it is announced by members of the Nebraska athletic board, following receipt of information from Bloomington, Ind., that he had been released from his agreement to accept a similar position with Indiana. A message from President W. L. Bryan of Indiana to Chancellor Avery of Nebraska received this afternoon says that "Indiana is happy to concur in your request for the release of Mr. Rutherford."

JIM O'ROURKE HAS PLAYED BASEBALL FOR FIFTY YEARS

The Bridgeport, Conn., Veteran Has Been in the Game Longer Than Any Other Player—Was a Star in the Days of Old.

New York, Jan. 8.—Mingling with the baseball colony at the Waldorf during the baseball meeting was the "grand old man" of the sport, James H. O'Rourke of Bridgeport, Conn., known in New England baseball circles as Uncle Jim. To many of the later generation of baseball players and owners O'Rourke is somewhat of a stranger, writes W. J. Slocum in the Evening Sun, and no doubt he was unknown to a great number of later day notables who filled Peacock alley during the five days devoted to the National league meeting and the peace conference. Uncle Jim was a prominent figure in baseball years before the present crop of major leaguers were born and he has not tossed away the spangles yet.

It is forty-six years since young Jim O'Rourke began to play baseball, and in this long stretch of time he has never gone through an entire summer without putting on a uniform and playing at least one game. During the past summer Jim caught a game for the Bridgeport lodge of Elks, of which he is a member, and, despite his lessening activity, he put up an exhibition that would do credit to many a youngster. Jim is in the 60's now, but vigorous as many men twenty years his junior.

O'Rourke has not been prominent at major league meetings for many years, but this year he had a little baseball fight on his hands which called for his presence in this city. He is battling to hold his little Eastern association together, while some outsiders and two former club owners are trying to put through a merger. Uncle Jim got first blood and it looks as if he is to be the victor in the fight.

Linking the past with the present by forty-six years of close association with the game is but one of the many things which made the baseball career of Uncle Jim O'Rourke so remarkable. He has been in turn a major league player, major league manager, minor league club owner, president, secretary and treasurer of a minor league, and for more than twelve years a member of the national association's board of arbitration. This board has to settle the many controversies which spring up in minor league circles. Aside from his baseball connections, O'Rourke is engaged in the practice of law and he is the holder of some valuable real estate, including the baseball park at Bridgeport.

The Eastern association, one of the oldest class B leagues of baseball, was formed by James H. O'Rourke, and he has always been identified with it in one way or another. He started it under the name of Naugatuck Valley league in 1896, changed it to Connecticut league in 1897, and this name was retained until three years ago, when the name Eastern association was adopted. Jim owned the Bridgeport franchise for fifteen years and up to 1908 he did considerable catching for his own team. Since 1908 he has not played regularly, but he never lets a summer pass without getting out for at least one game.

In Game With Son.

For several years the Bridgeport box scores carried the names of O'Rourke, Sr., and O'Rourke, Jr., to distinguish old Jim and young Jim. The father played behind the bat and the son at second base. Young Jimmy never reached the prominence in the sport that his father enjoyed, but he has made baseball his profession for more than ten years. He was once drafted by the Yankees, but was sent to the American association, where he spent eight years in a class AA league. He is now with Syracuse of the New York State league.

O'Rourke began to play baseball in 1869, became a professional in 1872, and when the National league was organized in 1876 he signed with Boston. After three seasons in the Hub he joined the Providence club and then went to Buffalo, both these cities being represented in the National league when O'Rourke played with the clubs. In those days he played everywhere except in the pitching box, holding the distinction of being one of the best all-around players the game has produced. In 1885 he came to the Giants as an outfielder and remained in New York until 1893, when he joined Washington. This was his last major league engagement. O'Rourke was manager of the Buffalo team at one time and he played in New York with such notables as Buck Ewing, Tim Keefe, Roger Connor, John M. Ward and Mickey Welsh. During his stay with the Giants O'Rourke was first an outfielder, later a catcher and then a regular outfielder again.

Some Swatsmith.

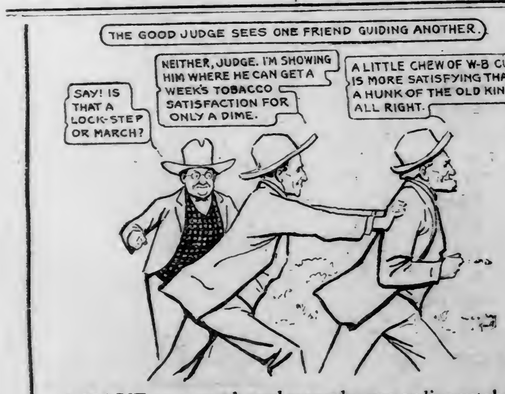

As if the many distinctions enumerated above were not enough to link his name with the great notables of baseball, O'Rourke can point to another. It is the batting record which he compiled during his long term of service in the majors. In eighteen years of continuous service as a major leaguer O'Rourke missed the .300 class only five times. Four times he batted .350 or better for the season and nine other campaigns showed him between .300 and .350. He led the National league batsmen in 1884 with a mark of .350. The players who have excelled this performance may be counted on one's fingers.

Uncle Jim is as interested in baseball as at any time in his long and active career. His victory here gave him much joy, but the finish of the baseball war was equally good news to the veteran.

"It had to come," was his comment, "and I am glad that it comes now and will do no more harm to the great old game. It has suffered enough."

Suicide Near Cumberland.

Cumberland, Wis., Jan. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Ignace Shedy, whose husband runs a saloon and dance hall between here and Haugen, committed suicide by taking carbolic acid. No reason has been assigned.

HAVE you ever heard men who use ordinary tobacco say anything in its favor?

But nearly all the men who are today using W-B CUT chewing—the Real Tobacco Chew, new cut, long shred—were started by the suggestion of friends who liked it better than the ordinary kind.

COMMENT ON PLAYS AND PLAYERS — WHAT THE PRESS AGENTS PROMISE

After a three days' debauch on grand opera, Duluth will next week bid farewell to the man who is said by many critics to be the greatest living actor—Sir Johnstone Forbes-Robertson.

The engagement will be for four performances, three nights and a matinee, opening Thursday with "Hamlet," which will be repeated Saturday afternoon. "The Passing of the Third Floor Back" will be played Friday and Saturday nights.

Sir Johnstone Forbes-Robertson plays "Hamlet" in three hours, opening at 8 o'clock and closing at 11 p. m. He is able to do this, not by cutting out scenes, but by the use of draperies in place of conventional scenery, making the waits between acts and scenes very brief.

This is said to be a genuine farewell tour of the distinguished actor. Last year he visited only the larger cities, but this year he is playing the smaller cities, and not appearing in any city where he has already said farewell.

For the first four days of the week, the French official war pictures will be shown at the Lyceum.

SNAPPY WEEK-END SHOW AT GRAND

Both Variety and Class in Vaudeville; Strong Show Coming.

There is much meat in the week-end bill at the popular New Grand, and it is of the best. Each and every act is a sterling little entertainment in itself, and they are all of such variety that there is no conflict whatsoever.

The Komical Kops, five in number, offer a miniature musical comedy entitled "The New Recruit," that can best be described as twenty minutes of song and laughter. Miss Ethel Underwood is featured among the singers, and Sammy Wright, the well-known comedian, fills in his allotted time with fun of the highest class. There is plenty of life and spirit through the routine, and it is screamingly funny. Special scenery adds much to its entertaining qualities.

The Australian Creightons offer a potpourri of eccentricities, which include a little of everything in the way of tumbling, juggling and acrobatics. Plenty of comedy is introduced throughout the routine.

Singers and musicians are Chabot and Dixon, who entertain in a most delightful manner. Mr. Chabot is a master of the violin and piano, and his repertoire is well chosen, ranging from raggy numbers to gems from the popular operas and the latest musical comedy successes. Norma Dixon has a good voice which she uses to advantage, and her numerous changes of costume are classy creations of the mediste's art. The act as a whole is charmingly refreshing.

Howard and Delores are loaded down with good things in the way of comedy songs and snappy patter, all handled in a new and original manner that makes them fairly sparkle with brightness.

G. M. Anderson is featured in "Her Lesson," a two-reel subject telling a beautiful story of love and devotion. "From Blackstone to Stone," a comedy, and "The Inevitable," a drama of intense interest, are prominent among the photoplays. The Hearst-Selig News, projecting as usual unusual events from all over the world, balance up a corking good combination program.

Heading the new bill opening Monday afternoon are Weir and Mack in their latest comedy success, "Caught." Weber and Deihl, "Broadway's youthful prodigies"; the Cycling McNutts, acrobatic cyclists, and Clark and Chapelle, offering a musical comedy, "Handle With Care," are among the vaudeville offerings. Edna Mayo and Bryant Washburn are featured in "The Edge of Things," a three-reel subject toplining the photoplay program. Two clever comedies make up the remainder of the program.

The supper show at 6:45 on Sunday nights has become quite popular, as it gives down-town diners a chance to see the performance and also to keep other evening engagements, and will be given as usual tomorrow night.

FINE ARTS FILMS COSTLY

Triangle Photoplays at Rex Entail Outlay of $100,000 Each.

"Brains" is the secret that is getting the Triangle organization good plays, good directors, good actors, leading theaters, large audiences and the big money. Music for each program is especially prepared by a well known director and his staff and even the posters come in for their share of attention under the Triangle management. Tony Sarg, Arthur Coney, C. B. Hall and James Montgomery Flagg are the designers of all Triangle posters.

Going over the coming week's program at Rex Beautiful it is difficult to find another company that can compare with Triangle Fine-Arts. Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, "The Penitents," a Griffith production featuring two well known stars, will be shown; Thursday, Friday and Saturday "The Edge of the Abyss" with Mary Boland, John Drew's leading woman; Willard Mack and Frank Mills. Aside from the talented people employed, an expenditure of thousands of dollars has been made for beautiful interiors, costly furnishings and excursions to scenes of natural beauty, and one does not wonder that in talking of expenses, Mr. Ince made the remark that to produce a Triangle play that would obtain any degree of public support, the item of expense could not be counted less than $100,000. The set alone for a single picture in course of preparation at the plant near Santa Monica, Cal., has cost $60,000. Billie Burke is to get $40,000 in addition for appearing in the star part. Where it would be a novelty for half a dozen horses or a couple of hundred people to appear behind the footlights, it is nothing unusual for the Fine-Arts film studia to use thousands. The expense or the danger of the undertaking does not measure in the balance against the great artistic achievements shown each week at the Rex Beautiful from the Fine-Arts studios.

"VAMPIRE WOMAN" WORRIED.

Theda Bara Would Correct Public's Impression of Her.

For the avowed purpose of correcting the impression which she believes the public has formed of her, Theda Bara, star of the William Fox production, "Destruction," at the Lyric tomorrow, and known to millions as "the vampire woman of the silent stage," is about to launch a newspaper campaign, the cost of which will run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars. Miss Bara takes exception to such phrases as, "the women with the most beautifully wicked face in all the world," "the Ishmaelite of feminity," "the torpedo of domesticity," when lined with her name.

"Even if it takes all the money I have earned," says Miss Bara, "I am willing to spend it if I can alter the public's opinion of me. How would you like to be despised by all your sex if you were really and truly the exact opposite of that type. At first I did not mind, but now I do very much.

"Why, one of the critics who interviewed me recently said, 'Her hair is like the serpent locks of Medusa, her eyes have the cruel cunning of Lucretia Borgia, till now the world's wickedest woman, her mouth is the mouth of the sinister, scheming Delilah, and her hands are those of the blood-bathing Elizabeth Bathory, who slaughtered young girls that she might bathe in their blood and so retain her youth and beauty.' Tell me, do I look as wicked as all that?"

A splendid Paramount bill including Macyln Arbuckle and Pauline Frederick will be shown at the Lyric the last half of the coming week.

FRENCH OFFICIAL WAR PICTURES WILL TRANSPORT SPECTATORS TO BATTLEFIELD

SOME OF THE 31,000 GERMAN PRISONERS CAPTURED IN THE BIG DRIVE.

Thousands of Americans are already planning how they will go to Europe as soon as the war is over that they may visit the historic battle fields and view the havoc that has been wrought.

But the New York World's official French government pictures "Fighting in France," which will be shown at the Lyceum for four days beginning Sunday, Jan. 9, will give a far better idea than will be seen by even the first of the tourists. For these official motion pictures will take one to the famous battlefields, and in the safety and silence of the theater one will be able to see just what he would have been able to have witnessed if he had occupied the dangerous post of an observer at the front.

These official films were taken by order of the French general staff for the purpose of historical record. They are to be preserved in the national archives of France so that future generations for all time may be able to see and judge what the war was like. They form an unimpeachable record. They were taken with that object by men who with the greatest gallantry risked their lives that the truth of these battles might be seen by all and live forever.

H. Alexander Powell, who as the correspondent of the New York World, secured from the French government authorization to present these official French pictures to the American audiences, claims that they show as nothing else could, just how modern warfare runs its daily course of give and take.

STORIES OF THE OPERAS

Saturday Night, Jan. 8, "Rigoletto."

A grand opera in three acts. Scene and period: Mantua and vicinity; Sixteenth century.

Story.

The story tells of the gay and unprincipled duke of Mantua, who is assisted in his crimes by his jester, Rigoletto, a hunchback. The father of one of the duke's victims is mocked by Rigoletto and launches upon him a father's awful curse, which stuns and sobers the jester, as he, too, has a daughter, Gilda, unknown to the court.

On his way home Rigoletto meets a professional assassin, Sparafucile, who offers, for a price, to kill any enemy he may have. Rigoletto says he may need him later. The duke, in the guise of a young student, has already met Gilda, not knowing who she is, and the young girl has fallen in love with him. When Rigoletto has left the house the duke's courtiers abduct Gilda and take her to the palace. The father's rage is terrible to witness and he goes to the palace, but too late to save his daughter. She pleads for the duke's life, but Rigoletto swears to kill him, and, arranging with the assassin, Sparafucile, to accomplish the deed. The duke is lured to a lonely inn by Sparafucile's attractive sister, Maddalena, and is about to be murdered when Maddalena, who has taken a fancy to him, begs for his life. Sparafucile consents provided a substitute should happen along before midnight.

Gilda, who Rigoletto had brought hither (disguised in male attire), in order that she might witness the fickleness of her lover, has been listening to the conversation and now resolves to save the duke's life at the cost of her own. She enters the hut, is stabbed by Sparafucile, who delivers the body to Rigoletto according to agreement. Rigoletto is about to cast the body into the river when he hears the duke's voice in the distance. The wretched man opens the sack, sees his daughter and falls senseless across her body.

At the Sunbeam.

The new Sunbeam theater will begin a remarkable series of photoplays tomorrow, the first of which is entitled "Forb dden Fruit." Following will be run the following, each complete in itself, but with the same recurrent theme: "A Mother's Confession," "Concealed Truth," "The Unwelcome Wife," "Sins of the Parents" and "A Fool, Paradise." These subjects are almost self-explanatory and leave little to the imagination as to the material handled. All of these pictures handle a red-blooded subject in a vital manner and undoubtedly will prove of wide interest to theatergoers of Duluth. These films, while being along the same line as "Damaged Goods," are at the same time less objectionable to those who dislike subjects of that character. Each number will be in five reels and feature Everett Butterfield and Paula Shay.

For Monday and Tuesday there will be another installment of "The Mysteries of the Grand Hotel," with the fascinating detective story which has been running for some time. The Pathe News will show news events of world-wide interest and the latest fashions for women.

Wednesday and Thursday Blanche Sweet will be seen in the Griffith feature film, "The Painted Lady." "Nan o' the Backwoods," a three-reel Lubin, will be seen with Valentine Grant in the title role.

For Friday and Saturday the feature will be "Bondwomen," featuring Maude Fealy, which treats modern domestic subjects in an up-to-date manner. This is one of Kleine-Edison features and should prove to be of unusual interest.

A No. 2 company of "The Eternal Magdalene," in which Julia Arthur is playing, is in rehearsal at present for a tour. William David has been engaged for the cast and Clara Joel will have the part created by Julia Arthur.

MOVIE STAR RETURNS TO SHADOW LAND

MISS FLORENCE LAWRENCE.

About ten years ago—just after Christmas in 1906, to be exact—a fragile, fair-haired slip of a girl, not yet 17 years of age, applied for a position as "extra" actress at one of the three motion picture studios then in existence in the whole United States. That studio was situated on the roof of a twelve-story building at 41 East Twenty-first street, New York city. It must have been the wish of destiny that the nervous little creature, who leaned far across the railing in asking for work, be engaged, for, more than any other she succeeded in helping to make the motion picture industry what it is today.

Now, just ten years later—almost to a day—this same fragile, fair-haired girl, who has gained an international reputation as one of the most versatile actresses that ever stepped in front of the camera, and has been away from the studio for almost two years on a well-earned rest, has announced her intention of coming back.

There is no need of mentioning her name, for every man woman and child who has followed the growth of the moving picture, knows that reference is made to the charming screen star, Florence Lawrence.

When Florence Lawrence left filmdom she went on a trip to Europe. She visited England, France, Germany, Russia, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, afterwards going to Egypt, India, and the Far East. Finding that traveling offered her about as many opportunities for resting as an advance man for a circus has, she returned to her large estate near Westwood, N. J., and there found real enjoyment in nursing the asparagus, roses and fruit trees. Since then she has spent most of her time on her fifty-acre farm, which is valued at a thousand dollars an acre.

"WHEN ACTORS SHOULD RETIRE AND WHY?"

By FORBES-ROBERTSON.

You ask me "when should actors retire from the stage—and why?" Well, you might adopt, or rather adapt, the words of Malvolio in "Twelfth Night" and say that some achieve retirement, and some have retirement thrust upon them—many even in the comparatively early stages of their careers. Without undue egotism I might lay the flattering unction to my soul of inclusion in the former category, and would suggest that after forty years' service on the stage I may be allowed to retire while I am yet able to enjoy the luxuries of home life, for, to me, home and family are frequently the greatest sacrifice an actor has to make in the pursuit of his hazardous calling. Profession is a word I have always loathed as applied to art of any kind.

I think that an actor, like an artist, or indeed a man in any walk of life, should retire at the zenith of his powers, before his natural energies are abated and ere the fires of his ambition and achievement are burned low, leaving the battlefield of life to the younger generation—that is, of course, if he is in a position to do so according to the needs of those dependent upon him.

It is one of the greatest tragedies of an actor's life that frequently, if not generally, he is forced to shoulder his pack and sometimes "lag superfluous on the stage" long after work in other vineyards would have earned for him an honorable retirement in competence, if not luxury, for the rest of his days.

Names of great actors, some long since dead, and others not so long ago, as for instance, Irving, spring to the memory in this connection, and I cannot but recall that it was he who first put me in the way of getting my first bank balance, so far as my credit account was concerned. It was in the days when he was appearing as Benedick, and Ellen Terry as Beatrice in "Much Ado About Nothing" at the Lyceum theater, where I had the honor of playing Claudio in that notable production. But I like to think that it was to my first love of painting that I owed my first bank account. Irving commissioned me to paint his beautiful church scene in that play and promised me $750 to do what would have been and was a labor of love in any event. It was for that reason no doubt that I made the canvas and picture generally much larger than he anticipated, with the result that he insisted on handing me a check for double the amount promised, $1,500, when the commission was completed. I returned his check twice, but Irving was adamant even in his generosity and would have his way.

It is a great pleasure and satisfaction for me to think that my painting, which was purchased at the Irving sale by Mr. McFadden of Philadelphia, has been thought worthy of a place of honor in the Players' club which immortalizes the memory of that great actor, Edwin Booth, in New York.

It is to America first and foremost that I owe the greatest and most practical part of my recognition as an actor, which has enabled me to look towards retirement with an easy eye, and a grateful heart. Ever since I came over with Mary Anderson thirty years ago, America and her citizens have always been most kind to me, and in addition to other practical but no less appreciated marks of her approval, she has given me a wife and fellow-artist (Gertrude Elliott) of whom I may well be proud.

"America has always shown me the greatest encouragement both in classical and modern plays, and I can never forget the beautiful tribute paid to me during my farewell season in New York by my fellow-actors, who expressed a general desire to witness my portrayal of "Hamlet," and packed the largest theater in New York when I had the pleasure and privilege of playing Hamlet for them only. Their kind enthusiasm and the silent sympathy which actors alone know and appreciate will long be remembered by me. The attitude of the critics and public generally in this and other plays has enabled me to announce my forthcoming farewell to the stage and look forward to an autumn or shall I say Indian summer of leisure with my family and friends gathered round me.

by R. H. Burnside, produced by Charles Dillingham.

"Stop! Look! Listen!" the Charles Dillingham new musical comedy, was recently presented for the first time at the Globe theater. Gaby Deslys is the featured member of the cast. The critics had many nice things to say about the new production. The Sun terminating its review as follows: "It looks as if all the factors had succeeded in landing Mr. Dillingham with another 'Chin Chin' on his hands."

"The Devil's Garden"—A dramatization of William E. Maxwell's novel, by Miss Edith Ellis. Staged and presented at the Harris theater by Arthur Hopkins.

"The Devil's Garden," dramatized by Miss Edith Ellis from William B. Maxwell's novel, was produced by Arthur Hopkins at the Harris theater. Most of the critics gave the play favorable mention in their reviews. From The World: "The Devil's Garden is, on the whole, a fairly consistent and workmanlike job, and there is some acting of unusual ability." The Herald reviewer treats of it as being acted "with great skill, but fails to deliver the message worthy of its sinister acts."

GOSSIF OF THE RIALTO

"The Masked Model," a new operetta by Harry B. and Robert B. Smith, and music by Carl Woess, is being rehearsed under direction of T. Daniel Frawley and Julian Alfred. Frank Doane, John E. Young, Thomas Conkey, Katherine Galloway, Richard Temple, Adele Ardsley, Ethel Du Fre Houston, Lillian Concord and Eugene Revere are included in the cast.

A new comedy by Austin Strong, entitled "Bunny," will follow "Under Fire" at the Hudson theater. The premiere takes place tomorrow. The piece is being put on by the Henry B. Harris estate. Lewis S. Stone, who was last seen in "The Misleading Lady," will play the leading role in "Bunny."

Paul Dickey, the playwright who collaborated with Charles Goddard in "The Misleading Lady," "Miss Information" and several other plays, is reported to be engaged to wed Inez Plummer, the actress. No date has been set as yet. Mr. Dickey is at present in California engaged in the production of motion pictures.

After two more weeks in Chicago the Chicago Opera company will go to New York for a two weeks' engagement. Arrangements for the New York engagement have already been completed by the director, Cleafante Campanini.

An appraisal of the estate of Phineas T. Barnum just entered at the transfer tax office of New York shows that the circus man left something like $1,222,468 as the result of his strenuous life's work. His wife, now the Baroness Nancy Barnum d'Alexandry Arengiani, of Paris, was left an annuity of $40,000. The principal of the fund set apart for her benefit amounts to $597,468.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Margery, the daughter of Cyril Maude, the English star, to Thomas Achelis, also in the profession, known as Paul Cordon. The two young people are appearing with George Arliss, in "Paganini," which is en tour. Miss Maude first came to this country two years ago, when her father gave a series of repertory at Wallack's. Her mother is Winifred Emery, an English actress. The young man Miss Maude is to marry is the son of a New York business man, and a graduate of Yale.

Word has been received from London that Albert De Courville's latest revue at the Hippodrome, "Joyland," is a decided success. The London press was lavish in its praise of the work of William Wilson, the American stage director.

Sam Bernard, who has just returned from several months of motion picture acting in California, will return to vaudeville, opening at the Chicago Majestic in a monologue on Jan. 10.

William Elliott is rehearsing for "The Greatest Nation," a rather unusual play, which is scheduled to open in New Haven on Jan. 17. Elliott is producer and co-author of the piece. It has four scenes, laid in an imaginary kingdom called "Adlon," and the cast includes Madame Yorska, E. J. Radcliffe, Rowland Buckstone, J. Hooker Wright, Clarence Handyside, Thomas P. Gunn and Sidney Mather.

"Oklahoma," a new Frohman-Belasco production, went into rehearsal recently. It is a three-act play by George Scarborough, dealing with Western life. Leonore Ulrich has been engaged for the cast, with John Miltern, William Courtleigh, Lowell Sherman, Curtis Cooksey, Edward L. Snader, H. J. Carleton, George West, Isabel O'Maddigan and Ethel Benton. The first performance will probably be given in February.

John Flood, Grace Filkins and Everett Butterfield have been engaged by Klaw & Erlanger for their production of "The Ohio Lady," which is scheduled to open in Columbus on Jan. 24.

Emma Tentrini has been re-engaged by Arthur Hammerstein for a new operetta by Otto Hauerbach and Rudolph Friml, to be produced early next September. The prima donna is expected back next month from Mantua, Italy, from which point she has been making trips to the frontier, nursing the wounded soldiers.

A stock company de luxe for the East is among the plans of Oliver Morosco, along the same lines of his Burbank theater organization on the coast. Different stars will be engaged for each successive production. Morosco has not decided on the location as yet, although five cities have been suggested.

Brandon Tynan, seen last as Joseph in "Joseph and His Brethren," has written a play which has been named "The Melody of Youth," and which will be the initial offering of the newly formed combination of James K. Hackett and George C. Tyler. The piece is a romantic Irish comedy. Its premiere was given at Stamford, Conn., on New Year's eve. The production will reach Broadway shortly. The cast includes Mr. Tynan, George Giddons, William Kelly, Haidee Wright, Lily Cahill, Walter Walker, Alice Gall, Helen Evily and Mart J. Cody.

Elsie Ferguson's new play, "Margaret Schiller," will be produced late this month. The cast, just completed by Klaw & Erlanger, includes Norman Trevor, Eileen von Biene, Merceita Esmonde, Edward Waldmann, Grace Carlisle, Paul Doucet and others. Paul Doucet was at one time connected with a Cincinnati stock company.

Elsie Janis began a fifteen weeks' tour of vaudeville Jan. 3 at the Palace, New York. When she quit vaudeville before her salary was $3,000 weekly, and the demand that she return to the two-a-day has not tended to decrease her income. Miss Janis has given up her leading role in "Betty," a musical piece under the Shuberts' direction, in order to take up the vaudeville offer. Her late success in Europe has given her tremendous prestige, and she had no trouble at all in securing the contract from the vaudeville magnates. Miss Janis spent the holiday season with her mother at the country home in Tarrytown.

Sir Herbert Tree, before leaving for Los Angeles, appointed Percy Burton as his personal representative in connection with his forthcoming Shakespearean Tercentenary festival to open in New York early in March. Mr. Burton will shortly sever his association with Granville Barker as partner in the production of "Androcles and the Lion" and "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife," while, in consequence of the difficulty Mr. Burton has encountered in finding a successor to fill the late Lewis Waller's place in "Gamblers All," he will probably postpone the production till next season of this play, of which he holds the American rights, in order to devote himself more exclusively to Sir Herbert Tree's forthcoming dramatic season.

E. H. Sothern gave his final performance of "Lord Dundreary" at the Booth theater recently. The first three days of the week the theater will remain dark to permit dress rehearsals of "David Garrick," which opens Thursday evening.

SPREADING COLDS

By DR. SAMUEL G. DIXON, Commissioner of Health for Pennsylvania.

This is the season when colds seem to be a well-nigh universal complaint. If you have been fortunate enough to escape, your neighbor has not. There are numerous factors which are responsible for the spread of colds at this period of the year. As in many other infectious diseases, one may be frequently exposed without any serious result.

There are simple, congestive colds from exposure, yet many conditions commonly called colds are caused by germs. Probably one of the most common methods of spreading these so-called colds is through the carelessness of those who are sick with the infectious condition and who are careless in handling their handkerchiefs and who sneeze and cough when near others without covering their mouths and noses to prevent spraying the droplets in the breath that are often filled with thousands of infective germs.

It is a common thing for colds to go through an entire family. This is usually the result of carelessness in coming too closely in contact with the sick or handling articles that have been infected by the patient. If the patient can remain in bed a well-ventilated room and the discharges from the nose and throat are properly disposed of, there is little or no danger of transmittting a cold to other members of the family, and as a rule this greatly reduces the chance of becoming very ill and saves time in the end. It is well to use cheese cloth or paper in place of ordinary handkerchiefs because these may be burned after use.

If the usual symptoms of colds are aggravated in character, a physician should be sent for immediately, as the line between the severe cold on the chest and pneumonia is delicately drawn. If a cold is permitted to hang on it easily becomes a predisposing factor to more serious ailments, tuberculosis in particular.

A Western farmer stood at the edge of the mud lake into which his 500 acres of corn had been converted by a flood. "Godfrey!" said he, "ain't those ducks having a fine time?" Such is the spirit of optimism.

A PLAY THAT HAS MOVED THE WORLD

SIR JOHNSTON FORBES-ROBERTSON MISS LAURA COWIE

"Passing of the Third Floor Back," Which Sir Johnston Forbes-Robertson Will Present During His Farewell Visit Here, Holds a Unique Record.

"Passing of the Third Floor Back" has now been played by Sir Johnston Forbes-Robertson, who is making his farewell tour of the English-speaking world, for eight years. Its success is perhaps unrivaled on the modern stage. It has been praised by the clergy and ministers of all denominations and creeds, and the press and public in general have warmly welcomed it as one of the most remarkable plays of this generation.

Jerome K. Jerome is the author of "Passing of the Third Floor Back." Previous to this play Jerome was known only for his lighter work, but in his drama he shows a keen perception of human character and traits hardly to be looked for in a light fictionist. The following are some of the lines in the play which have most often been quoted:

"Women are so willful, and you kind women are the worst of all."

"You are young enough not to have forgotten the thoughts of youth, old enough to have learnt pity."

"Nothing, it seems to me, is more beautiful than the love that has weathered the storms of life."

"The love of the young for the young—it is the beginning of life. But the love of the old for the old—that is the beginning of things longer."

"Duty so soon tires; love goes all the way."

"The business of art is to reveal the beauty underlying all things."

"It is a great privilege to be deemed worthy to suffer."

"It is the thoughts of youth that shall one day make the world young."

"This is what we will tell to the young men—that the fear that keeps men little is the fear of being great."

"Ah, you have learnt it—that all the best fun in life is giving!"

"Love! She is a woman. And all men may she love, save one. With all men may she dwell, save one; with all men save the coward. It is not poverty; it is the fear of poverty that drives out love."

"Leave takings are but wasted sadness. Goodby! I also am a servant. I have my work."

Great crowds have witnessed these pictures in New York and Chicago — were awed, thrilled, amazed at these trench and battle front views of fighting on gigantic scale, such as has not been permitted newspaper men to photograph!

Witness the Allies' recent offensive—the monster attack planned for four months—the succession of assaults by Gas, Machine Guns, Heavy Artillery, Cavalry and Infantry! Take your place where hundreds of big guns are raining twenty shells a minute on the Germans! View the German trenches wrecked into the graves of thousands! See the war from Belgium to Alsace—France's Official Motion Picture Record!

Don't think of missing these wonderful films!

TREATING A WHOLE STATE FOR ILLITERACY

How "Moonlight Schools" Are Carrying the Alphabet and the Spelling Book Into the Darkest Corners of America.

(Exclusive Service The Survey Press Bureau.)

"Amusing indeed have been the various impressions that have prevailed throughout the country in regard to moonlight schools," writes Cora Wilson Stewart, founder of the famous moonlight schools of Kentucky. "Some have imagined them to be schools where children studied and played and scampered on the green like fairies in the moonlight. Others have believed them to be ideal courting schools, where lovers strolled arm in arm, quoted poetry, and told the old, old story by the light of a bewitching moon. Others have speculated upon there being schools where moonshiners, youthful and aged, were instructed in the most scientific methods of extracting the juice from the corn, and, at the same time, the most secretive, to prevent government interference."

What Moonlight Schools Are.

It was in the obscure position of county superintendent of Rowan county, that Mrs. Stewart began four years ago the work that has carried the alphabet and spelling book into the darkest corners of her state. Today she is president of the Kentucky illiteracy commission, author of Country Life Readers, and has the satisfaction of seeing her work copied in many other states. How that work began and what it has meant to the backward thousands of her state she herself tells:

"When I was superintendent of Rowan county schools, I served as secretary to a number of illiterate folk—a mistaken kirdness. I ought to have been teaching them to read and write. Among these folk was a woman whose children had grown up without education, except one daughter, who had had limited schooling. She had gone to Chicago, and there had profited by that one advantage at least which the city possesses over the rural district, the night school. Her letters were the only source of joy that came into that aged mother's life, and the drafts which they contained were the only means of relieving her necessities.

"Often she brought the daughter's letters over the hill, seven miles, to the county seat, for me to read and answer for her. After an absence of some six weeks, she came in one morning fondling a letter. I anticipated her mission, and said: 'A letter from your daughter? Shall I read and answer it for you?'

"With dignity and pride, she replied: 'I kin answer it fer myself—I've larned to read and write.'

The Work Begins.

"In amazement I questioned her, and this is the story she told: 'Sometimes I couldn't get over here to see you and the "cricks" would be up between me and the neighbors, or the neighbors would be away from home, and I would not get a letter read and answered for three or four days; and, anyway, it jist seemed like thar wuz a wall 'twixt Jane and me all the time, and I wanted to read with my own eyes what she had writ with her own hand. So I went to a store and I bought me a speller, and I sot up at night till midnight, and sometimes till daylight—and I learned to read and write.'

"Incidents like this led directly to the establishment of the moonlight schools. The public school teachers of the county were called together. The fact that there were 1,152 men and women whom the schools of the past had left behind was dwelt upon. The teachers were asked to volunteer for night-school service, to open their schools on moonlit evenings—to give these people a chance. This they cheerfully agreed to do, and on Labor day, Sept. 4, 1911, these teachers celebrated by visiting every farmhouse and every hotel, inviting people of all classes to attend the moonlight schools which were to open their sessions the next evening.

"These country folk had all the excuses that any toil-worn people ever had. There were rugged roads to travel, high hills to climb, streams without bridges to cross, children to lead, and babes to carry; but they were not seeking excuses, they were seeking knowledge. And so they came. They came, some singly and alone; they came hurrying in groups; they came traveling for miles; they came carrying babes in arms; they came bent with age and leaning on canes; they came 1,200 strong.

"One for Everyone."

"In March, 1913, the teachers of Rowan county met in the office of the county superintendent and declared their determination to wipe illiteracy out of that county that year. Each teacher was given a list of the illiterates in her district when she opened her day school. She called on these people and cultivated their acquaintance before the moonlight schools began their sessions. 'One for everyone,' was the slogan which brought into service doctors, ministers, stenographers, and any other who would seek and teach a pupil.

"We tried, by every means, fair and foul, to get illiteracy out of the county to the last individual. At the close of the third session, we had but a straggling few who could not read and write—twenty-three in all, mainly defectives, invalids and the blind.

"Meanwhile, the moonlight schools had been extended to twenty-five other counties in the state. The governor of Kentucky, seeing the determined warfare which was being waged against illiteracy, urged in his message to the legislature that an illiteracy commission be created to drive illiteracy from the state. The measure creating this commission passed the legislature of 1914 without a dissenting vote. The commission is directing the statewide campaign to remove illiteracy from Kentucky by the time the census of 1920 is taken.

"The moonlight school curriculum embraces more than reading and writing. It includes arithmetic, history, geography, civics, agriculture, horticulture, home economics and road building. Moonlight schools are conducted in seventeen states, Oklahoma, Alabama and North Carolina following closely Kentucky's lead.

"There are 5,516,163 illiterates in this country, according to the Federal census of 1910—more than the entire population of Denmark, also more than the population of Sweden or Norway, and of several other prosperous countries.

"Could there be more valiant and heroic service to humanity than the stamping out of illiteracy, the most insidious foe of the nation?"

U STUDENTS "CRAMMING"

Return From Vacation to Prepare for Semester Examinations.

Employment Bureau Great Success; Little Theater Finally Opened.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—After nearly three weeks of vacation the students of the University of Minnesota have again returned to earnest work in preparation for the semester examinations, which are only three weeks away. This is the time of year when every one takes his studies seriously and many there are who repent of evenings thoughtlessly wasted and golden hours dissipated. The midnight oil is being lavishly consumed, old note books are being resurrected and placed in order, the dust is blown from "uncracked" text books, and examination files for many years back are eagerly fingered. Every one is a "grind" these days.

Employment Bureau a Success.

The university employment bureau has just issued its report for the first semester. The figures are very encouraging and show to great advantage in comparison with the reports of other university bureaus throughout the United States. Cornell alone approaches the University of Minnesota in point of positions secured for its students and for the amount earned through these positions. During the first semester 445 students have been given work amounting to 667 different items and paying $24,639.75, which amounts to an increase of $5,500.00 over last year. The report shows further, that positions secured for summer work brought in $41,059.00 to the students employed. These figures when carefully analysed amount to enough entirely to support about 360 students. The advantage, however, is much greater than this for most students are not in a position to need complete self-support, but many could not attend the university without partial self-support. The result is that probably more than twice 360 students are enabled to study in the university through the activity of the employment bureau.

Little Theater Opened.

The new Little Theater, which has been so often delayed, was finally opened on Thursday by the famous actor, Cyril Maude, who spoke at the chapel services on his experiences on the stage. The building was crowded to the doors and many turned away unable to gain entrance. Mr. Maude related many interesting incidents in connection with his stage career and spoke in praise of the dramatic activities which have interested the university public for the last few years. Mr. Mann, the dean of the architectural department, who was responsible for the panning and constructing of the theater, Prof. Richard Bruton and Prof. Charles Skinner, who must be thanked for creating the interest which brought it about, and the many student organizations which worked diligently in its support, were all praised and honored by the speaker and the audience.

"Kindling" is Presented.

Following closely upon the formal opening of the Little Theater, the Masquers Dramatic club, on Friday evening, presented Charles Kenyon's play "Kindling" to a crowded house. Despite the many difficulties attendant upon such a production, there were few flaws. The scenery, constructed for the most part by the enginering students was realistic. Most of the players had had previous experience and took hold of the difficult parts with enthusiasm.

Announcement was made during the weak that William C. Redfield of the department of commerce is to speak at the university soon before a special convocation of all the colleges. Cabinet officers are greeted by the University battery and saluted with seventeen shots from the three-inch guns.

Ex-Congressman Frederick C. Stevens of St. Paul spoke to the assembled cadet corps and field battery Thursday on the subject of "Our National Policy." More than fourteen hundred cadets heard the United States military policy and practices condemned by Mr. Stevens, who was for many years a member of the house committee on military affairs, and who seemed quite willing to take his share of the blame. He pointed out the sad effects of unpreparedness during the Spanish war and indicated the increased difficulty of meeting present day emergencies with the same inadequate equipment. He seemed to consider the nation in no immediate danger but believed that preparation was the greatest assurance of safety.

New Ideas in Vaudeville.

Dale McAlpine of Duluth, who is head of the sophomore vaudeville committee, is working for an entirely new idea in vaudeville. The show is to be strictly ahead of the times—in every essential futurist. Mr. McAlpine has promised to unfold some new and pleasing ideas before the audience when the curtain rises.

Fred Tryon of Minneapolis has been chosen a Rhodes scholar over Raymond Anderson of St. Paul, after the committee appointed to make the selection had been in session for several weeks. These two had survived the examinations which had been given in all of the colleges in Minnesota during the fall and a board of the various college presidents had been appointed to chose between these two. Each had many supporters and the pleas for both fairly deluged the judges. It was not until many weeks of study that Mr. Tryon was finally selected. He will attend Oxford university to specialize in economics and will begin his studies next October.

Harry Davis of Duluth has just returned from the convention of the International Menorah societies held at Philadelphia. The Menorah society is a college organization membership to which is limited to Jewish students. Its purpose is "the study and advancement of Jewish ideals and culture." The Menorah society has branches in forty-one of the leading universities of the country and Canada. Mr. Davis announces that he has secured next year's convention for the University of Minnesota.

Forestry Students Back.

The senior forestry students have just returned from their vacation in the woods of Northern Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan. They have spent about three weeks doing the work of lumberjacks and getting close to their subject in a very practical manner.

Farmers' and Homemakers' week is an assured success for already the registration breaks last year's record of 700. Two hundred women have already registered for the homemakers' course and many more are expected before registration closes. The purposes of the courses is to give people who cannot spare more time from the farm, an opportunity to gain a knowledge of the very latest developments in their work. Many lectures and recitation hours are crammed into this small week and books are suggested for more leisurely perusal back on the farm. The courses have always proved extremely helpful and practical despite the short time possible to devote to each subject.

WILL BE IN FRONT RANK

Duluth Auto Show Will Be Equal to Mill City Display.

Many Attractive Musical and Electrical Features Provided.

Duluth's second annual automobile show at the new armory during the week of Feb. 7 will equal the one to be staged in Minneapolis the previous week, according to W. F. Daly, manager of the local show, who has been appointed by the Duluth Automobile Dealers' association to take charge of all arrangements.

Mr. Daly announced yesterday that the basement of the armory is to be used for exhibiting trucks, as the main floor has been found too small to handle the large number of pleasure cars and electrics that have already been entered. There will be eighty different gasoline and electric machines on exhibition, besides the trucks and accessories, Mr. Daly said.

A string of lights will guide the public from Superior street to the armory entrance, while a novel parade will feature the opening of the show on Monday night, Feb. 7. The Third Regiment band will give concerts each evening under the direction of Charles Helmer and special vocal numbers will be rendered during the early part of each evening.

"We are going to try to make this show as big as 'the Minneapolis show," said Mr. Daly yesterday. "We have as good a building and we are going after the exhibits."

E. J. Filiatrault, president of the dealers' association and chairman of the show committee, is equally confident that the local show will compare with the one in Minneapolis.

The dealers will hold a special meeting at the St. Louis hotel next Tuesday evening to make more detailed arrangements for the show, it was announced yesterday by Mr. Filiatrault.

The committee of automobile dealers assisting Mr. Daly follows: E. J. Filiatrault, chairman; Joseph T. Pacha, Jr., secretary; Fred L. Kleyn, George Mossman, M. W. Turner, Leonard McNamara and Alexander Davis.

THREE MILLION CARS BY JULY 1

One Person in Every Forty to Own Machine Is Prediction.

By the first of July of this year it is estimated that there will be in operation in the United States 3,600,000 passenger cars. Besides this, of course, are the figures for light commercial vehicles and heavy motor trucks, not yet available.

Figuring on the basis of passenger cars alone, it means that by the summer of next year one person in every forty will own an automobile in the United States. It is only fifteen years since that motor cars stepped into the public eye as a utility vehicle; it is only a decade since the automobile really began to be popular. The past years are fresh in memory as the time during which the cars came down to the average purse and spread themselves broadcast over the face of the land.

For these passenger cars alone, it is estimated the consumption of gasoline will be 825,000,000 gallons, on an average mileage of 5,000 per car and assuming that half of the cars will average twenty miles to the gallon.

Figures tell queer stories, but the automobile industry has grown to such mammoth proportions that it is only in terms of numbers that the public can get any conception of how universal the use of the motor car has become.

SAFETY HINT FOR AUTOMOBILE OWNERS.

Coroner Hoffman of Chicago gives the following safety hint for automobile owners, evolved from an experience of his own in which his son and he were nearly overcome by fumes from the engine in a closed garage:

Get a dozen feet of cheap two-inch gaspipe. Cut a hole through the nearest wall of the garage and fix a wooden flap outside to cover the opening loosely.

When running the engine in the garage clap the gaspipe over the end of the muffler and let the car's burned gas go outside.

Then perhaps you will not be one of the persons killed next year by carbon monoxide, an odorless gas. Six persons were killed by it last year.

BIG INCREASE IN USE OF TRUCKS

"Today there are 26,000,000 horses and mules in our midst. There lies the best basis for computing truck possibilities. It would take perhaps 6,500,000 trucks to replace these animals. But if only 2,000,000 of them are replaced, that means 500,000 trucks," says H. S. Daniels of the KisselKar.

"In 1910 there were less than 10,000 motor trucks in use in the United States. It is conservatively estimated that today there are 100,000.

"Every business that gives delivery or haulage service must use motor trucks in order to keep up with competition."

Old Chassis Displayed.

New York, Jan. 8.—In the Cadillac booth at the automobile show is shown a chassis with many portions cut away, exposing the internal construction and mechanical operation, a feature which the Cadillac company was first to inaugurate in the early days of the industry and which has been a feature in every show since that time.

This chassis is a duplicate of the one which attracted so much attention at the Panama-Pacific exposition, where the Cadillac was the only motor car exhibited with a V-type engine.

COOLEY URGES CO-OPERATION

State Engineer Asks City Organizations to Aid Highway Construction.

Would Complete State Road From St. Paul to Winnipeg in 1917.

Completion of the Minnesota stretch of the Jefferson highway from St. Paul to Winnipeg by the end of 1917 is predicted by George W. Cooley, state engineer of the Minnesota highway commission. Letters have been sent out by him asking all commercial clubs in towns, through which the proposed thoroughfare will pass, to appoint committees to crystallize sentiment for the completion of the road and to facilitate in every way the improvement. Ultimately it is intended to band together all these committees in one big organization to push the work.

Power was given the Minnesota highway commission at the meeting in New Orleans at which the Jefferson highway association was formed, to select the route of the new road from the Twin Cities to Winnipeg. Of its 1,800 miles in length between New Orleans and the Canadian city, 500 miles will be in Minnesota.

The road will enter the state at Albert Lea over what is known as the Capital National highway and proceed to the Twin Cities through Owatonna, Faribault, Northfield and Farmington. After considerable study, the commission picked on the following route to Winnipeg: Through Osseo in Hennepin county to Anoka; to Elk River in Sherburne county; thence north on the east side of the Mississippi river to Little Falls; northwest to Staples in Todd county; west and north through Wadena and Park Rapids to the source of the Mississippi in Itasca state park; thence northeast to Bemidji.

At this point matters will be held in abeyance until engineers have an opportunity to make a careful examination and pick an advantageous route to St. Vincent, where the highway will connect with the Canadian division. From Bemidji to St. Vincent there is 150 miles of old lake bottom road.

"The fact that we have good roads, built or building, to Itasca park is especially fortunate," said Mr. Cooley today. "Automobile tourists will be able in taking this route to see some of the most magnificent scenery in the country as well as getting a glimpse of the headwaters of the Father of Waters. No part of this road will be so beautiful as the section in Minnesota, over the shell, lake and forest roads in the northern part of the state.

AKRON FACTORIES BUSIER THAN EVER

Boston, Mass., Jan. 8.—It is naturally to be supposed that under present flourishing conditions in the automobile industry, tire company prosperity should show no signs of abatement. The big Akron, Ohio, factories, are understood to be busier than ever before, the daily tire production of that city having crossed the 35,000 mark.

Outlining the possibilities for further expansion, trade authorities are already beginning to figure upon the output for next year. It has been authoritatively computed by state and automobile officials that there are now in use in the United States about 2,256,000 cars. On a reasonable reckoning 750,000 new automobiles will be added in the coming year with the chances more than favoring 1,000,000. On a conservative basis, then, this would mean over 3,000,000 machines in this country by the end of 1916.

Allowing five "shoes" on the average for each car, the annual automobile tire consumption of the United States, will reach the enormous total of 15,000,000 tires in the coming year. This would mean a gross business of not far from $250,000,000.

It is interesting to note in connection with this prosperity that though two-thirds of the cars in existence at the close of next year wil have been bought since 1913 or within a three-year period that has witnessed the birth of several successful makes of automobiles, not a single new tire company has been launched in that time.

GOOD PROSPECTS FOR AUTO SHOWS

The apparently surpassing success of the current New York automobile show is an augury of similar results at the smaller shows throughout the country, as well as at the big Chicago pageant the last of the month.

Reports say that not only has the attendance been very large, but that both as to wholesale and retail sales, a record was made.

According to advices from those on the spot, the show has already proven two very important facts, first, that the sensational price reducing era which started last year is over, and second, that winter driving is becoming universal.

THE "GOLDEN RULE" IN MOTORING

Courtesy first means safety first.

Do not dodge in and around cars.

Do not presume too much when you have the right of way.

Do not cut in front of a street car.

Keep out of the safety zones.

When you get the "go" signal from the traffic officer, remember to give the pedestrian time to get out of the way.

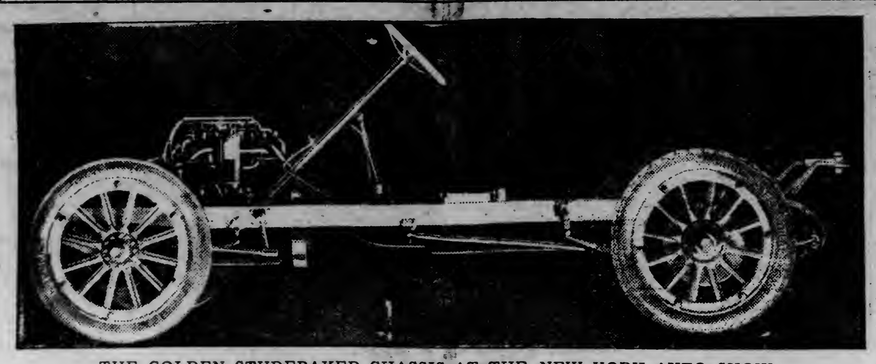

When a pedestrian does not or will not pay any attention to your horn, it is well to remember that the deaf, hundreds of them, use the streets as well as you.

When you see a child on the curb, slow up. Remember the child can start quicker than you can stop.

These are the points that the Indiana State Automobile association is emphasizing in teaching its several thousand members to practice the "Golden Rule" while driving. As a result of the campaign it is believed fewer accidents will occur in Indiana.

If every man or woman were as courteous in driving a motor car as in ordinary living, driving would be a greater pleasure, would be safer, there would be fewer repair bills, less sentiment against the motorist, less need of stringent laws and fewer accidents, according to the Hoosier club officials.

GOLDEN STUDEBAKER CHASSIS STARTLES VISITORS AT NEW YORK AUTO SHOW

THE GOLDEN STUDEBAKER CHASSIS AT THE NEW YORK AUTO SHOW.

This golden chassis manufactured by the Studebaker company and which startled visitors at the New York auto show all week is the costliest effort of its kind. It is valued at $25,000; thousands of dollars worth of pure gold having been used in the months required for the finishing.

The gold chassis will also be exhibited at the Chicago, Minneapolis and Boston shows during this month.

REDUCTION FOR OVERLAND

Cut of $55 Announced for Famous $750 Model.

Sales Reported Without Precedent for Last Six Months.

A reduction of $55 in the price of the big $750 Overland is the startling New Year's announcement made by John N. Willys, president of the Willys-Overland Company of Toledo.

This is the model which in the last six months has broken all sales records for Overland cars. Since June more than 50,000 of them have been sold to people in all parts of the world. But in spite of the fact that it has been the biggest seller of the year in its class the Toledo concern now is able to offer it, with improvements, at $695.

One of the improvements in the car is a new 35-horse power 4-cylinder motor of the latest block design. The cylinder heads of this type of motor are cast in one piece which can be removed easily if occasion demands.

The long wheel base of 106 inches, quick detachable tires, measuring 33 by 4 inches all around, with non-skid in rear, and demountable rims, are a few of the features that have made popular this low-priced Overland.

The body is finished in a dark Brewster green with striping of ivory white. The fittings are of polished nickel and aluminum. Fenders and trimmings are black enameled.

The same care and attention has been given to interior refinements. There are large pockets in all doors. The mohair top is a one-man type of the latest design. Its single set of bows permit it to be raised or lowered easily by one person.

The starting and lighting system is of the most effective two-unit type, entirely separate from the ignition, which permits the simplest wiring. No dry batteries are required.

The seats are wide and roomy with high, comfortable backs. The deep, divan upholstery compares favorably with that found in more expensive cars. The seat cushions are built in resilient, spiral springs that add greatly to the comfort and easy riding qualities of the car.

This car also is offered to the public with a two-passenger roadster body at $675.

HEAVY OUTPUT OF CARS CONSUMED.

The manner in which the American public has consumed the largest output of motor cars ever turned out by the American automobile manufacturers has been the marvel of the 1915 industrial year. Practically every large factory increased its production from 10 to even as high as 100 per cent and even then manufacturers have been unable to keep up with orders and during the winter are maintaining mid-season production.

NEW STUDEBAKERS COMING NEXT WEEK

Announcement has just been made of the new Studebaker six-cylinder and four-cylinder models, which are expected here next week, by Leonard McNamara, local distributor.

The basic design of the car shows no radical changes. The mechanical principles that have proved successful are retained intact.

The new refinements have been in the direction of securing greater roominess and comfort, along with still further conveniences. In spite of these added features, however, the new four-cylinder seven-passenger touring car now sells for $845. The three-passenger roadster is priced at $825. The six-cylinder seven-passenger touring car is priced at $1,050, and the three-passenger roadster at $1,025.

A notable addition to the Studebaker line is the six-cylinder seven-passenger sedan model, the price of which is $1,675.

OLD FORD CAR A "HORSELESS VEHICLE"

Is an automobile drawn by a burro a "horseless vehicle"?

In the year 1904, Col. D. C. Collier of California bought a model Ford car.

This first car gave its owner a full measure of service and then the colonel decided that he wanted a new Ford with its refinements to replace the vetran which was plowing up a bit in its stride, so the 1904 machine was sold.

Through fortune and misfortune it went, changing hands and being used and abused indiscriminately until 1907, when it was purchased by one Edmund Jacobs and taken to the idyllic village of Ramona in the heart of the California mountains.

The good old Ford, excellent as its record had been, could find no buyer in its entirety; and so was dismantled. Its motor pumps water for one Cantello, a prosperous and progressive rancher. The body is drawn by a burro—and the car remains, as from the date of its conception, a "horseless vehicle."

HERALD'S WEEKLY ROADS BUREAU AND BULLETIN

A highway replete with historical interest will be opened to tourists in the Natchez, Miss., section, the first steps having been taken when the Natchez Track Highway association was formed. Thirteen Mississippi counties and Louisiana parishes took part in the meeting. Only a preliminary organization was effected, but other meetings are to be held shortly, and the movement to re-establish the old Natchez trace will be pushed.

The route has been preserved by the Daughters of the American Revolution, who have marked it with boulders. It will require considerable working to get it in good shape, as it has been neglected for years. However, there will be little grading necessary, as it follows the ridges throughout its course.

The Natchez trace, which is sometimes referred to as the Columbian highway, was built in 1801, when a treaty was made with the Indian nations in this section. It figured prominently in the war of 1812, and in its early days was considered one of the greatest highways in the country, and was used as a return route by travelers who had gone down to Southern points on the Mississippi.

One thousand miles of perfect roadway has been constructed by Colorado convicts in the last seven years. Colorado began to employ convicts on the roads in 1908. At first armed guards were used, but during the second summer the honor system was introduced, and it is still in vogue.

In 1915 the road operations were more extensive than ever, according to the report received by the national committee on prisons and prison labor from Warden Tynan, to whose enthusiastic effort is due the success of the work.

Warden Tynan states that the convicts are working on five separate and distinct roads, and will remain at work all winter, as in Colorado they can operate the camps during the whole twelve months of the year.

Rome, Ga.—From the reports received by the Dixie Highway association to date from 50 counties out of a total of 162 along its route, it is estimated, there has been expended the sum of $1,765,200 on the Dixie highway, in these counties in the past six months. These counties are regarded as average, and it is therefore calculated that the total of $5,300,000 has been expended on the Dixie highway since the movement was first started.

In the fifty counties reporting to the association, provisions have been made for spending $6,931,000 on the highway. This is taken to indicate that a total of $20,000,000 is to be spent. The amount is divided by states ts follows: Illinois, $1,250,000; Ohio, $1,304,000; Tennessee, $924,000; Florida, $2,060,000; Indiana, $126,000; Kentucky, $765,000; Georgia, $161,000.

By the end of 1916 over 300 miles will have been added, and the close of 1917 will see at least one-third of the entire mileage a paved road, it is estimated.

Hartford, Conn.—In the report of the state highway department for the year ending Sept. 30, 1915, details of the construction of three miles of concrete road in Cheshire by the employment of inmates of the state reformatory in are given, this being the first experiment of the department in the employment of convict labor on the state highways. The department furnished the material and equipment and paid the workers 50 cents per day, the money to be held by the reformatory for their personal use when circumstances warrant. The cost of the contract was $31,000, and as a result of the success of the experiment, reformatory labor is now being employed on the Cheshire-Waterbury road and on a highway in Colebrook.

Lansing, Mich.—Since the first of July the state highway department has approved the construction of 571 miles of state reward road in Michigan, but owing to the fact that the state treasury is short of funds the department has been unable to reimburse the counties for 188 miles of road. When there is money in the state treasury after the first of the year it will be necessary to pay out $200,101 to the counties where highway construction has been approved. During the last five months, 291 miles of single state reward road have been built and the highway department has authorized the payment of $265,467.

With only one county on the eastern section and two on the western that have not begun work on their links, the Memphis-to-Bristol highway is the nearest to completion of any of the main routes planned for Tennessee. The Memphis-to-Bristol road will be formally opened next spring and will then be a wholly desirable route for transcontinental tourists. It will be part of one of the longest routes in America, that from Maine to California, by way of the national capital and Virginia. Bristol is on the line between Virginia and Tennessee.

There are 2,500,000 miles of public highways outside of municipalities in the United States. On these highways $200,000 were expended for construction and maintenance in 1914. On a conservative estimate, $50,000,000 of this amount was wasted. These are leading statements from the lecture delivered at the automobile club of America last week by Arthur H. Blanchard, professor in charge of the graduate school in highway engineering of Columbia university.

Columbia, S. C.—Constitutionality of the $1,250,000 road bond issue for Richland county and the $950,000 road bond issue for Greenville county has been upheld by the en banc session of the supreme and circuit court judges of the state. The bond issues were put through the last session of the general assembly and suits to have them declared unconstitutional were brought before the circuit courts, and, those courts upholding them, they were taken on appeal to the supreme court.

GOOD ROADS PUT GOPHER STATE AMONG THE LEADERS

BY JOHN H. HOFMANN.
President of the Minnesota State Automobile association.

Minnesota has become one of the foremost states of the Union on account of the development of its tremendous natural resources, worked out largely through the medium of good roads. These are among the principal veins and arteries of commerce. As a good, vigorous circulation of the blood is essential to the health and normal growth and development of the human body, so must the great commercial blood vessels be properly taken care of, and that duty has been and is being performed in Minnesota. Our automobiles, corpuscles of traffic, perform an absolutely essential function in the movement of persons and property from place to place. We have given them a chance to do this work right. Let them do their proper part, and a mighty part it will be, in giving Minnesota further growth and development into a commonwealth greater and richer by far than its early founders dared to dream, a leader among the commonwealths that comprise this vast republic.

What state has been favored by nature with a more lavish hand than Minnesota? Think of her marvelous agricultural and mineral wealth. Mankind has scarcely begun to draw upon it. This state can and will give beautiful and happy homes to millions of families. It needs only to have its resources developed to be rendered capable of sustaining many times its present population.

Beautiful Scenery.

Yet, great as are the commercial resources of Minnesota, the state has been no less favored in the bestowal of some of the rarest beauties of nature, picturesque spots and a climate that is unexcelled. This is a state of lakes. There are 10,000 of them. Fishing and hunting reserves still abound. There are good roads to enable our citizens to take proper advantage of the pleasures, as well as the wealth, which Minnesota offers in such profusion. Travel in any direction in this state and your eyes will feast upon the marvelous beauty spots which nature has designed for the edification of mankind. These gifts can easily be reached by the autoists.

Minnesota will have approximately $100,000,000 to spend for good roads during the next ten years. If this vast sum, which is derived from the 1-mill state aid tax and the county and township tax levies, is spent judiciously, it will mean the continued betterment of the highways.

The campaign for good roads has been the means of educating the great mass of people up to a realization of what these improved channels of trade mean as wealth producers. Besides, they are a standing invitation to sightseers and pleasure seekers from a wide expanse of territory to visit Minnesota and take advantage of her multiplicity of lakes and summer and health resorts.

Auto n Fixture.

The automobile is the modern pleasure car. It was conceived by a genius and born of a necessity to supply the demand of the rapidly advancing times. The auto is no longer a fad, but a fixture in the social and commercial life. It has been the advance agent of the better highway movement and has necessitated the building up and maintenance of the lake resorts, where the mind and body can seek that rest and contentment which often becomes necessary in this world of strenuous endeavor. Minnesota is the state for the autoist. Here he can find all that he seeketh.

We have one of the best road laws in the United States, the so-called Dunn law. Under its wise provisions the roads of a permanent character are being constructed. They are the delight of the autoist.

Already a chain of inter-county state roads has been laid out, extending 1,600 miles. The greater part of this chain of roads has been completed. We have the Black and Yellow trail from Chicago through Winona to the Black Hills; the Yellowstone trail, starting from Minneapolis and St. Paul, and extending through the west central part of the state; the old Dodd road, an excellent graded and graveled highway, running from St. Paul south through Northfield, Owatonna and Albert Lea; the old government trail from the Twin Cities, following the Minnesota river to Mankato, and the Twin City to Duluth road, connecting the three large centers of population in the state, with numerous lakes, beautiful scenery and the most enjoyable camping grounds to be found anywhere.

TO PROTECT CARS AGAINST THIEVES.

In an endeavor to aid in the chase of stolen autos and keep a check on all machines, Harvey Parsons, chief of police in Topeka, Kan., is considering the establishment of a system whereby all garages and filling stations in the city will record the number of every car that stops at its place of business and make a report to the police. This plan, similar to one now in force in Joplin, Mo., Parsons believes, would be of considerable value to the police in locating stolen cars.

HINTS PREPARING CAR FOR WINTER

Joseph Peacha, Jr., local Franklin agent, gives the following tips for those who desire to put their cars up for the winter:

Jack the car up and put blocks under it to take the weight from the tires, then let the air nearly all out of the tires, leaving only enough to keep the casing and tube in shape.

Darken the room or wrap the tires, or better still, take them off and put them in a dark, cool place, as light and heat are very injurious to rubber when not in use.

Drain all the water from the radiator and motor, then run the motor for about one minute thoroughly to dry out the water jackets.

Drain all lubricating oil from the motor and wash out with coal oil; as outlined above. This will keep the motor from getting gummed up.

The top will be better preserved if it is left up; just throw a cover over it for protection.

If you have an electric battery on your car it should be first fully charged, then removed from the car and placed in a warm room of even temperature, preferably a cellar. Most batteries will not freeze if left on the car and kept fully charged.

If you contemplate driving all winter your battery should be watched and tested systematically every two weeks. Be sure and keep it filled with distilled water, or clean rain water gathered from some point where it has had no opportunity to come in contact with metal.

Accept the above suggestions only wherein they may seem to benefit you. Do not consider them a mass of automobile complications and troublesome details. Run your car without worry; it is built to go any place in any weather, and is a much greater comfort in winter than in summer.

STEAM WAGON WAS BUILT IN 1860.

George J. Remsberg, historian, of Potter, Kan., is claiming on good authority that Thomas Fortune of Atchison county built a steam wagon in 1860 and operated it west of the Missouri river for several years. Nebraska City, Neb., recently unveiled a statue at the spot where Gen. Joseph E. Brown started a trip across the prairies in a steam wagon, invented by John A. Reed of New York, July 22, 1862. It came to grief after traveling four and a half miles.

MORE CARE SHOWN IN DRIVING CARS

Fewer Deaths Now According to Number of Autos, Says Report.

Washington, Jan. 8.—Is the deadliness of the automobile increasing or decreasing?

This question seems to be answered in a very conclusive manner by the bureau of the census, in making public some preliminary mortality statistics for the year 1914, which indicate that during the five years from 1909 to 1914 the number of automobiles in use in the United States increased more than twice as rapidly as the number of fatalities caused by them.

At the close of 1909, according to figures compiled by the National Automobile chamber of commerce of New York city, from state registration reports, due allowance being made for duplicate registrations, the number of automobiles in use in the United States was approximately 200,000; by the close of 1913 it had risen to 1,270,000; and a year later, at the end of 1914, it was 1,750,000.

In the meantime the number of deaths due to automobile accidents and injuries increased from 632 in the death-registration area in 1909, containing 56 per cent of the population of the United States, to 2,623 in the same area in 1914; and the increase from 1913 to 1914, for the registration area as constituted in 1913, then containing 65 per cent of the population of the country, was from 2,488 to 2,795.

Thus a five-year increase of 775 per cent—accepting as reliable the figures compiled by the National Automobile chamber of commerce—in number of machines has been accompanied by an increase of 315 per cent in automobile fatalities; and a one-year increase of 38 per cent in number of machines has been accompanied by an increase of 12 per cent in fatalities.

Perhaps a more reliable comparison, from the statistician's point of view, can be made between the increase in number of automobiles in use and the increase in the rate per 100,000 population for deaths caused by them. This is because, with a given number of machines in use in a given area, the fatalities due to them will tend to be proportional to the population of that area. When the comparison is made on this basis, it appears that a five-year increase of 775 per cent in number of machines has been accompanied by an increase of 253 per cent—from 1.2 to 4.3 per 100,000 population—in the death rate resulting from automobile fatalities. Similarly, a one-year increase of 38 per cent in number of automobiles has taken place along with an increase of only 10 per cent—from 3.9 to 4.3 per 100,000—in the death rate charged to them.

One cause of this proportional decrease in the destructiveness of the automobile is undoubtedly to be found in a reduction in average annual mileage per machine; but, after due weight is given this factor, and a suitable margin is allowed for possible error resulting from inaccuracy in the estimated portion of the automobile statistics, the figures still appear to furnish ample justification for the conclusion that the automobile today is being driven with more care and more regard for public safety than it was a few years ago.

STANDARDIZING TRAFFIC LAWS

Since a few months ago, J. J. Cole, president of the Cole Motor Car company, first gave expression to his views regarding the standardization of traffic laws in the larger cities as the solution for present traffic problems, a great deal of interest has been aroused, both among the motor car manufacturers and owners, in bringing the plan into operation.

Recently at the meeting of the directors of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce in Detroit, Mich., a special committee was appointed to investigate the matter and recommend what formal action should be taken by the body. This committee, it is understood, will co-operate with the various safety first organizations over the country.

How strong the trend is toward a total standardization of every branch of the motor car industry is best shown by the action recently taken among the members of the Society of Automobile Engineers. Since Mr. Cole first conceived the idea of standardizing the manufacture of motor cars and applied it to the operations in his factory, the principle has been applied more or less by practically every American motor car builder. The engineers, for their part, now desire to standardize the performance of motor cars, to establish certain definite standards by which to judge a car's ability.

PRIZES OFFERED FOR BEST MODELS

Prizes will be awarded to the boys designing and constructing the best models of gas or electric cars to be shown at the annual automobile show, which will be held at the Minneapolis armory, under the auspices of the Minneapolis Automobile Trade association, Jan. 28 to Feb. 5. Prizes will be awarded in three classes: Boys under 12, boys under 16 and boys under 18. Competition is open to all boys.

At the annual meeting of the association the following directors were elected for 1916: H. E. Pence of the Pence Automobile company, F. E. Murphy of the Murphy Automobile company, William Wheeler of the Northwestern Automobile company, H. E. Wilcox of the Wilcox Motor Car company and J. A. Graham of the Studebaker company.

Walter Wilmot, who has had charge of the annual show each year, the second largest in the country, will again be at the helm the coming year. As usual the show bids fair to eclipse anything ever before attempted.

Model 83 B

With unerring judgment of value—

With a rush that swallowed up a record production in jig time—

The public took more than 50,000 of the $750 Overlands in six months.

In six months we've absorbed all the overhead; absorbed all the development expense; realized on all the experimental cost that is usually spread over a year.

We covered our material requirements at before-the-war prices—saved three and a half million dollars on aluminum and another million on steel.

We have increased our production capacity of 300 cars per day last June to 1000 cars per day.

So again we have broken all records.

Again we have planned and bought material for a bigger production program.

And again we are setting a new and supreme standard of value—

You can now buy the big, roomy, comfortable, thirty-five horsepower Overland for $695.

Here is the value which has clearly dominated the automobile market for the last six months—now made even more clearly dominant.

Here is the car with a performance record never even approached by any car of its size ever built—fifty thousand in every day service.

And though the price is reduced the car is improved.

It has an up-to-the-minute power plant, en bloc type, developing full thirty-five horsepower. It has abundant power and speed and an exceptionally quick get-away.

The value is pre-eminent—unapproached.

We guarantee that the price for this model will never be lower.

But this price reduction is made in the face of a rising material market—we cannot guarantee that it will not be higher.

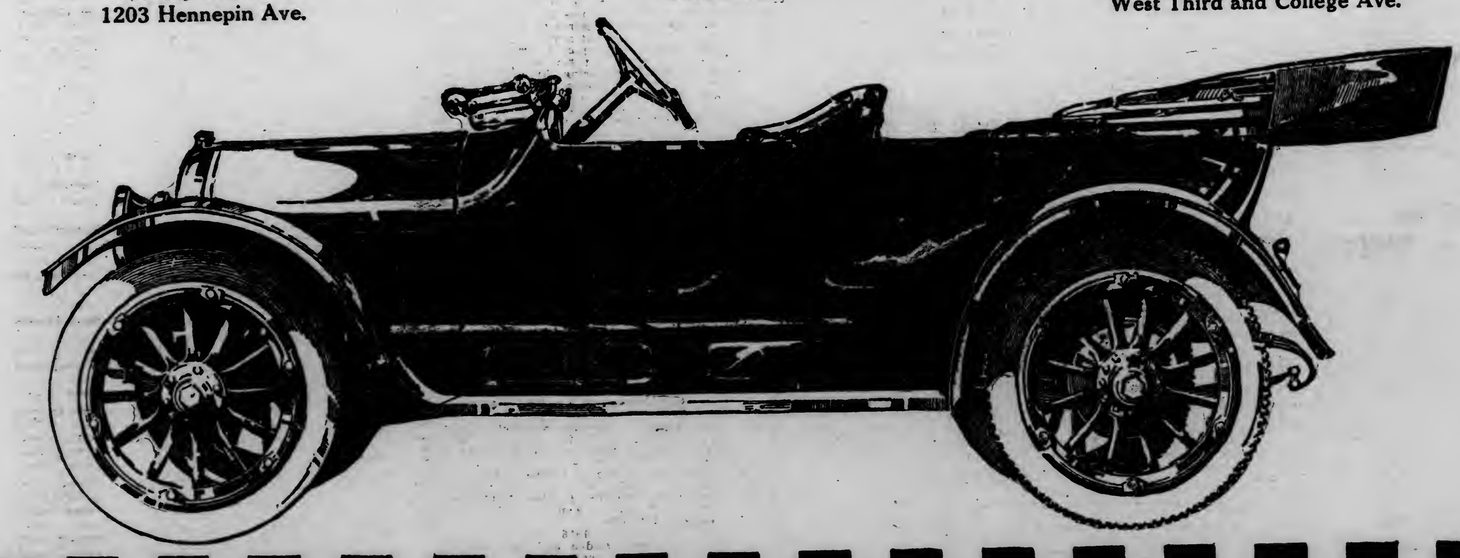

See the Overland dealer now—anticipate your requirement if need be—but make sure of your delivery now.

FORCE PLANTS TO INCREASE

Glut of Orders Compels Additions—Expansion Is Widespread.

Inland Steel Company Establishing World's Largest Electrical Equipment.

The extent of the existing congestion in the steel trade is revealed in the statement that premiums ranging from $5 to $12 a ton are being paid for semi-finished steel for prompt delivery.

Manufacturers in several lines are said to be experiencing the greatest difficulty in obtaining raw products in sufficient quantities to fill their contracts.

There is said to be more new construction work in progress at present in plants in the Youngstown and Pittsburgh districts than in any other period in their histories. Spurred on by a demand exceeding their facilities for production, the various steel companies in the Youngstown district alone are making extensions that will add approximately 500,000 tons alone to the annual production of open-hearth steel.

The Youngstown Sheet & Tube company leads with extensions that are estimated to cost $7,000,000, among them being eight bar mills and an additional blast furnace. The Republic Iron & Steel company is building seventy-five by-product coke ovens and a blast furnace of the largest capacity. The Byer Hill Steel company has expended over $1,000,000 on new open-hearth furnaces and other improvements. The Carnegie Steel company has begun the erection of four more open-hearth furnaces, and is planning other betterments that will bring its appropriation up to $1,000,000.

Large Electrical Equipment.

The largest order for electrical equipment ever placed has been given by the Inland Steel company of Indiana Harbor, Ind., to the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company of East Pittsburgh, Pa.

The order is for complete equipment of the plant at Indiana Harbor, and represents an expenditure of more than $1,500,000.

When the equipment is installed the entire plant of the company will be electrically driven, and will be the largest electrically equipped steel plant in the world.

All the steel companies are booked far ahead with profitable business and they are finding themselves able to carry through their extension programs largely from current profits.

YOUNG MEN BEING TAUGHT THE BUSINESS OF WINDOW TRIMMING AT Y. M. C. A. NIGHT SCHOOL

WINDOW FOR TRIMMERS' CLASS AT Y. M. C. A.

Window trimming is one of the modern professions. It is no longer a haphazard incidental job but like other things worth while nowadays requires definite training to reach the highest degree of efficiency.

The Y. M. C. A. night school has recognized this situation, installed a complete window in a class room, provided equipment and necessary material for a practical course in this work.

The class last year was very successful and gives promise this season of even greater success. The class this year will be under the personal supervision and instruction of J. E. Hopkins, display manager for the George A. Gray company, who handled it last year.

Duluth is the natural center for this part of the country and very properly forms the center for the training of men in these special occupations. This is true not only of this particular line but others, such as automobile work, oxy-acetylene cutting and welding, salesmanship, etc., which are some of the other specialized courses conducted by the Y. M. C. A. night school.

SINGLE TRACKS ON SUPERIOR AND FIRST STREETS, TO RELIEVE TRAFFIC CONGESTION, URGED BY SCHLEUNES

Well-Known Business Man Suggests Movement to Meet Ultimate Problem Now Before Spring Paving of Superior and First Streets Is Finally Planned; Eastbound Cars on Superior Street and Westbound on First, Joining at Twenty-Fourth Avenue East and Mesaba Avenue.

JOHN F. SCHLEUNES.

The problem which, many believe, Duluth must face before long, namely, that of providing more vehicle and pedestrian space on Superior street, down town, is treated uniquely in a letter written to The Herald by John F. Schleunes, a well known Duluth business man. Mr. Schleunes points out that both East Superior street and East First street are to be paved next spring and summer, and that if there is to be any change in street railway routes, such as he suggests, it should be determined upon before that time so that the paving may be done accordingly.

His plan, in brief, is that single tracks, only, should be maintained by the street railway company on Superior and First streets, that on Superior street handling the traffic eastbound and that on First street, the traffic westbound, the two lines joining at Mesaba avenue on the western end of the division and at Twenty-fourth avenue east on the eastern end.

He points out that with this system, nine feet of space would be gained on Superior street, giving more space for sidewalk and more roadway besides.

How St. Paul Solved It.

St. Paul has had to solve the problem of wider streets by purchasing a strip from the owners, and cutting the fronts of buildings away, thus widening the street at the expense of store and building space. Mr. Schleunes believes that sooner or later Duluth will have to face the same problem, and thinks his idea is a better one than the plan adopted in St. Paul. His letter to the Open Court follows:

"In an effort to avoid accidents due to the rapidly increasing traffic on Superior street, especially at the intersection of Third avenue west, our city commissioners in July established the safety zone and the nearside street car stop. Opinion seems to be divided as to the efficacy of the method; in fact, many believe that, in certain respects, the danger has been increased instead of lessened.

"If the growth of our city continues at the present rapid rate, and there is every indication that it will even be greatly increased for many years to come, the inconvenience and danger occasioned by the narrowness of Superior street and its sidewalks will increase to such an extent that some radical alterations will have to be made. The city of St. Paul recently widened Robert street by purchasing several feet on one side of the street and shortening the buildings thereon. Hoping that no such extreme or costly measure will be necessary here, but realizing how imperative some relief is and that the necessity therefor will increase year by year, I desire to sumbit the following plan for increasing the vehicle space on Superior street and, at the same time, to add to the width of the sidewalks without interfering with private property.

Single Tracks Only.

"The plan contemplates the installing of one single track in the center of Superior street from Mesaba avenue to Twenty-fourth avenue east, instead of the present double track, and also installing a single track in the center of First street from Twenty-fourth avenue east to Mesaba avenue and down Mesaba avenue to Superior street, and running all eastbound cars on Superior street and all westbound cars on First street.

"With but one track in the center of Superior street from Mesaba avenue to Twenty-fourth avenue east, there would be nearly nine feet added to the space available for vehicles and sidewalks. We could thus add two feet to the width of each sidewalk, and we should still have an increase of nearly three feet in the vehicle space on each side of the car track.

"The eastbound run of all cars would remain the same as at present. All East end, Lakeside and Woodland cars, westbound, would run on First street from Twenty-fourth avenue east to Mesaba avenue, thence down Mesaba avenue to the double track on Superior street from Mesaba avenue westward.

"All Fourth street and Ninth street cars, westbound, would come down Third avenue west to the Board of Trade corner, turn west on First street to Mesaba avenue, down Mesaba avenue to Superior street and thence west.

"Aerial bridge cars returning from the canal on their westbound run could run east on Superior street to Third avenue east, up Third avenue east to First street, and thence west; or, the bridge car might run only on Lake avenue, between Superior street and the canal, allowing all West Duluth cars to continue on Superior street to Twenty-fourth avenue east, returning via First street.

Would Relieve Congestion.

"The plan outlined above would relieve much of the congestion at the crossings, lessen the noise all along Superior street, make the sidewalks more commodious, and best of all, it would greatly reduce the danger of accidents.

"East Superior street and East First street are both to be paved next summer. This suggestion is made at this time, in order that changes in our street car system, if any are to be made, may be effected before these paving contracts are let.

"You will understand that the plan is here outlined only in its main features; there might be a number of details that would have to be carefully worked out between the city commissioners and the street railway company."

DULUTH SCHOOLBOYS LIKE LOVE LAUGH AT LOCKSMITH

The school board is in a quandary.

They have not been able to find lockers that will keep out prying fingers of Young America.

In considering contracts for 500 lockers for the new Lincoln junior high school in the West end, the directors made uncomplimentary remarks about boys who insisted upon seeing what the "other feller" had in his locker.

"If they can't open the door, they break it down," said F. A. Brewer, president of the board. "If you give them keys, they lose them. What are you going to do?"

"They steal from Y. M. C. A. lockers," replied Supt. R. E. Denfeld, coming to the defense of school children, "so why not from these?"

Bids will be opened later in the week.

"SURE UNCLE SAM WILL CO-OPERATE" SAYS MILLER— HAS ALWAYS HAD GROUPING PLAN IN MIND

The Federal government will co-operate with the city of Duluth on any municipal grouping plan selected for the erection of the new city hall, according to a communication received today by The Herald from Congressman Clarence B. Miller, who is now in Washington.

"You need give yourself no uneasiness whatever over the government's co-operating in carrying out the grouping plan," writes Congressman Miller. "I have always argued this as a main reason for securing appropriations with which to purchase land for the site of the Federal building. That is certainly a definite policy which has guided us ever since I have been in Washington."

Congressman Miller also points out that the proposal to build the city hall facing a central court is included in the original grouping plan agreed upon when the courthouse was built and he is certain that such a program will be carried out when the government builds the new postoffice.

By building the city hall facing a central court, it is pointed out that the city can erect its municipal building at any time, there being no need of waiting until the present postoffice is removed. The erection of a city hall facing First street would have necessitated a wait until the Federal building was removed and the new government structure completed and occupied by the various departments. This would have meant a wait of four or five years, it is believed.

With the above assurances from Congressman Miller, the city council could begin negotiations this year for the erection of the new city hall. At the present time, the commissioners are arranging to make the first payment on the city hall site and it is probable some definite action on the building will be taken after a contract for the site is signed by the city and county officials.

CONGRESSMAN MILLER.

FURNACES JUST AS CRANKY AS PERSONS SAYS EXPERT TELLS HOW TO KEEP DOWN THE COAL BILL

Furnaces are just as peculiar and cranky as some persons, according to Joseph W. Hays of Chicago, well known combustion expert, who delivered a lecture at the Commercial club last evening on "How to Get Efficiency Out of a Furnace." Mr. Hays' talk was given under the auspices of the Building Owners and Managers of Duluth and was well attended by a large number of engineers, firemen and private citizens interested in the subject.

"Firing a furnace is a real science," he said, "and to operate it efficiently, one must understand its peculiarities. Just so one must understand a 'cranky' person to handle him."

"Fully 25 per cent of the fuel used by the average high pressure steam plant is lost," declared Mr. Hays. "I have seen instances where 50 and 75 per cent of the fuel cost in high pressure plants was saved by an adjustment of the furnace and boiler, and proper firing.

"Learning the proper amount of air required by the furnace for combustion is one of the most important features of firing it. The average fireman allows about 400 per cent too much air into the draft. But it is just as important to have enough as not to have too much."

To "father," who was present, Mr. Hays said to learn the peculiarities of the furnace grate, its draft and what grade coal will burn best. He also dwelt at length on the combustion principles of a furnace, especially in industrial plants.

Following the lecture Mr. Hays answered a number of questions concerning furnaces and firing.

Mr. Hays is visiting in Duluth today as the guest of Whitney Wall and will leave late this afternoon for Chicago.

FORBID COLLECTIONS FROM SCHOOL CHILDREN

Board of Education Turns Down Proposed Request of Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument Committee to Permit Pupils to Contribute to Fund.

School children will not be permitted to give 5 cents apiece to the soldiers' and sailors' memorial monument in courthouse square, unless they do it outside of school.

Board of education directors, at a meeting last night, turned down a request from the monument committee that each pupil be allowed to contribute a nickel.

"I move that the clerk send them a copy of the rules of the board of education," said Director L. Q. Greeley.

"The board should see its way clear to waive the rules in a matter of this kind," said Director E. R. Cobb.

"I would favor a collection—if we limit the amount to be given by a pupil," said Director H. J. Grannis.

Dr. Greeley's motion prevailed, however. The communication was signed by Col. C. H. Graves, Capt. M. W. Bates and John H. La Vaque.

BIG STEAMER PASSES THROUGH THE CANAL

Panama, Jan. 8.—The steamer Newton, the last vessel waiting for passage through the Panama canal, passed through the waterway yesterday. The Newton, drawing twenty-seven feet, has the greatest draft of any vessel using the canal since it was closed last September.

Maj.-Gen. George W. Goethals, governor of the canal zone, said that while the Newton was permitted to pass through the canal, it was not yet in condition for continuous traffic and that the waterway was not open. He also said it would probably remain closed for a considerable period and declined to make an estimate of the time required to reopen the Gaillard cut, that was closed by a landslide.

"HATTERS' DAY" IS SET FOR THURSDAY, JAN. 27

New York, Jan. 8.—President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, it was announced yesterday, has sent letters to every labor union in America, calling on them to set aside Jan. 27 as "Hatters' Day." On the second hour of this day, Mr. Gompers requests every unionist to work for the Danbury, Conn., unionists against whom a judgment of $252,000 was entered in their legal battle against their employers. According to Mr. Gompers, 3,000,000 workers throughout the country should contribute 25 cents each to the cause. If this were done, the Danbury Hatters would receive $750,000 or almost three times the amount of the judgment.

IF ALL of 1916 will be as busy as the first week of it has been there need be no cause to complain of dullness. A grand opera engagement of three nights and one matinee has given a good begining to the after-holiday amusement season and club meetings and small parties have begun again after the lull.

An engagement of interest was that of Miss Helen Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Williams, to Robert Hamilton Tennant, which was announced Monday at an informal gathering of Miss Williams' intimate friends. Her coming-out party two years ago was one of the most important social events of that season.

Announcements were received this week of the marriage of Mrs. Margaret Johnston and Marshall Allworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Allworth of this city, which took place Dec. 29 in Los Angeles, Cal. The bride, who was Miss Margaret Flynn of Duluth, is the widow of Howard L. Johnston. Several years ago she moved to Seattle, going later to Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. Allworth will be at home in Duluth after April 1.

The literature department of the Twentieth Century club held a luncheon Wednesday at the Spalding hotel, which was followed by talks and informal discussions on subjects of current interest.

The principal musical program of the week was the one which was given Wednesday night at the Lyceum theater by Franz von Loew, pianist, member of faculty of the Flaaten conservatory, and Mme. Tenie Murphy Sheehan, soprano, of Minneapolis.

Five Duluth Composers Will Present Their Own Compositions at Matinee Musicale Program Tuesday Afternoon at First M. E. Church

A program, unlike any yet presented by the Matinee Musicale will be given at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the First Methodist church. It will be unique in that all the numbers were written by Duluth men and women. Two of them were composed especially for this occasion: Miss Faith Helen Rogers' prelude and fugue in D and A. F. M. Custance's double quartet, "The Twilight Hour."

The Matinee Musicale, which has given particular attention this year to compositions by Americans, will show by the "Duluth Composers' day" program that musicians are not always without honor in their own city. This is the club's first venture in "Duluth Music for Duluthians," but the program, which was arranged by Mrs. Bruce Ter Bush, shows that five men and women are capable of furnishing a varied program of sixteen numbers. As the city has other composers who are not represented, it is probable that the programs would keep up to the high standard set by Tuesday's program if "Duluth Composers' day should become an anual affair.

Added interest will be given by the composers' playing their piano compositions and serving as accompanists for the vocal numbers.

Linnaea Club Gives Aid During Holidays

There was the usual discussion of relief work at the meeting of the Linnaea club that was held Tuesday afternoon in Forester's hall, and reports were made of the relief that was given at Christmas time. The club divided $200 between nineteen families Christmas week, sent flowers to the poor farm and flowers and new clothing to Nopeming sanatorium. The flowers sent to Nopeming were used on the tables for Christmas dinner and were then divided among the patients. The regular expenses of the club, for the care of persons suffering of tuberculosis, amounted to $55 in December.

It was decided to have an entertainment in February, but arrangements were left to the social committee of which Mrs. Albert Swanson is the chairman.

After the business meeting the members adjourned to the parlors where a luncheon was served. Red carnations were the decorations. Mrs. O. W. Olson and Mrs. August Magneson were the hostesses for the social hour.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 1 in Forester's hall.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Thoughtful Women.

Women do not think for themselves as much as they should. Until recent years it has hardly been proper for a woman to have any ideas of her own, or to voice any. There are, of course, plenty of women who are not blessed with thinking ability, just as there are any number of men whose deepest thought would not contribute a penny's worth to make the world move forward.

It is not that women are incapable of fine, helpful thought that counts against them, it is that they do not think—that they have not been permitted to think as they should. If it had not been intended all in good time that women should think, they would not have been gifted with that power. That they have it is amply proven by these women who do take it upon themselves to do a little thinking for the good of humanity.

There are women by the thousands all over the world who have been good and dutiful in their own little sphere, in slavish devotion to that expected of them in the four walls of home. But they haven't progressed a bit. They are old before their time—a constant reproach to their families—a reminder of how hard they have worked, and did they and their families know it, living examples of what lack of fine, broadening thought and philosophy derived from living will do for one.

As many women live their lives, there is a tendency to narrow the interests and become self-centered. A woman is not obliged to enter what man chooses to call his arena or the world of work to broaden out or think on helpful lines. It may be done on a sphere purely womanly.

It is dependence of thought and action, the habit of thinking in one or two little grooves and letting it go at that, that makes a woman past efficiency as she approaches the age of two score and ten. She doesn't exercise her faculties as she should—as a man out in the world competing with his kind is bound to do. A faculty that is not used dies. Therefore something is dead, or nearly so, in many women long before it should be. I strongly advise as a preventive of getting into this rut, which brings on mental demise, that all women think more for themselves and not depend on others of either sex to do the heavy thinking part for them.

Newcomers in Duluth's Musical Circles Will Be Heard Sunday

MR. AND MRS. MYRON C. GRIESBERG.

Tomorrow night's service at the Central Baptist church will be featured by the well known duet, "Love Divine, All Love Excelling," which will be sung by Mr. and Mrs. Myron C. Griesberg.

Mrs. Griesberg has a mezzo soprano voice. Mr. Griesberg, a newcomer to Duluth, is well known among the many musical societies of Milwaukee. He is a baritone.

PERFECT BEAUTY
The fashion of the present day requires that the complexion of the well-groomed woman shall be clear and of snowy whiteness. The regular use of GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM
will bestow the charms that are so admired. Gouraud's Oriental Cream is a liquid powder, far surpassing the dry powders that have to be applied so frequently to gain the desired effect. It whitens, softens and clears the skin. It is absolutely free from grease and consequently does not encourage the growth of hair.

War Correspondent to Lecture Here Jan. 14

Frederick Palmer, who Friday night, Jan. 14, will give the first lecture of the course offered by the Association of Collegiate Alumnae, is an interesting figure in the newspaper world of today. He was born in Pleasantville, Pa., in 1863. From 1895 to 1897 he was London correspondent for the Greek war. The next few years found him in the Klondike, in the Philippines, in Central America, in Macedonia, with the Japanese army in the Russo-Japanese war, and in 1909 he was "covering" the Turkish revolution. Just before the present war he was with the Carranza forces investigating the Mexican situation. In the midst of wars and revolutions he took time to cruise around the world with the American battleship fleet. In the last twenty years he has been at the seat of every important war.

But he has been interested not only in the fighting side of life. He has made several essays in the role of novelist. Current Opinion of June, 1914, reviews his novel "The Last Shot." In this book he describes a war of the future. One nation has 5,000,000, another 3,000,000 men in the field. Both are equipped with the deadliest development of modern science in the way of cannon and rifles, and with fleets of aeroplanes and dirigibles. In the midst of the terrible slaughter, the men of the two armies suddenly become awake to the uselessness of their work. They throw down their guns and go home. The review says, "It is too simple to be convincing; but Mr. Palmer's main idea—that war raised to the nth degree of perfection, may be destroyed by that very perfection—is interestingly developed." It is interesting also in view of what happened less than a year after the book was published.

The lecture will be at 8:15 at the First Methodist church.

The best painting from 1600 to 1200 B. C. will be studied as will the use of the colors employed by the ancient Egyptians.

Luncheon for Red Cross Workers of Duluth

The women of the communities of Hunter's Park and Glen Avon, who have been doing Red Cross work every Wednesday afternoon for six weeks, will give a luncheon from 12 to 1 o'clock Wednesday at the Glen Avon Presbyterian church to raise money to carry on their work. It will be under the auspices of the guild of the church but will not be a neighborhood affair, as an invitation has been extended to all who want to help the Red Cross cause.

The women packed their first box last week with warm clothing for children, socks, wristlets, abdominal bandages and other equally practical articles. However, they have decided to limit their work to preparing hospital supplies, such as bandages and hospital shirts. Part of the proceeds of the luncheon will be used to buy materials from which to make hospital supplies and part will be sent to the countries that are at war to pay the women for making clothes for the soldiers and the destitute. That the women need employment was shown by Mrs. C. S. Sargent, whose talk on war conditions inspired the women to take up Red Cross work.

Suffrage Activities

One of the interesting meetings of the week was that held by the Duluth Woman's Suffrage association Tuesday afternoon. The principal speaker was Mrs. P. L. Devoist, who was a delegate from Minnesota to the forty-seventh annual convention of the National Suffrage association which was held in Washington, D. C., last month.

In telling of the convention Mrs. Devoist referred to the invitation that was extended by Charles D. Hilles, chairman of the national Republican committee, then meeting in Washington, to the National Suffrage association, the Congressional union and the Anti-Suffrage association, all of which were holding conventions, to send representatives to one of the Republican meetings. The women were seated on the stage with Chairman Hilles. Through Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, the National Suffrage association asked that a plank for woman suffrage be indorsed by the Republican committee for its 1916 platform. The same request was made by the Congressional union.

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont has brought out the libretto for a suffrage opera. Miss Elsie Maxwell has written the music. The opera, which is called "Melinda and Her Sisters," is a satire on society and will be presented Feb. 18 at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel. The receipts will be used to further equal suffrage.

At the centenary of the Norwegian constitution, celebrated in Christiania in the summer of 1914, public men were appealed to by suffrage workers for an expression of opinion on the consequences of giving the vote to women, for it was thought such testimony might have an effect on the numerous American voters of Norwegian extraction who were soon to pronounce on the issue in several of our states. The answer was, writes Hanna Astrup Larsen in the January Yale Review, that the question had long since passed beyond the pale of discussion, and a Norwegian statesman arguing on the right of women to vote would feel as foolish as an American if he were to discourae on their right to learn to read or to go about in public unveiled. Less than a quarter of a century had elapsed between the first demand by a few pioneers and the granting of political rights to women; half a decade had sufficed to make the new order accepted as a matter of course.

Comes to Duluth as Bride

MRS. CALVIN F. HOW, JR.

Mrs. Calvin F. How, Jr., who as Miss Gertrude Barrows of Webster Groves, Mo., a suburb of St. Louis, visited Duluth relatives and friends the last two summers, is now a resident of Duluth.

The wedding was set for the spring, but while Mr. How was in Webster Groves for a Christmas visit it was decided to hasten the date. The ceremony took place at noon, Wednesday, Dec. 29, at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. B. E. Reed officiated in the presence of relatives and intimate friends. Miss Alfreda Prince was the bridesmaid and Miss Elizabeth Hawk played the wedding march. The bride wore her traveling costume of dark blue chiffon broadcloth trimmed with black chinchilla fur. Her corsage bouquet was of Sunshine roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. How's father is the St. Louis local agent for the American Steel & Wire company.

Some Notable Additions to Duluth Orchestra

Director Fred G. Bradbury has returned from Chicago, where he closed contracts with several musicians with whom he has been negotiating for some time, all of whom will appear with the orchestra at each of the ten twilight concerts to be given at the new armory during the winter, commencing Sunday, Jan. 23.

The musicians secured are Joseph Chabr, oboe and English horn; Stephen Mala, contra bass, both former members of the Pittsburgh Symphony orchestra under Emil Pauer, two seasons with the St. Paul Symphony orchestra under Walter H. Rothwell, and the past season with Innes band at the Panama exposition, San Francisco, which engagement terminated only with the closing of the exposition early in December; Adolph Morel, violinist, from the Chicago Grand Opera company; Henry Reimer, violinist, of the American Symphony orchestra, Chicago; Charles Tryner, French horn, from the same organization, and Henry Cunnington, bassoon, from London, a former member of the famous Godfrey band and at present with the Chicago Grand Opera company, whose season closes just prior to the opening of the Duluth orchestra's concerts.

In addition to these players Mr. Bradbury has had under contract for some time Folke Gilbert, violinist, who played for two seasons with the St. Paul Symphony orchestra and three seasons with the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra; Bernard Seigert, cellist, three seasons with the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, and Victor Wurms, flute, formerly of the Royal Opera at Vienna and later first flutist of the St. Paul Symphony orchestra.

Mr. Gilbert will be concert master of the Duluth orchestra.

With these musicians, all of whom have had the most rigid orchestral training under the most noted present day conductors, together with the thirty local musicians, it will be seen that the Duluth Orchestral association is sparing no pains to make the Duluth orchestra the most pretentious organization that local musical interests have ever assembled. The orchestra will be complete instrumentally.

FLORENCE LINCOLN.

A beautiful New York debutante of this season is Florence Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Lincoln of Greenwich, Conn.

Musical Comedy Singer Will Appear in Grand Opera Soon

Theatergoers of only a few years ago will remember "little Anna Fitzhugh," who appeared in several popular light operas including "The Wizard of Oz." She was especially popular in New York. Now Broadway will welcome "Anna Fitziu" in the new grand opera, "Goyescas," which is to have its first performance at the Metropolitan opera house in a few weeks.

Miss Fitzhugh earned $30 a week in comic opera. No one but Mr. Gatti and herself knows what she will receive at the Metropolitan, but it is a good deal more than $30 a performance. The transformation of Anna and her name occurred after she had married a rich Canadian named J. J. Harty, a resident of Kingston. After a short residence in Kingston, Anna developed the ambition to sing in the big opera. So she went to Italy, where she changed her name's spelling to Fitziu because she found the Italians called her "Fitz-hug." It will be remembered that Maggie Talt became Teyte when she went to Paris and for a like reason. Anna studied languages as well as music, and her debut was made at Rimini where she received $20 for her first appearance. Now after four years she is to appear at the big opera house in New York—the ambition of every singer in the world. She was chosen for a part in "Goyescas" because Mme. Borl, the Spanish prima donna, is ill and Miss Fitziu is one of the few sopranos in New York who can sing in Spanish.

CHINESE WILL CELEBRATE NEW YEARS ONE MONTH LATE IN STYLE OF THEIR ADOPTED COUNTRY

Chinese will usher in their fifth new year on Feb. 1.

In fact they will celebrate three New Years at once, and that may explain why the celebration will be more extensive than usual.

The many members of Duluth's Celestial colony already are cudgeling their brains for new dishes and drinks which will feature the banquets to be held in the cafes after the doors have been barred to mere Americans, who celebrated the incoming of their New Years on the evening of Dec. 31.

Feb. 2 will start the fifth year of the new Chinese republic. It also will mark the beginning of the year 2467, dating from Confucius and the year 4613, dating from the first Chinese emperor.

Chin D. Ong, head of the Chinese colony of Duluth and Superior, announced yesterday that elaborate plans were being made for the New Year's eve celebration.

"I wouldn't do to tell you all about it," he said, "because part of the schedule is a secret. We are going to have a big time, however."

"Do you think we will be able to make as much noise as other people did at 12 o'clock midnight on Dec 31?"

Mr. Ong didn't say whether or not the Chinese hoped to outdo noise making of the city at large.

PER CAPITA COST OF EDUCATION VARIES IN DULUTH SCHOOLS FROM $1.83 TO $5.48; DENFELD IS HIGHEST

It costs more to educate a pupil at the R. E. Denfeld high school in West Duluth than in any other building in the city. The cost there is $5.48 per month per pupil.

Supt. R. E. Denfeld, in his monthly report to the board of education, gave an interesting report on the per capita cost of teaching Duluth girls and boys their A B C's during December.

"As will be seen," he commented, "this varies somewhat owing to the salaries of teachers and substitutes required in the several buildings. In some buildings there are more pupils per teacher, which reduces the cost."

At the Radisson school the per capita cost is $3.04, and at the Oneota it is $2.95. These two lead the grade school list. The other schools range from $1.83 at the Merritt up to the cost at the Radisson and Oneota, which are the two smallest in the city.

At Central high school the per capita cost is $4.99, half a dollar less than at the Denfeld high.

"This estimate of per capita cost does not include the special instruction that has been given," said the superintendent. "We are endeavoring to get the monthly per capita cost, and then, at the end of the year, compare it with the yearly per capita costs."

CURING DEFECTS OF SEVENTEEN PUPILS

Three Stutterers and One Stammerer Have Been Dismissed.

Seventeen children with defective speech were receiving daily instruction in a special class at the Nettleton school, according to the first report of Florence B. Parker to the board of education last night.

"Four children, one stammerer and three stutterers, have been dismissed," Miss Parker reported, "and all but four show marked improvement. Stammering is a mental thing, and therefore harder to cure. The stammerer usually is a grown up stutterer.

"Because a stupid girl 'just for fun' held a little boy in his baby cart in front of an oncoming train," Miss Parker said, "we have three stutterers in Duluth schools.

"The boy stuttered ever afterwards, and his two younger brothers stutter through imitation."

This is the first year that schools for defective children have been conducted in this city.

SCHOOLS WIPE OUT DISEASE

School Physician and Nurses Drive Out Scarlet Fever.

Students Will Attend "Safety First" Methods Meeting Friday.

Directors of the board of education last night heard Supt. R. E. Denfeld's monthly report on departmental work in the schools, activities of the school physician and changes in the teaching staff.

"Scarlet fever has been practically stamped out in the schools," Supt. Denfeld said, "due to the fact that the physician and nurses have so thoroughly handled the matter of contagious diseases in the schools."

Dr. J. H. Andres' report showed that 143 children visited his office for diagnosis and treatment during December. He treated 128 children and visiting nurses called at 285 homes. In all, 433 children were treated by the visiting nurses. Red Cross seals sold by school children brought $500, Dr. Andres said.

Directors of the departments of music, drawing, home economics, physical training also presented their reports for the last month of 1915.

Students of Duluth schools will attend the meeting on safety methods Friday afternoon, Jan. 14, at the armory. Supt. Denfeld explained that the street car company would transport free all children who did not live within walking distance. School will be excused early so that they may attend.

Supt. Denfeld recommended that I. K. Lewis, Duluth attorney, be appointed to the Duluth teachers' examining board to succeed G. W. C. Ross, resigned. This recommendation was followed by the board a few minutes later.

WOODLAND IS ASKING RIGHTS

Neighborhood Club Complains of Mail Service to Suburbs.

Names Committee to Act in Framing of Building Code.

Woodland citizens want better mail service.

Members of the Woodland Neighborhood club, at their regular meeting last evening at the Cobb school, delegated a committee to confer with the postal officials with reference to having an improvement made in the suburban delivery service.

Complaints were registered at the meeting that first class mail posted in the city often arrives in homes in Woodland two and sometimes three days later.

The committee appointed some time ago to confer with officials of the Duluth Street Railway company with reference to an improvement in the Woodland car service reported that the company had made some concessions but that the service was not yet all that is desired. Better service during rush morning hours is wanted.

Building Code Committee.

Eugene Hubbard, C. F. Colman and E. W. Burbeck were constituted a committee to represent the club on a general committee being organized by Mayor Prince for the purpose of framing a combined city building, plumbing and electrical code.

President E. A. Silberstein of the Associated Charities made a short address on the aims and purposes of the what was being accomplished in the schools among under-fed and defective pupils. The work of the Woman's council was explained by Mrs. C. F. Colman.

The Neighborhood club will stage a local talent vaudeville show at the Cobb school some time next month. The arrangements for the affair are now being made, a committee having been named for this purpose.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR NOTES

Subject: "Why Join the Church?" reference, Eph. iii, 8-21.

This meeting comes at a time of the year when many churches are holding evangelistic meetings, and the Christian Endeavor societies should do what they can to turn such of their members as are not church members toward thinking of their duty to take a stand for Christ.

The church affords the only clear cut and workable method of taking a stand for Jesus Christ before the world. It is easy by joining the church to tell the whole world that we wish to be counted for Christ, and it is hard to make that position plain in any other way.

The following services will be held in the city:

First Baptist—Fred Keller will be the leader for this society and the service is held at 7 o'clock in the Christian Endeavor room. In the contest between the Reds and Blues, the Reds were ahead for the first time last Sunday, but the Blues have a big lead. All young people are welcome to this service.

First Presbyterian—The service of this society will be held at the usual hour and the regular topic will be provided with Ned Marvin as leader. Thursday at 7 o'clock the Mission study class will meet with Miss G. M. Hall, as leader, to study South America.

Harvey Webb M. E.—Miss Clara Amundson will be the leader for this service, using the regular topic and meeting at the usual hour. A feature of last week's meeting was a reading by Rev. J. W. Lillico on "New Year's Resolutions."

Lakeside Presbyterian—This society meets at 6 p. m. with A. L. McDermid as leader, using the regular topic. Francis Dever, as president, invites all young people of the locality to join in the service.

Morgan Park—This society will unite with the Westminster society and hold a union Endeavor service at Morgan Park, to which a cordial invitation is extended to all the young people of the Model city.

Bethel Schedule—Jan. 10, Lakeside Presbyterian society; Jan. 24, Second Presbyterian society.

Hundreds of pictures illustrating traffic dangers and safety measures will be shown at the "safety first" lectures to be delivered at the new armory next Friday and Saturday.

In the afternoons, school children from outlying districts will be taken to the armory on street cars free of charge, while those near the building will accompany their teachers on the trip.

The lectures will be open to the public and every person in the city is urged to attend, in order to acquaint himself with the traffic dangers of a large city and learn the "safety first" measures suggested by the experts of local railroads and the street car company.

EDEN SENTENCED FOR BANK ROBBERY

Man Arrested in Duluth for Minneapolis Police Gets Long Term.

Judge Hale of Minneapolis yesterday sentenced Hugo Eden of Superior, who was arrested in a West Michigan street hotel about a month ago, charged with being one of the three men who held up employes in the Camden State bank in Minneapolis the previous week, to from five to forty years imprisonment in the state penitentiary.

Chief of Police McKercher, Sergeant Englert and Detective Toewe, who appeared as witnesses in the trial, returned to Duluth last night.

Eden's arrest followed his arrival here in an automobile with four companions. One of the latter escaped just before the police arrived at the hotel, but Eden and the two others were taken into custody. Eden was the only one of the trio connected with the Camden robbery, by identification, and in his grip was found a revolver that James Peterson, cashier of the Minneapolis bank, identified as the weapon used in the hold-up. About $1,300 was stolen by the robbers.

Eden's companions here were released as there was nothing to hold them for.

During his trial Eden created a sensation by denying a confession that he had made to the police and also declaring that he had been choked and beaten by the police for more than an hour. Judge Hale, in sentencing the prisoner, included in his record the statement that the court did not believe a word Eden had said.

WHEAT AGAIN HAS UPTURN

Market Turns Strong on Bidding By Exporters at Seaboard.

Flax Bulges on Renewed Crushers' Call and Higher Cables.

Duluth Board of Trade, Jan., 8.—After showing weakness around the opening on lower cables, the wheat market turned strong in the late trading today, and the close was nearly at the high of the session.

The bulge was brought about through reported better shipping conditions at the seaboard and predictions that the congestion at New York would be relieved within ten days or two weeks. In the meantime substantial improvement was shown, Baltimore reporting the loading of a large fleet there with grain. The intimation that the British government might place a maximum limit on ocean freight rates on grain also had some effect. As a consequence of these developments, the working of some fresh export trade was advised at the seaboard and bidding by millers was better. The steady falling off in receipts over the Northwest was another strengthening factor. Compared with a year ago, however, the movement is liberal. At Duluth today receipts were 154 cars as against only 16 last year. Minneapolis had 399 cars against 232 and Winnipeg, 345 compared with 71.

May wheat opened ¼c off at $1.22½, weakened ⅜c more, and then took an upturn, closing ½@⅝c up at $1.23¼@$1.23⅜c bid. July closed ⅞c up at $1.23¼.

May durum opened ¼c off at $1.19¾, eased off ⅜c more and closed ⅝c up at $1.21⅞.

Oats were strong closing ¼c up at 43⅛c for on the track. Rye closed unchanged at 93c and barley 1c up at from 65 to 73c for on the track.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed ⅛c up at 49c bid.

Flax Still Strong.

Flaxseed eased off 1c during the early trading on some disposition on the part of crushers to wait for a recession after the long upturn. Cables then came strong and that brought in fresh buying. Buenos Aires closed 2¼c up at $1.35½ and London 6⅞c up at $2.86⅞.

May flax opened unchanged at $2.30, and closed ¾c up at $2.30¾ bid. July closed 1¼c up at $2.31⅝.

At Winnipeg May flax closed 1c up at $2.10½.

Lower Liverpool Quotations and Lack of Buying Depress Wheat.

Chicago, Jan. 8.—Wheat declined today as a result of lower quotations from Liverpool and because of the lack of adequate export buying. Besides a fresh increase of stocks at Minneapolis was noted and the railroad congestion East, though said to be improved in some respects, was still an almost complete barrier to fresh business. Selling was generally of a stop-loss character. After opening ¼@⅝c to ⅜c down, with May at $1.23¾ to $1.23¼ and July at $1.17 to $1.17⅜, the market underwent a moderate further setback.

Subsequently an upturn took place influenced by assertions that sales of wheat to go to the seaboard had been larger than reported. The close was firm, ⅝c to ⅞@¾c net higher, with May $1.26 and July $1.18¼.

Corn sagged owing to the weakness of wheat. Bear pressure, however, was not of an aggressive sort. The opening, which ranged from a shade to ⅜c lower, was followed by a slight additional decline and then a little reaction.

Signs of improved inquiry led afterward to a rally. Predictions were made that receipts here would become the smallest in years. The close was steady at ⅛c to ⅜c net advance.

Oats took the downward course with other grain. Trade, though, was light.

Some firmness developed in provisions because of scattered buying. Lower prices on hogs appeared to be ignored.

MORE ADVANCES IN THE COPPERS

Heavy Trading in Butte & Superior on Reports From Mines.

Butte & Superior was the feature in a strong and active market in mining stocks at Boston today. There was heavy trading in it from the opening on glowing reports regarding operating conditions at the mine. It closed $1 up at $78.25, the highest point on this movement.

Calumet & Arizona was another strong stock, advancing 75c to a close of $71.25. American Zinc closed 50c off at $69.50; Copper Range, 50c up at $64.75; Granby, 37c up at $86.12; Greene-Cananea, 88c up at $50; North Butte unchanged at $30, and Shattuck, 25c up at $33.75.

Good progress is being made in development work at the properties of the Cactus Consolidated Mining company in Kern county, Cal. A well-defined vein of antimony is reported to have been located on the Mammoth claim. It is said to be among the richest in the country, and ore is being sacked from it. At the company's Leona property it is estimated that gold ore to the value of $400,000 has been already blocked out. Two rich ore chutes have been located 500 feet apart.

The Marsh Mining company is estimated to be earning between 2@3c net per share a month on its stock. The mill is reported to be handling from 150 to 180 tons of ore a day at the present, and it is generally working up to its full capacity of 200 tons a day.

Paine, Webber & Co. had the following from Boston: "The local market was very active and strong. Stocks were readily taken and the supply is scarce. The tremendous profits that are being made by the producing mines is now being reflected in the shares, and they will surely sell very much higher. Do not let them get away, for the upturn is now going along in a rapid way."

The current issue of Skillings' Mining and Market Letter is entitled, by its publishers, as the "Mining prosperity edition."

It contains sixteen pages and is profusely illustrated with cuts showing mining operations in the various districts in which Duluth investors are interested.. Among these are to be mentioned the Interstate-Callahan, Shattuck, Cuyuna-Sultana, Big Ledge, Butte-Alex Scott and the Carnegie Lead & Zinc company.

Price for American Bonds.

London, Jan. 8.—The list of prices given out yesterday at which the British government is prepared to buy American bonds under the securities mobilization plan does not represent a fixed basis of purchase, but is to be changed each day. A new list was given out today containing thirty-five alterations of yesterday's prices.

London Money.

London, Jan. 8.—Money was in better supply and discount rates were steady today. American exchange opened weak but was steadier later and cable transfers advanced to $4.76½. American securities recovered most of yesterday's losses and closed steady.

ACTIVITY IN STOCK MARKET

Buying Resumed on Large Scale at Increased Prices.

Belief in Speedy Solution of German Differences Assists.

New York, Jan. 8.—Active buying of leading shares was resumed at the opening of today's market, such issues as United States Steel, Anaconda Copper, American Can, Mercantile Marine preferred and Mexican Petroleum being absorbed in large volume at gains ranging from fractions to over a point. Aside from New York Central and Rock Island rails were not exceptionally prominent, but showed a strong undertone. War stocks also added to yesterday's late gains, notably Air-brake and Lackawanna Steel. Bethlehem Steel rose 10 to 440. Anglo-French war bonds were in further demand, rising to 95⅞.

The further rise in quoted values during the early part of today's session was based largely on the belief of a speedy solution of existing differences with Germany. Extensive short covering accelerated the advance which was led by United States Steel although that stock made far less headway than such issues as Mexican Petroleum, American Can, American Smelting and Anaconda copper. Profit-taking followed the advance causing some material declines. Trading in general was professional and fell away in the final hour. The closing was irregular.

Bonds were irregular but Anglo-French 5s were steadily absorbed, attaining the new high quotation for the present movement of 95⅞.

TWO MINES REOPENED

Neversweat and Moonlight Will Be Operated at Capacity.

Anaconda Company Plans Biggest Year in Its History.

Butte, Mont., Jan. 8.—The Neversweat mine of the Anaconda Copper Mining company, which has been closed down for the last two years, and the Moonlight mine of the same company, which has been down for nearly a year, have been started up again and before the end of January both mines will be operating at capacity. The Moonlight mine employs about 300 men and has a daily output of approximately 400 tons of ore. The Neversweat, when running at capacity with double shifts, employs 400 men and turns out an average of 600 tons of ore per day.

During the shutdown of the Neversweat, a new hoist has been installed with new machinery and the entire shaft has been retimbered and repaired. The work there has been difficult and expensive, as the Neversweat ground was of a character that made the progress slow. It is now one of the best and safest mines in the Butte district. The Moonlight is also in fine condition, with a new engine installed and the shaft retimbered. The Neversweat will be operated on all the levels down to the 2,500 and the Moonlight the same down to its lowest level, the 1,700.

The Anaconda company is now operating the following mines in Butte: Mountain View, Pennsylvania, Belmont, West Gray Rock, Silver Bow, Neversweat, Lexington, Poulin, Moonlight, Tropic, Leonard, Mountain Con, Steward, High Ore, Bell, Badger State, West Colusa, Original, St. Lawrence, Tramway, Berkeley and Anaconda. The only operating shaft that is not yet running is the East Colusa, which was shut down to make needed repairs and changes some four months ago.

About 12,000 Men Employed.

At the twenty-two mines now in operation, close to 12,000 men are employed. With the starting of the Neversweat and Moonlight the production will be increased steadily. The changes in the smelting plant at Anaconda and the improvements at the Great Falls Reduction works are nearing completion and, beginning Feb. 1, it is expected that the copper production will be increased to 23,000,000 pounds per month.

There are more than 5,000 now on the payrolls at the Washoe smelter. During the holidays it was found necessary to close the Butte mines on Christmas and New Year's days and on the Sundays following each of them, making a shutdown of four days all told. The trouble was that the extreme cold weather resulted in the ore freezing while in transit from the mines to the reduction works and the thawing rooms at Anaconda and Great Falls could not handle the ore as fast as it came from the mines.

The storage bin capacity at both Anaconda and Great Falls has been increased, however, so that trouble of this kind will not interfere in the future with mining operations. The improvements at the reduction works will make it possible to operate all the Butte mines at practically their capacity after Feb. 1.

The capacity of the experimental zinc plant at Anaconda has now been increased so that about 50,000 pounds of zinc per day of a very high grade can be turned out. The zinc ores for this plant are being supplied from the Poulin, East Gray Rock and Lexington mines.

New Zinc Concentrator.

The new zinc concentrator is being pushed with all possible speed and it is now intended to start it by July 1 or perhaps sooner. The work on the electrolytic zinc refinery at Great Falls is being rushed at the highest possible speed, and it will be in readiness for operation before the date—Sept. 1—set by President Ryan, if no obstacles that are unforeseen are encountered.

An estimate of the coming year's operations by the Anaconda company places the output of copper at 230,000,000 pounds, of zinc at 40,000,000 pounds and of silver at 15,000,000 ounces.

These are based on the known capacity of the improvements already completed and those now in course of construction.

The cost of production has been so reduced that earnings of between $40,000,000 and $50,000,000 can be realized if the prices of these metals hold approximately around the present prices for the next year. The dividend requirements of the Anaconda company for a year on the basis of the present rate of $6 per share will be only about $14,000,000.

Extensive Improvements.

The improvements now under way at the Washoe plant at Anaconda, the Great Falls plant and in the Butte mining district will cost in the neighborhood of $5,000,000. Of this amount $2,000,000 will be expended on the new zinc plant.

The company will have ample funds it is predicted to pay all interest charges, create a sinking fund of $17,000,000 to retire the 5 per cent notes that are due in March, 1917, pay the cost of the projected improvements and care for the dividends this year and still leave a surplus out of the earnings.

Baron Astor of Hever Castle.

London, Jan. 8.—William Waldorf Astor, formerly of New York, who was raised to the peerage last week by King George, has assumed the title of Baron Astor of Hever castle.

MARSH IN DEMAND

This stock was in steady demand by investment buyers during the week and closed strong at 35 to 37 cents. Remember, the Marsh adjoins the great Hecla mine, which stock sold at one time at 10 cents per share and advanced to $3.75 and has paid $3.25 a share since in dividends. Marsh could easily duplicate Hecla's record. It might duplicate Interstate Callahan's. Who can say? Few years ago no one thought Interstate would go like it has and pay such enormous dividends. Remember, Marsh has no debts—a good surplus and lots of ore.

SUCCESS GOING UP

Success shares are again on the move, closing today at 70 cents per share. Success is an excellent buy at these prices for dividends.

CUYUNA SULTANA

In the iron shares, this is one of the best stocks on the boards, the management having brought it to a successful producer. With dividends in sight, will soon turn their attention to making a big market on the stock and it will be listed early in the week on the Duluth market and possibly later on the Eastern markets. We think it the best buy in the iron shares.

WILL DRILL COPPER ISLE

T. F. Cole Holdings on Isle Royale Will Be Tested.

Allouez Shipping 2,000 Tons Daily—Other Copper Mining News.

Houghton, Mich., Jan. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Allouez is continuing to forward 2,000 tons of rock daily to the two mills, which are operated by the Lake Milling, Smelting & Refining company, of which corporation it is part owner. Lake No. 2, formerly known as Tamarack No. 2, where it supplies with about 600 tons one of the two heads, the other stamping Centennial rock, and the Centennial-Allouez, which mills the remainder. The monthly output for November and December was about 53,000 tons, which would give, for a year, over 11,000,000 tons and would earn on a 20-cent copper market at about $12.50 a share. This monthly tonnage figure will not be increased until after the strenuous winter season is over.

Island Copper company, which holds on Isle Royale between 92,000 and 93,000 acres, almost wholly lying on the mineralized area, when the weather permits, in the spring, will begin a diamond drill campaign of exploration which will be followed most likely by development shafts. This island, about fifty-four miles from the western end of the waterway that passes between Houghton and Hancock, permitting the passage of the largest lake boats through the Keweenaw peninsula, is the largest fresh water island in the world, being about forty miles in length. The total acreage is about 125,000 and that not owned by this company is mostly the non-mineral bearing sandstone part of the series. Over 82,700 acres of the company's lands were purchased by it from two English companies, which did some work there prior to 1898, and the price paid was about $1.19 an acre. It is estimated to be worth two or three times this amount for the timber. Other companies did some exploratory work previous to the date given above and a limited but not profitable production of copper was made.

Good Mine Likely.

The outcroppings are numerous and very marked in many places and it is thought by those familiar with the island that a highly profitable mine can be developed. The controlling interest in the company is held by T. F. Cole of Duluth, who has given a great deal of personal attention to the preliminary study of the lands and their geological conditions. A plan of operation is being laid out so that the work can begin as early as possible.

Wyandot's two stopes on the eighth level are still maintaining the excellent values encountered when they were first opened. The rock is of a rich stamp grade carrying a little small mass or barrel copper. A third stope has been started on the same level to the southwest, but not enough work has been done yet to determine its character. This work is being done preparatory to a mill test.

Michigan has now its shaft down to a depth of about 300 feet. The old shaft was found to be bottomed 265 feet down and after it was sunk to that depth sinking was begun. It will be extended down at least to 400 feet and possibly further. A little copper has been met with now and then. Of course the Butler lode is very bunchy in places and this shaft undoubtedly is one of the lean runs, but it changes very rapidly on the strike and paying ground may appear in a short distance in the drift. This work was not undertaken to explore the Butler lode as much as the new ones that have been revealed by the South Lake shaft, and to explore any of the lodes in the vicinity that give any promise. However after the Butler has shown such a richness at the South Lake it will be tested thoroughly. Then, besides, the successful working of this lode at the mass has brought this once discredited lode back into favor, and the success is due in some measure to the recent improvements in mining and milling. Then it is likely that the results of the experiments in leaching and flotation are going to be a great boon to these leaner lodes.

To Extend Stoping.

Winona is getting more ground available for stoping through the gradual unwatering of the mine. The water has been drained now to the thirteenth level which is near the bottom, shafts No. 1, King Philip, and No. 3, Winona, being down to the thirteenth level and No. 4, Winona, to the fifteenth. As there is no expense for new work, but present mining being confined to ground already opened, the expenditure is much less than formerly and a very good profit is being made and it is more than likely that the profit for January will be greater than that of December, as the price obtained for the copper will be higher, according to present indications.

New Arcadian is still in the good ground on the 900-foot level north, having found it to average the best in the mine for about forty feet. The shaft is down about 125 feet, and it has been figured that the 1,250-foot level will be arrived at and the cross-cut driven through the lode in about eight weeks. A high rate of speed is being made in this work. The other openings are looking particularly good just at present. At the "hill" shaft, as the second shaft is called here, the crosscut is still being carried east so as to pass through another lode for data to determine which of two or three different lodes is the New Arcadian.

New Baltic has entered the ledge with the diamond drill at the depth of fifty-four feet; that is, on the angle of hole, in order to strike the lodes at right angles as nearly as possible. The hole will be bored through to the conglomerate, which will aid in the identification of the New Arcadian lode. Owing to the curving of the lodes, as stated before, it is almost impossible to locate from a surface where there is no outcrop one particular lode, when there are so many so close together.

Hancock is now through the 200-foot wide strip purchased from it by the Quincy with another level, the sixty-ninth, the seventieth having gone through it ten days ago, into its own territory. The good values are still in evidence. The tonnage is still about 400 tons daily, but in a short time the drifting will be so far advanced that stoping, the taking out of the good ground according to the best mining methods, can be begun, and the tonnage will commence to gradually and steadily grow larger.

Copper Disclosure Remarkable.

South Lake's disclosure of copper in the Butler lode is certainly remarkable, as two-thirds of a total width of ninety-one feet is commercially mineralized with a stretch of very high grades for twenty-five feet, entered fifteen feet from the foot-wall where the cross-cut met the lode, and another of fifteen feet that is very good along the hanging wall. The width of the lode and the width and average high grade of the copper showings make this one of the important finds of the year. It makes the eighth lode carrying copper and the seventh bearing profitable grades, as No. 2 of the North lodes, although it has fair values at the mass, was rather poor here both in width and quality. Some drifting will be done at once on the Butler. G. H. Punkey, a graduate of the Michigan College of Mines and assistant superintendent at the Wakefield iron mine at Bessemer, in this state, made a careful inspection of the mine about ten days ago, and said to the writer that six out of the eight lodes, comprising four opened by the long cross-cut and known as the South lode, three opened by the shaft and known as the North lodes, and the Butler, encountered about 800 feet north of the shaft, appeared to be well mineralized and to be each a mine in itself, if they should persist for long distances as good as they are now. He further said that the one lode that had been opened for a long distance, No. 1 of the North lodes, for 900 feet, was in quality, abundance and uniformity somewhat the best of those lodes where drifts had been driven, and that the Butler's rock is striking in the great amount of heavy copper and its quantity of merchantable grades.

Baltic's condition underground is better than at any time during the last year, as No. 2, which is sending up more than one-half of the present production is with depth and strike on the lode, keeping up its good average. Nos. 3 and 4 are better at the bottom, and No. 5, which had a good year on the west vein is continuing in the good rock on this vein, both on the levels opened some time ago and those where drifts have been begun lately. Good progress has been made in sinking the shafts, as in a short time No. 2 will have passed through its fourth level within a year, No. 3 has already gained three more levels in the same length of time and is on its way to the fourth, and No. 4 is going down to its third new level. No. 2 is down to the twenty-seventh level, No. 3 is proceeding towards the thirty-first, and No. 4 is below the twenty-eighth. No. 5 has exhausted its good ground on the main lode and is getting about all of its rock from the west vein.

Another Vein Encountered.

At this shaft another west vein has been encountered about forty feet further on, which had some copper on the footwall and later this will be explored by drifting. The west vein has been opened on two of the other shafts with fair results. It is believed that the west vein will be found to bear good values at all four shafts.

Ahmeek is rushing its seventh and eighth stamps with their "wash," as the contract with the Nordberg Manufacturing company provides that the stamps shall be ready in ninety days and some of the Wilfley tables and jigs that were intended for the regrinding mill have been diverted to the Ahmeek mill and are being set up. It will take about five to six months to get the first of these stamps in commission and by that time there will be probably rock enough for it, as the mill is running a part of every Sunday now and Nos. 3 and 4, which are shipping only six to seven cars to the mill, will then be hoisting much more rock.

Douglas Copper company will, most likely, in the spring or early summer, work in conjunction with T. F. Cole, who will be the guiding spirit and who has bought recently the apex forty between the Allouez and Ahmeek properties, just above the Douglas, which extends almost evenly with its eighteen "forties" across this angle, on the underlie of the Kearsarge lode. Mr. Cole purchased one-quarter interest in this from R. R. Goodell when he obtained all the holdings of the latter in the district, and one-half interest from Mrs. Fanny Devereaux of Portland, Or. This forty is the nearest undeveloped land to the outcrop of the Kearsarge lode and carries the underlie of the Calumet conglomerate and the Osceola amygdaloid and Allouez and Kearsarge conglomerates. The location of the Cole forty, so close to the good Ahmeek and Allouez, would justify the sinking of a vertical shaft to explore the mineral in the lode. It might be called the insurance forty of the lot. It is the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 32, 57-32, and the price paid for the Devereaux half interest is said to be $4,000 an acre.

Parallel to Cole Purchase.

There was almost a parallel case in the history of the Calumet & Pittsburg mine, owned by the Calumet & Arizona, when it paid quite a sum for the Del Norte claim, because it was thought to be the first part of that group of claims that would give commercial values. The purchase justified the expenditure, as almost the whole forty carried ore and its profit furnished the means for the extension of the shafts to a sufficient depth to pump out the large quantity of water afterwards met with there so as to reach ore bodies that were believed to exist and were developed and did prove very profitable.

Superior & Boston has passed through its storm and stress period, the very same that all of the proprieties, Old Dominion, Globe and others, have gone through, and have survived as very healthy, active and profitably producing mines. The sedementary strata in that portion of Globe, Ariz., have been greatly folded and by faulting and other earth movements have been pushed out of their original locations in such a way that the best geologists, men of international fame, have been puzzled to trace them. Besides the oxides and carbonates, there has been a barren zone before the sulphides were reached. On this same vein to the east is the Copper Hill, a part of the Arizona Commercial, then the National, the Arizona Commercial proper, and next the Superior & Boston. All of them, save the last, are now mining in the sulphide or have found them by the diamond drill below this barren zone with fine results. The Superior & Boston has the ore, sulphides on the tenth level, intends to push out on the twelfth into them and then raise up and perhaps go down with winzes. Afterwards, if these levels show up as well as they have in other properties, sinking will be started to the fourteenth level. The National has arrived at such a depth now that it will take care of a good portion of the water which the Superior & Boston had to pump. And, moreover, a new pump can be put at the latter property for its own water so that the costs can be reduced from 13 to 5 cents. An assessment has been called—the last was three years ago—to pay for this future work, of $1 a share for the 283,000 shares outstanding, to be paid Feb. 7 on stock on record Jan. 24. George Kingdon, the superintendent of the Old Dominion, has taken a place on the board of directors and other changes will follow.

TRADE REVIEW

New York, Jan. 8.—Dun's Review says:

"Preparations for the future extension of American enterprise are undertaken with increased vigor at the end of the holiday season. Domestic finances are in an unusually sound position and funds continued superabundant for all legitimate requirements, while there is no lack of the confidence essential to the launching and promotion of important projects. In the latter respect, present conditions afford a striking contrast to those existing twelve months ago and moreover, all of the statistical barometers emphasize the changed situation prevailing at the opening of 1916. Unlike the beginning of 1915, the new year starts with a record production and distribution at high prices—in many lines, and an accumulation of forward contracts that insures a continuance of the exceptional activity in about all branches of business. With comparatively few exceptions, annual settlements have been effected without serious strain and in a number of instances, results of inventorying surpass even the most sanguine expectations. Traveling salesmen are returning to the road and reports from every section of the country tell of bright prospects in the commercial world. Seasonable shutdowns at manufacturing plants were very short because of the urgent demands—yet, while holiday interruptions were less of a factor than usual, it is nevertheless remarkable that pig iron output exceeded all previous monthly totals during December. Some fresh labor troubles have developed in the basic industry, but on the whole strikes are not seriously disturbing. Weekly bank clearings $4,509,201,042.

PACKAGE LINE MERGER NEAR

W. J. Connors of Buffalo Promises Announcement Within Week.

Likely to Take Over Vessels of Legally Dissolved Companies.

A report was current in marine circles today to the effect that W. J. ("Fingy") Connors of Buffalo, N. Y., had completed the organization of the huge package freight line for the Great Lakes to replace the lines that have been operated by the railroads and which were ordered divorced on Dec. 15. The rumor also had it that Mr. Connors had taken over the boats of the Mutual, Western and Anchor lines, thirty-seven boats in all, for the proposed merger.

Later, news was received from Buffalo that Mr. Connors has not completed the organization, but says the matter will be settled one way or another within a week.

That he has been working on such an organization is known to be a fact. He was in Duluth last summer to look over dock facilities and package freight business here, coming in his private yacht, and since then has visited every port of consequence on the Great Lakes with the same object in view. Since that time, Mr. Connors has been at work organizing a company and the impression is at lower lake ports that he has his company, if not completely formed, practically so, and will have been diverted to the Ahmeek mill and are being set up. It will take about five to six months to get the first of these stamps in commission and by that time there will be probably rock enough for it, as the mill is running a part of every Sunday now and Nos. 3 and 4, which are shipping only six to seven cars to the mill, will then be hoisting much more rock.

Douglas Copper company will, most likely, in the spring or early summer, work in conjunction with T. F. Cole, who will be the guiding spirit and who has bought recently the apex forty between the Allouez and Ahmeek properties, just above the Douglas, which extends almost evenly with its eighteen "forties" across this angle, on the underlie of the Kearsarge lode. Mr. Cole purchased one-quarter interest in this from R. R. Goodell when he obtained all the holdings of the latter in the district, and one-half interest from Mrs. Fanny Devereaux of Portland, Or. This forty is the nearest undeveloped land to the outcrop of the Kearsarge lode and carries the underlie of the Calumet conglomerate and the Osceola amygdaloid and Allouez and Kearsarge conglomerates. The location of the Cole forty, so close to the good Ahmeek and Allouez, would justify the sinking of a vertical shaft to explore the mineral in the lode. It might be called the insurance forty of the lot. It is the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 32, 57-32, and the price paid for the Devereaux half interest is said to be $4,000 an acre.

Parallel to Cole Purchase.

There was almost a parallel case in the history of the Calumet & Pittsburg mine, owned by the Calumet & Arizona, when it paid quite a sum for the Del Norte claim, because it was thought to be the first part of that group of claims that would give commercial values. The purchase justified the expenditure, as almost the whole forty carried ore and its profit furnished the means for the extension of the shafts to a sufficient depth to pump out the large quantity of water afterwards met with there so as to reach ore bodies that were believed to exist and were developed and did prove very profitable.

Superior & Boston has passed through its storm and stress period, the very same that all of the properties, Old Dominion, Globe and others, have gone through, and have survived as very healthy, active and profitably producing mines. The sedementary strata in that portion of Globe, Ariz., have been greatly folded and by faulting and other earth movements have been pushed out of their original locations in such a way that the best geologists, men of international fame, have been puzzled to trace them. Besides the oxides and carbonates, there has been a barren zone before the sulphides were reached. On this same vein to the east is the Copper Hill, a part of the Arizona Commercial, then the National, the Arizona Commercial proper, and next the Superior & Boston. All of them, save the last, are now mining in the sulphide or have found them by the diamond drill below this barren zone with fine results. The Superior & Boston has the ore, sulphides on the tenth level, intends to push out on the twelfth into them and then raise up and perhaps go down with winzes. Afterwards, if these levels show up as well as they have in other properties, sinking will be started to the fourteenth level. The National has arrived at such a depth now that it will take care of a good portion of the water which the Superior & Boston had to pump. And, moreover, a new pump can be put at the latter property for its own water so that the costs can be reduced from 13 to 5 cents. An assessment has been called—the last was three years ago—to pay for this future work, of $1 a share for the 283,000 shares outstanding, to be paid Feb. 7 on stock on record Jan. 24. George Kingdon, the superintendent of the Old Dominion, has taken a place on the board of directors and other changes will follow.

AMENDMENT IS INEFFECTIVE

Prominent Duluthians Need Not Answer Charge of Neglecting Permits.

A two-months' old amendment to the building ordinance, designed to prevent owners of condemned buildings from repairing them, is ineffective.

That was the explanation given today by members of the city attorney's staff for dismissing charges against G. G. Hartley and Dr. I. T. Burnside.

The state law says that the owner of property condemned as a menace by the state fire marshal may repair it, pending an appeal to the district court, City Prosecutor Walter Gonska said, but the ordinance, as it now stands, prevents the building inspector from issuing a permit to repair a building condemned by the fire marshal, but says nothing about the actual repair work.

"The ordinance, to be effective, must read 'no permit shall be issued for the repair of a condemned building, and no repairs shall be made,'" explained Mr. Gonska.

G. G. Hartley repaired a "tenement" which State Fire Marshal Robert Hargadine had condemned as a fire menace, without securing a permit.

Dr. Burnside failed to take out a permit for repairs to a building at Twenty-fourth avenue west and Superior street, which he owns. He was arrested, and a hearing was postponed until yesterday afternoon, when the case was dismissed. Mr. Hartley was not brought into court as he was out of the city when police were given the warrant.

MAY CONTINUE TO OWN STEAMSHIPS

Northern Pacific and Great Northern Railroads Have Permission.

Washington, Jan. 8.—The Northern Pacific and Great Northern railways may continue to own and operate the steamships Great Northern and Northern Pacific, despite the provisions of the Panama casal act forbidding ownership of steamships by railroads, the interstate commerce commission decided today. The commission found that continuance of present ownership is to the public interest.

LABORER FOUND FROZEN IN SNOW

Fred Johnson Thought to Have Died From Epileptic Fit.

Found frozen in the snow near an Alborn road, north of Duluth yesterday, Fred Johnson, 45, a laborer, is believed to have died from exposure while suffering from an epileptic attack.

Johnson had lived around Alborn for a number of years, and was fairly well known, although he has no relatives in the community. Coroner C. F. McComb will hold an autopsy this afternoon in an attempt to learn more of the man's death.

He was seen to alight from the Duluth, Missabe & Northern train at Alborn earlier in the day, and later was noticed walking along the road not far from where his body was found.

A farmer, en route home, noticed the body, and hurrying to Alborn, notified authorities. A. H. Parkhurst of the Crawford undertaking establishment, returned to Duluth with the body today.

Johnson was known to have been subject to attacks of epilepsy, and is believed to have been drinking. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

THOUGHT A "BAD ACTOR."

Police "Smell Rat" When Carl Holmberg Feigns Drunkenness.

Carl Holmgren may have been destined to be a Richard Mansfield or an E. H. Sothern, but his portrayal of a lumberjack much the worse for whisky didn't satisfy the critical taste of Patrolman David Olson.

The policeman found Holmgren curled up on the floor in the butcher shop of C. G. Anderson, 24 South Twentieth avenue west, Thursday night, near a neat little pile of eatables.

"I was drunk and came in here to sleep," he explained.

When the proprietor found the cash drawer empty and that the safe had been tampered with, he smelt a rat.

Holmgren was held in $200 bail for a hearing Jan. 10 on a charge of burglary, when arraigned before Judge W. H. Smallwood in municipal court yesterday afternoon.

STANS STARTED IN TO "KILL A MAN OR TWO"

Stans Sankoski, young in years but an "old timer" to police, is unhappy today.

Last night he started to "kill a man or two" as he put it, and police interfered before he completed the task.

Stans says he is a common laborer by trade, but by profession he is a fighter, or a burglar. In recent years, police say, he has seldom worked at his trade, but has given most of his time to his profession.

He pounded on the door of Alex Matel's home at 615 Garfield avenue last night, demanding admission, and walked through a window when they refused to let him in.

This morning Judge Smallwood sentenced him to fifteen days at the workfarm for drunkenness and sixty days for destruction of property.

CONSIDERATE THIEVES.

Muffle Radiator on Stolen Auto—Might Go Step Further.

Auto thieves are growing considerate, Chief R. D. McKercher says, and he ought to know.

Thieves who drove away from the curling rink, Fourteenth avenue east and London road last night with a car owned by H. H. Nesbitt, 3531 East First street, carefully muffled the radiator when they abandoned it.

Chief McKercher, with Sergt. John Englert, began looking for the machine as soon as its loss was reported, and found it at Sixth avenue west and First street.

"Now that they have learned to protect the radiators from cold," said the chief, "they might go a step farther and tell us where to find the abandoned car when they get through using it.

"I could hardly expect them to give us their name and address, but a little foresight would save us from a search.

WANTED BY DYING BROTHER.

Earnest Currier of Kennedy, Wis., Sought By Relatives.

Joe Currier of Kennedy, Wis., is searching for a brother, Ernest, who has been missing two months.

A third brother is near death as a result of an accident, and Joe wants to find Ernest so that he can reach home before the end comes.

In a letter to Chief McKercher yesterday he explained that Ernest shipped out from Duluth Nov. 15, to go to a lumber camp for the winter. He has not been heard from since.

NOT BANK ROBBER.

James Hogan Will Answer Charge of Petty Larceny Only.

From bank robbery to petit thievery is quite a drop, but that is what police have had James Hogan, 27, do since yesterday.

When arrested officers thought they had an accomplice in a $1,400 bank robbery at Minneapolis several weeks ago. They tried to identify Hogan as one of four men who walked into the Camden State bank of the Mill City and held up the cashier at the point of a gun.

Failing in this they found that there was a warrant against him for petit larceny. He is alleged to have stolen six silver table knives from Mrs. Margaret Smith, 314 East Second street, on Sept. 22, last.

He will be tried on that offense Monday. The silverware, police say, was pawned at the Keystone Loan company's shop.

MANY SUITS OVER REPAIRS

Sunbeam Theater Owner and Landlord Disagree as to Contracts.

Long Litigation Follows—Rent Problem Will Be Aired in Court.

When is a repair not a repair?

If J. B. Clinton, owner of the Sunbeam theater, 119 West Superior street, and his landlord, W. J. Conan of Milwaukee had agreed upon a solution of this problem, they would have saved attorney's fees and court costs and needless litigation.

Misunderstandings of contracts and different interpretations of agreements have kept Messrs. Clinton and Conan in court most of the time since last July when the trouble between them started.

Mr. Clinton is leasing the Conan block at 119-121 West Superior street. He sublets a portion to A. Apostolakas, proprietor of the Minnesota Candy Kitchen. Before July 1 the agreed rent was $600. The lease had a building agreement incorporated in it which provided that after certain repairs had been made, the rent was to be $833 monthly.

Division of Rental.

First of all, Messrs. Clinton and Apostolakas each paid $300 rental, $600 in all. D. R. Long, agent for Mr. Conan, refused to accept it this way and the first round in court began. The outcome of it all was that Mr. Clinton agreed to pay the $600 and collect $300 a month from his subtenant.

On July 1, Mr. Clinton tendered $600 in rent, but it was refused as insufficient. Mr. Conan maintained that the repairs had been made subject to the agreement and demanded $833. Mr. Clinton disputed him and refused to pay. The next day Mr. Conan instituted an unlawful detainer action against him to collect the July rent. In municipal court, it was decided in favor of Mr. Clinton. Mr. Conan later accepted the money.

Then the repair work went along. On Aug. 1, Mr. Clinton again tendered $600. It was again refused. The same happened in September. On Sept. 3, another unlawful detainer action was instituted in municipal court and after being tried before a jury for five days was decided in favor of Mr. Clinton.

On Nov. 11 last, the parties got together for another agreement. Mr. Conan, through his attorneys, offered in writing to make certain repairs if certain conditions were accepted by Mr. Clinton. It was agreeable, and the repairs were nearly completed when Mr. Conan announced that he had repudiated the agreement.

Restrains Landlord.

When a fourth unlawful detainer action was threatened, Mr. Clinton, through his attorneys, McCoy & Hanson, sued out an injunction temporarily restraining the landlord from prosecuting such an action and brought an action in district court to determine the rights of the parties, asking the court to enforce the agreements which had been entered into.

After the action, Mr. Conan filed affidavits to the effect that Mr. Clinton has assigned Apostolakas' sub lease to him as security for the rent and asked for an order restraining the subtenant from paying any rents over to Mr. Clinton.

Mr. Clinton states that he is willing to pay $600 but insists that the agreement as to repairs be fully lived up to before he pays $833. The landlord, however, asks to have the $833 paid into court each month pending the determination of the action. Mr. Clinton does not wish to do this, but offers to put up a sufficient bond.

The matter will come on for a hearing in district court this afternoon. Messrs. Fryberger, Fulton & Spear represent Mr. Conan.

French Club Installation.

The annual installation of officers for the French Naturalization club was held last night at the French school hall, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street. The new officers are: Peter Grignon, Jr., president; M. E. Louisell, vice president; Clement De Roche, second vice president; Albert Wood, financial secretary; E. R. Grignon, corresponding secretary; Joseph Burdash, treasurer; Leon Gagne, guardian; Thomas Michaud, Fred Arsenault and Joseph Tessler, trustees.

"BUY DULUTH REAL ESTATE AND BUY IT NOW," IS THE ADVICE OF EVERY REAL ESTATE AGENT IN DULUTH

PROPERTY VALUES IN THE ZENITH CITY ARE LOW, IS THEIR UNANIMOUS VERDICT

If Good Business Judgment Is Used, Profits Are Assured.

Real Estate Exchange Offers Protection to Public and Broker.

What Some of Its Members Think of "Duluth Dirt."

Buy Duluth real estate, and buy it now, is the advice of every real estate agent in the city.

Of course it is understood that one must use ordinary good judgment and keep a few simple rules in mind, but property values are low here when compared with values in other cities, and substantial profits will be made in the next few months, it is claimed.

There is not a city in the United States that offers such great and stable advantages in real estate as the city of Duluth does today, according to A. J. Frey, secretary of the Duluth exchange. With any sort of sane business methods, these conditions will not change. Duluth is destined to be one of the very great cities of the United States. It is true that the growth of Duluth has been disappointing to some who have waited for years but it is thought to be now on the eve of a growth which is only the beginning of what the future holds in store for it.

"Minnesota is a very great state from every viewpoint," said Mr. Frey. "No other state is so well prepared, if needs be, to live and prosper upon her individual products. Furthermore, Minnesota is but sparsely settled. The final results of these conditions must be steady and of a very wholesome character. Her climate and business condition call for sturdy and able men, and those are the kind who will come and remain. This can only mean a continuation of the growth of Duluth. What is needed now—and what Duluth must have to make it one of the very great cities of the nation—is manufacturers. These will naturally follow in the wake of the steel plant.

A City of Home Owners.

"Duluth is known as a city of 'home-owners.' The city building inspector's office shows that in the year 1915 there were 828 new frame and brick dwellings constructed in Duluth. This is practically one new dwelling for each 1,000 of population.

"Among all the commercial organizations existing in Duluth, there is none whose work is more for the general betterment of the city than that of the Duluth Real Estate exchange. This is a rather broad statement but one which is believed to be absolutely true."

The object for which this exchange was formed as set out by A. J. Frey, its secretary, is to improve the condition of the real estate profession in the city of Duluth by the cultivation of a high standard of ethics in all transactions, the promotion of a cordial co-operation between members of the exchange and the adoption and enforcement of such rules and regulations as shall best protect the interests of dealers, owners and purchasers of real estate.

Prior to the year 1905 the real estate men in Duluth had no organization. Many dishonest real estate deals were made by unscrupulous brokers and all the dealers suffered by their acts. In 1905 a number of Duluth firms got together, called a meeting and decided to form an exchange in order to put the business on a proper basis with the public and the real estate men.

"It is considered surprising how ignorant the general public is when dealing in real estate," said Mr. Frey. "The peculiar conditions surrounding the transfer of interests in real property are in a class by themselves, and are governed by none of the laws and rules governing any other commodity. This perhaps offers a logical excuse why people generally know so little about real estate transactions."

Realty Exchange a Factor.

The Duluth Real Estate exchange, like other exchanges throughout the country, lays down definite rules of action and specifies a scale of charges fair to both public and broker. The charges are in keeping with the high-grade services given. Cut rates lead to lack of confidence and poor service.

The exchange has a number of standing committees, the most important of which are the reference and arbitration, valuation and legislative.

The arbitration committee is the "court" of the public and the members This "court" is always open to consider complaints regarding the acts of any of its members. It is the policy of the exchange to see that the members of this committee are strong, fair-minded, competent and fearless men.

The valuation committee is of great public service. The proper valuation of real estate is a complex problem and only a few men are qualified or competent to handle it. Only one well versed in the business and having intimate knowledge of the growth and development of the city is in position to pass judgment that will be fair analyzing as to properties of considerable value. The business interests of the country are coming to know this more fully and are depending to a greater extent for appraisals by real estate exchanges.

The legislative committee is especially active when the legislature is in session. All laws effecting real estate are studied and when objectionable features to owners or dealers are discovered the committee reports to the exchange where definite action is taken.

It is the aim of the exchange to carry such an influence to its members that service shall become the watchword, and that the patron of a recognized real estate firm may know that he will get a high grade of service and expert judgment well worth the fees demanded. The real estate man is in a position to cover points in a transaction unknown and overlooked by the inexperienced. He knows values and the conditions that enhance or decrease them. His expert judgment, based upon study, experience and knowledge of improvements, prospective and under way, gives him a source of information that the wise owner or investor draws from.

Elsewhere on this page will be found a complete list of members of the Duluth Real Estate exchange. These men are bound by the rules of the exchange. It is to the advantage of every owner or prospective investor to deal with only men who are members of the exchange. It is only through the co-operation of the public that the Duluth Real Estate exchange can prevent questionable transactions. This will work out to the mutual benefit of both the public and the honest real estate man.

Reality Men Optimistic.

Members of the Duluth Real Estate exchange are optimistic in their views regarding the outlook for the present year.

Said J. E. Cooley, president of the exchange today: "I think the year 1916 will become the banner year in the history of Duluth as far as general prosperity is concerned. Men with means, who for the last few years have been speculating in stocks and bonds, have come to realize that real estate, the ground we live on and live from, is the real source of all true prosperity and wealth, and that Duluth, with its many advantages, presents the brightest and most alluring prospect of any city within our knowledge. The members of the Real Estate exchange of Duluth are among the best and most progressive business men of our city. It is the aim and the intent of the association to have only such members as will deal uprightly and squarely with their customers. Any deviation from that rule, will, when called to the attention of the exchange, receive prompt and careful attention to the end that strict justice will be done all parties concerned."

Said William C. Sargent: "We are about to see the results after years of anxious waiting in the actual operation of the mammoth steel plant and its giant partner, the cement works. The Model city, with its convenient and handsome residences for employes, is an accomplished fact. We have seen miles of new streets laid. Parks have been established, school houses have been built, playgrounds installed; hundreds of artistic and magnificent residences at great cost have been and are being erected, and new business enterprises have been started.

"Duluth has every license to be the largest, most beautiful and in every way the best city on the Western hemisphere. What will you do to help make it so? As I said last year, all you need is 'confidence,' so get busy."

Duluth Leads Them All.

J. D. Stryker, president of Stryker, Manley & Buck, who is in the East, wrote as follows from Wilkesbarre, Pa.:

"Optimism reigns, especially in the East, where business in general is booming and real estate values advancing, and yet there is no place where the people have more reason to be optimistic than at Duluth—and now.

"We have here at Duluth, not one or two things that cause a city to grow up, but practically everything combined that makes a great city; head of a wonderful chain of lakes, great system of railroads, "where rail and water meets," running to all points; surrounded by rich agricultural lands being rapidly developed; manufacturing industries of all kinds, including the $20,000,000 steel plant; cheap electrical power, iron mines, good water, healthy climate, and above all other things, its greatest asset—its men. There is no city in the country the size of Duluth that contains as many big, strong, broad men—men of high character and fine ideals—as Duluth, and this makes a city where people worth while like to live and rear their children.

"These things, and there are others, make Duluth's growth and development sure and rapid and a most desirable place in which to invest, and now is the time, while prices are the lowest of any city of its size in the world."

Expects Big Growth.

A. H. Brown, vice president of Stryker, Manley & Buck, said:

"The outlook for the next few years in Duluth is the most promising in the history of the city. I look for a substantial industrial growth within the city and an increased agricultural development in our immediate vicinity. This cannot help but redound to the value of real estate as an investment. Present prices are exceedingly low compared with other cities of our class. It is my opinion we will see a considerable increase in the prices of property, both inside and outside of the city, and that owners of the present low-priced property will reap the reward of increased valuation."

Duluth's Day at Hand.

H. W. Cheadle of Richardson, Day & Cheadle company, said:

"Duluth has waited, watched and worked for the past thirty years, always confident that the advantage of its location and the wealth of its natural resources would eventually make it a center of commerce and industry. Today finds each of us more optimistic than ever with the full assurance that Duluth's day of prosperity is at hand.

"We are now entering upon the era of prosperity which will see Duluth attain to the commanding position to which it is entitled by reason of its location and resources.

"Railroad discrimination is being rapidly elliminated, and industries are finding it advantageous, and soon will find it necesar yto locate at the natural center of distribution and materials. Our tributary territory is most prosperous, and in that territory we find unbounded faith in the future of Duluth.

"Formerly it was from the East that Duluth received money for investment, but today it is from our own prosperous territory that we find the most optimism and the dollars to back up their faith in our future. Duluth has had a steady growth but from now on we may well expect it to go forward by leaps and bounds.

"It is remarkable that with our actual growth and unbounded prospects, there has been practically no speculation in real estate for the past fifteen years. Buying there has been, but almost entirely for actual use by the purchaser, and Duluth is now a city of homes and there are comparatively few renters.

"Owners of property make it easy for all, whether laborer, mechanic or business man to own their own homes by selling on very easy terms, and while we are destined to become a large city, let us all pull together for a model city distinguished for its citizenship as well as its commerce and industry."

Good Profits Certain.

There has not been a time for over twenty years when one could buy real estate in Duluth and feel so certain of good results as now," said N. J. Upham. "Property must advance for several years to come, because of the period of great prosperity assured the whole country. Those who profit most will be those who buy early. The laggards will pay increased prices and have poorer selections. 'A word to the wise is sufficient.' To the thoughtless, it is useless to say more."

Home Building Prominent.

W. W. Fenstermacher said: "Home building in Duluth has become a very large item in the industrial life of the city, employing in its various branches a large number of men, who are occupied to a great extent all the year around.

"Good wages are being paid and the best men are thereby obtained and from all accounts, labor and capital in solar as the building trades are concerned, were never more harmonious than they are at the present time. Providing the prices of materials entering into the construction of homes do not soar too high, I believe and expect the coming year will be a most active one in home building, the outlook and indications at this time being very good.

"Duluth homeseekers have become more and more discriminating, until it has become quite a problem to find an acceptable house already built, and this condition has brought into existence the companies who are now devoting more and more time, study and money, in order to satisfy this growing demand of the homeseekers of small means, but who are nevertheless energetic and ambitious, and who want well-built and warm houses even though modest and unpretentious. This class, as a rule, become our prominent citizens of tomorrow and are our best citizens and neighbors of today."

George Harris of the Harris Realty company said: "Now is the time to buy Duluth real estate. Good bargains can be picked up all over the city that will yield a good percentage on your investment and resell at a big profit, but you need not be surprised if the present prices go up 25 to 100 per cent within a very short time. Outsiders are watching Duluth, while most of the Duluth people are asleep. Don't wait until you will have to say, 'I am sorry I could have bought this for ——— etc.' Don't pay rent. There is no end to it. I can show a list of property owners that bought three to five years ago, with small cash payments of $100 to $500, and have paid up the balance with their rent money and now own their property outright, subject to a small mortgage in some cases. Look around. Watch the present Duluth real estate market and buy. You cannot go wrong."

"The mines on the iron ranges near Duluth make Minnesota the banner iron-producing state in the Union," said R. M. Hunter. "With a city of 100,000 and the Minnesota Steel company's modern plant as a nucleus, I expect to see Duluth soon become one of the important iron and steel manufacturing centers of America."

Do It for Duluth.

"The best criterion of growth and large future prospects in real estate in any city or community is the attitude taken by men who have the opportunity of viewing situations from the outside," said I. W. Lee.

"This is exactly the present situation here today, and I cannot help but feel that there are great possibilities for making money in Duluth real estate, inasmuch as outside capital is being invested here to a large extent. It is the opinion in all lines of business activity that the country at large is on the verge of an era of prosperity and it is also felt that Duluth and vicinity will be one of the first places to feel this condition, and if we are to get all that there is out of the so-called 'good times,' it will mean constant co-operation and constant spirit of 'Do It for Duluth.'"

Prosperity Ship Loaded.

"Our ship loaded to capacity with prosperity is due at this port very soon," said George M. Fay. "A substantial improvement and growth in all lines of business will be noticed this year. There will be a big movement in iron ore during the season of 1916 and ore will bring a much better figure than that received the last two years. This will be one of the chief factors in bringing increased prosperity to the Head of the Lakes. I look for a banner year in the real estate business and anticipate a big demand for all classes of property."

William McBean of McBean-Nesbitt & Co. said:

"Since the date for the commencement of operations at the steel plant was announced, there has been a marked demand in our office for home sites. Duluth people who are renters are evidently anxious to establish homes and become permanent citizens. We believe these people are fully justified in their conclusion that Duluth is one of the best towns in the United States in which to locate, and I look for a great building movement early next spring among home owners in desirable residence properties, like Crosley Park."

Duluth Values Low.

W. M. Prindle expressed himself as optimistic regarding the real estate outlook in Duluth during the present year.

"Realty values in Duluth are lower than any other city in the country of the same size and none of them offer anywhere nearly equal possibilities for development," he said. "Valuations here have really not been advanced to any extent and insofar as I can see they can only move upwards. The lid has been kept on so tightly that no water has been injected and there is no room for them to drop. Outsiders seem to be approaching more fully the real estate investment opportunities offering here, and I think that we have reason to look forward to a good movement in properties in the near future."

Housing Problem Acute.

A. W. Kuehnow, president of the Gary Land company, averred that he looked forward to a record year in the Duluth realty field.

"Considering the industrial developments taking place in the steel plant district, we have every reason to expect a big movement here," he said. "With hundrds of men now employed in the various departments at the Minnesota Steel company's plant and the certainty that the number will be doubled or trebled before the year is out, the housing question in Gary-Duluth has become a problem. Blocks of new homes will be required to take care of the employes who desire to live within an easy distance of their work. That is leading capitalists to look into the situation and the building of homes on an extended scale is promised. The present asking figures of Gary lots are regarded as cheap and investors are showing an increasing inclination to take advantage of the opportunities offering."

Outside Capital Coming In.

E. D. Field, president of the Field-Frey company, said: "Real estate men are looking forward into the new year with a feeling of confidence. There has been a long period of inactivity and the general revival of trade and manufacturing which is already evident, will surely bring increased business to the realty man.

"Duluth is especially well situated to benefit through the generally improved conditions by reason of the establishment of the steel plant here, improved rate conditions and other favorable developments at the Head of the Lakes. Moneyed men are familiar with these changed conditions and will be quick to take advantage of them. Much outside money will undoubtedly soon be flowing into Duluth for investment in real estate and mortgages, and our own people, with returning confidence, will soon have a better realization of the real value and possibilities of Duluth real estate."

Farm Lands in Demand.

Said Wilbur F. McLean of Cant & McLean: "The future of our city is dependent to a very large extent upon the development of the country surrounding Duluth. The sooner the vacant lands in the northern part of this state are populated with farmers, the faster will Duluth grow in size and number of industries.

"It is pleasing to note the rapid development of the farming community in this vicinity. The fertility of the soil has been proven beyond a doubt. A steady market for farm produce is always assured, and the farmers have found that their lands have increased in value to a remarkable degree, while investors have reaped handsome profits because of the advance in farm land values in this section. Indications point toward more rapid progress during 1916 than in any previous year."

Said C. Francis Colman: "The iron industry is more prosperous than ever before. The lumber industry shows signs of permanent awakening; rate adjustments are favorable, and general conditions excellent. Get ready. The pendulum is swinging Duluth's way. Heavy real estate investments go hand in hand with prosperity."

"Having studied the real estate conditions in Duluth for the last ten years, I can say that things never looked better than they do now," said Charles Eliasson. "I have made a good many trips to the most important cities of the East and South, and have compared our city with other steel cities, and I believe that Duluth has greater possibilities than any of them.

"I would advise everyone who is interested in real estate investments to invest now, as I believe now is the right time. Let us all work together and make 1916 the banner year."

Thomas Olafson said: "Aside from United States government bonds, real estate is the one sure safe profitable investment the world over. The wave of prosperity that started on our Eastern coast, caused by the turmoil in Europe will soon hit Duluth. Eastern investors are placing their money in Duluth and other western cities to be ready for the wave of prosperity when it comes—as they know it will. Duluth people should endeavor to get a slice of the profits to be made in real estate during 1916. The possibilities of making money in West Duluth are pointed out very clearly by a study of the map of the city."

Said W. C. Sherwood: "As we scan the horizon of Duluth's immediate future, we see the shaping of many eventful conditions. No city in the United States in relation to its size carries so low a price for its business property, giving investors a present opportunity of buying unequaled anywhere in this country. There is, however, one blot on Duluth's fair escutcheon and that is the blight of ultra-conservatism. There are some who seem to think that Duluth is large enough at the present time. They say they do not want it to grow too rapidly. The test of our devotion is shown in the largeness of our viewpoint. Duluth's growth and expansion along every line is inevitable. Let us clear the way of any obstacles to that growth with unceasing effort so that it may truly be the most prosperous city of the Great Lakes."

B. F. Schweiger of the B. F. Schweiger company reports a very satisfactory business to have been closed up during 1915, but he expects the present year to be one of much greater activity. General conditions analyzed show this to be the trend of the real estate market. One cannot lose money on Duluth real estate if they use any judgment at all in buying, he thinks.

WESTERN EDITOR IS VISITING GRAND FORKS

Grand Forks, N. D., Jan. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Thomas J. Dillon, one of the editors of the Seattle Post Intellingencer, called here by the serious illness of his father, got his start in the newspaper game as a carrier for a local paper when he was a boy.

Mr. Dillon, after leaving Grand Forks twenty-two years ago, went to Minneapolis, where he was employed on several newspapers. More recently he has been located in the west, and is now on the Seattle Post Intelligencer.

BIDDING FOR JUNIOR HIGH

Munger Improvement Club Presents Situation to School Board.

Must Have Accommodation for Pupils—President Brewer Impressed.

"Establish a junior high school at the Munger or at least increase its facilities so that it will accommodate eighth grade pupils."

That was the request made to the board of education at its first meeting of 1916 in the Central high school building last night by six members of the Munger Improvement club. Charles G. Fhroved, president of the club, headed the delegation.

"We are in the center of a rapidly growing district," Mr. Fhroved said, "and the school is too small. It has been too small from the beginning. We have studied the problem, and believe that the Munger site is an ideal place for the fourth junior high school.

"Seventh and eighth grade pupils must go to the Washington junior high," Mr. Fhroved continued, "and we feel that it is a hardship. Many parents cannot afford to pay the carfare necessary, and it is too far for children to walk."

Commends Interest.

"Personally," said F. A. Brewer, president of the board, in reply, "I feel that the Munger is a little off to one side, and that it will not accommodate as many as a more central location.

"I will say, however, that if the Munger district continues to grow as it has grown during the last year, and if the delegations from civic clubs of that locality continue to show as much interest in the matter, the Munger has an excellent chance of landing.

"The next annual levy must provide for a fourth junior high school building," he said, "in order to complete the system which the board started to install two or three years ago. The board is, of course, considering the matter, but we can't establish junior high schools at all grade buildings, and we haven't determined yet where to put the next one."

The Munger school now is crowded. It has about 450 pupils.

RECEPTION HELD AT WHITE HOUSE

Mrs. Wilson Makes First Formal Appearance as First Lady of Land.

Washington, Jan. 8.—A brilliant reception at the White House, given by President and Mrs. Wilson, crowned the social attentions paid visiting delegates to the Pan-American Scientific congress during the past two weeks.

In numbers present and in splendor, the affair surpassed anything of the kind seen in Washington in recent years. Martial music and handsome costumes lent color to the scene.

For more than three hours guests passed down the receiving line in a steady stream. By the side of the president stood his bride of less than three weeks, who made her first formal appearance as mistress of the White House.

The reception was held in the Blue room, but the entire first floor of the White House was thrown open to the guests. They assembled in the East room and passed through the Green room to the receiving line and through the Red room to the great state dining room, where a buffet supper was served. The red uniformed marine band was stationed in the entrance hall.

Four Thousand Shake Hands.

More than 4,000 men and women shook hands with the president, and at times the carriage line outside extended six blocks.

Military and naval aides in full dress uniform were on duty at all points and directed the crowd. Before the arrival of the official receiving party, the parlors were well filled with members of congress and their wives and prominent officials and diplomats.

The appearance of the president and Mrs. Wilson was heralded by a fanfare of trumpets, followed by the Star Spangled Banner. Preceded by the military and naval aides, the couple walked slowly down the main stairway and into the Blue room.

Domicio De Gama, ambassador of Brazil, the ranking member of the Latin-American diplomatic corps, with Madame De Gama, were the first to shake hands with the president and Mrs. Wilson.

RUSSIANS TURN TO THE HOLIDAYS

War Relegated to Second Place During Celebrations in Petrograd.

Petrograd, Jan. 8, via London.—The war has been relegated to second place for the time being in the minds of the Russian people by the holiday festivities in which they are now absorbed. Notwithstanding the countless broken family circles, there is much of the old peace time enthusiasm being manifested in the various observances of the season, both of a social and a religious nature.

Business came to a standstill at 6 o'clock on Christmas eve for a three-day cessation. Today the newspapers were not issued, the government offices and industrial establishments were closed and even the streets cars stopped running for the holiday. The churches were crowded with worshippers.

The high price of food has not seemed to curtail the celebration since the people, because of the better wages they are receiving and the abatement of extravagances in other directions, have been able to indulge in Christmas luxuries. Christmas trees, a popular feature of the festivities, were scarce because of the limited facilities for transporting them to the city. They brought as high as $10 each, several times the ordinary price, and the supplies were early exhausted.

The recent cold has abated, the weather being mild over the holiday.

IRONWOOD TASTED WINTER THURSDAY

Ironwood, Mich., Jan. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Wednesday was extremely cold here, a strong biting west wind making it disagreeable for all who were compelled to face it. Thursday morning local thermometers registered all the way from 25 to 35 degs. below zero and the temperature remained below zero all day.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

GOOD REALTY PROSPECTS

Weather Handicaps Local Dealers—Good Inquiry Reported.

Marked Advance in Prices Expected—Outside Men Interested.

Cold and stormy weather conditions interfered materially with real estate operations during the present week. Despite that obstacle some of the offices were able to report a good inquiry, both locally and from outside points.

Negotiations over a number of prospective transactions in residence properties have reached a forward stage, and it is expected that some interesting sales will be put through in the near future. Building lots in the newer residential districts are also thought likely to bulk up largely during the next few months.

Members of the Duluth Real Estate exchange are a unit in the belief that startling developments will come about in the local realty field during the present year. Everything is rounding to in a way that warrants the entertaining by operators of the most roseate expectations, they think.

Experts are also of the opinion that marked advances in realty values will be recorded here before long, in which all classes of property will participate. Operators in close touch with the situation predict the putting through of some substantial deals within the next few months in realties in the West end, West Duluth and in the steel plant districts.

Outside Investors Here.

Some prominent outside investors are reported to be looking this way, and it is known that offers have been asked upon certain properties. Frontages suitable for factory and dock sites are included in transactions that are being figured upon.

The N. J. Upham company sold a building lot on Greenwood street, Waverly Park, to Robert A. Miller for immediate improvement in the erection of a home. The plans have been prepared and it is probable that the general contract will be let by Jan. 15.

The Gary Land company reported a substantial picking up in inquiry for lots since the beginning of the year. A number of lots were sold during the week. A strong selling campaign has been mapped out by the company, and it is planned to follow up the issuing of literature for distribution as some of the leading points in the Middle West by sending out a corps of salesmen to cover the various centers.

Stryker, Manley & Buck advised the receipt of some offers on residence properties, with every prospect that sales will be closed up within the next few days.

The Hoopes-Kohagen company noted the receipt of earnest money on sales of two lots in the Park Drive division. The building of a number more homes is forecasted there during the spring and summer months.

PROSPECTS NEVER BETTER

Duluth Builders Plan Many Structures for Coming Year.

Pearson Hotel Will Cost $20,000; Boys' "Y" Structure $60,000.

While the list of permits issued at the building inspector's office this week was comparatively light, numbering sixteen, with the cost of the improvements involved placed at $16,660, considerable work is in prospect. Architects have been busy on plans for a number of large structures that are expected to be proceeded with shortly.

Architects and contractors are of the opinion that a new year never opened with better promise than does the present one. With easy money conditions as an aid, many deferred projects are likely to become realities, and considerable new work is also coming to light.

The building of four more expensive houses in the eastern residential districts is said to have been decided upon, and architects are now engaged upon the preliminary plans. More important improvements in the business sections of the West end and West Duluth are in sight. Arrangements for two factory extensions that will involve heavy outlays are also taking definite form.

New Superior Street Hotel.

A feature of the week came in the letting of the contract for the Pearson hotel building on Superior street near Sixteenth avenue west. Jacobson Bros., the successful bidders, have already begun the excavation for the foundation. The building will be a two-story brick, and will involve an outlay of $20,000. Three stores will be provided for on the ground floor, and the hotel above will contain thirty rooms. Gilluson & Carson are the architects.

To provide for the operating of its proposed extension to Morgan Park, the Duluth Street Railway company has arranged for the building of a brick power station on Grand avenue, between Ninety-second and Ninety-third avenues west. A permit for $4,500 to cover the cost of the structure has been taken out.

Plans have gone out for figures from the office of Holstead & Sullivan, architects, for a brick business block to be built on Twenty-first avenue west between Superior and First streets. Its cost is estimated at $8,000.

C. E. Nystrom, architect, has the plans in hand for the proposed new high school building. The structure will be one of the most complete in the Northwest and will contain some new features. Work upon it will be started in the early spring.

The plans for the proposed boys' Y. M. C. A. building to go up on the site of the old Pilgrim Congregational church at Lake avenue and Second street are expected to be ready to go out for figures shortly from the office of F. G. German, architect. Its cost is estimated at $60,000.

Fawcett & Robinson have obtained the general contract for a home for W. H. La Salle at No. 3515 East Third street to cost $6,000. Holstead & Sullivan are the architects.

* * *

N. A. Bergstrom has obtained the general contract for a warehouse building for Bloom & Co. on the upper side of First street, near First avenue west. Work has been started in wrecking the old structure now on the site. Gilluson & Carson are the architects.

INTERVIEWS OF REAL ESTATE MEN

"If I Had Known About Duluth."

Henry Nolte said: "In less than five years from now the above expression will be heard, frequently made by men and women with a regret. Regret for not having taken advantage of opportunities now existing for safe, sane, conservative real estate investments in and about our fine city. Hundreds of our fellow citizens will make investments in far-away places, not knowing that right here in Duluth, inside our corporate limits, are investments and speculative probabilities surpassing probably any existing in any other place on earth.

"The Minnesota Steel company, at a cost of many hundred thousands of dollars, has quietly acquired for permanent ownership and use about 1,800 acres of land fronting on navigable waters inside our city limits, upon which it has erected a plant that is now in partial operation, and one that will in all likelihood be the biggest payroll producer west of Chicago."

"During the next five years, Duluth will grow very rapidly and real estate will increase in valuation. To the man, or woman, with money to invest, Duluth offers the very best opportunities in 6 per cent mortgage loans on improved real estate at about one-third valuation, in parts of the city that are growing rapidly, or in an investment of two-family flats paying 8 and 10 per cent interest net to the owner. Did you ever think that every baby born into the world increases the price of real estate?" says Mr. Fider.

For those of our readers who desire a home all on one floor, we present the above design. The bungalow has come to stay; its great convenience and home satisfaction quickly offset the small amount of extra money involved. The floor plan embraces the "service hall," a feature originated by this firm of architects, and a feature which has become widely known among builders in the city. The large porch gives the building a home atmosphere, and many pleasant evenings can be enjoyed on it during the summer time. The building would cost to erect in the city of Duluth about $4,200, complete with plumbing and heating. Start your work early.

CRIME HERE DECREASING

Report of Sheriff Meining Shows Falling Off During 1915.

Fewer Prisoners for Jail and State's Prison From This County.

Crime in St. Louis county is decreasing.

This, at least, is a fair deduction to be drawn from the annual report of the St. Louis county jail which was made public late yesterday by Sheriff John R. Meining. Among other things, it shows:

That fewer men and women occupied cells at the county jail in 1915 than in 1914.

That fewer prisoners from this county were sent to the state penitentiary.

That fewer young men were committed to the state reformatory.

That there were fewer murderers and burglars in jail in 1915 than during the previous year.

A comparative statement of the number of prisoners handled per month for the two years follows:

	1915.	1914.
January	209	369
February	256	305
March	382	305
April	315	296
May	304	278
June	427	312
July	305	325
August	215	323
September	265	286
October	282	295
November	368	310
December	337	358
Total	3,665	3,762

At Stillwater Prison.

Stillwater penitentiary last year opened its doors to twenty-eight men and four women from St. Louis county to serve sentences ranging from one year to life imprisonment. During 1914, however, Sheriff Meining delivered forty-six men and four women to the state's prison.

During 1915, twenty-three men were taken by the sheriff to the state reformatory at St. Cloud. During the previous year, twenty-six were committed from this county to the reformatory.

One murderer last year was delivered to the state hospital for the criminal insane at St. Peter. The total number of prisoners delivered by the sheriff to the county work farm during the year was 1,470, as compared with 705 for the previous year.

Less money was collected by the sheriff in fines. Last year the sheriff collected $1,061.32, as compared with $2,196.85 for the year 1914.

From the county and city courts a total of 2,762 men and women were received during the year. The charges on which the prisoners were detained cover a wide field of crime ranging from murder to vagrancy. HIGH SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

Central Students Return From Vacation and Begin Preparations for Examinations; Lambs' Club Arranges for First Circus; Dr. Seymore Gives Lecture; Mandolin Club Rehearses; "D" Sweaters Arrive.

Refreshed from their annual two weeks' vacation, the students of Central high school returned to school Monday and immediately prepared to enter upon the home stretch of the first semester. This is the final month of the semester, and the final examinations will begin on Jan. 31. There will be a schedule of examinations and the regular school order will be discontinued during the week. The student is required to be in school only during the time that he has an examination. This system was instituted two years ago, and since the pupil is given almost two hours in which to write his examination, much better results are gained than were possible to reach in the old method of forty-minute periods.

Extensive plans are being made by the members of the Lambs club in preparation for their big circus to be held sometime during the latter part of February. The members of the organization held their regular weekly meeting following the close of school yesterday, and a long discussion of the plan was held. Several distinct features were proposed, and the members are urged to rake their brains for new ideas during the coming week.

This will be the first circus ever attempted at Central and, if successful, should make a decided hit. The members have made the firm decision that it will not be a failure and are working hard on it. Several novel features have already been arranged for and managers for each of the several departments will be named. Several novel features of the physics and chemistry laboratories will be used to good advantage and are expected to excite great awe among the bewildered members of the freshman class. The affair will undoubtedly be a great success and the club treasury should be enriched materially by it.

Owing to the lack of interest evident among many of the supposed members of the Lambs club, the organization has decided to hold a reorganization. All those wishing to become members will have to promise regular attendance at all of the meetings, and if they do not show any interest in the activities of the club, they will be dropped from the membership. The club will be officially reorganized at its next weekly meeting on next Friday.

How Florence, Italy, was once the center of the world's greatest advancement and why the persons were and how they got that city to that height, was the subject of an especially interesting hour lecture given before the students of the school in the assembly hall Thursday morning by Dr. C. W. Seymore, well known by the older students of Central as an interesting lecturer on such subjects.

He explained how Lorenzo di Medici and the members of his famous family performed so great a part in the development of the artistic Italian city and how the place was a mecca for the world's greatest poets, philosophers, artists and sculptors.

Next Tuesday morning Dr. Seymore will give another lecture before the student body. This address will be of local historical interest. The students are "taxed" 5 cents for each of the talks, and the lecturer thus realizes about $60 each time he appears.

Members of the newly formed Mandolin club are beginning to strike harmony in their practices, and it is expected that the students will soon begin to clamor for an appearance of the orchestra. The organization is a new one at Central this year and the members are putting in a lot of hard work in their practice. They are planning to meet evenings with Mrs. Dixon, head of the school music department.

The members of the club's orchestra are: Edward Emerson, Hickman Powell, Milton Mead, Galen Pearson, Nell Upham, Herbert McKay, Lyman Barrows, Charles Fraker and Willard Thorp. Edward Emerson is president of the organization and Hickman Powell is secretary-treasurer.

The first interscholastic debate of the season has been arranged for next Friday evening, Jan. 14, when the representative Duluth Central trio will journey to Minneapolis and meet the North high school team of that city. The Duluth team, composed of Jacob Garon, Max Goldberg and Emanuel Cook, is expected to put up a strong opposition to the much-touted Minneapolis aggregation. The state league question, "Resolved, That the Army and Navy of the United States Should Be Materially Increased," is the subject to be debated. Duluth Central will uphold the affirmative.

The long-awaited football "D" sweaters arrived last week, and the fourteen members of last fall's gridiron aggregation lined up on the stage yesterday morning and received the tokens of their work on the football field. The players declared that the sweaters were as good as any that had ever been given out at Central.

Those who received "D" sweaters were: Capt. Warner, three service stripes; O'Brien, three service stripes; Walsh, three service stripes; Lewis, two stripes; Lawson, two stripes; Richards, two stripes; Jentoft, two stripes; Sullivan, two stripes; Christoferson, Morrison, Denfeld, McIntyre, Shaw and Karon.

Because of a tie in the election held last month to determine the "best booster" in the school, another election was made necessary and was held yesterday. The members of the Zenith board who are in charge of the contests are not announcing the results of the contests, intending to hold them as a special feature of the Zenith when the book makes its appearance in the spring.

During the last two weeks members of the senior class have been filling appointments at the Dworshak studio in having their pictures taken for the Zenith. Most of those that have already been taken have now received their proofs and the pictures will be obtained soon. Most of the teachers will have new pictures taken this year.

The Spectator, the school newspaper, has at last been entered as second class matter at the Duluth postoffice. A careful statement of the condition of the circulation of the paper was demanded by the Federal authorities and the bank book was shown to be in good condition. Much credit is given to Edwin Pearson, business manager of the paper, for his untiring efforts in putting the financial end of the paper on a sound basis.

The regular weekly meeting of the Industrial club was held following the close of school Tuesday. Only the regular business was taken up at the meeting. It is planned to have E. F. Geiger, head of the city manual training department, lecture to the members at the next meeting.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

ON THE IRON RANGES

ELY CITIZENS PROPOSE TO ADVANCE COMMUNITY

Organization of Commercial Body to Boost That Section Now On.

Citizens Are Generally Signing Agreement to Make Organization Go.

Ely, Minn., Jan. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The progressive citizens of Ely, and there are plenty of them, are entering heart and soul into the proposition of organizing a Commercial club or some similar organization to work in harmony and advance this city to its true sphere. A committee having the matter in hand has interviewed many citizens met with a local support which augurs well for the success of the undertaking. A mass meeting will be held at the opera house in a few days when a definite plan will be formed to cement the bonds that will make of the individual citizen a member of a body of boosters embracing everyone here now and to come later. None will be barred.

The statement or appeal that has been generously signed recites at length the benefits to accrue from such an organization saying in part:

What Ely Boasts.

Ely is the metropolis of the Vermilion iron range, a range possessed of the best iron mines, and the field has hardly been scratched.

Ely has the most beautiful lakes in the world, of easy access, filled with millions of fish, the best place in the state for fishing and canoeing sport.

Ely is the nearest city to the national game and forest reserve and possibilities and importance of which can hardly be comprehended at this time.

Our city could easily be made the headquarters for all the hunters, pleasure seekers and lovers of out door sport in the country. There is none better.

We have the most beautiful climate in the country for summer tourists and we could easily rival in time the best summer resorts of the United States.

We can offer the best educational facilities to the growing body of the American youth. There are no better schools anywhere under the Stars and Stripes.

We possess the best automobile roads in this part of the state with unsurpassed scenery, a truly Minnesota's wonderland in every sense of the word.

Just think again what strong drawing cards these points would make if properly presented to the American public and backed by a spirited and energetic organization.

These would be the primary points of gain for all of us, but there are other needs for such an organization, closer by and right in the midst of our community. How many things come up in our community which should be talked over by the citizens and which could be talked over only through such an organization.

We have the city council who strive to do, we think, the best in their power, to manage the city affairs, as honestly and conscientiously as their circumstances permit, but we venture to say that nine times out of ten, they do not know if they are going to please the public or not. A representative body of citizens would be a great help to the council.

We have had in the past some unpleasant controversy about our taxes, which was not only annoying, but quite expensive. A good deal of this trouble could have been avoided if we had a responsible and representative commercial organization.

Every one of you who read and study the progress of the municipalities in the northern part of the state of Minnesota, (and every business man should be posted on this progress) must agree with us that only those communities are progressive and get results which have a proper medium through which they work harmoniously, for the best interests of all concerned.

Every one of you must also admit that our community lacks such a medium. Why? There is no sound reason for it unless it is the generally prevalent lethargy in public affairs and lack of the true American spirit of progressiveness and initiative. We all suffer for the lack of such a medium, why not then start the movement and organize one?

But how to start? you may ask. Let us give you a suggestion. We believe that a meeting of the citizens for this purpose would reveal many things that every citizen would be glad to support if only given the opportunity. We would like to get the body which would handle it in a spirit of conciliation, rather than in antagonism. And after pondering over this matter don't you think that we ought to do something? If so, let your desire for co-operation be known to the local paper, and we are sure it will start a campaign that will bring results."

Many Indorsing Idea.

That the idea contained in the appeal to citizens to get together and work for a greater Ely struck a popular chord is shown by the unanimity with which people have signed the statement printed above. The following had signed up to this morning and many more are expected to do so:

L. J. White, George T. Ayres, Thomas E. Miller, J. W. Berglund, H. J. Merdink, James I. Laing, James Moonan, John Kapsch, John Schaefer, John A. Harri, Reuber K. Toms, R. J. The rabbi praised the Young Men's club, under whose auspices the meeting was held, most highly for their high ideals that led to their organization, but cautioned its members that difficulties would be encountered, as hampers and obstructs all meritorious work, which should not be permitted to swerve them from their course.

IS BIG BENEFIT TO THE FARMERS

Creamery at Two Harbors Has Helped Develop Lake County.

Two Harbors, Minn., Jan. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—According to a sworn report made by Jenkins Bros., creamery owners here, for the state dairy and food commission, they have purchased rom the farmers in this vicinity during the last eight months 12,914 pounds of butter fat, for which they have paid $4,500, being an average of approximately 34 cents per pound. The prices paid by the local creamery have averaged 5 cents per pound higher than that paid by other institutions of its kind throughout the state during the year.

Farmers Take to It.

It has been the opinion of experts that Lake county is especially adapted to dairy farming and slowly but surely the farmers are beginning to realize that this is true, but the great trouble heretofore has been the fact that the farmers have had no place to market their cream. With the location of the new creamery here last spring, the farmers have been assured of a constant market at top-notch prices. A number of farmers in this vicinity have recently purchased pure-bred cattle during the last year, thus making it apparent that more interest is being taken by the farmers.

The local creamery is now arranging to increase its facilities for the coming year, expecting to increase business more than 200 per cent during 1916.

BEGIN ON SALTS AT FIRST SIGN OF KIDNEY PAIN

We Eat Too Much Meat, Which Clogs Kidneys, Then the Back Hurts.

Says Glass of Salts Flushes Kidneys and Ends Bladder Irritation.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Advertisement.

GOOD MANAGEMENT INCREASES INCOME

Recent experiments in Western Minnesota show that in each new area visited or old area revisited by men engaged in farm management demonstration work for the agricultural division of the University of Minnesota, it becomes more and more apparent that a good system of business, good yields from crops and from livestock and a proper diversion of the farm business have resulted and have added to the success of farming.

The most profitable ten farms in a certain locality were compared with the average of some sixty farms visited, and in all respects mentioned, were found to be better than the average. In the matter of size, whether considering total acreage, acreage in crops, or acreage in potatoes, these ten farms averaged 50 per cent larger than the average of the locality. In returns from livestock, the ten farms showed 10 per cent more income from each animal than the average. The crops were better, especially potatoes, the most important crop, which went 122 bushels to the acre against an average yield of ninety-nine bushels. The farm business was so arranged on these ten good farms that every man and every horse was able to cover from 10 to 20 per cent more ground than the average.

As a result of these methods the ten farms mentioned showed an average labor income of nearly $1,400, while the average man in the locality had a labor income of only $414. This is all the more striking when one considers that a man's labor income is not merely what he makes above expenses, but is what is left as pay for his year's time over interest on his investment, which in the case of the larger farms of the ten men mentioned would be a heavier charge than the average.

WARNED TO AVOID CREAMERY PROMOTER

Northern Minnesota farmers are advised by R. M. Washburn of the Minnesota Experiment station to guard against the creamery promoter. He declares that a new and systematic attempt is on foot to promote co-operative creameries throughout the Northwest, and that Northern Minnesota has been set apart as a territory to be "worked."

"The creamery," says Mr. Washburn, "is good, and the co-operative farmer-owned creamery is better, but there must be enough cows in the tributary territory to support it. Otherwise, it will not have the raw material with which to work, and will be certain to fail. The product of at least 500 cows, or about 60,000 pounds of butter fat per year, is necessary to ensure success. Cream shipping, individually or co-operatively, or a co-operative cheese factory is to be preferred to a co-operative creamery, during earlier stages of the growth of the community.

"Any community considering the building of a co-operative dairy enterprise should first appeal to the college of agriculture, or the state dairy and food department, for the advice of their men with regard to possibilities. Such advice may be had simply for the asking. Advice given by the experts from these departments has saved many a community from suffering serious loss, and might have saved many more which listened to the tale of the promoter, and invested their money only to see it disappear never to return."

RIGHT PLACE TO SETTLE.

"The first question the man contemplating farming as a life occupation is likely to ask himself is, 'Where shall I locate?'" said George H. Ebert of the Ebert-Walker company. "The determining factors that will guide him in making this decision are price of lands, soils adapted to his particular kind of farming, pure water, amount of rainfall, and, last but not least, markets and the facilities to reach them.

"Northeastern Minnesota affords unusual opportunities for the stock and dairy farmer. No class of farming will so improve and build up the land. In no other kind of farming can the farmer operate and successfully manage so large an acreage, for after all it is an undisputed fact that the steadily increasing value of productive land everywhere is the main determining factor justifying a man going into debt on land purchases. Where else in the United States can you buy fertile land so cheap? What other location will produce such abundant crops of clover, timothy and grasses of all kinds as well as grain and root crops? Does any other market contend to be as good, as permanent or as favorably located for shipping as Duluth, the iron metropolis of the Northwest?

"Agricultural developments in Northeastern Minnesota have just begun. This section is rightly termed the 'poor man's country,' because every man of small means who is willing to work can be a landlord. This is the one section that can offer you this inducement, cheap land and a sure, big increase in land value. For a permanent and safe investment, buy land in the coming stock and dairy region of Minnesota, the land of big red clover. It will make you a permanent asset that will neither burn nor fade away."

SEED SHOW NEXT MONTH

Announcement has been made of the annual convention and seed show of the Minnesota Crop Improvement association to be held at Worthington, Minn., Feb. 15 to 18.

DEPOSITS IN NATIONAL BANKS OF UNITED STATES INCREASED OVER TWO BILLIONS IN A YEAR

RESERVES GREATEST EVER HELD

Report of Comptroller Shows Growth Never Paralleled in Any Country.

Results of First Year Under the New Federal Reserve System.

Remarkable Report Presented to Congress By John Skelton Williams.

Washington, Jan. 10.—"Development and growth never paralleled in the financial history of any country," is the way John Skelton Williams, comptroller of the currency describes in his annual report to congress, the operation of the national banks under his charge, during the period from October, 1914 to November, 1915, the first year under the Federal reserve system. The report was today presented to congress.

Mr. Williams gives a comparative statement of the condition of the national banks to back up his statement. He shows that net resources of the banks increased in the year $1,743,878,648, that deposits increased $2,081,530,164 and that loans and discounts increased $917,420,502. Available cash increased in the same period $862,000,000 and on Nov. 10, 1915, the reporting national banks had excess reserves of $891,000,000. Tables show the comparative condition of banks in 1895 and 1915. In September, 1895, there were 3,712 reporting banks with net deposits of $1,989,300,000 and loans and discounts of $2,659,408,302 while in November, 1915, there were 7,617 reporting banks with net deposits of $9,070,471,447, loans and discounts of $7,233,628,973.

Greatest Reserves Ever Held.

"The reserves held by the national banks Nov. 10, 1915," says the report, "exceeded by $587,000,000 the greatest reserves ever held at any time prior to the passage of the Federal reserve act. Loans and discounts amounted to more than the total loans and discounts of all banks, including national, state, savings and private banks and loan and trust companies—as late as the year 1902."

Mr. Williams says that the "bank-

TRIAL OF MRS. MOHR FOR MURDER BEGINS

Charged, With Two Negroes, With Conspiracy to Cause Death of Doctor.

Providence, R. I., Jan. 10.—The trial of Mrs. Elizabeth F. Mohr and two negroes, Cecil V. Brown and Henry Spellman, for the murder of Dr. C. Franklin Mohr, on Aug. 31, last, is set for today. Justice Charles F. Stearns will preside. The negroes are charged directly with the murder and Mrs. Mohr as an accessory before the fact.

A murder indictment against Dr. Mohr's negro chauffeur, George W. Healis, was quashed last week, when Healis was brought into court and did not contest a charge of manslaughter. As disclosed in the preliminary hearings, the state will seek to show that Mrs. Mohr instigated Brown and Spellman to shoot her husband and induced Healis to stop the automobile in which the doctor was riding, at the spot on a country road in West Barrington, where the murder took place.

Mrs. Mohr, who has been at liberty under bail, entered the room dressed in mourning. She was pale but appeared in good spirits.

Arthur Cushing, of Mrs. Mohr's counsel, asked for a separate trial for her, claiming that, as alleged confessions by the negroes were to be introduced by the prosecution, his client could not obtain a fair trial, but the court denied the motion.

SIR PERCY LAKE.

London, Jan. 10.—Sir Percy Lake has been appointed to command the British forces in Mesopotamia in succession to Gen. Sir John Eccles Nixon, who has been compelled by ill health to return home, it was announced in the house of commons today by J. Austen Chamberlain, secretary for India.

FIVE MAY BE TRIED AGAIN

Jury Disagrees on That Number of Former New Haven Directors.

Six Others Tried on Same Charge Are Declared Innocent.

New York, Jan. 10.—Five former directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad today face the probability of another trial on charges of conspiracy to monopolize the railway traffic of New England. Concerning their guilt of innocence of this charge, the jury in the first trial was unable to agree.

The five are William Rockefeller and Lewis Cass Ledyard of New York, Charles M. Pratt of Brooklyn, Charles F. Brooker of Ansonia, Conn., and Edward D. Robbins of New Haven, Conn. The other six former directors tried on the same charge were acquitted in a verdict returned at 4:30 p. m. yesterday.

FINANCES OF ALL BELLIGERENTS BAD

Former Italian Premier Says Year Could Not Have Closed Worse.

Rome, Jan. 9.—"From a financial point of view the year 1915 could not have closed worse than it did for all the belligerent countries," said Signor Luigi Luzzatti, former Italian premier, in an interview published today in the Tribuna.

"The exchange rate paid by the Central empires," continued Signor Luzzatti, "is getting worse every day, evidently due to the requirements of their purchases abroad, since the advance into Balkans opened those markets to them. France, the chief monetary power in Europe, loses on the exchange with all countries except Russia and Italy."

The Italian statesman attributes the advance in exchange to speculation which, in his opinion, should be fought by the finance departments of the allies in conjunction with banks under state control as well as by limiting further issues of bank notes and by obtaining the payment of taxes and subscriptions to war loans in values of a monetary character.

PRISONERS OF WAR RECEIVE MUCH MONEY

Berne, Jan. 10.—The Swiss mails have transmitted to prisoners of war during the period from Aug. 19 to Dec. 19, 1915, 13,000,000 parcels, 70,000 letters and cards and 2,000,000 money orders for a total sum of 30,000,000 francs, of which 23,000,000 francs was for French prisoners in Germany and 7,000,000 for Germans in France.

The Swiss priest Philippe Iseppi of Samadan has been appointed visitor for Italian prisoners in Austria, and Father Noseda of Morbio, also a Swiss, will visit Austrians in Italy.

Men Return to Work.

New York, Jan. 10.—The 750 men who struck last week at the Jersey City plant of the Crucible Steel company returned to work today on the promise of the management that their demands would be considered. No specific promises were made as to wages or hours, but negotiations on these matters will begin at once.

GERMAN TROOPS BEGIN VIOLENT ATTACK ON FRENCH LINES IN THE CHAMPAGNE; MAKE SLIGHT GAINS

ONE MORE EXCHANGE OF VIEWS BETWEEN U. S. AND GERMANY AND LUSITANIA CASE WILL BE ENDED

NOW MERELY QUESTION OF PHRASEOLOGY

Secretary Lansing and German Ambassador Hold Another Conference.

Both Agree to Keep Matter Confidential for the Present.

Expects to Make But One More Visit Inside of Week.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, and Secretary Lansing had another conference in the Lusitania negotiations today which both agreed should be described as confidential.

The ambassador expects to confer with the secretary again inside of a week, and not again on the subject. That fact is taken by those conversant with the status of the case to mean that Germany and the United States have approached a point in the negotiations where only one more exchange between Washington and Berlin will be necessary before the long controversy is ended.

American officials in all quarters described the situation as "very hopeful" and reflected that view that a satisfactory settlement is in sight which will include indemnities for the 115 American lives lost and some expression of regret or disavowal which will be mutually satisfactory to Germany and the United States.

Phraseology Only Obstacle.

President Wilson, Secretary Lansing and the German ambassador are practically the only officials in the secret of the negotiations, but it is known that the principal point which has been delaying the final settlement was the phraseology. Germany has con-

GUN ON LINER TO KEEP OFF SUBMARINES

This is one of the two guns mounted on the Italian liner Guiseppe Verdi which arrived in New York. Protests have been made to the state department by foreign embassies claiming that the guns make the steamer a vessel of war. The United States will probably ask that the guns be removed before the ship sails from America.

GREEK WARSHIPS TO STOP INSURRECTION

Sent to Samos to Cope With Trouble There Over Food Shortage.

Athens, Jan. 10, via Paris.—The Greek cruiser Helli and the destroyer Leon with a strong contingent of troops have been sent to Samos to cope with an insurrection on that island, said to be due to a lack of foodstuffs.

It is generally believed that martial law shortly will be proclaimed at Athens.

Rumors persist of an early attack on Saloniki by the Austrians, Germans and Bulgarians. The Austro-German forces are concentrating in the Monastir region facing the French front, while the Bulgars are concentrating against the British front.

TURKS ARE IN FULL RETREAT

British Troops Pursuing Them in Mesopotamia, Says Chamberlain.

Turks Report They Have Completely Surrounded the British.

London, Jan. 10.—The Turks in Mesopotamia were in full retreat on Jan. 9, with the British pursuing them, it was announced in the house of commons today by J. Austen Chamberlain, secretary for India.

There had been heavy fighting on both banks of the Tigris on Jan. 7, Mr. Chamberlain's announcement stated, and the British had taken two Turkish guns and 700 prisoners.

British Surrounded.

Berlin, Jan. 10.—Wireless to Sayville.—The British army at Kut El Amara, in Mesopotamia, has now been surrounded completely by the Turks, according to Constantinople advices given out today by the Overseas News agency. It is said the Turks have advanced to the main defenses of the British.

TRANSPORT SHIP OF THE ALLIES IS SUNK

Berlin, Jan. 10.—Wireless to Sayville.—The sinking of a transport ship of the allies filled with troops at the time of the withdrawal of the French and British forces from the tip of the Gallipoli peninsula is reported in Constantinople dispatches given out today by the Overseas News agency.

HOLD TWO ADVANCED TRENCHES

French Claim Repulse of Teutons at All Other Points.

Germans Assert Many Prisoners and Several Machine Guns Taken.

Vigorous Counter-Attacks Succeed in Regaining Some of Lost Ground.

Paris, Jan. 10.—Heavy attacks were made yesterday by German troops in the Champagne, the war office announced today. The German attacks broke down with heavy losses, the statement says, and although they gained temporary foothold in French positions at various places, they were subsequently driven out everywhere except from portions of two advanced trenches.

German Statement.

Berlin, Jan. 10, by wireless to Sayville.—An offensive movement has been inaugurated by the German forces in the Champagne. Announcement was made by the war office today that French positions extending over several hundred yards at a point northwest of Massiges had been captured by the Germans.

The conquered positions are near Maisons de Champagne. The Germans captured 423 prisoners, including seven officers, five machine guns and one large and seven small mine throwers.

A French counter-attack made to the east of the positions taken by the Germans failed.

A German air craft division attacked the rear guard establishments of the allies at Furnes.

On the eastern front, an advance attempted by strong Russian detachments at Belestiany was repulsed.

AUSTRIANS REPORT REPULSE OF RUSS

Vienna Says Attacks Near Bessarabia Have Completely Ceased.

Berlin, Jan. 10, wireless to Sayville.—The following Austrian official statement dated Jan. 9 was received here today:

"The Russians who two days ago were repulsed at all points in East Galicia, near the Bessarabian frontier, ceased their attacks yesterday. There was only intermittent artillery firing on the part of the Russians.

"The Austro-Hungarian forces along the Kormine river in Volhyra dispersed Russian reconnoitering detachments.

"Bulgarian front — Northeast of Berane, Austrian and Hungarian troops stormed the heights occupied by the Montenegrins on the Tara river and captured one cannon. There were skirmishes along the Herzegovina frontier. In the district of the Gulf of Cattaro attacks against the Montenegrin troops are in progress."

"GERMANY PLEADS GUILTY," SAYS PAPER

Rome, Jan. 9.—"Germany pleads guilty," says the Giornale d'Italia, commenting on Germany's latest replies to America. The newspaper adds that Germany, by promising to give orders to insure the safety of passengers before ships are sunk, implicitly admits that this was not done in the past, and she thus confesses crimes, the memory of which, and of the confession itself, will be recorded in history.

POLITICAL WINTER SPORT.

TURKS IN FULL CONTROL OF THE GALLIPOLI PENINSULA

Positions on Tip Near Seddul Bahr Evacuated By Allies.

Berlin, Jan. 10, wireless to Sayville.—The following dispatch under date of Constantinople was given out by the news agency:

"The Milli agency states that the Turks were making preparations for three days for an attack on the British and French and results are not yet fully known. All the positions of the enemy near Seddul Bahr and Teke Burnu were occupied by the Turks, nine cannon being captured. Turkish artillery sank an enemy transport filled with soldiers. An enormous amount of booty was captured.

"A Turkish aeroplane shot down an enemy biplane near Seddul Bahr."

The official British account of the evacuation said that the only casualty in connection with the withdrawal was the wounding of one British soldier.

Positions Evacuated.

London, Jan. 10.—Complete evacuation of the Gallipoli peninsula by the British and French forces has been successfully carried out, it was official-

Official British Reports Say Wounding of One Soldier Only Casualty.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

Reports of the progress of the campaign in Mesopotamia were widely divergent.

Constantinople declared the British main army was retreating from Kut-El-Amara, where a force of 10,000 men had been left to cover the retreat.

It was announced in the British house of commons on the other hand, that after heavy fighting on both sides of the Tigris on Jan. 7, the Turkish troops on Jan. 9, were in full retreat with the British pursuing.

The British announcement recorded the capture of two Turkish guns and 700 prisoners. It was also made known that Lieutenant General Sir Percy Noel Lake had been appointed to succeed Sir John Eccles Nixon in command of the British in Mesopotamia.

Berlin and Paris likewise give varying accounts of the German offensive in the Champagne district.

Berlin declares that about 700 yards of French trenches were taken and held against a counter-attack. The French statement asserts that the German attacks broke down and that after securing a temporary foothold in the French positions at some points, the Germans were afterward driven out except from two small sections of advanced trenches.

The fighting in the Champagne which was of a violent character was on the ground which the French had taken in the great allied drive of last September.

Internment at Toulon, France, of the consuls of the Teutonic allies who were arrested at Saloniki, is reported in a Paris dispatch. The consuls have been placed on the French auxiliary cruiser Savoie.

PASTOR ANNOUNCES APPROACHING MARRIAGE FROM THE PULPIT

MISS NELLIE LOCKARD.

REV. HERBERT FORD.

Rev. Herbert Ford, pastor of the West Duluth Baptist church, left yesterday afternoon for Lincoln, Neb., where on Wednesday he will wed Miss Jessie Lockard, daughter of Mrs. Hugh D. Lockard of that city. The wedding ceremony will be conducted by Rev. H. H. Harmon, an uncle of the bride.

Rev. Mr. Ford announced his intention of leaving for his intended wedding to the members of his congregation following the sermon yesterday forenoon. The announcement came as a surprise to all members of the church.

Only immediate friends of the family will be present at the wedding, owing to the recent death of the bride's father. Rev. and Mrs. Ford will spend a few days of their honeymoon visiting at the home of Mr. Ford's sister at Beatrice, Neb., and other relatives at Omaha. He expects to return to the city about Jan. 20.

During the pastor's absence the pulpit of the West Duluth Baptist church will be supplied by Rev. E. R. Pope of Minneapolis.

RAPS THEATER AND DANCES

Fallen Women Can Trace Plight to Ball Room, Says Pastor.

Church Members Who Participate in Such Pleasures Called Hypocrites.

"You cannot go to heaven on a theater ticket nor take up your cross and follow Christ to the dance hall."

"Yes, you have seen Methodists at such places, but they are not Methodists. They are hypocrites."

These were two of the statements made by Rev. Eugene Nelson, pastor of the Bethany Norwegian Danish M. E. church, Sixty-fifth avenue west and Polk street, last night when speaking on two questions that he found in the church question box following the morning service yesterday. The pastor scored dancing and theater-going and especially those church organizations that raise money for building and maintaining churches by dances and theatricals.

The two questions in the box were: "Is it sinful to go to the theater?" and "What harm is there in dancing?"

In speaking of the former question the pastor said that one of the jokes of the day was the church that conducts dances and theatricals for the purpose of raising money for the furtherance of the cause of Christ. The pastor said that if he should be so unfortunate as to meet a member of his church who attended dances, that person would either have to stop going to dances, withdraw from the church or be expelled.

Rev. Mr. Nelson said that he denied that dancing was an innocent amusement and doubted whether it was a fine recreation. He said that the dance was invariably just the thing for allurement and degradation, and that the majority of fallen women trace their plight to their first experiences on the ballroom floor.

He said that the pastor who advises his members that it is all right to dance a little bit might just as well say "you can go to hell a little bit." He said that a person can no more go to dances a little bit than he can be a Christian only a little bit.

Shoulder Broken When She Tries to Stop Men's Quarrel.

Mrs. Charles Zolko, 9706 Wallace avenue, New Duluth, is confined to her home with a fractured shoulder as the result of a quarrel between her husband and his partner in house building, Mike Tarralia. The woman attempted to interfere and was pushed down the stairs.

The trouble began early Saturday evening when Tarralia went over to the house to watch the construction work on the building which the two men were erecting in partnership. The manner in which the work was being done did not suit Tarralia. The result was a wordy battle, which the woman, who was upstairs at the time, believed was going to result in blows. She went to the two men to attempt to act as peacemaker and Tarralia, according to the story obtained by the police, is said to have given her a shove which caused her to tumble down the stairway.

The police were called and they in turn called Dr. R. S. Forbes to attend the injured woman. As yet no arrest has been made.

CRIMINAL ACTION AGAINST COUNTY OFFICIALS BARRED

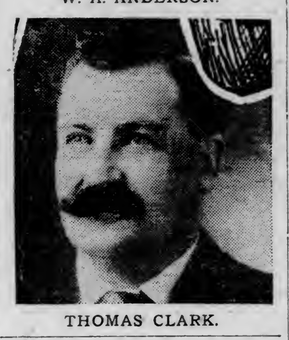

County Attorney and Examiner Permitted Statute of Limitations to Run.

Old Shortages of $3,462 in Accounts of Register's Office "Discovered."

Civil Action to Recover From Bondsmen of Late M. C. Palmer.

W. A. ANDERSON.

THOMAS CLARK.

Shortages and discrepancies aggregating $3,462.13, and covering a period since 1902, have just been unearthed by state public examiners in the accounts of William A. Anderson, deputy registrar of titles, and Thomas Clark, former deputy register of deeds.

Mr. Clark has been out of office for more than three years.

While no official action has been taken by the county attorney's office with reference to the matter, it has been a matter of common knowledge at the courthouse and even among business men of the city for years, that irregularities of some nature existed in the accounts of Messrs. Anderson and Clark and when Mr. Clark left the office it was generally understood that it was because he was obliged to. Meanwhile, however, the statute of limitations has been allowed to run, preventing prosecution by County Attorney Greene at this time. Civil action was begun today by C. E. Adams, attorney for the county board, to recover from Messrs. Clark, Anderson and the bondsmen of the late M. C. Palmer.

Examination in 1912.

In October of 1912, the public examiners made a purported thorough check of the accounts in the office of the register of deeds.

At that time none of the irregularities which have just been discovered, were found.

The reason was that the so-called check of the accounts was not compared with certain original records in the office of the district court clerk.

With such comparison, the check would have been a comparatively simple one. Without it, the audits were worthless.

"They were not even worth a tinker's d—n," is the way one county official expressed himself today.

Calligan's Record Clear.

Charles Calligan, who has been register of deeds since 1912, has requested the resignation of Mr. Anderson, who held office under Register Palmer, who died in October, 1912. B. F. Smith, who filled out the unexpired term, reappointed him and he was also continued in office when Mr. Calligan took charge. None of the alleged discrepancies, however, occurred during the present regime.

At the time of Mr. Palmer's death, public examiners were checking the office. They found what might be termed as a legal shortage of about $1,216 in the accounts at that time. This was money owing to St. Louis county when Mr. Palmer died. Messrs. Anderson and Clark at that time claimed that this amount was for charge accounts carried on the books. The law, however, does not recognize a charge account and holds the registrar liable.

The item of $1,216, however, did not include any portion of the $3,462.13 which has just been unearthed. This shortage was occasioned by either false entries or omissions of entries on the books, and which could not be discovered unless the public examiner took the time to check against the original records which might be obtained at any time in the office of the district court clerk.

"Discovery" Too Late.

There will be no criminal prosecution of either of these two men, for the simple reason that the "discovery" was made about four years late.

In this state the statute of limitations runs against alleged embezzlements after three years have elapsed since the commission of the crime.

Deputy Public Examiner J. O. Davis on Wednesday afternoon last placed a report covering a special examination of the accounts of Messrs. Anderson and Clark in the hands of County Attorney Warren Greene.

The county attorney examined it with the view of determining whether or not a criminal action might be maintained. He decided that the information had come to him too late. Yesterday, Sunday, the county attorney decided to make the information placed in his hands public.

Shortages Reported.

Investigation conducted by Examiner Davis for the period prior to May 10, 1915, revealed a shortage of $3,462.13, which, according to the report of the examiner, was made up as follows:

Year.	Amount.
1902	$ 4.30
1903	23.00
1904	1.00
1905	569.58
1906	591.23
1907	84.00
1908	2,193.82
1909	5.97

"There were also a number of minor errors in amounts from 25 cents to $2 revealed during the entire period," says the examiner who adds that they were "undoubtedly unintentional, as in some instances the amounts were over while in others they were short."

The largest shortage to be discovered by the examiner is for the year 1908, when a discrepancy of $2,193.82 was found.

Greene's Statement.

The statement which County Attorney Greene prepared for the newspapers with reference to the case follows:

"It appears from the report that the public examiner in the course of an examination of the office of the registrar of titles made this year, discovered that there was a discrepancy in the accounts of such office.

"The report covers the period from Jan. 1, 1902 to May 10, 1915, and discloses a shortage in the years from 1902 to 1911, inclusive, amounting to $3,462.13.

"It states that there were a number of minor errors in amounts from 25 cents to $2, which were undoubtedly unintentional, as in some instances the amounts were over while in others they were short.

"This comment undoubtedly applies to the years 1902, 1903, 1904, 1909, 1910 and 1911. It does not seem to me, however, that any such excuse is available, as to the years 1905 to 1908, inclusive, as the amounts involved preclude the idea of mistakes. The examiner's report does not say why these shortages were not discovered before this year, but I have been given to understand that such discovery could be made only by comparing the account of the registrar's office with the original files in the office of the clerk of court, and that such comparisons were not made by the former public examiners who were in the office during the years mentioned.

Criminal Action Barred.

"The result of this delay in the discovery of the loss is to bar criminal action if any exists. The statute of limitations in criminal cases is three years from the date of the offense; that is, in order to prosecute for the shortage of 1908, which is the latest in the point of time, an indictment would have had to be returned in 1911. The report is just four years too late.

"The rule in civil cases, however, is different. The county can bring an action against the parties liable for the amounts lost, and their bondsmen, at any time within six years after the discovery of the fraud, and since this discovery has just come to our knowledge this civil remedy is still available.

"I have consulted with Mr. Adams, who handles civil matters for the county, and he will take such action at once as is requisite against whatever parties are liable under the facts as they may develop."

Will Sue For Shortages.

Charles E. Adams, special county counsel, will institute suit to recover the amounts of the alleged shortage from Messrs. Anderson, Clark and the Fidelity & Deposit company of Maryland, successor to the American Bonding company, surety for the late M. C. Palmer, register of deeds, who was civilly liable for the acts of his deputies.

The statute of limitations in civil cases runs for six years from the date of the discovery of the fraud.

No part of the deficit is chargeable personally to the late M. C. Palmer, register, under whose administration the discrepancies occurred. The late register and his bondsmen were, however, responsible to the county for every act committed by his deputies.

The American Bonding company furnished the county with a $2,000 bond for Mr. Palmer as registrar of titles and $5,000 as register of deeds. The company is now defunct, but its business, together with its liabilities and assets have been taken over by the Fidelity & Deposit company of Maryland, with offices in Baltimore.

"Surprise" to Anderson.

Anderson, when asked for a statement this morning, gave out the following: "The report of the public examiner comes as a distinct surprise to me, as I thought that everything had been satisfactorily adjusted when Mr. Clark resigned as deputy register of deeds in October, 1912. I had nothing to do with the handling of the cash of either department of the register of deeds' office until July 1, 1912, when Mr. Palmer, who is now dead, considered it advisable to keep the two departments separate so far as the cash was concerned."

Attorney Adams said today that he was preparing papers in the suit against the alleged defaulters. The result will be brought on the late M. C. Palmer's bond.

Mr. Adams declared that he would press the action vigorously and collect as much of the alleged shortage as possible. "I am satisfied where the responsibility for the shortage lies," declared Mr. Adams. "I firmly believe that the late Mr. Palmer had no knowledge of any irregularities which have resulted in the shortage, but under the law he and his bondsmen are legally liable for the acts of his deputies. The estate of Mr. Palmer has long since been closed but his bondsmen are liable."

"Inspiration."

A Wonderful Thing.

10,017 CARLOADS OF GRAIN SHIPPED

Dakota Division of Great Northern Does Record Business.

Grand Forks, N. D., Jan. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Dakota division of the Great Northern railroad, with headquarters here, broke all records in the grain shipping business for the five months between Aug. 1 and Dec. 31, last when 10,017 car loads were handled and sent off the line.

Placed together, these cars would make a single train 181 miles long, carrying approximately 25,000,000 bushels of grain, and worth, at the present prices of the grain carried, at not far from $25,000,000.

Estimates, prepared on the basis of reports supplied from every town on the division, indicate that only 65 per cent of the season's crop has been shipped, 35 per cent of the grain remaining in the hands of the farmers or in the elevators.

During the five-month period, the Great Northern started more grain traffic off the Dakota division than it did during the entire preceding year.

Many Bushels To Mile.

The Lakota to Sarles line holds the record for the great amount of grain produced per mile. That line is seventy-two miles long, and 3,000 car loads of grain have so far been shipped, totaling about 4,000,000 bushels of grain.

Langdon holds the record as the greatest primary grain market on the division. It has so far shipped 556 cars of grain; Edinburg has furnished 481; Wales has furnished 354 cars; Lisbon shipped 296; Hannah shipped 235 cars; Milton shipped 242 cars; Osnabrock, 225; Orr, 251; Levant, which is only a siding, shipped 112 carloads of grain.

The greatest number of cars loaded any day was 367, on Sept. 20. For three and a half months, over a hundred cars were loaded on the division every day.

MUCH INTEREST IS SHOWN IN CONTEST

Competition Started By North Dakota Official Attracts.

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—There will be an added prize to the contest inaugurated by Commissioner of Agriculture Flint for the best ten reasons for the use of a thoroughbred sire. This was started with a view to interesting the people of the state to a greater degree in live-stock raising, especially of the right kind.

President Magivny of the St. Paul stock yards was so impressed with its value that he wrote the commissioner he would like to offer a silver cup for the first prize winner in the contest, provided he could be furnished with a copy of the article for publication.

Contest Ceases Feb. 1.

This will naturally increase the interest in the contest. The prizes offered by Commissioner Flint are cash. The contest closes Feb. 1.

The commissioner has received inquiries from all the leading livestock journals requesting copies of the three prize articles for publication on the ground that the reasons to be advanced why North Dakota farmers should use high class thoroughbred sires is just as applicable in other states. Officials of the animal husbandry department of the department of agriculture at Washington are also interested in the contest and may use the prize-winning articles in bulletins.

NORTH DAKOTA IS FIRST BARLEY PRODUCER

Grand Forks, N. D., Jan. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—For the first time in its history, North Dakota produced more barley than any other state, according to A. J. Surratt, field agent of the government, who makes his headquarters here.

The total barley yield of 44,800,000 bushels is greater than that produced by any other state—and gives North Dakota the distinction of raising the biggest crops of three grains—winter wheat, flax and barley.

THREE KILLED BY EXPLOSION

Terrific Blast From Smokeless Powder at Dupont Works.

No Suspicion That Accident Resulted From Outside Agencies.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 10.—Three men were killed and a number injured in an explosion of smokeless powder early today at the plant of the Dupont powder works at Carney's Point, N. J. It had been reported that a large number of men had lost their lives, but after an investigation the superintendent said only three were dead.

The cause of the explosion is not known but, according to the superintendent there is no suspicion that the blast was due to outside agencies. The report that arrests had been made was denied.

The dead are:

JOHN WALSH, Nyack, N. Y.

RICHARD J. LARNEY, Philadelphia.

S. T. CLYDE WYNN, address not known.

Blast a Terrific One.

The superintendent of the plant said the victims were employes, but that they had no business in the part of the works where the explosion occurred. The blast was a terrific one, and was felt twenty-five miles away. Wire communication with the plant was cut off by the shock, with the result that the wildest rumors prevailed until daylight cleared up the extent of the accident. The property loss is small, as the explosion occurred in a small building of No. 1 plant of the works. It was some distance from the main buildings.

One of the reports in circulation was that government agents and secret service men from the Dupont police force had been watching suspicious persons who went to the plant from Wilmington, Del., by boat, and that two carrying bombs and fuses had been arrested. C. B. Landis, a representative of the company branded all these reports as false. "Nothing ever occurs at the powder works of the Dupont company, but that some one loads one or two men up with bombs and dynamite and puts them under arrest," said Mr. Landis. "There is nothing to the plot theory."

May Invoke Indian Law.

Ashland, Wis., Jan. 10.—D. W. Emerson, a local tempernace advocate, says that an effort will be made to have the Indian treaty law enforced in Northern Wisconsin the same as in Northern Minnesota, and to that end an effort is being made to induce W. G. Calderwood of Minneapolis, secretary of the National Prohibition league, who figured in the Northern Minnesota local campaign, to come here and launch the campaign.

First Night School.

LIGHTS AND SHADOWS OF POLICE COURT

JAIL PREFERRED TO MARRIAGE TIE

Albert Showner Gets Eighty-Five Days; Won't Wed Common Law Wife.

Two years of a common law marriage with Albert Showner, 41, were enough for Isabel Glaspie, 24, she told Judge H. W. Lanners in municipal court today, but at that she was willing to marry him.

The man shook his head, however, and said he didn't see any reason for it. When the judge said "eighty-five days" Showner hesitated a moment. The girl, desperate, cried out:

"Now you've got a chance to marry me—go ahead!"

Showner was undecided for a moment and then turned to walk away with the jailer, choosing the long sentence, instead of one for life with the girl who had lived with him as his wife for two years.

She was sentenced to jail for thirty days. Detectives Barber and Roberg arrested them this morning for disorderly conduct.

INTERNATIONAL THEFT.

Russian and Austrian Said to Have Combined Against German.

Russian combined with Austrian to relieve a German of some money Friday night, it is alleged, and five of them landed in jail today.

Tony Milostan, 53, German, had $3.15 to begin with. It was a lot of money, of course, but that was no reason, as far as he could see, why his friends should try to rob him.

That's what he says John G. Erickson, 38, Wassil Nikolichen, 24, Mike Abram, 19, and John Tomak, 36, tried to do, however. He didn't find it out until this morning, when Erickson became loquacious, under the influence of many drinks.

Then he called Patrolmen Ricketts and W. Monahan. They all rode to headquarters, but the police released three of them, including the victim. Erickson, Austrian, and John Tomak, the Russian, were held.

JUDGE LANNERS BUSY.

Plays Two Court Engagements Every Morning While Cutting Is Absent.

Prisoners in the West Duluth jail have to get up early in the morning nowadays, for Judge H. W. Lanners convenes court at 8:30 o'clock.

It is probably the first time in the city's history that the police grist is brought before the bench for sentence that early in the day.

After disposing of West Duluth's offenders, Judge Lanners hurries to the main court at police headquarters, to assist Judge W. H. Smallwood with the day's work, during the time Judge Cutting is away on his vacation.

Judge Smallwood handled the "grist" this morning, but then surrendered the bench to his younger associate, while he took charge in the civil court. Ten o'clock is the usual time for court to convene.

SUSPECTS ARRESTED.

Two So-Called Vags May Be Charged With Thefts From Hotel Rooms.

Four laborers living at the Soo hotel, West Michigan street, are minus their watches and money as a result of the activities of Frank Schultz, 26, and John Novak, 23, they told Patrolman Oscar Olson last night.

Andrew Brottege, Charles Swanson, John Malnik and George Sorki were looking for the men who entered their rooms and walked off with their property without ceremony.

Their suspicions centered upon Schultz and Novak. Patrolman Olson, after a short investigation, arrested the two, placing charges of vagrancy opposite their names on the police blotter. He found a bunch of pass-keys in their room, he said.

Both pleaded not guilty in police court before Judge W. H. Smallwood this morning. They will be tried this afternoon.

BLACK EYE DISTRIBUTER.

Kosti Hill Sent to Work Farm for Trying to Fulfill an Ambition.

Several black eyes were distributed yesterday afternoon by Kosti Hill, 30, after he had had his afternoon nap.

Kosti rooms at the Saratoga hotel. He walked downstairs, refreshed after his siesta, and expressed a belief that he could lick anybody in sight.

The clerk was the only one in sight, so Kosti started in to make good. He succeeded fairly well until Patrolman A. A. Wanvick happened along.

At the patrol box Ole Rafstad, 521 West Michigan street, crowded too close, and the prisoner disengaged one arm long enough to swipe at him. Kosti's fist connected with Rafstad's eye, and Rafstad struck a nearby curbstone.

The fighter was sentenced to the work farm for fifteen days this morning.

BURGLARS GET SANDWICH.

Hard Working Thieves Get Only Bread and Cold Ham.

Two bold, bad, burglars crept through a long alley last night, tried to jimmy a back door, forced a window, and went out via a transom, all for the sake of a —ham sandwich.

Charles Benda, proprietor of a small meat market and general store at 508 West Fourth street, telephoned headquarters today, saying that his place had been burglarized.

After checking over his stock, he reported that a pound of butter, some sliced cold ham, and a loaf of bread were missing.

ENOUGH PAVING FOR A FEW YEARS

Park Point Petitioners Oppose Improving West Side of Avenue.

Forty Park Point property owners are against the paving of the west side of Minnesota avenue next summer.

A petition protesting against the improvement was filed this morning with City Clerk Borgen and will be referred to the city commissioners this afternoon. They ask that the paving be postponed until 1918, as the pavement on the east side is sufficient for the next two or three years.

During the last few months some of the property owners have been urging the council to order the west side of the roadway paved next summer. Officials of the Park Point Traction company are against it, because of the heavy expense they will have to bear as their share of the improvement.

The petition filed today was placed in circulation at the regular meeting of the Park Point Improvement club last Tuesday and is signed by some of the largest property holders on the Point.

Whether or not the west side of the avenue is paved, from Twelfth to Thirty-eighth street, the council is planning to order the east side of the pavement extended from Thirty-eighth to Forty-third street.

BRIDGE DISPUTE UNDER ADVISEMENT

Gen. Kingman Hears Arguments By Duluth and Superior Representatives.

The New Duluth bridge controversy has been taken under advisement by Gen. Kingman, chief engineer of the United States war department, before whom arguments were presented last Thursday and Friday by representatives of Duluth and Superior.

W. A. McGonagle, president of the Interstate Transfer company, which has built the bridge, Congressman Miller, Secretary Eva of the Commercial club and City Engineer Ayres presented Duluth's arguments regarding the approach on this side of the bridge. They claimed that a compromise had been offered Superior, but that it was refused.

The local representatives at the hearing in Washington are expected back tomorrow. Just when Gen. Kingman will render a decision, they were unable to say on leaving Washington yesterday, according to reports received today from the national capital.

Congressman Lenroot and W. R. Foley of Superior argued for the Wisconsin city, claiming that the war department had no legal right to stipulate how the approaches should be built.

MORE CARE NOW USED BY CITY IN BUYING NEW BOOKS

Under the present arrangement, book buying by the city is more systematic and effective than it was during the regime of the old library board, according to Mayor Prince, who is opposed to the re-establishment of the civic boards, now being considered by the charter commission.

"In the old days," he said this morning, "the librarian would make out a list of new books desired and copies would be sent to the offices of the board members, who would sign their O. K. That was all there was to it.

"At present we call in an advisory board once each year to go over the lists prepared by the various assistants. These lists are carefully censored before the books are finally ordered. The head of the juvenile work orders her own books, because she knows just what she needs.

"Local scientists and experts are constantly called in by the librarian or myself for advice on technical works, so that in this way we have the benefit of the best information in the city for every branch of our work. It is a much better and more effective plan than was in force when the old board was in office."

Mayor Prince also claims that boards do not fix the responsibility with the department head, which, he declares, is the main aim of commission government. The library, park and water and light boards were discontinued when commission government went into effect in 1913.

MANY CASES GOING TO GRAND JURY

Judge Morris Will Open January Term of Court Tuesday.

Tomorrow morning the January term of the United States district court will open, and with the arrival of a number of government officials from St. Paul and the members of the grand jury the complete machinery of the court will be put into operation. Although the January court calendar is one of the smallest on record, the grand jury is expected to have a large number of cases to investigate and up to date the number of subpoenas served on prospective witnesses shows that the inquisitorial body will probe cases from many sources. Judge Page Morris will call the court to order and give instructions to the grand jury during the forenoon.

Assistant United States Attorney Joel M. Dickey is still ill with pneumonia and will not be here. Assistant United States Attorney Elijah Barton, Minneapolis, will be here to assist Attorney Alfred Jaques to prosecute the cases for the government. United States Marshal Grimshaw of St. Paul, Deputy United States Marshal C. B. Buckman of Little Falls and Clerk Charles H. Spencer, St. Paul, will also arrive tonight or tomorrow.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE—DRINK TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.—Advertisement.

CANADIAN GRAIN RECEIVED HERE

Movement Via Duluth Now Averages 25 Cars Per Day.

Canadian wheat in bond for export trade is coming into Duluth at the rate of 25 cars a day. The movement in Canadian wheat began within the last few days, but local freight men declare that there will be a very large amount of Canadian grain stored here for shipment to Eastern points. The traffic congestion at the Canadian head of the lakes is the cause.

The congestion at eastern freight terminal points still prevails. There is an embargo at many ocean terminals, while in some instances where the embargo was removed, it has been placed in force again.

Grain is being shipped from here, all rail, but the gross tonnage is considerably lessened by the congestion at eastern receiving points.

JUDGE G. H. NOYES DIES IN FLORIDA

Was Father of Mrs. Don R. McLennan, Well Known Here.

Judge George H. Noyes of Milwaukee, one of the Northwest's most prominent jurists, died at Clearwater, Fla., last night, according to messages received by friends living in Duluth.

He was the father of Mrs. Don R. McLennan of Chicago, who is well known in Duluth society. Mr. McLennan is president of the Manley-McLennan Insurance agency of this city. Two other daughters, Mrs. William Dalrymple and Mrs. Ralph Bagley, both of Minneapolis, also survive.

Judge Noyes retired from the bench several years ago and at the time of his death he was general counsel for the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company of Milwaukee. For many years Judge Noyes was in the habit of spending his summers at the Brule, where he had a summer lodge, "Gitchee Gumee."

Funeral services probably will be held in Milwaukee.

TWO MORE PAVING JOBS

First Street and Central Avenue Will Be Paved in 1916.

Voss Will Introduce Salary Schedule for Employes.

Two more paving jobs for 1916 will be ordered by the city commissioners this afternoon.

First street will be ordered paved from Sixth to Twenty-third avenues east and Central avenue from Cody to Columbia street. Last week the council ordered West First street and East Superior street paved next summer. A total of $1,000,000, it is estimated, will be spent on street improvements during this year.

City Engineer Ayres has prepared the following estimates on the East First street pavement: Bitulithic, $80,-259; asphalt, $74,119, and concrete, $64,-663. For Central avenue a concrete pavement will cost $32,630, according to the engineer's figures.

In addition, Commissioner Voss, head of the finance division, will introduce the resolution authorizing the 1916 salary schedule, which was agreed upon by the commissioners at a special conference last Friday afternoon. More than 100 city employes will be given increases in salaries for this year, including a flat raise of $5 a month for all members of the police department.

Gust Hiner will be awarded the contract to lay a sanitary sewer in Luther avenue on his bid of $2,211.

A saloon license transfer probably will be awarded to Chris Tracey from 5610 Raleigh street to 410 Central avenue. The application was held up for a week when it was presented to the commissioners last Monday.

Several ordinances will be advanced in reading, including the measure establishing two new election districts at Kenwood park and Woodland.

OPPOSED TO REFERENDUM

Farrell Will Stand By Council's Action on Armory Sale.

Commissioner Farrell is opposed to a referendum election on the sale of the old armory.

Although the works head voted against the resolution accepting the offer of the Shriners, he said this morning that he is not in favor of the proposed referendum election, for which Postmaster McEwen announced last week he will shortly circulate petitions.

"A majority of the commissioners have voted to sell the armory to the Shriners, and I feel that the matter should end right there," he said this morning. "There is no need of having a special election, with the heavy expense, for everything that comes along. It makes a joke of the referendum."

Commissioner Farrell was attending the late Governor Hammond's funeral at St. James when the ordinance authorizing the sale was passed by the council by a vote of 3 to 1, Commissioner Merritt voting against it. Because of the works head's stand on the resolution the previous week, it is admitted that he would have opposed the ordinance.

Mayor Prince and Commissioners Voss and Silberstein, who voted in favor of the sale, declare that a referendum election would entail an unnecessary expense of $3,000. They continue in their stand that the sale is the best possible business move the city could take at this time.

Commissioner Merritt, utility head, threatened recently to invoke the referendum, and it is understood that he favors such a move at this time.

NEW RECRUITING RECORD FOR DULUTH

Sixty-two Men Enlisted in Duluth During Year Just Passed.

The United States naval recruiting station at Duluth made an excellent record during the year 1915 according to the annual report made public today at the local station. The Duluth office enlisted sixty-two men out of 165 recruited in this district. The district includes Minneapolis, St. Paul, La Crosse, Virginia and Austin. The latter two offices were opened only a short time ago.

The number of recruits for the district makes an average of just one man a day for the year. The 1915 record for the district is the best since 1908. Peter Coyle was in charge of the local office during the year, and he enlisted a large number of men during the last two weeks of his stay here.

C. A. Congdon of Duluth has just had shipped from Iowa, thirty-five Aberdeen-Angus cattle to his irrigated ranch in Yakima valley, with a view to improving the stock of his ranch and also of the valley in general. James J. Hill, the railroad magnate, is interested with Mr. Congdon in getting cattle into that section of the West with a view to raising the grade of cattle being bred there.

The cattle just shipped from Iowa were selected by Mr. Congdon and Prof. H. R. Smith, St. Paul stock expert.

WILL OF MRS. WOODBRIDGE

Odd Instrument Drawn By Herself Four Years Before Death.

Bulk of Estate of $22,600 Left to Two Daughters.

Property valued at $22,600 is disposed of by the will of the late Mrs. Frances A. Woodbridge filed late Saturday in probate court by Dwight E. Woodbridge, brother-in-law, and N. J. Upham, son-in-law, who were named as executors.

Mrs. Woodbridge was one of Duluth's best known women. She died on Nov. 28, 1915. Her will was drawn by herself and was executed about four years prior to her death.

The estate consists of real property valued at $9,000 and personalty estimated to be worth $13,600. Among other things, she provides in her will that with the exception of the property disposed of by certain bequests, her estate shall go to her two unmarried daughters, Lydia and Frances. They will come into possession of the homestead on East Third street.

In the event that the former should marry, the will provides, the residue estate after the special bequests are paid, shall go to her sister, Frances. On the other hand, if the latter should marry, Miss Lydia Woodbridge would come into possession of the remaining property. If both marry, the estate will be divided equally among the four children. In case one or both of the daughters marry, they will receive $1,000 from the estate.

The sum of $1,000 and several personal effects are bequeathed to Mrs. Katherine W. Upham, a daughter. J. Edwards Woodbridge, a son residing in California, is also remembered in the will with a bequest consisting of oil paintings, portraits and books.

Among other individual bequests are those made to the grandchildren of the late Mrs. Woodbridge. She refers in her will to "Jackie" (J. Edwards Woodbridge, Jr.) whom she wishes to receive his grandfather's gold sleeve buttons. "Girlie" (Mildred Woodbridge), another grandchild is to receive "enough spoons to make twelve like those already given her."

Mrs. Woodbridge owned a 160-acre tract of land, valued at about $4,000, which she divides by her will into four separate parcels to be given to each of her four children. Several personal bequests are given to each of the daughters and to other relatives.

Rock Island, Ill., Jan. 10.—T. M. The latter claims the territory through forfeiture by the Three Eye last season in failing to keep its agreement to place a team in this city. The midwinter meeting of the Three Eye league is being delayed pending decision of the territory committee.

In Grand Forks, grade school athletics are on a firm basis, with hockey, basket ball, baseball, football and field work occupying places on the program.

TWO CANDIDATES FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The report was current today at the state capitol that Thomas Frankson, a real estate dealer of St. Paul, would file for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor. Mr. Frankson, who was a former member of the legislature from Fillmore county, was a caller at the executive department this morning but he refused to discuss his possible candidacy.

Another reported candidate for lieutenant governor is Dr. G. A. Gates of Kenyon. Dr. Gates is also a former member of the legislature, and at one time was a candidate for lieutenant governor.

O. G. Sanstad of Kenyon has announced his candidacy for a position under Governor Burnquist. He wants to be executive clerk. Mr. Sanstad was messenger to Governor Burnquist during the last session of the legislature.

MUST PUT UP BETTER FRONT

Duluth "Cops" Must Wear Full Uniform With Collar and Tie.

Ban Put on Tobacco; Minor Changes Expected in Force.

Duluth policemen must put up a better appearance while on duty, Chief R. D. McKercher has decided.

In a special bulletin posted at headquarters, West end, West Duluth and New Duluth yesterday, he reminded "cops" that the entire uniform, with regulation collar and tie, must be worn.

"Officers are reminded," the bulletin, reads, "that full and complete uniform must be worn while coming on and going off duty, as well as while they actually are on their beat, or doing their work. Part uniform, with part civilian clothes, will not be tolerated in the department."

Standing rules of the police department make provisions of this nature, but Chief McKercher's reminder was posted, it was said, because of reports of negligence on the part of one or two men in some of the outlying sections of the city.

Smoking while on duty is strictly taboo, the bulletin says, excepting beteween the hours of 11 p. m. and 7 a. m. Policemen are permitted to smoke during the night in accordance with the custom which has been followed for many years.

In the future, however, Chief McKercher has signified his intention of being more strict about cigars and pipes. Nothing has been said about cigarets.

Since the recent shake-up in the police department which involved the transfer to West Duluth of Lieutenant Frank Schulte, former chief of detectives, and that of Lieutenant Charles Wilcox from West Duluth to headquarters, there have been no changes in the assignments.

Commissioner of Safety Silberstein expects to have at least two or three patrolmen added to the force in the near future, and further minor changes are looked for when they are put on duty.

In fact Chief McKercher is now considering two or three minor changes for the further "good of the service," it is believed, despite the fact that he has refused to verify rumors to that effect.

"Several of the men are on the sick list at the present time," he said today, "and later, when the force is at its normal size and when the new men begin work, there may be one or two shifts for convenience sake."

DIES OF HEART DISEASE.

M. S. Bartlett Succumbs to Trouble of Long Duration.

Mauritz S. Bartlett, 69, died suddenly early yesterday morning at his home in the Broadway flats. Heart trouble is said to have been the cause. Mr. Bartlett was troubled with heart disease for some time and has had to arise two or three times each night for fresh air.

Shortly before 6 o'clock yesterday morning Mrs. Bartlett was awakened by his groans. She hurried to his side and found him lying on the floor by the window. She summoned a physician, but death occurred before the doctor arrived. He leaves no children.

The funeral will probably be held Wednesday. Mr. Bartlett has resided in Superior about four years and in Douglas county for sixteen years.

Frozen, Not Murdered.

The death of Amanda Maki, whose body was found in a frozen condition in a shack on lower Banks avenue, was due to her freezing to death while in a state of intoxication, according to the verdict of the coroner's jury, which met Saturday afternoon. The marks on the woman's face and body were held to be insufficient to have caused her death. The body was buried today by the county.

Society • Women's Clubs • Music • Drama

TEN plays were submitted for the Drama league contest which closed Jan. 1.. The committee will meet within a few days to decide on the three best, which will probably be presented at the Little theater some time in February. The decision of the best play of the three will be left to the vote of the audience, a prize of $50 to accompany the honor.

The rules governing the contest required that each play be of one act and require half an hour for presentation, that it be original with the person submitting it and must not have been produced or published. The contest was open only to members of the Duluth branch of the Drama League of America.

The manuscripts were sent to the committee through the mail in order that it would not be known who submitted them. Each one was accompanied by a sealed envelope bearing the title of the play and containing the name of the author. The envelopes will not be opened until the winner has been decided by the audience.

Exhibition of Fancy Skating at Club

An exhibition of fancy skating will be given at the curling club tonight for the members of the club by Dunbar Poole, who is on his way from the Pacific coast to New York, where he will give instructions in figure skating at the St. Nicholas rink.

For ten years he has been managing owner and director of an artificial ice rink at Sydney, Australia. It is of a semi-club character, with 3,000 members, twelve assistant skaters and three professional instructors. The Australian season lasts three months and closes with a fancy dress carnival. One year the ice surface was decorated with marble columns and pergola effects in white and gold, to represent the last days of Pompeii. Another year, when he glorified an Arabian festival, the ice became a scene of minarets, veiled women and Mussulmen in turbans and gorgeous flowing robes.

Mr. Poole has spent many winters at skating resorts in Switzerland, Germany and Sweden. One of the foreign clubs sent him as its representative to compete for the world's amateur skating championship at Berlin in 1911 and at Manchester, England, in 1912.

Correspondent Met Miss McFadden in Germany

Duluth and Minneapolis friends of Miss Mary McFadden, who went to Germany early in the fall on newspaper work, became uneasy when no news was received from her for a long time, but their fears were relieved by Gus C. Roeder, who suggested that perhaps letters from Miss McFadden were among those which were taken from the steamer Rotterdam at Falmouth, England. Mr. Roeder was sent to Germany by the New York World and the Minneapolis Journal to investigate the actual conditions there. He met Miss McFadden when they went from Holland into Germany at Bentheim where correspondents have their first trouble. They met again in Berlin.

Miss McFadden wrote Duluth friends recently that she was in Berlin but expected to return home soon.

Mr. Roeder attributed Miss McFadden's difficulties in Germany to her wearing a small American flag, and to her inability to speak German. Upon his advice she decided that her pocketbook was a better place than her coat for the flag. Even after hard experiences she pluckily told Mr. Roeder that she was getting on well.

Efficient Housekeeping

BY Henrietta D Grauel

Expensive Economy

This is the month when business men throughout the land take invoices and shortly they will be able to tell you just how their affairs stand. Under profit and loss they write a sum that shows their gains during the year and one that tells how much the office furniture has depreciated. New ledgers, files, journals and such things are purchased frequently and old ones are replaced with better ones. When this is not the case a business man feels discouraged for he realizes his factory, shop or store is either going backward or merely marking time.

How differently women manage their business of keeping house. Orders for every day's work and every day's meals issue from the kitchen. All the food for the family is cooked therein and it is often, and truly, dubbed the workroom of the house. It is similar to the business man's office. Yet in many kitchens the same utensils do for a generation. Often there is abundance of light, air and cleanliness, with a dearth of convenience. Many women cannot tell a cake whip from an egg whisk; a food chopper from a coffee pulverizer. And these women flatter themselves they are saving and economical. There are none so blind as those who will not see. This so-called economy of making old things do is the most costly in the end. No one can afford to use poor tools; every penny you save "making things do" uses dollars of wife and mother and home comfort. Such saving as barking your knuckles on the too small wheel of the old egg beater, or rasping off the ends of your fingers on the split grater, or wasting time with a single-bladed chopping knife when a four-bladed one can be bought for 15 cents, is penny wise and pound foolish.

You can see reapers, binders and harrows, corn shellers and threshing machines standing out in the weather on many a farm you drive by, which proves men do appreciate labor-saving machinery, and buy it for themselves. But women on these farms often have not a single labor-saving machine in their homes, save, perhaps, the $8.99 sewing machine purchased the year they were married. I never did believe this was the fault of our men, but rather a mistaken idea of our women, who seem to think there is some honor or pride to be had from doing hard work in the hardest way.

The so-called "new housekeeping" is wonderful and delightful as compared with the drudgery of bygone days. I wish we might all have a better working knowledge of it, for then we would see how costly thoughtless saving is.

Boston Woman Will Give Address In Duluth on Vocational Training

MRS. LUCINDA W. PRINCE.

Mrs. Lucinda W. Prince, president of the Women's Educational and Industrial Union of Boston, Mass., will speak in Duluth in the auditorium of the Central high school next Monday evening, Jan. 17, under the auspices of the Duluth Retail Merchants' association. Vocational training will be discussed in many of its phases by her. Her work recently has been in the department of education of the National Retail Dry Goods association.

Stars Work of Union.

In 1905 the work of the Women's Educational and Industrial Union of Boston was started by Mrs. Prince with a small class of girls who were interested in department store work. The work grew so rapidly that in 1911 a teachers' training class was organized and Simmons' college of Boston offered class rooms and equipment needed for this teachers' class. Affiliation with the college continued from that time and the teachers' course in salesmanship now appears in the Simmons' college catalog as a part of the curriculum.

The demand from all over the country from superintendents of schools for teachers of salesmanship became so insistent that Mrs. Prince in 1913 took a position as director of salesmanship in high and continuation schools of Boston, still, however, keeping the responsibility of the teachers' training class for the last two years. This work in the Boston public schools has grown and met with such favor from both schools and stores that now both courses of salesmanship and merchandising are carried on in the senior year in nine high schools and the senior and junior year in two others.

The latest development of Mrs. Prince's work was the organization of a department of education for the National Retail Dry Goods association. This was undertaken in the hope that what was started in Boston and proved so successful in the schools and department stores of that city might be passed on to the members of the retailers' association.

During the San Francisco fair Mrs. Prince addressed two of the many conventions held in that city and by invitation of the Collegiate Alumnae she was one of the speakers at the meeting devoted to "New Opportunities for College Women." To an audience of college graduates she explained the significance of training for department store workers, told about the encouraging results which have already been accomplished and emphasized the unusual opportunity for social service which this kind of teaching affords.

Expert in Salesmanship.

At a session of the National Educational association held last August a large audience listened to Mrs. Prince's description of the method of conducting salesmanship classes in the high and continuation schools of Boston. It is believed that her coming to Duluth will arouse considerable interest in educational circles. The board of education has been invited to attend her lectures. It is expected that many other civic organizations will be interested in Mrs. Prince's visit and will plan on hearing her address. The local Retail Merchants association will attend in a body and will issue an invitation to all of the sales people of the city to take advantage of hearing what Mrs. Prince will have to say on the subject of store salesmanship.

Coming at a time when the subject of vocational training is such a prominent topic the visit of Mrs. Prince should arouse unusual interest in this city.

Scandinavian W. C. T. U.

At the meeting of the Scandinavian W. C. T. U., which will be held at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. W. Stromgren, 1031 East Seventh street, the subject of discussion will be "Why Do Women Want to Vote?" Papers will be given by Mrs. Albert Stoltz and Mrs. N. Selseth.

Bed Time Tales

By Clara Ingram Judson

The Sleepy Tulips

Out on the front sidewalk, close by a long, narrow flower bed, stood a great basket. And in the basket were a hundred tulip bulbs all huddled tight together.

Overhead flew two or three of the bold, strong winter birds, and round and all over blew the strong wintry breezes.

"Look who has to sit right out in the cold!" taunted the littlest north breeze teasingly. "I would not sit so still if I were you! I'd run around and jump and get myself warm! Look at me! See how I exercise! That's the way to keep warm—do as I do."

"We're not so very cold," said one tulip bulb politely. "You see, we have on our heaviest warm coats and you wear scarcely anything at all. You should dress warmer, as we do."

"Not I," laughed the little north breeze. "How could I rush through the air if I wore a clumsy brown coat such as you have on? I think that is a silly thing to wear!"

Just then a belated robin flew by. "Who's that you are talking to?" he asked the north breeze.

"Those silly little brown tulip bulbs down there in that basket," replied the north wind, with a little burst of speed. "They want me to wear a brown coat, too; but I tell them that the only way to keep warm is to rush around as I do."

"Tulips? Did you say tulips?" asked the robin, not noticing all that the breeze was saying. "What are tulips doing this time of year?" Then he looked down and saw them himself. "What in the world are you doing here in the late fall?" he asked, pertly. "Did you think, because you saw me, that spring had come? You are mistaken. Winter has come and I am leaving for the South this very morning! You can't bloom now, it's too cold."

"We don't care about blooming now," replied the tulip bulbs politely. "To tell the truth, we are far too sleepy to want to bloom if we could. All we want is a good warm bed where we can sleep. Perhaps, after we wake up we could bloom; but we don't want to try it now—we want to sleep."

"Sleepy!" scoffed the north wind. "Sleepy, sleepy, sleepy-heads! Want to sleep instead of blooming! You are funny flowers!"

"You can't bloom now, it's too cold."

"Sleepy? Flowers sleepy?" asked the robin, pausing in his flight. "I never heard of such a thing before! And, anyway, you can't sleep in a basket—the cold north winds would freeze you! I know that much about the winter, even if I do spend it in the South!"

Just then, when the hundred tulip bulbs were beginning to be frightened about this dreadful winter the others talked of, a gardener came out of the house, dug a deep trench, and into it put the tulip bulbs, one by one. Carefully he tucked the warm earth around each one; tenderly he saw that each was comfortable. The tulip bulbs were so happy they said not a word—they wandered straight off into slumberland.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Form a Coasting System.

I can well understand and sympathize with the love of the average youngster for the sport of coasting. As I watched a crowd of youngsters coasting recently, I realized that only in added years had I grown older. Again was I doing the "belly bump" over thank-you-marms and in danger of colliding with a stone wall or a tree.

Yet do I recall that there was one fly in the ointment of perfect content; the pursuing double-runner or heavier sled, propelled and recklessly steered by some bully of a lad, which bore down on us with actual danger to life and limb. When I read of the fatalities in this delightful sport caused often by heavier sleds that overrun the smaller fry, I feel my toes curl in momentary terror as these great sleds rushed by. I recall many sad accidents and wish there was in every band of coasters some masterful boy or girl to install a sort of military system or discipline.

I know of a hill where coasting is popular and where a police officer has drafted a set of rules that have been lived up to rigidly for three years. Here are some of the rules enforced. All the little folks on their lighter sleds go first and get well out of the path and start back leaving a clear field for the double-runners and heavy sleds. And if by reason of strength and longer legs the big chaps could get back to the top before the weaker young people, they were not to cut in with extra turns, but wait their regular order.

That children lack judgment is all too sadly evident by the numbers of them offered up as yearly sacrifices to their mania to hanging onto the trolley car. We are well aware that the strong stand taken by parents is helping to decrease this sad, needless maiming of young bodies. If in such cases parents, older brothers and sisters and friends will agitate this matter of system in coasting an appreciable number of these breakages of limbs and concussions of brains may be avoided.

There will still remain in city and suburb where streets are used for coasting purpose the danger from sleighs and spirited horses; the menace of one description or another at every cross street and the nervous, flighty lad or lassie who will steer straight into trees. But all these things can be remedied.

Grand Opera "Season" Closes Most Successfully

The grand opera "season" of Duluth was a success from the presentation of the first opera Thursday night to the last fall of the curtain Saturday night. The Saturday matinee operas, "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pagliacci," and the night performance, "Rigoletto," were heard by 2,500 persons.

Added to the brevity of Mascagni's "Cavalleria Rusticana" and Leoncavallo's "Pagliacci," there is a deeper affinity between these two compositions that associates them so closely that one is seldom given without the other. Both are realistic melodramas, both are dressed in the musical attire of the most variegated Italian sort and one was written by the disciple of the other.

Mary Kaestner, who sang the role of "Aida" Friday night, was "Santuzza" in "Cavalleria," Alesandro Modesti, who was the king of Ethiopia in "Aida," had the role of "Alfio," and Alfredo Graziani was a splendid "Turridu."

Angelo Antola's prologue to "Pagliacci" was so enthusiastically received that two encores were given and the audience would have had a third encore, perhaps a fourth, if it had been possible. G. Agostini, as "Canio," put into his part all the fire Leoncavallo intended, and was especially fine in the aria "Vestila Giubba." Sophie Charlebois, as "Nedda," was as pleasing with her grace as with her voice.

Giuseppe Agostini, as the duke in "Rigoletto," was a tremendous success and Angelo Antola as "Rigoletto," his hunchback jestor, showed a fine baritone voice. Edvige Vaccari, as "Gilda," the hunchback's daughter, displayed her wide range in the difficult arias.

SIDE TALKS

By RUTH CAMERON

The Inexcusable Thing

Some things cannot be excused. And one of them, to my mind, is the wearing of soiled white gloves. I met a woman the other day whom I used to know when we were both in school. She was stepping out of her little closed car and bidding the fur-clad chauffeur wait while she went into the bank, sufficient evidences surely that she was reasonably prosperous. She was well dressed, too, in every detail but one, as she paused to greet me I noticed she had on very much-soiled white gloves.

She Didn't Have to Hang Onto a Strap.

It seemed to me that she was without a shred of excuse for that mark of ill-breeding. She evidently had money enough to keep plenty of gloves on hand; she was in a machine, and therefore had not the extenuation of having been obliged to hold a soiled trolley strap.

Perhaps you will agree with me that this case was without extenuating circumstances, but will hold that in other cases there might be some, as, for instance, in the case of a woman who has left her home with clean white gloves, but returns at night with the soil of a day's wear upon them. Yes, that is much less culpable than to start out with soiled gloves, but why wear white gloves in cases like that at all? Aren't dark suede or dogskin gloves much better than sure-to-be-soiled white ones?

An Explanation, Not An Excuse.

I believe it was Bismarck who, having pushed himself, out of turn and without the proper introduction, into the presence of a church dignitary, haughtily explained the rudeness by saying, "I am Bismarck." "That," said the dignitary, "explains but does not excuse your conduct."

That's the way I feel about soiled white gloves, that in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred, though they may be explained, they cannot be excused.

A torn veil is another unnecessary offense against good dressing. Perhaps one cannot always afford a new veil, but one can always omit the veil altogether. Beauty or plainness unadorned by any veil is more adorned than by a torn veil. Of course there is the possible excuse in this case that the veil has been torn during the day.

Better Good Serge Than Shoddy Silk.

Shoddy silks and velvets also seem inexcusable to me. I would far rather appear in a plain, wellworn woolen suit than in a shabby, shoddy velvet, for the one would mean simply that I was poor, the other that I liked cheap, shoddy, pretentious things.

Most of us are so limited by our means that we cannot fully express our personality in our clothes. But we can at least show that we prefer the simple, the real, the unpretentious and the clean, to the shoddy, the cheaply pretentious, the imitation and the soiled.

With My Letter Friends.

Question—In choosing a wife which type of face should be a sign of agreeableness; or, in other words, isn't the round-faced woman always more or less of a scold?

Answer—I know some that aren't and some oval-faced that are, and vice versa. I should choose a wife by a study of her disposition rather than the shape of her face.

PICTURES SHOW ACTUAL WARFARE

Famous Men and Scenes on Screen at the Lyceum.

Six moving picture operators were injured in obtaining a set of films from the Franco-German battlefronts to be placed in the national archives of France, excerpts from which are being shown at the Lyceum until Jan. 12, by arrangement with the New York World.

"Near-ups" of King Albert I of Belgium, the "king without a country," of King George V of England, President Poincaire, of France and Generalissimo Joffre of the French armies have been secured by the indefatigable camera man.

An excellent impression of the preparatory work done by the allies is given in one section of the film, showing thousands upon thousands of infantrymen, cavalrymen and artillerymen, all equipped and ready for the front, passing in review across one of the large plains of Southern France.

"Waste" is one word describing the impression the pictures give of war as it is being fought in European trenches today. Scores and hundreds of guns, the beloved "Seventy-five" of the French trooper, the rapid-firing guns, the mortars and lighter field pieces are shown discharging a fortune in shells towards an invisible enemy.

A puff of smoke, and then a forty-foot geyser of dirt, leaving a yawning crater in the earth—that is how a high-powered shell acts. Spectators are surprised to find that the high-powered rifle is a joke in this war.

At long range the artillery is most effective, for the milinite shells wipe clean everything within a thirty-foot radius, and when the trenches are closer, aerial torpedos and hand grenades are used extensively. The hand grenade, a bomb resembling a large baseball, is tossed into the enemy's trench by hand, and many of the French soldiers are as expert at throwing them as is Ty Cobb with a baseball.

Everything is real—and much of the pictures is too real. After a trip along the battlefront, you see the Red Cross ambulances rushing back to the emergency hospitals, and watch the doctors, standing near the entrance, check off the scores of wounded men as they come in, some on temporary crutches, some leaning on comrades, and some on stretchers.

And then you see a large pit, with a dozen men grouped at one side. Two soldiers, carrying a body on a wooden rack, deposit their burden at the edge of the pit. An officer steps up, jerks a metal tag from the neck of the boy, and the rack is tilted, so that the remains of one more soldier topple off and into the pit.

The pictures will be shown continuously each day from 1 until 11 p. m., ending Wednesday night.

Theater Gossip.

"PASSING OF THE THIRD FLOOR BACK"

The scene of "Passing of the Third Floor Back," the play in which Sir Johnston Forbes-Robertson will be seen during his farewell engagement at the Lyceum Thursday, Friday and Saturday, is laid in a lodging house in Bloomsbury Square, London. The people of the play are described by the author as a cheat, a slattern, a painted lady, a shrew, a bully, a snob, a hussy, a satyr, a coward, a rogue and a cad. The cheat is the landlady who robs her lodgers, and the slattern is the slavey who cannot understand life and is about to lose her self-respect. The shrew and the bully are man and wife, who have grown old bickering and quarreling with each other. The snob was the wife of a retired potato salesman, long since dead, but before his death elevated to the rank of a baronet. The hussy, a young girl, is about to marry the satyr. He is wealthy and will give her the luxuries her lover, the coward, cannot buy because he is an artist and poor. In the rogue we see the Jew, who endeavors to trick his fellow lodgers into buying a worthless silver mine, and the cad is his partner.

Self-interest reigns. Everyone is trying to "do" everyone else. Into this crowd of gossiping, narrow people comes the Passerby. His influence on his fellow lodgers forms the theme of the play. He is gentle, sympathetic and kindly. He sees the good that is in each and seeks to bring it out. The better side of life is shown to each person, and gradually they are made to realize what and wherein lies the beauty of living.

There is no plot as plots are generally understood, but there are several sub-plots which tell of the lives and struggles of the various individuals in the play. Jerome has handled his theme delicately and deftly and the very clever and acute characterization is in his best style.

TOOK MAN'S JOB TO GET LOCAL COLOR

Nixola Daniels, author of "Destruction," tells of her experience when she masqueraded in man's attire, as follows:

"I wanted to know all about foundry work in order to write 'Destruction' the more intelligently. So I bought some new overalls, rubbed dirt on them, tied up my hair, put on a hat that came well down on the back of my neck and applied for a job. The foundry foreman put me to work in the big castings. A couple of weeks later I was flourishing a trowel as a mason's helper out on the floor. A helper has to do most of the heavy work and I nearly killed myself riddling sand and lifting heavy copes and drags. But I learned what I wanted to and so I am satisfied."

Miss Daniels' play, "Destruction," starring Theda Bara, is playing at the Lyric today and tomorrow.

ORRIN JOHNSON AT THE REX

"The Penitent" with Orrin Johnson and Seena Owen is proving a rare treat and something out of the usual run of plays. The Penitentes are a fanatical sect who flourished in Mexico in the Seventh century. They indulged in cruel torture during their ceremonials. Introduced into the picture are many of the weird rites of this strange sect and the principal incident is the saving of the hero (Orrin Johnson) by his sweetheart Delores.

Ford Sterling and Polly Moran are seen in black face roles in "The Hunt," Mack Sennett's Keystone comedy of life above and below stairs.

CLEVER NEW SHOW AT GRAND

One of the best combination vaudeville and photoplay entertainments that has been seen on a local stage for some time is on view at the popular New Grand this first half of the week. There is plenty of variety and every act is entertaining in its own peculiar style.

A vaudeville skit somewhat out of the ordinary is "Caught," the offering of Jean Wier and Larry Mack. The theme is based on a case of mistaken identity, and the complications that ensue are both humorous and dramatic. Miss Weir plays the wife and lends the part just enough temperament to give it a realistic atmosphere.

The Cycling McNutts, five in number, are acrobatic cyclists.

A comedy singing and talking skit entitled "Handle With Care," is the offering of Clark and Chappelle.

Weber and Delhi, billed as Broadway's youthful prodigies offer a diversion in music and dancing.

A love story, "The Edge of Things," featuring Bryant Washburn and Edna Mayo, heads the photoplays. "The Bandits of Maroni Islands," a comedy, and "Her Soldier Revealed," a drama are among the other photoplays. On Tuesday and Wednesday "The Black Hole of Glenarald," one of the Stingaree stories will be added to the program.

Judge George H. Noyes, 67, chief counsel for the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company since 1906, died suddenly at Clearwater, Fla. Judge Noyes was well known in legal circles throughout the country. He was a member of the University of Wisconsin board of regents twelve years, judge of the superior court, Milwaukee, from 1888 to 1890, president of the Wisconsin Bar association 1904 and 1905. He had been ailing about a year.

Chief Ogallala Fire, who fought with Sitting Bull in the Custer massacre, died at Chicago Jan. 9, aged 90 years. A week ago, apparently tired of life, he cut his throat, and had been unconscious most of the time since. For many years the chief was an attraction at circuses and wild west shows.

Prof. Eugene Weldemar Hilgard, 83, oldest living professor emeritus of the University of California, died at Berkely, Jan. 8, from grip. Prof. Hilgard was the brother of Henry Villard, who built the Northern Pacific railroad. Mr. Villard's name was originally Gustavus Hilgard, but he changed it after coming to this country from his birthplace in Bavaria.

Oliver C. Galey, vice president of the Pressed Steel Car company and of the Western Steel Car & Foundry company, and former division engineer of the Philadelphia & Reading railroad, died at New York Jan. 9. He was born in Nottington, Md. He was also a director of the Chicago & Calumet railroad and the Safety Car Heating & Lighting company.

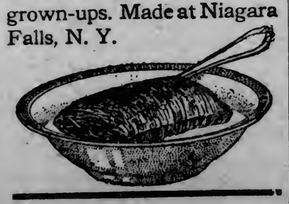

Allen Baker of Evansville, Wis., president of the Baker Manufacturing company, died Jan 9 of a complication of diseases.

Ada Rehan, the actress, died in New York Jan. 8, after an operation for an arterial affection. She had been ill for several months and entered the hospital eight days ago. Miss Rehan, whose real name was Ada Crehan, was born in Limerick, Ireland, April 22, 1860. She is perhaps best remembered as having played Ophelia in Hamlet with Edwin Booth. Her last public appearance was in 1906.

S. W. Morgan, founder of the oldest jewelry house in Southern Minnesota, died at Winona Jan 8 of heart trouble. He had been ill for three weeks. On May 1, 1862, he established the Morgan jewelry store and remained in the harness until the final and only sickness of his life developed. The business reached great proportions, and Mr. Morgan acquired valuable business and residence properties.

Samuel Lucas, author of the song "Grandfather's Clock," and known as one of the most original entertainers on the American stage for nearly half a century, died in New York, Jan. 10, aged 75. He continued in vaudeville until a month ago. Mr. Lucas was one of the first members of the Elks lodge, having been a charter member of Lodge No. 1.

DULUTHIANS MAY GO TO NEW ORLEANS

Many Invited to National Foreign Trade Council This Month.

Duluth may be represented at the third annual meeting of the National Foreign Trade council, to be held at New Orleans on Jan. 27, 28 and 29, for some of the leading business interests of the city have been invited to take part. James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel corporation, is also chairman of the National Foreign Trade council, and in a recent letter to a correspondent in Minnesota, dealing with the purposes of the council, said:

"The development of the American merchant marine, the utilization of the tariff for the purpose of encouraging foreign trade and protecting it from discrimination, the adaptation of commercial education to the needs of oversea commerce and ways and means whereby smaller manufacturers and merchants may more effectively engage in export trade, are subjects on which the convention will be addressed."

Among the members of the National Foreign Trade council are: J. J. Hill of St. Paul, Cyrus H. McCormick, president of the International Harvester corporation of Chicago; John J. Arnold, vice president of the First National bank, Chicago; Samuel P. Colt, president of the United States Rubber company, New York; Alba B. GREAT REJOICING IN CONSTANTINOPLE

Turks Celebrate Over Failure of Allies' Dardanelles Expedition.

Berlin, Jan. 10, wireless to Sayville—"The news of the definite failure of the Dardanelles expedition aroused enormous satisfaction in Constantinople," says the Overseas agency in a message distributed today. "Bunting was displayed and the schools were closed. Berlin newspapers point out the loss of prestige which this means for the British, besides the enormous losses of men, ships and money. They recall the proud words of Mr. Asquith in parliament on Nov. 9, 1914, that the Turkish empire had committed suicide and had dug its own grave, and those of Mr. Churchill at a later date, that through the Dardanelles lay the shortest road to triumphant peace. The newspapers further call attention to the fact that important Turkish contingents are now free for action in other fields.

GRAND JURY PROBES YOUNGSTOWN RIOTING

Two Hundred Men Held Prisoners Pending Outcome of Inquiry.

Youngstown, Ohio, Jan. 10.—The grand jury today began an investigation into the riot in East Youngstown Friday night. More than 200 men have been arrested and a majority of these will be held pending the outcome of the probe which will be made under the direction of A. E. Henderson, prosecuting attorney of Mahoning county.

The gates of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company plant, which has been tied up because of a strike of laborers, were reopened today and preparations are being made to resume operations soon. Many former employes reported for duty and were at once put to work. No disturbances were reported.

Both regiments of the Ohio National Guard which have been quartered on mill property since their arrival early Saturday were removed last night. For the present they will continue to occupy their trains near the plant, but will be moved to quarters in other parts of this city and East Youngstown as soon as arrangements can be made.

Fred C. Croxton, mediator sent here to settle the strike, continued his conferences with representatives of the companies and employes today.

COPPER COUNTRY MINE FIRE EXAGGERATED

Drifts Have Been Sealed and Mining Will Be Resumed.

Calumet, Mich., Jan. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fire in Calumet & Hecla No. 5 and No. 6 combination shafts at a depth of 4,000 feet, discovered late Saturday night, is not serious. The old drifts where the flames were discovered have been sealed and mining will resume tonight.

Scare stories sent out about the fire are groundless.

CLOQUET POLICE HEAD SUSTAINS BAD INJURY

Cloquet, Minn., Jan. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—John McSweeney, Cloquet's police chief, painfully injured his right knee Saturday afternoon about 3 o'clock, in front of the J. R. Binder jewelry store on Cloquet avenue.

The chief was attempting to cross the street from Cloquet avenue to Broadway and had put his right foot off the sidewalk onto the street when his heel slipped on the ice, throwing the full weight of his body onto his right leg, causing, it was at first thought, a broken leg. Dr. Franklin Raiter bandaged the injured knee and removed the chief to his home on Second street, where a brief examination of the injury was made. The doctor reported that the leg was not broken, but that an X-Ray examination would have to be made to determine the exact nature of the injury.

The chief was taken in a special car attached to a Great Northern train, and rushed to St. Mary's hospital at Duluth, accompanied by Dr. Raiter. The doctor reported that the examination disclosed that the knee cap was cracked and dislocated by being torn from the tendons and cords and that the injury, although very painful, is not expected to prove serious. An operation was performed this morning, the knee cap being placed in its proper position, and latest reports from the hospital are that the chief is resting well and getting along as nicely as could be expected.

CLOQUET CITY QUINT IS TO BE ORGANIZED

Cloquet, Minn., Jan. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. P. Arnoldy, a local basket ball enthusiast, announces that a meeting of all basket ball players of the city will be held tomorrow evening for the purpose of selecting and organizing a strong city team. The following players in the city have signed their names to the list as candidates for the team: M. Johnson, J. O'Brien, E. Erickson, C. Long, W. Bengston, E. McGilvary, E. Kuitu, E. Levack, S. Loisen.

All of these players have made enviable records as members of former high school teams, and any five of them would make a hard team to beat. It is stated that the meeting is being called and action taken because of the fact that there is no independent team in Cloquet at present, and many requests for games have been received from teams touring this section from other cities. Games will be scheduled with outside teams as soon as the team is organized, as all of the players already signed up have practiced together in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, and almost any combination selected from the list will be ready to put up a hard battle with any team in the northern part of the state.

WOMAN PAROLED TO HER NEW HUSBAND

Mrs. Alma Martin Escapes Penitentiary By Marrying Otto Carlson.

Opportunity to escape serving a prison sentence of not more than seven years was the wedding gift presented by District Judge Fesler to Mrs. Alma Martin late Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Martin, widow, was convicted five months ago on a charge of keeping a rooming house at 16 West Second street, as a disorderly resort. The crime is a felony punishable by not more than seven years at Stillwater.

Otto Carlson thought enough of Mrs. Martin to marry her despite her conviction. He asked her and she accepted him, and Saturday, while in charge of a deputy sheriff, she was permitted to procure a marriage license and have Judge Gilpin tie the knot.

The court was informed of the marriage and after the formality of imposing a state's prison sentence, he told Mrs. Carlson that she could go and that he would parole her to her new husband, whom she had just promised to "love, honor and obey."

THE OPTIMIST AND THE TARIFF COMMISSION PLAN.

The genuine optimist is the man who believes the tariff is to be taken out of politics and hung out on the line for an airing.—Toledo Blade.

There are many such optimists, and we ardently wish we could be one of them, for if there is a thing this country needs more than another it is to have such matters as the tariff, river and harbor appropriations and public building expenditures taken out of politics—and out of the pork barrel.

The hope of taking the tariff out of politics is pinned upon the tariff commission idea. If a tariff commission could relieve congress of its duties in the matter of the tariff, and handle it as the interstate commerce commission handles railroad rates, all might be well—if we had a good tariff commission. But that is impossible, because the Constitution won't permit it. The tariff, in the view of the Constitution, is a matter of revenue only, which it is the business of congress to handle.

Much—nearly all that is most vital—is lightly leaped over in the widespread discussion of the tariff commission idea. There is to be a well paid commission of experts to study the tariff and report recommendations to congress. What policy it shall follow—tariff for revenue only, tariff for revenue with incidental protection, tariff based on the difference in labor cost, tariff for protection and subsidy—is not discussed at all. That's the business of congress to determine, and that automatically throws it back into politics. Nor are the difficulties of ascertaining the difference in labor cost, if that is determined upon as the guiding principle, sufficiently emphasized in the discussion.

Assuming that a tariff commission has been created, has studied, reflected and decided, and has a report to make, what then? It goes to the house of representatives, and is referred to the committee on ways and means. Thereafter there is utterly nothing to prevent the old pork barrel, log-rolling, corruption methods of fixing tariffs, for whatever bill the commission proposes must go through precisely the same course that a bill drawn by a house member must follow. There is a faint hope—that the public would be so impressed by the commission's report that it would insist upon congress disregarding political, personal and selfish considerations and adopting the report as it stands. There is another faint hope—that the commission's superior facilities for getting exact information will awe congress into forgetting the old considerations. Neither hope is so strong as we should like it to be.

There is widespread sentiment for a tariff commission, and so vast is the disgust at the old methods of fixing tariff laws that this is not surprising. Probably a tariff commission will be created within a few years. We have no disposition whatever to oppose it, because even if the hope in it is faint, still it is a hope. But the promise of the plan is much less rosy than its more zealous advocates are painting it, and it is to be feared that too sanguine expectations now will only mean a greater disappointment later on.

Jamaicans are complaining because United States business firms send them catalogues printed in Spanish instead of in English. It's a good thing for Uncle Sam that our old friend Swettenham isn't governor there any more.

PROSPERITY DAY.

The suggestion drifts in that February 29, the odd day in this leap year, be known as "Prosperity Day" throughout the United States, and that it be devoted to a deliberate survey and recognition of the unbounded prosperity that is sweeping the land.

The suggestion comes from an Eastern manufacturer, and The Herald passes it along with hearty applause.

It's not a bad idea, though properly regarded every day is Prosperity Day nowadays. The day selected is suitable enough, because as the manufacturer who suggests it points out, "you will receive on this day an extra day's revenue, as will millions of others in the United States." Incidentally, that will be a good day to celebrate the fact that for those who are paid by the week there are fifty-three pay-days in this leap year of 1916.

Here are some of the suggestions offered for celebrating Prosperity Day:

Let the wage-earner open or increase his bank account by putting his wages for this extra day into the bank.

Let the stores have their Prosperity Day sales.

Let associations of commerce and farmers' organizations hold get-together prosperity meetings.

Let everybody forget the trying times through which the world has passed, and TALK, THINK and FEEL prosperity.

"In short, on this day let's all of us lay aside our hammers, forget our personal worries and BOOST with every ounce of energy in us for the continuation of this great new era of PROSPERITY."

We are in favor of that kind of a celebration any day or every day.

These are the days when the average man feels that the mosquito question is too utterly trivial to be considered.

DREAMS AND THE FACT.

Those who clamor for more tariff subsidies paint dreadful pictures of Europe busy manufacturing surplus goods during the war to dump on our market when the war is over.

Everybody else, surely, has noticed that Europe is pretty busy with other matters just now.

Dr. Walther Rathenau, head of the Algemeine Elektrizitats Gesellschaft, says that of Germany's industries, which are government-organized for war purposes, "eighty per cent work for the war, directly or indirectly."

There never was a time when "protection" was less needed that it will be for a decade following the war.

The new year starts handicapped by the fact that Harry Thaw isn't known to be locked up somewhere and trying to get out.

TIPPING THE GAME.

The opposition to the sale of the armory, which is threatening the useless expense and annoyance of a referendum on the matter, seems curiously associated with a recently exposed attempt to undermine the commission system in Duluth.

The Labor World, the organ of Postmaster McEwen, who is the public sponsor for the referendum movement, in the course of an argument against the sale of the armory divulges this relationship by letting out its opinion that nothing so dastardly as this armory sale could happen under the old ward system of government, inferentially holding up the old ward system, which cities everywhere are getting away from as fast as they can, as an improvement on the commission plan.

Those who may be misled into joining the hue and cry against the armory sale should watch carefully to see what company they are keeping and where it is leading them.

Also at this season our forefathers' good old cowhide boots would be exceedingly welcome as footgear.

EUROPEAN MILITARISM AFTER THE WAR.

Before this country goes very far into the business of militarism, it might be sensible to think a little about how much European militarism there will be to fear after this war is over.

Not to speak of the fact that all Europe will be so sick of war that a monarch who proposes a war of aggression against a powerful nation three thousand miles over the water will probably be hanged at the nearest lamppost, and not to speak of the enormous destruction of Europe's military facilities that the war is working, there is a financial factor to be reckoned with.

By the end of this year, if not long before, the mere interest on war debts in most of the warring nations of Europe will be more than their total ordinary expenses were before the war.

When it comes, after the war, to adding on top of that burden the burden of keeping up war-provoking military establishments, besides the ordinary costs of government, there is likely to be a sharp change in military fashions the world around.

Charley Pitcher of Milwaukee, who admitted having married eight women without being divorced from any of them, has been sent to the pen. He is a living proof that the altar is as dangerous as the well for too frequent trips.

Rippling Rhymes

By Walt Mason

Swearing Off.

WALT MASON

On New Year's Day the world-worn jay, who's tired of beer and bitters, frames up an oath to cut out both, and join the Pumpville critters. In gilded halls he's bought highballs, and brandy by the pony, and blown his kale for foaming ale, and found the whole thing phony. He's worn old rags while placing jags his saturated hide in, for lads who booze can't have good shoes and clothes they take a pride in. He had a place, but in disgrace, was fired by his employer; for boys who drink the old red ink find it the job destroyer. He's looped the loops with noisy troops of youths who raise the dickens; he's bumped the bumps, and, in the dumps, repentance throbs and quickens. Swear off, young man, while yet you can, and leave the booze behind you; the suds you buy, the rot-and-rye, will poison you and blind you. Swear off, tired heart, the water cart is waiting at the portal, to bear you far from gilded bar, to where men sing and chortle. To Hydrantgrad it goes, my lad; climb on, ere it's a goner! There you'll win back the things you lack, your self respect, your honor.

Socialist Has a New Idea

From the New York Sun.

Meyer London, the only Socialist member of congress, started to write a brand new page of political history the other night. He held the first of a series of monthly meetings at which he proposes to render an account of his stewardship.

When Mr. London found eight hundred of his East side constituents assembled, many with inquiries, some with suggestions for legislation and all evincing a lively interest in affairs at Washington, he announced that in future he would devote the last Saturday and Sunday of every month to similar meetings. Mr. London expressed surprise when someone suggested a vote of thanks.

"I am a Socialist," he said. "If the doctrines of Socialism mean anything they mean that an officeholder is the servant of the people. I am the servant of the people of the East side, and as such I owe them a regular report. Besides, it will help me. In order to give an intelligent account of what has happened at the capital I must study every question closely and keep a sharp eye on affairs.

Mr. London devoted his first experience meeting to a recital of his impressions of congress and his own activities and a discussion of the president's message. He answered questions both in English and Yiddish.

One man, assuming something of the air of a schoolmaster rebuking an offending youngster, demanded to know why the congressman had voted for the war tax bill.

"Because it was the big thing, the manly thing to do," London responded. "Every nation, ours among them, has been affected financially and industrially by this war. At times of great crises men must forget party lines. On big questions congress must legislate for the nation, not for small districts."

Another man wanted to know why in his resolution asking the president to convene a congress of neutral nations Mr. London did not denounce capitalism as the exclusive cause of wars.

"Because that isn't so," said the congressman. "The greatest cause of wars is the stupidity of the people. There isn't one of us who knows it all. I've been studying a good many years, but I'm still learning."

A young man proposed that the meeting send a telegram to the president, asking him to act on the resolution at once.

"No, no!" shouted Mr. London. "Don't disturb his honeymoon. I'll see him when the proper time comes.

"I have written to every congressman asking him to support that resolution," said Mr. London, "and when I get back to Washington I'm going to buy a new pair of shoes and go to see each one personally. Further than that I intend to be modest. The country needs fewer rather than more laws. In the first seven days of the present session 6,780 bills were introduced.

"I am not a pacifist," Mr. London explained when somebody asked him to elaborate his views on preparedness. "As long as any nation is armed it would be folly for any one nation to disarm. But I believe the president is unjustifiably frightened. If I were a cruel man I should say that in his preparedness program he is trying to steal the thunder of the Republicans.

"I agree with the president that no man can serve two countries. No man has any right to attempt to divide his loyalty. But artificial patriotism results in an increase of patriotic hypocrisy."

Mr. London praised the president's determination to "help Mexico, not coerce it," and his revision of the Monroe doctrine to establish a brotherhood of American republics. He believes this new policy should be called the Wilson doctrine.

"The Democratic party is smaller than its president," said Mr. London. "It is led by a big man, and behind his broad shoulders it is trying to hide its own littleness."

In concluding his first monthly report, the congressman said:

"It is not easy, this thing of being a Socialist representative. People all over the country write to their own congressman and send me copies of the letters, asking me to watch their congressmen. But the hardest job is to learn the house rules. I hope to understand them in three or four years if you'll let me be your servant that long."

The applause at the end indicated approval of the first report.

Is Hughes Tainted With Wilsonism?

New York World: What a ghastly suspicion is that which lurks in the mind of Hon. Charles Sumner Bird of Boston, the he-Joan of Arc of the Bull Moose party!

In a letter to the Hon. George W. Perkins, the well-known meal-ticket of Armageddon, Mr. Bird announces that "there are two men, and two only, who have a ghost of a chance to defeat President Wilson next November—Justice Hughes and Mr. Roosevelt." So far, so good; but what about Justice Hughes' opinion on the issues of the campaign? There the heart sinks.

"It may be," shudders Mr. Bird, "that he believes in President Wilson's Mexican, European, tariff-for-revenue-only, business-persecuting policies, and if he does his nomination obviously would be an absurdity." And of course it would. To nominate a Republican Woodrow Wilson against a Democratic Woodrow Wilson—is that the way to make this a better country for George Perkins' children?

Yet it is very likely that Justice Hughes is tainted with Wilsonism. It seems impossible to find a Republican who is not tainted in spots with one Wilson policy or another. It is only when we get to the Colonel that we find a candidate who has consecrated himself to believe that everything President Wilson does is wrong and that everything President Wilson is ever going to do is wrong, and who is flatly and uncompromisingly against the multiplication table if it can be proved that Mr. Wilson uses it or relies on it.

But Hughes—he is probably another Byzantine logothete, and so the Colonel has a new appeal to the conscience and campaign contributors of the Republican party. If they don't take ME, they'll get Hughes.

Cause for Sorrow.

Philadelphia Telegraph: The talk topic in the lobby of a hotel the other night turned to music, when Congressman James Manahan of Minnesota was reminded of an incident along that line.

Some time since the esteemed Jones was rambling along the asphalt with a rather disconsolate expression when he met a fellow-citizen named Smith.

"Hello, Jones!" greeted Smith, with a quizzical expression. "What in the world is the matter with you? You look as if you had been hit by a freight train loaded with hard luck."

"I am just a little sad, that's all," mournfully explained Jones. "I got married a week or so ago, and I have just discovered that my wife can't sing."

"Well, say!" exclaimed Smith, shedding a large smile. "That shouldn't distress you. You are to be congratulated."

"No, I am not, old man," responded Jones, with a life-size sigh. "She thinks she can."

Nursery Rhymes for Grownups.

Kansas City Star: There is a breezy bit of nonsense which children in the nursery stage might enjoy reading (but which it might not be well for them to read) in a recent volume published in London (John Lane) called "Morals for the Youth," by "Marcus." That it teaches anything but morals the following stanzas will prove:

A hasty temper never show,
Nor strike ye, little friend, a blow,
Far better wait till you are cool,
And then half kill the little fool.

Mary had a crocodile
That ate a child a day;
But interfering people came
And took her pet away.

I love to hear of Nurse McGrath,
Who found a cinder on the hearth—
Then looked around for little Joe,
And smiled and said, "I told him so."

Compulsion Vs. Character

Editorial in the Chicago Tribune.

The American verboten is a more active and vigorous prohibition than the German. It is not bluntly displayed. It is not a curt and peremptory command. Therefore the fiction that it does not restrict a free people as the Germans are restricted. That is the fiction. The truth is that American life is governed by repression to an extent that few people in continental Europe could understand.

The German verboten operates to prevent the individual from doing something which, if he did it, would materially lessen the privileges of other individuals, would infringe upon their rights, invade their peace, or disturb their enjoyment.

The assumption is that conduct must be governed so that a community will be able to get the greatest amount of pleasure out of orderly processes necessary for the well-being of a community. It is not permitted that an individual, because it suits his need or pleasure, should take liberties with the needs or pleasures of others. Thus verboten becomes a rule to courtesy and to consideration and respect for community rights.

The American "forbidden" does not seek definitely to protest general rights against the assumption of individuals that they may do as they like. That is not quite true, inasmuch as we have building laws, sanitary laws, traffic laws, etc., but it is true to the extent that an American, if he be naturally inconsiderate, can take astonishing liberties with the rights of other people, and it is true, furthermore, that whenever his will to do a thing is checked even by law, his impulse is to resent it and try to find a way of evasion.

The American "forbidden" is vigorous and active not when the prohibition is designed to protect general rights, but when it is intended to repress the individual in matters which properly concern only himself. It is moralistic and not materialistic restraint. It endeavors to substitute compulsion for character. It substitutes the will of determined minorities for the will of individuals composing the unorganized and helpless majority.

There is one fresh incident which illustrates the whole scheme. The United States supreme court has held that the act of congress prohibiting the transport of prize fight pictures from one state to another is valid. The impounded films of the Willard-Johnson fight cannot be released.

Congress decided that it must be verboten to permit prize fight pictures to be seen. That was the practical result of the act forbidding the shipping of the pictures from one state to another. It is not permitted the individual to decide whether he wants to see them or not. That is not allowed within the range of his moral decision. It is verboten.

This is only an incident and probably an unimportant one. The career of American citizens will not be affected much whether prize fight pictures be shown or not. But as a part of a whole scheme of government it is important.

The disposition of authority in the United States is to make its decisions on moral, ethical and similar questions substitutes for the decisions of the individuals whether the point involves anything more than the conduct of the individual as relates purely to himself or not. It would not be an extreme case if legislators decided to say when a citizen should go to bed and when he should get up.

We are setting up a verboten which will make American life as flat as a pancake and as full of color as a piece of putty and in the end about as important to the people trying to live it. One could wish for a system which rather undertook to give all citizens at the right period a training and discipline which directed their impulses towards order and responsibility, to proper consideration for themselves and for the state, and then permitted their lives to be developed in accordance with their own principles and scruples.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quinlus, the Sunshine Man.

"And a man shall be a hiding place from the storm, and a covert from the tempest."—Isa. xxxii, 2.

Be mine, O Lord, the vision of the ministrant Man. That is the dress in which Thy Messiah is most beautiful. Down in dark Galilee, down in the region of the shadow, it is there I love to meet Him. Where the child is checked in its growth, where the woman is warped in her progress, where the poor are pushed to the wall—where the tripping are trodden down, where the weak are weeded out by the strong—it is there I love to meet Him. There I see the refuge from the storm, the covert from the tempest. Others may admire Him most in His garb of transfigured glory, but to me His fairest costume is the robe He wore for Calvary.—Matheson.

Calvary and Pentecost. Acts ii, 22-36.

The Apostle Peter traces the stream of Penecostal blessing to a tomb. This "river of water of life" has its "rise" in a death of transcendent sacrifice. And I must never forget these dark beginnings of my eternal hope. It is well that I should frequently visit the sources of my blessedness, and kneel on "the green hill far away."

It will save me from having a cheap religion. I shall never handle the gifts of grace as though they had cost nothing. There will always be the marks of blood upon them, the crimson stain of incomparable sacrifice.

And it will save me from all flippancy in my religious life. When I visit the cross and the tomb, life is transformed from a picnic into a crusade. For that is ever my peril, to picnic on the banks of the river and to spend my days in emotional loitering.

After all, my Pentecost is purposed to prepare me for my own Gethsemane and Calvary. Life is given me in order that I may spend it again in ready and fruitful sacrifice.—From "Circling Year."

Dayton, Ohio.

Opportunity.

This I beheld, or dreamed it in a dream:
There spread a cloud of dust along a plain;
And underneath the cloud, or in it, raged
A furious battle, and men yelled, and swords
Shocked upon swords and shields. A prince's banner
Wavered, then staggered backward, hemmed by foes.
A craven hung along the battle's edge,
And thought, "Had I a sword of keener steel—
That blue blade that the king's son bears—but this Blunt thing—!" He snapped and flung it from his hand,
And lowering crept away and left the field.
Then came the king's son, wounded, sore bestead,
And weaponless, and saw the broken sword,
Hilt-buried in the dry and trodden sand,
And ran and snatched it, and with battle shout
Lifted afresh he hewed his enemy down,
And saved a great cause that heroic day.
—Edward Rowland Sill (1851-1887).

Brand New.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: Rev. E. C. Hibsmann, pastor of the Cote Brilliante church, is telling this on a member of his congregation:

A good elder, hearing his young hopeful in a quarrel with a neighbor boy, went out to investigate in time to hear the following: "You shut up! My mamma's baby is just as good as your old baby," said the neighbor boy.

"'Tain't neither," retorted the elder's youngster, whose parents had recently purchased a new auto. "Your baby is an old last year's one, and ours is a 1916 model."

Keeping Up With Minnesota Editors

Scattered Comments Taken From Minnesota Papers.

And Our Foremothers Helped All They Could.

Little Falls Transcript: A widow in Minnesota pays taxes on her property, yet she has no voice in her state's popular government. What is this but "taxation without representation"—which roused our forefathers to the fighting point?

Smaller and Bigger.

Grand Rapids Herald-Review: As a slogan for the newspapers and persons demanding that the membership of the legislature be reduced, the Herald-Review suggests: "A Smaller Legislature Composed of Bigger Men." There is no doubt in the world but that our lawmaking body is most unwieldy, and it would be almost impossible to reduce the quantity without improving the quality. The man elected to make laws for the people should have some ambition in life besides a desire to spend the winter in St. Paul at the expense of the state. So many are needed for the job at present that it is no particular honor to be selected, while the blame for mistakes or failure can be divided up until not much of it attaches to anyone.

Logic Irrefutable.

Northfield News: The best protest against the abbreviation "Xmas" is the suggestion that it should be changed to "$mas." Or, to most children, the day is "?mas" and "!mas" and to the grownups it is "%@&mas."

As to T. R. and Contempt.

Red Wing Eagle: "The world holds America in contempt," says Theodore Roosevelt. If this is so, nothing has so much contributed to this feeling of contempt as Roosevelt's high-handed theft of the Panama territory from Columbia while he was president of the United States.

A Complete Answer.

St. Cloud Times: A Chicago dispatch of Dec. 31 says as to the business conditions in the United States, which should tie up the walls of the pessimistic politicians who predicted hard times under the Underwood tariff and a Democratic administration:

"The United States is entering 1916 in the most prosperous condition in many years, according to trade and financial reports from nearly every important center of the country, made public tonight.

"Bank clearings showed almost unprecedented gains. In a few cities there was a slight decrease on the year's average. Reports show the increase was not sectional, but East, West, North and South shared."

This Sounds Like a Hang-Over.

Walker Pilot: Found—Part of skate. Owner may have same by paying advertising charges.

Comes Now—

Hill City News: Comes now the ever-blooming candidate with divers lengthy epistles and clutters up Ye Editors mail with the same. Lots of ink and perfectly good paper are used to induce the country newspaper man to advertise and push the campaign of the various candidates free of charge. And we notice that some papers fall for this, "the people want to know about me" stuff.

The people, Mr. Candidate, don't give a whoop about you or where you stand on the tariff question. Also it costs real money to publish a newspaper and the editor sells space in it in order to live and pay his bills. Nuff sed.

North Dakota Notions

Various Views Expressed by Newspapers of That State.

The Idea Seems to Please.

Hamilton Independent: The suggestion of The Duluth Herald that the government put an embargo on gasoline will be approved by every man owning a motor truck or automobile, as well as by hundreds of housewives. The soaring in the price of gasoline is due in a large measure to the demand from the war countries, and the American people are being hard hit. One way to hold down the high cost of living is to prohibit the sending abroad of gasoline until after the war.

It's Playing to the Gallery.

Montpelier Magnet: Evidently the thermometer has grown tired of being ignored and purposes to make its presence conspicuous.

The Favorite Son Foolishness.

Minot Optic-Reporter: The favorite son scheme is being thoroughly worked by the politicians who are seeking to find some avenue to bring success to the Republican party through the nomination of the presidential candidate and at the same time save the faces of those politicians from defeat. The scheme is a chestnut. Yet it is often successful in frustrating the will of the people by forcing them, especially since the primary nomination scheme has come into vogue, to vote for candidates who have no possible chance to be nominated. Even Minnesota has become foolish enough to attempt to foist her grand old man, Dr. Cyrus Northrop, on the voters. It is a matter of congratulation that the eminent doctor had more political brains than his pseudo-friends, and refuses to be foisted.

The Demand Is Growing.

Fargo Courier-News: No secretary or department asking for money can now go before congress and say, "this appropriation is desired by the president" or "is authorized by him." The only voice the president can get is in a wholesale assault upon some bill or a veto of it, and always the pork barrel fellows are shrewd enough to put their pork in with necessary expenditures.

The system of congressional appropriations for maintenance of the United States government is a disgrace to the nation and permits of enormous waste. Every honest congressman ought to help reform it and to create a budget system, and the people ought to demand such pledges of every candidate.

Some Facts About Our Navy.

Devils Lake Journal: In 1891 the navy had 1,483 officers, exclusive of 239 naval cadets at naval academy. The number of enlisted men allowed in 1891 was 8,250, and the amount appropriated that year was $24,610,501.64. In 1915 the officers numbered 3,403; the naval cadets numbered 912; the enlisted men numbered 51,561, and the amount appropriated was $145,734,163.03.

In other words, we now have a little more than twice as many officers as in 1891; more than three times as many naval cadets; more than six times as many enlisted men and nearly six times as large an appropriation. That is growing some in twenty-four years—and yet the jingoes ridicule our navy.

About Preparedness.

Fargo Forum: Is it necessary for the United States of America to arm itself to the teeth? Is it necessary to arm at all? The question of "preparedness" has been made the biggest issue now before the American people. The Forum believes that it uses the word "made" advisedly and that therein lies the greatest danger in the whole situation, a greater danger than the lack of preparation.

It seems to be impossible for any great issue to come before the people solely on its merits. Always self-interest gets into the game. Always the demagogue comes to the front and with his blatant ravings, attempts to stampede the crowd onto his band wagon.

It is so in this instance.

A Just Suspicion.

Life: "Herbert, you weren't listening to what I said."

"Er—what makes you think that, darling?"

"I asked you if you could let me have $100 and you smiled and said 'yes, dearest.'"

Irish Genius for Terse Expression

From Charles Johnston's "Why the World Laughs."

Not very long ago I had a brilliant intuition concerning Irish humor. It came upon me in a flash of inspiration that the essence of Irish humor is—that it is not humorous at all. It is simply the Irishman's way of saying the thing in the best and most direct manner possible. * * *

This inspiration was forced on me by a lively and pathetic little old Irishman, who was wholly unconscious that he was saying anything out of the common. The time was the festal day of the Hudson-Fulton celebration. The place was Grant's tomb, where was gathered a motley throng eager to see the goodly showing of warships of all flags. My little old Irishman was full of earnest enthusiasm. He was also short of stature. So he climbed on a bench and craned his little, scrawny neck over the crowd, only to be yanked down by a relentless big man in gray. He looked hurt, but said nothing, and, climbing up the stairs, tried to get on one of the stone ridges of the tomb, but another big man in gray again abstracted him. Then, sad but undaunted, he tried to mount the railing of Li Hung Chang's ginko tree. Again a big man in gray grabbed him. Then he gave up in despair, and rather in sorrow than in anger said: "Ye can't look at anything frum where ye can see it frum!" and faded into the crowd.

That was some years ago. I have spent much time, during those years, trying to say the same thing in fewer, or as few words; with the result that I have come to the matured conclusion that this funny, pathetic Irishman had intuitively hit on the very best way possible of expressing a complex and difficult thought, and had done it without any consciousness of the feat he was accomplishing.

Another instance. This was at Newcastle, in County Down, under the lovely purple shadow of the Mourne mountains. It was a holiday, and there was to be a consequent rearrangement of the evening trains, carrying excursionists back to their homes. The railway porter at Newcastle station studied the facts and hours, got the whole thing clear in his head and, coming forth to the crowd on the platform, thus announced:

"The 10 o'clock train will go at 11 o'clock tonight, and there'll be no last train!"

That is what is usually called an Irish bull. It is really the result of an unconscious genius expressing the fact in the shortest possible way. Try it yourself, and see if you come anywhere near it.

Yet another instance: This time the expression of a social situation which we have all faced at one time or another, but, I apprehend, without the advantage of Hibernian genius. Mr. Murphy and Mr. —— well, let us say Mr. O'Flaherty—had had a falling out, and the feud was taken up by their loyal spouses. It befell, however, that there was a ball at the county assembly rooms, and, by a curious accident, it likewise befell that the two ladies indicated came a half hour early to the hall, to find a wide, untenanted space smiled down on by green flags and Gaelic mottoes. These they surveyed for a time with absorbed attention, and studied oblivion to each other's presence in a silence that could be felt. Finally Mrs. O'Flaherty could stand it no longer. So, coming up to the other one, she spoke thus, with a warm voice and an engaging smile:

"And is that you, Mrs. Murphy? And how is Murphy? Not that I give a damn, but just for conversation!"

Without question, that complies with Pope's definition:

True wit is nature to advantage dressed,
What oft was thought, but ne'er so well expressed.

The English Middle Class in War-Time.

Rebecca West in the Atlantic: In rows of households there is rarely a householder. Either he is in khaki, or he is working from 9 in the morning till midnight in a government office, or burning out his vitality in the factory or office in the attempt to create material and skilled labor out of nothing to fulfill an army contract. It is the householder's wife who is dealing with a world utterly and fantastically changed by the fact that, when she orders goods, the answer is, either, "I cannot get these goods," or "I will not be able to send you these goods for some days, as nearly all my packers have gone to the front, and the railways are so disorganized that, when I do, I cannot say whether you will get them in a week or a month;" and that when she requires the services of an electrician, a carpenter, a plumber, or a jobbing gardener, she has to wait her turn for the old and incompetent workmen who have crawled from the fireside or the casual ward to fill the gaps left by the fitter men who have gone into the army or into government work.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 500 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

"TAKE YOUR TIME AND DON'T CROWD, WOODLAND"

To the Editor of The Herald:

In The Herald of last Thursday you gave the temperature that day at:

7 a. m.	—22
10 a. m.	—10
Noon	—1
1 p. m.	—3

That may have been the temperature on the top of Mount Superior, where the weatherman is stationed.

I have a fine thermometer hanging on my back porch in Duluth's prettiest beauty-spot—and Minnesota's too for that matter—Lakeside, and that same day my thermometer registered at:

7:30 a. m.	—12
10 a. m.	—6
Noon	+4
1:45 p. m.	+6

Friday morning you gave the temperature at:

7 a. m.	—6
10 a. m.	+2
Noon	+8
1 p. m.	+10

That same day my thermometer showed at:

7:30 a. m.	—6
10 a. m.	+15
Noon	+18
2 p. m.	+19

This, Saturday morning my thermometer registered +12 at 7 a. m.

Temperature on top of Mount Superior should not be published to the world as that of Duluth, while Duluth's prettiest suburb—Lakeside—shows such a marked difference.

I may be allowed to add, that Lakeside shows generally from 2 to 4 degrees warmer in winter and correspondingly cooler in summer, than what is given out from the top of Mount Superior.

IS A SOLDIER A MURDERER?

To the Editor of The Herald:

Not long ago I was severely criticized for calling soldiers murderers in an article I had written for my local paper. As this has a direct bearing on preparedness, and as preparedness is the burning question of the hour, I ask permission to express my opinion in the Open Court. I do not believe in throwing a veil of words over something just to make that something more palatable to the consumer. In other words what is gained by saying "chronic lectularius" when you mean a plain, common every day "bed bug." No use trying to conceal the truth because the smell even will betray the facts in the case. Therefore I called a soldier a plain murderer because I believe that nine out of every ten human beings who have been soldiers and actively engaged in the business of war were just plain, common every day murderers because they killed either for revenge or gain. The cave man made war upon his neighbor and slew him because he wanted his carcass to eat. Cain made war upon Abel and slew him because he coveted the fruits of Abel's industry. Napoleon Bonaparte said that "the worst men make the best soldiers," and we must admit that Mr. Bonaparte was eminently qualified to give expert testimony.

The soldiers' trade is to uncover the cesspools of creation. All the sores that have clung to humanity in its slow evolution through the ages, are the unhealed abrasions left by the unmerciful scourgings of the malignant god of war. Moses recognized this awful heritage when, from the shadows of a war-cursed age he promulgated "Thou shalt not kill." Jesus Christ amplified the mosaic injunction when, in the gloom and agony of Calvary He prayed: "Father forgive them for they know not what they do." And still at the foot of the cross, soldiers, the murderers of the Son of God, played cards and gambled for his clothes.

Modern intelligence revolts against this soldier business and modern civilization on the western hemisphere had almost risen above it—God sustain us in the hope that it has—despite the dervish howlings of those triple-fanged gorgons of dismay, led by that fossilized transcript of a prehistoric man, Theodore Roosevelt, and others, who, pointing back to the world drama singed upon Golgotha would have us idolize, yea worship, the gilded gentry of the poker game at the foot of the cross, rather than follow Him, who gave His life upon that cross, to make us better men and women, and the world a better place to live in.

BOUQUET FOR FIREMEN.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I want to express through The Herald my high appreciation of our Fire Chief Randall, Assistant Wilson and the men who were at my house on the morning of the 30th ult.

We had a fire that would have been a very serious one, but for the remarkably quick run that was made. But for the motorization of our fire department and the efficient men at the head, I firmly believe we would have had a $10,000 or $15,000 fire. As it turned out the loss will probably be about $500.

Anybody who will kick on the motor cost of the department should have my experience. They will never kick again.

Thanking you for newspaper space.

Yours sincerely,
J. S. ROSE.

GARFIELD AVENUE RINK.

To the Editor of The Herald:

If you will allow me space in the columns of your valuable paper I would like to ask what has become of our skating rink. I would also like to ask Mr. Cleveland the reason why he refuses to flood the ground for our rink as I understand he does. Some time ago he stated the water would run through the ground like a sieve. Surely it is cold enough now to freeze the ground, if not how cold must it be—ninety-eight below?

Now, Mr. Cleveland, if you were a Garfield avenue resident and paid taxes the same as in any other part of the city and possibly higher, would you feel justified in allowing your children to cross several railroad tracks and consequently endanger their lives to enjoy a little harmless pleasure. We must either do this or allow them to go a mile or more from home.

It seems to me that we people here on Garfield avenue do not enjoy the privileges the people do in other parts of the city. For example safety zones are employed in other parts of the city for the protection of the school children and in some cases at schools where there are no street cars to contend with. Our children must either play on the street or not at all.

Nothing has been said about this before and as long as no children are crippled or killed probably never will, but we do want and are entitled to our skating rink. So, Mr. Cleveland, please get busy and provide the rink and shed and our boys will gladly do the rest, I am sure.

Thanking you for this space.

Respectfully,
M. E. S.

Have You An Open Air School in Your District?

THE OPEN AIR SCHOOL habit is getting better every year. People in general are letting a little common sense trickle into their cerebral hemispheres, and the school children, especially the physically defective ones, are reaping the benefits of open air life.

New York city has some 250 open window schoolrooms, and the children fortunate enough to be in those rooms make just a little better progress in their school work than do children in closed window schoolrooms, as one would naturally expect. If fresh air is good for the body it is good for the mind.

Open window schoolrooms are all right for merely anemic children, or those with catarrhal tendencies or those threatening to undergo operations for enlarged tonsils or adenoids. But open windows are not enough for children of families or households where tuberculosis exists or has recently existed. Open windows bring in some fresh air—and fresh air is nothing but cool, moving air—but there is still something to be gained in a real open air schoolroom that can't be had in an open window schoolroom. We are unable to define what this something is, but we know it is. We know there is something the porch bedroom adds to health that the open bedroom window does not add. And there is something the open air shack brings to the victim of tuberculosis that open windows will not bring. Perhaps it is light, or some chemical influence. We can't define it, but it is there in the open air.

In every school there are at least some children whose health demands the open air schoolroom, saying nothing of the anemic, nervous, run-down teacher herself.

Have you an open air room in your school building? Or do the people in your district feel that the less fresh air a school child has the better for the tax-rate?

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Antitoxin.

Is there any danger of untoward action from a dose of diphtheria antitoxin administered to a person who has been previously injected with lockjaw antitoxin (about a year previously)?

Answer—Yes. Once injected with horse serum the individual may be "sensitized," and suffer severely from hives or erythema or asthmatic symptoms (called anaphylactic shock) if given more horse serum weeks or months later. But in such a case the doctor may inject a few drops as a test, and if no unpleasant reaction follows inside of two hours a full dose may be safely administered.

A Cough Medicine.

If not asking too much, will you please repeat the formula you printed some time ago for an old-fashioned cough medicine?

Answer—It was something like this:

Citrate of soda	1 ounce
Licorice powder	½ ounce
Flaxseed meal	2 ounces
Glycerin	4 ounces
Chloroform	½ ounce
Water.....enough to make one quart

First boil the flaxseed in the water, stirring it in gradually. While it is cooling add the citrate, then the licorice and glycerin. After it is cold add the chloroform. Shake occasionally through the day. Keep tightly covered. Next day strain through muslin. The two-hour dose is, teaspoonful for child, tablespoonful for adult.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

Requests have been received by The Herald for the following poems:

"The Dying Cowboy," from E. K., Marquette, Mich.

"Mollie and I and the Baby," from A Reader, Brainerd, Minn.

"Your Mother, Boy, Was an Old Sweetheart of Mine," from Subscriber, Baraga, Mich.

"The Wreck of the Julie Plante" and "The Hobo's Convention," from Edna Curran, Virginia, Minn.

"You'll Have to Wait Till My Ship Comes In," from Mrs. J. Marks, Greenland, Mich.

The Herald acknowledges with thanks the receipt of "The Tie That Binds" and "After the Ball" from Mrs. J. Marks, Greenland, Mich.

After the Ball.

A little maiden climbed an old man's knees,
Begged for a story—"Do, uncle, please;
Why are you single? Why live alone?
Have you no babies? Have you no home?"

"I had a sweetheart years, years ago;
Where she is now, pet, you will soon know;
List to my story, I'll tell it all;
I believed her faithless after the ball.

Chorus.

"After the ball is over; after the break of morn;
After the dancers leaving; after the stars are gone;
Many a heart is aching, if you could read them all;
Many the hopes that vanished, after the ball.

"Bright lights were flashing in the grand ballroom;
Softly the music, playing sweet tunes—
There came my sweetheart, my love, my own—
'I wish some water, leave me alone.'
When I returned, dear, there stood a man
Kissing my sweetheart, as lovers can;
Down fell the glass, pet, broken, that's all,
Just as my heart was after the ball.

"Long years have passed, child, I've never wed;
True to my lost love, though she is dead.
She tried to tell me, tried to explain;
I would not listen, pleadings were vain.
One day a letter came from that man—
He was her brother, the letter ran—
That's why I'm lonely, no home at all;
I broke her heart, pet, after the ball."

The Tie That Binds.

Within a small room cold and cheerless,
There sits a young woman alone,
Beside her a cradle stands empty,
While o'er it she sobs and moans.
"My husband, he no longer loves me,
His love vanished when baby died,
So I'll leave him and our home forever,
And out in the cold world abide."
She packs baby's clothes in a bundle,
While tears slowly flowed down her cheek;
"I never would leave him, no never,
If only one kind word he'd speak,"
Just then the door quickly opened;
Her husband takes the bundle away,
And he spreads the things out on the table,
While gently to her he does say:

Chorus.

"One little stocking for you, Nell,
One tiny blue shoe for me,
One baby's wrap and her small lace cap,
We'll share in memory;
One lock of hair is for you, dear;
See how the golden lock shines,
And we'll both keep
Her smile as she sleeps;
For she's the tie that binds.

In silence they gazed at each other,
Then softly his darling wife said:
"Today is our third anniversary,
Just three years ago we were wed,
Remember the seat in the orchard,
Where we would meet day after day,
And 'twas there with your arms close about me
You called me your queen of May."
"And don't you remember the parson,"
He cried, with his face all aglow,
"I hear his voice saying: 'God bless you,
You'll be a good man to her, Joe.'"
Then closer they drew to each other,
"Ah, darling," he said, "won't you stay,
If it's only in mem'ry of baby?
I promise I'll never more say."

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause — Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy troubled with undigested food, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief, so you can eat what you like. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

POLITICS IN THE NORTH STAR STATE

Comment on Candidates, Near-Candidates and Those Willing to Be Candidates for Public Office; Flotsam and Jetsam on the Surging Sea of Politics.

What appears to be a very ardent movement to unite the Republican party is under way for the benefit of Governor J. A. A. Burnquist. Whether or not it will succeed is still a question. James A. Peterson, the Minneapolis candidate, was the first to come out in a statement, not only withdrawing from the race in favor of Governor Burnquist, but asking all other to do likewise, and so reunite the party. Rl. bald critics might say that it is tough for a party to be in such shape that harmony is impossible with more than one candidate.

Just how far the movement will go depends on S. G. Iverson, former state auditor, and Charles A. Lindbergh, Sixth district congressman, who are refusing to be reconstructed. Mr.. Iverson has long cherished the hope of being governor. Two years ago he was a candidate but made the great mistake of entering the elimination conference at Minneapolis, which chose William E. Lee of Long Prairie to lead the Republicans to destruction. This time Sam determined that there would be no elimination for him, and now says that he is going through with it. He puts the blame on his friends, saying that they insist on him staying in the race.

Lindbergh's Position.

Mr. Lindbergh, on the other hand, declares that he will remain in the fight for principle, and he has issued a little magazine called "Real Needs, a Magazine of Co-Ordination," in which he deals with "The Existing Capitalistic System," "Commercializing Sentiment at the Risk of War," "The Canadian Invasion of Minnesota," and other subjects, mainly national, in which the state may be more or less interested.

Magnus Martinson, legislative representative of the Anti-Saloon league, and former secretary to Mr. Lindbergh, is now in Washington, and it is declared that he will try to induce Lindbergh to withdraw. Rumor also has it that if he should succeed, he will be appointed private secretary to the governor.

The condition of the Republicans, despite the efforts made to unite the party, is far from being what the leaders would like to see. Governor Burnquist, with patronage at his disposal, and the very fact that he is governor, has been suddenly placed in a position usually regarded as politically strong. He has no enemy-making past to live down, and would seem to be the logical man on which a disrupted party has the best chance to unite, if there is any such.

However, that is the Republican party's business and nobody's else. If Republicans don't want to get together, who else should care?

Where Are the "Wets."

Every candidate now in the field for the Republican nomination is a "dry," for it has been understood that Julius A. Schmahl, mentioned prominently as the choice of the "wets," will not run for the governorship, but will file again for secretary of state.

It seems, after the stir the "wets" have made, almost incongruous that they should submit to this condition. Following the passage of the county option bill and the roadhouse law, it was bruited about that there would be something doing before the next election. The liquor interests are not alone in this, for many good men are opposed to sumptuary legislation purely on the basis of personal liberty, and because they honestly disbelieve in the efficacy of attempts to make men sober by law.

Mr. Schmahl is of this class, and was picked, only a short time ago, as almost a certain winner in the Republican primaries should he file, for with the established support behind him of the element that is conservative on the liquor question, he would start in with a greater strength than any other one candidate. With this condition his, just why Mr. Schmahl will not run—if the statements made are true—is to be wondered at, for the governorship has been his ambition for many years. However, Mr. Schmahl says that his decision is not yet made.

Conservatives Up Against It.

If he refuses to run, it leaves the conservative element in a bad way. Of course their fate probably does not rest wholly with Mr. Schmahl, but who else, known right now, could start in with the same percentage of popularity and support that he commands?

Some say that they will try to capture the legislature. A lot of good that will do. The senate will be the same, and the senate voted for the two prohibition measures mentioned last time. The vote was close, it is true, but the old saw, "a miss is as good as a mile," holds good in this as in anything else.

It does not seem conceivable that the conservatives will lie down at this time, for they have all to lose and nothing to gain by it. A lapse of four years in their fighting activities may do irreparable damage to their interests.

Democrats Will Confer.

The question as to who will lead the Democratic forces in the next campaign is still unsettled, and may be for some time. In state capitol circles, the belief is expressed that Peter Nelson of Red Wing may be the nominee; but it is yet too early to make any predictions, for the party has hardly recovered from the shock caused by the death of Governor Hammond, and no move has been made to fill the place he would have occupied had he lived. Mr. Nelson was the first choice of the Democratic organization for the chairmanship of the state central committee last year, but was unable to serve because of sickness.

The Democratic state executive committee has called a conference to meet Feb. 3 at the St. Paul auditorium to decide on delegates and alternates to the national convention. While the committee did not favor the selection of candidates for state office, that matter may be taken up if the delegates to the conference so desire. R. W. Hargadine, secretary of the Democratic state central committee, has sent the following notice to the St. Louis county committee:

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Democratic state central committee held in St. Paul on Jan. 4, I was instructed to issue a call for a state conference to be held in St. Paul at 10 a. m., Feb. 3, at the auditorium, for the purpose of requesting candidates to file for the positions of delegates to the Democratic national convention to be held in St. Louis in June, 1916.

The basis of representation is one delegate for each 100 votes, or major fraction thereof, cast for W. S. Hammond for governor at the last election. Your county is, therefore, entitled to ninety-two delegates, and it is very important that you be fully represented as other important matters will undoubtedly be considered.

It is expected that during the week before the conference is held, the St. Louis county committee will hold a conference of Democrats here to choose favorites for the delegation from this district. St. Louis county will undoubtedly favor John J. Jenswold of Duluth and Mr. Kane of International Falls for delegates from the Eighth district.

Who For the Legislature?

What is of vastly more importance to Northern Minnesota than who will be the nominees for governor so far has been neglected, and should receive the early attention of the voters. That is the matter of representation in the legislature. Nobody has been mentioned in this section, and only a few anywhere in the northern part of the state. It has been left as a sort of enter-who-pleases affair, when those who are to be legislative representatives should be chosen with care for their ability, integrity and knowledge of the needs of the districts they are to represent. This should not be lost sight of, and some action should be taken soon to try to get the proper men to run.

Sam Y. Gordon, editor of the Browns Valley Tribune, a former lieutenant governor, and a candidate in 1912 for the Republican nomination for the governorship, has indorsed Governor Burnquist for nomination. In the Tribune, Editor Gordon declares that he believes Mr. Burnquist the logical man for the Republican nomination, and says:

> The editor of the Tribune having a personal acquaintance with the new governor for several years, and being familiar with his views on all public questions of moment, feels that while the people of the state mourn with deepest sorrow on account of the demise of their governor, they at the same time have reasons to congratulate themselves that they had elected a man as lieutenant governor who is in every way qualified to fill the higher position of governor. We have in Governor Burnquist a man of ability, a man who has had several years of legislative experience, a man of high moral standing and a man who has few equals in the state as a platform orator.

It is expected that the appointment of a United States marshal for Minnesota will be made early this week, and indications are that it will be Joseph A. Wessel of Crookston. This will bring up the matter of appointing a deputy here and at other points where deputies are maintained. George J. Mallory has been deputy marshal here for years under William H. Grimshaw, present marshal. Two men, Scott Cash of Duluth and Ellis Walsh, former chief of police of Virginia, have a strong backing.

The campaign in Minnesota for the Republican presidential nomination seems to have flattened out for the time. It may be that underground work is being done, but there is little to ruffle the surface. The Northrop movement apparently has died a-born-in'.

With all the "there-is-Hughesing" that has been going the rounds among the Republicans, the question of what Justice Hughes stands for in public life, what issues he believes to be paramount, what isms he does or does not believe in and what policies he would pursue if elected never seemed to occur to anybody until last week when The Herald and the Minneapolis Tribune broached it. Nobody seems to know, and everybody who has been sighing and talking for the former governor of New York as a presidential candidate, apparently has either been posing or just talking through his headgear.

Bird's Ultimatum.

Added to the Hughes talk was the letter of Charles Sumner Bird, leading Progressive of Massachusetts, to George W. Perkins, chairman of the executive committee of the Progressive national committee, published last week, in which Mr. Bird assumed to voice the sentiment of Progressives to the effect that they would accept nobody as presidential candidate but Hughes or Roosevelt. Whether or not he really expresses the sentiment of those who are or were Progressives is a thing impossible of determination; but his letter convinces one of the fact that he's a Bird all right. He told Mr. Perkins where he gets off. Then, on the other hand, there is the Taft interview flatly stating that the regulars would stand for no Roosevelt dictation. The party is as distracted in the nation as in the state.

Things are looking up in the Sixth congressional district. Harold Knutson of St. Cloud has filed for congress, J. J. Opsahl of Bemidji filed some time ago, and C. B. Buckman has been hustling for support for some weeks. Mr. Buckman has been looked upon as the strongest candidate, but Mr. Knutson, a former newspaperman, former president of the Northern Minnesota Editorial association, and an active Republican since he was knee-high, is getting a lot of newspaper support. The St. Cloud Journal-Press, one of the most important newspapers in the district, is openly for him, and so are others of almost equal weight. It seems that Mr. Knutson is to be reckoned with seriously, and many predict his nomination.

Now the question is in the Sixth district: Will Congressman Lindbergh stay in the fight for governor or will he file again for the congressional job; and if the latter, then what?

Cambridge Independent-Press: The Republicans of this state are willing to support any man for president next year who receives the nomination, provided he measures up to presidential size. The Democrats will nominate Wilson again and it will be no small task for a united Republican party to elect the next president.

Most Republicans are of the same opinion concerning President Wilson, but few of them are so openly frank about it.

Mankato Review: Ex-Congressman Tawney of Minnesota is being talked of as a possible Republican candidate for vice president on a ticket headed by Root of New York or some similar Eastern candidate. It seems natural and appropriate that the G. O. P., buried under the avalanche of votes in 1912, should now go to the political cemeteries for its candidates. To complete the picture in fitting style, let it take this legend from the tombstones as its platform: "In hope of a future resurrection."

The vice presidency usually completes the burying process.

FORMER PRESIDENT OF BUTTE MINERS KILLED

Helena, Mont., Jan. 10.—J. Duffy, former president of the Butte miners union, and at one time a member of the state legislature was shot and killed Saturday in Phillipsburg, Mont., by Mike Lonegan, a miner, according to advices received here. The two men, the town authorities say, met on the street and after some words which no bystander caught, Lonegan shot Duffy. Lonegan was arrested immediately afterward.

BRITISH BATTLESHIP KING EDWARD VII SUNK

Warship Hits Mine and Goes to Bottom; Crew Saved.

London, Jan. 10.—The British battleship King Edward VII has been sunk as a result of striking a mine. The entire crew was saved. The sinking of the King Edward VII was announced by the admiralty in the following statement: "The H. M. S. King Edward VII has struck a mine. Owing to the heavy sea, she had to be abandoned and sank shortly afterward. The ship's company was taken off without loss of life. Only two men were injured."

The King Edward VII was a battleship of 16,350 tons, laid down in March, 1902. She was 453 feet long, 78 feet beam and 26 feet deep. She had four 12-inch, four 9.2-inch and ten 6-inch guns in her main battery and was equipped with four torpedo tubes, submerged. Her speed on her trial trip was nineteen knots. She had a complement of 777 men.

MORE COAL MINED IN 1915 THAN IN 1914

Washington, Jan. 10.—The production of bituminous coal and anthracite in the United States in 1915 is estimated by C. E. Lesher of the United States geological survey, at 518,000,000 short tons, an increase over 1914 of less than 1 per cent. Bituminous production increased about 6,500,000 tons, and the output of anthracite was less than in 1914 by about 2,200,000 short tons. The increase in the output of soft coal was not shared equally by all the fields, for in the bituminous fields of the East production increased, whereas in the area west of Ohio there was a general decrease. All states in the Mississippi valley and in the Rocky mountain and Pacific coast regions, except Colorado and possibly Wyoming, remained either practically stationary as regards output or showed decrease.

It is not unreasonable to consider that the increase in the East would have been much greater had it not been for a shortage of transportation facilities, which developed in the fall and which at the close of the year assumed serious proportions.

The quantity of coal exported to Europe and South America during the first ten months of 1915 exceeded the quantity exported in the same period of 1914 by about 3,000,000 tons. In 1915, however, exports of both anthracite and bituminous coal to Canada decreased.

FOR BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING COUGH, CROUP, COUGHS AND COLDS

Make the Best Remedy at Home—128 Teaspoonsful for 50 Cents.

If everything was sold in as liberal and fair a manner as the Lyceum Pharmacy is selling Schiffmann's New Concentrated Expectorant, absolutely no cause for complaint or dissatisfaction could possibly arise from anyone. These druggists say—"Buy a bottle of this remedy and try it for Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Severe Cough, Croup or any Bronchial Affection, and we will return your money, just as we do with Schiffmann's famous Asthmador, if it does not give satisfaction, or if not found the best remedy ever used for any of these complaints." Why not take advantage of this guarantee and try this medicine, and get your money back, rather than buying another purely on the exaggerated claims of its manufacturer or on the strength of testimonials from others and run the chance of getting something worthless and also wasting your money?

In buying this remedy, besides securing an absolute guarantee of its efficiency from these druggists, you also get about eight times as much medicine as you would in buying most any of the old-fashioned, ready-made kinds, which average from 20 to 32 teaspoonsful, because 50c worth makes a whole pint (128 teaspoonsful) when mixed at home with simply one pint of sugar and one-half pint of water. This remedy positively does not contain chloroform, opium, morphine or any other narcotic. It is pleasant to take the children are fond of it. You will be the sole judge, and under this positive guarantee absolutely no risk is run in buying this remedy. Druggists everywhere are authorized to sell it under the same guarantee as Schiffmann's famous Asthmador of "Money Back" if not perfectly satisfactory. R. J. Schiffmann, Proprietor, St. Paul, Minn. HEATING OF STREET CARS

It is doubtful if many of the persons who complain of the way street cars are heated have given more than a passing thought to the difficulties of the problem.

There is nothing quite so hard to heat as a street car. This is particularly true when low temperature is accompanied by a high wind. Thus far no means has been invented for keeping the air just inside the constantly opening door or close to the walls which are practically all glass from 60 to 90 degrees warmer than the air immediately outside, as sometimes seems to be expected.

Our cars are heated by means of hot water, which is the most satisfactory method known for this climate. Most passengers keep on their heavy outdoor clothing while riding in street cars in cold weather and the temperature as high as that maintained in our homes and offices would be very uncomfortable to them. We instruct our employes to keep the temperature in the cars as near 60 degrees as possible at all times, but this is not possible when the outside temperature is below zero, with a strong wind blowing.

We wish to remind those who are familiar with the operation of hot water heating systems in their homes with the rapid circulation which they are able to secure by placing the heater at a considerably lower level than the radiating surfaces cannot be obtained in a car. In a car the radiating surfaces must necessarily be placed below the level of the heater and this is a serious handicap in obtaining good circulation.

While hot water heaters are, all things considered, by far the most efficient for heating cars in this climate, things sometimes go wrong with them, as would be the case with any other system. The causes of trouble are sometimes such as cannot be foreseen by the management, nor controlled by the employes, and sometimes due to an attempt to force the circulation too rapidly by the motorman but the usual result in either case is poor circulation and a cold car with a hot fire in the heater.

If under such circumstances the employes increase the fire in the heater in response to the requests they always get from passengers to "fire up," it result in mixing steam with the water, shutting off the circulation entirely, and sometimes in blowng all of the water in the heater out through the safety valve on the roof of the car. When the circulation has been stopped by such forcing the only way to make the car warm again is to allow the fire to go down and then to rebuild it slowly, re-establishing the circulation of water very slowly, without getting steam mixed with it by attempting to force it. To do this, the car is pulled into the carhouse, but often while it is completing a long trip or before it can be exchanged for a warm car many passengers are likely to ride upon it and suffer more or less from the cold. We are using every effort to make such cases as rare as possible and we believe that our employes generally observe our instructions to notify the office promptly when they have a car which it is necessary to take off the line to get the heating system working properly again. It is possible that employes may sometimes neglect to do this, and for that reason we are always glad to have passengers promptly notify our office when they find cars unusually cold. We always make it a point to have cars looked after at the very first opportunity.

SUNDAY SERMONS IN DULUTH PULPITS

MORAL MARGIN IS NECESSARY

Good Character Required By Business World, Says Rev. Mr. Sayles.

Doors of Employment Closing to Dissipated Man, He Declares.

"Every minister is again and again asked by bond companies to fill out blanks in which confidential information regarding certain individuals seeking a surety bond is asked. Again and again the minister is referred to by those seeking the surety bonds," said Rev. R. Edward Sayles, pastor of the First Baptist church, in his sermon on "The Man Under Suspicion" last night.

"I have before me the statement of C. E. Millen, assistant secretary of the American Surety company of New York. He writes out of an experience of years examining the records of thousands of men seeking responsible positions, and from a necessary familiarity with the steps which led to dishonesty and embezzlement. He is my authority for the following:

"'The man who is careless is under suspicion. The man who fails to separate trust funds from personal funds. 'Desire for luxuries of a manner of living beyond the power of the employe to gratify honestly puts a man under suspicion. Wives with social aspirations, mothers with daughters of a marriageable age, often are responsible for this condition into which a man is brought.

Immorality Creates Suspicion.

"'Immorality puts a man under suspicion.

"'Gambling and stock speculation put the employe under suspicion.

"'The use of intoxicants puts a man under suspicion. The dissipated man is finding the door to responsible employment closed to him.'

"The above are not the assertions of some preacher; they are the assertions of a man whose business it is to study modern business life. His assertions are based on a wide experience. The business world is demanding ability and sound moral character.

"No man can afford to be doubted. He can afford to be opposed and disliked and defeated, but he cannot afford to be doubted. If a man lives near the border line men will come to suspect that he has journeyed across while they slept.

"I summon you to the Christian life. I summon you to the life that is under the leadership of Jesus Christ. 'Godliness is profitable; for all things, having the promise of the life that now is and of the life which is to come.' More and more the highest moral life is demanded by modern business.

"I call you to the life with a margain. Fireproof building materials are subjected to a severe test. Before it is accepted it must have a margin of safety. So, too, must the modern man have moral margin. This is the man who is dependable. This man is prepared for emergencies. This man enjoys a real life."

CHURCHES TO GAIN BY EUROPEAN WAR

Will Give New Impetus to Religion, Declares Rev. Fr. Eckert.

Churches will gain from the present war in Europe, believes Rev. Fr. Eckert of Minneapolis, a member of the Dominican order.

"From out this world war will come a new impetus to religion," he said in a sermon Sunday morning at the first services of the Holy Name rally that will continue today and tomorrow.

"There is a great deal of irreverence in the world today. A year before the tragedy of Liege the marchers in the Corpus Christi parade were stoned. Patriotism and reverence of God are synonymous. War is brought on by insult to a ruler or a flag, the same spirit that inspires a man to blaspheme the deity.

"There are three kinds of people in the world." Father Eckert continued, "unbelievers, believers in God and in the divinity of Christ but not Catholics and Roman Catholics. We assert that we are the church of Christ and as such it is our duty to maintain reverence toward Him. So many people use the name of Christ only when they blaspheme."

Rt. Rev. James McGolrick officiated at solemn benediction. The cathedral choir, lead by John L. Golcz and Miss Theresa Lynn, organist, was augmented by Helmer's orchestra. Soloists were Mrs. J. P. McKanna, soprano; Paul Van Hoveen, tenor; Miss Alice Farrell, contralto; Miss May Lydon, soprano; Miss Louisa Lyons, soprano; Robert Hamp, tenor; James Lynn, tenor; Ed Coates, bass; Walter Zellman, bass.

In the evening music was furnished by the cathedral male quartet and by Miss Lydon and Mr. Van Hoven, soloists.

CONSULTING THE ARCHITECT.

Rev. R. E. Miller Draws Parallel With Wordly Affairs in Building.

"We can, each of us, have Jesus Christ for the architect of our lives," said Rev. R. E. Miller in his sermon yesterday at Woodland M. E. church. Said he:

"If we want to build a house we go to an architect, because we know he has information regarding the details that we know little or nothing about. In laying out our life plans, if we take Christ as our guide He will be able to regulate the details that are beyond our ability, and our life work will be a better product than it could possibly be without such guidance.

"We have already traversed one week of the new year. How are we building for 1916? It is time we took stock of our position and our plans, as business men do. If we have not already consulted the Great Architect, it is time we did so, and had our work directed by Him."

Help for Bronchial Trouble and Coughs.

Richmond, Inglewood, California, says: "Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has greatly benefited me for bronchial trouble and cough." For coughs, colds, croup, la grippe and bronchial coughs, hoarseness, tickling throat, stuffy, wheezy breathing it acts with wonderful quickness and soothing effect. Sold everywhere.

CHRISTIANITY IS NOT HYPHENATED

True Believer Not Half-Allied, Says Pastor Stemple White.

"Hyphenated Christians" was the subject of a sermon preached last night by Pastor Stemple White at the Seventh Day Adventist church, Twenty-third avenue west and Fourth street, last night. Said he, in part:

"In view of recent operations of 'hyphenated Americans' with perplexing results, one is led to wonder, if in the crucible of the American 'melting pot,' old patriotic instincts and prejudices of the immigrants of all nations are being fused into an Americanism that will ring true at all times to the principles of the Stars and Stripes, or does the national flag wave over many groups of foreigners whose first allegiance, regardless of their naturalization oaths or contemplated oaths, is given to the land of their birth. While the evils of a 'hyphenated' Americanism are rampant as against the sober, sane, policy of 'America first' in political affairs, it is a fitting time to emphasize the inconsistency and dire results of a 'hyphenated' Christianity whose growing and permeating tendency is to usher in a so-called kingdom of civic rightcousness through political wire-pulling and demands of the popular federated but spiritually fallen church.

"There is power in the gospel of Jesus Christ," said the speaker, "to cement hearts and find in a loving, lasting, unity as deep as that which binds in one God and His Son, every truly converted believer of all nations and races. The test of Christian discipleship is abiding in the eternal unchangeable doctrines of Jesus and no national regulation that clashes with the Word of God can ever swerve the real Christian from his allegiance to the Creator.

"Even as a naturalized American citizen swears to renounce all allegiance to any foreign prince or potentate, so he who is naturalized into the 'commonwealth of Israel' solemnly renounces all allegiance to the god of this world. Though in this world, he is not to be of this world. While he should obey all ordinances of man that does not conflict with God's low, yet he is not to be 'reckoned among the nations.'

"No nation can safely tolerate a duel citizenship and Jesus declares, 'Ye can not serve God and Mammon.' Americanism recognizes no national hyphen, —much less can real Christianity. No matter where he may live on this earth, the real Christian, like the Divine Pattern, will be 'the same yesterday, today and forever.'"

FAITH NEEDED IN OLD RELIGION

Ideals of Christ Can Fill Earth With Joy, Says Divinity Head.

"What men need now is not a new revelation, not a new religion, but a firmer, more childlike faith in the old religion," declared Rev. F. E. Kramer, head of the divinity institute at Faribault, Minn., who preached at St. Paul's Episcopal church yesterday morning in the absence of Dr. A. W. Ryan. The latter left St. Luke's hospital yesterday, but is yet unable to take active charge of his congregation.

Rev. Kramer, who preached from the text, Matthew ii, 1.: "We have seen His star in the east and have come to worship Him," said in part:

"The brilliant star which heralded the birth of the Saviour was not a miraculous phenomenon, but a conjunction of the planets Jupiter and Saturn, as science has proved. The Assyrians, or wise men, had connected this star with the birth of a wonderful King who was not to be a temporal ruler, but one who would have universal sway, in a spiritual sense, over the hearts of men.

"The wonderful thing about the star was the message it bears for humanity. We, who live centuries after the event, can see how the astrology of the wise men was true—the sway of Christ over humanity has been wonderful and in the light of past achievements of the Christian religion, we may presage the ultimate sway of the Saviour King.

"What men need now is not a new revelation; not a new religion. They need a firmer, more childlike faith in the old religion. Belief in the novelty of the incarnation of the Son of God; belief in the potency of His reign and belief in the ideals of Christ can fill the world with joy, peace, happiness, courage, mercy and truth and if this be so, humanity will offer greater gifts than the gold frankincense of the wise men—namely, the offering of service to God for men."

SCORES PRODIGALS OF PRESENT TIME

Sin Hidden or Open Leads to Hell on Earth, Says Pastor.

Modern prodigals in search of pleasure were flayed by Rev. George Brewer of the First Presbyterian church in his sermon on "The Twentieth Century Prodigal" at the regular morning services yesterday. Dr. Brewer said in part:

"First we have the prodigal who started out to see life and found hell. With body diseased and conscience hardened, he has forfeited social position and broken the hearts of all who love him. A brilliant young lawyer of New York sunk to the level of a beast, dying in delirious rage as he attacked his horror-stricken wife.

"Then there is the secret prodigal, who may be outwardly a respected business man, a subscriber to benevolent enterprises, a public-spirited citizen, etc., who is not respectable in secret and when he thinks he will not be caught. He is not square in his private deals and private life. This prodigal is suffering hell on earth in fear of a revelation of what he really is.

"Knowing what I know, my soul goes out in sympathy more to the poor sin-cursed, conscience-stricken prodigal than to the publicly recognized prodigal. It is not so hard for the one starving on husks to return to the comfort of his father's home as it is for the well-fed, prosperous prodigal to return after exposure."

Killed by Snow Slide.

Livingston, Mont., Jan. 10.—Lieut. Joseph E. McDonald of the Twelfth cavalry, U. S. A., was killed by a snow slide at Mammoth Hot Springs, near Fort Yellowstone, Wyo., while on a sledding party with four friends yesterday.

Montana Town Burned.

Butte, Mont., Jan. 10.—The business section of Darby, in the western part of the state was destroyed by fire Saturday, five business buildings and two dwellings being consumed. Losts $35,000. The high school building at Laurel, Mont., was gutted by fire Saturday causing an estimated loss of $30,000.

URGES MORE TOLERANCE

Pastor Decries Puritanical Observance of Sunday Rules.

"Close Skating Rinks for Glory of God and Misery of Man."

In his sermon at the First Unitarian church yesterday, Rev. George R. Gebauer made a plea for a less Puritanical view of Sunday observance and a tolerance of all clean amusement.

"Any new view of life, any new thought, any new scheme of life always appeared from the standpoint of the old as revolutionary, subvertive and destructive," he said. "Yet that new is most always contained in the old and what appears as revolution is in fact an evolution. And it largely, on account of the inability of the old to understand the new, seeing in it a usurper and not a legitimate heir, that there is a constant battle between the old and the new. And strange as it may seem, but quite natural, the most stubborn conservatism is often found among the most intelligent and most learned; they are in fact conservative and contemptful of the new because they know so much.

"The man who has really studied a subject and has arrived at some definite conclusion, is generally most loath to exchange the same for a new and better. The progress of knowledge, therefore, has not been so much retarded by the ignorant as by men of knowledge. The warfare of truth against error was never waged on the streets, but in lecture room and laboratory. It is the same in every field of thought. Learning opposes learning; intellect, intellect; mastery, mastery. If it were not for the natural conservatism among the doctors and professors we should have an educational system which is in full harmony with the spirit of our century and not filled with notions of the eighteenth and nineteenth century. We have best only succeeded in modifying somewhat the old ideas about the proper curriculum of study, because the learned, who were brought up on a certain system of education, believe that this is the best just because they know so much. Our great educators still believe essentially in the old way of salvation in which our grandfathers believed.

Applies to Religion.

"It is, therefore, no wonder that in religion, which claims a much higher authority, conservatism should spell 'right belief.' Jesus found it so. To the learned and God-fearing Pharisee, he needs appeared as a dangerous innovator, an arrogant rebel, a dangerous character. For Jesus attacked their most sacred institutions. He said that 'the Sabbath was made for man and not man for the Sabbath'; he paid but little heed to their ceremonial laws, that to them was of highest importance for life. What I often wonder at is not that Jesus found so much opposition and antagonism, but that he met with so much patience. But however the Jews looked at Jesus, to him it was quite plain that he never offended against the spirit of the law of Moses, but only gave it a higher interpretation. He preached anew the gospel of the prophets, the religion of the soul and the ethics of the heart. But as the world then did not understand the Master, so it is far from understanding Him now. He came to bring to the weary world the freedom of truth and love, yet the Christian synagogues in the land are still striving after the enslavement of man by certain fast rules of conduct, by a rigid enforcement of the Sabbath, by formal submission to the laws of the church. Not a few of our churches would like to make Duluth a second Geneva. Not a few good ministers, women and innocent children would like to march men, every Sunday morning, to church and there pour into their deaf ears tedious and lifeless sermons. They would close every skating rink and every place of harmless recreation for the glory of God and the misery of man. Ah, the Pharisaical interpretation of religion is the baneful influence against which we are still fighting.

Assertion of Good.

"Indeed it is not denial of evil that God wants of us, but assertion of the good, and for assertion we need the greatest freedom. In a true life the soul empties itself of all that is trifling and fills itself freely and voluntarily with what is worth while. Life is not in pale denial, but in full-blooded assertion, in free expansion and rich fulfilment. It is not only so in religion but in every phase of life. In the esthetic life we do not cast aside all sensuousness, but chasten it and transfuse it with the spiritual. In ethics we deny the self only so far as it stands in the way of a true self-assertion in its duty toward society.

"In the state we set aside the little ambitions for self, that as citizens we may become identified with the highest self of the state. We constantly must choose our lives not be lost, but find a higher life. The kingdom of heaven is that state of society in which each will assert his highest rights, the right to serve the whole with all his heart and soul and mind."

CHRISTIAN IDEA OF GOD NECESSARY

One of the supreme needs of the Christian world is to obtain a truly Christian idea of God. The Christ idea of God is the one that should be followed, according to Rev. Charles N. Thorp, pastor of the Pilgrim Congregational church, who preached to a large audience in the Masonic temple yesterday morning. "We should challenge every idea about God we may encounter by asking ourselves, 'Are you consistent with the character of Jesus? If so, welcome, but if not, depart,'" said the speaker.

"One of the supreme needs of Christian people is to obtain a truly Christian idea of God. It is fascinating to philosophize about the Divine being. Some persons use the idea of God simply as the subject for speculative theorizing. This does not touch real life or satisfy human need. Others have been taught to regard God as a monarch, remote, solitary, terrible.

"We need to cast out our pagan ideas of God. Jesus lived His belief in God so perfectly that you may take His personality, His words, His daily life and find them to fit into His idea of God.

"And yet how many false and pagan notions have overlaid Jesus' idea of God. At times the church has departed from God the Father. Not many years ago it was generally believed by Christian people that God punishes eternally vast multitudes, because they have not believed a gospel which they have never heard. How shall one accept this immoral and heretical idea so foreign to the character of a righteous and loving Father?"

SHOULD PREPARE FOR CHRIST'S COMING

European War Will Stir Up Thought, Says Theosophist Speaker.

That the European war will arouse people to their senses and stir them up to prepare for the second coming of Christ was the keynote of the sermon preached yesterday by Irving S. Cooper, national organizing secretary of the Order of the Star of the East and national lecturer for the Theosophical society, last night at the Little theater under the auspices of the order. "This war is gradually breaking through the crust of the present civilization's materialism and reaching the undercurrent of humanity," he said.

"I think this war will bring the people to their senses and stir them to a certain great thought—mainly, the preparation for the second coming of Christ, which I believe in and the rest of the 30,000 members of our order believe in. I look upon the war as priceless advantage to humanity, if it will only direct the undercurrents into a single channel, the object in view being the preparation for the second appearance on earth of the Saviour.

"In my opinion the war will bring about a great religious revival; not the materialistic religion, but the religion of the inner consciousness. All of the undercurrents are opposed to materialism. From an orthodox Christian community, this country has changed to the materialistic. The war will change this by making religion a matter of the soul and inner consciousness—not merely of the lips."

Nearly 300 persons attended the lecture. Mr. Cooper will give several addresses in Minneapolis this week.

BIBLE ECONOMIC HISTORY.

Rationalist Speaker Declares Characters Are Symbolic Types Only.

Thomas G. Lee gave an address yesterday afternoon before the Rationalist society, at Forresters' hall, Fourth avenue west and First street on "The Bible Simplified," in which he said that the Book should be viewed from an economic standpoint. Said he, in part:

"The Bible must not be understood literally but rather symbolically and figuratively. Cain and Abel, Jacob and Esau, and others, were not real characters but rather types representing the wealthy or leisure class and the working class. The Bible should be understood as the history of the struggle of the poor against oppression. To this history of the rise of the poor, other chapters have been added and will be added by those who write in the interests of the workingmen.

"Jesus of Nazareth may have been a real person, but the references to His birth may refer rather to the birth of organization of a labor movement. The Bible should be viewed from an economic standpoint."

CAMPAIGN ON FOR LAYMEN'S MEETINGS

Duluth Men Address Gatherings in Various Outside Churches.

Campaigning for the Laymen's convention, which is to be held here for three days, commencing Jan. 19, was begun yesterday by two teams sent out to the range towns by the Y. M. C. A. authorities.

Frank Crasswelller, W. L. Smithies and E. D. Ranck went to Virginia and Hibbing, where they spoke before union meetings of Presbyterians and Methodists, announcing the coming meetings and urging large delegations to come to Duluth to hear the speakers.

H. A. Sedgwick, Harvey Hoshour and John Brown, Jr., made similar addresses at Two Harbors. Watson S. Moore spoke at the Hammond Avenue M. E. church in Superior last night.

Next Sunday thirty teams will be sent out to adjoining towns.

AUTO RUNS DOWN PARTY, KILLING TWO OUTRIGHT

Kansas City, Jan. 10.—Two persons were killed and six injured yesterday when an automobile tore through a party of young people returning home from an entertainment, and sped on without stopping.

Sarah Shub, 19 years old, and Maurice Drues, 23, were dead when picked up. Rescuers found six other persons stretched on the snow, two of them, Ethel Lindman, 17, and Liba Lindman, 19, sustained injuries which physicians said would cause death.

Three men later were taken into custody, one of whom, Ralph Smiley, an automobile mechanic, 24 years old, admitted in an affidavit according to the prosecuting attorney, that he was driving the car which caused the accident.

FORSELL HONORED BY SVEA SINGERS

Club Will Rehearse Each Sunday Preparatory to Omaha Sangerfest.

Charles F. Forsell, treasurer of the Svea Glee club for the last fifteen years and at present holding the oldest membership, was guest of honor of the society at a "get-together" meeting which was held all afternoon and until late in the evening yesterday at Woodman hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street. Mr. Forsell was presented with a handsome loving cup by the members of the organization.

The members began to gather at the hall at 12:30 o'clock. It was 9:30 p. m. before the party broke up. Plans for regular rehearsals to be held every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock from now until the time of leaving for the annual sangerfest to be held in Omaha in July, were made.

A banquet to be given this spring, at which the songs to be sung at the sangerfest will be presented to the Duluth public, will be given, according to arrangements made yesterday. The committee to have charge of the arrangements consists of William Oman, chairman; Richard Wallin, John Erickson, Gust Westman and Ed Sundquist. This committee had charge of the affair yesterday.

CHARLES F. FORSELL.

Following the business meeting a buffet lunch was served. The affair was attended by about sixty members of the society. Every member in the hall gave a short talk praising the work of Mr. Forsell, who has served as official of the Svea Glee club for years. Mr. Forsell was president of the organization at the time the sangerfest was held in Duluth.

"MOVIES" INDORSED AND CONDEMNED

Rev. Milton Fish Deals With Their Good and Bad Points.

While there is much good in some motion picture plays, emotions are often overdrawn and things are not always shown in their true light, said Rev. Milton Fish, pastor of the Central Baptist church, Twentieth avenue west and First street, last night, in speaking on "Thine Eyes Shall See the King." He said that an angel witnessing the average motion picture play would become spiritually blind. Said Mr. Fish:

"We must recognize all the good in the pictures. They are a great asset of commerce and have a very great educational value both in the popular and scientific sense. Moreover, they afford mental relaxation in hearty laughter. But they picture the minister as a funereal mollycoddle and justify vengeance and misname lust as love. An angel after sitting before the average movie film, would be spiritually blind to God.

"Thank God, there is a Great Physician who can open lust-dulled and sin-clouded eyes. We look unto Him who is the author and finisher of faith."

DEEPEST MINE IN WORLD IS LOCATED IN BRAZIL

The deepest mine in the world—gold or of any other metal—is located in Brazil. It is near Villa Nova de Lima, in the state of Minas Geraes, about 330 miles north of Rio de Janeiro. It has been worked, more or less systematically, for something over eighty years, and is known as the Morro Velho and is owned and operated by an English company.

Benjamin Le Roy Miller of Lehigh university and Joseph T. Singewald, Jr., of Johns Hopkins, who in 1915 investigated almost all the known mining districts of the Southern continent, tell about it in an article in the December number of the Bulletin of the Pan-American Union.

Just when the Morro Velho mine was first opened is not known, but it was being operated toward the close of the eighteenth century. The ore body consists of a great vein of unusual persistence and regularity that dips into the earth at an angle of about 45 deg. The combined depths of the connected shafts give a total of 5,824 feet. In other words, here is a gold mine that is being worked at a depth of more than a mile below the surface of the earth. Rock temperatures increase as the earth's crust is penetrated, but in this mine the rate of increase of temperature is only 1 deg. for every 100 to 120 feet, giving the rocks a temperature of only 112 deg. By forcing cooled air down into the mine by means of fans, the temperature is lowered to a little less than 100 deg. Even at that, it is rather snug, and the miners usually wear nothing but shoes, donning trousers when company is expected. Still, the mine has produced a total of about $55,000,000 worth of gold, and is being worked now at a profit of something over $700,000 annually.

STILL HIGHER PRICE LIKELY

Advance in Ore Not Believed to Have Reached Apex.

All Indications for Coming Season Are for Unprecedented Activity.

All authorities agree that the outlook for iron ore production and shipments from the Lake Superior ranges during the coming season is the brightest in the history of the territory.

Expectations now are that more men will be employed and that the output of the Northern Minnesota mines will set new high records during the 1916 shipping season. While the advance of 75 cents a ton in ore prices is regarded as satisfactory, it is predicted that owing to the enormous requirements of pig iron producers, contracts will be made on a still higher basis before the season is very far along.

Reviewing the past season, the Engineering & Mining Journal says:

"The shipments have not yet been divided by ranges, but the port figures indicate that the Mesaba range has this year furnished about 70 per cent of the total ore, probably the highest proportion it has ever reached.

"It is estimated that the furnaces will need from 55,000,000 to 60,000,000 tons of lake ore next season. The mines are able to supply all that is needed, and the only question is whether so large a quantity can be transported. Shipbuilding on the lakes has not been especially active for two years past, and there have been few additions to the fleet. To carry the additional tonnage, vessels will have to be worked to their highest capacity, as well as unloaders on the Lake Erie docks."

for a new trial for the five men, R. L. Batts of counsel for the government, did not indicate when he would resume proceedings against them.

Jury Returns Verdict.

Six of the eleven former directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, charged by the government with criminal violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, were found not guilty yesterday by the jury that for nearly three months has been trying the case. The jury disagreed on the five others.

Those acquitted were: D. Newton Barney, Farmington, Conn.; Robert W. Taft, Providence, R. I.; James S. Hemingway, A. Heaton Robertson and Frederick F. Brewster, New Haven, and Henry K. McHarg, Stamford, Conn.

Those on whom the jury disagreed were: William Rockefeller, New York; Charles F. Brooker, Ansonia, Conn.; Charles M. Pratt, Brooklyn; Lewis Cass Ledyard, New York, and Edward D. Robbins, New Haven.

The verdict was returned after fifty-one hours of deliberation and the jury was discharged. The final vote on the five defendants upon whom the jurors could not agree stood eight to four for acquittal.

Reported Once.

The jurors did not reach their verdict until after they had reported to Judge Hunt earlier in the day that they could not agree. Up to that time—noon—they had been deliberating with a view to bringing in a verdict on the guilt or innocence of the defendants collectively. The court then instructed them to make further efforts to concur, and that, if they could not agree upon all to try and reach a decision on some. The vote on the question of all at that time also stood 8 to 4 for acquittal, it was learned. On returning to the jury room the jurors renewed their discussion with the court's instructions in mind, and unanimously eliminated the six defendants that were acquitted.

"Inspiration."

A Wonderful Thing.

COLD WAVE HITS DULUTH ONCE MORE

Temperatures of 15 to 20 Degs. Below Zero Are Scheduled.

Mr. Richardson predicted yesterday that a cold wave would hit Duluth today, and he made good.

Not only that, but it will get colder, and the lower temperatures will hang on tomorrow and tomorrow night. Whether or not moderation will follow after that is not yet established.

Fifteen to 20 degs. below zero will be the mark reached by tonight and there will be a strong wind all day.

The drop was marked. At 7 o'clock last night, the thermometer registered 28 degs. above zero, and at 7 o'clock this morning it had dropped to 2 degs. above. At 10:30 this morning it had glided down to 2 degs. below. This slipping will continue until the lower temperatures mentioned will be reached.

At 5 o'clock this morning a forty-two-mile gale was blowing and at 7 o'clock the wind was still going at the rate of thirty-two miles an hour. At 10:30 it was still blowing hard, at the rate of twenty-four miles an hour.

ONE MORE EXCHANGE OF VIEWS BETWEEN U. S. AND GERMANY

tended that the best disavowal she could offer was her orders to submarine commanders not to repeat such an incident, and that she could not disavow the action although she regretted the loss of so many Americans. The United States has been contending that the disavowal should be expressed in some way. It is believed that a form of expression has been found which will be satisfactory to both and that one more exchange between Washington and Berlin will settle the case unless something unforeseen comes up.

Next Step of United States.

It was stated authoritatively today that the next step of the United States will be to ask all of the allies of Germany to agree that no vessels carrying Americans be attacked until passengers and crews have been placed in safety.

Exactly what procedure will be followed was not revealed. The administration is said to take the position that as Germany now has agreed in all the principal points of the position of the United States, the only thing remaining to bring the negotiations to a satisfactory end is for her allies to follow her lead.

The impression grows among administration officials that the nationality of the submarine or mine which sank the Persia will never be disclosed.

TURKS ARE IN FULL CONTROL OF GALLIPOLI

ly announced last night. Gen. Sir Charles Monro, according to the official statement, reports that only one British soldier was wounded in the evacuation, that there were no casualties among the French, and that all the guns were saved, except seventeen worn-out ones, which were blown up.

The official communication issued last evening says:

"Gen. Sir Charles Monro reports the complete evacuation of Gallipoli has been successfully carried out.

"The guns and howitzers were gotten away, with the exception of seventeen worn-out guns, which were blown up by us before leaving.

"Our casualties amounted to one member of the British rank and file wounded.

"There were no casualties among the French.

"Gen. Monro states that the accomplishment of this difficult task was due to Gens. Birdwood and Davies, and invaluable assistance rendered in one operation of the highest difficulty by Admiral De Robeck and the royal navy."

With the withdrawal of all the British and French forces from the southern tip of the Gallipoli peninsula, after the evacuation of the Anzac cove and Suvla bay positions on the western coast, in the middle of December, there has come to an end a movement that was begun with expectations of achievements which would have a great bearing on the outcome of the war.

Thousands upon thousands of men lost their lives in the enterprise of effecting landings on the Turkish coast and in the fighting that has been in progress since. In addition, a number of battleships and smaller war craft of the Entente allies have been sunk or damaged as they poured a rain of shell against the Turkish fortifications in an endeavor to aid their own forces on shore.

Constantinople Objective.

The chief military purpose of the Dardanelles campaign, which was begun in February, 1915, with the bombardment of Turkish forts at the entrance to the straits by Entente allied warships, was the capture of Constantinople and the opening of the Bosporus, which connects the Mediterranean with the Black sea, so that Russia would have an avenue for the receipt of arms and ammunition and also for the exportation of Russian grain. For England, success meant the prevention of another Turkish invasion of Egypt, and the permanent safety of the Suez canal and England's communications with India.

Politically, a victory was expected to have a powerful effect upon the then three still neutral Balkan states, Greece, Bulgaria and Roumania, whose political status has for general reasons balanced with that of Turkey of the ever-changing scale of Balkan politics. There was cited the possibility, now realized by Bulgaria's entrance into the war, of preventing the establishment of a Balkan link between the Central powers and Turkey, and also of the possible opening of a land route to India.

Big Blunder.

The sending of the fleet to force the Dardanelles without the co-operation of land forces was generally conceded to have been the big initial blunder of the campaign. The inadequacy of the land forces, when they were sent, was criticized as another. The government's assailants said the campaign should have been delayed until better preparations could be made. Some thought the result would have been different had the attack been launched immediately upon the declaration of war with Turkey.

Apologists for the government pointed to the fact that at least a large Turkish army had been prevented from operating elsewhere particularly in Egypt and the Caucasus.

The campaign was marked by three major operations, one by the fleet alone and two by the land forces, assisted by the fleet. The result was the conquest of the tip of the Gallipoli peninsula for a distance of three miles and a narrow segment of its middle western coast about twelve miles in length and hardly a mile deep.

First Disaster March 4.

The first disaster came March 4, when mines blew up the French battleship Bouvet and the British battleships Irresistible and Ocean, while they were attempting a dash for the narrows, the fortifications of which they had been bombarding for several weeks. Later the British battleship Triumph was sunk and the submarine E-5 went aground and fell a victim to Turkish fire.

The first contingent of British troops under the command of Gen. Sir Ian Hamilton, relatively small in numbers, landed at Seddul Bahr, April 25, but not without heavy losses. On Nov. 2, Premier Asquith told parliament that the Dardanelles campaign had been a failure. Up to Dec. 9, the total British casualties on the peninsula were 114,555 men killed, wounded or missing.

The losses in the evacuation of the Suvla Bay and Anzac Cove regions were declared by the British at the time to have been only three men wounded—making the total casualties in leaving the peninsula four men.

DEPOSITS IN BANKS SHOW AN INCREASE OF TWO BILLIONS

ing power" of the United States—the capital, surplus, circulation deposits, etc—of all reporting banks, national and otherwise with an estimate of the figures for non-reporting banks, amounted in June, 1915, to $25,397,100,000, an increase in a year of about $1,067,100,000. Savings bank depositors increased by 176,256 during the year ending last June with total deposits of $1,997,706,013 an increase of $61,114,183. The average deposit, however, decreased from $444.36 to $442.83 while the number of banks increased from 2,100 to 2,159.

Asks Amendment to Law.

The comptroller's principal recommendation for legislation is for an amendment to the bank law authorizing and directing the department of justice to bring suits against usurers upon information furnished either by the comptroller or through other sources.

Other recommendations given under a heading "To Prevent Bank Failures" propose: To prohibit officers from borrowing from their own banks; to prevent loans to directors except with the approval of the board; to require officers and employes to give surety bonds; to limit direct and indirect loans to one individual, form or corporation; to prevent or limit overdrafts; to require certificates of deposit to be signed by two directors; to prevent erasures on the books of a bank; to limit interest paid on deposits; to authorize the establishment of branches in the United States; to permit branches in Alaska and insular possessions; to authorize minimum interest charges—which ordinarily might be usurious—on small loans and to authorize the comptroller to bring proceedings against directors for losses sustained by a bank through violation of the bank act.

Want More Authority.

The report renews the comptroller's recommendations of last year for other legislation, including the giving of authority to the comptroller to remove directors guilty of persistent violations of the bank act.

"Banks," says Mr. Williams, "nearly always are broken, not by bank robbers, who have come from the outside, not by failure of customers to whom they have lent money, but by the tying up or dissipation of the banks' funds through loans to their own officers and directors, or else by direct defalcations and embezzlements by trusted officers. If these evils are remedied—and they can be remedied if certain simple and much needed amendments can be secured to the national bank act—failures among national banks can be reduced to a negligible number, or be absolutely eliminated."

Mr. Williams shows there were fourteen failures during the twelve months ended October 31. In the last fifty years, he says, there were 208 failures attributable to criminal acts while injudicious or careless banking was responsible for 136 others.

Usurious Interest Rates.

The comptroller devotes much space to presenting his side of his fight with national banks to prevent the charging of usurious interest rates. He gives tables of loans by banks in different sections to back up his charge and says that complaints have come of this practice particularly directed against small banks in South and Southwest, West and Northwest.

"It is time," says the report, "for all banks to realize that the Federal reserve act was framed to benefit not only the banks, but also the customers of the banks; that one of the great objects of the law was to decentralize the money of the country; to effect a more equitable distribution of capital and do away with the old system by which the resources of our banks have been so greatly concentrated in a few cities or sections, there to be loaned out largely on speculative ventures, while in other regions money needed so urgently for the legitimate purposes of industry and of development has been scarce and oftentimes obtainable only, if at all, at rates injurious if not prohibitory."

Majority Honest.

Mr. Williams says that usury unchecked means "depopulation, hopelessness, thriftlessness and resulting loss of producing capacity." He closes with the statement that intimate connection with the affairs of his office has shown that the large majority of anxious to obey the laws, patriotic and anxious to obey the alws, patriotic and intent on building up their communities and the country.

Speaking of the Federal reserve system Mr. Williams says the withdrawal of reserve funds from banks in the large cities and their transfer to reserve banks has not caused the predicted "convulsion from which the whole country would suffer." "The business and commerce of the United States" he points out in this connection, "have not contracted. They have expanded to dimensions never before reached."

The report adds that if the reserve act is amended so that all reserves ultimately to be transferred to reserve banks be withdrawn now instead of at the end of three years as the law now provides, there will be no disturbance or inconvenience to the national banks, which hold the funds to be transferred.

tamia, according to these advices, is in retreat, 10,000 men having been left in Kut-El Amara to cover the movement.

To Reinforce British.

Amsterdam, via London, Jan. 10.—A British force which apparently was on the way to reinforce the British at Kut-el-Amara on the Tigris lost 3,000 men on an attack on the Turkish positions at Sheik Said, according to a semi-official statement received here today from Constantinople. The attack is declared to have been repulsed.

Recent dispatches indicated that the British expedition in Mesopotamia was confronted by Turkish forces of superior size and that it would have difficulty in maintaining itself at Kut-El-Amara. The defenses of the city, in fact, were attacked by the Turks some time ago, resulting in severe fighting, but the British were able to repulse the assaults.

The retreat from Kut-El-Amara (assuming the correctness of the unofficial advices from Berlin), apparently means the abandonment by the British of any attempt, for the present at least, of an offensive campaign in Mesopotamia.

CONTRADICT WILD RUMORS OF KAISER

Latest Reports Minimize Stories of Serious Illness of German Ruler.

Rome, Jan. 10.—The latest reports received here regarding the illness of the German emperor minimize the seriousness of his condition and contradict wild rumors circulated not long ago. These reports received from Germany through Switzerland say that the emperor is affected by a malignant growth in the throat which required a small operation. Although the operation was slight, it is said, the greatest care was indispensable, owing to the delicate nature of the organs affected.

A high church official who undertook to secure this report was assured that the doctors believed that if complications do not arise, a contingency they think unlikely, the emperor will be able to resume work this month or early in February.

NOTED SCULPTOR DIES FROM GAS POISONING

Rembrandt Buggati Found Unconscious in Room, Expiring Soon After.

Paris, Jan. 10.—The Italian animal sculptor Rembrandt Bugatti was found lying unconscious yesterday in his studio in Rue Joseph Bara. A physician who was summoned said the sculptor was suffering from gas poisoning. A gas jet in the studio was turned on. Bugatti was taken to Laenneck hospital where he died.

The work of Signor Bugatti, who was regarded as one of the foremost living sculptors, is represented in most of the galleries of Europe. When the war opened he was modeling animals at the zoological gardens in Antwerp. He gave up his work and devoted himself to the Belgian ambulance corps. When Antwerp was evacuated he went to Holland, thence to Italy, but as his class was not mobilized he came to Paris.

Of late months the war seemed to have affected the sculptor profoundly. He was greatly depressed by the suffering of the Belgians for whom he had great admiration. He frequently pointed to the ribbon of the Legion of Honor in his buttonhole and said:

"I ought to give it to some mutilated Belgian soldier."

Signor Bugatti gave up some time ago his work in the specialty in which he won his fame, saying: "This is not the time to make animals."

W. J. M'CABE SPEAKER AT BOYS' MEETING

An interesting meeting of the Sunday club was held yesterday in the boys' department clubroom. W. J. McCabe was the speaker and a musical program was given. Miss Myrtle Hobbs sang several of Mr. Custance's new songs, Sheldon Johnson played a piano number and William Mooney of Superior gave a cornet solo. An orchestra of five pieces furnished music for the boys' hymns.

Mr. McCabe spoke of Luke and his contribution to the spreading of Christianity. "Luke did not know Christ," said Mr. McCabe, "but was converted years after His death by another man who had never seen Christ. It speaks wonders for the power of the disciples that they were able to enlist the men of their day big enough for the task. Luke's job was a big one, but he was equal to the opportunity, and on the shoulders of the young men of today rests the responsibility of witnessing for Christ with a clean manhood and a worth while life."

The Galahad club turned out more than fifty strong to hear Mr. McLeod speak on "Grammar, Geography and 'Rithmetic' of the New Testament."

PARAGRAPHIC COMMENT OF THE SPORTING WORLD

BY BRUCE.

THE new Police Gazette record sporting book is out. Mlle. Dazie still is shown standing on one toe on a bottle of champagne. It has for years been a craving curiosity with us to know what records Mlle. holds.

P. S. Her record is not given in the book.

'Twill be your turn to go down.

Harvard may lose Percy Haughton. While Yale students are not saying anything, it is generally believed that their attitude is well known.

Wisconsin students are ready to fight to retain basket ball. This merely goes to show that it does not require much to make a college student fight.

It is said that President Van Hise of Wisconsin read a book entitled "The Natural Resources of Our Country" during a Wisconsin football game. If the prexy had read this book while the Northwestern team was playing we would not be so puzzled.

One of the things you can say about The Herald rink, is that it is thoroughly consistent.

Jim Stewart threatens to leave The Herald rink flat on its back.

The members of The Herald Curling rink wear tam 'o shanters because it is the custom at the club, not because they are regular curlers.

They refused to permit us to play with the rink this year and this is the only way we have to get back at it. We hope Sam Cleveland plays The Herald rink again.

BRAVE'S SALE LATEST BASEBALL SENSATION

Gaffney and Davis Make Handsome Profit on Investment of Three Years Ago; Haughton's Coaching Future Unannounced.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 10.—Associated with Percy D. Haughton, the famous Harvard football coach, who Saturday became president and part owner of the Boston National league baseball club, is Arthur C. Wise, member of a local banking firm. The new president announced that he would retain the services of George T. Stallings, as manager of the club, and that Stallings would have absolute charge of the playing end of the organization. Walter E. Hapgood will continue as business manager. The announcement of the sale of the club, which two years ago won the world's championship after a sensational season, was a surprise to sporting circles. The Braves had not been on the market and until within a few days President James E. Gaffney and Robert F. Davis of New York, the owners, had fully expected to retain control during the coming season, according to a statement issued by Mr. Gaffney.

Unofficially the price is said to be close to a half million dollars. The club was purchased three years ago by Mr. Gaffney for $187,000. The new Braves field, at which the last world's series was played, was not included in the sale. A lease, the same length as that held by Gaffney, was given the new owners. It will be for thirty-three years.

Couldn't Refuse Price.

"The Braves have not been in the market and I had no intention of selling a club with which I fully expected to win the National league pennant again in 1916, until a few days ago when the initial overtures were made," Mr. Gaffney said. "But when I discovered that I could secure a price upon the stock that would net me a substantial profit, I could not, as a business man, turn down the proposition. Although I no longer have a financial interest in the Braves they will always be the ball club that will be nearest my heart—the team I shall always root for."

While Mr. Haughton's statement made no direct reference to his probable action with regard to severing his relations with Harvard university as coach, it announced that he would "devote his time to the club and its interests in the future."

Mr. Haughton gave out a copy of a telegram which he sent to Manager Stallings at Haddock, Ga., after Mr. Gaffney had wired the news of the sale of the club. The telegram said:

"Hope you will not be much disappointed in transfer of club. Feel confident that with your co-operation we can make success."

Interfered With Business.

New York, Jan. 10.—The sale of the Boston National league club by Messrs. Gaffney and Davis to a group of Boston bankers came as a great surprise to local baseball magnates and followers of the game. In the present disturbed condition of the National game, the sale or prospective sale of several National and American league clubs has been reported and discussed from many angles, but the Boston National club was never mentioned in this connection.

It is said here, however, that the decision of Gaffney and Davis to retire from baseball was not due to any loss of interest in baseball, but rather to the fact that the time and money necessary for a successful operation of the club seriously interfered with their other business interests.

Percy D. Haughton is more noted as a football player and coach than a baseball man, although he played on the varsity nine while an under-graduate at Harvard in the late nineties and captained the Crimson team of 1899.

Haughton Success as Coach.

Of late years Haughton has divided his attention between the coaching of Harvard football teams and the Boston Stock exchange. His success, year in and year out, with the Crimson elevens, has made him one of the most famous of American football coaches. Since he took charge in 1908 the Cambridge elevens under his tuition have played seventy-three games in eight years of which sixty-four have been won, four lost and five tied. During this period Harvard has scored 1,242 points against its opponents' 172.

It was Haughton who took charge of the Harvard football destiny and building along the lines laid out by Coach Bill Reid, lifted the Crimson team from the slough of despond and gave the Cambridge elevens a succession of victories over Yale, its greatest gridiron rival. Since 1908 Harvard has won five of its eight annual games against the Elis, two were scoreless ties and one was a defeat. Within the past two or three years Harvard, with an established system, has been able to run up large scores against the Blue. Beginning in 1912 with a 20 to 0 victory, a game followed a year later with another by a score of 15 to 5, won 36 to 0 in 1914 and scored 41 points to 0 against Yale last season.

In addition to these victories over Yale, Harvard under Haughton's coaching has won a majority of the games against Princeton, defeated Michigan as well as several of the stronger Southern college elevens and the leading teams of the East.

CHANGE MADE IN HOCKEY SCHEDULE

This Week's Games Will Be Played on Thursday Evening.

The games of the Duluth Amateur Hockey league will be played Thursday evening of the present week, instead of on Friday. The schedule change is made necessary because of the fact that the bonspiel preparations will take up the skating space, starting with Friday.

There will be practice on Tuesday and Wednesday instead of Tuesday and Thursday.

Al Swanstrom has put a lot of fight in his Bagley team. Several new players will be secured for the jewelry aggregation, and with several changes the team will be strictly in the race.

RED SOX TO HAVE BRIEF SPRING TRIP

Scheduled for Hot Springs Two to Three Weeks.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 10.—The World's Champion Boston Americans will have less training for the coming American league season than ever before according to the spring schedule announced by Manager Carrigan. Hot Springs, Ark., will be the site of the Red Sox camp, as in other years. The battery candidates will go there March 10, a week later than usual, and other players will be ordered to report March 17. The squad will leave Hot Springs April 1, the date for the first three games to be played with the Memphis team in that city; then go directly to Brooklyn where three games will be played April 6, 7, and 8.

FAMOUS PITCHER IS BACK WITH OLD TEAM

MORDECAI BROWN.

Kipling once wrote a story of "The Man Who Was." Several years ago they might have referred to "Three-Fingered" Brown as the personage of baseball who was. But last year the wizard of the mound, at the age of 40 years, came back and showed the Federal batters a trace of high life. His work was so good as to inspire Cub fans with the belief that the man who won fourteen straight victories over Christy Mathewson is going to be a decided factor in the success of the 1916 Cubs. Brown is the man Murphy tried to ride out of major league baseball, and here he is coming back to his old team, while Chubby Charles is in the discard.

INTERNATIONAL QUITS PEACE PARLEY

President Barrow Says Federals Don't Attempt to Get Together.

New York, Jan. 10.—Edward Barrow, president of the International league, announced last night that he had resigned from the baseball peace committee which consisted of the three members of the National commission, President Gilmore and two members of the Federal league, and Mr. Barrow. This committee was to hold a meeting in New York on Jan. 19 to settle the affairs of the International league.

"I have resigned from this committee, as there does not seem to be any attempt made by the Federal league to get together," said Mr. Barrow. "We shall go on with our plans for next season without further considering them."

MARTIN TO MEET FRANK BRYANT

Rival Speed Demons Will Race on the Little Wheels.

Fred Martin, manager of the Auditorium rink and one of the fastest roller skaters in the Northwest, may engage in a series of races with Frank Bryant of Duluth, another speed demon of proven ability.

Martin has already started to prepare himself for the contests. Bryant started training early last fall and is, at the present time, in fine condition.

Martin and Bryant met some time ago in Milwaukee and the skate followers down in the Foam city are still talking about the contest.

It is planned to have the winner of the coming race meet Rolland Cloni or Harley Davidson in the local rink.

NO NEWS FROM CHARLES MOLL

Little Is Known Regarding the Northern League Baseball Situation.

No word has been heard from Charles Moll concerning the Northern league baseball situation in the Copper country. Also, no word has been heard from President John Burmeister regarding the status of Superior.

"Unless they succeed in getting the situation lined up in some definite manner before the date of the league meeting that is set for Minneapolis, I can see little use in calling the meeting," said Harry A. Blume today.

"We might as well know before we start that there is some material to work on. I have expected every day to hear from Moll or Burmeister regarding the situation, but have received no information."

It is not known at the present time whether Superior is coming back to the Northern fold. There has been some desultory talk to this effect, but the chatter has not been backed up with anything more substantial than rumors.

As the Northern league meeting is set for one week from Thursday some action is expected to be crowded into the next ten days.

HARVARD COACHING.

Brown Signs as Advisory Man; Head Coach Unsettled.

Cambridge, Mass., Jan. 10.—The signing of a contract for another year's service by Reginald W. P. Brown, advisory coach, Harvard football team, was announced today. For more than twenty years Brown has been associated with football at Harvard.

It is understood that definite selection of a head coach will not be made for several weeks.

BIG BOWLING TOURNEY IS PLANNED FOR DULUTH

Northern Bowling Association Holds Meeting, Elects Officers and Makes Plans for Greatest Pin Meet of Its History—Many Bowlers Expected Here.

Fred Stiegler was elected president of the Northern Bowling league at a meeting held yesterday afternoon, J. B. Arnold was chosen as vice president, C. R. Berini as treasurer, P. J. Schultz as assistant treasurer, and Fred C. Teske secretary.

S. B. Arnold, Fred C. Teske, A. J. Otterson, John Schneider and H. Mitchell were appointed members of the committee on printing and general arrangements.

Joe Deller, Charles Foster, George Murphy, Sam Olsen and P. J. Schultz were appointed as members of the schedule committee.

C. R. Berini, F. E. Kemp, John Stauss, R. Wade and W. A. Campbell were placed on the prize committee.

O. W. Whitney, F. Neumann, A. J. Otterson, J. S. Root, D. McFarlane and W. Lackie, were made members of the entertainment committee.

Big Tourney Looked For.

The tournament will start Saturday, March 11, and come to an end Sunday, March 19. The approaching tourney will be the fifth annual one of the Northern Bowling association, and from present indications will prove the biggest ever held in this section of the country.

Last year there were fifty-one five-men teams entered. This season it is anticipated that there will be at least seventy-five entered. There were 122 two-men teams that took part in last year's tournament; this year it is expected that 170 will participate.

There were 293 men entered in the singles last year; this season it is believed that the single entries will reach the 400 mark.

Last year $1,830 was paid out in prize money; this year the members of the prize committee expect to dole out over $1,600 in trophy money.

The growth of the tournament that began life as the Head of the Lakes Bowling tournament, has been little less than phenomenal. So rapid has its growth been that its name was changed to the Northern Bowling association, as the territory is that of all the northern section of Minnesota and Wisconsin, and this year may embrace the Dakotas.

It is believed that several years from now Duluth will be able to land the International Bowling tourney, so successfully has the Northern tournament been handled and so great has been the enthusiasm shown.

In preparation for the tournament the Grand alleys will be placed in first class shape.

NEUTRALITY KEPT IN NIGHT SCHOOLS

Many Nationalities Are Represented in the Evening Classes.

"Don't rock the boat," is the motto of teachers at Duluth night schools who are engaged in the task of Americanizing 350 newly-arrived Russians, Finns, Austrians and Germans.

Strict neutrality is imperative, according to George M. Paulus, principal in charge of night work at the Central high school, because each of the students has different ideas on the world war, and on the position of the United States.

"Many of them want the war to stop and protest against the United States sending munitions to the allies," said Principal Paulus. "Of course some of them are too busy learning to speak English to think of much else, but on the other hand, many of them tell me their own ideas on the struggle, pieced out by their own observations.

"One Russian came to me this week," he added, "and produced a letter stating that his three brothers had been killed, while another letter received by a Russian told of 265 residents of her native city having been killed."

War discussions are strictly taboo in class, however, and the teachers carefully limit themselves to the "A B C's" of the English language, grammar and arithmetic.

Acquit Rural Carrier.

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 10.—Albert Rockstad, 23 years old, a former rural mail carrier out of Walcott, N. D., was acquitted of the charge of embezzling a letter from the United States mails. The jury was out forty minutes. The government alleged Rockstad misappropriated a letter containing $7 addressed to Willie R. Roth of Barney, N. D.

SUMMER HOTEL FOR PARK POINT AND HOME FOR AGED SUGGESTED IN ESSAY CONTEST

Free Hospital and Better Streets in West End, and Free Skates for Poor Children Among the Other Ideas Advanced.

A magnificent summer hotel on Park Point, a home for poor mothers and widows, a free hospital, better streets in the West end, free magic lantern pictures in public schools, free roller skates and ice skates in public parks, an extension of the street car lines on Park Point and a home for old and feeble people, are among today's suggestions by the latest entrants in The Herald contest.

A youngster only 12 years old has the poor and old and feeble people at heart, according to his letter, which follows:

"If I had the money and power, I would use it to make better streets in the West end, so that the laboring men using horses would have a better opportunity to work, without having their horses injured. I would also provide for the old and feeble and I would build a free hospital for the poor.

"LLOYD HOLBROOK.
12 years.
"2703 Helm Street,
"Duluth, Minn."

The following contestant for a Herald prize would build a summer hotel on Park Point and make the city clean and spotless.

"First, I would have a clean and spotless city and no spitting on sidewalks.

"Second, I would build a summer resort on Minnesota Point and it would be a fine place.

"Third, I would extend the street cars far out to the acre tracts on the point, so that it would not cost much to live and people would get fresh air like the Exeter farmers.

"MRS. H. EDWARDS,
129 Devonshire Street."

Help for the widows and poor mothers, young school children and playground equipment for the poor youngsters are offered by the following entrant in the contest:

"If I had it my power I would do three things for Duluth:

"First, I would have a home built where mothers and widows, who have several small children to support, could leave their children, who would be well taken care of, or better still, where she could board herself and her children. She would be charged only a small sum of money and when sick would be taken care of at the home, free of charge. While at work the children would be well taken care of by attendants.

"Second, I would have a magic lantern placed in the public schools of Duluth, where children would be admitted free of charge and be shown such scenes as the Yellowstone National park, the big cities of the United States and of the Old World, of which they read in their books. This would not only help them in their lessons, but would prove very interesting and would keep them from the moving pictures intended for older people. The scenes would be such as to help them in geography, history, etc., also motion pictures, such as Cinderella, Beauty and the Beast, etc.

"Third, I would have playgrounds at certain points of the city where children could play and not be in danger of being run over by street cars or automobiles. I would also see that all the poor children of the city would be provided with roller and ice skates, free of charge, while at the playgrounds, so they could enjoy themselves as well as the children of the well-to-do.

"MRS. N. B."

ILLINI ALUMNI OUTLINE YEAR'S WORK

Supper and Dance Will Be Given for Members on Feb. 5.

Plans for 1916 were discussed by twenty members of the Lake Superior Illinois Alumni club at the regular monthly dinner at the Commercial club Saturday evening.

On Feb. 5 the club will give a supper and dance at the Ye English inn, following a sleighride party for the members. There will be twenty couples in the party.

L. R. Frazee was directed to prepare the "stunt" to be staged by the local alumni at the annual Illinois college day festivities on the campus at Champaign next fall. A delegation of Duluth graduates of the institution will attend the reunion.

Tentative plans for the annual college day festivities at the boat club next August were discussed at the meeting Saturday, but no action will be taken until next spring.

ADD CAPACITY FOR STORAGE

Coal Dock Improvements Under Way or About to Begin.

Reiss, Hanna and Island Creek Handling Equipment to Be Augmented.

Coal dock companies at Duluth and Superior are preparing for a record-breaking season in 1916, judging from reports during the last few days.

Improvements or enlargements will be made at several of the docks, so that they will be better equipped to handle the tonnage which, it is expected, will be shipped from lower lake ports for distribution in the Northwest.

Contracts involving an expenditure of about $100,000 will be let by officers of the C. Reiss Coal company soon, for improvements to the St. Louis river dock operated by the company.

"The dock will be lengthened about 400 feet," said H. Beck, superintendent of the dock, "and a Heyl & Patterson unloading rig which handles a 7½-ton bucket will be installed. This will make the over all length of the dock 1,800 feet and will increase the rated storage capacity from 300,000 to 400,000 tons."

Work on Docks.

A. E. Botsford, superintendent of the M. A. Hanna company's Duluth dock, recently announced that contractors had started work on improvements to cost about $50,000. The pier will be re-surfaced with concrete, and the wooden handling rigs replaced by steel.

A. W. Fluegal of Superior, superintendent of the Island Creek Coal company's Duluth and Superior property, has confirmed rumors that improvements were to be made at the West Duluth dock. Eastern officials of the company were in Duluth last Thursday and examined the pier, preparatory to allowing a contract for extending it, and increasing its equipment.

The Reiss dock improvements were expected, as the Pittsburgh & Ashland Coal company recently leased the Superior dock which the Reiss company has used. The dock, an old one, is the property of the Northern Pacific railway and has been operated under leases for a number of years. The Pittsburgh & Ashland people will take it over beginning May 1.

LORD BURNHAM IS DEAD IN ENGLAND

Last of the Old School of British Newspaper Owners.

London, Jan. 10.—Lord Burnham died yesterday after an illness of more than a month.

Lord Burnham, the proprietor of the Daily Telegraph, was the last of the old school of London newspaper owners. Through his working years, from young manhood to an older age than most men remain in harness, he controlled the business affairs and the editorial policies of that paper. He made it one of the greatest properties among newspapers, as well as a great paper from the news standpoint. Born Edward Levy, on Dec. 28, 1833, oldest of a family of eight children of J. M. Levy, he assumed, in 1875, the surname of his uncle Lionel Lawson, and was Edward Levy-Lawson. On Oct. 13, 1892, he was created a baronet, and on July 31, 1903, he was raised to the peerage as Baron Burnham. His title was taken from the Hundred of Burnham, Bucks, which contains most of the Hall Barn estate which was his country seat.

On the occasion of his 80th birthday, in 1913, the journalists of Great Britain paid a remarkable tribute of their respect. A large delegation headed by Lord Northcliffe visited Lord Burnham's country house and presented an address to the doyen of newspaper proprietors, which was signed by all the leading British newspaper men. Messages of congratulations were sent by the king and queen, by many public men and organizations, and telegrams of congratulations came from all parts of the world.

John Sebatin Caught By Cave-in of Fifteen Tons of Ore.

Was Clearing Room Preparatory to Blast When Fall Results.

Virginia, Minn., Jan. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Sebatin, aged 28, an Italian miner, married, was crushed to death by a cave-in in the Alepna mine about 5 p. m. Saturday. He came to this country only about one year ago from Italy.

Sebatin, Otto Tynilla and Mort Linaly were clearing out a room in the underground workings of the Alpena preparatory to setting off a blast when a mass of earth and ore fell, the supporting cap having given away. The other two men managed to get away but Sebatin could not. Tynilla was cut and bruised.

Besides his wife Sebatin is survived by one child.

FAMOUS HUNTER OF TWO HARBORS PASSES

Charles Warner, Jeweler and Old Citizen, Pneumonia Victim.

Two Harbors, Minn., Jan. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charles F. Warner, aged 64 years, one of Two Harbors old residents, died at his home on Second avenue at 9:30 o'clock Saturday evening following an illness of two weeks with pneumonia.

The end was not unexpected as he has been lingering between life and death for four or five days. Mr. Warner became ill about two weeks ago with the grip and was forced to leave his business. He later developed pneumonia and became constantly worse each day.

Mr. Warner was one of the old and most respected citizens of the city. He has resided here for the past twenty years, during which time he has conducted a jewelry store. He always took a keen interest in the community welfare and for two years, from March 1909 to March 1911, served the city in the capacity of alderman. He was a popular sportsman and probably during his residence here killed more moose than any other resident. Many of his finest moose heads adorn the walls of various places in this section of the state. Mr. Warner was born in Wisconsin and for many years was a resident of that state.

Besides a wife he leaves two daughters, Mrs. Cutliff of Duluth, and another daughter residing in New Jersey. Both are expected here for the funeral.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed pending word from relatives.

Hibbing, Minn., Jan. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hibbing started a procession for the high school championship Saturday evening when it defeated Nashwauk by a score of 58 to 8.

The count might have been doubled if the high school five had been forced to exert themselves.

URGES RAISING OF ENGINEERS' STANDARD

Engineering Dean of State U Speaks to the Engineers.

Virginia, Minn., Jan. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The 132 guests who attended the second annual banquet of the Engineers' Club of Northern Minnesota at the New Fay hotel Saturday night were urged to co-operate and raise the standard of the engineering profession by Dean C. Francis Shenehon of the engineering department of the state university, the principal speaker of the evening.

A. B. Holley, first president of the club, praised President Downing, Secretary D. F. Charlton and other officials and told of the organization of the club two years ago.

President Frank Downing of Chisholm gave Mr. Holley, Mr. Charlton and A. E. Anderson, the founders of the club, great credit for their work, and urged the engineers to attend all the meetings of the organization and praised Mr. Anderson for his paper on the city manager form of government given at one of the meetings of the club.

Letters of regret were read from John Uno Sebenius of Duluth, J. M. Waltean and Stacy Hill, engineers who were unable to attend and who were to have delivered addresses at the banquet.

W. H. Hoyt of the Missabe road's engineering staff, made a short reference to Y. M. C. A. matters and declared his belief that Virginia would have a Y. M. C. A. in the near future.

"My first visit to the Vermilion range was in 1889, when I did some survey work for the Iron Range road," he said. "Engineers were at a premium then and there were plenty jobs for engineers. The pay was good, but the 'grub' was bad. In 1892, I laid out the lines for the Iron Range road from Allan Junction to Biwabik. In 1893, Virginia's main street was nothing more than a trail and I remember visiting it after the first fire. In 1894, I laid out a line for the Iron Range road from Virginia to Winton."

Senator O. H. Griggs urged the engineers to show more interest in civic matters and attend meetings of the Commercial club and other public organizations. "Get the community spirit," he said. "You may have it, but you don't show it.

Duluthian Talks.

Magnetic separation of ores was discussed by D. Woodbridge of Duluth, who declared it was difficult to interest capital in the magnetic separation of low grades, but that he has backers and expects to tell an interesting story to the mining world next spring.

Paul Chamberlain, president of the Mohami club, entertained with English, French and Negro stories. D. F. Charlton told a humorous English story. Guy Springer of Eveleth sang Yiddish songs and told a Swedish story.

A. F. Benson was toastmaster. During the evening, music was furnished by Dahl & Anhalt's orchestra of Virginia.

Thirty engineers from Hibbing attended the banquet, while Eveleth, Gilbert and other eastern Mesaba range points were well represented.

PLAN CLUB HOUSE AT LAKE POKEGAMA

Business Men of Grand Rapids Are Boosting Enterprise.

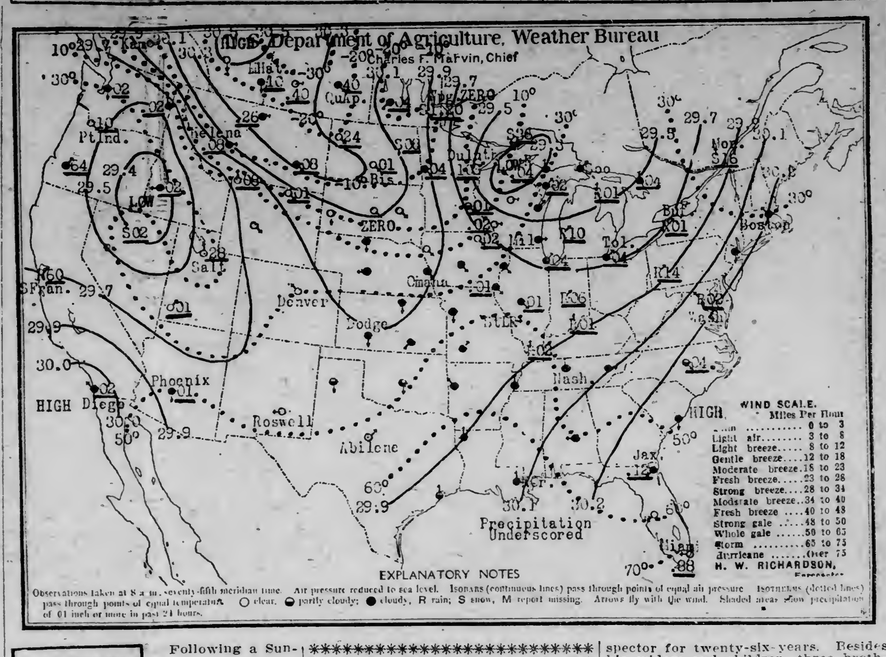

Grand Rapids, Minn., Jan. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—A boat club building will be built at Pokegama lake this year if the plans now underway materialize.

The move was started by business people of Grand Rapids, and they were not long in enlisting others who are becoming enthusiastic. M. McAlpine was asked to quote a price on some of his property at the lake, which is admittedly some of the best property on the lake for such apurpose. Mr. McAlpine has long had a summer hotel there, but lack of proper outside accommodations such as boats, amusements devices, etc., failed to bring the patronage the location and the lake deserve.

Mr. McAlpine saw the advantage of having this club adjoining his hotel property, and he made a reasonable price for six acres of his best lake shore, which the boat club will accept. The promoters went before the commercial club with the proposition, where it was enthusiastically indorsed, and a committee consisting of George F. Kremer, L. A. Rossman, L. A. Whittemore, Frank E. King and A. W. Sitz was appointed to solicit membership.

The project is one that means much to Grand Rapids and the lake and summer resort business of this section. It is planned to erect a clubhouse, bath houses, garages, etc., and have competent people in charge who will give accommodations which will compel recognition.

The destruction of the machines was a strange coincidence. Dr. Barrett's took fire and the other car, occupied by the owner and some other Eveleth Italians, happened along. YES—IT IS POSSIBLE TO STOP RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is a tormenting and stubborn malady. In some cases it yields to treatment which is without avail in other cases.

The darting pains, lame muscles or stiffened joints only disappear by gradually expelling the uric acid, and so many thousands have been relieved by the blood-enriching oil-food in Scott's Emulsion that you should give it a faithful trial. Scott's Emulsion acts as a powerful blood-purifier by increasing the red corpuscles and it strengthens the organs to carry off the acids which cause the trouble.

Try Scott's Emulsion.—It cannot harm. It has helped thousands and may be exactly what you need.—No Alcohol.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

RIGHTS ARE NOW DEFINED

What Owners of Grain Storage Tickets in North Dakota Can Expect.

How to Settle When Elevator Burns, Is Sold or Is Insolvent.

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)— Important rulings affecting the grain trade in North Dakota have been promulgated by the state railroad commission. One of the most vital relates to the rights of storage ticket holders who have grain in elevators that are burned, sold, or become insolvent.

In some instances, owners of grain storage tickets have refused to turn them in, but have insisted on holding for higher prices. The railroad commission rules that such storage tickets must be redeemed at the price of grain on the date that a company becomes insolvent, or retires from business, holding that a company out of business cannot continue to handle such interests.

The commission also holds, in response to frequent demands that are made for the examination of the accounts and records of elevators, that such records are private and not open to the public.

Parties holding mortgages on grain warehouses and grain therein have sometimes attempted, through assignment by mortgagor, to collect the insurance on stored grain, but it is held that such insurance as may be carried must be held in trust for the owners of the grain.

No storage charge on grain is permitted during the first twenty days grain is in an elevator. If the grain is redelivered to the holder of a storage ticket, charges may be made.

To Settle Storage Charges.

The commission announces that it shortly will hold a conference to settle definite rules for storage charges.

Grain elevator companies are prohibited from issuing tickets except for grain delivered, and the commission calls attention to an illegal practice—that of banks advancing money on tickets wherein the grain has not been delivered.

No modification of grade or liability from that fixed at the time of selling, or storage, is permitted to be made by notation on storage tickets.

Special storage tickets for grain stored in special bin, and tickets in different color from the ordinary ticket are permitted.

The railroad commission says it will co-operate with farmers in realizing on their storage tickets when elevators become bankrupt, such claims then being made against the bonding company.

During the great rush of grain in the fall, elevators frequently ship out stored grain to an amount exceeding the bond of the elevator. The railroad commission holds that elevators may ship out grain only to the amount covered by their bond, $5,000, and no more, and that when grain on hand is greater than the bond, additional bonds shall be provided.

MUD LAKE BOTTOM LAND OPEN SOON

Third Time Government Announces It Will Receive Entries.

Warren, Minn., Jan. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Eight thousand acres of Minnesota land, a part of the Red Lake Indian reservation, known as Mud Lake bottom, will be thrown open to entry and settlement early next spring, according to an announcement by local agents today, based on information received from the general land office in Washington.

Twice before the interior department has made arrangements to open this land, which is located in the eastern part of Marshall county, but certain complications arose and delays ensued.

Fishing Place Before Drained.

Mud Lake bottom was not an agricultural section, but a body of water known in Minnesota as good fishing and hunting territory until drainage operations carried off the water. Lands along the banks had been patented to various "riparian owners."

After the drainage, squatters appeared on the choice portions and as a result disputes arose between the riparian owners and the intruders as to legal title. Lttigation along this line is expected after the spring opening.

The money obtained by the government from the opening will go to the Indian fund, it was stated.

DRINK HOT WATER IF YOU DESIRE A ROSY COMPLEXION

Says we can't help but look better and feel better after an inside bath.

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the vecy ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Men and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphated hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.—Advertisement.

his original statement. He was advised that the committee would need evidence before it could proceed further. The names of witnesses and other data are desired by the committee, he was informed.

Mr. Buchanan said he would require more time to prepare his case and the hearing was postponed indefinitely. He said he would appear again within a few days.

LAW ON MISBRANDING DRUGS IS HELD VALID

Washington, Jan. 10.—The Sherley amendment of 1910 to the Federal pure food law, declaring drugs to be misbranded if the package or label bears or contains false and fraudulent statements regarding the curative or therapeutic effect thereof, was upheld as constitutional today by the supreme court.

The amendment aimed at the sale of falsely labeled nostrums and was enacted by congress after the supreme court held the original pure food law did not cover false labeling or description of worthless drugs.

The medicine manufacturers who asked the supreme court to declare the amendment unconstitutional contended that the prohibition against misbranding applied only to the label and not to printed matter inside the package.

PRESIDENT MAY SPEAK ON NATIONAL DEFENSE

Washington, Jan. 10.—President Wilson possibly may put the question of national defense before the country in a series of speeches as one means of getting the necessary legislation through congress.

The president today received several invitations to speak at banquets or meetings here, in Baltimore and New York within the month and other invitations are known to be coming. Officials intimated today that the president might take advantage of the invitation to lay the administration plan for national defense directly before the people.

A California judge has ordered that if H. H. Krause stays at home his wife shall feed him, and if he chooses not to stay at home she shall pay him $40 a month alimony.

POLISH FUND TAKES JUMP

Check for $50 and Several Smaller Sums Received By Herald.

Relief Committee Also Receives Contribution for the Cause.

The Herald Polish Relief fund for war sufferers took another big jump during the week-end and the total amount now turned over to The Herald is $213. Some money has also been turned in to A. Grabarkiewicz, chairman of the Polish Relief committee, and the News Tribune.

A check for $50 was received from E. F. Sellwood Saturday afternoon, which is the biggest contribution yet received excepting the check for $100.

The relief committee is eager to secure a large fund, as reports say that the sufferings in Poland are beyond description, and that only an immense amount of money for food and supplies can save thousands of innocent war victims from death by starvation and exposure.

Mr. Grabarkiewicz received $5 Saturday afternoon, and this added to the $9 already received by him, brings his fund to $14. Of this amount the $9 was figured in with the sum taken in by The Herald, but as Mr. Grabarkiewicz is to handle the money turned in to the committee, The Herald will keep the two accounts separate. The $165 acknowledged by The Herald included this $9, and so the amount taken in by The Herald before that time was $156. The fund now stands as follows:

Received by The Herald:
Formerly acknowledged	$156
E. F. Sellwood	50
L. E.	1
Fanny Beek	1
Cash	5
Total	$213
Received by relief committee:
Previously acknowledged	$ 9
Dr. Harry Brown	5
Total	$14
Grand total	$227

The News Tribune has also received several donations.

MUST HAVE TROOPS OR MEET DISASTER

Maj. Gen. Scott Says Army of 1,000,000 to 2,000,000 Men Needed.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Maj.-Gen. Scott, chief of staff of the army, told the house military committee at the army bill hearing today, that in the event of war, the country must have an army of 1,000,000 to 2,000,000 men or accept disaster.

He reiterated Secretary Garrison's view that if the continental army plan failed, there was no escape from compulsory service. Every country at war in Europe realized that, he said, and he expressed the view that England might have better realized it sooner.

He said that, under a service system which laid the burden alike upon all men between 18 and 21 as a public duty, an adequate army could be maintained for what is now paid for the small standing army. He thought the pay under such a system should be merely nominal. Of the efficiency of the regulars now he said:

"Our organizations, as far as they go compare favorably with the troops of any foreign power."

School training was desirable but not practical because of lack of control by the Federal government, the general thought. He believed it would not be necessary to provide additional military academies to train officers needed for the proposed mobile army of 500,000 men. The plan of the administration as a measure of self-defense, he said, was not proposed in the anticipation of a war. He believed organization of the continental army would not interfere with recruiting for the national guard because the two forces would appeal to different classes of men. He added that the training in the continentals would produce better soldiers than in the national guard system.

STAR WITNESS ON THE STAND

Etchison Begins His Story of the Death of Mary Fridley Price.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charles D. Etchison of Washington, D. C., upon whose statement that he was paid to aid in the alleged murder of Mary Fridley Price, the state built its case against Frederick T. Price, on trial for wife murder, was placed on the witness stand in district court this afternoon as the state's chief witness, to repeat his story of the alleged crime. At the time of his arrest in connection with the woman's death, he swore Price pushed his wife from a cliff and then crushed her skull with a rock, hoping to inherit her fortune.

Great crowds banked the corridors about the courtroom, unable to gain admittance. Fashionably dressed women elbowed their way through the throng, which court attendants had difficulty in handling.

The prosecution had planned to place its star witness on the stand tomorrow to furnish the final link in a chain of incriminating testimony already adduced. Absence of one witness caused the sudden change. It was expected that Etchison would not complete his story before tomorrow morning.

Dougherty and Sam Hayward, indicted by the late grand jury, the first two on statutory charges and the last named for conducting a house of evil repute, all central figures in the most morbid sensation sprung here in years, pleaded guilty in district court to the indictments. Davlin was fined $200, Dougherty $250 and Hayward $750 and costs. A crowded courtroom watched the proceedings.

Nethaway as judge of the Nineteenth judicial district some time this week. He will likely promote one of the clerks in the department. There is still another vacancy caused by the death of the late A. J. Edgerton, but it will not be filled for some time.

WHY A WOMAN CAN OUT TALK A MAN.

"A woman can talk longer than a man, and does so because she uses less force by a large percentage than a man does," says the Popular Science Monthly. "A German professor has proved by actual and very delicate measurements that the baritone singer uses far more energy than either. The range of voice differs greatly, so the percentage varies to the same extent, but as a general result it was proved that a tenor uses only from one-seventh to one-sixteenth of the lung power of the baritone or bass. The difference in the force used by the contralto and soprano is very marked, and the contralto who sings in very deep tones uses at least ten times the force of the trilling soprano.

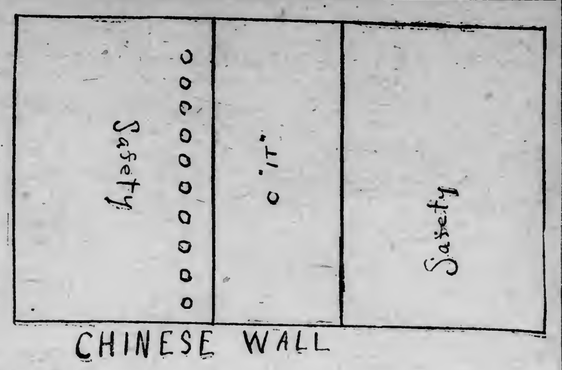

"The explanation is so simple that it is surprising that it was not thought of long ago. It has long been known that the tenor or soprano brings the vocal chords together and keeps the edges vibrating only by the emission of air. The bass or contralto leaves the space between the chords wider open, and has to vibrate much more of the membranes to a considerably larger amount of air required."

SOME WINTER SPORTS

Written for The Herald By J. R. Batchelor, City Recreational Director—No. 14—Chinese Wall.

Chinese wall is a modification of the old ice game of pom-pom-pull-away, the difference being that instead of the "it" having the whole ice to tag in, he only has his own territory and must tag the other players as they cross the center section. Any players so touched must assist in catching the others.

SIX-MONTHS-OLD BABY NO BAR TO CAMPING OUT

Mother Tells of Summer Outing Which Was Enjoyed By the Whole Family; Rainy Weather No Bother.

Adele Miln Linville and Henry R. Linville in the New York Times: "You don't mean to say that you spent the summer in a tent, and you with a baby?" inquired a cautious mother.

"Yes, I did," was the reply.

Many families with small but noisy children have thought and worried about how to spend the summer in the country with a minimum of cost and nervous exhaustion to the responsible members and with as little irritation as possible to outsiders. Perhaps most families who undertake the task submit to what seems inevitable, and either suppress the children or let them add to the number of the family's enemies. But what "seems" is really not inevitable, as our family found in an experience of two consecutive summers. A very little money and some initiative brought a useful idea to satisfactory realization.

Took Children to Camp.

At the beginning of the experiment our family consisted of six members—father, mother, girl of 3, boy baby of 6 months, a school girl of 17 and a maid-of-all-work. The time available for the vacation was two months. The risk of taking board and living with other people for that length of time was too great; and the initial expense of erecting a permanent establishment for so limited a period, even if it was to become a country home, scarcely seemed justified.

All through the Catskill mountains country, except where the land is controlled by the owners of elaborate "parks," there are numerous small farms, well watered and with hillsides covered with deciduous and evergreen trees. John Burroughs has made us familiar with the character of the native Catskill people, with their simple, hard-working life and with their friendliness.

With one of the hardest working and the friendliest of these we made an arrangement to place our tents in the edge of his "wood lot," where the fields sloped off to the east, and a brook ran by to meet the distant Hudson.

Had Three Tents.

In the first summer our housing equipment consisted chiefly of a tent 10 by 17 feet, of 6-ounce duck, with top waterproof and with vertical walls seven feet high. One end of this tent could be drawn out laterally and used as an awning; other sides could be rolled up and tied at the roof. A second, an ordinary wall tent, of heavy khaki, 10 by 12 feet, and a third tent of 10-ounce duck, 7 by 9 feet, completed the tent equipment.

The first tent cost $20, the second was borrowed and the third cost about $9. Pine flooring was laid on 2 by 4-inch scantlings for all the tents, and extended to the front so as to give porches. Once or twice in the season, and again at the end of it, the floors were heavily oiled in preparation for lying exposed during the winter.

In the second summer of the experiment we added the only permanent feature of the camp, a frame "shack," 8 by 8 feet, torn down and moved from an adjacent farm.

During the first summer we managed to get along with a fair degree of comfort with cots for beds, camp chairs, a rocker, two kitchen tables, an oil stove with two burners, lamps, lanterns, a small number of dishes and kitchen utensils, hammocks, basins and pails. The cooking and eating were done in the large tent. At night it was the bedroom for two.

In the second summer, with the advent of the shack, the large tent developed into the "living" tent, but still held two at night.

A Taste of Farm Life.

Our camp site is five minutes' walk from the farmhouse, and far enough away to preserve an entente cordiale between families, and still near enough to be convenient for the campers and their children to obtain supplies and to partake of the farm life. Milk, eggs, butter, cottage cheese, fruit and even chickens were obtained at the farmhouse. Vegetables, dry groceries and meat were delivered for us at the farmhouse by hucksters, grocers and the mail carrier, except when we chose to carry them ourselves from the village, two miles away.

Our children visited the farm; indeed, they were in the midst of the farm life so much that they were familiar with it without being overfamiliar with the management, or a nuisance to it. Frequently they helped to feed the chickens; occasionally they hunted for the eggs; rarely they tried to milk the cows; very often the little girl went with the big girls of the farm to bring home the cows, and on the way saw the birds and the chipmunks, and gathered flowers through the woods. In the haying season little and big rode home on the hay, and out again to ride home once more.

After luncheon the children go to sleep in their beds on the porch of their tent under the trees. In the middle of the afternoon they are out again. Then it will be berrying, flower gathering, hay riding, swinging in the hammock, making leaf wreaths, or going to visit other children who live in stuffy houses, or receiving the visits of little people and their wondering feminine relatives who have never sat in camp in their lives.

Rain Doesn't Bother.

But when it rains? No, there is no trouble about that at all. When there is a cold rain the children want to stay where it is warm, and also dry. When it is a warm rain they have their bathing suits on, and with rubbers on their feet, go out and take what comes. When they tire of the sport they come in and are dried and given a "rub-down." There are never any colds in our camp.

One may have more leisure for enjoyment in camp if a few of the easily managed details can be systematized. For example, it would be a waste of time for a grown person to give himself or herself up to the task of keeping a strenuous boy of 20 months from tumbling into the brook, to say nothing about the attendant anxiety, when $3 worth of chicken fence would solve the problem.

Again, it pays to have a cold storage plant, if a few hours' digging into the shaded bank of the brook produces one.

The sanitation of a camp may easily be neglected, and frequently is. We found it easy to dispose of the garbage by giving it to an expectant hog in a pen halfway to the farmhouse. A hole was prepared for the reception of cans and broken glass a reasonable distance from the shack, and occasionally some earth was thrown upon the debris.

Family Will Go Again.

The immediate environment of the camp we kept presentable by having a rule that all papers and useless pieces of string and cloth should be thrown into a barrel and ultimately burned. Dishwater was prevented from smearing the landscape by being thrown into a sinkhole especially prepared for the purpose. Pure drinking water we obtained from a spring under a tree in an adjacent field, far enough away from camp to be quite free from contaminating materials.

The family will go to the camp again this summer.

TOO MUCH INCONVENIENCE.

Philadelphia Telegraph: The conversation drifted to the subject of great inconveniences the other evening, when this story was related by Emerson C. Harrington, governor-elect of Maryland.

One afternoon a good housewife hustled into the corner grocery of the country town near where she lived and threw a package in the counter with some show of impetuosity.

"It's them matches I bought here last week!" indignantly exclaimed the woman. "They're no good! They won't strike!"

"Just look at this, madame," said the storekeeper, picking up one of the matches after another and striking them on his shoes. "They're all right."

"Maybe they are," sarcastically rejoined the customer. "But do you think that when I want to light a fire I can come all the way in from the farm to strike a match on your old shoe?"

THE UNPOPULARITY OF ONE PRESIDENT

From "Our Nation in the Building," by Helen Nicolay in the Century Magazine: The obloquy John Adams had been president for more than two years but as long as Washington lived the country refused to look upon anyone else as its real head.

The way of the transgressor may be hard indeed, but it is a path of roses compared with the thorny road the successor to a popular idol must tread; and when one reads the frankly expressed opinion of Adams's party friends and party enemies, one's sympathies go out to the victim of such a handicap as Adams' obstinate personality.

He knew that he was vain. "Thank God I am so!" he exclaimed. "Vanity is the cordial drop which makes the bitter cup of life go down." But it had its lingering after taste, and justly proud of his record—having, as one of his biographers puts it, "stepped from his little country law office and proved himself a match for the diplomats of Europe"—Adams resented the narrow margin by which he had been elected, calling himself with some bitterness "the president of three votes only."

A vice president can be removed by nothing short of crime or physical incapacity, and Jefferson remained, an ever present and irritating thorn in Adams' side. Adams had found it hard to learn and accept the passive role demanded by the office and he evidently took some satisfaction in impressing the same uncongenial lessons upon his successor. Jefferson asserted that he was never consulted upon any question of government after Adams had been two days in power. And he did not make the charge in the humorous mood of a later incumbent, who used to declare that his chief had asked his advice only once, and that was about the wording of a Thanksgiving proclamation.

"I believe he always liked me," Adams admitted in a retrospect of his long career, "but he detested Hamilton and my whole administration. Then, he wished to be president of the United States, and I stood in his way. So he did everything that he could to pull me down. But if I should quarrel with him for that I might quarrel with everyone I had anything to do with in life. * * * Did you ever hear the lines:

I love my friend as well as you,
But why should he obstruct my view?
I forgive my enemies and hope they may find mercy in heaven."

INSULTED THE POLICEMAN.

Pittsburgh Chronicle - Telegraph: Through the busy downtown streets a stalwart policeman led a little child by the hand.

A motherly-looking woman paused before them for a moment. Then, in a sudden burst of sympathy, she bent over the child and kissed here.

"Poor lamb! She looks so cold and starved-like; and she hasn't been washed for a week. Some folks cannot be trusted with children, wicked, cruel things they are. Where did you find the child, policeman?"

"Find the child, woman," snorted the policeman, angrily. "I didn't find her at all. She's my own kid."

THE HERALD IS DULUTH'S GREAT WANT AD MEDIUM

BRADSTREET OPTIMISTIC

Review of Past Year and Forecast Buoyant in Tone.

Finds Depression Absorbed By Unusually Good Business Growth.

Bradstreet's review of the last business year and its forecast for the coming twelve months are distinctly optimistic.

It points out that the shock in evidence at the close of 1914 brought on by the European war was completely absorbed as a result of the enormous war orders placed by the warring nations with American manufacturers and the unprecedented exports of food products at high prices. As a result, it says, the United States has become a creditor nation and dollar exchange is now an accomplished fact. Summing the situation up the Review says:

"The history of the business year 1915 may be said to deal with three great movements. First of these was the immense demand, begun before the year opened, for cereals, meats, wire, automobiles, horses, clothing and a variety of other products that practically swept the country bare of surplus stocks of staples of all kinds, and especially of any sort of ready-made war material, whether for offense or sustenance. An example of this was the taking up of every surplus bushel of the greatest wheat crop in the country's history at close to the highest prices ever known. The second period may be said to embrace the marvelous diversion which occurred in our industrial forces, which, lacking occupation of a peaceful kind, turned toward the production of war material, demonstrating the adaptability of American manufacturers, mechanics and artisans, and giving a vast incentive to the production of all kinds of metals, whose output alone would place the year in a class by itself.

Wipes Out Idleness.

"With the immense expansion in industry shown in the first half of the year, unemployment, which had declined steadily from high levels at the outset of the year, practically ceased to exist, skilled labor became scarce, and the commonest kind of common labor rose in demand. The third period may be said to have been coincident with the final realization by the business world that the immense foreign demands could not go on without a vast influence upon purely domestic trade, and this latter branch of business, possibly repressed early in the year by fear of our involvment in hostilities, stimulated by the large earnings and swollen pay rolls of industrial centers, and buoyed by the gathering of the greatest food crops in history, bringing unsurpassed earnings to farmers, surged forward in the fall months in a veritable ground swell of purchasing, which found stocks of goods bought on previous conservative lines all too small to satisfy demands. Decreases shown in the earlier months of the year were in many cases made up by the advance in the fall, but the year's results in distributive trade as a whole are hardly up to the best of previous years."

WILL REORGANIZE MAIL SERVICE

Postmaster Answers Complaints of Woodland Neighborhood Club.

The Woodland district will come in for reorganization by the postoffice department soon, according to Postmaster William E. McEwen, in a reply regarding the request of the Woodland Neighborhood club, which protested because of the poor mail service in that community. Woodland now has one delivery a day.

A delivery expert is expected in Duluth soon, as was announced in The Herald recently, and he will make an examination of the service and make suggestions as to desired changes. The rapid growth of some districts have made the mail delivery problem a difficult one to cope with.

Waverly Park, Crescent View, part of Chester Park, along the Boulevard and territory back of the incline at Seventh street, part of Lakeside and the hill above the ore docks are deserving of mail service by carrier, says the postmaster. The rapid growth of these districts has prevented the expansion of the service in proportion to the change in the districts.

WOLVES SIT BY DOOR OF DULUTHIAN HALT MORNING WALK

Sunday morning about 6 o'clock Charles Burridge, 919 West Ninth street, started out for an early morning walk, but he halted right in the doorway, for two large timber wolves sat on the front sidewalk, looking at him.

They didn't look particularly hungry, Mr. Burridge said, but their ears stood up in an uncomfortable way when they spied him. The Burridge dog didn't like the scrutiny, for his hair was elevated and turning, he fled into the house.

An unofficial report said that Mr. Burridge felt his cap rising a little, but he turned and started back to his room to get a gun.

When he reappeared the wolves were gone. The Burridge home is in a community near the boulevard that is not thickly settled. About a year ago two wolves paid them a visit similar to this one of Sunday.

Mr. Burridge is engineer at The Herald building. He believes the animals were looking for stray chickens.

MANY UNFORTUNATES HELPED.

Food, Shelter and Employment Given By Gospel Mission.

More than 2,000 men attended the meetings at Duluth Gospel mission, 342 Lake avenue south, during December, and twenty-six were converted. There were thirty-six meetings.

Free meals were distributed to practically all of the men who attended the meetings, and 1,708 were sheltered at night. About 200 men visited the mission on tickets provided by business men who had investigated their cases and knew them worthy.

Employment was found for nearly 200 of the men. Bills paid amounted to $198.18, while contributions amounted to $157.

BANNER BUSINESS YEAR.

Optimism in East, Declares New York Mine Owner.

Dr. F. D. Owsley, a wealthy mine owner of New York city, who was in Duluth yesterday, declared it his belief that 1916 is to prove a banner year in the history of American business. "There is a distinct feeling of optimism in the East," said Mr. Owsley. "Heads of big manufacturing concerns are united in declaring that the country is on the eve of a great business boom.

"Duluth has a great future. This city has taken great strides during the last few years and its future as a great and thriving industrial center is assured."

MINNESOTA TO SELL OTHER STATES' BONDS

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 10.—State Auditor J. A. O. Preus and State Treasurer Walter J. Smith left Saturday night for New York to negotiate for the sale of Virginia, Alabama and Delaware state bonds owned by the Minnesota school funds and other state trust funds, amounting to $2,394,000 face value.

Authority for the sale was given by a resolution passed by the state board of investment late Saturday. The resolution was passed unanimously after consideration by the board at three sessions.

The resolution enumerates the bonds to be sold, by the lots originally purchased. There are Virginia funding bonds of a total face value of $2,145,000, bearing 3 per cent interest and redeemable Jan. 1, 1991; Alabama 4 per cent funding bonds, $118,000, due for payment Jan. 1, 1920, and Delaware 3 per cent bonds, $131,000, due Dec. 1, 1921. Some of these bonds cannot be sold for what the state paid, and the state Constitution says the trust funds may not be impaired, but by selling the entire block it is believed that the lot can be disposed of at a slight profit. Messrs. Smith and Preus, who urged the sale strongly, will get offers and report to the board upon their return.

If the sale is made, it will enable the municipalities waiting to float their loans to get the money at 4 per cent from the state, instead of going to bond houses and paying 5 per cent or more. It will also yield the state trust funds a higher revenue than they now are getting.

Extensive Mandan Paving.

Mandan, N. D., Jan. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—It is expected that extensive paving operations will be carried out here during 1916 as a result of petitions filed with the city council. These propose the pavement of practically the entire business district.

WHEAT AGAIN TURNS EASY

Market Off at Close on Realizing—Was Strong Early.

Flax Takes Sharp Bulge on Urgent Buying By Crushers.

Duluth Board of Trade, Jan. 10.—The market was easy at the close with the appearance of some selling. Lack of exporters' buying and reported imports of Canadian wheat at Minneapolis.

May wheat closed ⅜c@½c off and July ¾c off.

May durum closed ½c off and July ½c off.

Oats closed ⅜c up at 43¾c for on the track; rye unchanged at 93c, and barley unchanged at from 65c to 73c for on the track.

At Winnipeg May oats closed ⅛c up 46⅝c bid.

At St. Louis, May wheat closed at 1.20⅝, and July at 1.14½.

At Kansas City, May wheat closed at 1.15⅝and July at 1.10½.

Puts on Minneapolis, May wheat closed at 1.20⅜, and calls at $1.24⅜.

Substantial strength was shown in the wheat market today as result of higher Liverpool cables and good inquiry from both exporters and Eastern millers. Cognizance was taken of the fact that stocks of domestic wheat at Buffalo showed a decrease of 1,356,000 bu in store and 626,000 bu afloat and bonded wheat stocks a decrease of 3,583,000 bu. While there was no change today in shipping conditions insofar as railroad embargoes went, betterment in that respect is predicted soon. It was further intimated that a large vessel tonnage at the seaboard will be made available by the British government next month. Today 29,000 bu of domestic wheat was showed to have been shipped out from the Hasea elevator, and 48,000 bu of bonded grain was loaded from the Great Northern & Consolidated elevators for the East.

Strength in Liverpool was brought about through fears of shortage by millers and firm Manitoba offers. It was significant though that hesitation and a moderate decline was precipitated in the market later by reports from the seaboard to the effect that exporters were showing indisposition to follow up the advance. The cash markets in the Northwest were strong. At Duluth No. 1 northern sold at the May price, an advance of ½c over Saturday.

The American visible supply reports showed a moderate increase for the week of 2,514,000 bu. Receipts of wheat in the Northwest were in fair volume today apart from Duluth, arrivals here coming to just 122 cars. At Minneapolis they had 698 cars against 530 last year and at Winnipeg 820 cars against 284 a year ago. The congestion at the Canadian Head of the Lakes and in the interior was attested in the placing of an embargo for a week by the Canadian Pacific against shipments of all grains from country points.

May wheat opened ⅜@½c up at $1.23¾, advanced to $1.24⅛, and then eased off ⅜c at the noon hour. July eased off ⅜c up at $1.23½, and gained opened ⅜c up at $1.23½, and gained opened ⅜c and then eased off to the ⅛c more and then eased off to the opening figure.

May durum opened ⅜c up at $1.21, advanced ⅜c more and later eased off to $1.20⅞.

Boom in Flaxseed.

The bullish conditions in flaxseed market that had been in evidence during the last three weeks culminated today in a sharp advance. A bulge up to 7½c being recorded.

Strength was prompted by reports to the effect that it is being found impossible to obtain vessel capacity to move seed from Argentina to this country. Many operators who had bought Argentine seed freely, now find themselves up against a hard proposition in getting it here, and during the last few days they have been buying in hedges upon it put on at this market. It is estimated that American import requirements of seed will amount to 15,000,000 bu this season and dealers are wondering how they are going to obtain it.

May flax opened ⅛c up at $2.31, and closed 6½c up at $2.37¼ asked. July opened 1⅜c up at $2.33, and closed 5⅝c up at $2.36½ nominal.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed 7¾c up at $2.18½.

At London, flax closed unchanged at $2.86⅝, and Buenos Aires unchanged at $1.35½.

An Argentine cable said: "Available exportable surplus of wheat is officially estimated at 3,500,000 tons or 130,000,000 bu. Linseed is estimated 900,000 tons or 39,500,000 bu. Linseed crop is believed to be underestimated. Corn crop is reported damaged by continued drought."

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "The market opened higher and further hardened, with demand better. American arrivals are liberal, but the native movement is small and the demand is absorbing all arrivals, with stocks light. Spot market is firm, ½d higher, with better demand for winters and Manitobas. Cargo market is firm, Plates 6d higher, winters 4½d higher and Manitobas 4½d to 6d higher. Millers' supplies are inadequate and prospects of further arrivals on a sufficient scale are leading to nervousness."

At Winnipeg, No. 1 northern spot wheat sold 5c under May; No. 2 northern at 7¼c under May and No. 3 northern 11¼c under May.

Stocks of American wheat at Buffalo show a decrease of 1,356,000 bu in store and 626,000 bu afloat. Bonded stocks show a decrease of 3,583,000 bu.

* * *

Regarding flaxseed, Broomhall cabled: "The position of linseed during the past week has been very strong. Crushers' stocks are greatly depleted and oil continues to advance. Indian merchants are not offering any seed. Plate offers are coming in fine, but the extreme scarcity and price of freights precludes shipments of any proportions at the present time. Canada offers sparingly. The continent is absorbing Plates, which they will store if necessary. America also is purchasing Plates moderately, but I believe later American absorption will be heavy."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Higher Cables and Falling Off in Receipts Give Wheat a Lift.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Higher cable quotations and a falling off in Minneapolis and Duluth receipts helped give a lift today to the wheat market here. The final abandonment of the attempt to force the Dardanelles seemed to have some bullish effect, and so also did notice of the commandeering of supplies in Italy. Besides, there were reports of a scarcity of good milling wheat in Ohio, Indiana and further east. Opening prices, which ranged from ½c to ⅝c higher, with May at $1.26¼ to $1.26½ and July at $1.18½ to $1.18¾, were followed by substantial further gains, but a moderate sag.

Later the market took a decided downturn, owing to a liberal increase of the United States visible supply total. The close was weak, ¾@⅞c net lower, with May at $1.24⅝ and July at $1.17½@1.17⅝.

Export talk and foreign buying of futures made the corn market strong. The May delivery went to the highest price on the 1915 crop. After opening ⅝c to ¾c up the market ascended a little further before beginning to react.

Corn eased off when wheat had a setback. The close was steady at ⅛@¼c to ¼c net advance.

Commission houses were active purchasers of oats. The course of the market seemed to be governed by corn.

Provisions showed remarkable strength. The immense number of hogs arriving here and at other leading centers had no effect. Big exports acted as more than an offset.

Wheat—No. 2 red, $1.26@1.26½; No. 3 red, $1.22¼@1.25½; No. 2 hard, $1.22½@1.22⅝; No. 3 hard, $1.19@1.20½.

WEAK CLOSE FOR STOCKS

Steel, Coppers and Other Leaders Register Low Prices.

Steady Liquidation From Interior Points Impair Values.

New York, Jan. 10.—Nominal gains and losses attended the resumption of trading today, leading shares showing few noteworthy changes from last week's final quotations. Dealings at the outset lacked the animation of recent sessions, except in certain specialties such as coppers and oils. United States Steel opened with the smallest fractional gain, but soon fell back and reactionary tendecies were later manifested by other leaders. Selling pressure became more marked before the expiration of the first half hour, Steel, American Smelting, Mexican petroleum and some of the active war issues then showing declines of 1 to 3 points.

Substantial recoveries from the early decline, precipitated in part by short selling, were made in the first hour on the stock exchange today, the rally in some instances making up more than half the loss. Pressure was renewed on the recovery, however, representative issues falling to or under previous minimums. Steel was the center of an active selling movement, despite favorable forecasts of its December tonnage statement. New Haven was one of the few railroads to show strength, presumably on the outcome of the recent trial. Studebaker was among the weak specialties, declining ⅝ to 104⅞. Bonds were lower.

Publication of the steel tonnage figures was followed by further selling of that stock and increased weakness elsewhere, notably in Mexican petroleum and smelting. New Haven reversed its course declining 3 to 75.

Steady liquidation from interior points and bear pressure combined to impair values materially in today's professional market.

Steel, coppers and other leaders registered lowest prices in the final hour, affecting the entire list. The closing was weak.

BULLS ARE IN FULL CONTROL

Flax Market Reflects Extreme Shortage of World's Supply.

Predicted Break and Shaking Out Hold Off—Crushers Buying.

The past week has been one of continuous advancing on the part of the flax market. Despite the fact that reports come concerning the lower price of Argentine seed, and the expressed belief that the market is oversold, the predicted break in the market holds off. That the ultimate condition of supplies warrants a bullish market, there is little doubt left, for at best the world's crop will not be much more than 70,000,000 bushels, which is 15,000,000 to 20,000,000 short of the normal commercial demand; and Europe, dry of oil, is clamoring for more seed and yet more seed.

But for immediate needs in the United States, there is no immediate demand, and with prices rapidly approaching the $2.50 mark, traders are looking for a shaking out of speculators before long. Of course such a break, if it comes, will be only a temporary depression and the upward trend of the market is bound to resume.

Crushers are persistently in the market these days and a day or two ago the American Linseed company was buying openly and strongly, an unusual circumstance.

The closing prices for the past six trading days, compared with the same period a year ago, were:

CLEARING LOWER LAKE DOCKS OF ORE

Heavy Shipments to Furnaces Continue—Sandusky Is Closed.

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lake Erie docks shipped 1,165,849 tons of iron ore to interior furnaces in December which is more than was shipped in December, 1914, plus the shipments of December, 1913.

Conneaut and Ashtabula were the two heaviest shipping points. Conneaut docks shipped 357,381 tons; Ashtabula, 277,340 tons; Lorain, 129,955 tons; Cleveland, 127,859 tons. During December 2,375 tons of ore were shipped out of Sandusky. This ore has been there almost a decade, the docks having been discontinued years ago. The ore has been carried on the dock balances, but with its shipment Sandusky will pass from the list of ports having ore.

The weather was most favorable for docks to ship last month and in spite of inventory and other usual causes for decreasing shipments the shipments were extraordinarily heavy. The shipments so far this month have been up to the standard set by last month, but labor troubles have practically shut off shipments to the Republic Iron & Steel company and the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company. The stoppage, however, will probably be of short duration.

There were 7,951,534 tons of ore on Lake Erie docks Jan. 1. With shipments the rest of the ore year as heavy in proportion as those of December the new year, May 1, will find the docks practically clear. It has been expected the docks would be well emptied by May 1, which would be an advantage to the dock companies if not to the furnaces.

SHIPMASTERS' LODGE TO INSTALL OFFICERS

Twin Ports lodge No. 6, Shipmasters' association, will install its new officers for the ensuing year at a meeting to be held tomorrow night at the rooms of the Lake Carriers' association at the foot of Fifth avenue west; and will discuss business and entertainment for the current season. It may be that arrangements for the annual ball of the association will be made. Several other matters of importance are due to come up. Meetings are held the first Tuesday of each month. Tomorrow's is a special meeting.

The officers to be installed tomorrow night are the following: President, Capt. D. T. Sullivan; first vice president, Capt. W. E. Hoy; second vice president, Capt. W. B. Chamberlain, and secretary-treasurer, Capt. Albert Swenson.

Season's Shipping at Buffalo.

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 10.—During the season of 1915 there arrived at the port of Buffalo 3,663 lake vessels, exclusive of excursion boats, from nearby places. Of this number 2,756 were coastwise, 778 American ships in foreign trade. The total tonnage of the arrivals was 9,863,989. The total clearances were 3,572 boats with a tonnage of 9,615,497, including 3,046 coastwise, 429 American boats in foreign trade and ninety-seven foreign boats in foreign trade.

Will Help Connors.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 10.—The Milwaukee chamber of commerce has decided to abandon its effort to organize a company to take over the railroad package boats on the lakes and will devote its efforts to helping W. J. Connors of Buffalo obtain the ships.

Mrs. W. A. Bourke Dead.

Word has been received here that Mrs. William A. Bourke of Detroit, Mich., wife of the former commissioner of the Lake Carriers' association in Duluth, died at their home in Detroit last Stturday morning. Mrs. Bourke has been an invalid for several years, and last week was put under an operation, as the only means of having her life. It failed and death came on Saturday. Mrs. Bourke has visited here only briefly, but her husband and daughters are well known in Duluth.

May Be Lost Son.

Tomah, Wis., Jan. 10.—Bobby Striker, who was stolen at St. Petersburg, Fla., in December, 1914, is believed to be in Tomah. Mrs. W. C. Richter, mother of Bobby Striker, has wired from Brooklyn, N. Y., that she is on her way west to claim the boy, if he is her son. The lad was brought to Tomah about six weeks ago and adopted by a family which supposed he was an orphan from New York.

TO HAVE YOUR WIFE

BECOME A HERALD AD READER IS BETTER FORTUNE FOR YOU THAN AN INCREASE IN SALARY

For the ad-reading housewife makes the family expense money "go farther"—makes it buy more and better things—and, in the course of a year, will have saved a surprising sum, without curtailing home supplies in the least.

The ad-reading housewife simply applies business methods to buying the needed home supplies. She learns when, where, how much to buy at a time. She manages her buying.

And the habit of wise buying—practiced by ad-readers exclusively—lends to wise and systematic and frictionless management of all home routine and affairs. So that the man whose wife becomes an ad reader is, indeed, lucky—for the whole outlook for him is bettered and brightened!

STATE SECURES RESTRAINING ORDER PREVENTING INCREASE IN PASSENGER RATES IN STATE

TEMPORARY INJUNCTION IS ISSUED

Would Prevent Roads Using Interstate Schedule as Pretext.

Rates to Brainerd, Staples and Other Western Points Affected.

Hearing on Application for Temporary Injunction Next Saturday.

The state of Minnesota, in district court here, today began its attack on the advance in passenger rates between points within the state, where roads are using the interstate rates rather than the intrastate schedules because their trains happen to go through other states, even though the intrastate route is available.

A restraining order was obtained this morning by the state against the Northern Pacific railway to prevent it putting in force next Saturday its proposed new schedule of rates between Duluth and points as far west as Moorhead, and to Wadena and Breckenridge.

Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith and Judge Ira B. Mills, chairman of the state railroad and warehouse commission, together with G. Roy Hall, Duluth traffic commissioner, appeared before Judge Bert F. Fesler in district court shortly before noon today and the judge issued the order requested. It restrains the road from putting the

JURORS VISIT MURDER SCENE

Prosecution Outlines Evidence to Be Presented in Mohr Case.

Providence, R. I., Jan. 11.—Before visiting the scene of the murder of Dr. C. Franklin Mohr, the jury selected yesterday to hear evidence in the trial of his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth F. Mohr, and two negroes, Cecil V. Brown and Henry H. Spellman, charged with responsibility for the crime, went to the courthouse today to listen to a brief preliminary statement by the prosecution. The complete opening statements by both sides were reserved until the return of the jury from its inspection.

Dr. Mohr was killed on Aug. 31 last, while motoring from Providence to Newport with his secretary, Miss Emily G. Burger, and the state alleges that Mrs. Mohr hired three negroes to commit the crime. One of the negroes, George H. Healis, has since pleaded guilty to manslaughter and is expected to be a state witness.

The men were indicted for murder and Mrs. Mohr as an accessory before the fact. They are being tried jointly.

Assistant Attorney General Phillips, outlining the state's case, declares that evidence would be presented to show that the physician's assassins lay in ambush and when his automobile was stopped, they deliberately stepped up and shot Dr. Mohr and Miss Burger without warning.

Mrs. Mohr and the negro defendants did not accompany the jury when it left for the scene of the murder.

DULUTH BANKS CLOSE PROSPEROUS YEAR AND RE-ELECT DIRECTORS

C. O. Baldwin Added to Directorate of the City National.

No Changes Expected in Officers of Four Institutions.

Deposits Are the Largest in History of the City.

Only one change is forecasted in the composition of the boards of directors of Duluth's four national banks at their annual meetings being held today. C. O. Baldwin will join the directorate of the City National bank, but otherwise the boards will remain as they were.

Harmony and optimism were the keynotes at all the meetings. Duluth's financial institutions have put behind them a satisfactory year's business and their shareholders are naturally pleased. Prospects for the next twelve months are regarded as the brightest in the histories of the banks. As shown by their last statements of conditions deposits of both national and state banks are the largest on record, and their volume is reported to be steadily increasing. Taken all round the demand for funds from commercial and industrial quarters is improving, attesting a brightening outlook and

400,000 RAILROAD MEN ARE VOTING

Question of Eight-Hour Day for All Departments Is Issue Before Them.

Chicago, Jan. 11.—Nearly 400,000 employes on railroads entering Chicago began voting today on demands for an 8-hour day and time and a half for overtime. Ballots were distributed among engineers, firemen, conductors, trainmen, switchmen and baggagemen. If adopted, the demands will be presented to the roads by a joint committee of the employes' unions some time in March.

Railroad officials declare that if granted the proposals would result in an increase of approximately $150,000,000 a year on all the railroads in the United States.

PARTY RECORD IS ATTACKED

Senator Newlands Criticizes Action of the Democratic Congress.

Banking and Tariff Reforms Especially Obnoxious to Him.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Senator Newlands of Nevada, Democrat, attacked his party's record in the senate today, delivering a long prepared speech, in which he criticized the tariff and banking reforms—the chief legislative achievements of the Wilson administration. He declared that because there had been industrial and commercial depression coterminous with Democratic control of legislation, the party would be in danger of defeat at the next presidential election, unless the European war continued and made the president's "sagacious and firm" handling of foreign affairs the overshadowing issue.

Although he characterized the general trend of Democratic legislation as commendable, the senator asserted that the party was too radical, and expressed the conviction "that no political party can hope to remain in power which adopts radical instead of evolutionary methods of reform."

INCREASED RATES NOT JUSTIFIED

Commission Refuses to Allow Advance on Rail and Lake Routes.

Increases Proposed Would Amount to About 5 Per Cent.

Victory for Duluth Commercial Club Which Led the Fight.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Proposed increases in class and commodity rates by rail and lake routes between New England and Middle Atlantic state points and the West, were found unjustified today by the interstate commerce commission. Increases proposed were about 5 per cent.

The commission ordered the cancellation of tariffs of railroads containing the increases which provided rates for the hauls over their own lines and boat hauls over the Great Lakes by about ten operating boat companies. The increases, the opinion points out, were proposed for the purpose of maintaining the relation existing between the all-rail and the rail-and-lake routes before the 5 per cent case was decided, in which increases were allowed in the all-rail rates, and not in the others.

In the present case, it was contended that the financial need of the boat lines is equal in severity to that of the rail lines before the 5 per cent case decision, that the old relationship should be restored, that the difference between the all-rail rates and the rail-and-lake rates should be readjusted so that it would virtually be the same as before the 5 per cent increases to the Eastern roads.

"Loyalty to the differential," says the commission, "seems to be confined to the carriers. The shippers' view is that a natural water rate should reflect the economies incident to water carriage, and that rates created and maintained as are those here, are contrary to business sense and amount in practice to a device whereby tonnage is deflected in violation of law.

"The commission is unconvinced that

OTTUMWA, IOWA, HAS $500,000 FIRE LOSS

Flames Originating in Friedman Department Store; Destroy Five Buildings.

Ottumwa, Iowa, Jan. 11.—Fire which started early this morning in the Friedman department store here destroyed four stores in the retail district causing a loss estimated at $500,000. At 7:30 o'clock firemen were still fighting the fire, but it was said there was no danger of a further spread of the flames.

The fire originated in the elevator shaft of the Friedman store and quickly burned through to the roof. The building was totally destroyed, and that occupied by the Swiries Dry Goods company and the Woolworth 5 and 10-cent store is a total loss. In addition, four other buildings, occupied by stores, were either destroyed or badly damaged. After three hours the fire was brought under control and confined to the buildings then in flames.

AUSTRIANS STEADILY PRESS THEIR WAY INTO MONTENEGRO DESPITE FIERCE RESISTANCE

PLANS TO STRENGTHEN ARMY THROUGH NATIONAL GUARD ARE PRESENTED

Chairman of House Committee Suggests Scheme to President.

Would Increase State Militia Instead of Having Continental Army.

Guards Would Get Regular Pay and Be Utilized When Needed.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Plans to strengthen the National guard instead of establishing a continental army as contemplated by the war department were proposed to President Wilson today by Chairman Hay of the house military committee. Mr. Hay said he thought his plan the better, but he would not reveal how his suggestion was received by the president. He said, however, when he left the White House that he was desirous of reaching an agreement with the president.

Under Mr. Hay's plan, the National guard would get regular pay and a provision would be included in the army bill for taking it into the regular army in time of war.

Will Increase to 400,000.

He said at first this plan would bring only about 130,000 men into the regular army, but that he felt sure that within two years there would be 400,000. This plan also proposes to increase the present regular regiments of infantry to war strength instead of adding ten new regiments as planned by the war department. Mr. Hay thinks that would give the same increase in the regular army, without adding to overhead charges.

A tentative army bill drawn up by Mr. Hay after conferences with war department officials now includes the continental army feature.

President Wilson has indorsed the entire war department plan, including the continental army. Today's development was the first indication of a disagreement between the administration and the chairman of the military committee. It is understood that Mr. Hay's views were taken up at today's cabinet meeting.

It will be about six weeks before the house committee will be ready to put the army bill before the house.

COUNT APPONYI.

Berlin, via London, Jan. 11.—Advices received here from Vienna say that Count Albert Apponyi, the veteran Hungarian political leader, possibly may be chosen to fill the vacant post of Austro-Hungarian ambassador to the United States. While there is no information on the subject here, it is thought in certain circles that the chance for him to receive the appointment are good. Count Apponyi is 69 years old. He has been a member of the Hungarian house of deputies since 1872. Count Apponyi visited the United States in 1904.

GREETINGS FROM T. R.

Colonel Sends Message to National Committee of Progressive Party.

Delegates Meet in Chicago to Arrange Time and Place for Convention.

Chicago, Jan. 11.—Theodore Roosevelt in a message of greeting read at the meeting of the National committee of the Progressive party here today emphasized the need of preparedness, not alone in material ways, but of the soul and spirit of the citizens of the nation.

"I send my hearty greetings," said the message. "We, as a country, are facing a great world crisis in which, for the last eighteen months, this nation has fallen far short of its duty, both to its own people and to the law-abiding and justice-loving nations of mankind.

Disregard All But Vital Issues.

"There is a crying need that we shall cast aside all purely partisan considerations and disregard all but the vital issues affecting the national life and shall strive whole-heartedly for a sound Americanism which shall insist that every man who is within our borders shall be an American and nothing else.

"We must do justice to our own people at home; we must insist upon the most thorough going preparedness to protect our rights against all possible

Montenegrins Slowly But Surely Driven Back By Teutonic Invaders.

War Office Admits Evacuation of Berane on the Lim.

Counter-Attacks By Montenegrins Made Over Piles of Bodies.

Paris, Jan. 11.—Details of recent fighting in which the Montenegrins were driven back by the overwhelming efforts of the Austrians, are contained in a statement issued tonight by the Montenegrin consulate. The statement says:

"The Austrian offensive continues to be energetically pushed against all our front, particularly to the north and east, where there has been desperate fighting. The enemy greatly outnumbered us, and has been attacking furiously on the eastern front from Ipek onward.

"We repulsed him several times with such heavy loss that our troops, to recapture their lost position, were forced to climb over masses of bodies. Nevertheless, we have been obliged to evacuate Berane.

Forced to Fall Back.

"Austrian attempts at Rugova and Mojkovac failed. By a counterattack we retook Tokourak, but the enemy having received reinforcements we fell back on the left bank of the Lim.

"In the neighborhood of Gatzko, strong enemy forces succeeded after furious fighting, in taking several of our positions, part of which we recaptured later.

"For the last four days, the Austrians have been delivering furious at-

REPORTS ARE CONFLICTING

French Reports Declare German Offensive a Complete Failure.

Berlin Says French Defeated in Their Counter-Attacks.

Paris, Jan. 11, via London.—The French official report of this afternoon states that the German offensive, undertaken on Sunday in Champagne by three German divisions, was a complete failure, the Germans being driven out of all the positions which they had seized with the exception of a small rectangle to the west of Maisons De Champagne.

German Sentiment.

Berlin, Jan. 11, wireless to Sayville.—The war office statement of today says that French troops in the Champagne were defeated in an effort to recapture the trenches northeast of Massiges which were taken by the Germans in the offensive movement reported yesterday. The number of prisoners taken by the Germans has been increased to 380.

A French battle aeroplane armed with thirty-eight centimeter guns was compelled by German fire to land near Woumen, south of Dixmude, in Belgium. The aeroplane and its occupants, uninjured, are in German hands. A British biplane was shot down in an aerial encounter near Tournai, Belgium.

THE SLIPPERY SLIDE.

SHIP HOISTED WHITE FLAG; TRIED TO RAM SUBMARINE

Nationality of Boat Sinking Porto Said Is Made Public.

Berlin, Jan. 11, by wireless to Sayville.—A statement given out today by the semi-official Overseas News agency establishes the fact that it was an Austrian submarine which sank the Italian liner Porto Said in the Mediterranean last month, causing the death of six passengers and one member of the crew. It is asserted the steamship attempted to ram the submarine.

The statement follows:

"In reference to the sinking of the Italian steamship Porto Said by an Austro-Hungarian submarine:

Ran Up White Flag.

"Vienna reports that the submarine ordered the steamship to stop. The Porto Said first attempted to escape, then ran up a white flag and halted.

"When the submarine approached the steamer, the latter suddenly steered at the submarine in order to ram her. At that juncture, the submarine opened fire and hit the steamship, which again came to a halt and lowered boats.

"The submarine ceased firing, drew up to the steamship and observed that the persons in the boats which had put off from the Porto Said were making for the coast without attempting to rescue those swimming in the sea. The submarine halted the boat containing the captain of the Porto Said. The captain was told that he would be shot if he did not save those struggling in the water."

Two Wounded Found.

"On the steamship were found two persons, one of whom was wounded. They were taken off in a boat from the submarine, and after the wounded person had been bandaged, both were handed over to the captain's boat.

"It was not until after this had been done, that the Porto Said was torpedoed. Meanwhile the submarine, while still giving assistance, was shelled by a hostile torpedo boat and submerged."

The Porto Said was torpedoed in the Mediterranean by a submarine, the nationality of which was not established, although it was said to have flown the Austrian colors. A dispatch from Milan on Dec. 27 said an Italian destroyer pursued the submarine, which escaped, although it was believed to have been struck by a shell.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

The Austrians are succeeding in making important inroads upon Montenegrin territory despite desperate resistance by the forces of King Nicholas.

The Montenegrin war office admits the evacuation of Berone, an important town on the River Lim, the east bank of which, to the north, has been cleared of Montenegrins, according to Vienna.

On the western frontier of Montenegro, Austrian forces finally are winning successes against the defenders of Mount Loveen, an important height near Cattaro. The Cettinje government concedes occupation of two positions by the Teutonic forces in this sector. Fire from warships in the bay of Cattaro, which the Austrians have been using as a base for naval raids, assisted in pushing the Montenegrins back.

The Italian liner Porto Said, sunk in the Mediterranean last month, with the loss of six passengers and one sailor, was torpedoed by an Austrian submarine, according to a semi-official statement given out in Berlin. The nationality of the undersea craft had been in doubt. The statement asserts that the steamer tried to ram the submarine.

Latest reports from the Champagne front reveal definitely the fact that the German offensive begun there Sunday has been fruitless, the French war office declares. Berlin, however, asserts that the efforts of the French to retake their lost trenches were fruitless.

Last night, according to the official account, the Germans were driven from the advanced French position they had taken except that they still hold, with difficulty, a small rectangle west of Maisons De Champagne.

Sinking of the British steamer Clan MacFarlane, a vessel of 4,823 tons, is announced in London.

DOCTORS INSIST ON OPERATION—NOT NECESSARY

I want to write and tell you what your Swamp-Root has done for me. During the years of 1906 and 1907 I was troubled with what the physician pronounced "Gravel of the Kidney." I was under the care of one physician for six months and two months with another without securing relief or a cure. The physicians insisted on an operation claiming that would be the only thing that would help me. My wife being bitterly opposed to an operation I did not consent, but continued under their treatment for some time. When I was most discouraged, believing that my end was near, I heard of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root and at once began taking your medicine and noticed almost immediately that the medicine was having its effect. After taking seven bottles of your Swamp-Root I was entirely cured and have not had a sick spell for over a year.

When a person has been flat on his back for six months, suffering mental agony and spent considerable money with physicians without any benefit and then to be cured at any expense of not over $8.00, you can well understand how grateful I feel toward you and your preparation. In appreciation for what your remedy has done for me, I am willing that you use this letter as a testimonial.

Very respectfully yours,
ROBERT E. HENDRICK,

On this 9th day of August, 1909, personally appeared before me a Notary Public, in and for said County and State, Robert E. Hendrick, who subscribed the foregoing statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

SUPERIOR IS WINNER

Wisconsin Curlers Put West Duluth Men Out of Running.

Earn Right to Play Duluth for the Intercity Trophy.

West Duluth curlers have the Manley-McLennan trophy off their minds. The Superior aggregation relieved them of it in a one-sided game last night by winning by a score of 53 to 29.

The games were played in Superior. From the start the visitors had no show. Clough Gates, who was for the second time in the contest drawn against E. J. Zauft, came near piling up another score similar to that of last Thursday, only this time it was 16 to 2 instead of 20 to 1.

The Joel Gates rink turned the tables of the Donald rink by winning 12 to 9 and Russell had little difficulty in getting his game from the Wade "kid" rink, the score being 13 to 5.

Frank H. Wade, president of the Western Curling rink, is the only local man to remain undefeated throughout the contest. He won from A. K. Smith, 13 to 12.

Trophy games will feature the playing at the Western Curling rink for the remainder of the week. This evening George J. Mallory will play Dr. C. K. Keyes, and T. F. Wieland will play F. H. Wade in the Burns event. Skating with band music will also be provided.

Tomorrow evening four games have been drawn. The games are: Esterly event: Zauft vs. T. F. Olsen; Forbes vs. Melvin Olson; Joe McDonald vs. Donald; and K. A. McDonald vs. Quinn, Burns event.

BARNES' BODY LIES IN STATE AT TEMPLE

Funeral services for Martin Allen Barnes, 53, 2616 West Fourth street, who died yesterday morning at St. Mary's hospital, following a short illness, will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the West Duluth Masonic temple. The body lies in state at the temple from noon tiday.

The remains will be taken to Horton, Mich., Mr. Barnes' former home, for burial, on a late train this afternoon. It will be accompanied by members of his family.

Mr. Barnes, during the past four years, was roadmaster for the Northern Pacific railroad, with headquarters in Duluth. He has lived in Minnesota for eight years. The widow and four sons survive.

WESTERN HOCKEY TEAM VICTORIOUS

While West Duluth curlers were being trounced at Superior, the Western Curling rink hockey team upheld the honors of West Duluth by handing out a defeat to the Superiorites. The locals won 7 to 3.

During the first half of the game both sides scored two goals. In the second half the West Duluth boys began piling up the score, getting five more goals, while the Superior team got one.

Axel Stowell played a star game for the West Duluthians and got two of the scores. The other members of the team were Emil Peterson, Dykins, J. Smith, Art Anderson, Donald and Linderberg. Dykins scored twice, Peterson, Anderson and Donald each getting one. Huzzy was the star player of the Superior aggregation.

AFTER COAL THIEVES.

West Duluth Police Unable to Run Down Drivers of Sled.

West Duluth police spent considerable time this morning trying to trace coal thieves who had driven up to the Island Creek coal dock some time during last night and are believed to have stolen some coal. Lieut. Frank Schulte traced the sled for a short distance until the tracks became lost in a road leading to Superior.

Only a small amount of coal was taken in the opinion of the police. The team had been driven up to the dock and the fuel thrown on the rig. The sled came to the dock from the direction of Superior and left, returning in the same way.

Several tracks across the ice on the bay, making a regular roadway, made it impossible to trace the sled any great distance.

FINES PROCTOR DRUGGIST FOR LIQUOR SELLING

Judge Dancer, yesterday afternoon in district court, sentenced H. I. Schell, Proctor druggist, convicted of selling liquor illegally, to pay a fine of $50 and spend thirty days in the county jail. Schell paid the fine and the jail sentence was suspended.

Schell was convicted on Sept. 17, and before receiving sentence at the hands of the court, sought a new trial. This was denied by Judge Dancer.

In speaking of the liquor which Mr. Schell sold, he gave out the following statement this morning:

"The bottle of liquid in question was composed of asperin, aconite, glycerine and whisky. There was not more than 30 per cent alcohol in the preparation and it was intended as medicine for a cold. Had anyone taken enough of the liquid to become intoxicated, he or she would have died from the effects of the aconite. It was absolutely impossible to use the stuff as a beverage on that account.

"I have been mentioned in connection with alleged 'blind-pigging' that is going on in Proctor, and I would like to correct the impression that I either know anything about it or am implicated in any way."

LODGES WILL BE HOSTS TO SUPREME ARCHON

MULLERY-McDONALD NOW SHIPPING LOGS

Cloquet, Minn., Jan. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first trainload of logs cut at the Mullery-McDonald company's camps this season, was hauled from Nagonob yesterday. The recent extremely cold weather had made logging conditions perfect, solidly freezing the swamps and greatly aiding in the building and keeping of the ice roads for hauling the logs to the railroad sidings, where they are loaded on flat cars and hauled to the mill in Duluth.

This concern is operating many camps in this vicinity this winter and it is expected that shipments of logs will be made every day from now until the work is finished up.

NO MALE ELK FOR DULUTH ZOO

No male elk are available for Duluth's new zoological garden at Lester park.

This information has been sent to Swan M. Johnson, Great Northern express agent of this city, who has been negotiating with the game warden at Seattle for the shipment of a pair of elk to Duluth. Only female animals are available, the warden writes, and so far he has been unable to locate a suitable pair.

Last October the Seattle game warden offered to send a pair of elk to Duluth if the city would pay the express charges. The commissioners opposed the plan at first and after a lengthy delay decided to accept the offer. When word was sent to Seattle to ship the animals to Duluth, the information came back that they had already been sent to Sioux City, Iowa. However, the warden promised to assist in locating another pair, but so far he has not been successful.

Work on the fence and shelter shed for the zoo is progressing rapidly and Commissioner Farrell expects to have everything ready for the animals by next Saturday.

PRICE CASE MAY GO TO JURY THIS WEEK

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 11. — (Special to The Herald.)—When the trial of Frederick Price on the charge of murdering his wife is resumed in district court this afternoon, Charles D. Etchison, the state's principal witness will continue his testimony, which was interrupted by adjournment late yesterday. Counsel said today that there was a possibility of the case going to the jury before the end of the week.

Etchison, who was indicted jointly with Price for the murder of the latter's wife, Mary Fridley Price, daughter of a prominent Minnesota pioneer, was expected to complete his story of the alleged murder and be cross-examined. Yesterday he told of accompanying Price and his wife in an automobile to a point on the river boulemobile to a point on the river boulevard, where, he testified, Price hurled the woman from a cliff to the rocky bank below. He further testified that Price, when he found his wife still breathed, struck her on the head with a stone.

It was believed this morning that the state would complete the presentation of evidence tomorrow.

JACOBSON TO APPEAR BEFORE COMMITTEE

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, Jan. 11.—O. P. B. Jacobson of the Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission arrived in Washington today to appear before the house committee on agriculture on the grain standardization bill to be held Friday. Commissioner Jacobson said he had not examined the bill but that he would insist that nothing should be done that would interfere with the administration of the Minnesota grain law.

COURT BREAKS ALL PRECEDENTS

Precedent of years' standing was broken yesterday by Municipal Court Judge W. H. Smallwood, when he began consideration of a civil case at 5 o'clock and continued to hold court until a few minutes after 6 p. m.

It probably was the first time in the city's history that municipal court has convened at that time of day, for action in either a criminal or civil suit.

Nils Botnen, a night watchman, is suing the Thompson Furniture company of New Duluth to recover $36.53 salary which he alleges is due him. The company admits $23.75 of the debt, but refuses to pay a penny more than that.

Judge Smallwood decided to hear the evidence in the case at the unusual hour, so that several witnesses could come to the central court and testify, without losing an entire day's work.

He expressed a wish to make it easier for them in that way, and his wish was complied with. Shortly after 6 o'clock, when the witnesses had concluded, he adjourned court until this morning. The attorneys will make their arguments later.

Botnen, the plaintiff, in explaining the case, said he had traded hours with other night watchmen, and that he had been short-changed some place in the transaction.

BURGLARS JIMMY WAY INTO SALOON

Burglars who jimmied their way into the retail liquor establishment of James Parkhurst, 2 West First street, last night, left a plumber's bill and took $24 in cash, all there was in two registers.

At least they left a transom open, and the sub-zero temperature did the rest. Frozen water pipes and broken glass told the bartender about the burglary before he looked at the till this morning.

With the exception of the money, nothing was missed, according to employes. The intruders stopped to refresh themselves with a drink or two after completing their work, judging from the way in which a back bar display was disarranged, but that was all.

The burglars were in a hurry when they entered the place, for they broke a transom glass in the front door and crawled through. On the way out, however, they stopped to "jimmy" a door, according to police.

"It looks as though they got in shortly after we closed for the night," one of the bartenders told police. "The pipes were pretty well frozen, as was water in the bar sinks."

Detectives assigned to the case reported no further developments today.

James Parkhurst, proprietor, was unable to help officers in their work. Today he denied that the place had been entered at all, and said "There must be some mistake."

BRITISH RELIEF FORCES HALTED

London, Jan. 11.—The British force in Mesopotamia under Gen. Aylmer, proceeding up the Tigris to the relief of Kut-El-Amara, is still halted at Sheik Said, some twenty miles from Kut-El-Amara, according to latest advices received by the government. The halt is due to weather conditions and the duty of removing the wounded by river.

This announcement was made in the house of commons this afternoon by J. Austen Chamberlain, secretary for India.

British cavalry forces have located the Turks six miles to the eastward of Kut-El-Amara, Mr. Chamberlain added. This is the position from which the Turks were originally driven by Gen. Townsend in the battle of Kut-El-Amara.

BRITISH STEAMSHIP MACFARLANE SUNK

London, Jan. 11.—The British steamer Clan MacFarlane of 4,823 tons has been sunk in the Mediterranean. There are no details of the sinking.

The Clan MacFarlane was sent to the bottom Dec. 30. Six officers and eighteen Lascars have been landed at Malta. Thirteen Lascars died in the lifeboats.

Lime-Loss in Tuberculosis

In the Journal of the American Medical Association (January 17, 1914), was the following:

"It has been many times stated that in tuberculosis or in the pretuberculosis stage an increased amount of calcium (lime) is lost both in the urine and feces. In fact, a demineralization has been thought to be a forerunner of the development of tuberculosis."

If tuberculosis is due to lime loss, the success of Eckman's Alterative in its treatment may be due, in part, to its content of lime, salt so combined with other valuable ingredients as to be easily assimilated.

Always we have urged consumptives to attend strictly to matters of food, but often some effective remedial agent is needed. In many cases of apparent recovery Eckman's Alterative seems to have supplied this need. It contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, so is safe to try. From your druggist or direct.

RAILROADS

Passenger Chairmen Meet.

Chairmen of the different passenger divisions of the Northern Pacific railroad are holding a meeting today in St. Paul for the purpose of electing a general chairman of the order for the Northern Pacific system.

James Hughes, present chairman, who represents the Northern division of the road, which includes Duluth, is likely to be re-elected.

Mr. Hughes has shown conspicuous ability in discharging the duties of his office, according to local railroad men, and it is believed that he will be retained in office.

Railroad Notes.

W. H. Hughes, traveling passenger agent of the Burlington, is in the city today.

W. G. Mitsch, district passenger agent of the Great Western, is in the city today on general passenger business.

Both Mr. Hughes and Mr. Mitsch declared that the winter tourist business of Western roads was far beyond the normal travel in that direction. Both passenger representatives also stated that general travel was showing a heavy increase.

FIND LIFE BELTS OF GERMAN MAN-OF-WAR

Berlin, Jan. 11, wireless to Sayville.—"A Copenhagen newspaper states that life-saving belts from a German man-of-war have been found on the Swedish coast," says the Overseas News agency. "It is stated authoritatively that these belts must be from the German cruiser Bremen, announcement of the sinking of which by a submarine was made officially last month. An accident to any other ship of the German navy is out of the question."

Curling Hair Like This Promotes Its Health

For those whose hair is straight and lank nothing better could be recommended than the silmerine method. This insures a beautiful curliness which is perfectly natural in appearance, and the health of the hair is not affected as where the heated iron is used. A few ounces of liquid silmerine—which can of course be had at any drug store—lasts a long time, so it is quite economical to use. It is pleasant to use, too, being neither sticky nor greasy, and is easily applied with a clean tooth brush. The hair should be moistened the full length before curling.

The pretty wavy effect in evidence in the morning is surprising to those who try this simple method the first time. The liquid also serves as an excellent dressing, giving the hair a delightful gloss.

LAYMEN'S MOVEMENT TO CONQUER WORLD FOR CHRIST

Duluth Will Hear Some of the Greatest Orators of Country at Missionary Convention Here Next Week; Complete Program Is Announced.

"What is the 'laymen's missionary movement?" Is it a money-raising scheme?" These questions have been frequently asked in Duluth of late and the men behind the movement have outlined its purpose as follows:

"The movement, being an 'inspiration and not an administration' seeks to inspire and educate men, with the object that their vision will be widened, their lives strengthened and plans and purposes deepened and made to count for more within their own churches. The movement does not raise or disburse funds for missionary purposes, but stimulates interest in the work of the church to which the individual man belongs, and brings about a co-operation of effort between the men of various churches.

"The movement started about nine years ago at the time of the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the famous 'haystack meeting' of college students at Williamstown, Mass. This celebration was held in New York and a number of laymen conceived the plan of matching their lives to the sacrifices made by the heroic student volunteers and caught a vision of the marvelous progress in Christian work which would be made if the capable and powerful and earnest men of all the churches knew the real facts regarding missions and missionary efforts and results.

"Six years ago a series of seventy-five conventions was held in as many cities, which were centers for conventions areas. At these conventions there was an average of over 1,000 registered delegates, and tremendous impetus was given to a broadening of masculine effort in church and civic life. Since then, hundreds of conferences have been held. Now another series of conventions is being held this winter. The first was held in Chicago in October, and splendid reports have come from all conventions thus far.

Duluth Convention.

"For this territory, the convention will be held in Duluth from Wednesday to Friday, Jan. 19 to 21, with a conservation day on Sunday, Jan. 23. Comparison between present-day conditions and those of ten years ago will be made. The present world outlook demands will be presented by men of nation-wide and world-wide standing. The program is one of the strongest the Head of the Lakes has ever been privileged to enjoy. Prominent leaders of our own nation, including men from Africa, China, Turkey, Alaska, India and other parts of the world will discuss world problems.

"The laymen's missionary movement includes home and foreign missionary work and the immigrant problem.

"Every man in a Christian church and those who desire an enlarged vision of the Christian life and work, should register as delegates."

RUMORS OF SECOND STEEL PLANT UNIT ARE DENIED

During the last few days well defined rumors have been current in Duluth that work was to be begun at once on the second unit of the Duluth steel plant.

It is a matter of common knowledge in Duluth that the steel plant plans were drawn for a plant three times the size of the present one. The plant which has just been completed is but one of three units which will ultimately be built.

One rumor even had it that work had actually been begun on the second unit, and that the construction crew would be retained and work on the second unit pushed while the first one was being operated.

S. B. Sheldon, general superintendent of the company, emphatically denied the report when asked regarding it. He stated that work had not been begun on the second unit and also denied that such a move was contemplated at this time.

TO MAKE T. R. A CANDIDATE

Minnesota Bull Moose Leader Obtains Blanks From Schmahl.

St. Paul, Minn. Jan. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Filing blanks for signatures to present the names of Theodore Roosevelt and Elihu Root to Minnesota voters for the Republican presidential nomination were obtained yesterday from Julius Schmahl, secretary of state.

A. A. D. Rahn of Minneapolis obtained blanks which he expects to have circulated for Roosevelt despite the fact that Roosevelt has said he will not consent to become acandidate at the primaries.

The blanks for Root were taken out by Guy V. Howard of Minneapolis, who will file for Root, although the New York man has said he will protest the submission of his name to voters at the primary.

Mr. Rahn, "bull moose" leader in 1912 and a personal friend of Theodore Roosevelt, got ten petition blanks for a presidential candidate, and several sets of filing blanks for delegates.

"I believe in preparedness, like the colonel," said Mr. Rahn. "We are not going to get caught unprepared this time. Things are shaping themselves fast in the East and it may soon be found advisable to file Col. Roosevelt's name in this state. Nothing has been said or has happened to make it impossible to put his name on the ballot."

Will Interview T. R.

Mr. Rahn plans to go East on business Thursday, and while there will call again at Oyster Bay. Four Minneapolis men who went Sunday night to Chicago to attend the Progressive party conference have been delegated by the Hennepin county progressive committee to go on from there and see Col. Roosevelt, to sound his views and report on a course of action for Minnesota Progressives.

The local delegates who went are Judge M. D. Purdy, national committeeman; L. T. Lincoln, Joseph Allen and J. C. McIntyre. Some of them expect to make the pilgrimage to Oyster Bay. C. W. Halbert of St. Paul, state chairman, also went to the Chicago conference. The Minnesota men were joined here by a delegation from North Dakota. It included A. R. Turner of Fargo, Progressive party state chairman; Dorr H. Carroll of Minot, proxy for A. Y. More, national committeeman; Dan McAllen of Osnabrock, and P. O. Thorson of Grand Forks.

Estabrook Headquarters.

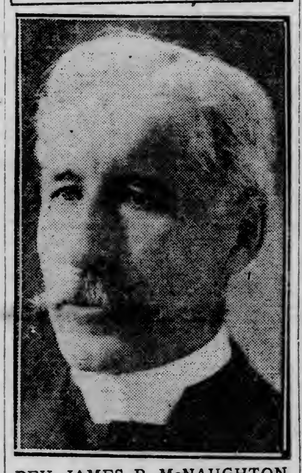

Headquarters for Henry D. Estabrook, Republican candidate for president, were opened at the West hotel, Minneapolis, yesterday, by Edgar L. Noyes.

That Theodore Roosevelt probably will be the Republican candidate and that he will bring forward some entirely new and at present unsuspected issue is the gossip at Washington, according to Charles C. Daniels, special prosecutor for the government in charge of White Earth Indian litigation, who has just returned from a trip to the national capital.

"Everybody knows that Roosevelt has something up his sleeve," said Mr. Daniels. "He and Wilson don't differ greatly on the matter of preparedness; it is only a difference of degree. Roosevelt will spring something new."

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Friends of Former State Senator Manley S. Fosseen of Minneapolis are urging him to file for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor. Senator Fosseen has served several terms in the house and senate and is well known in the state.

SERVED THIRTY YEARS AS TURKISH MISSIONARY

REV. JAMES P. McNAUGHTON.

Rev. James P. McNaughton is one of the best known missionaries of the American Board in Turkey, having served nearly thirty years in that country. He has been in charge of the evangelistic work in the district of Smyrna and also at Brousa, the ancient capital of Turkey. In recent years he has been principal of a large high school of 600 boys at Bardezag in Asia Minor, not far from Constantinople.

Mr. McNaughton is a Canadian, and when Turkey went into the war he was arrested by the Turkish forces and taken into the interior where he was interned. By the exercise of rare tact and shrewdness he persuaded the officials to allow him to come to this country. No man living is better fitted to speak of the general political and religious conditions in the Turkish empire. He is also conversant with the Moslem problem throughout the world. Mr. McNaughton is a graduate of Queen's college, Kingston, and Union Theological Seminary, New York.

ATTEMPTED ARSON AT AMBROSE, N. D.

Ambrose, N. D., Jan. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—When Fred Fox, a clerk of the City pharmacy, opened the store in the morning he found the building filled with the fumes of alcohol and on investigation discovered that a barrel of denatured alcohol in a rear room had been turned on and fired and that the interior of the room was badly charred. A table was nearly consumed and many of the bottles of chemicals on the prescription case shelves were broken from the heat.

Some one had gained access to the building through the basement and had lighted a pile of papers under the faucet of the alcohol barrel and then turned the fluid on the flames.

RIFLE RANGE LAND VALUED BY JURY

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The jury in the Hillsboro rifle range condemnation case in the United States district court fixed a value on five different pieces of property in the vicinity of Hillsboro for the state rifle range, located on a section of land belonging to Nels and Elsie Johnson.

The state and the owners failed to arrive at an agreement as to the price and the state started condemnation proceedings, at the same time starting proceedings against several other pieces of property as an alternative.

In the case of the Johnson property the jury set a value of $2,100, the prices of other lands for range purposes being fixed at $160, $350, $275 and $1,900.

Ishpeming Man Dies.

Ishpeming, Mich., Jan. 11.—Nicholas Cox, who for some years past has conducted a liquor business in the Loosleyong building, died Jan. 9 of kidney trouble. Mr. Cox was a native of England, where he was born forty-five years ago. He came to America before he reached his majority and had been located in Ishpeming ever since. He worked in the mines for eleven years, until sixteen years ago, when he engaged in the saloon business in partnership with his brother, John Cox. Mr. Cox was married in this city nine years ago, and besides his widow is survived by two daughters, Elizabeth and Ethel. Four sisters and a brother are living in England. The funeral will be held Wednesday.

AGAIN CHOSEN HEAD OF CROOKSTON SCHOOLS

G. H. SANBERG.

Crookston, Minn., Jan. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Supt. G. H. Sanberg of the local schools, who came here in 1914 from Windom, Minn., was re-elected superintendent yesterday for a third year by the board of education and his salary increased to $2,600 per annum.

VIOLATIONS OF POSTAL LAWS

Seven Cases Brought Before Federal Jury By Inspector.

Seven violations of the United States postal laws will be aired by the Federal grand jury, which went into session this afternoon at the Federal building.

Postoffice Inspector T. G. Gowan arrived from Minneapolis today ready to bring the first complaint before the jury this afternoon. All the cases will be brought up as quickly as possible.

As Mr. Gowan does not want to "tip his hand" before the jury acts, he did not give out any detailed information today regarding the complaints.

Mr. Gowan has been in Minneapolis for the last two months, working with the postal authorities there revising the mail delivery service. More automobiles will be used, he says, and the whole delivery system has been changed to meet requirements of the hour.

The same thing will be done in Duluth, says Mr. Gowan. An inspector is expected here the middle of February, and every department of the delivery service will be gone over and changes recommended. Mr. Gowan, however, will leave for Seattle after the January term of the Federal court, and he will be stationed there permanently. He said that another inspector would be sent to Duluth to go over the ground here.

BEATEN BY BOLD THUGS

Highwaymen Pounced on August Suomela From Behind Billboard.

Beaten into insensibility and robbed of $18 at about 8 o'clock last night, August Suomela, 276 South First avenue east, was found in the snow near his home an hour later by John Hermanson, with whom he rooms.

When attacked by the thugs, Suomela told police soon after the robbery, he was on his way home. Just a few feet from the house there is a sign board and the robbers, pouncing upon him as he passed, struck him over the head with a stick.

He was felled almost instantly, and when Hermanson found him, he still was unconscious. His pocketbook, containing one $10 bill and eight $1 bills, was missing.

Detectives at once were assigned to the case, and combed the district along South First avenue east, in an attmept to locate the pair responsible for the hold up.

The victim was unable to furnish them with a description of the men, but dectectives have several clews which should lead to the apprehension of them, it was believed at headquarters today.

This is the first affair of its kind in several weeks, and the robbers were unusually bold, as the scene of the hold-up is scarcely two blocks from Superior street. Nearby pedestrians, of which there were several, did not see the affair, police were told.

As nearly as Suomela could tell, the robbery occurred at 8 o'clock or shortly before.

SAY PAVING IS NOT NEEDED NOW

A petition, signed by 108 prominent men and women, protesting against the paving of East First street and favoring the resurfacing of the thoroughfare with granite or trap rock, was filed with City Clerk Borgen this morning.

The petitioners claim that a new pavement costing about $70,000 is not necessary at this time and that a resurfacing, with trap rock and a top dressing of rock screenings and a loam binder, would be satisfactory for the next five or ten years. The latter improvement will cost only about one-fifth of a new pavement, it is estimated.

Yesterday afternoon the council ordered East First street paved, but in view of this petition, the council will call a conference of the property owners before the contract is awarded.

The Secret of Having Pretty Pearly Teeth

Nothing adds so much to one's attractiveness as pretty pearly teeth. Unfortunately, few have stainless teeth, because even the most persistent brushing with the usual dentifrices will not remove those horrid brown, black or grayish "placques." These are thin films of fat, found on all teeth, and when they become discolored, the dentist must scrape them off, or—this is a truly valuable secret—they can be quickly removed by simply brushing the teeth with refined avatol! Now I see you taking a short cut to the drug store for a tube of this remarkable substance. You'll not regret trying it. You will be perfectly astonished to see how glistening white and beautiful the avatol will make your teeth, without scratching or any harmful effect. Furthermore, it's wonderful for keeping your gums firm, healthy and rosy.

Have you read about the recent experiments made by eminent dental and medical professors and their discovery that that distressing affection, pyorrhea, was caused by a certain parasite, or "ameba?" Well, it is now known that refined avatol positively destroys this ameba. So its daily use (like tooth paste) may save you all the annoyance of spongy, bleeding, receding gums and loose teeth!—The Queen.

SNEAK THIEVES GET CLOTHING

Sub-zero weather provided inspiration for at least two thieves yesterday.

Between 2 and 4 p. m. yesterday, while Dr. James McAuliffe was at work in his office, 605-606 Alworth building, some one entered his outer office, took an overcoat and a pair of gloves from a wardrobe closet, and made good his escape.

Dr. McAuliffe told police he placed his apparel in the closet about 2 o'clock, but when he went to get it shortly after 4, it was gone. He was in his privcate office, or the adjoining room, practically all the time, according to police.

The thief left the physician's hat and muffler on the floor, and evidently had just reached in through the door long enough to snatch the coat. The gloves were in one of the coat pockets.

A similar experience was reported by Henry L. Sabrosky, roomer at the Cliff hotel, Superior street, between Fifth and Sixth avenue west. A suit and overcoat, valued at $45, were taken from his room closet some time during the early part of the evening, he told police.

DULUTH SENDS FINE NAVY RECRUITS

A report received by E. A. Nippa, navy recruiting agent in charge of the local navy recruiting station in the postoffice building from Lieut. Frank J. Wile, officer in charge of the entire Minnesota and Dakota navy recruiting district, shows that for the last three months of a total of ninety-three recruits sent to the naval training station at Great Lakes, Ill., there was a loss of but three to the service making the recruits average 97 per cent desirable. Considering the large number of men sent from this district, this showing leads the entire Mississippi valley in desirable men sent to the navy.

A total of 365 men was enlisted in the Minnesota and Dakota district for the year just ending, which establishes a record since 1908 where more men were enlisted, but there was a correspondingly larger number of losses. The men from this section of the country, coming mostly from smaller cities and from the farms, make the best recruits for the navy. Many of them are expert gun pointers, who aim and fire the heavy guns and others become expert wireless and electrical gunners, machinists, boatswains and warrant carpenters at salaries of $2,400 per annum.

The Duluth, Minn., station contributed a larger number of desirable recruits to the above totals than during any previous year.

IMPALED ON IRON ROD.

North Dakotan Pulls Rod From Body Then Seeks Aid.

Wyndmere, N. D., Jan. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank Chilson, while working at John Gessel's farm north of here, suffered an accident from which there is little hope of his recovery. In taking the end gate off of a wagon Chilson threw the rod to the ground where it stuck in the snow in an upright position. Later Chilson jumped off the end of the wagon backward and struck directly on the rod with the result that it was driven into his pelvis about eight inches, piercing the intestines in several places. The injured man displayed remarkable grit by removing the rod without assistance and then catching a ride on a wagon to this place for medical attention. There are few chances for his recovery.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

RUBBER PRICES TAKE BIG JUMP

Advance From 60 Cents to $1.00 a Pound in Six Weeks.

Manufacturers of waterproof footwear, automobile tires, and users of rubber generally are greatly excited over the steadily advancing market in the cost of the raw material.

Within the last few days the sale of a large lot of plantation rubber was reported at $1.02 per pound, an advance of 42 cents from the prevailing level of six weeks ago. During 1913 the average price of raw rubber was 58 cents a pound, and up to the time the recent advance started last November, it had been selling at around 60 cents per pound, so that the rapidity of the present rise has cut the ground from under the feet of the trade.

One of the principal troubles in the rubber market is said to be the lack of vessel capacity to move supplies from the East to this country. Sumatra and Ceylon have abundance of raw rubber to sell, but they are unable to obtain the ships to transport it. Under present conditions, sharp advances in quotations of automobile tires and footwear are predicted.

REPORT ON PAROLES.

Out of 132 persons placed on parole by the municipal court during 1915, only two were women according to the annual report of Frank Hicks, probation officer, submitted yesterday to Mayor Prince.

During the year 175 were released from their parole, fifteen were com-laws, fifty-two remained on probation with the beginning of this year and a total of $1,684 was collected for the probationers and distributed to their families, according to the report.

A Hint to Mothers of Growing Children

A Mild Laxative at Regular Intervals Will Prevent Constipation

A vital point upon which all schools of medicine seem to agree is that normal regularity of the bowels is an essential to good health. The importance of this is impressed particularly on mothers of growing children.

A very valuable remedy that should be kept in every home for use as occasion arises is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a compound of simple laxative herbs that has been prescribed by Dr. W. B. Caldwell of Monticello, Ill., for more than twenty-five years, and which can now be obtained in any well stocked drug store for fifty cents a bottle.

In a recent letter to Dr. Caldwell, Mrs. H. C. Turner, 844 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., says, "I bought a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for my baby, Roland Lee Turner, and find it works just like you said it would. It is fine for the stomach and bowels."

ROLAND LEE TURNER.

A bottle of Dr .Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin should be in every home. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 454 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

ORDER THREE PAVING JOBS

Three Miles of Pavement in Woodland District Will Be Laid.

Salary Schedule Approved; School Assessment Case to Be Appealed.

WHAT THE COUNCIL DID.

Ordered three of the biggest paving jobs on the 1916 improvement program.

Approved the 1916 salary schedules, giving raises to more than 100 city employes.

Heard second reading of the ordinance establishing election districts at Woodland and Kenwood Park.

Appropriated $3,000 for the purchase of library books during the first half of 1916.

Awarded the contract for laying a sanitary sewer in Luther avenue to Gust Hiner on his bid of $2,211.

Authorized the city assessor to purchase an adding machine for $446.

Appropriated $165 to pay for the city's share in maintaining electric lights at the street intersections with Proctor.

Granted Chris Tracey a transfer of his saloon from 5610 Raleigh street to 410 Central avenue.

Heard second reading of the ordinance appropriating $5,000 for the construction of a concrete culvert over Miller's creek at Lincoln park.

Three of the biggest pavements on the city's 1916 improvement program were ordered by the council yesterday afternoon.

A stretch of nearly three miles in the Woodland district, the largest single improvement of the year, including Fourth street, from Twenty-seventh avenue east to Wallace avenue; Wallace avenue, from Fourth street to Woodland avenue, and Woodland avenue, from Wallace avenue to Austin street, was ordered paved. In addition, the council ordered Central avenue, from Cody to Columbia street, and First street, from Sixth to Twenty-third avenue east, improved during this year. It is probable that East First street will be resurfaced with trap rock, instead of paved, the final decision resting with the property owners, who will meet next week.

Salary Schedule Approved.

The council adopted the resolution introduced by Commissioner Voss, finance head, establishing the 1916 salary schedule for all city employes. The new salaries are effective at once, excepting the blanket raise of $5 a month for the police department, which will go into effect on July 1. A total of 100 employes are affected.

Gust Hiner was awarded the contract to lay a sanitary sewer in Luther avenue, from Anoka street to Woodland avenue, on his bid of $2,211.

City Assessor Scott was authorized to purchase an adding machine from the Burroughs company on its bid of $466.

The Kelley Hardware company was awarded the contract to furnish the fire department with a set of rubber tires on its bid of $298.92.

The council passed the ordinances appropriating $3,000 for the purchase of library books during the first half of the year, $900 in payment of three lots through which the boulevard runs in the West end, $250 to reimburse City Engineer Ayres, who represented the city at the hearing on the New Duluth bridge at Washington last Thursday; $250 for overtime work at the aerial bridge during this year, $165 for lights near Proctor, $211 for gas lights on Kent road and $900 for power to run the aerial bridge during 1916. Second reading was given the measures appropriating $5,000 for a concrete culvert over Miller's creek, $700 for the purchase of 400 square yards of sandstone paving blocks, $200 for the purchase of 6,000 paving brick and $150 for printing the index of the council proceedings during 1915.

Granted License Transfer.

Chris Tracey was granted a transfer of his saloon license from 5610 Raleigh street to 410 Central avenue. Other licenses granted yesterday follow:

Saloons—Jerry Cavisin, 248 Lake avenue south; Edward Peterson, 118 East Superior street; Max Clemens, 635 West Superior street.

Cigarettes—Carrie Leadstrand, 11 East First street; Gust Kallimanis, 30 East Superior street; Martin Cigar company, 412 West Superior street; O. K. Weinman, 1502 East Superior street; W. A. Wagner, 15 Second avenue west; H. J. Jeronimus, 501 East Fourth street; N. S. Mitchell, 408 West Superior street.

Second hand stores—H. Berkovich, 703 West Superior street; D. Ostrov, 701 West Superior street; M. Shapiro, 723 West Superior street; Max Sweet, 507½ West Superior street; M. Sklarsk, 925 West Michigan street, and A. Sidlen, 17 Sixth avenue west.

Assessments on the New Duluth sewer job completed last winter will be accepted by the city without penalties if they are paid within twenty days, according to a resolution adopted yesterday. Property owners last week petitioned the council to remove the penalty on the ground that the improvement was made only to help the unemployed.

Appeal Assessment Case.

When City Attorney Samuelson notified the commissioners of Judge Cant's decision exempting the board of education from permanent improvement assessments, the council agreed to take the case to the supreme court for a final disposition of a question that has been in doubt for many years.

Mayor Prince will introduce a resolution next week authorizing the city attorney to appeal the case in the supreme court and appropriating approximately $250 to help pay the court costs.

Judge Cant's decision bars the city from assessing the school board for any street improvements and unless the supreme court overrules these findings, the council's paving programs in years to come will be greatly hampered.

The case concerned proceedings instituted jointly by the city and county to enforce payment of assessments delinquent on the first Monday in January, 1915, and affecting the tracts of land on which are located the Pond du Lac, Lincoln and Lester Park schools. The assessments, exclusive of penalties, totaled $1,219.

RAPS LA FOLLETTE.

Wisconsin Governor Says Senator Had Better Remain in Washington.

Janesville, Wis., Jan. 11.—Governor E. L. Philipp of Wisconsin replied at length to the many statements made by Senator La Follette in his speaking campaign in the state in a speech here last night before a business men's organization. He charged that the senator had misrepresented many things about his administration.

"I feel that I should say to the people of Wisconsin that it would be better for the state and in the interest of the people if Senator La Follette were at Washington attending to his business, and I were permitted to remain in Madison and attend to my business," declared Governor Philipp.

Water and Light Department Files Its Schedule of Promotions.

Sixteen promotions and salary raises in the water and light department will be authorized by the city council at its next regular meeting.

A schedule of the promotions and raises was prepared yesterday by Manager Reed of the department and a resolution authorizing him to carry out the program will be introduced by Commissioner Merritt.

Although the council authorized the schedule for all the departments at the meeting yesterday, the water and light program was not included, because of the absence of Commissioner Merritt. He will notify the council of the promotions during this week and introduce a resolution next Monday authorizing the salary raises, Manager Reed announced today.

N. P. SHOWS BIG GROSS EARNINGS

Not Much Construction Work Carried Out During Last Fiscal Year.

Gross earnings of $63,000,000 were shown by the Northern Pacific railway during its fiscal year ended June 30, last, according to its annual report just issued.

Operating expenses, including $21,000,000 for labor, aggregated $37,000,000. Road maintenance cost, $3,767,000; replacing old rails, $262,000; new ties, $1,700,000; expenditures for bridge repairs, $609,000, and repairs to freight cars, $2,862,000.

Although no extensive construction was carried out last year, yet in the many additions and realignments made here and there, 112 miles were added to the road's mileage, bringing it up to nearly 6,700 miles. Over 300 miles of main and branch lines were newly laid, or relaid with steel rails weighing eighty-five or ninety pounds in lieu of lighter rails.

Equipment was improved to the extent of adding 127 passenger cars of various classes. Of these, 113 were steel and cost in excess of $1,000,000.

Freight carried during the year aggregated 177,000,000 tons from which the revenue amounted to not quite 8½ mills for each ton carried one mile.

FAMILY OF SIX NEARLY FROZEN

Bowbells, N. D., Jan. 11.—Driving through a blinding snow storm at midnight Saturday and losing their way, Frank Blair, wife and three children, were almost exhausted by the cold before they reached a neighbor's home.

Another member of the family, a son, searched for them, and he, too, suffered severely before he reached shelter.

CATARRH LEADS TO CONSUMPTION

Catarrh is as much a blood disease as scrofula or rheumatism. It may be relieved, but it cannot be removed by simply local treatment. It causes headache and dizziness, impairs the taste, smell and hearing, affects the voice, deranges the digestion, and breaks down the general health. It weakens the delicate lung tissues and leads to consumption.

Hood's Sarsaparilla goes to the seat of the trouble, purifies the blood, and is so successful that it is known as the best remedy for catarrh.

Hood's Sarsaparilla strengthens and tones the whole system. It builds up. Ask your druggist for Hood's, and insist on having it. There is no real substitute.

NEW RECORD FOR OUTPUT

Steel Mills Will Make New High Marks in January.

Good Progress Is Reported in Two Important Mergers.

That the output of iron and steel products in this country during the present month will again set new high records is the opinion of experts.

The demand for steel is said to continue unabated and prices on many products were advanced during the last week. Bar iron has gone up $6 a ton in less than a month, and since Jan. 1 pipe has advanced $1 and $2 a ton. Plates are selling at $2.50 per 100 pounds, Pittsburgh, as compared with only $1.10 a year ago. Cut nails were advanced $2 per ton and tin plate 15 cents per box during the last week.

Substantial progress is reported in two important mergers that have been under negotiation during the last six months and it is expected that announcements will be made in the near future. It is theught that the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company and the Cambria and Lackawanna Steel companies' deal will be put through shortly. A price of $90 a share is said to have been agreed upon for the Lackawanna Steel company's stock. Earnings of that company during the last two months are said to have been the largest in its history.

Mills Refusing Orders.

Steel manufacturers aver that there is an immense amount of foreign business offering, much of it from Argentina and the other South American countries, as well as from Japan. Mills, however, are compelled to refuse to quote on a large proportion of this business because they cannot promise deliveries during the first six months of the year.

On account of inadequate capacity for producing semi-finished steel, considerable new plant construction is under way. The Inland Steel company is building immense additions to its plant at Inland Harbor and has placed a contract with the Westinghouse company for a complete electrical equipment for its new mills. They will be the largest electrically-driven steel mills in the world. An outlay of approximately $1,500,000 will be involved.

Commenting upon the situation in the trade, the Iron Age says:

"The annual convass of new steel capacity under construction shows far greater additions under way for 1916 than any estimates the trade has entertained. Independent steel companies are building or have plans for seventy-three new open-hearth furnaces with an annual capacity of 2,715,000 tons of ingots, while the Steel corporation has made appropriations for eighteen new furnaces (including four large ones for duplexing), representing 1,550,000 tons a year.

"Here is the amazing total of 4,265,000 tons of capacity coming forward—an amount fairly raising the question whether war prosperity may not lead to the overdoing of new construction.

"The country is now making pig iron at the rate of 38,800,000 tons a year, including charcoal iron. At the opening of 1915, with 147 furnaces in blast, or half the number now running, the active capacity represented only about 18,000,000 tons. One of the results of the year is thus an increased output per unit in operation.

"Our estimate of the pig iron production of last year is 29,950,000 gross tons, which puts the record of 1915, with all the handicap of six poor months at the beginning, second only to the 30,966,000 tons of 1913."

SENATOR REED SEES DIPLOMATIC VICTORY

Predicts John Bull Will Change Ways Respecting American Shipping.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 11.—Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, addressing a patriotic mass meeting here last night, ventured as his personal opinion that within sixty days England will yield to the contentions of the United States based upon America's rights as a neutral power in regard to the seizure of American vessels. Senator Reed added that failure on the part of Great Britain to conform to the principles of international law would doubtless result in an embargo being placed on all shipments to her ports from America.

Senator Reed made it clear that he was distinctly voicing his own opinion.

Preparedness, he said, should begin in the home. While not favoring a large standing army, he declared it should be of sufficient size to build the structure of a great citizen soldiery. He advocated military schools that more citizens might be apt soldiers if needed in time of threatened invasion.

NO FRICTION BETWEEN H. C. FRICK AND E. H. GARY

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 11.—Reports that Henry C. Frick, prominently identified with the United States Steel corporation, is not in sympathy with the official conduct of E. H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors, and that he is trying to unseat him, were denied here last night in a statement authorized by Mr. Frick and given out by H. C. Mcildowney, a local banker, and one of Mr. Frick's closest friends. Instead, according to the statement, "the relations of Mr. Frick with Judge Gary and other officials of the corporation are of the friendliest and most harmonious character."

The statement also says that Mr. Frick has no connection whatever with any proposed combination of steel companies and that he no longer has any interest in the Cambria Steel company.

FORMER CITY ATTORNEY HURT

H. A. Carmichael Injured When Auto Strikes Street Car.

When a trolley car stopped suddenly between corners to allow a belated passenger to alight yesterday, H. A. Carmichael, former city attorney, was slightly injured.

The car left the Ninth avenue corner on East Superior street, and then suddenly stopped a few feet farther on. Mr. Carmichael, driving an automobile, was about to pass the car, and applied his brakes so suddenly that he was thrown across the wheel, and sustained several slight cuts when the windshield glass was broken as the auto hit the car.

Members of the Carmichael family, also in the machine, were not injured.

PUBLIC EXAMINER KNEW OF SHORTAGES THREE YEARS AGO

Report on Register of Deeds Office Made in December, 1912.

Did Not Inform County Attorney of Fact Until Last Week.

CLEAN BILL OF HEALTH.

Despite the fact that a special examination of the books of the register of deed's office in December, 1912, revealed shortages and discrepancies amounting to several hundred dollars and that the facts were within the knowledge of State Public Examiner Fritz, here is the clean bill which Mr. Fritz gave the office in his report for the year ending June 30, 1913, on file in the office of the county auditor:

"The examiner reports that all moneys collected for the preceding month are now turned over to the county treasurer before the 10th of the succeeding month, a report accompanied by the proper sub-vouchers being filed with the auditor, and that the reception record and fee book were compared with footings proved and found to agree with the report to the auditor. The books and records, the examiner advises, are kept as prescribed by law and the affairs are handled in an efficient manner."

Since December of 1912, State Public Examiner Andrew E. Fritz has been in possession of facts tending to show defalcations among attaches of the register of deed's office in St. Louis county covering a period of years.

Custom, if not a requirement of law, has been that the public examiner in cases where investigations show that there have been unexplainable shortages in the accounts of public officials, places such information immediately in the hands of the public prosecutors.

County Attorney Warren E. Greene today declared that with the exception of the report of the Anderson-Clark affair made public by him Sunday, no other report of shortages in the offices of the register of deeds had come to him from the state public examiner.

The defalcations complained of by the state public examiner to the county attorney are now outlawed so far as any prosecution of the officials involved is concerned.

Mr. Greene stated this morning that since January, 1913, when he assumed charge of the county attorney's office he had received but one report from the public examiner's office with reference to shortages or embezzlements in the register of deeds office and that was the one which came into his possession last week.

Letter to Norton.

The county attorney also declared that he had no knowledge of any similar report having been made to his predecessor, John H. Norton, during the six years he occupied the office. "If any such report was made to Mr. Norton," he said, "I believe that I would have known about it as I was then acting as his first assistant."

In December, 1912, before Mr. Greene took charge of the county attorney's office, an investigation of the affairs of the register of deed's office was made by Andrew G. Wasgatt, special examiner employed by the county board. He made the following report to Public Examiner Fritz in a letter under date of Dec. 18, 1912, a copy of which is published herewith:

"Duluth, Minn., Dec. 18, 1912.

"Andrew E. Fritz, public examiner, St. Paul, Minn.—Dear Sir: The work I have done in the register of deeds office so far, has been of a preliminary character largely, and I have concluded to write you for the purpose of getting your advice before attempting to carry out any detailed plan, and in order to assist, I will give a brief synopsis of what I have done, with comments thereon:

"Commenced work Monday, Dec. 2, 1912.

"Found some forty-five instruments, deeds and mortgages, held for payment of taxes and accompanied by no filing fees though many of them are marked "Paid."

"These instruments have been accumulating for more than a year, and I think the most of them can be adjusted when an officer will take the trouble to correspond with the parties from whom they have been received.

"At the time B. F. Smith, the present register of deeds, took over the office, there were due the various firms of lawyers, real estate and conveyancing agents the sum of $182.61 for sums of money advanced and deposited with his predecessor against the cost of filing instruments for recording. Since Oct. 3, $87.88 has been paid in or accounted for by Thomas J. Clark, chief deputy under the former incumbent, M. C. Palmer, which leaves an unsettled balance of $94.73.

Sent Bill to Bondsman.

"A bill for that amount was made out and presented to Simon Clark, as bondsman for Thomas J. Clark, who refused payment on the plea that the county should first exhaust the resources of the principal for whom he is surety.

"Note—Attorney Charles E. Adams for the county board, advises me that they are not particularly concerned over the matter of this deposit account, as in his judgment, that is wholly a matter between the ex-register of deeds, or his estate, and the several persons and firms who have made the advances.

"A check of twenty instruments, out of 1,499 recorded in the month of September, showed correct charges in each instance in the reception book.

"A check of twenty instruments out of 1,405 recorded in the month of August, 1912, showed correct charges for twelve and short charges for eight, varying from 25 cents to 50 cents each, on the other eight (instruments consisted of powers of attorneys, liens, application to register titles, final decrees and mortgages). For the twenty instruments the shortage, according to my reckoning, was $3.

"Fifteen instruments, recorded in the month of July, 1912, for the firm of Stryker, Manley & Buck (a depositor), showed correct charges in each instance.

"Thirteen instruments recorded in the months of June and July, 1912, for the firm of W. M. Prindle & Co., showed correct charges in each instance except for two long form mortgages that were charged for at $2 each, which latter figure would have been the correct amount to collect.

"Sixteen instruments recorded in the month of July, 1912, for the firm of Crassweller, Crassweller & Blu (depositors), showed correct charges excepting in two instances—two writs of attachment charged at $1.50 each, when the correct amount should have been $1.

"Fourteen instruments recorded in the month of July, 1912, for the firm of Washburn, Bailey & Mitchell, showed correct charges except for three right-of-way deeds or easements which I found short $2 of the amount that ought to have been collected when applying the rule set forth in section 3368, R. L. 1905, and treating government sub-divisions the same as 'lots.'

"Note—It would appear as though this office for years adopted as a rule of its own for fixing a charge for transcribing plats of this nature, which was to determine relative amount of time at $5 per diem for transcribing plats when accompanying deeds, which method results sometimes in collecting larger amounts than the rule adopted by me. I will call particular attention to this matter either in my report to be submitted later provided you see fit to continue me on the job, or I can give my views with regard to same in a letter to your office.

"The checking of mortgage record No. 224, beginning with November, 1904 (W. M. Prindle Co.'s long form) shows a shortage of $96.75. The amount of fees entered on the reception book are $179.50, and the amount that should have been entered, according to my reckoning, was $276.25.

"Note—This was a $2.50 form. In 1904, the customary charge for the same was $1. In 1907, the charge was $1.50. The customary charge for the last two years has been $2.

"Mortgage record No. 225 (W. M. Prindle Co.'s long form) from January, 1905, to Nov. 12, 1912, shows a shortage of $180.50, the amount of fees entered on the reception book being $377, as against $557.50, which latter sum would have been correct.

"Note—This was a $2.50 form. Usual charge in 1905 was $1 each, but during the latter part of that year entered at $1.50 each; full charge of $2.50 made in one instance during July of that year, and in that case the instrument was returned to Thomas Jensen, the mortgagee. One instance shows that no charge was made for recording the instrument. Customary charges for the last two years, $2, with occasional charges at $2.50. Last three instruments entered under the present regime (B. F. Smith) at $2.50 each.

"Mortgage record, No. 223, a $1.75 printed form, beginning March 3, 1909, and ending Aug. 25, 1910, (sixteen instruments only), short $4.25.

"Fees charged on reception book being $26, whereas the charge should have amounted to $30.25, as determined by law.

"Deed record, No. 293, beginning March, 1909, and ending December, 1912, shows shortage of $154 and an overrun of $30.15, $12.25 of which over-run occurs in the last ten instruments recorded under the present regime.

"Note—This record has been largely used for the purpose of recording right-of-way deeds and like other instruments having plats attached, and for the transcribing of which plats, as heretofore stated, the office has adopted a rule of its own instead of applying the rule laid down in section 3383, R. L. 1905.

"Mortgage record, No. 237, beginning Aug. 1, 1908, and ending Nov. 16, 1912, according to the reception book, shows collection of fees amounting to $374.50, and, according to my reckoning, should have been $429.75, making a shortage of $55.25.

"Note—This was a $2 form, printed record, largely in use by Pulford, How & Co., with a uniform charge of $1.50 for the period up to August, 1910, after which date the charge was entered at $2 each with the exception of one instrument for which no charge was made.

"I saw a clerk in W. M. Prindle & Co.'s office on the 14th inst., who has charge of their accounts and had been in their employ for the past eleven years, and she says that the usual charge for recording their mortgages is either $2 or $2.50 each, depending upon the form used, and has always been such to the best of her recollection, that they have the fee bills on file and that they can be referred to if desired.

"On the same day I saw Mr. Bailey of Washburn, Bailey & Mitchell, who offered to show me the fee bills which have been rendered their firm from time to time.

"The same day I saw Mr. How of the firm of Pulford, How & Co., who said that according to his recollection the uniform charge for recording their form of mortgage is $2 and has been for as long as he can remember. He also said that he thought they had the fee bills for such charges and that they could be referred to if necessary to verify the items.

"From the foregoing memoranda, it does not require a stretch of imagination to infer that there has been more or less peculation going on for a number of years. I do not think the aggregate amount will be found large, as from what information I was able to gain in the two weeks I have worked on the job, I judge that $100 per month would more than cover the same.

"It would be, in my opinion, a tremendous job to make a thorough check of each item entered in the reception book from Jan. 1, 1903, as requested by the board of county commissioners, and would be a clear waste of time and energy for the period preceding 1907, for which period no recovery could be made for shortages, if any occurred, by reason of the statute of limitation.

"In order to determine somewheres near the amount of work that would have to be done in order to make a satisfactory check of the records for the past six years, I have made a brief survey of the books of record that have been in use during that period to-wit: Seven, plats; two, power of attorney; thirteen agreements; thirteen liens; thirteen, miscellaneous; 123 deeds; 114; mortgages. In addition to the above are: Patents, land office receipts, bond records, tax assignments and tax certificates, which I consider unimportant. It would, in my judgment, take from three to six months to work out the job on the above basis.

"If the purpose of the authorities was to find grounds for the prosecution of an officer for malfeasance, I would suggest that the quickest and the best way would be to go to the various firms located in Duluth who have been doing business with the office, and borrow their fee bills for the purpose of checking same against the records and making copies thereof.

"I have not seen the report of your office covering county offices for St. Louis county for the year 1911-1912, though I understand such has been made, and I have acted on the assumption that it covers the general accounting for that period.

"The custom of covering into the county treasury funds and fees collected a month or more after the close of business of the month for which such collections have been made, which habit or custom was, no doubt, called to your attention by the person who made the examination, still prevails so far as the registrar of titles branch is concerned.

"Note. In connection with above memoranda, I wish to say that W. A. Anderson is the deputy in charge of this department and is a fine fellow, and I do not wish to convey the impression that he was not performing his duties properly or that his account is not absolutely correct. In fact, I have every reason to believe that they are, but I believe that the register of deeds, whoever he may be, should be strictly required to cover into the treasury all the monies collected for the preceding month not later than the first Monday of the succeeding month and file a report, accompanied by the proper vouchers, with the county auditor at the time so that it may be presented to the county board at their first monthly meeting thereafter.

"All this memoranda, with the exception of the last paragraph and the note in connection therewith, has reference wholly to the register of deeds records. I have spent practically no time examining records or accounts in the register of title's division, which department, I believe, can be examined satisfactorily in from two to four weeks, as I anticipate there will be no irregularities shown there.

"Finally there is another phase of the situation with reference to this office which came under my notice and which must have been manifest to the other officers in your department, and that is the extraordinary (at least it would appear so to me) expense attached to the running of the register of deeds office.

"For the nine months beginning with January, 1912, and ending with September of that year, the reports of the register of deeds show:

Earnings (including county work)	$10,086.19
Payrolls (not including register's salary)	9,971.12
Net earnings over payrolls	$ 115.07

"At least one clerk at $80 per month, whose duties appertain wholly to the register of deeds department so far as I am able to judge is carried on the payroll of the registrar of titles. When this amount is taken into account as part of the expense of the register of deeds department, said department is made to show payment of $64.99 per month for said department in excess of total collections, and that does not take into account the salary of the register of deeds, nor the cost of books and supplies.

"It would seem to me that it is quite within the range of possibilities for the incoming officer, after he has become familiar with his duties to reorganize and bring that office up to a paying standard. Your familiarity with the manner in which other like offices are run in this state must put you in position to know if such a conclusion on my part is right or wrong.

"Respectfully submitted,

"Andrew J. Wasgatt."

TO END CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Any one who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial. —Advertisement.

KELLIHER LICENSES ARE TURNED DOWN

Bemidji, Minn., Jan. 11.—Acting under the instruction of Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith, who through County Attorney Graham M. Torrance and Sheriff Andrew Johnson of Beltrami county served an order on the village council at Kelliher, and that place, last night, voted down three applications for liquor licenses, which had been applied for despite the fact that Kelliher is in the Indian territory.

The order said that the none of the applications had been published two weeks and that two of the applicants, William Bemsley and R. J. Houpere, were disqualified on account of being convicted on a recent liquor law violation. The other applicant, Gust Olson, was turned down on the publication clause only.

WILLIAM ORR MUST CLOSE HIS SALOON

County Attorney Warren E. Greene today served an injunction on William Orr restraining him from conducting his saloon at Orr, this county.

The injunction was issued following the filing of the mandate of the state supreme court with the district court clerk.

Several months ago Judge Fesler signed an order for the injunction, but Orr, through his attorney, John H. Norton, appealed to the supreme court.

The case arose from an irregularity in the issuance of a liquor license.

DULUTH GAS RATES FOURTH LOWEST.

Duluth's gas rates are the fourth lowest in the country, according to a chart prepared by Manager Reed of the water and light department. This chart, which will be included in the annual report, shows a comparison of the net charge per 1,000 cubic feet of manufactured gas in cities of 50,000 or more population. Indianapolis, Los Angeles and Toronto, all larger than Duluth, are charging a lower rate, the chart shows.

SAFETY HEAD MAY CENSOR FILM

"Inspiration," the daring photoplay, will not be allowed in Duluth, unless scenes showing Audrey Munson in the nude are censored.

This warning was given out today by Commissioner Silberstein, safety head, who said that any film objectionable to public morals will be barred from local playhouses. It is understood that "Inspiration" will be presented here in a few days and the safety head is taking time by the forelock with this announcement.

"Those scenes will have to be cut out," declared the safety head this morning. "I know very little about the film, but from what I hear, the leading woman appears absolutely in the nude in several scenes."

Miss Munson, the famous art model, who posed for statues at the San Francisco fair, is the leading woman in the picture and in one scene is reported to appear in the nude while three men cover her dainty person with plaster in order to make a cast.

M'CUTCHEON, NOTED CURLER, IS DEAD

"Jimmy" McCutcheon, one of the oldest curlers in the state and father of the game in Minneapolis, died at his home there Saturday and was buried yesterday. Mr. McCutcheon was one of the most widely known curlers in the Northwest, and few bonspiels took place that he did not attend. He has been in Duluth at many spiels and played here a year ago this month.

Mr. McCutcheon started to curl in Minneapolis in 1888 and really introduced the game there. For years he was engineer of the Milwaukee road and later was yard superintendent for the company at Minneapolis. Until the last two years, for some time Mr. McCutcheon was in charge of the free labor employment bureau at the Hennepin courthouse. He is survived by his widow and two daughters, his only son having been killed in a street car accident last fall. Mr. McCutcheon was born in Hamilton, near Glasgow, Scotland, the town that Harry Lauder came from.

UTILITIES OFFICES WON'T BE MOVED

Indications are that the water and light department will remain in its present quarters at the Commercial building until the new city hall is built.

Yesterday afternoon Manager Reed opened bids on quarters for the department and as only one proposition is made on a rental basis plan, this being by the N. J. Upham company, agents for the Commercial club building, the offer probably will be accepted. The company is willing to rent the present quarters for $4,800 a year and without the front store, for $3,600 a year. A five year lease, giving the city the right to cancel it on ninety days notice, is offered, beginning May 1 next.

This offer is similar to the one made by Mr. Upham to the commissioners several days ago and is embodied in a lease already made out, the signing of which was held up pending the opening of bids yesterday. Manager Reed said this morning that the department will occupy the present quarters, in view of the bids submitted by local realty firms.

In addition to this proposition by the Upham company, two properties are offered for sale to the city, including the building at 310-312 West Second street, for $47,600, and the building at 210-212 West First street, for $75,000. Stryker, Manley & Buck are agents for the former and W. A. Hicken, former safety commissioner, is agent for the latter building.

Manager Reed said this morning that these offers will be submitted to the council next Monday with a recommendation that the proper authorities sign the lease for the present quarters.

MERRITT SNOWBOUND AT PIKE LAKE CAMP

Commissioner Merritt, utility head, is snowbound at Pike Lake and unable to get to town.

He went out to his summer camp last Saturday for the week-end, and the heavy snow on Sunday has made it impossible for him to get out, according to word received this morning by Manager Reed of the water and light department. As a result, the commissioner was unable to attend the council meeting yesterday afternoon.

It is expected that Commissioner Merritt will return this afternoon or tomorrow morning.

Will Hold Autopsy.

An autopsy on the body of George Howe, 60, lumberman found dead in his shack near Fairbanks, Minn., by friends yesterday morning, will be performed this afternoon by Coroner C. F. McComb.

Authorities have started an investigation to clear up the circumstances surrounding Howe's death. He was found on the kitchen floor of his home dead. He had been badly burned about the legs and body, evidently by hot water from a kettle on the stove, which had tipped over onto him.

A. H. Parkhurst of Crawford & Son's undertaking establishment returned from Fairbanks last night with the body. Funeral arrangements have not been made and will be delayed until an attempt is made to locate relatives.

LARCENY CHARGE REDUCED TO PETIT

Clarence Anderson, the young man who, police say, did his Christmas shopping at the Glass Block store and told the clerk, "Charge it. My name is D. H. Clough," was arraigned in municipal court before Judge H. W. Lanners yesterday and a grand larceny charge was dismissed.

After testimony had been given by D. H. Clough, J. A. Sicard, special officer at the store, and S. I. Smith, the clerk, tending to show that Anderson had purchased $27.50 worth of goods falsely, Assistant County Attorney Richards took a nolle prosequi for dismissal.

The amount involved was so near the grand larceny minimum of $25 that a petit larceny charge was allowed to be substituted. Anderson will be tried on the new count this afternoon.

Clyde Partello, arrested as his accomplice, will be tried on three counts charging petit larceny late this afternoon or tomorrow.

HOM HAD "PAPERS" PROBABLY SOLD 'EM FOR SNUG SUM

Hom Suey, formerly a Chinese laundryman of Duluth, is given credit by the local immigration officials as being a clever Celestial, and it is thought that he is from $500 to $1,000 ahead of the game because of the use—or perhaps it would be better to say "misuse"—of his wits.

Hom was one of the very first Celestials to secure a certificate of identification in 1894, when the Chinese exclusion act was put into force. From that time on until two years ago the officials feel certain that Hom retained this certificate, because he presented it at the local office at that time when the census inspector passed along. Since then Ham has apparently decided he no longer needed the document, as he recently made plans to return to his native land and enjoy the fruits of his labors at the washboard. At any rate, when he decided to depart for China a few days ago, he said that he did not expect to return, and he started for the Orient by way of Seattle.

When he got to Seattle he was questioned regarding his papers, and he denied that he ever had an identification certificate. The Seattle authorities wired to the Duluth office to learn the facts in the matter.

The local officials can see no reason for Hom denying that he had such a document, except that he sold it. Many a Chinese wishing to get into the United States would gladly pay $500 to $1,000 for such papers, the officials say. It is probable, however, that Hom will be allowed to return to the land of poppies unmolested, to pass the declining years of his life, as it would be next to impossible to prove that he sold the papers.

RAILROADS LOSE FIRST ISSUE IN RATE POINT

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first of the various railroads operating in Minnesota, against the order of the state railway and warehouse commission making Minneapolis and St. Paul and their suburbs a common rate point, received a decided setback today when Judge J. C. Michael in the Ramsey county district court denied the petition of the railroads for an order staying the order of the commission indefinitely. Ten railroads are involved and they desired that the commission's order be stayed that they might be permitted to attack the order on its merits.

MISS GERTRUDE CAREY, chairman of the art history department of the Twentieth Century club, explained a typical plan of Egyptian temples and the design of the shafts and capitals of the ornate columns and showed examples of the beautiful colors employed by the ancient Egyptians, to the members of the class who met yesterday afternoon in the library clubroom.

"The arch structure was known by the Egyptians," she said, "but was not used, as they preferred the post and lintel form which is more durable. It is not known whether they made their structures so immense to defy time or to show their respect for their gods.

"Several theories have been advanced to explain how they got the huge stones from the quarries to the places in which they wanted them. Some archeologists say canals were dug and the stone was floated on barges, the canals being filled up after they had served their purpose. Others say the stones were put on what was like a huge sled which was drawn by many slaves perhaps 1,000. Other slaves sprinkled the runners with water to keep down the heat caused by the friction."

As illustrations of Egyptian decorations showed, blue, yellow, green, red and black were used in the intricate conventional designs that employed the winged disc and the papyrus flower in bud and in full bloom for a great deal of the ornamentation. As the speaker explained, the dyes were made from plants and were much softer than the acid dyes of the present, and that even the color work which has been exposed to the weather has retained its original hues to a remarkable degree.

Play Is Bulletined By the Drama League

The bulletin which the Drama League of America has sent out on Forbes-Robertson in "Hamlet" says:

"The really great art of Sir Johnstone Forbes-Robertson has supreme opportunity in the character of 'Hamlet,' the interpretation of which has justly won for him the title of 'the greatest living Hamlet.' His masterly presentation is placed in excellent context by the delightful work of his colleagues.

"Miss Laura Cowie is an original and unusually gentle 'Ophelia,' the part of 'Claudius' is treated with distinction by Walter Ringham, the 'Horatio' of F. A. Cookson quite catches the stoic spirit of the character and Miss Aeline Bourne's 'Queen Gertrude' is a notable reading."

Collegiate Alumnae Hear Talks on Civic Subjects

Six ten-minute talks on civic subjects were given at the meeting of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae that was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Chester A. Congdon, 3300 London road. The talks were given by Miss Edna Meeker of the Associated Charities, Mrs. J. L. Washburn of the Woman's council, Miss Helen Potter of the King's Daughters, Miss Elizabeth Heikkila, who is the nurse in charge of the Macsonic infant welfare work, Mrs. Archibald Banning, who told of social centers, and Miss Victoria Ericson, deputy factory inspector of the State Bureau of Labor. At 5 o'clock tea was served in the dining room by Miss Congdon, Mrs. Edward F. Chapin, jr., and Miss Constance Mitchell. Pink and white roses were the table flowers.

Infant Welfare Work.

Miss Heikkila told of the growth of the infant welfare work which is carried on by the Masons, saying that it has reduced the infant death rate from 233 in 1,000 in 1910 to 187. She told of the free clinics, a free bed in St. Luke's hospital, free medicine and of milk which is sold at 7 cents a quart, instead of 10 cents. It is the aim of this welfare branch to induce mothers to take their well children to the clinic once a month to receive instructions on how to keep them healthy.

Miss Ericson urged all present to exert their influence to get a better law governing women's work in factories outside the four large cities of the state. Members of the A. C. A. rose to express their wish that the Minneapolis plan of closing the large stores on Christmas eve might be followed in Duluth.

Mrs. Banning told how the last word in social center work, a community house, is apt to result from the establishment of social center work at the Washburn school.

Mrs. Washburn said that in the Woman's council are represented all the organizations of the city and urged the A. C. A. delegate to be present at every meeting or to see that her alternate attends.

Miss Helen Potter told of the day nursery the King's Daughters conduct for children whose mothers work away from home and Miss Meeker explained the work done by the Associated Charities.

Though most of the instruments of the large Steinway collection, now to be seen in the Memorial hall of Yale university, are older and quainter, without and within, the lover of music lingers longest, writes James Frederick Rogers in The Etude, over the piano that is said to have belonged to and was doubtless used by Beethoven. This piano of the Yale museum is said to have been used by Beethoven at Baden, though certainly not on his first visit there. It is likely that Mme. Streicher kept it at his disposal whenever he felt like using it, and it is probable that many of his later compositions were played upon it for the first time.

Efficient Housekeeping

BY Henrietta D Grauel

What Shall We Eat?

What is the early meal—breakfast—for? Does it not indeed break a fast of many hours? It is to fortify one for a day's exertion, whether of pleasure or business. Instinct suggests something heating, stimulating and solid. There is no time in the day when one so needs a good supply of foods as at breakfast. An active, keen desire for food in the morning should be satisfied with a palatable meal; something heavier than mere toast and coffee.

By all means give sufficient time to this meal. Secure by thought and care what is due to its dignity and importance. Compose it as carefully as you do 6 o'clock dinner. It is nothing if you retire somewhat hungry; your sleep will rest and refresh you; but to exercise, work, perhaps worry through a long morning after twelve hours' fast is a criminal act toward your body.

When meat is served at breakfast, eggs are not needed, but there should be oranges, grapefruit or tart preserves. Chipped beef is nice with hot cream sauce, and is always liked on toast. Rice is a good cereal to serve when you use bacon, ham or any salt meat, as the flavor of the one increases and improves that of the other.

If meat is served at breakfast, it is not needed at luncheon. Tomato soup, cream of rice or chicken broth, baked potatoes or Lima beans, brown bread, hot ginger or corn bread, a hot beverage, and, when possible, a green salad is enough for luncheon.

Few families want salad twice a day; some have not learned its wholesomeness and seldom have it. Potato salad, chicken or similar heavy salads should be served when the remainder of the meal is light in character. Dressed, as they are, with the richest of all oils—olive oil—and rich in their own constituents, they have a tendency to make one indolent, heavy, and impart a too full feeling to the diner. Salads are only wholesome and good when well planned and served with proper accompaniments.

There is as much difference in the taste for cheese and in the way it should be used as in salads, perhaps more. Cheese is most frequently called a meat substitute, yet few persons can eat it day after day, as meat is eaten. It not only clogs up the appetite, but is exceedingly difficult to digest unless properly served.

The simply-made cottage cheese, bonnie clabber or schmierease are the most wholesome of all, and a greater quantity of these can be used than of the richer kind. Cheese is served with pie because it stimulates the appetite, which at the close of a heavy meal is often dulled.

In planning meats, decide first what your meat or meat substitute will be, then choose your vegetables, your soup and lastly the dessert. If the meat or main dish of the meal is rich and heavy, you can do best with a delicate soup, a fresh salad and a light dessert. When the dinner itself lacks richness, make it up by more elaborate dinner adjuncts.

One of the most important functions of cooking is to make all food look inviting; it does not look so if it is served in the wrong place, no matter how carefully it may have been prepared.

Have you not heard, at your own table, "Fshaw, if I had known what the dessert was to be I would not have eaten so much dinner before it came!"

Bed Time Tales

Mrs. Tommy Stays at Home

For several days after the good snow melted off the ground, Tommy Tittlemouse was restless and eager to get away from the barn. His pleasant little trips under the snow and the choice variety of food which he managed to gather here and there on the ground made the plain fare of grain seem very monotonous. Especially was he eager to get back and eat some more of that fine apple tree bark that was so good!

So it was a very happy little Tommy Tittle-mouse who peeped out of his hole in the barn some six days after the warm, snow-melting days, and saw more snow falling. "Look!" he cried, "the snow is coming again! Now I can go out again and run around as I please without fear of the owl or the hawk!" He whirled gaily and looked to Mrs. Tommy for an enthusiastic response.

But Mrs. Tommy was not even looking! Tommy was that surprised he darted off in search of her. Along the piled-up logs he crept. Around the corner of the grain bin he peered, but not a sign of Mrs. Tommy was to be seen. "Where can she have gone?" wondered Tommy. "She wouldn't venture out in this snow, I am sure. And there is no place else in the barn, unless she has gone to the chicken room." He thought a minute as he looked around the deserted grain room. "No, of course, she isn't in the chicken room, because she don't like to go there; but I guess I'd better look to make sure."

Cautiously he crept into the chicken room. Not that he was afraid of the kindly chicks—Mrs. Hen and all her relations were good friends of his. But he always feared he might see people feeding the chickens, and, to Tommy's mind, people meant trouble, so he felt safer to keep out of sight. Carefully he peered around the room. Yes, there was Mrs. Tommy! Over in the far corner of the room.

"Come here," squeaked Tommy eagerly. "I want to tell you about the snow! Soon I am going out to get some food, and this time you are going with me."

"Indeed I am not," laughed Mrs. Tommy good-naturedly. "I'm going to stay right here in this barn. And

"Come here," squeaked Tommy eagerly. "I want to tell you about the snow!"

say, Tommy, don't you think these feathers will make a nice soft nest?"

"Um-m, I guess they will," replied Tommy indifferently; "but why bother about the nest? It's plenty soft enough to suit me."

"Maybe so, maybe so," said Mrs. Tommy; "but I mean to make it softer just the same. See the pile of feathers and the bits of down I have picked out? And now that you are here you might help me carry them home."

Of course Tommy helped her get the tiny feathers home to the snug little nest they had gnawed out of the big boards. There Mrs. Tommy busied herself tucking the feathers where they were most needed, and Tommy scurried off into the new-fallen snow.

Philathea Union Holds First Quarterly Meeting

The first quarterly meeting for the new year of the Duluth Philathea union was opened last night at the First Presbyterian church by the singing of a new union song composed by Truman G. Brooke of this city. Thirty officers and members of the various Philathea classes met with the executive committee of the union to plan the year's work. The aim of Minnesota Baracas and Philatheas is "1,000 conversions and 500 new classes by next June," at which time the World-Wide Baraca Philathea union convention will be held in Minneapolis. A large delegation from Duluth and surrounding towns will attend the convention.

The Duluth Philathea union was organized a year ago and reports last night showed it to be in a flourishing condition. Several conversions were reported in classes during the month. According to the report, approximately $300 was spent by the classes in Christmas charity and welfare work. Many dinners were served to the poor, Christmas trees, toys and warm clothing accompanying the baskets. One class reported that a concert had been given by their sextet at the jail, at which time each prisoner was given a box of candy. A concert was also given at Nopeming sanatorium and each patient was given a box of candy. Scrap books were made by one class for children on the range. The organization of two new classes this month was reported, the "Philathea Hustlers" at the First Presbyterian church and a Baraca class at the Woodland Methodist church. The Duluth Baracas and Philatheas have pledged ten new Philathea and fifteen new Baraca classes by Easter.

Action was taken upon the matter of assisting the Y. W. C. A. in their fiftieth anniversary jubilee, which is to be held during February. A list of 280 girls who are not identified with any particular church is to be turned over to the various Philathea classes. Where a preference has been expressed by any girl for a certain denomination, Philatheas from that church will call personally upon that girl, in an effort to secure her attendance at the religious and social activities of the Y. W. C. A. during February.

Quarterly Rally.

The first quarterly rally of the union this year will be held at the First Presbyterian church Monday night, Jan. 31. Miss Edith L. Seesee, international secret service secretary of the World-Wide Baraca Philathea union, is to be the speaker of the evening. Miss Seesee is at present engaged in some mission work in St. Paul. A supper will be served and a round table discussion held for the Philathea presidents, devotional committee chairmen and the executive committee of the union at the First Presbyterian church preceding the evening meeting. An effort will be made to visit personally the 280 Y. W. C. A. girls in an effort to secure their attendance at this meeting. A reception for Miss Seesee will follow the evening meeting.

The Baraca class of the First Methodist church will celebrate its first anniversary tonight in the church parlors at a dinner served by the Philathea class.

Following are the words which were written by Truman G. Brooke and were sung at last night's meeting to the air, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus:"

"Jesus Christ, our Lord and Master,
In Duluth we'll work for Thee,
All Baracas and Philatheas,
Let us Thy disciples be.
As young folks of Minnesota,
May we e'er our pledge renew.
Burn the motto on our hearts, Lord,
'Win the one that's next to you.'

"Standing by the Holy Bible,
And the church and Bible school,
We will work for other young folks,
And make this our daily rule.
Make it, Lord, our sacred duty,
To help those by sin enticed,
So our state can do its share, to 'Win a Million Souls for Christ.'

"With a motto of 'We Do Things,'
For Thy teachings we will fight,
Strive to make our Zenith City
Stand for principles of right,
Ever loyal to Thy service,
When or where may be the call,
We, Baracas and Philatheas,
Pledge to Thee our lives, our all."

Red Cross "Comfort Bags" Are What the Name Suggests

A "comfort bag" is a bag, the contents of which will bring comfort to a soldier who is away from home, suffering, and with time dragging tediously away as he waits for his wounds to heal and his strength to return.

Many reports have come of the pleasure and comfort which these bags bring to the convalescing soldiers. They are, of course, made with a drawstring and the patient hangs his bag on the bedpost or some other convenient place. The bags may be made of cambric, gingham or any other inexpensive material and should be about twelve or fourteen inches long, by seven or eight wide. In the bag should be a writing tablet with envelopes to match, lead pencils, handkerchiefs, a piece of soap, needles and thread—possibly scissors—and tobacco. The imagination of the maker of the bag will often suggest other things which will be appropriate in such a bag. "What would your son like under similar circumstances?" has been suggested as a question for the maker of a bag to ask herself.

Everyone's Duty.

"Will you not assist in securing the 100 bags that the Glen Avon guild wish to send in their next Red Cross box?" asks Mrs. J. L. Washburn, who is in charge of this branch of the work. "It is but a small thing to do, but it is something and it is needed. There ought not to be a single person in America who does not do some one thing at least for the relief of the suffering in Europe. When we think of the terrible suffering of the wounded and of the women and children in the war zone, our own good fortune should weigh on us as a burden which may be lightened only by doing something for those less fortunate."

Comfort bags are to be sent to Mrs. J. L. Washburn, 101 Oxford street.

The women of Hunter's Park and Glen Avon communities will give a Red Cross luncheon from 12 to 1 o'clock tomorrow at the Glen Avon Presbyterian church. The proceeds of the luncheon will be used to buy materials with which to make hospital supplies and to send to Europe as wages for women whose breadwinners are at the front or are dead and who are glad to work for 40 cents a day, making clothing for soldiers and destitute women and children. The women began their Red Cross work six weeks ago and send a box away week before last.

The luncheon will be given under the auspices of the guild of the church, but will not be a neighborhood affair, as an invitation has been extended to all women who wish to help the Red Cross work.

Convincing One's Self

We had been listening one afternoon to a warm argument between the Cynic and Molly, the little stenographer lady.

To my regret, I had to leave before the battle was over. The next day I saw the Authorman. "Did the Cynic convince Molly?" I asked.

"No," said the Authorman; "but he convinced himself."

"What do you mean?"

"Didn't you notice how lukewarm he was when he started, and how he warmed up when Molly began to oppose him? Well, before he got through he had thoroughly convinced himself that his stand was right, and now it will be a matter of pride with him to stick to it. Haven't you noticed how many people convince themselves that way?"

I hadn't before, but I have since then.

He Would Rather Lose Money Than His Argument.

Just the other day I heard a business man arguing with someone who was suggesting to him a more efficient method of arranging a certain detail. The business man's objection had at first been the instinctive objection of the conservative man to anything new, but when he found himself met by excellent arguments he seemed to bristle out with an obstinate determination to prove that the idea was not good.

Ultimately he succeeded in convincing himself so thoroughly that even if any one had shown him in gold dollars the money that idea had saved, I am sure he would have felt it a matter of pride not to adopt it.

When you argue, render friends, what is your aim, to defend your idea or to find out where truth lies?

As your opponent's arguments grow stronger, do you, instead of permitting yourself to be influenced by them, grow more obstinate and more determined not to be convinced?

She Was Afraid of Herself.

A woman, who has always been strongly on one side of the big woman questions, told me the other day that she was frightened at herself. The cause of her fear was this:

"I find myself trying to think up some convincing sounding answer to make to the new arguments on the other side instead of considering whether they have any truth in them or not."

An excellent cause of fear, but how few people would be fairminded enough to be troubled by it!

Truth is the greatest thing in life—the core, the essence, the prime factor of all the realities.

The love of truth burns away the barriers of prejudice and self-will and leaves the mind open. An open mind is one of the finest and rarest things in the world.

Wish My Letter Friends.

Question—Please tell how a man—and there are thousands of him—can best live and keep a family of six or seven on a wage of 17 cents per hour and nine hours per day?

Answer—If he works six full days that gives him $9.18 a week. I don't see how it can possibly be done. If any of my readers know how to work such a miracle perhaps they would like to communicate their knowledge through me.

Quickest, Surest Cough Remedy is Home-Made

Easily Prepared in a Few Minutes. Cheap but Unequaled

Some people are constantly annoyed from one year's end to the other with a persistent bronchial cough, which is wholly unnecessary. Here is a home-made remedy that gets right at the cause and will make you wonder what became of it.

Get 2½ ounces Pinex (50 cents worth) from any druggist, pour into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Start taking it at once. Gradually but surely you will notice the phlegm thin out and then disappear altogether, thus ending a cough that you never thought would end. It also loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough and heals the inflammation in a painful cough with remarkable rapidity. Ordinary coughs are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, winter coughs and bronchial asthma.

This Pinex and Sugar Syrup mixture makes a full pint—enough to last a family a long time—at a cost of only 54 cents. Keeps perfectly and tastes pleasant. Easily prepared. Full directions with Pinex.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, rich in guaiacol, and is famous the world over for its ease, certainty and promptness in overcoming bad coughs, chest and throat colds.

Get the genuine. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces Pinex," and do not accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Use Soap and Water

One doesn't quiet enjoy the prospect of telling another person that a washcloth, soap and water would make him or her more presentable, or of hinting, even so slightly that the ears need attention. Of all the cruelly embarrassing things in life I can think of nothing more so than to have someone intimate that I was not clean. And so I have never harped very loudly on this string.

Yet I have noted the neck encircled by a chain which carries above it a smudgy ring and the ears set off by huge mock pearls that are unbelievably dirty. I have seen a woman remove a perfectly fitting pair of gloves to show nails that were bitten to the quick and not infrequently caked with dirt. All wasted—the chain, the ear rings and the gloves. They better accentuated the slovenly part and showed how lacking were these women in the finer perceptions.

With soap and water so plentiful and to be had for the asking, I am constantly struck that there is a woeful carelessness in respect to bodily cleanliness or else it is instinctive in some folk to avoid contact with soap and water whenever possible. These people are not of the class altogether or to any definite extent whose poverty or lack of opportunity for cleanliness pleads in part for them. It is just as likely to be a beautifully dressed woman as a washwoman.

Many women with nothing to do but keep herself clean is plainly not so. Her dress may be of rich fabric and from a high-priced tailor. But perhaps the binding has become unfastened and a pin holds it instead of a stich. Her costly petticoat has never come in contact with a whisk broom or her fine shoes with a blacking brush.

Showy she may be, and reeking with perfume and powder, but clean she is not.

It is just so with men, although more men have learned the lesson of exquisite but not offensive cleanliness and neatness. It pays in every way and there is no excuse among men or women for any other condition.

FORBES-ROBERTSON WILL RETIRE AT THE ZENITH OF HIS POWERS

SIR JOHNSTONE FORBES-ROBERTSON AS "HAMLET."

For more than forty years Forbes-Robertson's distinguished personality and art have been a familiar delight to playgoers. He has decided to retire from the stage at the zenith of his powers and will be seen for the last time in this city at the Lyceum Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

No one will be disposed to deny that he has well deserved Bernard Shaw's description of him as "the greatest classical actor on the English stage." He has touched nothing that he has not adorned; he has attained heights where he has been without a peer and in every circumstance he has thought and made others think nobly of his art. So it happens that he has established a high claim upon critical esteem as well as upon public affection.

More than a generation has been enriched with a notable gallery of creations and he closes his career with the knowledge that by undisputed admission, his Hamlet is the finest presentation of the part which the modern stage has seen. That in itself is no small achievement and to it may be added the testimony of Henry Arthur Jones that "Forbes-Robertson has been the most beautiful and accomplished speaker of Shakespearean verse in all the countries that use Shakespeare's language."

Precaution and First Aid Save Thousands Every Year.

Floid M. Fuller and Glen H. Locker Address Electric Club.

Great strides are being made yearly in the "safety first" movement among all corporations conducting work of a hazardous nature and thousands of accidents are being averted through safety first methods, according to statements made by speakers last night at the meeting of the Lake Superior Electric club at the Commercial club. Floyd M. Fuller, general manager of the Park Point Traction company, and Glen S. Locker, Two Harbors, head of the welfare and safety department of the Duluth & Iron Range railway were the chief speakers.

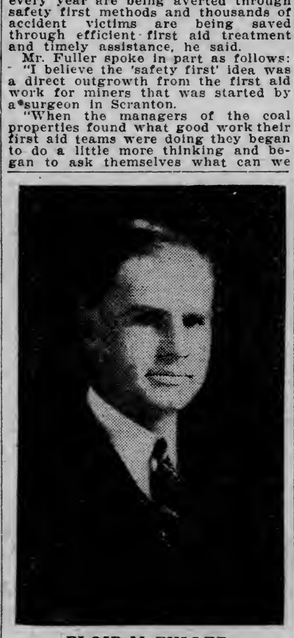

Practical Demonstration.

Mr. Fuller gave a practical demonstration of resuscitation following an electric shock and first aid treatment. He also went into detail showing how various corporations have gone into safety first and first aid work, and of the great progress being made along those lines. Thousands of accidents every year are being averted through safety first methods and thousands of accident victims are being saved through efficient first aid treatment and timely assistance, he said.

Mr. Fuller spoke in part as follows:

"I believe the 'safety first' idea was a direct outgrowth from the first aid work for miners that was started by a surgeon in Scranton.

"When the managers of the coal properties found what good work their first aid teams were doing they began to do a little more thinking and began to ask themselves what can we do to prevent some of these injuries instead of just fixing them up after they occur. This was the beginning of the 'safety first' idea and it has now spread so far that even the banks are using it to induce the public to place their money in their vaults.

"The 'safety first' idea has to be handled differently with the different industries and with the different classes of people who are to be benefited.

"In industrial and manufacturing plants the employes are the only ones who have to be educated and it is very simple work compared with a public service corporation such as railroads, electric light companies and other corporations that come in contact with the public. These corporations must necessarily use some means to get the 'safety first' idea to the public. Glen S. Locker, who has charge of the safety and welfare department of the Duluth Iron Range railroad, is using a series of public lectures next Friday and Saturday to tell such of the public as will come to think and live 'safety first.' The newspapers will give these lectures a certain amount of publicity and it all helps in the conservation of lives. The Park Point Traction company, following the example of many Eastern car lines has 'safety first' painted in large, plainly read signs on each end of its cars. The Duluth Street railway has printed 60,000 colored blotters with pictures showing how persons are liable to get hurt on or by street cars. These all help in making people think 'safety first.'

Workmen's Compensation.

"The states of Minnesota and Wisconsin have both passed laws relative to compensation for workmen. Since this law has been passed the insurance companies who carry this kind of insurance are more careful than they were in the past in inspecting their risks as some of you gentlemen probably know, and if you have followed out the suggestions and recommendations which have been made, you have done something to help the 'safety first' idea besides benefiting yourself, not only from a financial standpoint but also from a humanitarium standpoint. The rules and regulations under which the inspectors work may seem rather drastic and senseless in your particular case, but these rules and regulations have been the result of careful study and in your particular case may work some hardships but as a rule they work to the interest of the employer as well as to that of the employe."

Between 15,000 and 16,000 suggestions for safety were made in 1915 by employes of the Duluth & Iron Range railway, according to Mr. Locker. Any employe of the road, shop or dock is permitted to make suggestions, he said.

"Men are no longer dealt with as machines," he said, "but as men with moral and mental faculties that are assets to their employers. The safe man is an efficient man, and safety means success and success means happiness, which is the keynote to the fellowship movement.

"It is true that the 'safety first' propaganda was first spread because or the saving it would effect in dollars and cents, but now it has gone beyond the sirit of mere commercialism and has found its real mission in human brtoherhood."

Safety First Progress.

Mr. Locker said that there were sixty-two safety first meetings held last year with a total attendance of 25,493. As a result there was a reduction of 29 per cent in the number of accidents, although business increased 60 per cent. There was not a single wreck on the Iron Range road, he said. Derailments and slight collisions were decreased 94 per cent.

"But we should not content ourselves with preaching 'safety first' simply in the shop, in the school and at the mass meeting. We should go into the home," said Mr. Locker, who added that of the 5,553 railroad trespassers killed in 1913 in the United States, 283 were housewives and mothers who "wanted to make a short cut to the grocery or to the butcher shop."

"Safety First" Rally.

Mr. Locker spoke of the "safety first" rally to be held Friday and Saturday at the new armory. The public schools and public safety organizations are co-operating and the officials of the railroads and the street railway. There will be motion pictures both days, and on Saturday it is expected that large numbers of school children will attend. Eight thousand circulars with safety first instructions have been published containing safety first instruction for small children, older children and adults.

The use of the "safety first" for commercialized purposes was protested against by William N. Ryerson, president of the Great Northern Power company. It had been used in this way in the interest of automobile tires and cigarettes, he said.

FEW CHINESE GIRLS BECOME OLD MAIDS

SAYS CHIN ONG

EVERY THIRD YEAR IS LEAP YEAR THERE

Fear of an approaching spinsterhood seldom worries a Chinese maid.

In that respect she is much more fortunate than her sister across the Pacific ocean, and the real reason for it all is simply this: in China every third year is leap year.

More than that, leap year is thirteen months long. What do you think of that, girls? Why should any girl become an old maid when there are thirteen months every three years, during which she may speak her mind freely to the man of her heart?

"Oh, but that has nothing to do with it, at all," said Chin D. Ong, leader of Duluth's Chinese colony, yesterday, when the theory was propounded to him. "I don't know why China has so few 'old maids' as you call them, but we never let our girls propose in leap year, as is so commonly done in the United States.

"We don't think they should do it, and I don't think they do, even if it is leap year."

Chin didn't volunteer any opinion as to why it is that maids of the Celestial republic are usually married before they are 20 years old.

To an American, the fact that every third year was leap year was a perfectly good explanation, but Chin was shocked at the idea, and refused to O. K. it.

The Chinese month is never more than thirty days long, and never less than twenty-nine. Last year was "leap" year in the Celestial calendar, at that.

Chinese of Duluth and Superior are making elaborate preparations for their New Year's eve celebration Feb. 1, when they will have a banquet at the Mandarin cafe.

CLEVER SHOW AT GRAND.

Original Playlet Heads Unusually Good Bill.

An unusually good vaudeville and motion picture show is the offering of the New Grand for the first half of the week. Originality and cleverness are the features of the vaudeville acts, and the pictures are along interesting themes.

"Caught" is a clever playlet, presented by Jean Wier and Larry Mack. The story is that of twin brothers, one a burglar, who, in escaping the police, is driven into his brother's house. Seizing upon the idea of impersonating his brother, the wife of the latter saves him from arrest. Some clever situations arise and they are well handled.

The Cycling McNutts, three men, an attractive young woman, and a juvenile performer, do a classy lot of stunts in a clever and original manner.

Clark and Chappelle do a comedy singing and talking act entitled "Handle With Care." Weber and Deihl, billed as Broadway's youthful prodigies, offer a diversified program of songs, dances and chatter.

Bryant Washburn and Edna Mayo are featured in an interesting photoplay entitled "The Edge of Things." There are a number of other films with plenty of comedy. Today and tomorrow another of the Stingaree stories will be added to the program.

Theater Gossip.

An instrument of death and destruction, absolutely new in war and yet in principle as simple as the old skyrocket, has been invented by the French for use where the trenches of the foe are so close that the guns are of little or no service. This is the aerial torpedo. Cannon shoot too far to do the work necessary when, as in many places they do, the front lines of the opposing trenches are but a few yards apart. For hand-to-hand fighting the hand grenade has taken the place of the rifle, but for destroying the earthworks of the enemy something much more powerful is required.

FRENCH OFFICIAL WAR PICTURES

The aerial torpedo is a weird looking machine. Indeed, it is hardly a machine at all. It needs no gun to fire it. It is just held up with its nose in the air by a strong steel tripod, just as a skyrocket is pointed to the clouds. It is fired by means of a spring, and is really a reversion to the methods that were practiced before gun powder was invented by old Friar Bacon.

In the official French government war pictures, which were taken by order of the general staff of the French army for the national archives, and which are being shown at the Lyceum today and Wednesday, these singular aerial torpedoes are shown in action. To grasp the sort of damage this new war instrument does, one has to see those remarkable pictures. The spring that fires the torpedo is the only aiming source except the skyrocket stick. Just before firing, a fuse is lighted in the tail of the torpedo. When the torpedo lands the fuse fires the charge of high explosive and the resulting destruction is terrific.

In the "Fighting in France" pictures one sees the fuse smoking. The torpedo gun crew hastens to safety lest they be caught by a premature explosion. The audience watches breathlessly. One feels that if the torpedo would go off by accident all will be blown to pieces. When the torpedo does land the immense geyser of rocks and soil that it throws in the air is seen. The geyser is at least forty feet high and seems to stand there like a gigantic figure of grinning death. The stench that it hit hes become a yawning crater. This is but one of the hundreds of interesting and thrilling scenes shown in the World's pictures.

The emotional work of a high order is depicted by Orrin Johnson, as Manual, the young zealot, and by Seena Owen as Dolores, his sweetheart.

A fox hunt with a real fox is one of the surprises in the Keystone-Triangle, "The Hunt," at the Rex. Twenty-five good horses and as many good riders, men and women, take part and all are togged out in riding coats, breeches and top boots. Ford Sterling and a majority of his company appear in blackface.

MANY TOWNS ARE AFTER BIG PLANT

North Dakota Communities Seek Equity Packing Concern.

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 11.—The advantage that Fargo offers as a location for the big North Dakota Equity society's packing plant is now being investigated by the locating committee consisting of C. J. Lee of Valley City, Anthony Walton of Minot, and P. M. Casey of Lisbon.

"During the past month or so this committee has visited a number of the towns of the state that are after the plant and it will be a comparatively short time until the members will announce which of these towns is the best situated and offers the best advantage as the location for what is without doubt will be the largest industrial undertaking ever advanced in North Dakota.

Among the towns seeking the plant are Fargo, Grand Forks, Devils Lake, Minot, Williston, Valley City, Jamestown, Bismarck and Mandan. The committee contends that "politics" is not going to have a thing to do with the locating of this plant. Members say that it is a strictly business proposition and that the town that can offer the best in the way of site, drainage, water, electric power, transportation facilities, trackage and switching charges will be the town that will get the plant.

Other Industries to Follow.

It is understood that the packing plant is only the start of a great number of industrial institutions that will be connected with it later on should it prove to be all that it is expected to be and for this reason practically every town in the state is after the institution. With the packing plant alone it is expected that at least 250 people will be employed in it to begin with, not counting those employed in the vast stock yards that would be a necessary adjunct.

There are several things that the locating committee is paying particular attention to. First of all is the matter of transportation facilities for the farmers livestock into the plant and for the manufactured product back to the consumers of the state. The next matter of course is the one of site, drainage and good water. Switching charges are to also play a great part in the final summing up.

UNPARALLELED FINANCIAL STRENGTH.

The report of national banking business during the first year under the new banking and currency law, made yesterday by John Skelton Williams, comptroller of the currency, is an amazingly heartening record.

It shows a financial development and growth never paralleled in the history of this or any other country.

It shows the soundness and strength of American business and finance. It shows what the Wilson banking and currency law has done to bring these tremendously prosperous conditions about.

The figures of growth are so large as to be almost beyond comprehension.

The net resources of the national banks increased during the year a billion and three-quarters.

Deposits in the national banks increased more than two billion dollars. Loans and discounts increased nearly a billion.

"The reserves held by the national banks November 10, 1915," says the report, "exceeded by $587,000,000 the greatest reserves ever held at any time prior to the passage of the Federal reserve act." The loans and discounts—registering business activity—of the national banks alone were more than the combined loans and discounts of all banks, including national, state, savings and private banks and loan and trust companies, as late as 1902.

It is a splendid record for the new banking and currency law, and a tremendous showing of national resources and prosperity.

Of course it is purely coincidental that the word "preparedness" begins with the same letter as "pork."

THE FIASCO OF THE DARDANELLES.

The final abandonment of the costly and tragically futile Dardanelles campaign must leave England sick at heart. As it stands, it is the most colossal blunder and the most complete failure of the war.

The most disheartening thought about it must be that it could have succeeded. If there had been an army to supplement the naval attack in the beginning, it is now known that Constantinople might have fallen, for the Turks were not ready. The naval attack availed only to spur the Turks into getting ready for the armies that came later—and when the armies came they were so thoroughly ready that a fearful loss of men, accompanied by terrible suffering, only gained for the allies a meager foothold on the coasts, which now they have finally abandoned.

On the other hand, it may develop later that as an encouragement to Russia at a time when Russia needed all the encouragement possible—the attack on the Dardanelles came when the Teutonic allies were sweeping all before them in Poland—the campaign was worth all it cost. It may be that there was danger that Russia would collapse and make a premature peace if an attempt was not made to open the Dardanelles, and only that, it seems now, would be justification for the attempt under conditions that, in the light of after events, clearly doomed the effort to failure.

After all, there's a surprising lack of real oratory in all the mass that gets into the Congressional Record.

NOT TREATING THE G. O. P. FAIRLY.

If Mexico had the slightest consideration for the Republican party and its desperate need of an issue for the presidential campaign, it would not behave the way it is behaving now.

It would not let the opposition to Carranza die down to a few bands of bandits.

It would not permit business to pick up in Mexico.

It would not permit its funds, hidden away during the revolutions, to come out of hiding and get busy.

It would not permit trade between the United States and Mexico to increase at a rate that will soon place it on a normal basis.

All these things are happening, however, and it shows a deplorable lack of regard for the Republican party, which has been planning on weeping crocodile tears all during the campaign over President Wilson's mistreatment of Mexico.

But for that matter, never was there such a shocking epidemic of ingratitude and disrespect as the Republican party is falling heir to these days.

Germany and Austria had utterly no business permitting the Wilson foreign policy to succeed, for it would have been a great card for the Republican party if it had failed.

The world had utterly no business letting us keep out of war, for what a great help it would have been to the Republican party if it could have accused President Wilson of blundering into a needless war.

And above all, the fact that factories are busy, retail and wholesale trade enormous, crops good and crop prices high, all during a Democratic administration, is the crowning insult to the Republican party, which knows, and has said a million times, that good times can never be in this country save under a Republican administration.

The effort to ambush the enemy from behind Dr. Northrop having failed, it is in order to guess what will be the next move of the Minnesota G. O. P. chiefs.

POLAND.

The appeal for contributions for the relief of the suffering men, women and children of Poland is meeting with results that are highly encouraging, and very creditable to the warm heart of Duluth.

The need is vast, and indescribably appalling.

Fancy Minnesota swept by contending armies not once but three or four times. Fancy that a retreating army has burned and otherwise destroyed everything that might possibly help the invading army, and that what little there was left has been commandeered by the latter. Fancy granaries emptied and burned; fancy stables robbed and burned; fancy homes stripped and burned; fancy the people of Minnesota left to face a bitter winter without any of the necessaries of life. If you can picture that situation, you can faintly begin to realize Poland's need.

The money received goes promptly to the Red Cross society at Washington, and is promptly and wisely spent, with so small an overhead cost that virtually all of these gifts result in direct relief—in food, clothing, shelter, medicine—in the first essentials to human existence.

The Herald will gladly acknowledge and forward any contributions that may be sent to it. Contributions are also being received by the News Tribune and by local Americans of Polish birth.

The presidential primary plan, too, is to be loved for the enemies it has made.

THE ALUMNAE LECTURE COURSE.

A Duluth girl is a freshman at the University of Minnesota today who probably would not be there if it were not for the scholarship fund which the Association of Collegiate Alumnae is building out of the receipts from its lecture courses.

That's one good reason for supporting the lecture course for this year which begins Friday night, when Frederick Palmer, war correspondent for the Associated Press and several high class magazines, and a brilliant writer and speaker, will tell about his year with the European war, illustrating his talk with slides and moving pictures. This interesting lecture will be followed February 16 by Irving Bacheller, quaintly humorous and tender American novelist, who will talk on "The Cheerful Yankee;" March 27 by F. R. Moulton, an original thinker and student of astronomy well known among scientists, who will talk on "The Wonderful Heavens;" and April 24 by William Howard Taft, ex-president of the United States, who will speak on the Monroe doctrine. The course was to have been opened earlier by Judge Taft, but an Eastern blizzard prevented his coming.

A good many people have forgotten the very real, very substantial and very lasting satisfaction there is in a good lecture, and it will be worth while to get reacquainted with the experience. The Association of Collegiate Alumnae has been very fortunate in its selections, and its program is admirably calculated to revive the old wholesome taste for good lecture courses. The lecture course was at one time an established institution in all well regulated communities, and its temporary lapse was a real social and educational loss. It will be good for Duluth in many ways if it can be permanently re-established.

Besides furnishing good and instructive and interesting entertainment, the alumnae are engaged in a work that deserves the fullest possible encouragement—the creation of a permanent fund to help girls go to college who need and deserve help. In both ways—in redeveloping interest in sound lecture courses, and in helping education with the proceeds—they are doing great good which The Herald is glad to commend.

Then there is the interesting theory that Yuan Shi Kai's hurried acceptance of the crown was merely a ruse to head off a visit from the Colonel.

The Outlook for Democracy

New York Evening Post: At the beginning of 1916, what is the outlook for democracy on both sides of the Atlantic? It may be summed up in a few words: In Europe, democracy, under fire, is courageous and self-confident. In this country democracy is being urged to go out of business. England, after seventeen months of war and facing a struggle of indefinite duration, of enormous strain, of uncertain outlook, is still debating "compulsory service," of a modified and limited sort. Why? Because England, fighting for her empire, for the splendid history of a thousand years, for survival it may be, still refuses to surrender her democratic creed. The great majority of Englishmen feel that if this is a war for democracy, Germany will have won if England goes in for compulsory service. It may come to that, England may have to surrender her ancient creed to save herself from destruction, but she is determined to hold fast to the faith until there is no other way out. In other words, democracy in England is still courageous. It is the same way in France. Upon her the bitterness of war has broken in full measure. On her the strain is beyond calculation. Yet Frenchmen have not huddled together and cried for a dictator. Instead, through their representatives in parliament, they are reasserting a stronger democratic control over the conduct of the war, plainly determined that liberty must not be sacrificed to panic, plainly confident that democracy can yet win the war. Such is the spirit of democracy on the battle line.

A Kentucky Newspaper

By Savoyard.

Washington, Jan. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Hon. James Smith, Jr., of New Jersey, after accumulating a princely fortune in business walks, plunged headlong into the maelstrom of politics and secured a seat in the United States senate as a Democrat. He was one of his party who injected "perfidy and dishonor" into the Wilson tariff of 1894, after which he was retired from official preferment by his own party in his own state. Mr. Smith, to promote his political fortunes, established or secured control of a newspaper in his home town of Newark and poured his millions into the business end of his journalistic property without stint, and with the result that he is now making a progress through financial bankruptcy.

Our Uncle Isaac Stephenson of Wisconsin, another millionaire and a delightful old chap, waded into politics up to the neck, and he, too, established a newspaper and fed it ducats by the cartload. As a journalistic enterprise it was a failure, and it would have emptied Uncle Ike's purse, too, had it not been like that of Fortunatus and without bottom.

There are a great many foolish folk who will tell you that money is all that is necessary to make a successful newspaper. They hold that money may command brains, as it will; and that the two, working together, make the great and powerful journal. But there is another quality, the lack of which makes your newspaper as impotent as a tool without a handle, and that quality is character, and without character no newspaper can be influential.

Take the case of William R. Hearst's yallers—money without limit and brains powerful and brilliant, a circulation reaching into the hundred thousands, and yet the influence of the Hearst papers on public affairs is absolutely nil. It was not the opposition of Bryan at Baltimore that defeated Champ Clark; it was the support of Hearst, and Woodrow Wilson would have been nominated in 1912 if Bryan had been as loyal to Clark as Bill Stone of Missouri, or Bill Haldeman of Kentucky.

Of course brains and money are necessary, but the chief and indispensable ingredient of a newspaper is character. There is such a paper in my old home town of Louisville, Ky. I mean the Louisville Post, over the columns of which Richard W. Knott is autocrat. There are thousands of newspaper readers in Kentucky who cuss the Post—at rare intervals I have cussed it myself—but every newspaper reader in Kentucky knows that if there is any live wire in the field of public affairs, Dick Knott reaches out and grabs it utterly regardless of consequences. That is character. That is what makes a paper fit to live and fit to read.

Knott is of Scotch blood, with all the admirable traits of that wonderful people. It would be possible to destroy him, perhaps, but he will never be conquered.

"Not even to save the rare cargo of Truth,
Would he cast out a part to the storm."

Goebelism might have succeeded in making Kentucky a despotism if it had not been for the Louisville Post. Nominated by the police force of the unspeakably corrupt city of Louisville, Goebel would have been elected governor and master of the state had Knott and his newspaper cravenly submitted to the infamy of the nomination. Not in the history of American journalism is recorded a greater achievement than that of the Louisville Post when it defeated William Goebel for governor of a commonwealth that has Freedom for the prerogative of its citizens.

But that was not the only victory achieved by the Louisville Post. About that time Louisville was in the clutch of the most unscrupulous, the most reckless, the most depraved, the most vicious and the most odious gang even American municipal infamy can show. Elections were farces, graft and all kindred knavery stalked everywhere, gambling and robbery were open and notorious, violence and murder defied the law.

And then it was that Dick Knott entered into the battle for law and order, and, it is needless to say to those who know the man, he never let up. They did not try to bribe him; they knew that could not be done; but they sought to intimidate him. A warrant was issued for his arrest on a charge of libel, I believe, and he was taken into custody. It was the scheme to hurry him to jail ere he could secure bondsmen; but it failed. A leading citizen of Louisville, now holding a high position on the judicial bench of Kentucky, related to me the scenes of that occasion. Never, he said, was the better element so enraged, and it was ready for violence, for it recognized in Knott its champion. But there was no outbreak and the storm passed over.

Not long thereafter Knott's fight for law and order triumphed. The gang was cleaned out. Decency took the place of outrage. The gambling hells were closed. Morality was given a chance. The police retired from politics. Louisville regained her self-respect and today, thanks to Dick Knott, is as well governed as any city in America. Had the Louisville Post been a weakling and a coward, had its editor been less virile, mentally and morally, Louisville would have sounded the very depths of degradation and misery.

Richard W. Knott is an accomplished as well as a strong man. His is a powerful mind and he studies all questions profoundly. Once he takes a stand he is immovable, and he is the least inconsistent of any public man I know. He and paradox are strangers.

He is an honor to our noble profession. No man wears our cloth more worthily. He believes something and his belief is that of a giant. His only concern is, "Is it right?"

And when Simon Bolivar Buckner died, not a great while ago, Richard W. Knott took his place as the first citizen of Kentucky.

Your Task.

Robert Louis Stevenson: To be honest, to be kind—to earn a little and to spend a little less, to make upon the whole a family happier for his presence; to renounce when that shall be necessary and not to be embittered; to keep a few friends, but these without capitulation—above all, on the same grim conditions to keep friends with himself—here is a task for all that a man has of fortitude and delicacy.

Rippling Rhymes

By Walt Mason

Hard Work.

It's hard to keep smiling when troubles are piling their weight on your neck till it's sprained; it's hard to keep grinning when others are winning the prizes for which you have strained. It's hard to be cheery on days wet and dreary, when everything near you looks drowned; it's hard to be sunny when all of your money is sunk in a hole in the ground. It's hard to keep laughing when wearily quaffing the flagon of grief to the dregs, it's harder to frolic when you have the colic, or gout at the end of your legs. But how will it aid you, when woe has waylaid you, to rumble and grumble and swear? There's nothing that's healing in kicking the ceiling, or biting the rungs from a chair. It's hard to look pleasant when anguish is present, and yet it is strictly worth while; not all of your scowling and fussing and growling can show off your grit like a smile.

"God Give Us Men"

Editorial in the Chicago Herald (Independent.)

The squabbling of British politicians, in parliament and the press, over theories and methods and for factional and class advantages, when the country is visibly in danger of losing a war in which its national existence is at stake, probably strikes many Americans as a descent into the abysses of partisan folly and of fanatic refusal to look facts in the face.

Yet before censuring the incompetence in a national crisis of life or death of another people's chosen leaders it becomes us to look at home and consider whether many of our chosen leaders are showing more wisdom and patriotism and less pettiness. The spectacle of the debates in the American congress last week and especially that of the assaults of numerous senators of his own party upon the president, certainly was not one to raise the national pride or justify large assumptions of superiority.

Here is the president of the United States trying by every means in his power to preserve for his country peace, and not peace merely, but peace with honor. Thanks largely to the refusal in the past of the very men who now revile him to look beyond petty immediate interests he faces unarmed, save with the justice of his cause, war-maddened nations armed to the limit of their peoples' long endeavor and resolved upon overriding every human right that stands in the way of victory.

Yet in such a crisis men whom the American people have chosen to provide for their welfare and their safety quibble and squabble and utter foolish words. Some of them even descend into such depths of piffling futility as to accuse of seeking his own death a servant of the United States proceeding to the post of duty assigned him by his government by the conveyance he had every right to use and in using which he was wantonly murdered.

When they see and hear a senator of the United States accusing Consul McNeely of committing suicide all loyal Americans feel a sense of nausea and look about them to find a veil to draw over such an exhibition of shuffling cowardice in high places. And their misery is increased by the knowledge that other nations must needs observe and note this exhibition and deem it representative of our general conceptions of national honor!

These are indeed days in which no American can feel free to censure imbecility in high places of other nations. We have too much of it here at home. A few weeks ago we gave thanks as a nation for our peace and prosperity. The time seems to have come for a day of prayer for light and leading and for broadly patriotic men to rise up and help us to keep our honor without stain and our country secure from the destruction that threatens through folly of counselors.

God give us men! The time demands
Strong minds, great hearts, true faith, and willing hands;
Men whom the lust of office does not kill;
Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy;
Men who possess opinions and a will;
Men who have honor; men who will not lie;
Men who can stand before a demagogue
And dam his treacherous flatteries without winking;
Tall men, sun-crowned, who live above the fog
In public duty and in private thinking.

How to Deal With the Grip

Walter Peet, M. D., in the New York World: The menacing epidemic of grip that is sweeping over New York and the whole country can by simple measures be stopped.

In 1888 the late Dr. Carl Seiler, one of our eminent practitioners, wrote a prescription for a mucous-membrane antiseptic which proved most potent. The Medical Record printed it in February of that year. Immediately all of the manufacturing drug houses put the recipe into tablet form, and today it is prescribed, with certain modifications, by many nose and throat specialists.

All that one need do to be fairly immune from grip and its frequent follower, pneumonia, is to spray the nose and throat thrice or more daily with a solution of these tablets. Dissolve four alkaline and antiseptic tablets in a table glass of boiled water. Add eighteen drops of spirits of camphor. Put in a clean eight-ounce bottle. Pour the solution into a strongly spraying atomizer until it is half full. Standing erect, with the nozzle of the atomizer parallel with the floor and with the opening of the nostril pushed upward by the nozzle—so as to throw the spray backward and not toward the roof of the nose—spray until the liquid is felt to trickle into the throat from the back of the nose. Then blow each nostril out separately, without compression. Spray the throat.

The grip germs and the pneumococci gain entrance only through the mucous membranes of the nose, mouth and throat. When these get below normal resisting power we fall easy prey to the trouble-makers. The nose is nature's air-filter, and when in good condition it arrests disease germs. Thus it is essential that we keep it as nearly up to the top notch of efficiency as possible. Also, it is important that we breathe only through the nose, never by way of the mouth.

In a large number of cases "a cold in the head," which usually is the precursor of grip when it is epidemic, can be aborted by this spray.

The Modern Mammon.

Boston Post: "If Jesus were here to test the worth of the industries of this city, he would not ask the size of their output, or the amount of their dividends. He would inquire what they are doing to human life. He would ask about health and the homes of the workers. The human side of industry is the only side that counts. Man was not made for industry, but industry was made for man."

These declarations were made recently by Prof. Harry F. Ward of the social service department of Boston university.

"The value of industry to any community is to be measured by its human product," Prof. Ward said. "When we put the human element first, the first demand is that industry shall not waste human life.

"At present we still worship a heathen god. His name is Mammon, and, as of old, he requires human sacrifice. The workers die from preventable accident, from industrial disease and from misery due to bad living conditions, until their average chance of life is just about half that of the intellectual worker.

"The first command of religion in human relations is 'Thou shalt not kill,' and this applies to the indirect murders of an industrial civilization."

Woman's Attitude Toward Law.

W. L. George in the Atlantic: In most cases woman is lawless; she will obey the law because she is afraid of it, but she will not respect it. For her it is always sic volo, sic jubeo. I suspect that if she had had a share in making the law she would not have been like this, for she would have become aware of the relation between law and life. Roughly she tends to look upon the law as tyrannous if she does not like it, as protective if she does like it. Probably there is little relation between her own moral impulse, which is generous, and the law, which is only just. (That is, just in intention). This is qualified by the moral spirit in woman, which increasingly leads her to the view that certain things should be done and others not be done. But even then it is likely that at heart woman does not respect the law; she may respect what it represents—strength—but not what it implies—equity. She is infinitely more rebellious than man, and where she has power she inflames the world in protest. I do not refer to the militant suffragists, but to woman's general attitude.

Effort to "Use" Dr. Northrop Is Resented by State Press

"Favorite Son" Fiasco Falls Flat in Minnesota.

Would Make the State Appear Ridiculous.

Anoka Union: The talk of Cyrus Northrop as a candidate for president on the Minnesota Republican primary ticket is another scheme to make the state appear ridiculous and those who advocate it foolish.

Not an Honor.

Red Lake Falls Gazette: No doubt the people of Minnesota would be glad if they should some time have the opportunity of showing Dr. Cyrus Northrop some special honor. However, frequent suggestions to use his name as a deception to pull political chestnuts out of the fire do not offer any real opportunity to honor Dr. Northrop. The suggestion that he be a "favorite son candidate" for the presidency is such a suggestion. Such is the obvious and admitted purpose of the suggestion. On the first ballot Minnesota's vote would be for Dr. Northrop and then go to the man in whose behalf, by the terms of the political deal, the plan to "use" Dr. Northrop's name had been agreed upon—surely a delightful way to "honor" the venerable educator.

It "Sounds Like Sacrilege."

Warroad Pioneer: No man in Minnesota has a higher place in the esteem of the people than Dr. Northrop, and the proposition to make him a "stalking horse" in the presidential primaries to secure an uninstructed delegation sounds like sacrilege.

Ed Should Get a Real Goat.

Walker Pilot: If Prexy Northrop (grand old man) falls for the dope of the "old guard" and allows his name to go on the presidential primary ballot as Minnesota's favorite son, we'll feel like blowing out our lantern and quit running around like Diogenes of old, in hopes of finding a man so honest that he is immune from the political machinations of crafty leaders. It doesn't take a presidential ballot to proclaim Prexy as Minnesota's favorite son—he's that already, and the fact that he has been crowned as such without political intrigue causes the jewels in his diadem to shine all the brighter. Don't do it, Grand Old Man; don't do it. Let the Root-Cummins-Hughes men put up a good honest fight for their candidates. We're all going to love one another anyway, after it's all over with, and go down the line united for a big Republican victory. If Ed Smith wants to offer a sacrifice, he should go and get a real goat, and not try to make one out of Cyrus Northrop.

Disgraceful and Futile.

Monticello News: The proposal of certain politicians of this state to use the name of Dr. Cyrus Northrop as a dummy candidate for presidential honors is as disgraceful as it will be futile. None but unscrupulous politicians would have the nerve to propose such a thing, and the only surprising part of the matter is that Dr. Northrop did not indignantly spurn the proposition.

Shy on Sense.

Breckenridge Gazette: Whoever is responsible for the idea of the Republican party of Minnesota sending a delegation to the Republican national convention, "uninstructed," except that it cast its first or complimentary vote for Dr. Cyrus Northrop, seems to us to be shy the sense with which it is popularly supposed God Almighty endowed the goose.

His Name Should Not Be Used.

Greenbush Tribune: Dr. Northrop stands about as much show of receiving this nomination as some 2-year-old boy and it would be a foolish stunt to put up his name at all. Dr. Northrop is one of our most highly respected citizens and his name should not be used merely to further the interests of a few petty politicians.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quinlus, the Sunshine Man.

The Light as Darkness—Matthew xiii, 10-17.

The condition of the heart determines the quality of my discernment. If "the heart is waxed gross" the ears will be "dull of hearing," and the eyes will be "closed." My spiritual senses gain their acuteness or obtuseness from my affections. If my love is muddy my sight will be dim. If my love be "clear as crystal" the spiritual realm will be like a gloriously transparent air.

And the awful nemesis of sin-created blindness is this, that it interprets itself as sight. "The light that is in thee is darkness." We think we see, and all the time we are the children of the night. We think it is "the dawn of God's sweet morning," and behold! it is the perverse flare of the evil one. He has given us a will-o'-the-wisp, and we boastfully proclaim it to be "the morning star."

But there is hope for any man, however blind he be, who will humbly lay himself at Jesus' feet. Let this be my prayer, O Lord, "Cleanse Thou me from secret faults." Deliver me from self-deception, save me from confusing the fixed light of heaven with the wandering beacon-lights of hell. And again, and again will I pray, "Lord, that I might receive my sight."—John Henry Jowett.

Heaven is not reached at a single bound;
But we build the ladder by which we rise
From the lowly earth to the vaulted skies,
And we mount to its summit round by round.

I count this thing to be grandly true:
That a noble deed is a step toward God,
Lifting the soul from the common clod
To a purer air and a broader view.

We rise by the things that are under feet;
By what we have mastered of good and gain;
By the pride deposed and the passion slain,
And the vanquished ills that we hourly meet.

We hope, we aspire, we resolve, we trust,
When the morning calls us to life and light,
But our hearts grow weary, and, ere the night,
Our lives are trailing the sordid dust.

We hope, we resolve, we aspire, we pray,
And we think that we mount the air on wings
Beyond the recall of sensual things,
While our feet still cling to the heavy clay.

Wings for the angels, but feet for men!
We may borrow the wings to find the way—
We may hope, and resolve, and aspire, and pray;
But our feet must rise, or we fall again.

Only in dreams is a ladder thrown
From the weary earth to the sapphire walls;
But the dreams depart, and the vision falls,
And the sleeper wakes on his pillow of stone.

Heaven is not reached at a single bound;
But we build the ladder by which we rise
From the lowly earth to the vaulted skies,
And we mount to its summit, round by round.
— Josiah Gilbert Holland (1819-1881).

An Ink Erasing Blotter.

Popular Science Monthly: Take an ordinary sheet of blotting paper and steep it several times in a solution of oxalic acid or oxiate potassium and dry. While the ink spot is still moist apply the blotter and the ink will be entirely removed. If the ink is dry, moisten and apply the blotter.

The Price of Progress

William L. Chenery in the Chicago Herald.

Although he probably hasn't thought about the matter, Charles Vancouver Piper, the "grass man" of the department of agriculture, has presented a pretty riddle to the world.

Prof. Piper is said to have been responsible for the introduction of Soudan grass in this country. Through the use of this grass a remarkable increase in the land value of certain sections of Texas has been created. A vast new wealth has been brought into existence.

For eleven years the man who has done this great thing was a professor of botany at the Washington Agricultural school. During the last dozen years he has been an expert in the employment of the national government. It is a safe guess that Prof. Piper has never "earned" more than $5,000 a year, if, indeed, his income is so high. But his thought has added potential millions to the resources of his country.

Much of the most valuable work is being done by men of Prof. Piper's kind, men paid moderate salaries, and who very probably are not ambitious for riches. What have the learned economists to say about the Pipers? They have been telling us that without great rewards for the inventive few progress is impossible. Will the great authorities build a new theory? The riddle is theirs.

If Prof. Piper had invented a new tool for planting Soudan grass he might have made himself rich enough to buy a peace ship or found a few colleges or libraries or something of the sort. As a college professor and a government employe, however, he might have regarded a personal patent on his invention as unethical, and so he would still have been poor

Isn't this "grass man" typical of many of the great leaders? The man who brought alfalfa is worth more than a war indemnity. The man who remade agricultural Ireland, Sir Horace Plunkett, is doubtless personally poorer for all his trouble. His nation, albeit, is immeasurably richer.

In other fields the same thing is true. How much did Abraham Lincoln get for signing the emancipation proclamation? What was Jefferson's fee for writing the Declaration of Independence? How much was Miss Addams paid for establishing Hull House and for being a constant example of a greater humanity? How much has the world ever paid for the finest things in life?

None the less, learned economists will continue solemnly to say that women must not be paid enough to support life because they do not earn enough. What do they mean by earn? All unwittingly Prof. Piper puts the question.

The Tangle of Expenses

Youth's Companion: Expenses are a tangle, and no mistake. The young wife who has looked forward to marriage chiefly from the sentimental and ornamental point of view finds all at once that household bills fall under the head neither of sentiment nor of ornament, except, indeed, that the words "received payment" have a comfortable sparkle beyond that of any jewelry.

She has watched her mother order, has helped her mother order, has heard the prices of things. But somehow those prices, which used to be mere vague figures, get claws, and scratch at her when she has to find the money.

It is the absolutely necessary things that are frightful: the flour, and the sugar, and the butter, and the eggs. As one woman said, "I expected to have to deny myself game and fruit out of season, but I didn't expect to be ruined by soap and cereals." The way in which the money disappears is extraordinary. It is here, and it is gone, and you do not feel as if you had had anything to show for it. Of course you have the best of husbands, but just because he is the best you do not like to be forever tormenting him. And some people must have husbands who are not the best.

There is but one way out of the tangle, and that is system. With system there may be drag and worry, but there cannot be a tangle. First, find out exactly what you ought to spend. Your husband will be glad to tell you, if he sees that you are anxious to abide by his decision. Then distinguish what you must have, if you can possibly afford it, in food, in dress, in service, in amusement. Ascertain the prices of things and allot a proper amount to each department, with, of course, a liberal margin for that unexpected. Then if one field of expenditure exceeds, adjust it by reducing what is least essential in the others. Neither this method of proceeding, nor any method, will enable you to get something for nothing; but order and prudence and foresight will at least show you where you stand, and will rid you of that desperate distress that comes from living always in a tangle.

Above all, if you have a daughter, begin early to train her so that she may not get into the tangle at all.

PREPAREDNESS AND WAR.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The shadow of war hangs heavy on all hearts, whatever their sympathies. Yet, in the face of it all, we find men in America today—men presuming to be neutral, and decrying the state of affairs in Europe—who are advocating the greatest degree of preparedness on the part of the American nation. If our press, and men of militaristic tendencies, want what Europe has today, all they have to do is to advocate preparedness on a gigantic scale, and war will surely follow—for gigantic preparation for defense means war, which this present conflict so clearly proves.

I read a certain newspaper every day—and it is a good newspaper too—but it is so afraid of sentiment that it does not dare to advocate peace. I know a certain man who in his heart desires peace to be restored in Europe, but he does not dare to discuss peace, as he is of militaristic tendencies, and fears he may be called a pacifist.

The greatest advocates for preparedness are the manufacturers and dealers in munition or armaments of war. These men are today waxing rich from war supplies, which they are sending across the waters to destroy nations that have hitherto been the flower of civilization. Factories are being built, men employed by the thousands for the purpose of hastening munition to the war-mad nations of Europe. America should put an embargo on munition of war, supplies, etc., because it would hasten the day of peace, and save the nations at war at least a million men. If this could be accomplished, the conflict would soon end, and our country could then proceed more deliberately than ever with the war program, or preparedness propaganda, which undoubtedly would take on a different aspect than it does at the present time.

It must be clear to the thinking mind that we are participating in this war, and that we are prolonging the war by supplying the nations at war with the fuel, which is necessary to keep the camp fires burning. Knowing, as we do, that no munition must surely hasten peace, which our good people are hoping will soon be brought about, the American nation should act accordingly, and we would accomplish results undreamed of. Signed,

ALBERT JOHNSTAD.

CHANCE TO SAVE MONEY.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In the last annual report of the register of deeds he shows with pride that the receipts of his office almost paid the expenses. That his office is well conducted and knowing that due consideration will be given to any suggestions, we offer the following:

The last years have shown that the work of the deputy register of titles has been done by one of the clerks, that the office divides responsibility, is a waste of $2,000 of the taxpayers' money with no returns; that our taxes are steadily increasing—last year the rate was 3.49, this year it has jumped to 3.87. When the property owner gets his tax statement he has a surprise coming. We believe it would be good business on the part of the officers in charge of the different departments at the courthouse to see wherein the waste can be cut out.

In the case under consideration, cut out the office of deputy register; do not fill it—there is $2,000 saved. Advance the salary of the one who has been doing the work, and who has done it well. This would be one step in the right direction.

Thanking you for the space and hoping that any others that have suggestions for economy in office would come to the front at once. Yours,

A. A. FIDER.

LOWER TAXES AND ENCOURAGEMENT OF HOME OWNERS ARE CONTEST SUGGESTIONS

Attorney Thinks Duluth Should Have Lowest Tax Rate in United States—Canal to the Mississippi River Another Suggestion.

Prohibition, more liberal legislation, public ownership, a canal connecting the St. Louis and Mississippi waterways, a lower tax rate, or encouragement for home owners—which would be of the most benefit to Duluth?

All these suggestions, and many more, are made by citizens of Duluth, as well as of surrounding cities and towns, who have written today, joining The Herald contest.

Each writer has answered the question "What three things would you do for Duluth's betterment, if you had the power?" and here are some of the answers:

A Carlton, Minn., attorney who evidently is a student of municipal government, has the following ideas on civic betterment:

"First—Entirely change and so manage the public affairs that Duluth would have the lowest tax rate of any city in the United States. This can be secured by adopting an improved business system based upon the plainest and simplest principles of economics, and so furnish, in this case, one of the most powerful incentives to manufacturers, capitalists, business men, and desirable home owning citizens, to locate in Duluth.

"Second—By proper organization I would eliminate the landlord and tenant evil of modern city life, by making the mass of the people home owners, instead of renters, and in justice, place the title to the home in both the husband and wife as joint tenants and not as tenants in common, and providing needed legislation to perpetuate succession of title. A city of home owners would furnish a loyalty to Duluth's interests, that renters and transients could never feel.

"Third—Lay the foundation to build the most beautiful, famous and best city in America by adopting the foregoing suggestions, and by minimizing the opportunities for vice; minimizing the cost of living; enlarging the means of saving for a rainy day; refusing to longer farm out the city's and people's interest to selfish and private parties, and place before the people the best to be had upon the most favorable terms.

"H. S. LORD,
"Carlton."

Would Close Saloons.

A West end resident, evidently a Prohibitionist, has the following to offer:

"First—I would close all the saloons, as there is nothing good derived from them, but lots of harm and money wasted.

"Second—I would have organizations to educate the people in modes of living, to be sure to get the most thoroughly competent and honest men to run our city and municipal affairs, as there are too often men that look to the interest of private companies and themselves.

"Then I would get municipal ownership of public utilities, because if we get the right men to take charge of these it would be a big saving to the people.

"JOHN GOODWIN,
"3020 West First street, city."

A Kenwood Park resident believes The Herald is to be congratulated for inviting suggestions of this kind. "With your method," reads his letter, "and the many civic clubs, rural and central, co-operating, it would bring about a bigger and better Duluth.

"For my part," he continues, "I first would modify legislation which is along the lines of theory and not practical. Legislation is too severe on the public and business, and too dictatorial for a developing city, in its infancy.

"Second—I would provide better mail service for the rural districts. I would have the postmaster take the matter up with the proper authorities and have them revise the rules so that mail carriers can retrace their steps, giving all residents on highways mail service at their doors.

"Third—A city owned electric car line from Proctor connecting at West Duluth, the incline and Woodland Park. Plot the acreage along the route and sell it to workingmen at reasonable prices, so that they will have a little to cultivate.

"I would build the road and assess the property owners abutting said road for a distance of one mile on each side of the right of way. I would operate the same as a railway, not as a street car line, and arrange rates so that it would be self-supporting, and at the same time so that people could own their own homes, and live where there is pure air and water.

"T. A. HOLDER,
"Kenwood Park."

A Park Point citizen believes the first thing to do is to guard the city's health by a more strict set of rules of sanitation.

Here is his letter:

"If I had the power I would do for Duluth the following things: First—I would pass a law and place signs in all meat shops, reading as follows: 'The handling of meats by prospective purchasers in positively forbidden.'

"Second—I would pass a law and place a sign on every street corner reading 'Spitting on sidewalks positively forbidden, penalty fine or imprisonment, or both, by order of the board of health.'

"Third—I would erect a free hospital and dispensary to care for the sick who are unable to provide medical treatment.

"A. F. GRADY,
"3108 Minnesota avenue."

What Makes a Woman a Good Cook?—How Steero Cubes Help

A good cook? What does that mean?

It means having skill and knowledge of how to impart flavor to the dishes prepared.

If your cooking has flavor, you are a good cook. If it lacks flavor, a few Steero Cubes in your kitchen, used with judgment, will lift your cooking out of the "plain" class into the "good" class.

Steero Cubes are concentrated flavors. They contain the blended essences of beef, vegetables and spices.

You can prove this by drinking one cup of hot Steero, made by pouring boiling water on a Steero Cube.

You'll taste all those flavors and you will like them. Imagine how well they would go in a roast, a gravy, a pot-pie or a sauce.

Steero Cubes will improve your cooking like a course in a cooking school.

Get them from your nearest Druggist, Grocer or Delicatessen Dealer in boxes of 12, 50 or 100 Cubes. Be sure to get Steero Cubes. There are imitations.

FEWER AIDED DURING 1915

Only 772 Persons Cared for at Almshouse, Hospital and Sanitarium.

Pauperism in Most Cases Due to Disease, Says Report.

Shelter, food, relief and medical attendance were extended to fewer indigent and sick persons at the county poor farm during 1915 than for the previous year, according to the annual report of Dr. C. J. Woolway, medical superintendent, which has been completed and which was filed yesterday afternoon with A. P. Cook, clerk of the poor commission.

During the year covered by the report, 772 persons were cared for at the three county institutions—almshouse, hospital and tuberculosis sanatorium. The daily average was 227 persons. During the previous year, 883 persons were extended relief and medical attendance. In 1913 there were 714; in 1912, 594; in 1911, 686; and in 1910, 756. The large number in 1910 was due in part to an epidemic of typhoid which was then prevalent.

Beginning of Year.

The year 1915 began with 225 persons at the farm, of which 134 were inmates of the almshouse; fifty-nine patients in the hospital, and thirty-two in the tuberculosis pavilion. The admissions during the year totaled 547 divided as follows: Almshouse, 113; hospital, 348, and tuberculosis section, eighty-six. The year ended with 241 people in the three institutions, apportioned as follows: Almshouse, 156; hospital, forty-seven; tuberculosis pavilion, thirty-eight.

A summary of the population statistics follows:

Almshouse.

Inmates, Jan. 1, 1915	134

Patients, Dec. 31, 1915	38

Patients at Hospital.

During the year there were 407 patients in the county hospital of whom 301 were discharged and twenty-five were classed as inmates, they being incurable. Of those discharged, thirty were sent to St. Luke's hospital for operations, fifteen transferred to the tuberculosis section, one sent to the emergency hospital and another to the state hospital for the insane at Fergus Falls. Of those sent to St. Luke's hospital, the report says, the majority were returned to the county hospital for convalescence. There were thirty-four deaths among the hospital cases.

In the almshouse during the year, there were 247 inmates of whom a great number received treatment for minor ailments and of which thirty-six were given hospital care. There were 106 inmates discharged, of which four were sent to St. Luke's hospital for operation, three transferred to the tuberculosis pavilion. Those sent to St. Luke's and the emergency hospitals were later readmited. There were ten deaths among the inmates.

Of the 118 patients in the sanatorium for pauper consumptives, there were forty-two deaths and thirty-eight discharges. "The mortality among the tuberculosis cases is high," says the report, "but the great majority of the cases were in an advanced stage of the disease when admitted.

REQUESTED TO SAVE MONEY

Calligan Urged By Munger Club to Leave Deputyship Vacant.

Anderson's Job Declared Sinecure; Schleunes' Traffic Plan Indorsed.

Members of the Munger Improvement club last night adopted resolutions urging County Register of Deeds Charles Calligan to leave unfilled the vacancy caused by the forced resignation of Deputy Registrar of Titles William A. Anderson.

Deputy Anderson was dismissed from the county service last Friday, when discrepancies extending over a period of thirteen years were in part traced to him, it is alleged.

Munger club officials asserted that they had learned, from good authority, that the deputy registrar was merely an honorary office holder. His work, they claimed, was all done by the stenographer in the office. The resolution asks Registrar Calligan to save the county the $2,000 annual salary paid the deputy by leaving the position vacant.

Paving of Eleventh avenue east, from Second street to Eleventh street, also was discussed. Petitions were circulated among property owners and a large number of signatures were obtained, it was reported. When several more names are obtained, the petition will be filed with Works Commissioner Farrell and City Clerk Walter Borgen. The club wants the avenue paved next summer.

Schleunes' Traffic Plan Indorsed.

J. F. Schleunes, one of the club members, presented a plan to alter the downtown street railway system, having single tracks on Superior and First streets, instead of the present double track on Superior street. Mr. Schleunes outlined his plan in a communication to The Herald, published last Saturday.

"More room for traffic soon will be needed both on Superior and First streets," Mr. Schleunes said last night. "Since both streets are to be paved next year, the logical time to make any changes in the street car system would be while the paving was in progress.

"Cars might be run west on First street and east on Superior street, making the western junction at Mesaba avenue and the eastern at Twenty-fourth avenue east. Nine feet would be gained for Superior street traffic if one of the double tracks was done away with," he said.

The club indorsed the plan.

BULGER DECLARED SANE; MUST HANG

Convicted of Killing Lloyd Nicodemus in Denver Hotel.

Denver, Colo., Jan. 11.—J. C. Bulger late yesterday was declared sane by a jury in district court, which recently was ordered by the Colorado supreme court to determine Bulger's mental condition.

The verdict means Bulger must hang the week of Feb. 27. As the jury filed into the room, the clerk was handed an envelope. He read:

"We the jury, find that James C. Bulger at the present time is insane." Bulger smiled and his attorneys turned to congratulate him.

Foreman Gardner arose and declared a mistake had been made. "The wrong slip was put in the envelope," he said.

Amid consternation Judge W. D. Wright ordered the men to return to the jury room. Presently a verdict of "sane" was returned.

The jury had been out since early Saturday night.

Bulger was convicted for the killing May 6, 1914, of Lloyd Nicodemus in the lobby of a Denver hotel, of which Nicodemus was part owner. Just before the shooting, Bulger had quarreled with other guests of the hotel in the bar room. At the time the prisoner, known as "Col." Bulger and as a soldier of fortune in Mexico and Central America, was endeavoring to recruit a regiment for the United States army.

Work farm prisoners are being employed in the work of constructing County Ditch No. 5, a new drainage project in the Rice Lake district, the contract for which was awarded last Friday. About sixty men comprise the work farm crew.

The new drainage project will reclaim about 7,500 acres of land in the vicinity of the new county work farm. The work is under the direction of E. K. Coe, county road engineer, and will be pushed to an early completion.

Five More Bodies Recovered.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Jan. 11.—The bodies of three women, one man and infant were recovered yesterday from the wreckage of thepacket Kanawha, which sank in the Ohio river near here last Wednesday. The body of a negro chambermaid was recovered the morning of the disaster.

Federal and state investigators completed their work today. They would not discuss their findings.

LARGE SUMS FOR BUILDING

Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars Will Be Spent in 1916.

Many Big Structures Will Be Erected in West End.

Building operations in the West end will run into hundreds of thousands of dollars this year, judging from work that has just been started and buildings that are now being planned. Excavation for the foundation for two new buildings to be erected on property owned by Swanstrom Bros. realty firm, at Twenty-first avenue west and First street, was begun last week.

The building to be erected by the realty firm will be on the corner. It will be seventy feet on Twenty-first avenue and fifty-two feet on First street. The structure will have a full basement and be two stories high. The first floor will be used for stores and the second floor for offices. It will cost the owners $15,000.

Adjoining this building will be another business block to be erected by A. Hanson & Co., West end hardware dealers. The building will have a full basement and be two stories high and the entire building will be occupied by the hardware firm. It will have a frontage of thirty-five feet on the avenue and be fifty feet deep. The cost is estimated at $8,000.

Two Business Blocks.

The excavation for the two handsome business blocks at the corner of Twenty-first avenue west and Superior street is completed. The contractor now has a crew of men at work laying the stone for the foundation. The corner building will cost about $35,000 and is being erected for Stack Bros. This building will have a frontage of sixty feet on Superior street and 140 feet on Twenty-first avenue west. The other building is being erected for the P. Geo. Hanson & Son realty firm, and has a frontage of forty feet on Superior street and is 100 feet deep. It will cost about $25,000.

The business block being erected by Alfred Polinsky on Twentieth avenue west, back of the Columbia hall building, is rapidly nearing completion. This block, with a frontage of sixty feet on the avenue, will cost about $15,000. The first floor is arranged for three stores and the second floor for four modern flats.

Within another week or two it is expected that the contract will be let for the job of tearing down the old landmark at the corner of Twenty-first avenue west and Superior street, known as the Normanna hall building. This three-story frame building is to be replaced by a handsome modern two-story brick structure, part of which will be occupied by the Nelson Knitting mill. The Nelson Knitting Mill company owns the property, having paid $35,000 for it more than a year ago.

Gust Bergeson has plans out for the construction of a two-story business and flat building to be erected on the corner of Twenty-third avenue west and Third street, which will cost $10,000. The first floor will be used for stores and the second floor for flats.

Building for Hotel.

Ole Pearson will erect within a short time a brick structure at the northeast corner of Sixteenth avenue west and Superior street costing about $25,000. The building is to be used for hotel purposes. The first floor will be arranged for two stores and a hotel lobby. It is probable that the work will be started about Feb. 1.

Henry Gujer, owner of the property on the southwest corner of Twentieth avenue west and First street, is contemplating the erection of a two-story building on the corner. The first floor is to be devoted to business purposes and the second floor will be arranged for flats.

Probably the largest building in the West end now under consideration is being planned by the Christiansen-Mendenhall & Graham company for its property on Twenty-fourth avenue west and First. The building is to be constructed for factory purposes. The structure will be three stories high and will be built entirely along the lines of modern "daylight" factories similar in many respects to the handsome Patrick factory at Twenty-ninth avenue.

Will Enlarge Plant.

The Duluth Gas & Welding company, 2112 West Michigan street, has plans out for the enlargement of its plant. The proposed enlargement will double the plant's present capacity. The proposed improvement will cost the company about $7,000.

Emil Nelson, proprietor of the Star theater, expects to build a handsome theater building on his property adjoining the present theater building. The present building occupied by the theater is owned by the Nelson Knitting Mill company. Plans for the new theater call for an expenditure of about $25,000.

The Zenith Broom factory has under consideration this spring the construction of a factory building on its property on West First street between Twenty-second and Twenty-third avenues. The building will be two stories high with a full basement, and will be constructed thoroughly fireproof.

J. Ptaszak, owner of a lot on Superior street between Twenty-second and Twenty-third avenues, has under consideration the construction of a building this spring. The first floor will be used for store purposes to be occupied by himself and the second story as a flat.

GENERAL STRIKES BEGIN IN BARCELONA

Paris, Jan. 10.—General strikes in the metal industries began today at Barcelona, Spain, without incident. According to the Madrid correspondent of the Havas agency, the duke of Alba declares that when he took over the portfolio of the ministry of interior, he received confidential information from labor quarters that international agents were touring the country preparing for a general strike involving all Spain, to begin with the new year, with the purpose of causing the emigration of Spanish workmen to factories abroad.

The government, says the minister, observes that this program is being carried out at Barcelona and will act as events require.

SECOND COLD SNAP IS NOT EXTREME

Lowest Point Reached By Mercury 12 Degs. Below Zero.

Aside from the extreme sharpness of temperature, last night was typical of a fine midwinter night. The thermometer performed no remarkable stunts, the lowest temperature reached being 12 deg. below at around 4 o'clock this morning, and but little wind prevailed.

At 7 o'clock this morning it was 5 deg. below and at 10:30 it was 2 deg. below.

Tonight, Weather Forecaster Richardson said today, the temperature will be 10 to 15 deg. below zero, with wind conditions about the same as they have been.

There was a big drop in temperature throughout the Northwest last night, and temperatures of 30 to 40 deg. below zero prevailed throughout Alberta, Saskatchewan and Northern Montana. Low temperatures were prevalent at almost all Northwestern points. The lowest temperature reported was at Battleford, Sask., about 300 miles northeast of Havre, Mont., where the mercury got down in the tube to the 48 deg. line.

STATE BEGINS FIGHT AGAINST R. R. RATES

new schedule into effect on Jan. 15, and on Saturday next the road is required to show cause why a temporary injunction shall not issue against it prohibiting the operation of the proposed tariffs.

Twin Cities Not Affected.

The only points mentioned in the schedule are those from Duluth to Moorhead and to Wadena and Breckenridge. The Twin City rates are not affected by the new schedule, for the reason that the morning train, running in Minnesota solely, and not touching Wisconsin, makes the rate to St. Paul and Minneapolis.

However the rates to Brainerd, Staples and other points west are affected, and this was the bone of contention over which the state has taken up the cudgels.

Under the order issued today, the Northern Pacific is forbidden to charge to these points more than 2 cents per mile, the Minnesota rate, while under the proposed schedule to go into effect Jan. 15, the rate was to have been 2.4 cents per mile.

The basis of the state's complaint is that it is not necessary for the road to operate its trains to Brainerd, Staples, Moorhead and intermediate points through Wisconsin, for via Carlton the trains may be operated wholly within the state.

Under the order issued this morning, operation of the proposed schedule on the line to Wadena and Breckenridge is also forbidden, this being inserted by the court.

How Thin People Can Put On Flesh

Thin men and women—that big, hearty, filling dinner you ate last night. What became of all the fat-producing nourishment it contained? You haven't gained in weight 1 ounce. That food passed from your body like unburned coal through an open grate. The material was there, but your food doesn't work and stick, and the plain truth is you hardly get enough nourishment from your meals to pay for the cost of cooking. This is true of thin folks the world over. Your nutritive organs, your functions of assimilation, are probably sadly out of gear and need reconstruction.

Cut out the foolish foods and funny sawdust diets. Cut out everything but the meals you are eating and eat with every one of those a single Sargol tablet. In two weeks note the difference. Let the scales be the judge. Five to eight good solid pounds of healthy, "stay-there" fat may be the net result. Sargol aims to charge weak, stagnant blood with millions of fresh new red blood corpuscles—to give the blood the carrying power to deliver every ounce of fat-making material in your food to every part of your body. Sargol, too, mixes with your food, to prepare it for the blood in an easily assimilated form. Thin people tell how they have gained all the way from 10 to 25 pounds a month while taking Sargol and say that the new flesh stays put. Sargol tablets are a careful combination of six of the best assimilative elements known to chemistry. They come 40 tablets to a package, are pleasant, harmless and inexpensive, and Boyce Drug store and all other good druggists in this vicinity sell them subject to an absolute guarantee of weight increase or money back as found in every large package. —Advertisement.

RECORD ATTACKED

congressional elections of 1914, he said, was "averted only by the European war, which brought into sudden contrast the president's policy of watchful waiting regarding Mexico, with the mad haste of the European nations as they rushed into war, and which made that policy as popular as it had theretofore been unpopular."

"The realization that similar prudence would keep us out of European complications," he added, "saved the party at the last election from the defeat which would have surely come as the result of the general prostration of business, popularly attributed to our economic legislation.

"It would not do to charge this to the European war; first, because that war, though injurious to our production and trade in its inception, has since become a stimulant to production and export, and second, because the commencement of this depression antedates the European war and was contemporaneous with our legislation regarding the tariff, banking and trade.

Republicans United.

"We are about to face a united Republican party, chastened by adversity and eager to persuade, and the question is whether the Democratic party, having done much under this administration in the interest of genuine reform, is again to be thrown out of power and deprived of the opportunity of continued usefulness, simply because an intervening period of depression subjects us again to the charge of 'Democratic hard times' with its accompanying loss of votes.

"It is safe to say that the manufacturing, the banking and the large corporate interests are hostile to the Democratic party and that their employes are also preparing to throw their weight against it simply because its administration has not brought good times, but on the contrary has, in their judgment, brought bad times.

"Regarding the tariff, my view was that our undertaking was not to immediately adopt a theoretically correct tariff system, but simply to climb gradually down from the protective heights upon which the Republican party had placed the manufacturing interests of the country; not to jump down at the risk of destruction, but to climb down slowly and laboriously with a view to preserving, as far as practicable, every American industry and injuring none.

"When we came to a practical realization of what we had promised by legislation, we were inclined, I thought, to go too fast and too far.

Effect as Feared.

"The effect of the tariff legislation was what I feared it would be. The tying up of production in this country was the result not of malicious effort of the manufacturers to teach the country a lesson, but of the caution and timidity, which can in many cases be proved to be without reason, but which, nevertheless, always exists under like conditions.

"So, also, with banking legislation. Instead of providing some simple method for mobilizing the banking reserves of state and national banks under the control of a non-partisan board or commission resembling the interstate commerce commission, which would gradually, through powers of investigation, publicity, correction and recommendation to congress, work out further reforms, we were intent upon legislation which alarmed the banks by the largeness of our proposals.

"We failed to make the reserve board non-partisan, tied it to an executive department through the secretary of the treasury and comptroller, subjected the banks to investigating and correctional powers of a single partisan comptroller, instead of the composite judgment of a quasi judicial non-partisan board, and exacted additional and unnecessary capital from member banks, thus organizing the reserve associations into profit-making institutions, a purpose entirely foreign to their nature as protective organizations. The result is that the union of banks is incomplete, the state half being outside and the national half inside the reserve organization, with the prospect that those outside will remain so unless the law is modified.

"I think it would be wise to shape the way for legislation during the next session by making the reserve board non-partisan, merging the comptroller's office with all the powers and duties in the reserve board, and doing away with all capital requirements beyond the percentage of reserves of member banks now required."

Senator Newlands said that while there was no need of hysteria upon the subject of national defense, he favored a rational scheme of preparedness.

INCREASED RATES NOT JUSTIFIED

the proposed rates should be permitted to become effective in order to restore the former relation. On the contrary, it is convinced that the maintenance of the present greater differentials will give to the lake routes an opportunity of growth, which seems to have been denied them heretofore."

Victory for Duluth.

G. Roy Hall, traffic commissioner of the Duluth Commercial club, who took a leading part in the fight against the proposed 5 per cent increase in lake-and-rail rates, expressed himself as greatly pleased with the decision. Duluth has really led this fight in both instances when proposed advances were brought up. The last case was based on an advance scheduled to take place on April 2, 1915, and which was held up by the interstate commerce commission at the complaint of the Duluth traffic commission. The hearing on the case was held in Chicago some months ago, and in December the final arguments were held in Washington. It was considered a foregone conclusion, said Mr. Hall this morning, that the decision would be adverse to the lines for the reason that nothing more was shown as reasons for the advance than were shown in the previous case.

Asked as to the effect now that the lake-and-rail lines have been divorced, Mr. Hall said:

"It does seem empty, now that the divorcement has taken place, but it is not as empty as it may seem, for it will cause any independent lines that may form from operating under any other rate than that allowed under old conditions. Of course it will not prevent independent lines from hereafter making application for greater revenue; and such cases will have to be fought out when they arise; but it will make things start off as they have been."

tacks on our Mount Lovcen front. Supported by a hurricane of uninterrupted fire from warships and the forts of Cattaro, the enemy advanced as far as our first line defenses. Our troops repulsed him time after time, inflicting enormous losses, but at night, as the result of a desperate struggle, in which the enemy resorted to asphyxiating gases, the Austrians were enabled to occupy our positions at Kouk and Retatz.

"The morale of our troops is excellent, notwithstanding privations of all sorts. The fighting continues."

attacks by any aggressors. Such preparedness is the best guarantee of any honorable peace.

"We must ever remember that there cannot be the much needed preparedness in the things material, unless there is also that preparedness of soul and spirit which alone renders a nation fit to perform its high and difficult duties in national and international life."

To Select Convention City.

The National committee of the Progressive party met here today for the purpose of selecting a time and place for holding the national convention.

Chicago, where the birth of the party in 1912 took place, appeared early today to be the first choice for place and the week of June 7 when the Republican national convention will be in session, was favored by a majority of the committeemen as the date for calling the national convention. Hotel reservations have been made for that week and two halls have been secured.

Forty-six states are represented and 150 leaders of the party are here to attend the committee meeting and the conference.

MANY CHANGES IN BANK DIRECTORS

New York, Jan. 11.—Resignations of many prominent bankers from directorates of leading national banks all over the country are expected in the annual bank elections today. The changes will be made to anticipate the prohibition against interlocking directorates contained in the Clayton law. The law went into effect Oct. 15, 1914, but, to allow the banks more time to readjust the personnel of their management, two years were allowed for the elimination of directors serving more than one bank. The Clayton law affects only banks having deposits, capital, surplus and undivided profits aggregating more than $5,000,000.

An English correspondent at Athens reported on Saturday that the Cologne Gazette and other German newspapers were demanding the immediate recall of Mr. Higgins on the ground that he had given expression to anti-German sentiments.

TWO DAMAGE SUITS AGAINST HIBBING

Hibbing, Minn., Jan. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hibbing will have to defend two damage suits at the term of district court here next month.

John Perrault, a farmer living south of the village, is suing for $325, which, he alleges, is due by reason of his driving a span of horses into an open ditch near Bennett park and Third avenue, last October.

Perrault claims his horse was so injured that it had to be shot, while the damage to his harness amounted to $25.

Mary Makl is suing Hibbing for $5,000 damages for an injury she claimed she suffered when she fell into an open ditch in block 8, last October, which was being dug out for the laying of pipes for heating purposes, by village employes.

Her lawyer contends that the village was negligent and that there were no signals or barriers to prevent a person from falling it. He also contends that Miss Makl is permanently crippled by the fall and that she had to spend ten months in the hospital.

COMMERCIAL CLUB HEAD AGAINST IDEA

Virginia, Minn., Jan. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The initiative ordinance, which will be submitted to the voters of the city at the general election Feb. 8 which provides for the payment of the water and light plant bonds by general direct taxation, is strongly opposed by President M. A. Murphy of the Commercial club, who for three and one-half years led the fight to take over the plant from the Virginia Electric & Power company.

"When the city purchased the plant, it was understood that the plant was to pay for itself," said Mr. Murphy. "We reached this conclusion after studying the financing of the plant for a number of months. The principle of the ordinance is wrong and, it seems, a selfish angle is involved in the proposition."

Sponsors of the ordinance recently came to Mr. Murphy and urged him to sign the petition, which asked the city council to set a date for a vote on the ordinance. Mr. Murphy refused to sign the petition and gave his reasons for being opposed to the ordinance.

"The sponsors of the ordinance seek to get us into the same 'fix' that Hibbing was involved in with the mining companies," said Mr. Murphy. "We are getting light and water very reasonable. Light costs 6 cents a kilowat with a 10 per cent discount if the monthly bill is paid ten days after its receipt."

Unfair to Taxpayers.

"The ordinance is unfair to our big taxpayers. Our water and light rates are the lowest in the state, and if any improvements were made to the plant, the money for them would come from the general funds of the city. This ordinance, if it carries, would tend to pauperize us. For the good of the community it should be defeated. Its sponsors seem to have gone off on a tangent. The cardinal principle of the ordinance is wrong and if the ordinance carries, the effects of it will react on the city."

Dandruff Soon Ruins the Hair

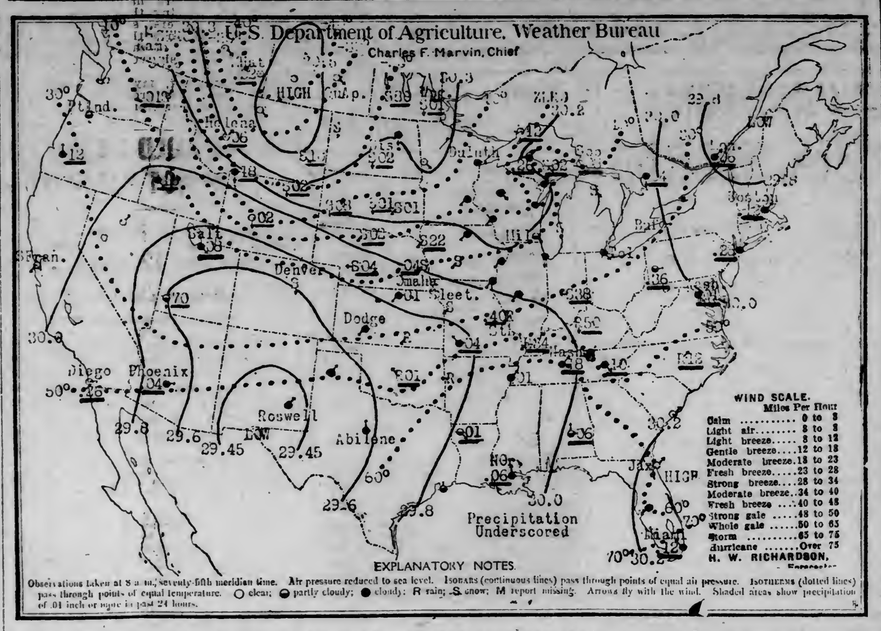

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.—Advertisement.

SNOW

Last night was a fine type of a perfect mid-winter night. It was cold, but that is what winter is for, so it ran true to form; but besides that the moon was shining beautifully, and one felt like indulging in some brisk winter sport, for the blood could not well be sluggish on such a night. Lots of people indulged the feeling, too, and coasting parties, skating parties and such affairs were pulled off in large numbers.

A year ago today was bright and sharp. The sun rose this morning at 7:52 and will set this evening at 4:40, giving eight hours and forty-eight minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

Three brothers lined up before Judge H. W. Lanners in municipal court this morning, while a fourth man re-enacted a fight in which all of them participated.

The fourth man, Ernest Grotke, is a little fellow, and he suffered considerably at the hands of the three brothers. When they finished, in fact, a physician took several stitches in his face and poulticed a pair of black eyes.

Grotke's companion, who compares favorably with James J. Jeffries physically, came through without a scratch. "I don't know 'em," Grotke told the judge. "I heard 'em say something about 'getting us,' and then they started in."

Edward Ettinger, 29, was fined $30 and costs; George, 26, was fined $20 and costs, while Carl, 18, was let off with an assessment of $10 and costs.

"It was just a family affair," the youngest brother said.

"Yes," replied the court; "that is obvious."

Peel Off the Old Skin Bring Out the New

You know that beneath that muddy, over-red or blotchy complexion you have a skin that's clear, soft and white. If you could only have this more beautiful skin exposed to view instead of the horrid old skin you now behold in your mirror! You can—and by a very simple, painless, harmless process which you can use yourself. Get an ounce of common mercolized wax at your druggist's and this evening spread a thin coating of it over your face. Tomorrow morning wash it off with warm water. Small powder-like particles of the lifeless top skin will come off with the wax. Repeat this daily until all the worn-out scarf skin has been absorbed. Then you'll have a lovelier, healthier looking complexion than you now think possible. Blackheads, pimples, spots, freckles, chaps or other surface disfigurements are, of course, removed with the skin itself.

If your skin be wrinkled or flabby, bathe the face daily for awhile in a lotion made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½ pt. witch hazel. This is just splendid. —Advertisement.

PROSPERITY REFLECTED IN CUPID'S WORK

Hibbing, Minn., Jan. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dan Cupid is busy in Hibbing, according to Judge Thomas Brady, who has issued four licenses since the first of the year.

"It's the general good times in Hibbing. When the marriage business picks up then we know that times are good, because people as a rule don't get married in the winter time," said the judge. "It takes more, you know, to feather the nest of two, and the wise bridegroom does not believe in that old saw that two can live cheaper than one. This increase in the issuing of licenses means a more prosperous Hibbing."

Christian H. Tebbe and Miss Nellie R. Overly were granted a marriage license by Judge Brady yesterday. Both parties hail from Hibbing.

TODAY'S BEAUTY HINT

It is not necessary to shampoo quite so frequently if your hair is properly cleansed each time by use of a really good shampoo. The easiest to use and quickest drying shampoo that we can recommend to our readers may be prepared very cheaply by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox, obtained from your druggist, in a cup of hot water. This rubbed into the scalp creates a thick lather, soothing and cooling in its action, as well as very beneficial to scalp and hair. After rinsing, the scalp is fresh and clean, while the hair dries quickly and evenly, developing a bright luster and a soft fluffiness that makes it seem very heavy.—Advertisement.

Why Suffer From Migraine or Sick Headache?

Dr. J. J. Caldwell says that this exceedingly distressing disease does not shorten life, but does not appear to be curable. Sufferers from this affliction are condemned to undergo the periodical attacks every few weeks until they are forty years of age, after which the attacks are less frequent, and finally disappear entirely. Palliative measures during the attack are all that it is possible to suggest, while care in the diet is the best preventive measure. An attack may often be prevented by taking two anti-kamnia tablets when the first symptoms appear, and one anti-kamnia tablet every two hours during the attack shortens it, eases the pain and brings rest and quiet. Anti-kamnia tablets may be obtained at all druggists. Ask for A-K Tablets. They quickly relieve all Pain.

GOLF POOL FASCINATING AND INTERESTING SPORT

Indoor Game Played on Pool Table Is Both Intricate and Exasperating—The Game Originated in New York a Year Ago.

Since the royal and ancient game of golf began, some 450 years ago, thousands of enthusiasts have tried to play a game with somewhat of a golf twist to take its place in the winter months. There have been numerous games with cards, and almost as many different varieties of parlor golf played on the floor, but not one has lasted long.

Now a new one has sprung into existence and has become a fad at billiard halls and clubs. It is called "golf pool" and is played on a pool table with regular pool balls and cues. It resembles golf about as much as shuttlecock and tiddledewinks resemble pool, but the table is green and so is a golf links, and that is excuse enough. Besides, it bears the grand old name of golf, which attached to almost anything nowadays would make it popular.

Game Is Fascinating.

It is a fascinating game. The inventors must have been possessed of a fiendish desire to add to the worries of mankind. It is an exasperating game, for about the time you compliment yourself on having mastered the game the chances are you find you haven't. While you might tear around the eighteen holes, or pockets, in record figures, on one round, you are likely to rank with the worst duffers on the next attempt.

Golf pool is supposed to have originated in New York about a year ago at J. Doyle's billard parlor. Jack himself was one of the inventors, and he had for accomplices George Moore, Burt Mank, George Slosson, Albert Cutler, Alfredo de Oro and Harry Cashman. With this bunch of experts on the job, the game was perfected, and a set of rules equally as perplexing as those which govern the royal and ancient game drawn up.

Pittsburgh Speaks Up.

The news was sprung on the populace that a new game had been born.

Now comes a Pittsburgh newspaper that knocks the whole blomin' idea of Gothamites being originators into a cocked hat. It says Manhattanites are dead slow to just be catching on to golf pool when that game known as "bunker golf pool," has been popular there since 1910.

The paper mentions the names of Bill Powell, Nick Maddox, Honus Wagner and Bobbie Byrne, ball players, who were devotees of the cue game, and picked up bunker golf pool at West Baden, Ind., in the spring of 1910. They brought it to Pittsburgh, where it "since has remained," the story goes. The paper is doubtless correct in saying that it "remained" in Pittsburgh.

Three Balls Are Used.

Three balls are used—a cue ball, an object ball, and a ball which is used as a floating bunker, which costs the player one stroke when either of the other balls touches it. There are four sand traps placed around the cushions two brooks near the spot on each end, and one big pond at the end of the table.

The object ball is in the middle of the table at the start, and you play it into the right-hand side pocket in the fewest possible shots. This is hole No. 1. No. 2 is upper right-hand-corner pocket. The others of the six pockets are played in order. When you complete the six you start at hole No. 1 again. Three rounds constitute a game.

You play one hole, and then your opponent shoots from the place you leave the cue ball, but the red ball is spotted in the center again. The idea is to leave him as difficult a shot as possible.

No Cue Jiggling Allowed.

If you leave him in a trap he must hit a cushion before he hits the red ball. He also is not allowed to jiggle his cue, but must take aim and shoot. If he misses the ball at any time it costs him three strokes. If he pockets any ball out of order it costs him three strokes. If he hits the floating bunker, it is one stroke added.

If the cue ball goes into a brook or the pond you must then put it halfway between the pocket you are shooting for and the object ball.

PAL BROWN MAY BOX EVER HAMMER

Joe Thomas Has Near Offer From Gary, Ind., Promoters.

If boxing is resumed in Gary, Ind., the outpost of sportively inclined Chicago, Joe Thomas will take Pal Brown down to the Hoosier steel hive, and stack the Minnesota iron center boxer against Ever Hammer, the pugilistic piece de resistence of Indiana's steel center.

While in Chicago, Thomas brought up the subject of Pal's fighting the blonde Dane of Indiana. "O. K." was the verdict. Yesterday Joe received a communication from Tommy Walsh, telling him to have Brown in readiness, should the lid be pried off down that way.

Bill Tibbetts, the Bena bear, may be taken under the managerial wing of Joe. This is the Indian boy who Hempstead Denies That Gaffney or Sinclair Is Negotiating—Johnson Trying to Settle Somers' Affairs—Other Baseball News.

New York, Jan. 11.—In a signed statement made public here late yesterday, Harry L. Hempstead, president of the New York National league baseball club, denied that there was any deal pending at this time for the sale of the Giants or that the club had been negotiating with James F. Gaffney, formerly president of the Boston Nationals, with the idea of disposing of the control of the local National league club. Mr. Hempstead's statement was as follows:

"I would like to state that neither Mr. Gaffney nor any of his representatives have ever approached me regarding the purchase of the New York club. It has been a number of weeks since Mr. Sinclair has taken this subject up with me, therefore, the public may be assured that so far as I know, no sale of the Giants is pending.

"The citizens of New York city have more than appreciated my efforts. I have no thought of being tired of baseball as has been suggested. Furthermore, there are no differences between Mr. McGraw and myself."

Cleveland Situation Unchanged.

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 11.—President B. B. Johnson of the American league was here yesterday to effect the sale of the Cleveland baseball club. He held several conferences with C. W. Somers, present owner, and with the bankers in charge of Somers' financial affairs, in a final effort to interest Cleveland capital in the deal.

"There is no change in the situation," declared Johnson last night.

Former Feds Are Favored.

New York, Jan. 11.—The National league office here, it is announced, has been furnished with the names of a number of players who were with the Chicago National league club last season, and has been requested by the new Chicago owners to obtain waivers on them from the other National league clubs. The list does not include any of the men who were with the Chicago Feds last season.

Haughton Will Coach.

Cambridge, Mass., Jan. 11.—Percy D. Haughton, head coach of the Harvard football team, undoubtedly will continue to serve the eleven, notwithstanding his new interests of the Boston National baseball club, Fred M. Moore, graduate treasurer of athletics at Harvard, said last night. Mr. Moore's statement followed a meeting of the Harvard Athletic association, at which the subject was considered.

Should another boxing show be staged here in the near future, Boss Whalen of the local club has promised to give Tibbetts a place on the card.

All games played in Duluth will be staged on the new armory floor, one of the finest spaces for basket ball in the West.

HOCKEY TEAMS TO GET MORE PRACTICE

Directors Will Permit Players to Use Ice Every Night.

At a meeting of the directors of the Duluth Curling club, held last evening, it was decided to permit the amateur hockey team players to use the rink every night after 10 o'clock for practice.

This decision upon the part of the directors will mean an immense amount of improvement in team play, as heretofore the members of the four league teams have had the opportunity to practice but once a week.

Directors took occasion to compliment the league directors on the way in which the league has been conducted.

The Bagley players will practice this evening. Several new men will be out for places on the team. It is believed that before many more games the jewelry team will be considerably strengthened.

RETAIN BASEBALL.

Wisconsin Faculty Overwhelmingly in Favor of Continuing the Game.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 11.—By a vote of 62 to 36, the faculty of the University of Wisconsin yesterday decided that baseball should be retained. Athletic Director G. W. Ehler took no part in the discussion and did not cast a vote.

Much surprise was occasioned by President Van Hise and Dean Birges, speaking in favor of retaining baseball on the university athletic program. The proposal to do away with baseball was made by a conference of the Badger faculty recently.

GRAND CIRCUIT PLANS.

Stewards in Session; Continuous Racing During Coming Season.

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 11.—The Grand Circuit season of 1916 will be one of continuous racing as a result of an offer received by the stewards here last night, from James Tranter, horse enthusiast, who agreed to fill in any week for which no plan is made. The stewards are here for the annual meeting, which will be held today.

The rules committee decided to recommend a $6,000 stake race for trotters that have not won $2,000 gross nor have a time or race record faster than 2:14¼. A number of allowance changes were also recommended.

"DICK" SCHELL IS BACK FROM DETROIT

Will Return Here to Resume Residence at End of 1916.

Richard Schell is here from Detroit, Mich., for a few days on business and to renew old acquaintances. Mr. Schell declares that he has not quit Duluth, although he has been absent since a year ago last spring, and says that he will return at the end of the navigation season of 1916 to resume his residence here.

Mr. Schell has his fast motorboat, the Welcome, in the Detroit river, being under contract with the Ojibway Realty company, headed by R. J. Wirtz, formerly of Duluth, handling their traffic from Detroit to Ojibway, a town near Sandwich, Ont., where the steel plant is located. The contract is to run until next fall, after which Mr. Schell expects to return to Duluth.

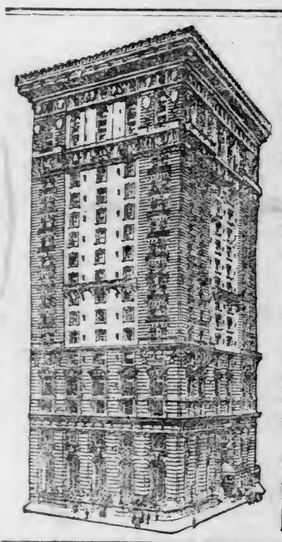

Mr. Wirtz, said Mr. Schell today, has done wonderfully well with his realty project.

"I am glad to get back to Duluth, even though it is only for a visit," said Mr. Schell. "The old town always looks good to me, for it has been my home for many, many years, and probably will be to the last. I find business picking up nicely in Duluth, and I am glad that the good fellows here are getting the benefit of the wave of prosperity that is sweeping over the country."

"We have to go away from home to appreciate things that are around us," he added. "For instance, The Herald, which I take with regularity down there, makes the Detroit papers look cheap by comparison. This is no undeserved boost. Detroit has not a paper that will compare with it, and they have pretty fair papers there, too."

PRIMROSE PATH VICTIM DRIVES WAR AMBULANCE.

Plankinton, S. D., Jan. 11.—A. J. Bunker, who once retired from farming here with a fortune of $25,000 and then later lost it in glimpsing the "white lights" in Minneapolis, Sioux City, Omaha and other Western cities, is now driving a Red Cross ambulance "somewhere in France," according to word received by friends. Mr. Bunker ran a garage in Plankinton for a short time after leaving the farm.

Concerning a Certain Cat

WILLIAM BRADY M.D.

Certain of our friends who do not altogether approve of us insist that they wouldn't have us "doctor a sick cat." We crave their indulgence for intruding these simple remarks about the doctor's own cat. Surely a doctor is entitled to mistreat his own animal.

Well, Tom is a giant and a royal household pet. Without a purr of protest he has submitted to a nine months' study which, we think, has not been entirely barren of results.

On one meal a day Tom has a pulse rate of 100, feels well, lazy, affectionate and contented with himself and his treatment.

On two meals a day, one being milk, the other mixed food from the table, the heart beat is 120 per minute. Tom is rather irritable, sometimes ugly. And we have some reason to assume that his liver troubles him at times.

On three meals a day, two of them consisting of meat, Tom exhibits a need of a good cholera mixture, his pulse rises to 130, his heart is irregular, and in other ways he shows evidences of a marked toxemia, or, as it is better known, autointoxication.

So we put him back on the original one meal a day plan, and presently he is himself again—friendly, docile, lazy, good to the children.

We haven't the slightest doubt that if we kept on feeding Tom with an excess of animal protein—meat, etc., not really necessary for him, he would have a series of fits and die, and we would be wondering which of the wicked neighbors gave our poor old cat poison? Certainly many a neighbor, and many a household pet, reaches this conclusion.

But the purpose of our story, the moral to be drawn, is obvious: Too much meat will kill even a cat.

And remember how it works: It poisons the cardio-vascular system—the heart and arteries.

Then consider the fact that the death rate for persons over 40 years of age is higher today than it was ten or fifteen years ago, although the death rate for all other ages is declining.

Finally, look over the meat bill and see how foolishly you are squandering your money.

As a matter of fact, corn meal, in the shape of Johnny cake or that incomparable delicacy, fried corn meal mush, will "stay by" the hard-working man quite as well as meat, at a trifling cost, and without the meat toxemia.

INSTRUCTING UNION LABOR

State Federation President Launches Forward Movement in Duluth.

Will Meet Every Local Union in Educational Campaign.

That union labor may come into closer touch with other classes of society and that both labor and capital may come to a better understanding, the Minnesota Federation of Labor is launching an educational campaign among the various unions. President E. G. Hall of St. Paul is now in this city, meeting with the various unions and giving addresses at these meetings. Union labor looks for a very prosperous year in this state, and the unions are aiming to keep in touch with all progressive movements.

E. G. HALL,
President Minnesota State Federation of Labor.

"Labor forward movements are not a new venture of organized labor," says Mr. Hall. "Within the last three years they have been held in many cities throughout the country, and the principal object is to give the public the correct idea of the much misunderstood organized labor movement by bringing into this locality able representatives of the great national and international unions that they may explain the aims and objects as well as what labor wants, its struggles, the social and economic importance of the shorter workday, the emblems of labor, as to education of the child, compulsory and vocational, sanitation, history of the movement as well as the fraternal and beneficiary features."

The special committee appointed by the Federated Trades assembly, which was appointed some time ago to assist President Hall in formulating the campaign, met last Wednesday night, when the work was gone over and Mr. Hall was instructed to visit every union, requesting the selection of one representative to co-operate with the special committee as well as the committee on organization of the Federated Trades assembly, and as soon as possible they will be called together and a working committee of the whole be permanently organized. At the meeting of the Federated Trades assembly on Friday night the committee will report the plan in detail as well as the progress made before the unions visited. So far it has met with general approval and from present indications the forty unions in this city will be represented, feeling that considerable benefit will come to all organizations.

FATHER MUST RISE BETIMES AND CLEAN WALKS

"Father" will have to attend to the snow shoveling job promptly in the future.

An ordinance revising the old measure enforcing the removal of ice and snow from sidewalks will be introduced at the council meeting next Monday by Commissioner Silberstein, safety head, he announced this morning. The ordinance passed 1891 is now obsolete and impossible to enforce, the city attorney has ruled, and a new one, modeled after those in Minneapolis and St. Paul, will be prepared during the week.

It will be strict in its provisions.

EARLY DRILL IN NEW SCHOOLS NEED

State Fire Marshal Urges Against Delay in Safety System.

State Fire Marshal R. W. Hargadine firmly believes that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

That is why he issued a booklet containing rules for fire prevention and fire drills in schools with suggestions for school boards, principals and teachers.

"The number of schoolhouse fires in Minnesota during the last two years," says the booklet, "calls for special consideration on the part of school boards. This department has prepared suggestions to aid such boards, principal or teachers in safeguarding school property and especially to protect the pupils under their charge."

Fire Marshal Hargadine suggests that on the first day of the term and that on the first session of a reorganized school the principal should see that teachers, janitor and assistants are capable of giving a satisfactory account of all the duties required of them. Actual tests of their duties in a fire drill should be made within the first few hours. There is no more imperative requirement when teachers and pupils come newly to a building, he says, than an efficient fire drill.

REAL health requires that the body eliminate its waste products regularly. Any delay in this process means that poisons accumulate and are absorbed into the blood.

If constipation is getting even a little grip on you—if you are having to resort more frequently to habit-forming laxative drugs—you are in need of Nujol.

Nujol is odorless and tasteless, absolutely neutral, and is not digested or absorbed into the system. It acts merely as a mechanical lubricant.

Nujol is not a drug. Its use will not give quick, temporary relief. But Nujol is a genuine remedy in that it relieves constipation in the most natural way by lubricating the lining of the intestines, softening the intestinal contents, and thus promoting healthy and normal bowel activity.

MUST PREVENT ECONOMIC WAR

Runciman Says Bars Must Be Put Up Against Germans After Peace.

London, Jan. 11.—Walter Runciman, president of the board of trade, won tremendous applause from the house of commons last night with a speech in which he declared that the Entente allies must take steps to see that Germany is unable to carry on a trade war against them after peace is signed.

"There are signs," he said, "that at last Germany is beginning to feel the economic pressure of our blockade. Her food supplies are becoming depleted while ours are increasing. Although our exports have fallen and our imports have risen, there is no doubt that the economic strength of Great Britain is so well founded that we can stand the strain far better than the Central powers.

"Bread riots in Berlin and in nearly every other big German city do not occur without good reasons. We have deprived the enemy of many necessities of warfare and possibly some of the necessities of life. Her stocks of raw materials are giving out. Economic pressure, possibly more than any other means, will ultimately persuade Germany of the fruitlessness of continuing the struggle.

"We can stand the strain longer than Germany," continued Mr. Runciman. "If we husband our resources, the disaster will fall on her, will be almost irreparable. We must make it clear, however, that when peace comes, we will not permit the outbreak of the economic war which Germany would wage against ourselves and our allies."

RED CROSS SEAL SALE SHOWS BIG INCREASE

"Early reports coming to the Minnesota Public Health association as a result of the Red Cross seal campaign are very encouraging," says Dr. I. J. Murphy. "As yet only a small percentage of the campaign managers have been heard from. They have until Jan. 15 to make final reports.

"Apparently the number of seals sold will exceed by about 1,000,000 the remarkable record made in 1914 when 2,000,000 seals or three times as many as were sold in any previous year were disposed of. This will mean an increase in the annual budget for the fight against tuberculosis, of several thousand dollars."

Of most significance, according to Dr. Murphy, the campaign just closed demonstrates beyond doubt that the people of Minnesota are becoming more and more interested in community and state health problems. This was best illustrated by the way nearly 7,000 rural teachers took part in the campaign and conducted special health exercises during tuberculosis week. This means that approximately 500,000 children received special health instruction during turberculosis week.

The exercises in the schools and the campaigns conducted by over 500 local managers including practically all the cities and villages of the state, means, regardless of funds secured, a distinct educational gain, says Dr. Murphy.

Attorney General Lyndon Smith Directs Official to Serve Notice.

Bemidji, Minn., Jan. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Acting under orders of Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith, Sheriff Andrew Johnson left here last evening for Kelliher, forty miles north of here to serve papers on the council of that village, regarding the issuance of saloon licenses which that village was to take up last evening, despite the fact that Kelliher is in the Indian territory, covered by the treaty of 1855.

Three licenses were to be considered last evening, the men making application being R. Poupore, William Beesley and Gust Olson. The former two were declared disqualified by the attorney general in a message to Bemidji, on account of their having been arrested recently on a charge of violating the liquor laws. The other reason for non-granting of licenses was because the application for license had not been published for two weeks, this being the clause that would make the granting of the Gust Olson license illegal.

A license was recently granted to J. O. Harris of Kelliher by the village council of that village.

Larson Confers With Smith.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 11.—Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith, after a conference Monday with Henry A. Larson, law enforcement officer for the Indian bureau in charge of the Minnesota Indian "lid," called upon Graham M. Torrance, county attorney of Beltrami county, for a list of all persons who have been convicted of violating the liquor laws at Kelliher, within the last year. The Kelliher council has undertaken to issue a saloon license in spite of the fact that the village is in Indian territory, and Mr. Larson wants the state to take hold of the prosecution. It may be taken up on the ground that the proposed licenses is not eligible to receive a license, having been convicted of law violation. A conference on co-operation betwen the state and Federal authorities will take place in a day or two with Messrs. Smith and Larson and United States Attorney Alfred Jaques attending.

ARE DIVIDED UPON INSTRUCTION IDEA

North Dakota Republicans Not Agreed as to Delegates' Status.

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sentiment favoring the selection of an uninstructed delegation to the national Republican convention from this state is reported from many. As the matter of the selection of delegates seems to be the most serious problem confronting the Republicans of the state, many are hoping for the solution through the uninstructed delegation plan.

While this is to be greatly desired from a part unity standpoint it may be extremely difficult of accomplishment. It is asserted that the friends of Root, Roosevelt, Hughes and Burton would all readily agree to the uninstructed delegation idea, but that the supporters of La Follette and Cummins would not. It is claimed the boosters for these two are especially anxious to capture the delegation from this state for the influence it will have on states holding conventions at a later date.

Fear Many Candidates.

The Republicans feel that a multiplicity of delegate candidates is to be deplored and would like some way out of the dilemma.

When the state Republican committee fires its first gun of the 1916 campaign at its meeting in Fargo Jan. 25, it is announced that Chairman Spaeth will have a plan to submit, by which he believes the delegate question can be amicably adjusted. Ardent supporters of both Cummins and La Follette announce they will circulate petitions for their favorites, regardless of the action of the central committee.

QUARREL OVER WOMAN

Lands One Man in Escanaba Hospital, Other in Jail.

Escanaba, Mich., Jan. 11.—Because, it is said, the two Finns quarreled over a woman, John Husko is a patient at St. Francis hospital at Escanaba, and his erstwhile friend, Tim Konnila is in the county jail until the January term of court when he will be tried for attempting to slash John's head and face into ribbons. It is stated that the two engaged in a quarrel at a private home in Maple Ridge and the argument waxed so strong that Tim unsheathed a wicked looking knife and "went after" John. After the two had been separated it was found that Husko was suffering from a slashed up head where the blade of Konnila's knife found its mark. Sheriff Iverson was called to the village soon after the seriousness of the scrap was revealed. Konnila was arraigned and bound over to circuit court for trial on an assault charge, and failing to furnish bonds of $500 was remanded to the county jail. After the hearing Husko was taken to St. Francis hospital by Dr. John Walch and his wounds dressed.

ROOSEVELT'S NAME ON NEITHER TICKET

Not on Progressive or G. O. P. Primary Ballot in Michigan.

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 11.—Secretary of State Vaughan said Monday he would notify Theodore Roosevelt that the latter's name will not appear on either the Progressive or the Republican presidential promary ballots in Michigan in the spring election. The secretary's announcement was made immediately after he had received a letter from Col. Roosevelt requesting him to withdraw his name from the National Progressive ballot.

The letter was in response to official notification from Secretary Vaughan that the National Progressives had placed Roosevelt's name on their ticket.

After Secretary Vaughan had notified Col. Roosevelt concerning the action of the Progressives, enough petitions were filed to place the former president's name on the Republican ballot. However, the secretary of state believes it is Mr. Roosevelt's intention to remain entirely out of the presidential primary contest in Michigan, hence the elimination of his name from both ballots.

Henry Ford, the peace advocate, was notified Monday that a sufficient number of petitions had been received to place his name on the Republican presidential primary ballot.

CUT OUT MEATS IF KIDNEYS ARE TROUBLING YOU

Uric Acid in Meat Excites Kidneys and Irritates the Bladder.

Noted Authority Says We Must Flush Kidneys With Salts If Back Hurts.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active. —Advertisement.

GREAT NORTHERN LOSES IN BIG SUIT

In a decree handed down by Federal Judge Page Morris yesterday afternoon the Great Northern railway was held liable for $37,500 as the outcome of a suit brought by the Philadelphia & Reading railway to collect for machinery installed on the Superior ore docks when the latter corporation held dock property under lease. The case was tried in Minneapolis in March, 1914, and continued for final argument until December last, when the trial was completed.

The Great Northern leased the docks to the Silver Brook Morris Coal company in February, 1899, for ten years and later the lease was taken over by the Philadelphia & Reading road and the lease renewed until 1910. It was alleged at the trial that the Great Northern agreed to take over all the machinery at the expiration of the lease. This, it was stated, was not done.

DULUTH BUSINESS MEN TAKE UP THE FIGHT FOR ONE WOMAN'S "RIGHTS"

Duluth real estate agents and attorneys have rallied to the support of one Duluth woman, and in political slang have "gone to the front" for her.

They are demanding that she be given the promotion that is due her even though she is a member of the gentler sex.

For years, they claim, Miss Anna Johnson has efficiently and quietly done a large share of the work of the office of the registrar of titles, left vacant by the resignation of W. A. Anderson, and since yesterday afternoon they have been besieging Charles Calligan, the register of deeds, with requests that she be given the position, or in case that it is left unfilled, that she be given a substantial increase in salary and continue to do the work she has done and Mr. Anderson's, with the assistance of another clerk if necessary.

Many of the men who are asking Mr. Calligan for the appointment of Miss Johnson, have been transacting business with her for years. Some of them did not even know her name until today, but they all bear testimony to her efficiency, and say they have been given "service" because of her knowledge, care and accuracy. That is why they have "gone to the front" for her in such large numbers.

Miss Johnson has served the county in the office for fourteen years.

MISS ANNA JOHNSON.

DUMPED FROM AUTO; SUES REAL ESTATE FIRM

Harold J. Hanson was dumped from an automobile which the Alliance Real Estate company employed in transporting prospective customers to and from the street car line at the Exeter Farm tracts on April 17 last, and sustained injuries.

In Judge Ensign's division of the district court today he is suing the company for $1,500 damages. John Jenswold appears as attorney for the plaintiff and Hans Haroldson is representing the defendant.

COLD WEATHER IN NORTHWEST

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Northwestern states and Canada shivered today under a cold blast from the north that, in many sections, sent temperatures down to record points for the season. With its thermometers registering 48 degs. below zero, Battleford, Sask., held first position in point of low temperature. Three other cities in Western Canada reported temperatures lower than 40 degs. below, while points in North Dakota and Montana saw the mercury dip past the 20 below mark. On the Minnesota iron range the temperature varied from 10 to 20 below. In Central Wisconsin towns the temperature ranged from 6 below to 10 above zero.

In Minneapolis it was 10 below early today.

Continued cold weather with snow in some sections is the general forecast for the Northwest.

SEPTIC SORE THROATS MUST BE REPORTED

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Herafter septic sore throats and tetanus will be regarded by the state board of health as communicable diseases and must be reported by all persons having knowledge of the existence of such. This action was taken at the meeting of the state board of health at the state capitol today.

The board decided to join with the state university in the investigation of water used in public and club swimming tanks in the Twin Cities. Some of the tanks are regarded as unhealthy and the movement contemplates their safeguarding. The board also decided to make it mandatory upon dairy owners and food plants to report to the health authorities the names of any persons in their employ known to have contagious diseases. At the meeting this morning, Dr. W. A. Jones of Minneapolis was re-elected president and Dr. C. Graham of Rochester, vice president.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE—

Notice is hereby given, That default has been made in the conditions of that certain mortgage, bearing date the 25th day of August, 1913, made and executed by John Seaberg and Mathilda Seaberg, his wife, mortgagors, to Louis Rosenbluth mortgagee, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for St. Louis county, Minnesota, on September 15th, 1913, at 10:30 a. m. in Book 116 of Mortgages, on page 32; at the time of such recording, the date of expiration of the notary's commission was not attached to the certificate of acknowledgement, and said mortgage was re-recorded in the office of said Register of Deeds with said date of expiration affixed to said certificate of acknowledgement on October 11th, 1915, at 1:30 p. m. in Book 337 of Mortgages on page 96. Said mortgage was assigned by said Louis Rosenbluth to Max Mickel by written assignment dated October 30th, 1915, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for St. Louis county, Minnesota, on November 8th, 1915, at 4:15 p. m. in Book 306 of Mortgages on page 322.

Said default consists in the failure of said mortgagors to pay the sum of Twenty-three Hundred Twenty-two Dollars and Seventy-six Cents ($2,322.76); principal and interest, now past due, on the notes secured by said mortgage. The amount claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date hereof, is the sum of Twenty-three Hundred Twenty-two Dollars and Seventy-six Cents ($2,322.76), principal and interest as aforesaid; and prior to the date hereof said assignee has paid the sum of Seventy-three Dollars and Ninety-three Cents ($73.93) for taxes due on the mortgaged premises.

The property described in said mortgage and thereby mortgaged is the north half of the northeast one-fourth (N½ of NE¼); southeast one-fourth of the northeast one-fourth (SE¼ of NE¼); northwest one-fourth of the northwest one-fourth (NW¼ of NW¼); and the south one-half of northwest one-fourth (S½ of NW¼), of section one (1), township fifty-three (53) north, range thirteen (13) west; and the west one-half of the northwest one-fourth (W½ of NW¼) of section thirty-three (33), township fifty-eight (58) north, range thirteen (13) west, according to the government survey, all of said land being in the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota.

By reason of such default, the power of sale contained in said mortgage has become operative, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof.

Now therefore, by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by the sale of said premises at public auction to the highest bidder for cash by the sheriff of said St. Louis county, at the sheriff's office in the County Court House in the city of Duluth, St. Louis county, Minnesota, on Tuesday, the 8th day of February, 1916, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day to satisfy the amount then due on said mortgage, together with the sum of seventy-three dollars and ninety-three cents (73.93) paid for taxes by said assignee as above stated, taxes, if any, due on said premises, and fifty dollars ($50.00) attorneys' fees, and the costs and disbursements allowed by law.

What Do You Pay For the Power That Drives Your Shafting?

You are probably not getting any more power than you pay for, but are you sure you are getting as much?

When you buy power you are buying a commodity; you naturally want the most for the least money.

Some people generate power themselves; they know just how much money they spend for power, but have no idea of how much power they are actually getting to the machines, because so much is lost between the engine and the tool.

The man who buys electric power and applies it with an electric motor pays only for what he actually uses.

He knows just what his power costs and where it goes. He knows every day just how much power a machine takes. If a machine takes too much power he knows it is out of order.

He pays for what he gets. He knows what he is paying for.

We want you to know about the economy of electric motors.

EXPORTERS GOOD BUYERS

Wheat Market Advances on Strong Foreign Inquiry; Traders Bullish.

Flaxseed Breaks Sharply With Some Profit-Taking on Advance.

Duluth Board of Trade, Jan. 11.—The market was strong at the close on reported fresh export inquiry at the seaboard.

May wheat closed 1⅝@1¾c up, and July 1⅜c up.

May durum closed 1⅜c up, and July 1⅝c up.

Oats closed ¾c up at 44¼c for on the track; rye unchanged at 93c, and barley 1@2c off at from 63c to 74c for on the track.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed ⅝@¾c up at 46⅜@46⅝c.

At St. Louis May wheat closed at $1.22½, and July at $1.50¾ bid.

At Kansas City, May wheat closed at $1.17⅜, and July at $1.12¼.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.22½ bid, and calls at $1.26¾ bid.

Wheat prices took a moderate upturn again in today's market on the reported good demand from exporters and a firming up in quotations at Liverpool. According to a cable from over there, stocks are light and the demand from Europe is increasing. It is said that British importers are endeavoring to break the wheat market through contracting for supplies from Argentina. Difficulty on that score is, however, being met with through further advances in ocean freight rates from that country and difficulty in securing shipments in spite of the order that all ships must take on a large proportion of wheat in their loadings.

Intimations now are that additional tonnage is to be furnished to move the grain bought by British importers in this country and Canada. Some further improvement was reported today in the situation at both New York and Baltimore and an easing up in the railroad embargoes is looked for shortly. Some more wheat was loaded out from Duluth elevators today for all-rail shipment to the East.

Receipts from interior points to the elevators here have materially lightened and advices of operators are to the effect that farmers are showing an increasing disposition to hold their remaining stocks for higher prices.

A good call for cash wheat was reported on the Duluth market today, but the differentials were unchanged. Cash No. 1 northern sold at ½c under May and cash No. 1 durum at the May price.

May wheat opened ⅛c up at $1.23½, eased off 1c during the next few minutes' trading on a flood of selling and then moved back to around the opening figure, where it stood at the noon hour. July opened unchanged at $1.22⅝ and held there.

May durum opened ⅜c up at $1.20½, eased off ¾c and later firmed up to $1.20⅝.

Break in Flaxseed.

The froth was off the flaxseed market after its big splurge of yesterday. The large crushers' interests did not apparently care to follow up yesterday's sharp advance, and they were only luke-warm in their buying for the present. The market, therefore, became a draggy affair and quotations eased off substantially. The close was weak.

It was noted though that the foreign markets were strong. Buenos Aires closed 1¾c up at $1.36⅞, and London 1⅝c up at $2.88⅝.

May flax opened ½c up at $2.37½, and closed 2¾c off at $2.34½ bid. July opened unchanged at $2.36½, and closed 3c off at $2.33½.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed 3¼c off at $2.15 asked.

Todd W. Lewis wired from Minneapolis: "I think it a good plan to reduce lines of long wheat on these bulges. The statistical position of wheat is going to become quite bearish. There is no doubt the demand has been very keen up to this time, but it is less so now than it was two weeks ago. Wheat is going to pile up in sight everywhere in this country, moreover the British government has issued instructions that boats sailing from Argentina for British ports must carry a good percentage of wheat. Wheat has had an advance of 9c per bushel from the low, and I think it can be restored at lower prices."

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: Weakness in America yesterday was offset by light export offers other than American and strong Argentine freights. English offers are light and millers' demand good. Spot market was steady and unchanged. Cargo market was firm, winters and Manitobas opened barely 1½d lower, and later advancing. Australian and Platte were unchanged on wheat. Demand is good. Continental countries needs are large and their absorption, together with difficulty in placing commitments for United Kingdom needs is causing nervousness. Plate offers are very firm and freights strong. Visible supply is expected to show a liberal decrease.

Argentine freights are strong at 150 shillings, 7 shillings 6 pence up since Friday. There is urgent bidding for tonnage as export demand is large but shipments this week will be small. The difficulty of freight will keep actual clearances very moderate notwithstanding the government's ruling to load 75 per cent wheat, according to Broomhall.

* * *

A Baltimore wire said: "We understand there are enough boats here now, either loading or awaiting berths at elevators to carry 3,000,000 bu grain, most of which is wheat. Several more boats are due shortly."

* * *

A New York wire said: "The lack of outside trade is the only thing keeping wheat from advancing sharply. A prominent export house is still buying your. May."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Develops Some Strength After a Weak Start.

Chicago, Jan. 11.—Wheat developed a little strength today after a weak start. Reports that foreigners were selling appeared to be responsible for the temporary setback. The bullish character of the news from Europe, however, led to a rally. It was said Italy and Spain would be large importers, the European visible supply showed a decided falling off, and a fresh advance was announced in freight rates from Argentina. The market here, after opening ⅜c off to ⅝c up with May at $1.24¼@1.25 and July at $1.21¼ to $1.17½, underwent a moderate general decline, but then rose all around to above yesterday's finish.

Assertions later that Canadian wheat being brought to Minneapolis was all in bond for export had a further bullish effect. So, too, did the fact that shippers were withdrawing wheat from elevators here despite the embargo against shipments to seaboard and that liberal export sales were announced. The close was strong, 1⅛@1⅞c net higher, with May at $1.26½ and July at $1.19@1.19⅛.

Corn displayed independent strength. Predictions were current that a heavy export business would be done in the near future. The opening, which ranged from ⅛@¼c to ⅜@½c higher, was followed by a slight reaction, and later a rally.

Subsequently, there was a gossip that big export transaction in corn shipments were under way in Philadelphia. The close was strong at ⅞@1c to 1¼c net advance.

Oats gathered firmness with corn. Commission houses were active buyers.

Smaller receipts of hogs than expected, brought about an advance in provisions. Packers and carriers, however, sold on the bulge.

That the highest prices on record for copper metal will soon be established, is the general opinion in trade circles. Consumers are reported to be thoroughly alarmed over the situation and are buying without haggling over the prices. With sales of copper reported at 24 cents a pound during the last couple of days, it is only 1½ cents below the high level set in 1907. Recent buyers of electrolytic copper paid 10 cents a pound more for it than they did a year ago, when the market was draggy at 14 cents.

As a result of recent heavy bookings, some of the companies are reported to have sold their outputs up to the end of April, and good orders have also been taken for May shipment. Spot stocks are said to be entirely cleaned up, with large tonnage taken for export as soon as the vessel capacity can be chartered.

Under these conditions all the mines are conceded to be showing the largest earnings in their histories and further dividend advances are predicted within the next few weeks. The strength being shown in mining stocks at Boston and New York is thus easily explained.

ISSUE RULING ON CAR DISTRIBUTION

An important ruling on the question of car distribution for grain has just been rendered by the North Dakota board of railway commissioners, that, it is believed, will go far to remedy a grievance that operators have complained of each season up to the present.

The situation became so acute during the last few days that Duluth grain men referred the problem to the commission for a ruling, and the following was received from W. F. Cushing, its secretary, today:

"In the matter of car distribution, the railroad commission rules that empty cars must be delivered to elevators and others according to the amount of grain offered for shipment in good faith. In other words, if one elevator has five times as much grain to offer for shipment on a certain day as another elevator, it is entitled to five times as many cars as the other house. The general practice of apportioning the cars equally among the various houses, regardless of the amount of grain each of them has to ship, does not come within the commission's interpretation of the law."

DECLINES IN STOCK MARKET

Enforced Selling of Specialties Causes Numerous Losses.

Bonds Irregular With Heavy Trading in Anglo-French.

New York, Jan. 11.—Declines ranging from mere fractions to over a point were registered at the opening of today's market on moderate dealings. Canadian Pacific yielded 1¼ and New York Central ¾, with a loss of a point for American Sugar. Specialties as a whole were lower, with the exception of American Can. United States Steel, American Smelting and Erie were unchanged from yesterday's close. Secondary prices showed some improvement, but steel was again pressed for sale, declining to 85⅜. The demand for Anglo-French bonds continued, with a sale of one block of $415,000 at 95⅝.

The activity of the short interest contributed largely to the stock market's uncertain trend during the morning. Steel recovered to 86⅜ and other prominent industrials hardened in sympathy with American Can. Renewed selling of war shares like Crucible Steel, Pressed Steel Car and American Locomotive caused fresh unsettlement later. Crucible fell four to 57½ and automobile shares also weakened. General Motors declining eight points to 450. There was a few offsetting gains, but mainly in stocks of slight market influence.

Bonds were irregular with further heavy trading in Anglo-French fives at concessions.

War shares developed acute weakness after mid-day. Overnight losses at that time ranged from 3 to 6 points in Crucible, Baldwin, American Car, Studebaker and Colorado Fuel. United States Steel receded to 85½. Standard stocks were adversely affected.

Enforced selling of specialties with material assistance from the short interest caused numerous severe losses in today's active market.

War shares were at lowest prices in the final hour. Standard stocks also showing impairment. The closing was heavy.

EXECUTION OF AMERICANS NEAR CHIHUAHUA BRINGS MEXICAN SITUATION TO BOILING POINT

MUCH UNEASINESS AMONG THE ENTENTE ALLIES OVER ADVANCE OF AUSTRIANS IN MONTENEGRO

MT. LOVCEN IS IN THE HANDS OF INVADERS

Loss of This Mountainous Stronghold Severe Loss to Defenders.

Had Been Made Base for Guns to Sweep Cattaro Bay.

No Aid Given Montenegrins By Either French or British.

London, Jan. 12.—The announcement of the occupation of Mount Lovcen in Montenegro, although it is not confirmed from Entente sources, is generally accepted here as true.

Uneasiness, which is already freely expressed in Italy, is reflected in the English and French newspapers. The loss of Lovcen, from the point of view of the allies, is serious, owing to the fact that its summit dominates Cattaro bay, the Austrian naval base. Before Italy entered the war, the French had established a number of guns on the mountain, and had prepared emplacements for heavy guns, which could have swept the bay. Austria, by seizing it, forestalls this danger and is in a commanding position with regard to Cettinje, the capital of Montenegro, which is a little over six miles distant, although sheltered by intervening mountains.

The Austrian advance, considering the distance to be covered, was much slower than that made in the Teutonic conquest of Serbia, but, in consideration of the formidable obstacles which the mountainous character of the country presents, it is conceded that the invaders are making steady progress.

No Aid From Allies.

The question is being anxiously raised as to why the Entente allies did not long ago send aid to the Montenegrins, and in particular, why Italy, which is more acutely affected by this Austrian invasion, had not taken preventive measures. The Austrians are now only ten miles from the capital of Montenegro, calculating the distance over the existing roads, and a successful blow at the heart of the country may have the effect, it is said, by military critics of isolating the troops who are defending the northeastern frontier.

In Champagne, the Germans hold a slight gain, made as a result of the determined offensive of last Saturday and Sunday. The French military authorities say that the German forces which delivered the attack, lost heavily, as, with three divisions, they advanced in the face of the French artillery fire which took a terrible toll.

From the eastern front, dispatches affirm that the Russians have been so successful in consolidating their new positions that the Austro-Germans have begun to remove supplies from bases established in preparation for a spring advance.

FIFTH EXPLOSION IN POWDER PLANT

Wheel Mill and Ton of Explosive Blow Up; No One Killed.

Wilmington, Del., Jan. 12.—The fifth explosion in two days at the Dupont powder plants in this vicinity occurred late last night in the Hagley yards of the company on the outskirts of this city. A small wheel mill blew up and beyond destroying the building and about a ton of powder, no damage was done. No one was in the mill at the time or near enough to it to be hurt.

The fourth explosion occurred late yesterday afternoon at the smokeless powder plant at Carney's Point, N. J., across the Delaware river from Wilmington. Thirteen tons of powder went off without injuring any one.

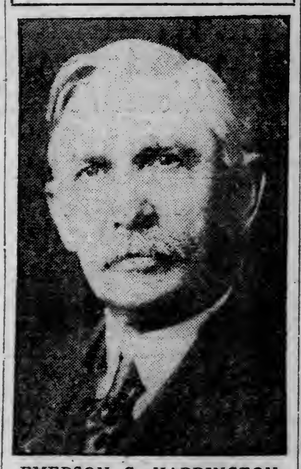

Last Sunday night there was a blast at Carney's Point which killed three men, and on Monday there was an explosion at the Hagley Yards and another one at Carney's Point.

The Dupont company does not appear to have any suspicion of unnatural accidents, though the definite cause is not known.

PROSECUTION NEARS FINISH

Evidence of State in Price Murder Case About Completed.

Severe Cross-Examination Given Star Witness, Charles D. Etchison.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Completion late today of the presentation of evidence by the prosecution, was in prospect when the morning session of the trial of Frederick T. Price, on a charge of wife murder, was called in district court.

Etchison Cross-Examined.

Etchison was under cross-examination for five hours yesterday. He underwent the vigorous questioning of M. C. Brady of counsel for the defense with composure, his answers adhering closely to the story he told on direct examination, that Price had pushed his wife from a cliff and then stoned her to death with the purpose of inheriting her fortune.

When court adjourned, it was announced that the state has but two more witnesses to testify before completing its case. It is probable that the fate of the defendant will be known before the close of the present week.

Character Attacked.

In cross-examining the state's star witness, Mr. Brady attacked his character and asked if it were not true that when he made his confession that Price committed murder and paid him several thousand dollars for his silence he was under the influence of

STRIKERS RETURN TO WORK AT TUBE MILL

Trouble With One Company Settled; Agreement With Other Expected.

Youngstown, Ohio, Jan. 12.—With the ending by vote of the men of the strike at the tube works of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co., here last night, and the resumption of work in nearly all departments of the big plant here this morning, meetings between representatives of strikers at the Republic Iron & Steel company, and company officials, were resumed this forenoon. Long meetings of the strikers were held last night at which a basis of agreement was outlined, which it is hoped will prove acceptable to both sides.

Fred C. Croxton, head of the state mediation body, is still hopeful today that the strike at the Republic company will be settled before night. The basis of settlement to sheet and tube company works, was an increase amounting to about 10 per cent to all classes of workers.

GRANTED REPRIEVE TO ALLOW APPEAL TO U. S. SUPREME COURT

HANS SCHMIDT.

Ossinning, N. Y., Jan. 12.—A thirty days' reprieve for Hans Schmidt, who was to be executed at Sing Sing prison Friday for the murder of Anna Aumuller, in New York, in 1913, was received at the prison last night. The stay of execution was granted by Governor Whitman to permit an appeal to the United States supreme court by Schmidt's counsel.

BELGIANS PROTEST GERMAN WAR TAX

Paris, Jan. 12.—The Havre correspondent of the Petit Journal telegraphs that the Belgian government is about to lodge a protest with neutral governments about the new German war levy of 40,000,000 francs monthly, in addition to last year's tax of 480,000,000 francs. The Belgian protest, the correspondent says, will point out that under the provisions of The Hague convention war taxes levied in occupied territory are limited to amounts necessary to meet needs of the army of occupation or to pay for the administration of the territory. The new Belgian tax is said to be far in excess of the amount needed for these purposes.

Duluth is in the grasp of the worst storm of the season, so far. It bids fair to develop into the worst blizzard since the famous one of March 9, 1892.

Anticipating an increase in its intensity and possible danger to pupils, R. E. Denfeld, superintendent of city schools, this morning ordered all schools to close and send their pupils home for the day at noon. The parochial schools, warned by Weather Forecaster Richardson, followed suit. The Herald went to press early to permit its carriers to make their deliveries before dark.

At noon there had been no delay of

TEN MEN ARE KILLED IN COLLISION; RESULT OF STORM IN MANITOBA

Snow-Clearing Train Collides With Stock Cars Near Brandon.

Fierce Gales and Bitter Cold Prevail in All Northwest.

Temperature Ranges From 30 to 40 Below in Many Places.

Brandon, Man., Jan. 12.—About ten killed and forty injured is the toll of a collision between a snow-clearing train, and a heavily laden stock train about one mile east of Brandon, shortly after 10 o'clock today. The victims are chiefly foreigners being employed in the snow clearing gang. About sixty men were in the caboose of the snow train, which was shunting toward the city when the stock train hit the caboose.

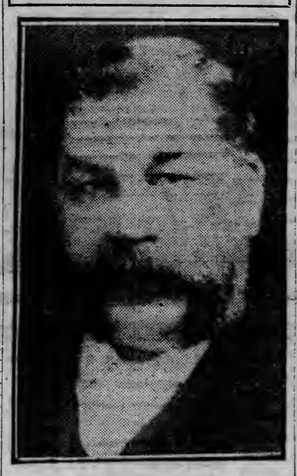

Engineer Fairburn of the stock train and his fireman escaped with slight injuries. The main track, on which the accident occurred, is blocked and will not be cleared for several hours. Following the collision the dead and dying lay out in a temperature of 46 below. The cold added to the difficulty of rescue. Every doctor in the city aided in caring for the injured.

Sweep Northwest.

Chicago, Jan. 12.—Gales bringing bitter cold, with temperatures of from 30 to 40 degs. below zero, are destined to sweep over the Northwest tonight, the weather bureau predicted today. The northwestern cold wave, heralded today by rain, sleet and snow that tied up rail and wire communication throughout the central states, is said to be the most severe in recent years. Over the Dakotas, Montana, and the

GERMAN FOOD SUPPLY AMPLE

Committee Who Examined Statistics Reports to Reichstag.

Conviced, However, That the People Must Practice Economy.

Berlin, via London, Jan. 12.—Count Weslarp on behalf of a committee reported to the reichstag today that the committee had carefully examined statistic material on the food problem and reached the conviction that the existing supplies were ample to support the population, however long the war continues. The report said especially that there was no lack of the most common necessities, like bread, potatoes and meat.

Nevertheless, the committee was convinced that economy in consumption was necessary and that the people could not live as in times of peace. The presupposition for an ultimate German victory, the committee reported, is economy in all directions and the conscientious observation of the government's measures for conserving supplies.

Socialist Agrees.

Herr Schmidt, Socialist, agreed that the food supplies were sufficient, but said that unfortunately the government had delayed too long in adopting maximum prices for some commodities,

EXCITEMENT PREVAILS AT WASHINGTON

Displaces All Other International Affairs for the Time Being.

Sixteen or More Americans Taken From Train By Villa Bandits and Shot.

Demand Made on Carranza for Prompt Punishment of the Murderers.

Washington, Jan. 12.—The Mexican situation has been brought to the boiling point again by the execution of sixteen or more Americans near Chihuahua. In congress, at the White House and at the state department, today, it entirely displaced the submarine controversy and all other international affairs.

Secretary Lansing, after sending a demand for satisfaction to Gen. Carranza, issued a statement declaring it was to be deplored that Americans had not followed the state department's warning against exposing their lives in the guerilla warfare region, and adding:

"Every step will be taken to see that the perpetrators of this dastardly crime are apprehended and punished."

Storm Breaks in Senate.

In the senate an expected storm broke as soon as it assembled. Senator Sherman, Republican, introduced a resolution proposing that unless Gen. Carranza gives proper protection to foreign lives and property, the United States should invite the Pan-American nations which have been associated in the Mexican negotiations to join in re-

FRENCHMEN TAKEN AS TURK REPRISAL

Eight Held at Constantinople, Reports American Ambassador.

Athens, Jan. 12, via Paris.—The American ambassador at Constantinople, Henry Morgenthau, has advised the American legation here of the arrest of eight Frenchmen at Constantinople as reprisal for the arrest by the Entente allies of the consuls of the Teutonic allies at Saloniki.

The German minister at Athens has informed American Minister Droppers that Germany does not agree to the American consulate at Saloniki being charged with German interests there on the ground that Saloniki is Greek territory and the Greeks must protect foreigners and foreign interests. John E. Kehl, American consul at Saloniki, has been instructed accordingly.

LONDON PROTECTED AGAINST ZEPPELINS

Twelve Attempted Raids Repulsed During Month of December.

New York, Jan. 12.—Twelve attempted raids on London by Zeppelins during December were repulsed by the British chiefly through large fleets of aeroplanes and three of the German air craft were destroyed or captured, according to Dr. W. H. Vincent of the Colonial Medical corps, who arrived today on the American liner Philadelphia.

"The real reason why Zeppelins have not been able to bombard London or its suburbs since Oct. 14, last," said Dr. Vincent, "is because the British have established an elaborate and effective defense against the German air raiders. During the month of December there were twelve separate attempts by Zeppelins to reach London. From two to four Zeppelins took part in each attempt. In November there were several other attempts, but in no case were the German dirigibles able to reach even the outskirts of London."

A REAL SCARE.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

The British forces under Gen. Townshend have made several sorties from Kut-El-Amara on the Tigris, each time being repulsed with losses, says the Turkish war office. The official communication makes the definite assertion that this force is surrounded.

London yesterday reported that the British relief forces coming up the Tigris were at a standstill more than twenty miles down the river. The Turkish official advices have claimed the defeat of this force with heavy losses. The British declare they have the better of the situation and that the halt of Gen. Aylmer's relief column is because of weather conditions and the necessity of removing their wounded by the river.

The German offensive in the Champagne on Sunday was preceded by a 24-hour bombardment, one of the heaviest the Germans have yet developed against the French lines, a Paris dispatch states. A prompt counter-attack gave the Germans no time to organize the positions they carried and negatived their effort, the dispatch adds.

DULUTH LAUDED FOR EMPLOYMENT WORK

Duluth is given a prominent position in the latest issue of the American Labor Legislation Review, which is devoted to a survey of unemployment conditions in America during 1914 and 1915.

The frontispiece photograph shows a crew of laborers laying sewers at Gary during the winter of 1914-15, with the line "Duluth has done work in the winter at no greater cost than in midsummer."

Because of improved labor conditions this year, the commissioners have not found it necessary to provide winter work for the unemployed.

"WHISKY" PROVES TO BE ONLY VINEGAR

Prosecution of Alleged "Blind Pigger" Comes to Sudden End.

William Harris, Proctor baker, who was arrested a week ago on a charge of operating a "blind pig" in the village, was released yesterday afternoon shortly after the trial was begun. The dismissal of the case followed the tasting of one of the "exhibits" alleged to have been taken during the raid on the place. Chief of Police C. G. McTaggart claimed it was whisky he took in the raid, but on sampling the stuff after presenting it to the jury, found it was vinegar. Chief McTaggart claims that some one had switched the jars on him.

DAILY "CORONER'S JURY"

"Post Mortems" on Curling Games Popular Indoor Sport.

Probably the most popular indoor sport at this time in West Duluth is that of holding "post mortems" in curling games. The place where most of these are being held is at the Wieland & Wade hardware store.

Order pads, wrapping paper and almost any kind of paper, to say nothing of counters, are "smeared" with diagrams of ice sheets showing "lays" in recent games. But probably the most out of the way place for holding such a post mortem was found this morning when the clerks at the store inverted one of the showcases.

There, on the bottom of the showcase, which Mr. Wieland claims has not been turned over for at least three years, was the diagram of a game played. Mr. Wieland lays the blame for the diagram on Mr. Wade, while Mr. Wade said he recognized the manner in which the "lays" were drawn as being those of Mr. Wieland.

"I just got a letter yesterday from a firm in Indianapolis to which I had sent an order for hardware asking me to explain the order I had sent in," said Mr. Wade. "The letter said they could understand the order on one side of the sheet, but what they wanted to know was what we meant by the diagram on the other side. They said they did not believe they had anything like that in stock. They couldn't understand what the little holes meant. I suppose some one held a post mortem on the back of that order blank."

The Donald rink, which at present holds the state championship, is expected to make a good showing at the bonspiel. The members of this rink, none of whom are over 21 years of age, have been playing together for three years and have been playing a consistent game. Local players expect to get into the "jewelry" in several of the events this year.

SAFETY FIRST PAMPHLETS OUT

Silberstein Working With Steam and Trolley Lines for Meetings.

Pamphlets, containing safety instructions for children, will be distributed to the boys and girls attending the "safety first" meetings at the new armory next Friday and Saturday.

Commissioner Silberstein, head of the safety division, who is working with local railroads and the street car company to make the meetings a success, has received assurances from the school authorities that the children will be permitted to attend the lecture on Friday afternoon, accompanied by their teachers. The lectures are to be illustrated with special photographs and drawings.

The safety pamphlet to be given each child attending the lecture follows, in part:

"Small children should be taught caution and safety, and not fear, not to fear the cars and autos, just go carefully. Never run quickly across street, never cross street in middle of block, always cross at the crosswalk, stop before crossing and look both ways, then walk quickly across. Don't run. Do not get off or on a car while it is in motion. Face forward the way the car is going. Never put head or arm out open window of a car. After getting off a car wait until car starts before crossing behind it. Stop, look and see what is coming on the other side of the car. Do not run across in front of a car coming in opposite direction; there may be an auto coming on the other side of that car moving faster than the car."

ORDERLY YEAR FOR DULUTH

Report Shows Local Police Effective Under Chief McKercher.

Several Changes Made in Force Under Present Regime.

Police statistics compiled recently show that 1915 was, with one exception, the most orderly year in the history of Duluth.

Chief R. D. McKercher's first year in office has been an unusually good one, as the reports show, and indications are that the force is more effective now than almost ever before.

Arrests during 1915 numbered 5,749, compared with 5,278 in 1914 and 5,840 in 1913. Although arrests have taken a jump from the low record of 1914, city authorities attribute it more to the marked improvement in business than to anything else.

"A large number of arrests, for drunkenness or petty offenses, is a good indication of prosperity," said Chief McKercher, "and that is true of several of the months of this year, when the totals have been high."

Many Disorderlies Arrested.

The attitude of the Silberstein regime toward disorderly rooming houses is reflected in the statistics, which show that 284 female offenders were arrested during the twelve months. In 1914 there were 230 and in 1913 there were 262. In 1912, the last year before the commission form of government, 410 female offenders were jailed.

One feature of the report which will be published within the next two or three weeks will be the unusual number of changes in the personnel of the force. A score of retirements, dismissals or appointments, have been announced, all of them but two taking place since Chief McKercher took up the duties of his office on May 15. In 1914 there were but eleven changes.

June was the biggest month of the year, as far as the number of arrests were concerned, for 706 men and 40 women were jailed. November was next, with 693 men and 15 women. January was the most orderly month, with a total of but 306 arrests. Wholesale raids in the "jungles" along the bayfront caused the high June record.

The record by the month, with comparisons with 1914, follows:

	1915. Male.	1915. Female.	1914. Male.	1914. Female.
January	291	15	390	9
February	318	23	306	6
March	458	24	448	18
April	377	13	418	18
May	375	29	388	14
June	706	40	426	15
July	402	18	446	34
August	392	28	438	28
September	388	19	432	18
October	508	22	453	23
November	693	15	458	18
December	557	28	445	29
Total	5,465	284	5,048	230

Police "Shake-up."

Few changes were made by Chief McKercher when he assumed office, but since that time, particularly in the last two months, there have been several shifts, dismissals, or retirements.

J. W. Magner was the only patrolman to be dismissed. He was discharged July 2 after Chief McKercher investigated charges of neglect in connection with the burglary of a West end saloon.

The resignations were: Patrolman Axel Johnson, resigned Feb. 1; Patrolman Stanley Brawczyk, resigned June 1; Patrolman Emil E. Olund, resigned Nov. 15; Patrolman V. G. Youngberg, suspended indefinitely on June 1, for drinking; Secretary to the Chief John Connelly, resigned Aug. 22; Mounted Patrolman Arthur Callahan, resigned Dec. 3; Telephone Operator F. W. Shesgren, resigned Sept. 10, and Patrolman G. A. Henry, resigned Nov. 19.

The other changes in the force were Telephone Operator Shesgren, appointed Feb. 1; Patrolman J. W. Magner appointed Feb. 1; Patrolman G. A. Henry, appointed June 1; Patrolman Jacob Nystrom, appointed June 14; Patrolman John Nesgoda, appointed July 8; Telephone Operator Otto Blals, appointed Sept. 11; Patrolman Harry Sorenson, appointed Nov. 17; Patrolman J. A. Nelson, appointed Dec. 4; Patrolman Stans Nesgoda, appointed Dec. 17, and Patrolman Martin Stephen, reappointed Jan. 1.

Patrolman Stephen was discharged Sept. 22, 1912, during the street car strike, for leaving the city without permission of his commanding officer.

The force has been increased during the year, two patrolman having been added. There now are fifty regular patrolman, instead of forty-eight. The two additions were made as part of Safety Commissioner Silberstein's 1916 schedule which calls for the addition of four men.

ORGANIZES HOCKEY CLUB FOR GIRLS

Recreational Director Invites Girls in All Schools to Join.

J. R. Batchelor, recreational director, is organizing a girls' hockey league.

Yesterday afternoon Director Batchelor sent notices to all the school principals in the city inviting the girls to enter teams in a grade school league. As soon as a sufficient number of teams are entered the league will be organized and a schedule of games arranged to be played on the public skating rinks.

Instead of the regular hockey puck, an indoor baseball will be substituted, Director Batchelor said this morning, while the regulation sticks will be used. Any grade school girl is eligible to play and the school winning the championship will be awarded a pennant. Practice games to acquaint the girls with the game will be staged early next week.

"Boys throughout the city have taken to the grade school hockey leagues in great style," said Director Batchelor, "and I believe a league for girls will be very successful. It is a great sport, especially when the indoor ball is used, and should prove popular among the girls. The games will be played on the afternoons when the boys' games are not scheduled."

The boys' games scheduled for this afternoon follows:

Senior Western league—Adams vs. Lincoln, Lincoln park.

Junior Eastern—Franklin vs. Munger, Chester.

Junior Western—Lincoln vs. Bryant, Harrison.

SUPERIOR

OLD INDIAN MAY HAVE PERISHED

Frank Sky Fails to Reach Home After Starting to Cross Ice.

Frank Sky, one of the oldest Indians living at the Head of the Lakes, is believed to have perished in the lake on the night of Jan. 1. That night he started to cross the ice from Allouez to his home on Wisconsin point, and that is the last heard of him.

During the night the ice that had formed between the point and the mainland broke up and drifted out into the lake. It is thought that he was caught in the breaking up of the ice and drifted out into the lake or fell into the water in an attempt to save himself from going out.

Sky was about 75 years old. He was one of the best known Indians in Superior and in the early days was of great assistance to the first settlers. He has a brother living at Odanah and his wife is at present at St. Mary's hospital in a feeble condition.

Inquiries which started yesterday as to the whereabouts of the old Indian revealed the fact that he had not arrived at his home on the night in question.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.—Advertisement.

THIRD AVENUE WEST CORNER OFFERS ONE CONTINUOUS THRILLING DRAMA

SHELTERED ONLOOKER

Third avenue west and Superior street is an ideal spot to get the effects of the blizzard that is raging around our municipal midst. It's an ideal spot, if you're inside; there are no ideal spots outside today.

If a moving picture man could station his camera at this windblown corner today and get some of the storm pranks, he could show it as a great exposition of a north country blizzard, or have a scenario written around the film.

One of the favorite means of crossing the avenue is backwards. Two men and one woman, who thus precipitated themselves against the violence of the wind, suffered through a lack of balance, purely physical, we hasten to state. Putting too much pressure against the wind, which is jerky and gusty, the three parties fell.

Crossing Third avenue on a day like this reminds one of the Perils of Pauline or the dangers that harassed Eliza, as she crossed the ice with her child.

One man, a bold spirit, indeed, attempted the crossing diagonally and was caught in the exact center of the square by the vortex of wind. His cap was the first to go, and it sailed down Third avenue, scattering folds of tissue paper padding along the thoroughfare. The individual had long hair and it blew to the four winds. Then his scarf, in the general excitement, became wound about his face. Finally he recovered his cap, but not his composure. His lip movements were so eloquent as to be almost audible.

Beating it up Superior street, or up the hill on any of the avenues, is a task to try the soul and cuticle of any man, woman or child.

Walking down the street or down the hill isn't so bad, as you have the wind at your back. You are carried along at a gusty pace, your chief concern being to keep your feet; but going into the teeth of the gale is terrible.

Take It in Relays.

Most persons who have business up and down the street, did their traversing in relays. If they left the Spalding, for instance, they calculated to stop at the Northern Pacific office for the purpose of becoming thawed out. Down to the Omaha ticket office and then another rest. No doubt some of the buffets got their portion of the traveling public.

The driver of a milk wagon attempted to make Fifth avenue west shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. The horse became frightened at a particularly severe gust of wind and jumped sidewise. This Egyptian movement lurched the sleigh and spilled an empty can on the street. The wind caught the can and sent it banging down the hill. This frightened the horse and he executed other sideway movements, spilling other cans. The avenue was strewn with cans from Superior to First street. Finally the horse saw the folly of his course and was brought to a standstill.

While the excitement was at its height, a heavy individual stood on the sidewalk near the alley and gave vent to hearty, not to say, hilarious appreciation of the milk can comedy. He threw back his head for a heavy outburst of mirth, lost his footing on the somewhat slippery sidewalk, and rolled halfway to the street below.

The milkman, returning for his cans, gave him the horse laugh.

Shop and store fronts are being barricaded against the wind. Storm doors have been fastened and large plate glass windows have, in many cases, been reinforced with a bar across the center on the inside. If Frederick Palmer were here today he might be reminded of the attack on Belgium.

"Arctics" Are Popular.

Some of our solid and substantial business men, in fact many of them, came down to work today in arctics that reached half way to the knee, with trousers tucked inside the tops of the arctics. Some wore lumberjack hoof gear. Many others wore fur caps and many fur coats. This would be a reminiscent day for Doc Cook, were he here; he might almost bring his highly developed imagination to the point of believing that he has been vindicated after many years of willification.

Numerous signs reading "Please close the door" appear on the outside of many store and office doors, and testify to the fact that those inside have been made aware of drafts and chills and fragments of wintry gusts that affect bald heads.

An attempt was made to get into communication with the president of the B. V. D. Marching club. A telephone call to his home elicited the information that he was suffering from an attack of acute pneumonia.

The man who made a New Year's resolution to walk to and from the office every day suffered a relapse this day.

One standing on the corner of Third avenue west and Superior street would have little difficulty in determining that white stockings are generally worn this season.

SENSATIONAL FILM COMING.

Photoplay That Stirred Mill City Will Be Here Four Days.

"Inspiration," the picture that proved a sensation in Minneapolis recently, is booked for the Orpheum-Strand for four days commencing next Sunday afternoon.

"Inspiration" attracted the attention of the mayor of Minneapolis and other public spirited citizens. So impressed was Mayor Nye with this production that he not only passed it with his approval but also added to it a little publicity. The Minneapolis Tribune devoted one column on the first page recently to it. Manager Keogh of the Strand, Minneapolis, signed up "Inspiration" for four days. The attendance, however, proved too big on these dates, so he was obliged to extend the booking for the entire week.

Theater Gossip.

When Modjeska made her first London appearance at the Court theater in 1885 in "Romeo and Juliet," Forbes-Robertson, who appears at the Lyceum, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, was her Romeo. It is interesting to read what she thought of his work at that time. In her volume of reminiscences, she says:

"Forbes-Robertson was an admirable Romeo, full of passion, poetry and restrained pathos in the last scenes. There was no actor at that time in London who could even approach Forbes-Robertson in the part of the typical lover for which he was so admirably suited." In a later comment on the famous actor, she unconsciously prophesied his success as the Passerby in Jerome's successful modern morality play. She writes: "We put on 'Juana' with Forbes-Robertson in the part of Friar John. He played beautifully, and looked the saint to perfection."

Ellen Terry has always been a great admirer of Forbes-Robertson. It was she who together with the late Sir Henry Irving encouraged the actor to play Hamlet. It is interesting to recall what she thought of Forbes-Robertson when he was a very young man. "Every one knows how good looking he is now, but as a boy he was wonderful—a dreamy, poetic looking creature in a blue smock, far more of an artist than an actor, he promised to paint quite beautifully—and full of aspirations and ideals." Later on, she was to admit his almost unequalled powers as an actor.

Perhaps one of the most interesting of these early-day remarks was made by Sarah Bernhardt in describing her first landing in England where she was to make her London debut. She writes: "I turned my head and saw before me a pale young man, the ideal face of Hamlet. He presented me with a gardenia. I was destined to admire him later on as Hamlet. He was Forbes-Robertson!"

Even though it is customary to headline an act in each vaudeville bill, the program at the New Grand, which closes with today's performances, is so full of good things that headlining is unfair. Clark and Chappelle offer one of the funniest singing and talking skits seen locally in many weeks while Weir and Mack in their comedy playlet, "Caught" have an offering hard to beat. Weber and Dehl sing and dance their way into favor and the Cycling McNutts accomplish unusual feats in bicycle riding and acrobatics.

ALL ACTS "HEADLINERS" AT THE GRAND.

Bryant Washburn and Edna Mayo in "The Edge of Thing" topline among the numerous photoplays, which includes the third of the Stingaree stories.

Tomorrow the new bill is headlined by the famous Les Agoust Family, offering their pantomimic novelty, "A Jolly Dinner at Maxims." George Rosner presenting characteristic American types; Brooks, Rauth and Brown, three musical boys; and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Bennett in a comedy playet, "The Master," are among the vaudeville offerings. Heading the photoplays is "The Model Wife," a two-reel subject with a star cast including Lillian Walker, Antonio Mareno and others. A cartoon comedy, the Hearst-Selig News and many other interesting films make up the remainder of the program.

Her "daddy" called her "Smiling Myrtle" first, and the title endured as all true titles must. Miss Stedman refuses to gaze on the shadows, because, as she puts it, "Nobody has a monopoly on the sunshine but the shadows are overcrowded and overworked." Maclyn Arbuckle as the star with Miss Stedman in "The Reform Candidate" at the Lyric today, is well known and beloved from coast to coast. As the quick-witted, big-framed, large-hearted man of the world, he has never called forth so many laughs and tears as is his good fortune in "The Reform Candidate."

SMILING ACTRESS AT THE LYRIC.

The work of Charles Ruggles, Mary Ruby, Forrest Stanley, Howard Davies and Malcolm Bleyas justifies their selection as members of the cast.

When a young American joins the national guard, or, following that instinct, which not even long city life can entirely kill, takes a gun and starts out as a hunter, one of the earliest surprises he gets is that nasty kick that his firearm gives him. But the kick of the big guns in the present war is tremendous. Some guns jump into the air. In others mechanism takes up the rebound and the gun slides back into place. It is a curious fact that each of these great guns takes its kick in a way that is all its own. As these guns are seen firing in the terrific battle of Champagne and other battles shown on the screen in "Fighting in France," the official French government motion pictures of the war which are being shown at the Lyceum, it is almost as interesting to witness their strangely varying methods of rebounding as it is to witness the frightful havoc their shells cause. Notice how the gun crews always get well out of the way. That is part of the drill of firing. A few men put their fingers in their ears to deaden the sound of the thundering explosion, but they all look out for the kick. These remarkable pictures were secured for the New York World by their correspondent, Alexander Powell, and are the official French government pictures taken under order for the general staff of the French army for the remainder of the program.

BIG GUNS SHOWN IN WAR PICTURES.

At the Rex tonight is the last showing of "The Penitentes. Ford Sterling and his company in blackface have added another to their list of sure-fire comedies.

LAST SHOWING OF "THE PENITENTES."

A tense society drama showing an entirely new side to the master director is "The Edge of the Abyss," tomorrow's fine arts feature, starring Mary Boland, Willard Mack and Frank Mills. The situations in the story show glimpses of social life. The ambition of a young girl causes her to marry less in response to a natural impulse than to gratify her selfish desires.

"A Submarine Pirate," at the Rex tomorrow in connection with "The Edge of the Abyss," is full of laughs and thrills. Much of the action is staged on a United States submarine loaned to Mack Sennett and his company by the Federal government.

Lindbergh Secures Promise of Rule Revision By Committee.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, Jan. 12.—The one filibuster started yesterday by Representative Lindbergh, because the rules committee had promised a rules revision, has brought results. Mr. Lindbergh stated that his obstructive tactics would be discontinued, at least, until he felt sure that Chairman Henry was acting in good faith and not merely for temporary results.

Secretary Schmahl immediately wired back.

DULUTH WORLD'S CHAMPION COW HAS GROSS EARNING CAPACITY OF $2,000 ANNUALLY

Jean du Luth Beauty Breaks Several World's Records for Milk and Butterfat Production for One Year.

Duluth today has a world's champion cow, with a gross earning capacity of $1,000 a year from milk alone, with an additional $1,000 for her calf.

Jean du Luth Beauty, a 6-year-old Red Poll cow, owned by John G. Williams and George P. Grout and bred on the Jean Duluth farms, was proclaimed champion Red Poll milk and butter fat producer of the world today.

At the conclusion of last night's milking, Beauty's record for the year, according to carefully tabulated checks, was 20,270.6 pounds of milk, equal to about 10,000 quarts, worth $1,000, and 871.58 pounds of butterfat. This is equivalent to about 1,100 pounds of commercial butter and sets a world's record which will stand for a long time, dairymen of the Northwest have agreed.

This is Beauty's "pedigree" in consequence of her 1915 performance, which started Jan. 11, 1915, and ended last night:

She is champion Red Poll for a year or any fraction, as she has broken all Red Poll milk and butterfat records.

She has broken all records ever made by a milking shorthorn cow.

She has shattered all records ever made by a Brown Swiss cow for milk and butterfat.

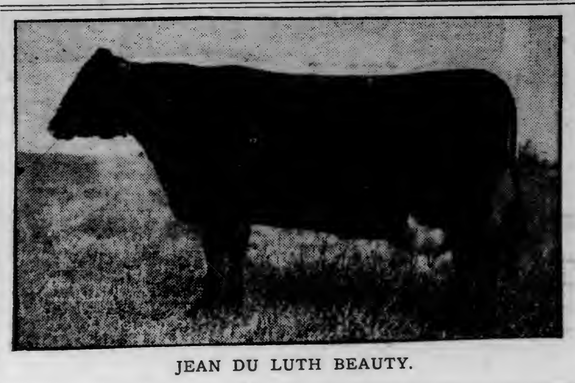

She has beaten any official milk record ever made by a Jersey cow, and only one Guernsey cow in the world has beaten her for the production of milk.

Beauty is of a long line of blue ribbon cows, and comes of her title of world's champion justly, according to George P. Grout, part owner and manager of the Jean Duluth farms. Jean du Luth Pear, who broke the Red Poll world's record for milk and butterfat four months ago, is from the same line, and Pear, the previous title holder, is the dam of Jean du Luth Pear.

This new record gives the Jean Duluth farms three new world's records in about two years, as Pear took the title of champion Red Poll about two years ago and held it until it was broken by Jean du Luth Pear. Four months ago stockmen marveled when Jean du Luth Pear produced 707 pounds of butterfat in a year, but the new record set by Beauty is so far past that mark that it probably will stand for several years.

Doing Well, Thank You.

During the last week of her year's work Beauty milked more than forty pounds of milk daily. She has gained 250 pounds in weight since the test was started, and now weighs 1,750 pounds.

JEAN DU LUTH BEAUTY.

She has been carrying a calf since Aug. 20, 1915, or during about five months of her lactation period. This calf will be worth at least $1,000.

"No uncommon feeds were given her," said Mr. Grout today, "and her work has been inspected by nineteen different experts from Minnesota, Wisconsin and North Dakota farms and experiment stations. Beauty is in excellent health today, and would make excellent beef if she were not so valuable.

"The Red Poll herd of which Beauty is a member consists of thirty cows, and each one has averaged 460 pounds of butterfat for the year," the farm manager said.

"St. Louis county has accomplished what many stock experts all over the world have claimed impossible by breeding a herd which produces both milk and beef.

"Beauty was milked and tended by eight different men during the year," Mr. Grout said. "That in itself makes a great deal of difference. One of the men, at least, to my knowledge, had little or no experience around blue ribbon cattle. She was milked four times daily.

"In summer she was turned out with the rest of the herd and grazed like any ordinary cow. Since the ice and snow came we have kept her inside. She gets quite a variety of food now, and the proportions are changed often. With every feed of grain, a quart of molasses is mixed."

JEFFERSON HIGHWAY ROUTE IS ANNOUNCED

State Commission Tells Where Gopher Road Will Run.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The state highway commission has selected the route for the Jefferson Memorial highway from the Twin Cities as far as Bemidji, it was announced here today. Although the Jefferson Highway association designated the road from Albert Lea to the Twin Cities as the capital national highway, the state highway commission was authorized to select the remainder of the trail through the state.

Route of Highway.

As outlined by members of the commission, the highway will pass through Osseo to Anoka, to Elk River, in Sherburn county, north on the east side of the Mississippi river to Little Falls, northwest to Staples in Todd county, west and north through Wadena and Park Rapids to the source of the Mississippi in Itaska state park, and thence northeast to Bemidji.

Engineers then will be called upon to choose the most promising route from Bemidji to St. Vincent, where the highway will join with the Canadian route.

The road through this state will be 500 miles long.

Letters have been sent to commercial clubs in the towns through which the road will pass, asking that committees be appointed to work for the early completion of the road. The letters were sent out by George V. Cooley, state engineer of the highway commission.

WILL MEET NEXT IN BORDER CITY

International Joint Commission to Have Session There Jan. 28.

Winona, Minn., Jan. 12.—James A. Tawney has returned from Detroit, Mich., where he attended a meeting of the international joint commission. A report was received from the consulting engineers on the Lake of the Woods investigation, and a report had been expected from the sanitary engineers on the investigation of the pollution of boundary waters, but not being completed, the Detroit conference was confined exclusively to consideration of the consulting engineers' report on the Lake of the Woods and the most advantageous use of the waters of that lake and waters flowing into and from the lake, also the question of land values along the shores of the lake.

Rainy Lake Land Values.

The commission will meet at International Falls on Jan. 28 to hear evidence on the question of land values on the south shore of Rainy lake, and it will meet on Feb. 1 at Winnipeg to receive residents of both countries who are interested in power development at the outlet of the Lake of the Woods and the outlet of Rainy lake and Winnipeg river.

CONDUCTOR'S RIGHTS DEFINED BY COURT

Madison, Wis., Jan. 12.—A conductor of a street car has authority to require passengers to step inside the car, according to a decision of the supreme court Tuesday. Such regulation is a reasonable one to promote efficiency and safety the court decided.

The case in point was Coombs vs. the Southern Wisconsin Railway company in which the complainant sought damages because the conductor attempted to eject him when he refused to step inside the car.

MILL CITY MAN IS TRUSSED UP AND ROBBED

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 12.—Forced back into the darkness of his store by two armed "stick-ups," E. W. Gilkerson, grocer at 4300 Bryant avenue south, was gagged and bound to a coffee mill while his till was looted of $97 Monday night.

Harry Mills, a barber in the same building, chanced to visit his shop to care for fires a half hour later. He heard the grocer's faint calls for help and released him.

JANE ADDAMS MAKES PLEA FOR PEACE ACTION

Washington, Jan. 12.—Speakers for the Woman's Peace party, headed by Miss Jane Addams of Chicago, pleaded with the senate and house committees on foreign relations yesterday to enlist the strength of the United States to help end the European war.

Miss Addams told the committees all Europe was ready for peace, the belligerent nations most of all, if it could be gained for them without sacrifice of dignity and standing. Five European neutrals—Holland, Switzerland, Norway, Sweden and Denmark—had assured her, she said, they would participate in a peace conference of neutral nations if called by the United States, and two of them promised to call such a conference if assured that the United States would participate.

LESSOR BONDED FOR RENT MARGIN

Sunbeam Theater Involved in Litigation to Determine Rent Rate.

While J. B. Clinton, proprietor of the Sunbeam theater, and his landlord, W. J. Conan, are litigating the question of whether $600 or $833 monthly rental shall be collected for the premises at 119-121 West Superior street, Mr. Clinton is required by an order of the court to pay $600 a month rent and to furnish a suitable bond for $1,500 as a guaranty for the payments of the disputed $223 monthly rental while the lawsuit between the parties is pending.
Judge Dancer today signed an order to this effect. The tenant and landlord were unable to come to an agreement with reference to the amount of rent to be collected. Certain repairs were to be made, after which the rent was to automatically increase from $600 to $833. Dr. Conan, owner of the building, claims that the repairs have been made. Mr. Clinton disputes the claim, and the issue is raised for litigation.

HEALTH OFFICER SEARCHING FOR IMITATION ASPIRIN

An investigation of the aspirin on the local drug market may be made by the health authorities, as the result of reports having reached Commissioner Silberstein, safety head, to the effect that a misbranded, shortweight and spurious aspirin is being carried in stock as the result of the grip epidemic, now general throughout the country.
Inasmuch as aspirin is generally used to relieve headaches and other severe pains, the grip season usually results in heavy sales of the drug. Because of the war, Germany has been unable to supply this country with the tablets and it is claimed that American manufacturers are putting out a spurious drug in its place, being unable to manufacture it as Germany does.
Similar reports have reached Washington and other large cities and the Federal government has already instituted an investigation, according to news dispatches from the national capitol.
"I don't know if these reports are true," said the safety head this morning, "but I will refer the matter to Health Director Fahey, with instructions to make an investigation, if he finds it necessary."

BATHING CATS WILL OFFER DIVERSION IN DULUTH DURING LAST WEEK OF PRESENT MONTH

The last week of January will be "Clean-up Week" for cats in Duluth. Bathing a cat is no task for a nervous person at any time, and when the cat is a husky Angora, with long hair and big enough to whip a bulldog, the job has its complications.

From Jan. 25 to Jan. 29 Duluth's thoroughbred cats will be exhibited at the Duluth Cat Fanciers' show, which will be held in conjunction with the Duluth Poultry show, and a number of prizes will be offered to winners.

According to Mrs. Agnes L. Atwood, manager of the show, a number of Duluth's blue-blooded felines have not had a bath for a long time, and just before the show opens these cats will be washed and brushed until their coats fairly glisten. The scrub cat will not be tolerated, and the cat without a bushy tail will not have much of a chance to get into the show unless he "crawls under the tent."

Mrs. Atwood expects a long entry list, as she says there are many cats raised in Duluth. Many prominent Duluthians are promoting the show.

NEW RAILROAD THROUGH STATE

Gulf of Mexico to Winnipeg Line Being Promoted.

Little Falls, Minn., Jan. 12.—A new railroad proposal will be put before local citizens in a few days, when a meeting of the Commercial club will be called to pass upon the project. John M. Wiley, who has been connected with other proposed railroads in this section of the state, the promoter of the road, is here with a petition to the council to authorize a bond election.

The proposal is for a line of railroad direct from the Gulf of Mexico to Winnipeg, passing through Little Falls. A similar project has been advanced before, but not in this city.

Want Bonds Authorized.

The petition to the council asks for an election to authorize the issue of city bonds equal to 5 per cent of the assessed valuation of the company which has been organized to promote the road, known as the Canadian-American Railroad Construction company. The bonds are not to be paid to the company until the road is in operation through Morrison county.

The company promises not only to run the line through Little Falls, but, if $50,000 of the bonds are purchased here, to locate car shops and a division headquarters here and will sign a contract to that effect after $10,000 of the amount is sold.

ANXIOUS ABOUT TWINE.

Minnesota Implement Dealers May Quiz State Prison Authorities.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 12.—Prison authorities from Stillwater probably will be asked about the alleged limitation of the sale of twine in Minnesota at the convention of the Minnesota implement dealers which opened in Minneapolis Tuesday.

More than 500 delegates were on hand when President Wackman called the convention to order on the second floor of the West hotel.

Since the commodity is of paramount importance to implement dealers and farmers, and since there is a real shortage of fiber and twine throughout the country, the hardship has been serious, according to J. G. Gage, chairman of the resolutions committee.

Another subject which will receive attention is the discount allowed on farm machinery. The present discount of 10 per cent is said to be sufficient to make it profitable for implement dealers to handle the machinery.

Business sessions will continue for three days. The convention will close Thursday night with a banquet at the West hotel given the visiting delegates by the Twin City Implement, Vehicle and Hardware club.

FUDA CASE WILL BE AIRED AGAIN

New Duluth Merchant Will Be Arraigned for Misuse of Mails.

The case of I. Fuda, which created something of a sensation in New Duluth, will probably be disposed of tomorrow morning when the prisoner will be arraigned before Federal Judge Page Morris on a charge of using the mails to defraud. Fuda is charged with having used the mails in making false claims as to his financial standing to secure credit for stock for his store at New Duluth.

Fuda has had a checkered career. Coming to New Duluth, he was supposed to be married and he and his alleged wife lived together for some time. They were also supposed to have a daughter, who was called the "Belle of New Duluth." The daughter figured in a "kidnaping" episode and was "mysteriously" missing for several days. Later, after the girl had been found, Fuda surprised his neighbors, also his alleged wife, by marrying the "daughter." He was charged with having secured a large amount of jewelry by falsely representing his financial standing and later to have disposed of it.

"Duluth Composers' Day" Will Be Made Annual Event

The "Duluth Composers' day" program, which was given yesterday afternoon by the Matinee Musicale at the First Methodist church, was such a success that the board of the organization predicts that "Duluth Composers day" will become an annual affair, like "President's day." Mrs. Bruce Ter Bush arranged the program.

Four composers took part, either playing their numbers or serving as accompanists for the vocal numbers. Franz Von Loew, who was to have played "Tromolo etude opus 22," and "Grand Polonaise," was unable to take part on account of illness.

An American flag was used in the decorations of the platform and at the close of the program the twenty persons who were on the program and the audience sang a stanza of "America."

Before the program Mrs. J. N. McKindley, president of the Matinee Musicale, announced that the study class will meet next Tuesday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A. At this time Miss Josephine Carey will analyze Dvorak's "New World" symphony, which will be played on two pianos.

Mrs. McKindley also announced that J. Warren Andrews, warden of the Guild of American organists, will give a recital next Monday night at St. Paul's Episcopal church.

It has been planned to have a cantata at the last Matinee Musicale program, which will be given March 21 and it is possible that a cantata by Harriet Ware for forty or fifty women's voices will be chosen.

Organ Number.

Miss Faith Helen Rogers opened the program with an organ prelude and fugue in D, which she wrote for "Duluth Composers' day."

This was followed by three quartets which were written by Mrs. Stella Prince Stocker and were sung by Mrs. Homer Anderson, Mrs. Ray Huey, Mrs. James Walsh and Mrs. O. J. Larson, with the composer at the piano. The numbers were "Spirit Song," "Little Boat Song,, and "To the Papoose."

Cures Colds—Coughs

When Ordinary Preparations Fail —Wonderful New Mixture Made at Home.

An investigating doctor and chemist of national renown, a few years ago, made a remarkable discovery in a simple compound, which contains no opiates or "dopes" and now known to the medical world as ESSENCE MENTHOLAXENE. It has most wonderful virtue as a curative laxative, tonic, cough and cold medicine, being so much more thorough in driving from the system deep-seated-long-standing ailments of this character. As marketed by the drug trade, it is a powerful, though perfectly harmless concentration, and the best part is that one can buy 2½ ounces and by using simple sugar syrup or honey, make a full pint of the most delicious and effective cough syrup ever discovered. It absolutely stops a cold in its incipiency, and if acquired, it will at once relieve and quickly overcome the most obstinate cold or cough including bronchitis, la grippe, hoarseness, and even whooping cough. Your druggist should supply you, even if he must order from his wholesaler. Every wholesale druggist and thousands of retail druggists throughout the U. S. and Canada sell many gross of ESSENCE MENTHOLAXENE every year. Do not take a cheap substitute and be robbed. Former Actress Apparently Insane

SADIE MARTINOT.

Sadie Martinot, once a well known actress, has been put under restraint in Yonkers, apparently insane. She is the wife of Louis Nethersole, brother of Olga. He is now in England. Mrs. Nethersole has been living in Yonkers for some time writing plays. She is about 55 years old.

"Spirit Song" was written for Mrs. Stocker's operetta, "Raoul." The "Little Boat Song" was inspired by a Latin boat song, "O Lacus Corusce," by Katherine Lee Bates, professor of English at Wellesley college. Later Mrs. Stocker wrote the English words which were sung yesterday. This has been sung in Mrs. Stocker's opera, "Ganymede," that has been given here, in New York and other cities. "To the Papoose" is based on a Chippewa melody.

Mrs. Ray Huey gave two songs by Miss Rogers, with the composer at the piano. The words of "The Seal Mother's Lullaby" were taken from Kipling's first Jungle book, and "To the Dogwood" was suggested by a magazine poem by M. D. Babcock.

Piano Compositions.

Miss Alice Olson, who is studying in Chicago, played four short piano compositions: "In the Forest," a berceuse; "By the Brook," and "Forest Sprites." As an encore she played a composition not her own, "The Music Box."

With the composer, Mrs. Stocker, at the piano, Miss Myrtle Hobbs sang "The Little Plant," "While Thou Wert By" and "Tell Me, Daisy."

The program closed with a double quartet, "The Twilight," which was composed for the occasion by A. F. M. Custance. This was given by: Sopranos, Donna Riblette, Miss Myrtle Hobbs; contraltos, Miss Alta Hallock, Miss Grace Bergstrom; tenors, Don H. Cole, A. R. Burquist; bassos, George Suffel, D. G. Gearhart; violin, Jens Flaaten; cello, Alphin Flaaten. The composer was at the piano.

the effect of the war upon England as well as the purposes and hopes of the English people. His first trip was made to Belgium, and he can tell from the standpoint of the Belgians their sad part in the struggle. He visited Germany and can tell from his own observation how the war is affecting Berlin, Hamburg and other parts of Germany. He has some ideas of his own with respect to even the kaiser. Much of his time was spent in various parts of France and he can speak most sympathetically of the French people as waging a defensive war. He studied war itself in the trenches and can describe with the accuracy of an eyewitness modern warfare as it is being waged in France and Flanders in 1915.

Women Brave Storm For Worthy Cause

If cold weather is necesary to make those who are far away from the war feel for the soldiers in the trenches, today offered a fine opportunity for exciting sympathy. Those who braved the blizzard to attend the Red Cross luncheon, which was held today at the Glen Avon Presbyterian church, have some idea of the cause for which they are working. The proceeds of the luncheon will be used by the women of Hunter's Park and Glen Avon to carry on their work of preparing hospital supplies and to help pay the wages of the women of Europe who are making clothes for soldiers and extremely needy women and children.

The tables at the luncheon were decorated with American flags.

Winter Flowers Are Imported From France

Washington Star: The winter flowers which the United States imports from Europe, called "cape" flowers, "straw" flowers, "immortelles" and "everlastings," are thought by many persons to be artificial because they are stiff and dry, but they are natural flowers, though some of them have been subjected to treatment. Before the war large shipments of them came from France and Germany. The supply was reduced greatly last year, but this year it is almost normal, even though France is the only country exporting them.

These stiff flowers, that are used extensively by florists for large "set" pieces, are generally divided into three classes. In the first class are the flowers which have not been subjected to artificial treatment. The pleasing natural colors of these flowers do not easily fade. In the second class are those that have been dipped in a preservative which causes them to retain their colors longer than they otherwise would. In the third class are those that have been dyed to produce colors other than those which nature gave them.

The immortelle may be cultivated in the United States. In fact, a number of the private friends and patrons of flowers have raised immortelles in American gardens and they are just as bright and sturdy as those which are imported, but because of the cheapness of the foreign-grown ones and the fact that dealers in florists' supplies have long had the habit of placing their orders with certain importing houses Americans have never turned their thoughts to the raising of these flowers on a commercial scale.

Those species which are called in the florist trade "strawflowers" and by botanists "helichrysum," have a wide range of coloring. Some of the varieties are white, light yellow, various shades of orange, while others come in blue, pink and red. "Helichrysum" is a combination of Greek words meaning "golden sun" and was applied at first to the yellow varieties of the straw flower. Some of these varieties are double flowers resembling somewhat in form that of a half-opened rose. These flowers do not fade even if left on the plant all season until the frost blights them, and if they are cut from the plant before the coming of frost they will retain the form and color generally all winter. It is not necessary that they be kept in water. The hardiness of these little flowers is truly surprising.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You Can Bring Back Color and Lustre With Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though at home is mussy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and look years younger.—Advertisement.

January White Sales

After the orgy of holiday shopping women would really enjoy a short rest at home, but this does not please the merchants, who like to see them at their counters daily. As it is not in the nature of human beings to resist bargains, the most attractive of all are offered in the shape of "White sales." Pleasure, for once, is combined with business and linen is replaced and white goods purchased for the coming summer's uses, and all the time we see, in mind's eye, the yards of white stuffs in finished loveliness.

In some shops everything that is white is included in the great January sale; in others the sale is of mill-ends of all materials, so one may buy the year's necessities in domestics at once at a saving of time and money.

Towelings, ordinary linen for napkins and table runners and cambric muslins should be bought by the bolt when possible. There is a saving on each yard that amounts to considerable when counted up, but more than that, you are able, with plenty of material, to have towels, pillow-cases, bed and table linens the size that you find most convenient. Then, too, when these hard-used articles show signs of wear you extend their usefulness by turning the long pieces end for end and rehemming. The small pieces you take for second best and cut fresh napkins and runners from the bolt for the hardest wear.

The summer-bleached linens are offered at these sales. You have the latest designs and weaves to choose from and all the rest of the winter to make up your purchases. What to buy depends on the use you are to put the goods to; unbleached linen has advantages for rough use, but much of it never whitens. That is, it never reaches the clear white that we all so admire. Weight is the standard by which prices of white goods are fixed; linen should weigh four ounces to each yard. Mixtures of cotton and linen are sometimes good, at least they are combined better than in former years, but only pure linen should be bought for table use. If it crackles and creases and is stiff when handled it contains filler or starch, added to make it seem heavier than it is. Good linen is very absorbent and does not crease easily between the fingers.

Questions and Answers.

On Saturday and Sunday we always have a dinner at 1:30, and every one is so hungry that we eat twice as much as we do at our regular 6:30 dinner. As Saturday afternoon is a half holiday, golf, skating and motoring give us famous appetites, and so we have early tea.

No matter how I disguise left-overs, the young folks see their original forms, so I keep these for the next week's luncheons and have fresh things for Saturday and Sunday tea. Now please tell me some tinned meats I can use these two evenings.—A Regular Reader.

Reply—Try smoked halibut, tunny fish, soused mackerel, pickled herring, cove oysters, drief beef, pressed chicken, lobster, shrimp, tongue, potted ham, frankforts, deviled ham, smoked goose breast.

All tinned meats are expensive, and owe much of their goodness to the manner in which they are seasoned. They are really twice cooked, as you must reheat them to serve, and so not much different from left-overs. I suggest you use some new flavors in using your cold meats.

Bed Time Tales

The New Nest Is Full

"Now isn't she foolish?" said Tommy to himself, as he nosed his way into the soft, newfallen snow. "It's much more fun to hunt around this way than to sit and fix that nest all the time. I'll persuade Mrs. Tommy to come with me next time."

He pushed his way through the snow in what he thought was the direction of the apple tree from which he intended to get some more tender bark. But somehow he missed his way—not a very hard thing to do under snow, as you can guess—and he worked and worked without finding anything interesting.

"Funny thing!" he said thoughtfully as he stopped for breath. "I am sure I am going the right way. Where can the apple tree be?"

He turned in another direction and tried a new plan. To the left he went a little ways. Then, finding nothing there, he came back over his same track and tried to the right. Tommy thought that a fine scheme, as indeed it was, had he been near anything interesting. But as it was, he did his exploring out in the middle of the garden, where there were no trees, or bushes, or anything that would make food for Tommy!

At last he got so tired digging, and so discouraged and hungry, that he determined to go back to the barn and get a bit of grain before he tried exploring again. "Lucky for me Mrs. Tommy didn't come this time!" he laughed to himself as he turned to go home. "I'd better not bring her till I have paths made that lead to something." Then he happened to think that she might laugh at him and his fruitless trip—he wouldn't blame her if she did!

But he needn't have worried—Mrs. Tommy had other things to think about just then.

When Tommy reached the end of his snow tunnel and turned into the barn through his own private entrance, he stopped a minute to listen for danger—as was his prudent custom. And what do you suppose he heard?

Soft little squeaky sounds that seemed to him sweeter than the finest music! Soft little baby squeaks and tender,

Soft little squeaky sounds that seemed to him sweeter than the finest music.

motherly murmurs. Quick as a flash Tommy scurried through the hole in the barn wall; quickly he scampered through the hallway between the boards till he stood at the entrance of his nest.

No wonder Mrs. Tommy had wanted the nest lined with down! No wonder she cared nothing about exploring! Who would, when they had a family of seven such fine baby mice as Tommy saw before him! He squeaked with pride and then, in true fatherly fashion, set to work to get food for Mrs. Tommy and the brand new family.

For many a day Tommy was kept busy, but he liked to work, and he was as proud as could be of his sturdy little family.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Party Dresses at School

I know a girl who left a high school in a huff because the principal told her she dressed too conspicuously. This criticism of the teacher excited the girl's schoolmates who threatened all manner of things. The principal weakened but was at the same time of the opinion that no girl should overdress in the classroom.

It is true that good taste should preclude the overdressing of a schoolgirl and that while a young woman's clothing may be of the best quality, it will be devoid of the showy essentials that create envy in the hearts of those who must attire themselves modestly.

As I look back upon my school days I readily recognize that it was not the girl who was really well or fittingly dressed that made our young hearts burn a little but usually the one whose clothes were tawdry, neck chains and finger rings numerous, and whose hair was always kinked and twisted into all manner of grown up styles.

Such a girl has her prototype in probably every public school. Sometimes they are the daughters of well-to-do parents who have no other recommendation than that which their money gives them. Sometimes the girl who dresses so showily is the daughter of people in very moderate circumstances. But she will have a mother who will only think how she can devise means to dress her daughter as well if not better than the other girls in the classroom, and at the same time cultivates but the single idea in the child's mind.

The school girl who overdresses has increased in numbers since I went to school. Nowadays in many a schoolroom in the public schools there is a condition that approaches rivalry in this respect and the effect is not good either for the girls who lend themselves to such things or for those who cannot dress other than in the simplest manner.

In the face of this condition it does not seem that the principal of a school should have the right to interfere when any school girl's clothing passes the stage deemed commenserate with public school ideas. And parents should see that their children should dress so that they shall not excite envy, discontent and extravagance in other children less fortunately situated.

The Violets

A young married couple went calling one night on an engaged girl.

During the call the door bell rang, and a messenger boy handed in a square box for the hostess. She opened it, and, delight of delights, it was the one gift most engaged girls like best of all to receive from their fiances—a great, fragrant bunch of violets.

She Was Envious, and Showed It.

The two girls buried their noses in the violets, and the married girl was frankly envious.

"Isn't it lovely to be engaged and get violets?" she sighed.

And again, a little later, "Harry, do you remember when you used to bring me violets, or is it too long ago?"

And yet again, "I don't know when I ever saw a lovelier bunch than that. In fact, except in the florist's window, I don't know when I've seen any violets at all. Husbands don't bring you violets, you know, my dear."

A Final Dig.

When she left she gave the violets a final sniff, and again called her Harry's attention to them with more half-playful, half-serious comment on the lack of violets in married life.

Harry seemed rather glad to escape. I don't blame him. On the contrary, I felt sorry for him.

He is a big, awkward, tender-hearted chap, and one of the most devoted husbands I ever saw. I don't know what salary he makes, but I don't imagine it is large, and both his wife and the baby have required a good deal of expensive medical attendance.

I don't believe his wife, for all her talk, felt half so bad about not having violets as he did about not being able to give them to her. I looked at him when she was raving over them, and his expression was something like that in a dog's eyes when he is being rebuked.

She Just "Didn't Realize."

She, for her part, is a kind-hearted young woman, and she loves her husband very much. She simply didn't realize how unfair she was and how she was hurting him. I think a great many women are tactless this way. They do not seem to realize that their envy of other women's luxuries is an indictment of their husbands.

All men can't win the material prizes of life. Some of the best and most worth-while men are incapable of making money, just as there are some men who never get the best places in a crowd. The woman with the finest kind of taste will never reproach such a man, even by the implied reproach of frequently expressed envy of other women. To do so would be like striking a horse who is doing his best to pull a heavy load.

WASTED EFFORTS AGAINST THE PRIMARY.

We know of no better way to kill a voter's interest in public affairs than to deprive him of a voice in the selection of public officials, nor do we know of a more thorough way of depriving him of such voice than through the workings of the primary law.—Luverne Herald.

No, gentle reader, this is not a joke. The Luverne Herald is opposed to the direct primary, and is perfectly serious in the above statement. It may, until it thinks a little about it, even believe it.

The deduction we are expected to make from this is that the voter had an opportunity to select public officials under the convention system, but that the primary system has taken it away from him.

You remember how the convention system worked. There were caucuses, held for half an hour or an hour some evening some place, and attended ordinarily by about two per cent of the party membership. Those who attended the caucus were given slips of paper on which the names of candidates for delegate to the county convention were printed. If there was a fight, there were two slips and two sets of candidates. Somebody—you didn't know who—had picked out the names. You were expected to vote for one set or the other. You didn't know the men, probably; and certainly you did not know who they would vote for in the convention, except rarely.

When the county convention met committees to select delegates to the state convention were appointed and went out. In the committee room a list of delegates—made out by somebody in a back room somewhere—was handed in, and the committee adopted it, returned and reported, and the convention adopted the report. Then the delegates went to the state convention, where the real work, despite the turmoil in the hotel lobbies and on the floor of the convention, was all done in secret back room conferences where the leaders—with telephone connections with the special interests—fixed the slate.

And it is THAT process that the friends of the convention profess to believe "gave the voter a voice in selecting public officials!"

We are a strong believer in conservation of energy, and we abhor waste. Power applied to kicking against the pricks of the primary system, under which candidates offer themselves and the party rank and file choose between them, with one man's vote as good as another's, is a painful example of wasted energy. It would be much better if that wasted energy could be geared up to good roads or better schools or something practical.

The people are not going to let themselves be deprived of the primary system, which gives them, not bosses intriguing sordidly in back rooms, the power of selecting candidates.

Even our words in justification of the primary are wasted, too; because it needs no justification, and because there is utterly no danger that the people are going to permit the politicians to destroy the primary or even seriously to change it.

When a person "gets better" he gets stronger; but when the weather "gets better" it gets milder. Maybe this is one of the main differences between the weather and a human being.

A CHILD LABOR DAY.

Sunday, January 23, has been set apart as Child Labor day by the National Child Labor committee, 105 East Twenty-second street, New York. This is the tenth annual observance of this day, but according to the committee, which announces that more than forty-five hundred promises to observe the day have come into its hands from school superintendents, teachers, clergymen, women's clubs and other organizations, it will be the greatest Child Labor day ever held.

The occasion comes at a fortunate time, for a Federal child labor bill, designed to bring about uniformity in child labor regulations and to protect the states which are far advanced in this respect from the unfair competition of states that are laggard, is now before congress.

It is to be hoped that the day will be generally observed by the churches and schools; and any individual who wants to observe it can do it in a very practical manner indeed by writing to his senator and congressman asking them to support the pending Federal child labor bill with all the force there is in them, to the end that childhood shall not be robbed of its heritage in order to coin dividends for remorseless employers who do not scruple to turn lost joys of childhood into profits for themselves.

Do it in pity for the children who labor.

Do it for the sake of society, which is undermined when by unregulated child labor a joyless youth is followed by early death or ignorant, deprived, starved and stunted maturity.

Queer how weather like this makes a fellow think of the trenches.

COMPULSORY SIDEWALK CLEANING.

The local department carries the news that the city government is working on an ordinance to compel people to shovel the snow off their sidewalks.

That's good news.

For some people certainly need compulsion. Others don't, and it's a rare pleasure for the pedestrian who has plowed his way wearily through the drifts before the homes of the negligent to encounter the smoothly cleaned surface that adorns the front of the good citizen's home.

But these others—we are inclined to be pessimistic about some of them. Whether anything short of ninety-nine years at hard labor in the state penitentiary will stir the worst ones out of their sloth is a question.

The city has an ordinance passed in great hope and cheer a quarter of a century, that hasn't been worth the paper it was typewritten on, for some reason. The idea now is, as we understand it, to revise this ordinance and turn it into something that will work. This task the city attorney's office is now engaged upon. More power to it!

What will happen to Chicago as a political convention city if the 1916 Republican convention there turns out as the one in 1912 did?

THE GREAT AMERICAN HUMBUG.

Just a little while ago Theodore Roosevelt was deeply and passionately concerned with the cause of social justice and industrial freedom, in all works for the higher well-being of humanity in this country, and was manufacturing vitriolic phrases about those who opposed this splendid cause.

Now, utterly forgetful of all that, and hobnobbing with industrial royalties at sumptuous secret dinners, he is deeply and passionately concerned with the cause of war-making—the very antithesis of human well-being, the very negation of all that he has previously professed—and is manufacturing vitriolic phrases about those who oppose more preparedness and ever more preparedness, including those malignant pacifists who propose preparedness programs the slightest degree smaller than the mighty armaments the Colonel himself advocates. He is particularly venomous toward those who hold that right and justice are higher than bluff and brute force.

But all it means is that the great American humbug has got a new toy.

It doesn't take a confirmed poker player to discover the similiarity in the actions of Pippa and The Third Floor Back.

POPULATION AND THE WAR OUTCOME.

In the early stages of the war it was generally figured that unless Germany could win a speedy victory by her better organization, in the long run the weight of population in favor of the Entente allies would be likely to turn the scale.

The Berlin Tageblatt points out that there has been a change in this balance, from which it reads hope. When the war opened the allies had 230,000,000 people and the central powers 116,000,000. The Tageblatt points out that conquest has reduced the entente to 214,000,000 and increased the Teutonic powers to 150,000,000, reducing the disparity from 114,000,000 to but 64,000,000—which would not be formidable enough to count for much if the figures are correct.

However, though the Teutonic powers by conquest have acquired 310,500 square miles, it is not correct to figure the population of conquered territory as an addition to the fighting forces of the central powers. The population of Belgium certainly is not fighting for Germany; neither is the population of Northern France or Poland or Serbia. To a large extent the fighting population has followed the allied armies in their retreat from soil taken by Germany and her allies; and the fighting men that remain are probably not being recruited by the Germans in large numbers.

On the other hand, the more territory Germany has acquired, the longer the line she must attack and defend upon, and the greater the drain upon her resources. Considering all factors, therefore, so far as mere numbers goes the advantage still is with the entente. Moreover, it should not be forgotten that the allied navies so far have easily won a complete victory, and that no matter what happens on land, Germany cannot renew her trade relationships with the world without reckoning with the navies that encircle and beleaguer her.

Since he made that European trip on the advice of some peace enthusiasts Henry Ford probably is willing to indorse the classification of advice as "the greatest vice in the world."

Uncle Joe's Story.

Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph: Former Speaker Cannon tells this story of his early impecunious days:

"One of my friends was a struggling physician. Neither fame nor fortune had come to either of us, but we were always hopeful. The years had weighed heavily upon my friend, however, for he soon lost his hair, being quite bald.

"One day I greeted him with a beaming countenance and exclaimed:

"'What do you think, Henry? I have just bought an office safe.'

"'Then, Joe,' said he, with the utmost gravity, 'I shall buy a hairbrush.'"

A Cheerful Benedict.

Cincinnati Enquirier: It was mail day and he had given strict orders that he was not to be disturbed, and when the office door opened he was not inclined to give a cheerful greeting to the intruder.

"Excuse me, sir," the man said, "but I have an important proposition to place before you."

With a sigh the boss laid down his pen and prepared to listen.

"Couldn't I sell you a piano-player?"

The boss took up his pen and snorted:

"No, I married one."

"But I mean a mechanical one."

"That's the kind I married," said he and returned to his work.

Talks on Thrift

Issued by the American Bankers' Association.

Saving at the Spigot and Wasting at the Bunghole.

There is an economy that saves at the spigot and wastes at the bunghole. To practice economy in little things and forget it in the larger ones is no economy at all. To walk a mile in order to save 5 cents car fare may not be good policy, for the time may be worth many times the saving. It has been figured out that it does not pay a carpenter to stoop down to pick up a nail, for the time he wastes would buy two nails. You often see men and boys in the big city dashing in front of autos, dodging trolley cars and taking desperate chances with their lives to save a few moments' time, and then stop for ten or fifteen minutes to watch some gentleman in a window advertising a corn cure. Be consistent!

It never pays to buy something simply because it is cheap. If you do not need it, it is dear at any price. The woman who is eager for bargains and buys simply because she cannot resist the temptation to get a bargain has swindled herself. True value consists in getting the maximum return for the money spent.

Last summer a woman bought six baskets of peaches that were spotted, and thought she bought them cheap, and her economical soul was exultant; but when she found she had fewer cans than if she had bought sound fruit, and the scraps were useless for "peach butter," and in her anxiety to get them canned before they spoiled she worked herself sick and let the syrup boil until it crystallized, she realized that there are some bargains that are not bargains.

When a wave of economy strikes the household, the wife generally decides to save on the table, which is all very well, provided she knows how. But to buy cheap meats and stale vegetables may be the poorest sort of economy.

There are some cuts of beef as nourishing as porterhouse at one-third less the cost; but to buy bone and gristle for beef is to deceive yourself. If the family eats no fat, buy lean cuts. Pork chops can be had with practically no fat or bone at all. These are the loin chops. Rump roast is all meat and no bone and goes a long way because there is no waste. In the matter of clothing costly economy can be practiced. Two pairs of $2 shoes will not last half as long as one pair of $4 ones. Gingham costs more than calico, but it wears longer and looks better. It costs just as much to make a dress of calico as of gingham and the only difference is the small saving in material cost, which is overbalanced by the short wear. A remnant is not cheap unless you can use it.

It may pay a woman to do her own laundry, but if she breaks her health it is costly washing. You can save money by doing without eating—at least cutting it down to stopping the craving for food. You can eat candy just before dinner and not want soup and meat; but that is saving money to hire a doctor. True economy does consist in doing without some things—needless luxuries, but not in doing without the necessities of life. There are many ways to save, but look out that in saving at the spigot you don't forget the bunghole.

An Appeal to Patriotism

New York Evening Post: To the editor of the Evening Post—I am the president of the newest society, "The Patriotic Association for the Fortification of the Canadian Boundary Line."

It is perfectly evident to any military expert that it is criminal to leave this line undefended any longer. If, as seems likely at present, Montenegro is the ultimate victor in the present war, her first objective will be Canada, for the purpose of reaching the corn belt of the United States. It will be too late then to begin to fortify.

We merely ask at present for a modest appropriation of three million a year to build and man forts every six feet along this line. Gen. D. Barrell, the noted expert, pleads for forts every six inches, but we propose a moderate program to begin with.

Is it too late to awaken the country to its duty in this respect? Pacifists are well-meaning people, but not having followed the course of Montenegrin politics for the last ten years, are not experts on the question of defense.

Yours in the interest of level-headed statesmanship and political sanity,

BROMIDE SMITH,
Colonel of the First U. S. Horse Marines.

Jumping on Henry.

Life: Some very harsh remarks have been made about Henry Ford by persons who are impatient of his audacities. Judge Parker, for example, speaks of him as "a clown, strutting on the stage for a little time."

To be sure! And yet it takes quite a provision of material to make so interesting a clown as Henry. He is ridiculous, but not any more ridiculous than war.

There is a good deal to Henry. Imagine two equal piles of human material, out of one of which was to be fashioned Henry Ford and out of the other Judge Parker. If you were a naked spirit awaiting incarnation, and had the chance to furnish yourself with humanity out of the remnants of one of those piles, which would you choose? Would there be more material left over after making Judge Parker or Henry Ford?

Col. George Harvey is in England, and he also speaks with less than his usual urbanity of Henry. He wishes to relieve the British mind of the impression that Henry represents the American people, and that is right. But possibly he is the more fervent because of a certain professional impatience with a great handler of publicity by entertainment. Col. George himself has gifts as a showman, and has remarkable achievements to his credit, but his command of resources was never quite so ample as Henry Ford's, and he never equaled in kind Henry's extraordinary exploit with the Oscar II.

Rippling Rhymes

By Walt Mason

Standing the Gaff.

If you have made some costly break, don't demonstrate your streak of yellow, by saying, "'Twasn't my mistake—the blame rests on the other fellow." Far manlier it is to say, "I am the author of that blunder, and if you do not like my way, just soak your head and go to thunder." George Washington chopped down a tree, for which he doubtless knew he'd catch it. His father said to him, said he, "Who did this with his little hatchet?" If George had been a tin-horn sport, he would have said, "That Johnson laddie cut down your prune tree good and short, so go and take his hide off, daddy." But George was not a ten-cent youth; in him there was no streak of yellow; when he did wrong he told the truth, nor blamed things on the other fellow. So he said, "Dad, if you must be worked up about so small a trifle, why, I cut down your measly tree—I did it with my flobert rifle." That spirit is as good as gold, though found in low or lofty station, and with it you will always hold the world's respect and

How One Man Succeeded

Editorial in the Kansas City Star.

Many a boy has said: "Gee, I wish I was that man Ripley, president of the Santa Fe railway."

Many a boy has looked yearningly at E. P. Ripley, riding across country in his private railway car, with people at his service; everyone, from Chicago to California, clearing the track for him, and has said to himself: "It must be great to be president of a railroad and get as big a salary as the president of the United States."

And, no doubt, many a boy has thought that Ripley could give him the "secret of success," and has said in his own mind: "Now if I could only get close enough to him, and dared to ask him, he could tell me how to succeed, for he was only a poor clerk, they say."

Yes, Mr. Ripley knows the secret, only it isn't a secret at all, for he told all about it the other day; and here it is, in his own words:

"Make your employer's interests your own, and work hard."

"Oh, shucks," you say. "That old stuff again? There must be more of it than that."

Well, of course, it takes for granted a certain amount of ability. But most of us have more of that than we ever make use of. Mr. Ripley tells how to make the most of that ability.

"That has been my motto for forty-eight years as a hired man," he says. "If I have succeeded that is the only secret of my success, and the same motto, strictly adhered to, will bring success to anyone."

He began as a store clerk, poor, without influence or pull. Almost any clerk in Kansas City today is as well off as he was then. He got to be a freight solicitor for a railroad, but, mark this, he wasn't content to be just a solicitor; he wanted to be a better solicitor than anyone else, and so he studied the freight business in all its phases, sitting up late at night after working hard all day, learning all he could about transportation problems. He worked, plodded, studied for eleven years and then his chance came. The Burlington wanted a general freight agent and those who knew said:

"Get that fellow Ripley. He knows more about the freight business than any other man in this country and he's a glutton for work."

And so Ripley got that job because he was ready to take it. He kept on working and studying and in ten years he became third vice president. Five years later the Santa Fe, bankrupt and almost a ruin, wanted a man for receiver who could manage the property so as to pull it out of the hole, and those who knew said: "Get Ripley, he knows more about the railroad business than anyone else and he's on the job every minute of the time."

And Ripley got that job because he was ready to handle it. He was equipped for the job, and everyone in this part of the country knows how by working hard for his employers, by making their interests his own, and by knowing how, he has made the Santa Fe one of the best railway properties in the world.

If you want to get on, boy, you follow Ripley's advice, for he knows. You let the other fellow do the grumbling and the clock watching, the railing against "hard luck." You let him say there is no use working with all your might and that the day of opportunity is past. You give to your job the best there is in you, all the time; make your employer's interest your own, and you'll get there.

The Fool Who Went to War

(With Apologies to Kipling.)

A fool there was who went to war
(As fools are wont to do)
To kill some one he never saw,
For kaisers and kings whose will is law,
To freeze and starve and sleep on straw
(As fools are wont to do).

Oh! the lives we take and the sorrow we make,
And the orphans' cry in the land,
Charge up to the devils who started the strife,
We hope they will have to account for each life,
And be made to understand.

A fool there was and his strength he spent
(As fools are wont to do),
He shot to kill with good intent
(He didn't know what the warfare meant).
But rulers must follow their selfish bent
(As rulers are wont to do).

Oh! the blood we spilled and the men we killed
Were just what the rulers planned,
We did the killing but never knew why;
And now we know we never knew why
(And did not understand).

The fool was cut through his foolish hide
(As fools are wont to be).
When he found the rulers had cast him aside,
With an iron cross to swell his pride.
So part of him lived, but most of him died.
(As fools are wont to do).

And it isn't the cross and it isn't the loss
That stings like a white hot brand,
'Tis coming to know that he acted the fool,
And did not understand.
—Joseph McDonald in "The Public."

Mr. Taft's Delusions.

New York World: Mr. Taft is still an old-fashioned person with a fossilized mind. He thinks that a political party ought to have principles in defeat as well as in victory, and that having principles it ought not to sell out. Consequently he is opposed to letting Mr. Roosevelt either frame the next Republican platform or name the candidate for president.

There was a time when this sort of doctrine held favor, but times change and parties change with them. The average Republican politician is not worried much by principles. What he wants most is to get back into power. If Roosevelt seems to offer a bridge, he is not disposed to quarrel with the means by which the end might be reached. As for differences of principle between Rooseveltism and Republicanism, they do not worry him. He knows by experience that Roosevelt has no principles that are not improvised to fit the occasion, and that the situation cannot change faster than the Colonel. Progressivism looked like a winning card in 1912, and so the Colonel was progressive. If the 1916 tide runs toward reaction, the Colonel can be as stout a reactionary as Barnes or Penrose or Uncle Joe Cannon.

To Mr. Taft the game of "good Lord and good devil" is offensive, but Mr. Taft was never a successful politician. He never was capable even of betraying a friend, and if his greatest ambition in life was to play the demagogue, he would not know how to begin. A party of great moral ideals cannot afford to listen to the advice of such old fogies if it is to get away with the swag.

Keep Sunny.

Irish World: A cheerful disposition, a happy temperament, is the master key that unlocks more secrets, more riches, more success, than anything else. The sunny soul does not need letters of recommendation or introduction; all doors fly open to him; he is welcome everywhere. A sunny temper is a talisman more powerful than wealth, more precious than rubies. It is "an aroma whose fragrance fills the air with the odor of paradise."

If you wish to attract friends and to do your best work, keep your mind filled with sunshine, with beauty and truth, with cheerful and uplifting thoughts; bury everything that makes you unhappy and discordant, everything that cramps your freedom, and worries you. Bury it before it buries you. Adopt the sun dial's motto, "I record none but hours of sunshine."

Keeping Up With Minnesota Editors

Scattered Comments Taken From Minnesota Papers.

Easier to Keep Track of Them, Too.

Stillwater Gazette: It would be easier to interview a smaller legislature. That's an argument against the large number we are paying for sacrificing their time.

Don't Make Them so Well Worth Stealing.

Princeton Union: "Thieves entered a Rochester, Minn., drug store last night and stole all the safety razors. Nothing seems to be safe these days."—Albert Lea Times-Enterprise.

That is not so surprising when one considers that in this age of rascality even editorial paragraphs are purloined and palmed off as original by literary pirates.

How to Govern the Country.

Madison Independent Press: The way to get a short county ballot is to do away with all the county offices and employ one man to perform the duties of all these, which he could easily do by employing a force of clerks. The work would cost about one-half what it now does if handled in that way. This is the method proposed by Mr. Taft for handling the postoffice business. Would it work? Of course it would, but the politicians will not allow a trial of any such plan.

But You Won't Hear It Complaining.

Little Falls Transcript: The family that has not been visited by la grippe this season is not keeping well up with the procession of the times.

A Real Monument to a Real Governor.

Warroad Pioneer: The Minnesota Development association can be made the greatest memorial to Governor Hammond. He was a constructive statesman—a builder—and the organization of the state association was one of his last efforts.

They'd Rather Blame Others for Failing.

Red Wing Eagle: How would those who object to the sending of so many notes to Europe like to be sent over themselves to straighten out the mess?

Yes, Verily.

Gonvick Banner: Here's to America, land of freedom, where every man is a presidential possibility and darned few are probabilities.

The Last of the Mohicans, as It Were.

Moorhead News: Gen. Coxey of Ohio now wants to be a United States senator. All the rest of the "Army of Unemployed" that he once led to Washington seem to have got jobs long ago.

Michigan Musings

Brief Paragraphs From the Wolverine State Press.

Here's Enthusiasm!

Marquette Mining Journal: The Copper country is about as enthusiastic over the proposal that it shall go in for league baseball as is the average fisherman over mosquitoes.

"An' Brer Fox, He Lay Low."

Calumet News: Col. Roosevelt doesn't want his name on the Michigan primary ballot, either in the Republican or Progressive column. But this doesn't mean that T. R. won't be somewhere near at hand when the Republican national convention convenes in Chicago. He's just sitting back and keeping his eyes open.

Ding Bust 'Em!

Detroit Times: They weighed Liberty Bell on its return to Philadelphia. To ascertain, we trow, whether the public exacted the toll.

Labor and Crime.

Baraga Journal: It would not be fair to charge organized labor with the crimes for which many labor men in Chicago have been arrested. It stands to reason that in every large organization there will be bad men who disgrace themselves and bring disrepute upon the society to which they belong and for which they claim to speak and act. But the great majority of working men are self-respecting and above committing lawless acts and it is to their interest and the interest of the unions to which they belong to repudiate the acts that are alleged to have been committed in their name and also to repudiate those who may be found guilty.

As to a New State.

Crystal Falls Diamond Drill: The best we can say for the (state of Superior) proposition is that it's bunk; pure bunk of the type that listens good but does a lot of mischief.

The Good the Idea Has Done.

Marquette Mining Journal: The state of Superior, in short, must continue a highly speculative project, and one that will hardly be seriously essayed. In the present it has availed, however, to afford Mr. Andrews opportunity to present graphically figures and statistics showing the relative importance of the Upper Peninsula region. They are of a nature to enforce on the average resident a realization of how large and important it is.

Well What Do You Think of This?

Hancock Copper Journal: If it is advisable to cut loose from Michigan, why wouldn't it be just as well to tie up with Wisconsin rather than to try to navigate a separate ship of state? Our business relations with Milwaukee are more extensive than with Detroit and our geographical location makes us really more a part of the Badger state than of Michigan.

A Couple of "Ifs."

Calumet News: If there was any remote chance of realizing the state of Superior, Marquette would be enthusiastically for it, says the Mining Journal. It would be the logical capitol, just as Calumet would be the inevitable metropolis.

How to Deal With Shoppers.

Marquette Chronicle: A big problem for the merchants is how to deal with people who walk through their stores in an aimless way looking for goods, but with no definite purpose as to buying. Every merchant knows that type of shopper. The best way to deal with them is to describe goods definitely to the public by good advertising. Then they start out with a more positive purpose to buy, they go direct to the man whose notice interested them, and usually buy without shopping further.

All Papers Getting Yellow.

Toledo Blade: You have doubtless noticed a new hue in your newspaper, as if the paper had been delivered through a flooded area and the suspended clay of the high waters had seeped into the freight cars. Well, if that color is a little too sickly for your taste, don't blame it upon the newspapers. They can't help themselves. They have come into contact with a condition of war.

Print paper does not come to us in the true color of the wood from which the paper is made. It is bleached, and for bleach the paper mills have had to depend for the most part upon Europe. Supplies of this material have been running low. Months ago the mills sent out word that they couldn't guarantee a white color. The stocks of white paper are now becoming exhausted. More and more you will see whiteness disappear, more and more the yellow tinge will become the predominating hue.

During the Civil war, a publication in a community undergoing siege came out upon wall paper. We are not the least likely to reach that stage. Luck being with us, we will be no more than a little jaundiced.

Our Reading Public

Henry Sydnor Harrison in the Atlantic Monthly.

It is easy to arraign for chastisement an American public composed of cheaply sensuous and sentimental vulgarians whose reading is done exclusively under the auspices of Mr. Hearst. But why do it? Why should we Americans be always judged by our worst? Why must it be assumed that our most vulgar is our most truly representative?

I, for one, never think of the reading public in those low terms. For me, the words call up an altogether different picture. They make me think of free libraries, responsible looking women going in and out with books, old men sitting around the periodical tables, silent youths prowling among the stacks. They make me think of school teachers; of spectacles sometimes; of serious young men who write letters to the newspapers; of wealthy, bored, cynical women, of questioning, tired working women; of sober paterfamiliases and materfamiliases by the evening lamp; of editors and parsons and social servants; of lady doctors' assistants; of critics even; of educated drummers and beginning lawyers; of aged scholars and precocious schoolgirls; of John, "the queer one" who puts books above baseball; of intellectual Mary, known to be always scribbling away at something in her locked room; of peace advocates and stenographers and ex-presidents and Booker T. Washington.

And in this dim vast sober concourse, which is the reading public to me, I seem to find much excellent taste and sound sense and good hardy keenness and independence. And even below the sane mixed average—But no; never mind. Let me stop here.

One day last year I was riding uptown in New York on a Fourth avenue street car—or tram, to give it the continental touch. It was 6 o'clock; the factories and wholesale houses were just emptying; the tram was crowded. Standing beside me was a little working girl, evidently just released from her job. She looked jaded; but she had the New York working girl's habit of "dressiness;" I am afraid there was powder on her nose. Nevertheless, this girl was reading; and no matter how much the tram jolted or how much other straphangers jostled her, she never raised her eyes from her book. Of course I looked over her shoulder. The book was "The Divine Fire," from a circulating library.

Mr. Wister thinks that the American reading public is fairly represented by the girl at the Philadelphia library, who refused "Tono-Bungay" on the ground that it "ain't fresh." Well, I shall submit that our representative public is still better exhibited by the New York working girl, hanging to a strap at the end of the day's work, her eyes glued upon one of the ablest novels written in my time.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quinlin, the Sunshine Man.

And now I exhort you to be of good cheer.—Acts xxvii, 22.

I will be glad and rejoice in Thee; I will sing praise to Thy name, O Thou most High.—Ps ix, 2.

If you have a murmuring spirit, you cannot have true cheerfulness; it will generally show in your countenance and your voice. Some little fretfulness or restlessness of tone will betray it. Your cheerfulness is forced, it does not spring up freely and healthily out of your heart, which it can only do when that is truly at rest in God; when you are satisfied with His ways, and wishing no change in them. When this is truly your case, then your heart and mind are free, and you can rejoice in spirit.—Priscilla Maurice.

Let us seek the grace of a cheerful heart, an even temper, sweetness, gentleness, and brightness of mind, as walking in His light, and by His grace. Let us pray to Him to give us the spirit of ever-abundant, ever-springing love, which overpowers and sweeps away the vexations of life by its own richness and strength, and which, above all things, unites us to Him who is the fountain and the center of all mercy, loving-kindness, and joy.—John Henry Newman.

Advice to Young Writers.

New York Tribune: Every few days a letter comes from some young man about to dip his ankles into the chill though bracing pool of literature. "Would you mind giving me some advice?" he asks, and flattered as we are we always say truthfully that we have none. We are going to tell the next young man to write not to please a mythical public, or, worse, an editor who is trying to please a business office that thinks it is trying to please a public; but to write to please himself, to write what he himself would enjoy reading. He may be astonished to find how many persons there are with tastes like his.

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. WANTS FAIR DEAL FOR BAY VIEW HEIGHTS

To the Editor of The Herald:

With your permission I would like to protest through this column against the treatment accorded the taxpayers at Bay View Heights.

Last fall the school board took the school away. Now the very latest is a notice received in the mail box that a certain road is not open, so we are so gently informed to move our mail boxes down to the boulevard road.

Now, as we are taxpayers and also living within the city, it seems no more than right that we request the proper authorities to remove said obstruction, which consists of snow drifts, so that Uncle Sam can deliver the mail at our front gate. Yours respectfully, BAY VIEW HEIGHTS.

QUOTES ST. LUKE TO REBUKE COMMISSION

To the Editor of The Herald:

It has been said that some men are as blind as bats, and it appears that the same is true of the commissioners as regard the welfare of the common workers, as they have not received any consideration at the hands of the commission, except the pittance that will be received by the policemen.

Our firemen are working twenty-four hours per day, six days per week. The only time they have at home is the one day and their meal hours. These men are considered human, and yet one may wonder how long anyone would consider that men working under these conditions could retain the spirit of human progress and well-being that are so essential to the fuller life and the enjoyments of the rewards of their labor.

The common laborer, the man who removes the virgin soils from the bosom of mother earth, that we may lay our sewers and water mains, the most essential form of labor that comes within our needs of today, receives no raise in pay and no consideration at the hands of the commission, and to the commission's attitude towards labor, a rebuke is to be found in St. Luke, chapter xvi, 3: "Then the steward said within himself, 'What shall I do? as my lord taketh away from the stewardship. I cannot dig; to beg I am ashamed.'" This is the position that the commissioners may some day find themselves in, because of their treatment of contempt for labor.

The commission has missed its calling. Had it been selected for the purpose of ascertaining how much could be expended, with the least return for the common good, it would have met with an unquestioned success.

PLAIN TALK FOR M. E. S.

To the Editor of The Herald:

M. E. S. wants to know why Mr. Cleveland does not flood our rink on Garfield avenue. We do not want Mr. Cleveland to flood our rink.

I don't know who M. E. S. is, but if he would come to the rink and put in his time helping us make a rink instead of trying to roast Mr. Cleveland, we would have a skating rink by next Saturday.

The Lord helps those that help themselves. Your truly,

WASTING FUEL.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Now that Mr. Hays has come and gone, but left behind him a lot of valuable information in regard to firing, combustion, etc., I shall not comment on this, but there is one big fault which causes a big waste of fuel, and by putting this forth may help some for the future heating plants, especially on a steam heat single pipe system, because in the way that most of those are piped up it appears that men drawing the plans do not understand them. Yet it is one of the simplest, best and economical heating plants for steam if piped up right. The trouble is either too much pipe and fittings or not enough, or some other apparently small mistake, but which causes waste of fuel. We will, for example, take one of the latter. Here the steam pipe rises from the boiler, leads on an upgrade around the building. The return is attached to steam pipe a short distance from the boiler, so the water will have to go against the steam on its way to the boiler. Some may say this is all right, but as the highest and lowest temperatures are in constant touch, a big per cent of steam is lost through condensation. Loss of steam is loss of fuel, and this also creates more or less cold air in the pipe. This must pass through radiators and it requires more pressure to force it through, and also one or two of the risers may take up the biggest bulk of air and this forms an air cushion which would require almost a dangerous pressure to force through. It is a surprise to find so many buildings piped up in this or other bad ways. My motto is where there is trouble there is a cause, and a man in charge of buildings should always look for the cause. Yours truly,

CARL SEVERSON,
1212 West Superior street.

Samuel Burgen, Duluth—Will you please tell me how I could reach my mother and two small brothers who are in Russia. She used to live in Malat, Russia. The last news I heard of her was last August, but since then I have heard that the inhabitants of that town were driven out to another town by the name of Tombov.

It worries me very much, because I am the only support and I have supported them for the last seven years. I would be very grateful if you could advise me.

Answer—If you will write to Congressman C. B. Miller at Washington he will take it up with the state department and may be able to find some trace of your relatives.

HOSPITAL, COLLEGE AND IMPROVEMENTS TO HARBOR FAVORITES WITH CONTEST WRITERS

One Writer Suggests Need of Bridge Across Chester Park—Schoolboy Would Build Home for Aged and Crippled Duluthians.

In the "What Would I Do for Duluth?" contest a number of interesting answers were received today. Among the things suggested are a city hospital, provisions for a greater harbor, a college for the city, home for old and disabled persons, abolishment of all pool halls and gambling devices.

A local boy of 13 years suggests improvements for the local harbor, home for old and disabled persons and a law providing that only taxpayers might vote at city elections. He says:

"What I would do for Duluth if I had the power:

"I would have the present ship canal filled in to the width of about forty feet, with bridges for railroad service and passenger accommodation. This forty-foot channel would be used for motorboats and other small craft. The present canal I would place at the Barrens below the Park Point car line. This would give to Duluth nature's greatest harbor in the world.

"I would erect a home on a small tract of land adjoining the city, where the old and disabled people of Duluth could spend the remaining days of their lives.

"I would have a law enacted that only taxpayers could vote on city affairs.

"HAROLD EDMAN, 13 years old,
"119 South Fourteenth avenue east."

Chester Creek Bridge.

One writer declares that the most important thing that could be done for Duluth would be the building of a bridge across Chester creek. He says:

"In all the suggestions which have been printed in your paper by our home-loving citizens in reference to building up and beautifying our city, to my notion the most important suggestion has been left out—a bridge across Chester creek. Now, friends, it is a crime for a load of material to be hauled up on the west side to deliver part of a load and then down to Fourth street in order to get to the east side of Chester creek.

"Chester creek is the most beautiful park in the city, and I don't believe that an ornamental bridge would affect its beauty. No; it would make it much more beautiful. Then look at the difference in the length of a haul for coal, lumber, meat and groceries. Not only that, but it would open up all that land and homes would go up, while now they have no outlet, naturally the people won't build. The car line could also be extended over, and the hill would be open. Every business man in the city should push this suggestion for his own benefit, knowing that it would save him time and labor. Remember, Duluth is hilly.

"CHARLES E. FIROVED, JR."
"1027 East Second street."

College Is Suggested.

A Central high school freshman suggests the establishment of a college for Duluth, the abolishment of gambling, and the cleaning up of streets, etc. The letter follows:

"If I had power enough or money enough the three most important things I would do for the city of Duluth would be as follows:

"First—Establish a large college in the center of the city for pupils of the Central and other high schools of the city to go to after they graduated from the high school. Most parents who wish to send their children through college cannot do so because the expense of going to another city surpasses their amount of money.

"Second — Abolish all gambling houses and pool rooms and establish a large club room where young men of the city could spend their evenings, instead of spoiling their reputation in these low gambling houses.

"Third—Improve the appearance of our wonderful city, which in time will grow and be one of the largest and most famous cities of the world. We should keep our streets cleaner, sidewalks neater and not spit on them so germs will grow and spread a plague over the city.

"All these things I think would help Duluth a great deal.

(MISS) M. DE SANTO,
"A Central high school Freshman student."

A West end woman favors the wiping out of the "bowery" district and the deportation of undesirable transient men so that local working men might be given better opportunities.

"What would I do for Duluth?' and it was my power. My first aim would be to wipe out the bowery of our principal street. In place I would erect large business blocks. I'd extend the White Way to this point, also up Mesaba avenue. This change would make a beautiful contrast. It would make an interesting view for the harbor and also travelers on trains. And next, I'd deport all undesirable transient men, who are a menace to our home men, the principal cause of poverty among the poor families. It would also be a great convenience to have a good city hospital for those who can't spare (if any) their little earnings for healing their illness. And above all, I'd build a high tower of welcome to manufacturers to our coming great city of Duluth.

"MRS. JEANETTE DONOVAN,

PROGRESSIVES MEET JUNE 7

Select Same Date for National Convention as Republicans.

May Have Same Candidate But Will Not Amalgamate With G. O. P.

Chicago, Jan. 12.—The Progressive party will hold its national convention June 7 in Chicago, concurrently with the national convention of the Republican party, in the hope that both may agree on the same candidate for president. This action was decided upon yesterday by the national committee of the Progressive party. Forty-seven of the forty-eight states were represented at the meeting.

Before adjourning the committee adopted a declaration of principles in which the administration of President Wilson was criticized for its alleged failure to deal adequately with national honor and industrial welfare and the Progressive party went on record as favoring a complete preparedness consisting of military armament as well as a mobilization of all the country's resources with a view to the unification of American citizenship.

Progressive leaders declared that there would be no amalgamation with the Republican party even in the event of both parties choosing the same presidential candidate. The Progressive party plans to nominate a national ticket at its convention in June.

Many of the party leaders declared that if the Republicans will nominate Roosevelt or any other man who is regarded as unobjectionable and will incorporate in its platform the salient features of the Progressive principles, both parties will unite on the same candidate in Chicago next June.

Declaration of Principles.

In discussing the declaration of principles issued by the committee, Chairman George W. Perkins of New York said:

"The declaration issued by the national committee means what it says. It was prepared with great care. There is nothing of bluff or threat in it. It is an honest and fair statement of the situation.

"We are all hoping that both the Progressive and the Republican parties will agree on a candidate and it necessarily will not have to be Col. Roosevelt."

The declaration of principles adopted by the committee was prepared by a sub-committee consisting of Herbert Knox Smith of Connecticut, chairman; Chester H. Rowell of California; E. A. Van Valkenberg of Pennsylvania; W. H. Childs of New York and William Allen White of Kansas.

The detailed arrangements of the Progressive national convention were referred to the executive committee, of which George W. Perkins of New York is chairman. Mr. Perkins said the executive committee would meet in New York within two weeks to complete the arrangements and issue the formal call.

PENSION FUND FOR EPISCOPAL CHURCH

New York, Jan. 12.—A campaign to raise $5,000,000 before July 1, to establish the church pension fund of the Episcopal church was launched yesterday at a meeting in the library of J. P. Morgan of sixteen men prominent in the financial world. Every parish in the United States will be asked to contribute.

Bishop William Lawrence of Boston will direct the work of gathering funds to care for the aged clergy of the church, and Mr. Morgan will serve as treasurer.

MANY SMALL THEFTS DURING THE YEAR

Police Report 570 Cases of Petit Larceny for That Period.

Duluth's police department handled 570 cases of petit larceny during 1915, according to the annual report of N. U. G. Terry, pawnshop inspector. There were 182 cases of grand larceny and thirty of larceny from the person.

Property valued at $61,783.47 was reported as lost or stolen, and of this $49,782.93 worth was recovered through efforts of the department, the report says. October was a banner month, both for "stolen" and "recovered" articles. January was the poorest month of the year for thieves.

June, with sixty-five petit larcenies, leads the list, and February was at the bottom, with six grand larceny cases and three burglaries.

December was a busy month, with goods valued at $7,065.49 being reported stolen. A recovery of 78 per cent was effected by police. Ten burglaries were reported during the month.

Articles worth $1,949 were recovered in Duluth for police of outside cities, the report says.

MOTHER NATURE MAKES HER GIFT

Compounds in Her Laboratory Ingredients for the Master Medicine.

With Skill in Chemistry, Gives Tanlac to the World.

Of all the ailments that afflict humanity, chronic dyspepsia probably is the most common. Its causes and characterizations are many. Skilled specialists have been unable to cope with this almost universal malady, but Mother Nature, who, after all, is the ideal physician, in combination with skill in chemistry, has compounded in her inexhaustible laboratory a marvelous remedy for this trouble.

A lecturer would use hours to describe the sufferings that dyspepsia brings. Dyspeptics become listless, then morbid, are melancholy over little things, have whimsical ideas, perhaps "grouchy" is a better word, aside from the physical suffering, and, with appetite gone, sleep fitful, dizzy spells and nausea frequent, life hardly seems worth living.

Tanlac seems to almost instantly check this distressing condition, and to restore a healthy, normal appetite, bring good restful sleep, and banish that tired, nervous feeling—in short, to restore the stomach to the habit of doing a full day's work and doing it well.

Tanlac may now be obtained in Duluth from the drug store of William A. Abbett at 219 West Superior street, and at the Abbett branch stores, 101 West Fourth and 932 East Second street. —Advertisement.

"CANAL ALL RIGHT," DECLARES VAN HISE

Madison, Wis., Jan. 12.—"The Panama canal will be a success."

This was the report of President Charles R. Van Hise regarding the findings of the committee, of which he was chairman, appointed by the National Academy of Science, at the request of President Wilson, to investigate the causes of the landslides which are interfering with the use of the Panama canal. The committee, which was composed of the prominent geologists in the country, have just returned after a month spent in the canal zone investigating the causes of the slides.

President Van Hise declined to go into details in the matter of the findings of the committee as no formal report to the academy has yet been made. The final report will be made to President William Welsh of Johns Hopkins at the April meeting of the academy.

ARE LOST IN THE WAR ZONE

Wife, Mother and Children of Duluth Tailor Fugitives in Russia.

No News for Five Months—Checks Are Returned Unclaimed.

After waiting in vain for five months to hear from his wife and two children in Nalat, province of Riga, Russia, Samuel Burgen, a local tailor, accidentally came across an article the other day in a New York Jewish paper, which gave an account of the driving out of all the Jews in the Russian village. Where they had been driven the article did not state and now Burgen is making every effort to locate them.

Last August, according to Burgen, he received a post card from his wife stating that all was well in the small Russian town, which has since been invaded by the Teutonic forces. The following month he mailed a check for $20, only to have it returned to him, unclaimed. In October he sent another check with the same result. For five months he has mailed money to his wife, each time to have it sent back.

Burgen's mother, two aunts and several cousins have also been driven out of Nalat and scattered, he does not know where. His mother, he heard indirectly last fall, was in Pandov, province of Riga, but efforts to get in touch with her and learn where his wife and children are have also proven fruitless. Money sent to his mother has also been returned.

"What Shall I Do?"

"What shall I do?" asks Burgen.

"It is impossible for me to find out from anyone in Russia and for this reason I am appealing to The Herald. Maybe you can find a source of information of some kind. Eight years ago I left my family to come here and earn enough so that they might all move to America. Now they are gone and I am alone. There are two boys, 8 and 10 years of age."

The only advice The Herald could give the grief-stricken man was to write to Congressman Miller and ask him to invoke the aid of the state department.

According to the New York newspaper, which Burgen had read, the fleeing Russian forces came through Nalat and ordered all the Jews out of town, claiming that they had intrigued against the czar's forces. The people were given but forty-eight hours' notice to leave, many being compelled to leave their property and valuables behind. Women and children were included in the edict and where they have since gone it has been almost impossible to learn.

Burgen has lived in Duluth since 1912 and is now making his home at 312 Lake avenue north.

TEN MEN ARE KILLED IN TRAIN COLLISION

north Rocky mountain districts, the mercury has registered already 30 below to the extreme of 48.

As far south as Omaha, the severe cold wave was recorded today. There a mark of 8 degs. below was registered. The storm that swept Arkansas yesterday. It was officially predicted, would spread northeastward tonight, and weather 8 to 10 degs. below zero is likely to follow in Chicago and vicinity.

Telegraph and telephone companies reported much trouble. Wires were reported down in the states immediately west of this city so that communication with the far West was reached by circuitous routes. Southern Iowa, Northern Missouri and Illinois apparently were in the paths of a series of snow, sleet and rain storms, while intense cold aggravated the difficulties in many places.

Railroads suffered delays, though trains generally managed to reach destinations not more than a few hours late. Traffic here on street cars and elevated lines was somewhat impeded.

Extreme Cold Predicted.

La Crosse, Wis., Jan. 12.—An extreme cold wave with temperatures from 20 to 40 below zero, is predicted for Wisconsin, Minnesota and other northwestern states tomorrow. The United States weather observer here said that 20 below zero in Wisconsin would be "a conservative estimate," while in Minnesita 40 below is looked for. Devils Lake, N. D., today reported 42 below zero, the coldest in eleven years, and Havre, Mont., reported 46 below.

Moving Eastward.

Washington, Jan. 12.—The most extensive and severest storm of the winter raged today west of the Mississippi river, and is moving eastward.

Temperatures this morning, the weather bureau reported, ranged from 58 degs. below zero in the Canadian Northwest to zero in the Texas Panhandle, and in the Southern states and Northern Arizona it was from 10 to 16 degs. below. The storm has advanced from the Pacific coast and today was central in the middle Mississippi valley.

Eastward of the Mississippi river, temperatures were abnormally high, ranging from 15 to 33 degs. above the seasonal average, but these districts are expected to feel the effect of the storm later in the week. A severe cold wave, the weather bureau says, may be expected tonight and Thursday, throughout the upper lake region.

34 Below at Crookston.

Crookston, Minn., Jan. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—With the thermometer 34 deg. below and a stiff northwest wind blowing, old-timers claim this section has not experienced such bitter weather in twenty-six years. Many frostbitten faces are reported, but no serious incidents.

BLIZZARD HAS CITY AND WEST IN GRASP

trains or street cars reported, but, in view of the fact that the storm did not start until a comparatively late hour this morning, its intensity, and the snowfall, had not reached sufficient proportions to tie up traffic quickly, but it is expected that later in the day almost all trains will be blocked, or at least delayed, for the storm is general not only over the entire Northwest east of the Rockies, but clear south to the Texas Panhandle. All roads out of Duluth have abandoned freight train schedules for the time and no more freights will leave here today. At 10 o'clock this morning a 50-mile-an-hour gale was blowing and the thermometer had dropped to 6 deg. below zero from 15 deg. above at a late hour last night.

The storm did not break until early this morning, over this section of the country, but when it started, it developed what Weather Forecaster Richardson this morning characterized as "a whale of a storm."

Mercury Falling.

At 7 o'clock this morning, the thermometer had dropped to zero and at 10 o'clock had gone down to 6 degs. below. It was still descending slowly, and Mr. Richardson said that by tonight it will reach 36 to 40 degs. below at this point. The cold will hold good all of today and tonight, possibly diminishing tomorrow. The 50-mile gale that is roaring in the city, will keep up most of today, having developed from a 38-mile gale at 7 o'clock this morning, and will still be brisk tonight. By tomorrow morning it will be diminished to some extent.

The storm centers over Eastern Missouri, and is accompanied by light to heavy rain or snow in all districts east of the Rockies. The heaviest falls are in Kentucky, Missouri, Iowa, Kansas, Arkansas and Oklahoma, where rain is falling, turning to snow. Heavy sleet is falling at Keokuk, Iowa, and Kansas City, among other places. The temperature has taken a tremendous drop from that of last night clear from the Canadian border, southwest to the Mexican line. The thermometer has dropped 50 degs. in the northern portion of the Texas Panhandle, and zero weather prevails at all points clear south to that section.

The coldest weather recorded this morning was 58 deg. below at Prince Albert and it was 30 to 50 deg. below at many points throughout the Northwest. At Winnipeg it was 40 below and at Devils Lake, N. D., 42 below.

Tonight over the entire Northwest the temperatures will range from 36 to 40 deg. below and southward, within shipping radius from Duluth, it will range from 20 to 30 deg. below.

Passenger trains, so far, have been reaching Duluth on time from all points, but the keeping of their schedule later in the day is still a question.

Street cars running to the outlying districts, particularly on the Woodland line, have experienced some difficulty. Supt. H. H. Brown, however, expects little real trouble to begin tonight, when his snow, blown and packed, aided by the low temperature, will begin to get in its best licks.

Up to the hour of going to press but little damage from the storm had been reported. The wind this morning blew a sidewalk into a gully on the north side of West Third street, between Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth avenues west. Several store windows, particularly in the western part of the city, have been cracked by the gale, and most of the merchants in areas where the wind gets a good sweep have braced their windows against it.

According to Weather Forecaster Richardson, the prevailing storm is the worst that Duluth or the West has experienced in years.

Worst Storm in Years.

"I have had no opportunity to look up data," said Mr. Richardson this morning, "so I cannot tell just how long since we have experienced so severe a storm, but I know that it is a long time. The storm exceeds in intensity and area covered anything that has happened in many years, I am sure, and by tonight, when the temperature will have reached the low point expected, the wind, which will still be strong, will likely make outdoor existence pretty nearly unbearable.

"Not in years has a storm of such intensity spread over so wide a territory. Zero weather prevails as far south as the Texas Panhandle, and sleet, snow and rain are also falling almost all over the area covered."

Duluth has not had many blizzards of late years. In fact, it is claimed that there have been scarcely any storms that could be given the name of blizzard. The last real, bona fide blizzard was that of March 9, 1892, when traffic at the Head of the Lakes was completely blocked for two days. Even after the storm had died down, the streets were reproductions of Alpine ravines, and in many instances people were shut up in their offices without food during that period, being unable to venture out owing to the magnitude of the storm and the futility of trying to get anywhere. That storm was the greatest one in the history of the local weather bureau.

STAR WITNESS FOR STATE IN PRICE TRIAL

CHARLES D. ETCHISON,
Who Accuses Frederick T. Price of Killing His Wife.

PROSECUTION NEARS FINISH

drugs. It was the first time during the trial that the expression on Etchison's face has changed. He smiled faintly and denied the charge.

"You have admitted," the attorney fairly shouted, "that you saw a woman, a friend, murdered in cold blood for the lust of greed. Now you paint yourself as a man of religion."

"I have prayed since then," was the reply.

"Was it a prayer meeting the night you made your confession?"

"We all prayed considerably that night."

"And did you pray when you saw Mrs. Price killed?"

"Yes, I did."

Etchison then said he was compelled by Price to swear that Mrs. Price fell to her death when Price's suit against the city for damages for leaving the cliff unprotected came up for trial.

"He said he would accuse me of killing his wife if I failed him."

Mrs. Price's father, David H. Fridley, a farmer from whom the town of Fridley is named, followed Etchison on the stand. As he moved slowly to the witness chair his eyes fell upon the defendant and it was with difficulty that the old man was prevailed upon to compose himself. He finally testified regarding large sums of money which he said he had given to his daughter, a present of $10,000 in bonds having been placed in her hands the day before death. Through it all, Price, the so-called "iron man," sat unmoved, drinking in every word and occasionally taking notes.

The courtroom was again packed beyond capacity. Hundreds of women scrambled for choice seats, while others were content to stand at the rear of the hall, where a stray sentence of the testimony would at times reach them.

hence the present prices were unduly high. Herr Schmidt claimed there had been much speculative rigging of prices and declared also that the farmers were holding back potatoes for speculative purposes. Swine also were not reaching the markets in sufficient numbers since the maximum had been adopted and that there had been much unscrupulous raising of prices.

Minister of the Interior Delbrueck gave information to the statement that the supplies were ample until the next harvest. Dr. Karl Liebknecht, Socialist, attempted to interject supplementary inquiries but he was unable to draw responses to these or to other interpellations regarding the condition of the populations in the occupied districts, the levying of punitive contributions and fines and to working of the martial law in Germany.

Amid great commotion, the president of the chamber intervened and declared that these supplementary questions were new and that Mr. Liebknecht's conduct was contrary to the customs and rules of the house. Dr. Liebknecht, who got scant sympathy from the house, left the stand, breathing protests against his treatment by the president of the chamber.

The reichstag then embarked upon debate on the food situation and the government measures of regulation.

EXECUTION OF AMERICANS NEAR CHIHUAHUA CITY

storing order and government in Mexico.

Senator Sherman's resolution was read to the senate and without comment or discussion of any kind was referred to the foreign relations committee.

In the house of representatives Representative Dyer, Republican, introduced a similar resolution calling on the president to inform congress if he did not believe the time had come to abandon the watchful waiting policy. Other members gave notice of their intention to make speeches. The administration was not without its defenders who gave notice that they would speak also.

Call on Carranza.

While the White House and the state department exhibited evidences of concern, there was no indication today of proceeding further than calling upon Gen. Carranza to punish the bandits who executed the Americans, and to give proper guarantees for the lives and safety of foreigners.

More information was sought from all the state department's sources. Eliseo Arredondo, Gen. Carranza's ambassador here, received official confirmation of the killings and asked his government for more details.

While the White House and the state department gave evidences of action toward the punishment of the Villa bandits, who executed the Americans, there was no outward evidence of any change in the Mexican policy. The usual talk of intervention was aroused in congress, and in official circles, but there was no indication that the administration at this stage at least, plans to do more than to look to Gen. Carranza to put down the outlaws.

Demands on Carranza.

Washington, Jan. 12.—Secretary Lansing today telegraphed Gen. Carranza calling for the prompt punishment of the bandits who executed seventeen Americans near Chihuahua Monday. Through Eliseo Arredondo, the newly appointed Mexican ambassador here, it was arranged to bring the bodies from Chihuahua to Juarez today on a special train.

Customs Collector Cobb at El Paso today reported that his investigation seems to establish that the number killed was sixteen. The state department did not divulge the source of Collector Cobb's information, but believed his report is accurate.

Eliseo Arredondo, Gen. Carranza's ambassador here, received confirmation from Carranza sources of the execution of the Americans and has asked for further details. His advices are the first confirmation from Mexican sources.

All other state department agents on the border were today instructed to gather all available information on the executions and forward it to Washington.

At the White House and at the state department, there was unconcealed anxiety over the situation, and concern over the latest outbreak in Mexico might be made the vehicle for further attacks by the opposition in congress upon the administration's foreign policy, and its recognition of Gen. Carranza.

Nineteen Unaccounted For.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 12.—While full details of the execution of eighteen foreigners, most of whom were Americans, by Villa bandits near San Ysabel, fifty miles from Chihuahua city, had not been received here at an early hour this morning, a final checking up by the American Smelting & Refining company showed nineteen men unaccounted for. Of the twenty men on the train, only one, Thomas M. Holmes, escaped. The censorship imposed by the Carranza authorities shortly after the first news of the execution came through, shut off all but the bare announcement of what had transpired.

The revised list issued this morning by the smelting company follows:

C. R. Watson, El Paso; W. J. Wallace, El Paso; M. B. Romero, El Paso; M. Evans, Chihuahua City; G. A. Pringle, San Francisco; M. Anderson, Chihuahua City; R. P. Machatton, El Paso; A. Couch, Chihuahua City; C. W. Coy, Denver; Alexander O. Hall, Douglas, Ariz.; Charles Wadleigh, Bisbee, Ariz.; E. L. Robinson, El Paso; G. W. Newman, El Paso; H. C. Hasse, Miami, Ariz.; J. Adams, El Paso; R. H. Simmons, El Paso; W. D. Pearce, Los Angeles; J. W. Woom, El Paso.

Of these Couch was a Canadian and Romero, a Mexican.

Taken From Train.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 12.—Eighteen persons who are believed to have been Americans were killed by Mexican bandits Monday afternoon after being taken from a Mexican Northwestern train fifty miles west of Chihuahua, robbed and stripped of their clothing, according to a message received here last night by H. C. Myles, British vice consul here, from British Consul Scovell at Chihuahua City.

The train on which the Americans were traveling from Chihuahua City to Cusihuiriachic, Chihuahua, carried thousands of dollars in currency and a large quantity of supplies sent by the American Smelting & Refining company to its mines in Cusihuiriachic.

It is believed here that all of the eighteen American mining men known by means of a check on American passports to have been in Chihuahua City, were on board the looted train.

Counted But Sixteen.

Thomas H. Holmes, the only known survivor, stated, however, in his brief telegram, giving the first news of the raid, that he counted but sixteen Americans taken from the train.

It is supposed the bandits belonged to the forces of Gen. Jose Rodriguez, a Villa supporter known to be operating in Chihuahua against the de facto government.

Almost immediately after the first news of the raid was received a censorship was imposed on the wires between Juarez and Chihuahua City by the Carranza officials. This action was taken, it was said, "until the story could be verified from official Mexican sources."

Taken From Train.

According to the brief messages received here the train bearing the Americans was stopped by the bandits at Kilometer 68, about fifty miles from Chihuahua City. The mining men were taken from the train, robbed, stripped naked and lined up along the cars for execution. Holmes, it was said, was on the extreme end of the line. When the firing squad detailed by the bandit leader took position, it is reported, Holmes broke away and fled into the desert for his life. With feet and body cut and bleeding from the stones and sharp cactus, he ran without looking back until he no longer heard the whistle of bullets past him or the sound of firing.

He succeeded in reaching friendly Mexicans, it is reported and was aided back to Chihuahua City.

Message from Holmes.

The first news of the bandit raid was received here through a cryptic telegram from Holmes to officials of the smelting company asking them to notify his wife that he had reached Chihuahua City and was safe. Whether he was prevented from sending further information or supposed news of the occurrence already had reached El Paso, is not known. His message aroused anxiety concerning the fate of the other men known to have left Chihuahua City for Cusihuiriachic, and before the censorship was imposed, they succeeded in getting into communication with mining men in Chihuahua City, who furnished the brief details of the attack.

The Americans, it was said, were sent to reopen the mines on assurances of protection to the smelting company, given by the Carranza government through the United States.

News of the raid caused consternation here, as many of the families of the men supposed to have been on board the raided train reside here.

Confirmation of the shooting of Maurice Anderson, a clerk, was received tonight. It was a brief message from his father, Roland Anderson, at Chihuahua City, to his mother, reading:

"Maurice is no more. Hope to secure his body."

SERIOUS FLOODS ON MONONGAHELA RIVER

Streets of Weston, W. Va., Six Feet Under Water; One Dead.

Weston, W. Va., Jan. 12.—With flood waters from the west fork of the Monongahela river, six feet deep in the principal streets, and the river rising six inches an hour, flood conditions here today took on a most serious aspect. One man is known to have been drowned and scores of families have been driven from their homes.

West Fork began rising late yesterday after a long rainfall, and soon after midnight it was out of its banks. Traction lines entering the town were under four feet of water and before daybreak, the electric light plant was flooded. Soon afterward the water works was closed down, and the Baltimore & Ohio railroad ceased to operate. Second street was covered to a depth of six feet, and in the business section the basements of stores rapidly filled. East Weston, a suburb with 8,000 population, suffered severely, the occupants of entire blocks being compelled to move.

Defends Army Plan.

Washington, Jan. 12.—Assistant Secretary Breckenridge vigorously defended the continental army plan today before the house military committee, declaring the safety of the nation could be trusted only to a force completely under Federal control.

Carley Is Superintendent.

Galesburg, Ill., Jan. 12.—Ralph M. Carley, operating engineer of the Illinois Traction company at Peoria, today was appointed superintendent of the McKinley traction interests in Knox county. He succeeds Foster Hannaford, who is to take an official position with the St. Paul and Minneapolis street car lines Saturday.

No More Elections.

Appleton, Wis., Jan. 12.—There will be no more election of officers in the Wisconsin guards. The adjutant general today issued orders that in the future candidates for second lieutenant must be recommended by the company commander.

Be Careful in Using Soap on Your Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for it is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Advertisement.

BIG CHECK FOR THE POLES

Prominent Duluth Man Sends The Herald $50 for Relief.

Committee Urges Persons of Moderate Means to Give a Little.

Duluthians are responding to the appeal for the Polish war sufferers in a big way, and it is now beginning to look as if this fund would reach large proportions soon. Today The Herald received another check for $50, this time from T. H. Hagen. This makes a total of $263 that has been received by The Herald. The Polish relief committee has received $14 and the News Tribune also has taken in some money.

The Polish committee is very well pleased with the response of Duluthians and especially with the liberality of a few who have given large checks. It would help the cause greatly, the committee says, if a large number of persons of moderate means would contribute a small amount, just what they are able to give, and this combined with the money given in large amounts, would make a big total.

As the Red Cross society handles the money, it is unnecessary to say that there is little contributed that does not actually go to pay for food, clothing and other necessities for Polish war victims.

The Polish people have always looked to America as a sympathetic nation, and a number of Polish officers fought in the American Revolution and helped win independence for the United States. The Poles also have been quick to amalgamate and make this country their own after emigrating here. They are a liberty-loving people, the committee points out, but for centuries have been under the iron heel of the great nations surrounding them.

Now the country has been the battleground for millions of men, and fire and all forms of destruction have made the country a wilderness in many places and the inhabitants are left without food or shelter and are facing the coldest part of the winter. Unless large sums of money are contributed to relief, thousands of women and children and old men will die of privation. The fund is now as follows:

The Herald fund—
Previously acknowledged	$213.00
T. H. Hagen	50.00
Total	$263.00
Polish committee fund	14.00
Grand total	$277.00

Why Tolerate Catarrh?

You have noticed, no doubt, that any cold aggravates nasal catarrh, and the flow of mucous amazes you that such objectionable matter could find lodgment in your head. To ignore this catarrh when the cold subsides is wrong because it continues to slowly injure the delicate linings of the nasal passages and clog them up.

To correct catarrh, cleanse the nostrils frequently with a solution of warm water and salt, insert vaseline on retiring, and take a spoonful of Scott's Emulsion after meals for one month. Scott's acts through the blood to feed the tissues, and contains soothing glycerine to check the inflammation and heal the sensitive membranes.

Scott's is pleasant to take.

BELGIAN SOLDIER WRITES FROM THE TRENCHES FOR COPIES OF THE HERALD

POSTCARD USED BY BELGIAN SOLDIER.

Copies of The Herald will soon be regularly read in the trenches of the Belgian army.

From the fighting front on the battlefields of warring Europe, The Herald has received a message from a Belgian subject who says he is "lonely" for the United States. He asks for copies of The Herald, which will be forwarded to him at once. He will also be placed on the subscription list for six months.

On the reverse side of the postcard, reproduced herewith, M. Lapeau, who is a soldier in the Belgian army, under date of Dec. 26, writes:

"Dear Sir Manager: Having learned your address through an American friend, I beg to request a small favor. Could you afford to forward me some free copies of your valuable newspaper in order that I might peruse them in my spare time. I was formerly a resident of the states. Now I am a very lonely Belgian soldier, having fought many battles and am suffering at present from illness.

"I am sure a lot of your kind readers would eventually take an interest in the matter and I trust that you are willing to comply with my humble demand. Thanking you a thousand times beforehand from the bottom of my heart and begging your apology for my impertinent request, I remain, dear sir, awaiting the favor of your early good news. With best wishes for your own welfare and those of your paper, yours very respectfully, M. Lapeau."

Mr. Lapeau's address is given as Second regiment de ligne Belge, Belgian army, Pas de Calais, France.

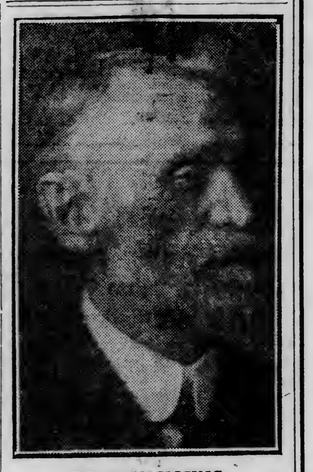

WILL TELL DULUTHIANS OF MISSION WORK IN THE GOLD FIELDS OF ALASKA

One of the interesting speakers who will give addresses at the Laymen's Missionary convention, which will be held in Duluth, Jan. 19 to 23 inclusive, is Dr. S. Hall Young, special agent of the board of home missions of the Presbyterian church for Alaska. He will speak twice on the Duluth program, the first time at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, Jan. 20, and the second time Friday evening, Jan. 21. His first lecture will be on "Alaska, Our Northwestern Empire," and the second lecture will be on "Alaska Days With John Muir."

Dr. Young went to Alaska thirty-four years ago, and during his residence there has founded hospitals, reading rooms, and other institutions for the upbuilding of men's minds and bodies in the great gold fields of Alaska. He is one of the best known men of that country and possesses wide influence with men of authority in that particular territory. He has seen the white population grow from less than 200 to 50,000 and its mineral wealth advance in greater proportion.

In 1879 Dr. Young erected and organized the first Presbyterian church built in that northern territory, and for ten years, throughout the archipelago, he traversed more than 1,500 miles by canoe exploring and founding missions among the principal Indian tribes. Dr. Young successfully fought the superstition of witchcraft and the old medicine dances.

Since 1899 he has acted as general missionary for Alaska, following all the new gold stampedes to the different fields and establishing churches and missions in the new country. He brings a great message of the home mission work.

BLISTERS BURNED ON CHILD'S SCALP

Would Itch. Formed Scales Which Caused Unsightly Appearance. Child Very Cross and Fretful.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"My little girl's scalp was affected with something like blisters and a thickening of the skin. At first it was a place about as large as a common pea and it would itch and burn and when scratched would run a watery fluid and from that would form scales which caused an unsightly appearance on her scalp. Her hair never grew any. She was very cross and fretful.

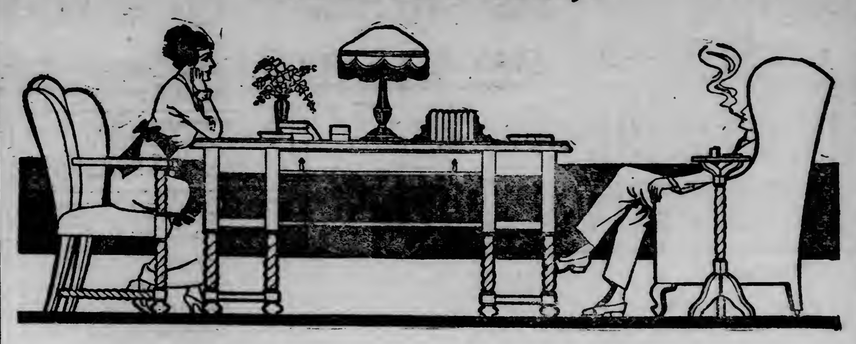

"Then I sent for a sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and the second application relieved the itching and burning so I purchased one box of Cuticura Soap and one box of Ointment and they healed her." (Signed) Mrs. Charles Culnan, 118 College St., Poplar Bluff, Mo., Aug. 18, 1915.

Advice to boys:

Dear Editor—"I am a young boy and am rather husky for my age. I have dark hair that is wavy and light blue eyes with long lashes. Would you become a prize fighter, if you were I, or would youse accept the position of clerk in the village store?

"Sincerely,
"CLARENCE."

Dear Clarence—You must use your own judgment in directing your life. While there have been only a few successful fighters with dark brown hair that waved and light blue eyes that smile innocently at an admiring world, still, if you had a good press agent, you might get by. On the other hand, Clare, that hair and eye combination should make you go great in the ladies glove department. Still, after all, you must use your own judgment. But, permit us to tell you, the prize fighters of today are not horrid; they're just sweet and cooing creatures. Be firm, whatever you do, Clarence.

"Dear Editor—I'm a butcher and big and strong and am tired of union hours and the high price of meat on the hoof. My friends around Bird Center, Iowa, have telled me that I would be a great fighter. If I could get a match, would youse take it if youse was me?

"Yours in trouble,
"LUKE."

Dear Luke—By all means have a try at the ring game, but if you follow our advice, take the cleaver along with you.

"Dear Editor—I live in a flat with my wife and my mother-in-law. My wife is a big husky woman and her mother is huskier yet. The other night we got to arguing about the price of women's hats and whether husbands had a right to throw bricks at their wives walking in a parade, and one word led to another one and we all come to blows and I licked them both, though it was a tuff fight. Would you advise to become a professional pugilist. I ain't very large.

"Sincerely,
"HARRY UNDERJAW."

Dear Harry—Your letter received and contents noted. Your letter, dear lad, is one of those that bring joy to the heart to the editor of an "Advice to Boys" column. In your case, Harry, there is no doubt in the world. Enter the ring immediately. Any man, large or small, who could get away with a brick throwing argument and then lick his wife and mother-in-law to boot will, without much doubt, be our next champion. Some of our present champions couldn't lick their wives, let alone their mother-in-law.

"Dear Editor—I have an offer to play with The Herald curling rink. I was asked by a stout man with a pipe and tam o'shanter cap. I don't know much about the rink, but I like to curl and desire to seek some enlightenment.

"Yours in Doubt,
"EUGENE."

Dear Eugene—If you really like to curl, don't for goodness sake, join The Herald rink. The fat man (why stout) in tam o'shanter with a pipe stuck in his face, is Scotch, and merely curls from a sense of duty. Lots of persons go to church for the same reason. The other chap took up the psychological course in the University of Minnesota and curls with The Herald rink merely to study what effect continuous adversity has upon human nature in general. We are loath thus to expose the shame of this alleged rink, but no young lad like yourself should be drawn into such company. Another thing, you say you are but 18 years of age; my boy, the language used by the members of this rink is not fit for your ears.

"Dear Editor—I stutter and stammer most dre-e-e-a-a-d-d fully, and ha-a-ave much diff-ic-ulty in making pe-op-le understand me. W-h-a--t would you advise me t----to do?

"Anxiously Hesitating,
"GUS."

Dear Gus—Get a job as train caller in any union station. The people will never discover your terrible secret.

"Dear Editor—I desire to become a poet and write some great epic verse and become famous and have a statue erected to my memory. Enclosed you will find a little verse. Kindly tell me what you think of it, kind sir.

The verse:

Oh Beautiful drops of pearly dew
Which makes me think of the eyes of you;
Oh flowers and beautiful sunshine rare,
Which abound around you swell shack, Claire—
Oh beautiful shores and ponds and lakes,
And also a word for you mama's cakes—
Oh beautiful land of milk and honey:
I love you, dear, and likewise your money.

"SOFTSHOE GEORGE."

Dear George—While the elements of the muse are distinctly lacking in your case, the elements of a successful business man obtrude themselves here and there. Marry the girl, if you can, and enter business. You ought to do well.

GRAND CIRCUIT MEETS.

Change Made in Schedule Because of Montreal Dropping Out.

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 12.—On account of the fact that Montreal has dropped out of the Grand Circuit, it is learned at the annual meeting of the circuit stewards here, two meets usually alloted Montreal were split up between Cleveland and Columbus by the schedule committee. It was announced that war conditions made it inadvisable to hold a meeting in the Canadian city.

According to the schedule adopted the circuit season will be opened with the meeting in Cleveland, July 17, and will close at Atlanta, Oct. 16.

The recommendation of the rules committee that three-heat racing be made mandatory throughout the circuit was not adopted.

OUTPOINTS COWLER.

Battling Levinsky Floored But Shiftiness Gives Him Best of Battle.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 12.—Battling Levinsky of New York was awarded a decision over Tom Cowler of England, protege of Jim Corbett, after twelve rounds of hard fighting last night. Cowler floored his opponent for a count of nine early in the bout but Levinsky's shiftiness enabled him to score frequently.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 12.—Robert Anderson of Duquoin, Ill., outpointed Jack Clune of Australia in an eight-round fight here last night. Clune probably was saved from a knockout in the sixth round when, after he had been floored by Anderson, the gong rang as the referee counted "five."

MANLEY-M'LENNAN GAMES WON BY LOCAL CURLERS

Superior Players Lose First Leg By Aggregate Score of 52 to 30, Failing to Win a Single Game of the Four Played—Second Series Set for Thursday Night.

First blood was scored for Duluth in the Manley-McLennan trophy event, when the four rinks representing the Duluth Curling club defeated the Superior stone throwers last evening by the aggregate score of 52 to 30.

The second leg will be played Thursday evening in Superior. Should it prove necessary to play a third, captains of the opposing rinks will toss for choice of where it shall be played.

Superior failed to win a single game of the four played. Walter Hall gave A. K. Smith the worst beating of the lot, taking him down defeat alley by the score of 17 to 8. Dinham staked the veteran Clough Gates of Superior to another neat beating, 13 to 6, though at one time Gates came up and made a real fight of it. It was not because of the poor work upon Gates' part that the game went Duluthwards, but rather because of the great playing of Dinham and all the members of his rink.

Russell had Whyte four down in the first three heads of their game. Whyte laid three in the fourth head, one in the next, then came back strong again in the eighth head and rolled up a substantial lead.

After losing te first head of their game with Joel Gates, Bradley's rink laid three rocks in the second head, and from that point on were never headed, playing a strong and consistent game.

The score in detail as well as the results of Duluth Curling club trophy events, will be found below:

NEW YORK LETTER REVIEWS SPORTS

Weeghman Seventh Man to Hold Controlling Interest in Cubs; Team Has Had Eight Managers; Harvard Shuts Out Western Teams.

New York, Jan. 12.—The change in ownership of the Chicago National league baseball club, which will be completed on Jan. 20, when Charles W. Weeghman and his associates pay to Charles P. Taft $400,000, balance due on the $500,000 transaction, marks an epoch in the history of one of the famous clubs of professional baseball. Since the Chicago club was organized in 1876 it has always held a prominent place in the professional game. During its existence of forty years many championship pennants have been nailed to its flagpole. Probably no other club in the senior major league has been so fortunate financially, as money or the lack of it has never troubled the Chicago management. At all times the owners of this organization have endeavored to secure the services of great players regardless of cost, as the roster shows, and this has been one of the strongest factors in the club's success. In forty years only six men have held the majority stock in the club, the recent deal having transferred control into the hands of Charles W. Weeghman, so that owners of the team have been few. William A. Hulbert and the late Albert G. Spalding organized the team in 1876. Later James A. Hart purchased a controlling interest from Spalding and held it for fourteen years. Then, in 1905, came Charles W. Murphy from Cincinnati with $125,000, and in buying out Hart's interest the club passed into the joint possession of Murphy and Charles P. Taft. Frank Chance was made manager in 1906. During the ensuing five years Chicago gathered together the greatest team it ever had, winning four pennants and two world's series.

Managers Come and Go.

Chance resigned in 1912, but after an experience of nearly two seasons with New York Americans the Californian, who was regarded as one of the greatest leaders in the national game, quit major league baseball and returned to his orange groves at Glendora, Cal. Johnny Evers succeeded Chance in Chicago as manager but after a wrangle with Murphy was traded to Boston. Then Hank O'Day, the veteran umpire, became the Cubs' pilot, but after a single season's handling of the steering wheel was deposed and Roger Bresnahan was placed in charge, to be followed, in all probability, by Joe Tinker next season.

In point of continuous service, however, Capt. Adrian C. Anson holds the Chicago record. Manager Anson was appointed in 1877 and held the position until 1897, during which term the club won five pennants. Anson's last championship victory occurred in 1886, and it was not until 1906, twenty years later, that the pennant visited Chicago again through the efforts of Frank Chance.

Anson was succeeded as manager by Thomas E. Burns in 1897 and two years later Thomas J. Loftus took up the managerial reins and held them for a similar period. The late Frank Selee took the team in hand in 1902 and they finished at the top of the second division that season. In the three following years under Selee's management the Cubs finished third, second and third in the pennant races, and then Chance stepped in to bring them to the front in 1906.

Football followers in the Middle West are disappointed that the name of none of the eleven universities of that section appear upon the schedule of the Harvard eleven for next season. Apparently the Crimson favors the South rather than the West for the University of Virginia and North Carolina university both play at Cambridge next autumn. Virginia was defeated 9 to 0 last fall, but North Carolina is a newcomer.

The leading amateur athletic clubs of New York, Pittsburgh and Boston have agreed to enter their best boxers in a round robin tournament, the bouts to be held in the three cities during the latter part of the present month.

With the revival of boxing at Harvard, Eastern college sparrers are looking forward to the formation of an intercollegiate boxing league. The project has been considered several times in the past, but never went beyond the discussion stage. The faculties at the few institutions where glove competition is permitted, frowned upon the plan although the boxing coaches warmly advocated the proposition and pointed out that the famous English universities, Oxford and Cambridge, sanctioned an annual meeting between the best boxers in all classes of the two universities and that although knockouts occasionally occurred the intervarsity sport was exceedingly popular among the students and apparently without bad effects.

POSTEN DUE FOR CHATTANOOGA TEAM

Duluth Pitcher Will Not Be Used By the Detroit Tigers.

Harry Posten of Palisade, Minn., the thriving young pitcher of last year's Duluth team who was signed by the Detroit Tigers, will be shipped to Chattanooga, Tenn., in the Southern league, for a tryout.

Those who have closely inspected the slab work of Posten wot that he is not ready for major league debuting as yet.

Even at that, there are those who believe that Southern league company will prove sort of sultry going for Posten. The recruit failed to live up to his spring form with the Dooks and proved a fall down.

Posten will have to perk up a bit and get a move on him to hold a job in the soft accent territory.

AMERICAN BREAKS MOTORCYCLE RECORD

London, Jan. 12.—A dispatch to Reuter Telegram from Berne says that Erquin Baker, an American motorcyclist, covered 930 miles in twenty-four hours. This is a world's record.

The previous professional motorcycle record for twenty-four hours was 775 miles 1,340 yards. It was made by J. J. Collier, Canningtown, Eng., May 5, 1909. The amateur record for twenty-four hours is 300 miles less.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 12.—Local sportsmen believe that the Baker referred to is Erwin G. Baker of Indianapolis, who, prominent as a motorcyclist and motorist in this section for a number of years, was sent to Australia last November by an American manufacturer to attempt to break some of the road records.

Harvard Wins at Hockey.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 12.—The Harvard seven defeated Cornell university at hockey last night 2 to 0.

Champion Trap Shooter Dead.

Albuquerque, N. M., Jan. 12.—George L. Lyon of Durham, N. C., amateur champion trap shooter, died here yesterday of tuberculosis. He had been a resident of the city five weeks and was but recently elevated to the thirty-third degree of Scottish Rite.

TWO SNAPPY GAMES AT "Y"

Commercial Basket Ball League Opens Regular Schedule.

Kelleys Beat Northerns and Big Duluths the Fenton-Dubys.

The opening of the regular schedule of the Commercial Basket Ball league at the Y. M. C. A. last night was marked by two snappy games, the Kelleys winning by a score of 20 to 12 over the Northerns and the Big Duluths surprising the Fenton-Dubys to the tune of 14 to 8. The playing was fast and interesting and assures the league success for the season.

The Northerns put up a hard fight to down the fast Kelley aggregation, last year's winners. Though without the services of Forziak, their former star, the Kelleys were strengthened by the addition of other stars of note and their team work was too much for the Northerns. Solheim, former Central star, and Dwerschak performed especially well for the winners, while Doc Boerner and Smith were the stellar lights on the Northern quint.

Big Duluths Spring Surprise.

It was generally expected that the Fenton-Duby five would experience little difficulty in disposing of the Big Duluths, but the clothiers came well prepared with the addition of a few stars and gave the sporting goods men a 14-to-8 trouncing. The clothiers were leading at the conclusion of the first half, 8 to 6. Strengthened by the addition of Burnett in the final period, the Fenton-Dubys started a spurt which nearly placed their team in the lead, but their efforts were too late.

Next week the second set will be played when the Northerns meet the Fenton-Dubys and the Kelleys clash with the Big Duluths. The scores of last night's games:

WELLINGTON WITH MILL CITY SEXTET

Canadian Hockey Star Captain of Green Aggregation of Puck Chasers.

A. R. Wellington, known hereabouts as the "Duke," has been made captain of the Minneapolis hockey team. The Canadian star has a bunch of green material on hand, but he believes that he can mold a fast and effective machine out of the players that have already reported.

When here over a week ago, Wellington intimated that he had a position in view, also stating that he was then on the search for several players. It is very likely that Wellington will add several players to the roster of his squad. It is comparatively easy to ac-will delight your fancy in many new ways. The blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos does away with tongue-bite and throat-parch and leaves no unpleasant cigaretty aftertaste, no matter how many you smoke! Smokers quickly realize that the absence of coupons or premiums is due to the cost of the tobaccos. You compare Camels with any cigarette for quality, flavor, aroma; for satisfying "body"—for anything any cigarette ever did offer you! You'll prefer Camels to straight Turkish, or straight Domestic, or any cigarette you ever smoked! And Camels will not tire your taste!

Camel CIGARETTES

The stamp placed over end seals the package, which keeps out air, thereby preserving the quality of the blended tobaccos. By inserting the fingers as illustrated, the stamp easily breaks without tearing the tin foil, which folds back into its place.

Camels are sold everywhere in scientifically sealed packages, 20 for 10c; or ten packages (200 cigarettes) in a glassine-paper-covered carton for $1.00. We strongly recommend this carton for the home or office supply or when you travel.

ST. PAUL PROMOTERS INSURE BIG BOUT.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 12.—Although President Louis F. Dow of the Capital City Athletic club believes that the jinx that has been trailing the club for a month or more has been chased away he is going to take no chances and Monday made arrangements to have the big Gibbons-Ahearn bout insured for $25,000. THREE INTERESTING GAMES EXPECTED

Intermediate Basket Ball League Will Meet on Y. M. C. A. Floor.

Three interesting games are scheduled for tonight in the Y. M. C. A. Intermediate Basket Ball league. The Marines will tackle the Dormitory Blues, the fast Ennkays will clash with the undefeated Central Business college five, and the Peyton Paper quint will take on the Cubs.

This is the next to the last set of games in the league schedule and the several teams are fighting hard for places in the final league standing. The Dormitory Blues have not as yet hit their stride but they will be strengthened for the game tonight. Their opponents, the Marines, have been going at a fast clip all through the season.

The game between the Ennkays and the Central Business college aggregation is expected to be the feature battle of the league thus far and the Ennkays have a fast combination that works well together. The Peytons, undefeated to date, will meet a stiff opposition in the Cubs and a fast game is assured.

THE "ENDLESS CHAIN" DANGER OF CATARRH

S. S. S. the Proper Safeguard.

Catarrh is the offspring of "colds." It is a "cold" in its chronic form. The air is filled with bacteria, which is taken into the mouth and nose through the process of breathing. When the body is in a healthy condition no harm results. But with our modern methods of indoor living and sedentary occupations, the mucous membranes are usually not able to "throw off" this harmful bacteria, making catarrh a very common ailment. These germs breed and multiply, causing inflammation, the blood rushes to the membranes to fight off the bacilli. When the blood is in a vigorous condition its "defensive" efforts are successful. Otherwise the cold "hangs-on"—turns into catarrh. Catarrh is a chronic inflammation of the mucous membranes. Mucous membranes are the lining on all the internal cavities of the body. Get that—ALL cavities! There is the "endless chain" element of danger. If allowed to run on catarrh will affect not only the nose, but the throat and ear, making you liable to deafness, pulmonary and other troubles. Local applications are useless. The only correct way to treat this dread disease is to purify the blood. The surest way to purify the blood is to take S. S. S., which has been the standard blood medicine for fifty years. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable compound. It will not injure the most delicate stomach. You can get S. S. S. at every reputable drug store. We have an expert Medical Department, which will be glad to give you any special advice you may desire without charge. Write the Swift Specific Company, Dept. 43, Atlanta, Ga.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Worry

WILLIAM BRADY M.D

In a well regulated household there should be a fair and equitable division of the worrying. The father, for instance, should worry about his life insurance premiums, his sick and accident insurance premiums, his income, his character and his future existence or non-existence, as he believes. The mother should worry about her bread and cakes, her new clothes, the children's cleanliness and health. Whatever more worrying may be necessary should be passed around so that every one may have a share.

The great trouble in some households is that father or mother assumes the burden of doing all the worrying. This is hardly fair. It makes father or mother very difficult to get along with, if not easy to get along without. Generally it is mother who worries most. Somehow she imagines she will be happier if she has plenty to worry about, so she borrows some of father's worries, and father just grins and bears it the best he can.

Father has a way of coming home at night and wondering why mother is so anxious to get out and gad the streets or hang round the bargain sales. Home looks pretty good to father when he arrives home from work. If he had to stay around the plant where he is employed, and make himself generally useful there 168 hours a week, you can rest assured that he, too, would be only too anxious to welcome any chance diversion which might relieve the monotony.

Whoever worries ought to do so privately. If one is afraid little Johnny's illness or accident is more serious than one's husband or wife believes, or that business is going to be bad next month on account of the backward season, or that the sun is going to cool off and stop warming the earth pretty soon, keep it strictly private. Why spread gloom? Be a Christian. Do good in the world. Be an optimist. Look on the bright side and ignore the darker side. Genuine cheer or even spurious cheer goes a long way toward the making of a happy, healthy family.

Take invoice, you who worry. How much has worrying netted you to date since you first stocked it?

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. How to Find Out.

Kindly advise me what kind of examination is necessary to determine whether one has tuberculosis. Is it sufficient to tap on the upper part of the chest and listen with the ear? Do these symptoms suggest tuberculosis: Anemia, frequent headache, nervousness, soreness in right chest, blood pressure 142?

Answer—The patient must remove all clothing above the waist line. The examination must cover the entire chest, fore and aft, above and below. The temperature, pulse and breathing must be observed. All these things must be done on different occasions, possibly half a dozen times, in order to reach a positive conclusion in an early case. The symptoms you describe do not suggest tuberculosis, but neither do they exclude it.

Blood Pressure and Tonsils.

Have been advised to have my tonsils removed—have had repeated attacks of quinsy. But an insurance examiner finds my blood pressure a little high. Would that make the operation inadvisable?

Answer—It would be better to have the tonsils removed.

VAUDEVILLE FOR CURLERS

Big Entertainment Will Be Given During Bonspiel Week.

An All-Star curlers' vaudeville program will be put on Thursday night of bonspiel week for the delectation of the visiting rock throwers.

According to those who have been permitted to glean some bit of information concerning the nature of the show, she is going to be some show.

Ed Furni, impresario, is working on the big all-star entertainment and has secured the active co-operation of Professor A. F. M. Custance.

There will be several "imported" acts and there will be a multitude of local acts, some sparkling song hits, some take-offs on the foibles of the curlers, and several features that Impresario Furni is guarding with jealous secrecy.

It is believed that the vaudeville program will prove the biggest and best entertainment that has ever been given at a bonspiel.

The finance committee of the spiel held a meeting yesterday and the report was made that considerable funds have been collected toward the expense of staging the big curling meet.

La Bati's crack Minneapolis rink is coming here. Dr. T. Warham, John McLeod and Roy Hoople will also come from the Mill city. It is believed that Minneapolis will be represented by the strongest aggregation of curlers in years.

Lem Defiel, it was announced today, will come from St. Paul. Tom McDermott is also coming with a strong rink. Entries are expected to start coming in today. Efforts are being made to induce several of the strong Canadian rinks to come down.

BURMEISTER IS VERY HOPEFUL

Northern League President Sends Cheering Baseball News From Winnipeg.

John Burmeister, president of the Northern league, is in Winnipeg today, looking over the baseball situation there.

Despite the fact that the chances seem very slight that the European war will end before another season, President Burmeister has wired associates that the outlook for a very good baseball year are bright.

There will be about 3,000 soldiers quartered in Winnipeg all next summer, and it is believed that this condition will help the baseball attendance materially. Also, Mr. Burmeister states, business is very much better in Canada right now than it was last summer.

HIGH AND C. B. C. QUINTS TO MEET

Exciting Basket Ball Game Expected on Saturday Night at Central.

Central high and the Central Business college basket ball quintets will clash Saturday night at the high school gymnasium. This is the decision of the managers of the two teams after considerable dickering.

Central high was originally scheduled to meet the Denfeld high school quint of West Duluth, but the latter aggregation has not been rounded up as yet, due to scholastic difficulties among the students. The collegians were unable to play Friday and the game was set for Saturday.

The contest promises to be a corker and a large crowd is expected to turn out. The collegians have had a runaway of the Intermediate league and the high school men will be considerably stronger than they were in their first game with the Nelson-Dewey five last Friday night at Superior. Central undoubtedly could have defeated the Superiorites on the local floor and a return game will be demanded. Central is greatly weakened by the loss of several of her best players, but Coach Blake is working hard with wheat men he has and he declares that a creditable team will be turned out in the end.

The Central Business college five will close its league season next week and will then play independently. Games are desired with city or outside teams of their class.

Portage Lake Beats St. Paul.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 12.—The Portage Lake hockey team of Houghton, Mich., last night evened accounts with the St. Paul Athletic club's team by winning 4 to 22. The locals won the first of the two-game series Monday night. Both were American Amateur hockey association games.

TROUBLE AMONG DUPONT OWNERS

Alfred Dupont Deposed as Vice President and General Manager.

Wilmington, Del., Jan. 12.—The fight among the stockholders of the Dupont Powder company over the transfer of the securities of the corporation formerly owned by T. Coleman Dupont, which are valued at about $65,000,000, reached an interesting stage yesterday when official announcement was made that Alfred I. Dupont had been deposed as vice president and general manager of the company by the directors at a meeting held Monday. The announcement of the action of the directors followed closely the filing in the United States district court here of a petition by Alfred A. Dupont asking permission to become a party to the suit filed by Philip F. Dupont against Pierre S. Dupont, president of the company, certain directors and others interested in the concern.

The suit of Philip F. Dupont was filed on Dec. 10, and in brief seeks to have annulled the sale of the stock of T. Coleman Dupont.

Philip F. Dupont contends that the stock belongs to the Dupont Powder company and not to the individuals making up the Dupont Securities company. Pierre S. Dupont and other defendants named in the suit deny that there was any sharp practice in the acquisition of the T. Coleman Dupont stock.

TO CLEAN SUPERIOR STREET.

Works Head Will Be Ready for Spring Thaws.

Commissioner Farrell is already making plans for the spring slush and mud on Superior street.

Although today's snowstorm has driven all thought of spring from the minds of the general public, the works head is laying plans to clean the city's main thoroughfare, from Sixth avenue west to Third avenue east, as soon as the snow begins to melt in the spring. A detail of 100 men will be put to work nights, he announced yesterday.

ECONOMY NEW MAYOR'S WISH

New Crookston Executive Urges Paring of Expense in Taking Hold.

Aaron Eck, Former Chief of Police, Is Back in Old Position.

Crookston, Minn., Jan. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Last evening Crookston's new administration assumed office and the council meeting confirmed the appointments of Mayor Harvey W. Misner. Five new aldermen took their seats—L. D. Foskett, W. L. Ireland,

MAYOR HARVEY W. MISNER.

Charles P. Booth, William Becker and O. O. Christianson. The only four holdovers are Aldermen Peter Snyder, W. R. Low, Oscar Hoiseth and M. R. Hussey.

Following is Mayor Misner's official family for the ensuing year: City attorney, Martin O'Brien; city engineer, C. S. Giles; weighmaster, Florence Greenhaigh; street commissioner, David Sanders; chief of police, Aaron Eck; police captain, Anton Rassmussen; desk sergeant, Eugene Welch; Patrolmen, John Cash; Merle Bermingham; police matron, Mary Berg; health officer, Dr. C. E. Dampier; member board of health, George Roberts; sinking fund commissioner, A. A. Miller; member park board, C. A. Hitchcock; superintendent city grounds, Pat Connors.

Eck Back on Job.

After being sidetracked two years, Chief Eck resumes work on the police force, where he has served for nearly twenty years as patrolman and later as chief. He is recognized as a keen police officer, thoroughly experienced. Former Chief Welch continues in service as desk sergeant. The only other change from last year's officers is Florence Greenhaigh, daughter of the former weighmaster, who is ill, and who has been performing his duties for several months past.

Mayor Misner, addressing the council, urged a conservative administration as far as effectiveness would permit, because of the liquor license money, counseled harmony, and urged the necessity of strict enforcement of the law under the new "dry" conditions. His remarks were well received, indicating harmony in the city government during the coming two years.

LAST RITES FOR SHILOH VETERAN

Funeral Services Held at Sandstone for Milton Ervine.

Sandstone, Minn., Jan. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Funeral services were held here Tuesday afternoon for Robert Milton Ervin, who died of pneumonia last Saturday afternoon at the home of his son, W. S. Ervin, county attorney of Pine county. After the services, conducted by Rev. Easly of the Presbyterian church, the body was taken to Mankato for burial, beside his wife.

Mr. Ervin was born in Reynoldsburg, Ohio, in 1839, was a member of the Forty-sixth Ohio Volunteer infantry during the civil war and took part in the battle of Shiloh and the siege of Vicksburg. He married in 1884 and moved to Mankato, Minn., where they resided until the death of his wife in 1908, coming to Sandstone about three years ago to make his home with his son here. Besides Attorney Ervin, he leaves another son, Robert C. Ervin, a mail clerk, who resides in St. Paul.

BUSINESS TRAINING IN STATE UNIVERSITY

President George Vincent Says Rapid Development Demands It.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Business training, as extensive in its scope as that for law and medicine, is advocated in the report of President George E. Vincent of the University of Minnesota, made public today. Short courses for newspaper men also will be one of the projects the institution will take up according to the report.

President Vincent places special emphasis in his report on the need of additional teachers at the university.

Demands of University.

The report enumerates as follows the demands placed on the university by the rapid development of the state and which have not already been met:

"Full development of courses in commerce, providing training for business comparable to professional training for law or medicine; courses in history and appreciation of art; training for many specialized vocations such as librarianship, social service; preparation of teachers of manual training; introduction of courses in vocational guidance with a view to preparing people for this important service; a technical course for teachers, an experiment peculiarly appropriate for Minnesota; short courses for newspaper men and professional and occupational groups of many kinds."

The report adds that the university must guard against "extending its work over too wide an area until adequate resources are available, but it must look forward consistently and be alert and responsive to the real and persistent need of the society which it seeks to serve."

UPPER PENINSULA FACING INDIAN LID

Ten Counties Said to Be Affected By Old Treaty.

L'Anse, Mich., Jan. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Liquor dealers in the western half of Upper Michigan are worried lest the Federal government will put them out of business. The anxiety is due to the claim that under the provisions of the treaty with the Chippewa Indians, signed Sept. 30, 1854, the region is legally prohibition territory. The situation is similar to that which prevailed in Northern Minnesota some months ago, and which culminated in the national government taking decisive action, as a result of which the saloons in Hibbing and other towns were forced to suspend operations.

Claim Pact Applies.

Prohibition leaders have contended that the pact with the Chippewas, in which it was stipulated that no spirituous or other intoxicating liquors should be sold on any of the lands ceded by the Indians, applied to much of the Upper Peninsula, but until recently the exact boundaries of the area concerned had not been determined. Now, however, it appears to be established by an investigation of records at the United States land office at Marquette that traffic in liquors is illegal in ten Northern Michigan counties. Early demand that the government puts its ban on saloons in this region, as was done in Minnesota under the same authority, is expected.

RAILROAD WINS CASE.

Badger Seeking Damages Did Not Use Traveled Route.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 12.—The supreme court yesterday affirmed the judgment of the lower court in dismissing the complaint of Robert H. Hempton against the Green Bay & Western Railway company, in which Hempton sought damages for injuries sustained in attempting to catch a train that was supposed to be late. Hempton stumbled over an embankment where there were no lights when he found a crossing blocked. The court says:

"There is no evidence sufficient to support the finding that there was any invitation, expressed or implied, by the defendant to passengers to use this way which the plaintiff traveled on the night in question; hence no duty rested upon the defendant to maintain lights or guard the way."

HUNGARIAN WIFE IS SEEKING INHERITANCE

Dickinson, N. D., Jan. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The matrimonial affairs of Ludvig Krumenacher, dead three years, form the basis of an action in the district court here in which his first wife, a resident of Austro-Hungary, seeks maintenance for herself and children, claiming that Krumenacher's divorce and subsequent remarriage are illegal.

It was in 1887 that he was married in Hungary, and several years later he and his wife parted. In 1905 he came to the United States, and in 1910 he secured a divorce here. Very shortly thereafter he was remarried, and two years later his second wife died. In 1914 Krumenacher died, leaving his estate to a brother.

Now the former wife in Hungary insists she is entitled to share in the division of that estate.

EAST GRAND FORKS BANKS SHOW GAIN

East Grand Forks, Minn., Jan. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The abolishment of the saloons here and the resulting withdrawal of numerous accounts, principally the brewery accounts, has not reduced the bank deposits.

Instead, the deposits show a healthy gain, the total deposits under the most recent call of the banking department being $128,582.16 over the deposits shown by the current call a year ago.

HUSBAND OBJECTS TO OPERATION

Wife Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

My husband objected to any operation and got me some of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it and commenced to get better and am now well, am stout and able to do my own housework. I can recommend the Vegetable Compound to any woman who is sick and run down as a wonderful strength and health restorer. My husband says I would have been in my grave ere this if it had not been for your Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. BLANCHE JEFFERSON, 703 Lyon St., Des Moines, Iowa.

Before submitting to a surgical operation it is wise to try to build up the female system and cure its derangements with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; it has saved many women from surgical operations.

CHILD'S TONGUE BECOMES COATED IF CONSTIPATED

If Cross, Bilious, Sick, Feverish, or Full of Cold, Take No Chances.

"California Syrup of Figs" Can't Harm Tender Stomach, Liver, Bowels.

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely.

A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sours, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Advertisement.

GLASS OF WATER BEFORE YOU EAT ANY BREAKFAST

Wash Poison From System Each Morning and Feel Fresh as a Daisy.

Every day you clean the house you live in to get rid of the dust and dirt which collected through the previous day. Your body, the house your soul lives in, also becomes filled up each twenty-four hours with all manner of filth and poison. If only every man and woman could realize the wonders of drinking phosphated hot water, what a gratifying change would take place.

Instead of the thousands of sickly anaemic-looking men, women and girls with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

Everyone, whether sick or well, should drink each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestable waste, sour fermentation and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store, which will cost but a trifle but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

Sargol makes me eat and sleep and I don't get up with a tired feeling any more," writes J. C. Weiser, and N. D. Sanderson adds, "when I started Sargol I weighed 147 lbs. and now I weigh 160 lbs. Everybody is telling me how fat you have got in the last month."

ON THE IRON RANGES

CLOSED WINDOWS AND GAS FATAL FOR TWO

Virginian and Wife Found Dead in Their Room.

Virginia, Minn., Jan. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—If Fred Otto, aged 31, and his wife, Lydia Bain Otto, aged 24, had not slept yesterday with their bedroom windows closed, in the Harrington building, during which time a gas pipe in the room below was broken, they would have been alive today, is the theory of the management of the city gas plant. Both were found dead about 5:30 yesterday afternoon by Mrs. George Carney, who lived in the same building. Gas was escaping from the pipe in the lower floor and the pair had apparently died of asphyxiation. The windows were closed tight. Doctors who examined them gave it as their opinion that the man died before the woman. Otto had been working nights for the Virginia & Rainy Lake Lumber company, which accounts for their sleeping in the daytime. Deputy Coroner Crowe does not deem an inquest necessary. It is believed that something struck the gas pipe or it was cracked open by the frost.

Served as Soldier.

Otto came here first about thirteen years ago from Eau Claire and got a job in the mill. About six years ago he joined the United States army and was stationed at Fort Snelling for three years, returning then to his old position here.

He is survived by a brother, Gus Otto, and a sister, Mrs. Ida Krause, living in Virginia; Ed Otto, a brother, at Eau Claire, Wis., and Mrs. Grace Smith, a sister, at Cleveland, Ohio.

Mrs. Otto is survived by her father, Robert W. Bain of Seattle, Wash.; a brother, Robert, living here; Mrs. Henry Norman, a sister, living at West Virginia; Mrs. Joseph Henkel, a sister, at Stone Lake, Wis., and Elden Bain, a brother, at Los Angeles, Cal.

According to Carney, who also is employed at the mill, he noticed the odor of gas about the building when he left about 10:30 yesterday morning. It was not strong and Carney paid no attention to it.

W. O. Snyder, a plumber, who was sent from the gas offices to repair the broken pipe, was overcome by the fumes while at work in the building. He was revived when taken out and the job was completed by Frank Johnston, superintendent of that department of the plant.

WORST BLIZZARD RAGES ON MESABA

Hibbing Reports Plenty of Snow and 12 Degs. Below Zero.

Hibbing, Minn., Jan. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hibbing has been in the grip of one of the worst storms of the winter today. The snow which began to fall at 11:30 last evening continued this morning and large drifts made walking real difficult.

Street car service was not delayed much in spite of the heavy snow, the large snowplows of the Mesaba Electric Railway company bucking the big drifts and enabling the cars to keep their schedules. The Hibbing transportation company using an automobile snow plow keeps the roads in good shape and the busses running to Alice and Nashwauk are about on schedule in spite of the handicaps encountered. The thermometer dropped to 12 degs. below zero this morning and was still going down at noon. Village employes were busy keeping the sidewalks of the village as clear as possible. All trains coming into the village were delayed from five to ten minutes while the streets were practically deserted.

VIRGINIA COUNCIL HEARS LIGHT COST

"White Way" Expenditure During 1915 Was $10,264.

Virginia, Minn., Jan. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—White ways are expensive, as evidenced by the report of City Clerk Bickford to the city council last night that $10,264.14 was spent for the maintenance and lighting of the white way standards during 1915 and that $9,924 was spent last year in maintaining and lighting the arc lamps of the city. William Tritchler suggested that four of the five globes on each white way standard be without light after 9 p. m. daily and his recommendation was referred to the water and light committee.

The bills of the Virginia & Rainy Lake company against the Eveleth Construction company for $114.14; the Virginia Builders' & Contractors' company against the construction concern for $211 and the Virginia Foundry company against the same firm for $160 was referred to the city attorney.

The park board reported a balance of $2,751.13. The park department expended $2,412 during the third quarter of the fiscal year, while its receipts were $13,299.99. During 1915 the department wiped out an overdraft of $8,036.

Members of the park board were tendered a vote of thanks for their work during 1915.

The offer of C. C. Alexander, purchasing agent of the city of Minneapolis, to sell Virginia Studebaker street sweepers was referred to the street and alley committee.

The Daily Enterprise was named the official paper of the city for 1916. The Enterprise will print the ordinances and minutes, while the Daily Virginian will also publish the minutes.

A resolution of sympathy to be sent to the relatives of the late Governor Winfield Scott Hammond, which was prepared by Alderman Lein, was adopted.

President Moylan named Aldermen A. D. Heritage, R. J. McGhee, E. F. Murray and himself to attend the opening of the new village hall at Mountain Iron Friday.

TRAPPER IS FOUND DEAD ON LAKE ICE

Woodsman Makes Discovery on Lake Nanakin Near Cusson.

Virginia, Minn., Jan. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—A trapper whose identity has not been established was found lying on the ice of Lake Nanakin near Cusson yesterday afternoon by a woodsman who came into Cusson and gave the word. S. J. Cusson got a brief message on the find last evening. Deputy Coroner Crowe was notified and he left for the north today to investigate. He will try to induce two Indians to venture out onto the lake in the blizzard and bring the body to Cusson. It cannot be learned here who the dead man is but he is supposed to have been lost on the lake and frozen to death while crossing on the ice.

FAVOR HELPING CLUB.

Many Virginians Favor Amendment for Commercial Club.

Virginia, Minn., Jan. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The amendment to the city charter to be voted upon Feb. 8 providing that not more than $5,000 should be appropriated annually for the support of the Commercial club is finding much favor with Virginia merchants.

"I am for it," said Julius Shanedling. "It will be a good thing for Virginia."

"The taxpayers should not object to the amendment," declared E. Hine, manager of the New Fay hotel.

The consensus of opinion is that they should not be required to give money for every Commercial club proposition and that the taxpayers, who also benefit by the enterprises, should share in the expense of supporting the club.

"I am going to vote for the amendment and I am going to work for it," Max Lewis, a member of the water and light department and an official of the Minnesota Dry Goods company, declared.

$10,000 ODOR CASE IS NOW BEING TRIED

Virginia, Minn., Jan. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The suit of Patrick Sullivan vs. Mrs. Augusta Tournquist, Mark Eddy, et al, to recover $10,000 alleged damages to plaintiff's health from unhealthy odors resulting from the one time location of Eddy's livery stable, adjoining the plaintiff's home, is on trial in district court, having commenced yesterday afternoon. Late yesterday a jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the case of Mrs. Stella Thomas, wife of Dr. F. E. Thomas, as administratrix of the estate of her brother, L. D. Padden, a barber, who was killed in an automobile accident near this city on Oct. 4, 1914, against Mark Eddy, et al.

The defendants were owners of the machine in which Padden was killed, when it collided with a D. W. & P. logging train. The car was driven by Otto Huhtala, their chauffeur, who was also a defendant. The plaintiff asked for $10,000.

The case was first tried a year ago, when a verdict for $250 was returned in favor of the plaintiff. The court raised the verdict to $750 or gave the plaintiffs the option of a new trial.

Eveleth, Minn., Jan. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—An audit of the accounts of the city of Eveleth is being made by accountants in the employ of E. J. Bishop of St. Paul, who audited the Eveleth records before.

HEAT QUESTION NOW ADJUSTED

Hibbing Light Commission and Patrons Get Together.

Hibbing, Minn., Jan. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The water and light board last evening heard protests from consumers of village heat.

Dr. Rood, E. S. Woolfan, Herman Antonelli, Frank Fisher and E. A. Bergeron were among those who entered protests against the alleged excessive rates charged by the village, especially during the last three months.

A satisfactory agreement was reached at the conclusion of the meeting. Chairman Ryder read the radiation measurements as made by the employes of the water and light board during the last week of property owned or occupied by the protesting heat consumers and the cost as it should be, figuring for seven months and adding 10 per cent for conveniences.

Chairman Ryder stated that it was his belief that with the radiation method of measuring the heat there would be no further complaints and the citizens present agreed to enter into the arrangement suggested by Mr. Ryder. All overpaid bills the consumers paid during the month of October will be refunded them or they will be given credit for in their following month's bills.

The report of the village accountant for December showed receipts of $7,561.59.

Brooklyn property owners asked for street lights at the intersection of Slate, Arnold and Rock streets with Second street.

Want New Building.

A petition will be presented at the next meeting of the commission demanding that the present electric light plant be repaired or replaced with a new building.

The petition was up before the commission last evening but it was withdrawn until the next meeting.

The petition reads that the present equipment of the power plant is not sufficient to provide for the needs of the village in years to come and that it either be repaired or rebuilt.

Chisholm, Minn., Jan. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Paul Markovich, aged 28, a Serbian, weak from sickness and on the verge of pneumonia, wandered aimlessly about the streets until picked up by Dr. E. E. Webber, who was attracted by the man's pallid look. After finding he was without money and unable to work, the doctor had him in the police station, where the man could get temporary shelter. The doctor stated it was his intention to take charge of the case on a charity basis.

Markovich stated that he walked to Chisholm from Hibbing and was in search of employment. He had secured a job with one of the lumbering concerns operating north of the village, but did not dare to go to the camps for fear his weakness would become more serious. Afraid that to ask for charity would result in his arrest, he was debating what he could do when picked up by Dr. Webber.

PUZZLED.

Hard, Sometimes, to Raise Children.

Children's taste is ofttimes more accurate, in selecting the right kind of food to fit the body, than that of adults. Nature works more accurately through the children.

A Brooklyn lady says: Our little boy had long been troubled with weak digestion. We could never persuade him to take more than one taste of any kind of cereal food. He was a weak little chap and we were puzzled to know what to feed him on.

"One lucky day we tried Grape-Nuts. Well, you never saw a child eat with such a relish, and it did me good to see him. From that day on it seemed as though we could almost see him grow. He would eat Grape-Nuts for breakfast and supper, and I think he would have liked the food for dinner.

"The difference in his appearance is something wonderful.

"My husband had never fancied cereal foods of any kind, but he became very fond of Grape-Nuts and has been much improved in health since using it.

"We are now a healthy family and naturally believe in Grape-Nuts.

"A friend has two children who were formerly afflicted with rickets. I was satisfied that the disease was caused by lack of proper nourishment. The children showed it. So I urged her to use Grape-Nuts as an experiment and the result was almost magical.

"They continued the food and today both children are as well and strong as any children in this city, and, of course, my friend is a firm believer in Grape-Nuts for she has the evidence before her eyes every day." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid Exposure and Eat Less Meat.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid.

Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.—Advertisement.

IF YOU WORRY, READ THIS

Worry never brought any good to anybody. But, you say, "I don't worry because I want to, I worry because I can't help it." Or, "I worry because I have so much to worry about."

We all have our troubles and worry, of course, makes matters worse. The patient generally recognizes this fact without being influenced in any way by it.

The doctor who could meet this nervous condition and cure it would be the most popular medical man alive. But he can not do it because the form of nervous exhaustion known as neurasthenia, of which worry is a characteristic symptom, must be cured by the patient himself. That is why you should write today for the book "Diseases of the Nervous System" and read the chapter on "Neurasthenia." So many people have read it and written back, "This hits my case exactly, I am giving the treatment a trial and being benefited," that the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. WOULD LIFT WHEAT DUTY

U. S. Offer of Reciprocity Pleases the Dominion Press.

Port Arthur and Fort William Elevators Blocked With Grain.

The agitation for the removal by the Canadian government of its duty against wheat in order to take advantage of the reciprocity offer of this country in that commodity, is being maintained by a large part of the dominion press.

It is contended that with the maintenance of the present movement and the continuance of congestion at the Canadian seaports, the elevators at Fort William and Port Arthur will be filled to capacity by Feb. 15. All the interior elevators in the three Western provinces are now full so that the blockade has been backed right up to the farmers.

Movement by Rail Growing.

As has been intimated the movement of Canadian wheat to Duluth for shipment all-rail to the seaboard is assuming some proportions and it is expected to be a feature during the next six weeks. Even with the imposition of 10 cents a bushel duty, a fair amount of wheat from the Canadian West is finding a market in this country. The rumor that 100 cars of it had been sold to millers at Minneapolis served to break the market yesterday.

Commenting on the elevator and grain handling facilities and the need of an outlet in this country for Canadian grain, the Toronto Globe says editorially. "Port Arthur and Fort William elevators blocked with wheat emphasize the monumental folly of maintaining an embargo on wheat, which also sustains a prohibitive impost by the United States. Without even the excuse of a class interest favored at the expense of the public, with no purpose to serve except the forcing of transportation along a defined route, the bountiful harvest is kept from the market and the grain growers made to suffer a deplorable and unnecessary loss. Elevator space at the Twin Cities is now so taken up that the Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk Pacific are not accepting wheat for these points. In Saskatchewan and Alberta local and line elevators are full. There is a small outlet by the Canadian Northern to Duuth and Minneapolis.

"The current rate on wheat from the Twin Cities to the seaboard at Halifax, St. John, Portland, or Boston is 13½ cents. There is a 6-cent rate to Montreal or Quebec, but that involves winter storage, with delivery on the opening of navigation from these ports in spring. The rate based on this is 10 cents from Winnipeg to Quebec. But the scarcity of elevator space at Quebec restricts the use of this outlet. The result of the inadequacy of these routes have been aggravated, it is claimed, by Atlantic storms, which have delayed returning vessels. Interruptions in ocean shipping through this and other causes make space inadequate, thus aggravating the congestion at interior points."

NO NIGHT CLASSES IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS; STORM.

Owing to the storm conditions, there will be no night classes in the four public school buildings where they are usually conducted tonight. W. H. Schilling assistant superintendent of city schools, who has charge of this branch of the educational work, made this announcement this morning.

The schools in which classes are held are the Central high, the Monroe, the Irving and the Stowe.

ALL IN FAVOR OF THE BULLS

Week's Market Fluctuations Have Resulted in Substantial Gains.

High Figure for Crop—Surprising Inquiry From Exporters.

Holders for a long pull have had everything coming pretty much their way in the wheat market during the last week, the records showing that at $1.24 for the cash article yesterday a new high figure was recorded on the crop. This is a net advance of 2¾c in the six trading days.

The strength in the market has been brought about through a surprising picking up in inquiry from exporters and the reported working of a substantial tonnage at the seaboard during the last few days. That condition was in a measure evidenced in a marked reduction in the volume of grain afloat and in the elevators at Buffalo, all of which has gone to the seaboard for shipment. A material improvement has furthermore been brought in the export situation through better conditions at the seaboard. The congestion has been relieved at Philadelphia and with the furnishing of more vessel tonnage at Baltimore and New York likely there is said to be a prospect of the railroad embargoes against those ports being raised within the next few days. Duluth shippers are preparing to take advantage of all the openings as they develop, arrangements for cars to move a large tonnage of grain from here to the East having been made.

Local operators with export connections have been good buyers of cash wheat lately and its discount under May has been cut down to ½c as compared with 1½c a week ago. Sales of extra quality grain have in fact been made at the May price during the last couple of days.

Canadian Wheat Coming.

With the prospects as they are, local elevator men consider that there is no reason to be downcast. It is pointed out that a considerable quantity of grain remains to be marketed at interior points, assuring good business for the elevator interests between now and the opening of navigation.

To supplement that a large movement of Canadian wheat this way is assured for shipment to American seaports for export. As in this traffic it will be a case of receiving the wheat and shipping it out again, the quantity handled will depend upon the number of Eastern cars furnished for the movement. Three of the elevator companies have bonded houses for the Canadian traffic, in full expectation that it will attain considerable volume. Duluth houses have practically 13,500,000 bu space still available and, provided the railroads do their share in the transportation of the grain to the East, they do not fear congestion—at least not for some time yet. The danger on that score will be in a great measure obviated through the probability that the movement of grain this way from interior points in the West will be lighter from now on. The routing of bonded grain to Duluth has been on during the last ten days and it is expected to reach an aggregate of 100 cars daily before the week is over.

Evidence of the strangulation of shipping facilities that have come about in the Canadian Northwest is afforded in the placing by the railroads up there of embargoes against any further shipments to Port Arthur and Fort William for the present. All the interior elevators in the three western provinces are plugged up, according to all accounts and the same condition exists at their seaports, St. John, N. B., and Halifax, N. S. Though a low rate to the east has been announced by the Canadian Transcontinental railroad, it is said that it cannot be of any material benefit to shippers owing to the facilities in the East being limited, unless in the interval the British government should place a large number of steamers at the disposal of the Dominion grain trade.

Less Splurge in Durum.

The market strength in durum has not kept full pace with that of spring wheat during the last few days, and the spread has widened out to 3¼c, whereas it had been worked down to less than 1c at one stage. At $1.20½, at its close yesterday, cash durum, however, showed a gain of 1⅜c in the week. Durum specialists predict a material stiffening up in its market as soon as shipments to Italy can be made in any volume.

Boom in Flaxseed.

Trading in flaxseed has held the boards largely of late. New high prices in flaxseed for the crop year were set on Monday when the cash seed sold up to $2.33¼ and the May future to $2.38. Though a reaction of 3¼c, attributed to profit-taking, materialized yesterday, insiders in the trade say that the end of the boom has by no means been reached yet. The reasons for the long extended bull movement in flax are attributed to estimates that it will become necessary to import 15,000,000 bushels of Argentine seed this year to meet the trade deficiency, and on top of that crushers are finding themselves unable to engage boat capacity of any kind, even sailing vessels to bring seed here from down there. Recognizing this fact, it is reported that some crushers who had bought Argentine seed and hedged their purchases on this market have been buying their hedges in lately, thus contributing to the upturn. As at its close yesterday, May flax at $2.34½ showed an advance of 10c in the week.

ADDING TO VALUE OF FLAX CROPS

Duluth Company Using Straw—Government Says Much Is Wasted.

The establishing, three years ago, of the Western Rug company as a new industry in Duluth, has been found of material benefit to flax growers in the Northwest through affording them an outlet for a portion of the straw that had been hitherto burned or permitted to go to waste each year on the farm. It has been made into linen thread by special machinery, and is thereafter used in the manufacture of the products turned out by the company. The incomes of flaxseed producers have been augmented materially as a result.

The inconsistency of allowing such a large proportion of flax straw to still go to waste has led the United States department of agriculture to investigate the feasibility of using home-grown straw in the paper and fiber board industry.

The results of this investigation, just published in Bulletin No. 322, issued by the department, show that at present about 2,200,000 acres are devoted to the raising of flax, chiefly in North Dakota, Minnesota, South Dakota and Montana. The annual crop amounts to about 20,000,000 bushels of seed and is valued at approximately $33,000,000.

The crop also yields approximately 1,600,000 tons of straw, but of this only about 200,000 tons are put to any profitable use. The utilization of the remaining 1,400,000 tons, says the bulletin, would be of immense economic importance, since its paper-producing possibilities are equal to the annual production of wrapping paper and more than double the annual production of writing paper in the United States.

Its sale, it is estimated, would represent an added revenue to the farmers of about $5,000,000 annually. This additional profit would be a very powerful factor in maintaining the flax crop in the Northwest agricultural system and would probably result in the establishment of paper manufacturing industries in sections where there are none at present. It would also aid in making the American paper industry more independent of foreign raw paper-making materials, and would produce a keener realization of the latent value of some of the enormous crop wastes.

ZINC DEMAND IS JUMPING EARNINGS

Enormous Sales Have Been Made Since War Broke Out.

The remarkable increase in the earnings of Butte & Superior and other zinc producing companies has been brought about through the enormously increased consumption of the metal since the war broke out.

It is estimated that last year's sales of zinc and lead amounted to $26,056,350, which was two and a half times greater than the average for the preceding twenty years. During the last two weeks of December the price for the top grades of zinc ore ranged from $105 to $115 a ton, as compared with from $60 to $62 a ton during the same period in 1914, while calamine ores brought from $65 to $80 a ton as compared with a top price of $22 and $24 a ton during the corresponding period of the preceding year. Lead ore is now strong at $70 and $72 a ton as against a top price of $47 a ton at the end of 1914.

The advance in the price of zinc ore during the last year was little short of sensational. The first week in January saw the market strong at $52.50 a ton, from which it advanced steadily until a top price of $75 was reached during the week of Feb. 21, which set a new record price. This was followed by a steady decline until the market was back to $60 at the end of March, where it remained for three weeks, and then rapidly advanced to $75, at which it remained stationary for about four weeks.

The last week in May brought an advance of $10 a ton, followed by successive advances, until the market reached the spectacular price of $135 a ton during the week of June 12, and for the next month fluctuated between $110 and $125, and then declined steadily to $70 during the week ended Aug. 21, from which figure it again advanced to about $85, where it held for a short time, and then began the less spectacular advance which carried the market steadily upwards to the price of $115 prevailing at the close of the year.

Washington, Jan. 12.—President Wilson today nominated Otto N. Raths as postmaster at St. Paul.

BACK FROM WASHINGTON

H. V. Eva and City Engineer Ayres Return From Bridge Hearing.

Believe Duluth's Position Will Be Sustained—Business Good.

Secretary H. V. Eva of the Commercial club and Lionel Ayres, city engineer, returned this morning from Washington where they attended a hearing before Gen. D. C. Kingman, chief of engineers, U. S. A., on the matter of the approach to the interstate bridge near the Minnesota Steel company's plant, believing that Duluth's position in the matter will be sustained. W. A. McGonagle, president of the D. M. & N. railway, who also attended the hearing, will not return home until next week.

"Although Gen. Kingman took the matter under advisement, and we thus do not know what the outcome will be, we are very well satisfied with the hearing," said Mr. Eva this morning. "An opportunity was given for all to be heard and we feel that Gen. Kingman was fully advised of the situation. The attorney general of the state of Wisconsin, two members of the state railroad commission and John Brennan and W. R. Foley of Superior advanced a plan for building an approach that we do not believe is what the people of Duluth want. We impressed that fact on Gen. Kingman and stood by the compromise plan upon which agreement was reached some time ago. Congressman Lenroot accompanied the Wisconsin representatives and Congressman Miller assisted us at the hearing."

Ayres Is Confident.

"Superior's claims will never be granted," City Engineer Ayres said this morning. "They ask that the transfer company erect a new bridge extending to the bluffs on the other side, claiming that the act of congress called for such a structure.

"From what Gen. Kingman said during the course of the sessions, I believe that Superior will be turned down and the present bridge permitted to remain as fulfilling the act of congress. We presented figures and facts showing the present span to be more practical than that of erecting one extending to the bluffs. In addition, a copy of the resolution passed by the city council last October, ordering McCuen street extended and improved up to the Northern Pacific tracks, was exhibited at the hearing.

"Mr. McGonagle spoke in behalf of the present bridge, which his company erected some time ago under the act of congress. He said it was built to high and dry land, instead of to the bluffs, because there are no roadways and little, if any, travel. He also said that his company has agreed to grade a road from the Northern Pacific tracks up to the bridge, the property all belonging to the Steel company. This entire road and the McCuen street extension to be improved by the city will both be opened to the public.

"Mr. Eva and Congressman Miller both explained Duluth's position in the controversy, the latter having been with us during the entire hearing and giving us great assistance in getting about Washington while we were there.

"Superior was represented by a special envoy, the attorney general of the state, the state railroad commission and Congressman Lenroot. I do not expect a decision for some time, but am sure that it will be favorable to Duluth."

Finds Business Excellent.

Mr. Eva went on to New York from Washington and Mr. Ayes went to Pittsburgh.

"Business conditions seem to be excellent everywhere," said Mr. Eva. "The hotels are doing a tremendous business in the East and that is usually taken as an indication of prosperity. The shipments of locomotives, motor trucks and machinery of all kinds by railroad to the coast for export to England and France furnish a new prosperity factor in the East—that is, the occasional visitor now finds the trains with their peculiarly loaded gondolas a novelty."

FEDERAL GRAND JURY HAS A BIG GRIST

Forty-Five Cases Will Be Investigated Before Final Report Is Made.

The Federal grand jury now in session at the Federal building, is grinding on one of the biggest grists ever put into the inquisitorial hopper here. Today it was reported that fully forty-five cases would be considered before a final report would be issued.

United States Attorney Alfred Jaques said that the jury made good progress yesterday and that all of the cases would probably be disposed of some time tomorrow. There are seven violations of the postal laws and several violations of the Indian lid.

COURT REFUSES HANSON NEW TRIAL

Action Was Won By First Presbyterian Church of Duluth.

District Judge Cant yesterday afternoon signed an order denying a new trial to Richard Hanson, contractor, and his sureties, the United States Fidelity & Guaranty company, in the action decided by the court against them and in favor of the trustees of the First Presbyterian church several months ago. The order denying the motion was filed with the clerk this morning.

The action is one in which the church trustees sued on the bond of Richard Hanson, who contracted with them for certain repairs to be made on the edifice located at Third avenue east and Second street. The repairs were made in accordance with the agreement and the contractor received the agreed price, $31,649.23, in payment.

After the repairs had been made and a settlement had been effected between the trustees and the contractor, several building material firms filed liens against the property, claiming that the contractor had failed to pay them. Judgment was secured against the property for the amount claimed and the trustees were obliged to pay. The trustees then sued the contractor and his bondsmen to recover the amount so expended and for attorney's fees. Judge Cant ordered judgment against the defendants for $3,722.27.

The case may be appealed to the supreme court.

SUES RAILWAY FOR LARGE SUM

Anton Buhacz Demands $10,000 for Personal Injuries.

Damages in the sum of $10,000 are asked at the hands of a district court jury by Anton Buhacz, who brought a personal injury action against the Great Northern Railway company to trial in Judge Dancer's division of the district court today.

Buhacz claims that on Sept. 16 last, while employed at the Allouez docks of the defendant company, his left hand was accidentally crushed and mangled by being caught in a car door, and alleges that the accident was a direct result of the defendant's negligence. W. P. Crawford of Superior and W. A. Watts of this city represent Buhacz, and Donald S. Holmes of Baldwin, Baldwin & Holmes is appearing on behalf of the defendant corporation.

SAFETY HEAD WON'T CUT "INSPIRATION"

Beauty Unadorned Declared Art Work; No Anthony-Comstocking.

Duluthians will be able to see "Inspiration," the daring photoplay scheduled for the Orpheum-Strand theater next week, uncensored.

Commissioner Silberstein, safety head, who said yesterday that the scenes showing Audrey Munson in the nude would have to be censored before the film could be shown, declared this morning that the national board of censorship has approved the picture in its present form and that he no longer has any objection to its presentation. He also received word today that a committee of women, appointed by Mayor Nye of Minneapolis two weeks ago, passed on the film and declared it to be a work of art.

Manager Furni of the Orpheum-Strand conferred with the safety head this morning and declared that he would eliminate any scenes not approved by Commissioner Silberstein. The latter has agreed to see the film for himself next Sunday evening.

In this picture, Miss Munson, the well-known artist model, is shown in the nude in several scenes, posing for sculptors and artists.

OVERHEATED STOVES CAUSE SMALL FIRES

Traffic trouble and serious fires were scarce during the first few hours of Duluth's worst storm of the year, and police reported no serious accidents.

An overheated stove that stood too close to a wall caused a $250 fire at the residence of A. C. Albachten, 317 Fourteenth avenue east, shortly after 7 o'clock last night. J. A. Helfenstein, the roomer occupying the part of the house scorched the most was "burned out." Firemen reported some trouble in reaching the blaze.

Two chimney fires and one false alarm comprised the extent of today's business for fire-fighters. Slight damage was reported because of chimney fires at 927 Fourth avenue east and later at 423 East Fourth street.

The high wind blew in a large plate glass window at the Frerker Brother's wholesale liquor establishment, 418 West Superior street, early in the afternoon. Damages was estimated at $50. Several pedestrians narrowly escaped injury from the flying glass.

SOON WEARIES OF YOUTHFUL BRIDE

Richard Valentine, 27, painter, risked prosecution for perjury two years ago when he picked 17-year-old Mildred Olson for his bride. But when the wrath of an irate mother-in-law sufficiently cooled, charges against him were dropped and Valentine breathed a sigh of relief.

But now Valentine is sorry that he was so persistent in picking his wife. He is tired of his bride and she is not particularly desirous of living with him, according to papers which have been filed in district court.

The Valentines were married March 14, 1914, in this city, and are parents of one child, a girl aged 9 months. Each charges the other with cruelty and both are seeking a decree of divorce and want the custody of the child.

Mrs. Valentine cites several instances where she was kicked and shoved about and also alleges that her husband choked her. On the other hand, he accuses her of having threatened to kill him. Once, he says, she tried to commit suicide by taking carbolic acid.

Valentine also accuses her of having relations with other men.

On the grounds of desertion, Mrs. Susan T. Hooper, 33, has filed suit for divorce against her husband, Charles F. Hooper, 38, whom she married on Oct. 12, 1898, and whom she alleges abandoned her on June 14, 1909. And besides, she says, he is a man of vulgar and vicious habits. Mrs. Hooper asks for a decree awarding her the custody of their 16-year-old daughter, Leone Hooper.

HURRYING FROM WOODS TO WIFE'S DEATHBED

Fred Bellman, lumberjack, is hurrying home from the woods this morning in an attempt to reach the bedside of his wife, who is dying in a Duluth hospital.

Friends of the Bellman family applied at police headquarters yesterday, saying that Mrs. Bellman was very ill, and that they could not locate the husband, who left the city about two weeks ago for the winter's work in the woods.

She furnished police with a description, and Chief R. D. McKercher started out to hunt for the missing husband.

Last night or early this morning he was located in a camp near Chisholm, operated by the Swan River Lumber company. Long distance telephone messages from Duluth to Chisholm's chief of police and from thence to the camp, started him homeward.

The Bellman home is at 410 East Seventh street.

TOUGH ON THOMAS.

Judges Were "Switched on Him" and He Gets Sixty Days.

William Shakespeare is authority for the statement that Mr. Hamlet was something of a soliloquizer, and by the same token, Police Captain A. G. Fiskett was authority for the statement today that Thomas Johnson is no slouch when it comes to conversations with himself.

Thomas was moody this morning, and he had good reason to be.

Day before yesterday he became intoxicated, and in due time he was haled before Judge Harry W. Lanners in the West Duluth court. A touching plea brought him a respite, and the court placed him on parole after sentencing him to thirty days at the work farm.

Yesterday Thomas had an all-consuming thirst, a regular prairie fire affair. He sought solace in the flowing bowl, and met Patrolman Harling not long afterwards.

Thomas, with native cunning, figured that police at headquarters would know nothing of his West Duluth escapades, but when he went into court, a mournful look overspread his countenance.

His old friend Judge Lanners was on the bench, having taken the place of Judge F. H. Cutting, who is away on a vacation. Thomas went to the work farm for sixty days.

Postmaster at the Soo.

Bemidji Judge Very Ill.

Bemidji, Minn., Jan. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge A. M. Crowell of municipal court is seriously ill at St. Anthony's hospital with an attack of kidney trouble.

HAS TRAINED SKUNK.

Bird Hunter Signals With Her Tail, Says Truthful Sportsman.

New York Times: Charles C. Nobles, who when he was in the hotel business on Broadway a few years ago claimed to have found a cure for hay fever by shutting up a sneezing guest in a refrigerator and who thus acquired the nickname of "Doc," got back yesterday from a hunting trip in Maine and brought a "bag" of stories about the celebrities around Ox Bow.

In the first place, George Fleming's dog Whisper, famous as the only dog in Maine that had been trained to point fish, is dead. His place in Mr. Fleming's affections is now filled by Violet, a trained skunk. Mr. Nobles on his first hunt this autumn bagged a deer with an automobile. That was before the hunting season opened.

"Fleming is an extraordinary hand at training animals," said Mr. Nobles, who is now an exporter, "and Whisper was the wonder of that part of the state. Violet, however, has made an impression on the countryside compared with which the memory of Whisper's achievements is faint.

How Violet Works.

"The skunk has actually been trained to tree birds. And, mind you, Violet does not use the overpowering means that most skunks might employ in doing anything. For she is an inoffensive skunk. You can be in her company and not know it. The attribute that makes a skunk a skunk in the common view is absent from Violet. Her odor is gone. It was, I should have explained, removed by an operation.

"Violet weighs more than sixteen pounds and is an affectionate animal. She is the only trained specimen of her kind that I have encountered. She is better than a dog in some ways, as I can testify from experience. She does not bark when she has treed her quarry, but she backs herself up against the tree and beats the trunk with her long, bushy tail. These sounds are easily carried through under brush. One day I went out with Violet for my companion. She got a lot of partridges scared up into a tree and I bagged twelve of them.

Bagged Deer With Auto.

"For the first time in my life I bagged a deer with an automobile. This automobile, I may assure you, lest you have a disposition to doubt the existence and the capabilities of Violet, is not trained. It is just an ordinary car, and Fleming and I, one night before the hunting season was on, were driving up from Masardis. All of a sudden something streaked in front of our headlights and struck on our windshield. We saw at once that it was a deer, but was so much injured that we killed it to put it out of its misery.

"Next arose a quandary. Was it illegal to eat deer killed by this means out of season? Although I was nearly famished for lack of fresh meat, having been living off salt bacon for four or five days, I agreed with Fleming that on this delicate point appeal should be made to the game warden of the county. His reply, after due deliberation, was that it was not illegal and that was about the best venison I ever tasted."

TO EASE HER MIND.

Manchester Guardian: The nurse was writing a letter for a wounded soldier.

"There's something I'd like you to put in, miss," the soldier said hesitatingly.

"Well, what is it?"

"You won't mind, now? Just put 'The nurses in this hospital are all rather elderly persons.'"

"That isn't quite true," the youthful nurse said.

"It isn't, miss; but it'll ease my missis' mind wonderful. She's always been a bit on the jealous side."

The missis' mind was eased.

SOME AMERICAN CITIES

Statistics Gathered By the United States Census Bureau.

Commerce Reports: The commission form of government is in effect in 81 of the 204 cities in the United States of over 30,000 inhabitants. Civil service regulations are applied to the appointment of policemen in 122 such cities, including all those of more than 300,000 inhabitants.

Policewomen are employed in 26 cities.

Municipal prohibition prevails in 15 cities, state prohibition in 17, and county and parish prohibition in 3. In 15 cities certain saloons are licensed to sell malt liquors only.

These are a few of the significant and interesting facts which will be brought out in a report under the title of "General Statistics of Cities, 1915," to be issued in the near future by the United States bureau of the census.

Commission Governments.

The largest city now operating under the commission form of government is New Orleans, whose population is estimated at about 365,000; but Buffalo, with a population of about 460,000, recently voted to inaugurate this system on Jan. 1, 1916. Next in order are Washington, D. C., with nearly 350,000 inhabitants; Portland, Or., with about 260,000, and Denver, with about 250,000.

In these cities the commissions range in size from three to seven members. Those in St. Paul and Omaha have seven members each; those in San Diego, Cal., and Fort Worth, Tex., six each, and that in Huntington, W. Va., four. All the other commissions are composed of either three or five members, the great majority having five. The salaries paid municipal commissioners range from $500 a year in Jackson, Mich., and Springfield, Ohio, to $7,000 a year in Birmingham, Ala., and their terms of office vary from one to four years.

"City Manager."

Dayton, Ohio, has a commission of five members, which decides matters of general policy, and a "city manager," appointed by the commission, who looks after the administrative work. The presiding officer of the commission receives $1,800 per annum, the other members $1,200, and the city manager, $12,500.

The larger cities still cling to the older form of government by mayor and council. In all, 123 cities of over 30,000, including all having more than 100,000 inhabitants, are governed in this manner. The mayors' salaries range from $100 per annum in Flint, Mich., to $15,000 in New York city, and their terms of office from one to four years.

Police and Their Aides.

A total of 51,045 police officials, patrolmen, detectives and civilian employes are engaged in the work of maintaining peace and order in 204 cities. Of this total, 5,586 are officers, exclusive of detectives, 34,620 are patrolmen, 3,303 are detectives and 3,015 are civilian employes. Of the patrolmen, 31,294 unmounted and 1,804 are mounted on horses, 708 on motorcycles and 514 on bicycles. Park policemen number 248, and policemen detailed at municipal buildings and courts, 390.

New York has 526 mounted policemen, Philadelphia 435, and Chicago 186. No other city has as many as 100. In New York city 135 of the mounted police ride bicycles, but Chicago and Philadelphia rely entirely upon the horse and the motorcycle. Washington, D. C., has 61 bicycle policemen—far more than any other city except New York, and its total number of mounted policemen, 101, is greater than that of any other city except New York, Chicago, and Philadelphia.

Pay of Patrolmen.

The highest paid patrolmen are those of San Francisco, who are upgraded and receive $1,464 per annum; and the lowest paid—disregarding those in the lower grades in a few cities—are in Williamsport, Pa., where patrolmen are ungraded and receive $756 per annum.

The longest term of service necessary to attain the highest grade is found in Savannah, Ga. In this city the patrolman serves five years at $900, five at $960, and five more at $1,020, and thereafter receives $1,080. In Terre Haute, Ind., and Charleston, S. C., the maximum rates of pay—$1,080 and $1,020, respectively—are reached after ten years of service.

Among cities of 100,000 or more, the longest term of service necessary to attain the highest grade is found in Washington, D. C., where, after three years of service at $900 and five more at $1,080, the patrolman finally receives $1,200 per annum.

Women on Police Forces.

Of police women, Chicago has twenty-one, Los Angeles and Seattle, five each; Pittsburgh, four; San Francisco, Portland, Ore., and St. Paul, three each, and Dayton, Ohio, Topeka, Kan., and Minneapolis, Minn., two each. Fifteen other cities have one each. Their pay ranges from $625 per annum in Dayton to $1,200 in San Francisco.

Prohibition by state law prevails in seventeen cities of 30,000 and over—one each in Georgia and Tennessee, three in Kansas, two each in Oklahoma and West Virginia, and one each in Maine and North Carolina. Municipal prohibition is in effect in fifteen cities—eight in Massachusetts, two each in Illinois and California, and one each in Pennsylvania, Iowa and Washington. County prohibition has closed the saloons in two Michigan cities and parish prohibition has closed them in one Louisiana city. There are thus thirty-five cities in which total prohibiton prevails. In addition, there are eight—four in Ohio, two in Colorado and one each in Pennsylvania and Illinois—in which partial prohibition is in effect through the operation of what is known as the "district" system, under which certain districts or sections of the city may, by popular vote, abolish their saloons, while other sections retain them.

A Dry City of Over 100,000.

The largest city which has adopted prohibition independently of state or county action in the matter is Cambridge, Mass., whose population is estimated at between 110,000 and 111,000. The largest city in which the saloons have been closed by state enactment is Duluth, with approximately 180,000 inhabitants.

Of the 204 cities of over 30,000, 156 have municipally owned water supply systems, the total estimated value of which is $1,071,000,000. Municipal ownership in this field has been in force in Philadelphia, which built its plant in 1801 and has operated it continuously since that time, for a longer period than in any other city.

The bulk of the water supply for most cities comes, of course, from lakes and streams, but there are 3,634 wells in operation in forty-seven cities. Of these, 1,367 are in New York city alone.

Five processes of purification are employed, namely, sedimentation, coagulation, slow sand filtration, mechanical filtration, and chemical sterilization.

NAMED MEMBER OF NEW YORK'S PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION

HENRY W. HODGE.

Henry W. Hodge has been named by Governor Whitman to be a member of the public service commission but his nomination is likely to be fought in the state senate. An investigation of the commisson is in progress, conducted by a legislative committee of which Senator George Thompson is chairman.

PASSING UP "R."

Certain Sections of the Country Have Exiled It From Their Alphabet.

Indianapolis News: There are two words in the American language, the pronunciation of which, together with their endearing diminutives, will determine tho part of the country the user thereof may hail from. For a considerable number of years the expatriation of the letter "r," which began in the Sunny South and soon extended to the Northern Atlantic states, has been spreading over the nation, and has even made progress in the Middle West, where the spoken word is uttered with a vigor and freedom that is not accorded in the civilizations of which Boston and New York are the centers. The letter "r" from the cultured circles of these two great districts is almost as complete an exile as from the Chinese language. The Massachuseits collegette says very prettily, but also very inaccurately, fa-athah and ma-atha, which is even goi-r somewhat more strongly than in Virginia, where the r is dropped with less ostentation.

Through Indiana, Illinois and Iowa, travelers say, the popular terms for father and mother continue to be, as in the days of the early settlers, "pop" and "mom," and "poppa" and "momma." These terms are used by the daughters of the household, while the sturdy sons continue to pronounce the terms "dad" and "mam."

How to Say "Pa."

The Southern girl pronounces the word "pa" in a way that no Northern girl can imitate, no matter how much time and thought she may give to the attempt. By means of her pronunciation of this word the girl from the South at once is differentiated from all other sections. Her word for "pa" is not exactly "pay," but about halfway between that and the sound of "a" in "cat."

But it is to the young ladies of New England that we owe the innocuous desuetude of the letter "r" in many parts of this country. Their influence has extended, having been brought away from summer seaside and mountain resorts by visitors who admired and imitated. A few days ago a young lady of this city, who had returned from the East, told one of her friends that she was going to give a little afternoon party and a part of the decorations would be "hops," which she woud trim with autumn leaves. "Hops!" exclaimed the friends, "your mamma is such a Prohibitionist she will never stand for that." "I did not say 'hops,'" said the girl from the East. "I said hea-a-v-y-s, musical emblems, don't you know."

ECONOMY IN BURIED WIRES.

Philadelphia Ledger: A small fraction of the money spent in recent years by the railroad, telegraph and telephone companies of Northern United States in repairing the ravages to their wires by ice, sleet and wind would in all probability have been sufficient to bury all these wires. And if there could be some way of computing the cost, it is likely that the damages and delays directly traceable to overhead wires in the large cities of the country aggregate a sum which would have constructed underground conduits, and thus banished the most serious disfigurement of urban thoroughfares. Some progress has been made in these directions, but nothing commensurate with the need or with the economies that could be effected if all overhead wires could be abolished.

He disappeared just before the inauguration of his successor as mayor of Waltham.

THE VALUE OF FICTION IN THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

In the column which the New York Sun gives to letters from its readers, a controversy over the value of fiction in public libraries is raging. The following, written by "K" in response to an attack on fiction by "W," defends the libraries' course in giving the public what it wants:

From the New York Sun: To the Sun: It is very true that libraries in the main are supported by revenues derived from taxation, and therefore they should meet the needs of the public, but not, as "W." suggested in the Sun, by eliminating fiction from the shelves. All libraries of any size and value are equipped with the proper amount of educational books, and we all know the value of these with their far reaching results. Mary Antin, the Polish immigrant, in her book "The Promised Land" pays a very high tribute to public libraries and the store of knowledge they open up to the poor, who have the desire but not the money for education.

I do not approve of shutting off fiction from the public libraries, nor do I admit that the reading of fiction is always harmful and of no literary value. I do not advocate buying a dozen copies of the latest thrillers as they come hot from the press, regardless of their value, but I make an earnest plea for the purchase and maintenance of a sufficient number of good, wholesome novels for the working man or woman whose only recreation often consists in reading. Shall we deny them the pleasure of a good novel which lifts them out of their sordid surroundings and makes them temporarily forget their trials?

Think of the poor scrubwoman who has labored all day long, shall we deny her the joy of Pollyanna and the lesson it teaches? Or think of the shop girl and the clerk, shut up all day in the dingy buildings, who long for a breath of the woods, and find it in Gene Stratton Porter's books and Stewart Edward White's. The invalid, whose brain is weakened by long suffering, cannot grasp the heavier literature, but she can appreciate and enjoy the humor of "Daddy-Long-Legs" and "Cape Cod Folks." While the immigrant, anxious to acquire the knowledge of English with a view to becoming a citizen, can read "Paradise Lost."

We cannot ignore the value of fiction as it has come down to us from earliest times. Does it not often reflect the spirit of the age with its wisdom and its foibles? Can we eliminate from literature the names of Bunyan, Defoe, Austen, Goldsmith, Dickens, Thackeray, Trollope, Churchill and Clemens, to mention only a few? Scott's tales with their historic backgrounds have lured many a young reader on to higher things, and he often acquires a love for deeper reading through the channels of thought that Scott has opened up for him.

Does the tired business man when he has finished a hard day's work and feels the need of recreation always go to a lecture or a heavy opera? No, he knows the value of a laugh, and often selects a farce or an operetta at the theater for his recreation.

For these many reasons I plead for a moderate supply of good, wholesome fiction in the public libraries. Its value is not always educational, but it benefits are far reaching. K.

WHEAT TAKES FRESH BULGE

Market Advances With Active Export Inquiry; Receipts Are Lighter.

Flaxseed Moves Up to New Higher Figures on This Crop.

Duluth Board of Trade, Jan. 12.—The market was easier at the close with the absorption of realizing sales and dropping off of exporters' support.

May wheat closed 1⅝@1¾c up and July 2¼c up.

May durum closed 1¼c up and July 1¼c up.

Oats closed 1¼c up at 45¼c for on the track; rye unchanged at 93c and barley unchanged at from 63c to 71c for on the track.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed ⅞@⅞c up at 47⅝c.

At St. Louis, May wheat closed at $1.24½ nominal and July at $1.17¾.

At Kansas City, May wheat closed at $1.18½ and July at $1.13½ bid.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.24⅛ and calls at $1.28⅝.

Operators on the long side had it all their own way in today's wheat market. Under the spur of reported active bidding for export at the seaboard and higher cables, quotations were advanced 2¼c during the first three hours' trading. Cold weather in the winter wheat territory and fears that the plant where not covered with snow might sustain serious damage had an influence. Exporters say foreigners now realize that the American markets are the cheapest in which to buy grain at the present, and that this country and Canada are the only ones in position to make prompt deliveries. A reflection of that sentiment was shown at Winnipeg this morning, the quotation in the May future being run up to $1.24, a new high point on this crop. Heavy buying on export account was reported on that market today and yesterday. The urgent buying orders placed up there lately are attributed in some quarters to a realization by the British trade that difficulty will be experienced in making shipments from Australia and Argentina even with the most persistent efforts to obtain boats. The present storm extending over such a wide area of country was taken as a distinctly bullish factor in holding up country shipments. The movement is thought certain to be moderate for some days, and in the meantime with substantial export shipments at the seaboard, it is regarded as certain that a good hole will be made in stocks.

Duluth operators are pleased to note the starting of a good tonnage of bonded wheat this way, and the elevator interests are confident that its reshipment all-rail to the east will become a profitable adjunct to their business. Shipments of 40,000 bu bonded wheat were made yesterday from the Consolidated elevators.

May wheat opened ⅜@½c up at $1.25 and it advanced 1¾c more up to the noon hour. July opened 1c up at $1.24½ and bulged 1½c more.

Durum was by no means as strong as spring wheat, but it also had an upturn, though on a more modest scale. May durum opened ½c up at $1.22 and gained 1¼c more.

Flax Bulges Again.

The upturn in flaxseed was resumed with a vengeance. In view of expected light receipts for some days and high-er cables, there was a rush of buying at the opening and first quotations were up 3½c. After resting there for a time the price in May flax was boosted up to $2.40. Plenty of offerings were met at that figure and it was fractionally shaded, but it recovered at the close, which was at the top.

May flax opened 3½c up at $2.38, and closed 5½c up at $2.40 asked. July opened 3½c up at $2.37, and closed 5½c up at $2.39 nominal.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed 5⅜c up at $2.20⅜ bid.

At Buenos Aires, flax closed 1¾c up at $2.38¾, and London 1¾c up at $2.90⅜.

MARKET GOSSIP.

Cash offerings of grain were comparatively light on the Duluth market today and everything on the tables found ready sale. Cash No. 1 northern wheat sold at ½c under May and cash No. 1 durum at 1c under May.

The movement of Canadian bonded wheat to this market is now attaining good proportions. Today 36,551 bu was received and 37,467 bu was shipped out all-rail to the East from the Consolidated elevators.

A good demand for barley is now being met with on the Duluth market. Today 41,000 bu was shipped out from the Itasca elevator.

* * *

B. W. Snow says: "The melting snow, rain and sleet in the whole winter wheat belt, to be followed at once by the coldest of the season, furnishes a situation that threatens winter wheat. An ice pack covering fields is most dangerous for wheat condition that the plant can experience. It was just this experience that largely wiped out the 1912 crop."

* * *

T. W. Lewis wired from Winnipeg: "There is something doing in this wheat in an international way that the trade is not on to. Exporters and flour men would not be so pressed with orders unless the situation was getting tighter. I don't see what it is unless it has something to do with shipments from the Southern countries, but I think something will come out shortly that we don't know about."

* * *

At Minneapolis cash wheat was strong with a keen demand for all offerings. No. 1 northern blue stem sold at 1 to 3c over May and velvet chaff at May price to 1c over.

Flour sales were reported moderate but foreign inquiries for flour were numerous. Cash No. 1 northern wheat sold there at from $1.26⅜ to $1.29⅜ and No. 2 northern at from $1.22⅜ to $1.24⅞.

Chas. E. Lewis & Co. had the following from New York: "If the news going around is anywhere near correct, large cash business has been done during the last few days. The amount including Americons and Canadians is said to total four million bu.

Regarding linseed, Broomhall cabled: "Buenos Aires closed steady on reports of rain in the harvest districts. London opened strong with oil in good demand at 9d higher."

Cargoes were strong. Australians 3d higher; Plates 3 to 4½d higher and Manitobas and winters 9d higher. Millers demand was urgent and native offers disappointing."

The 15,000,000 bu of wheat recently commandeered by the Canadian government are now known officially to be destined to Italy. The Italian government will furnish the ships which are necessary for the movement of the crop.

Representations have been made to the British authorities respecting the threatened blockade of wheat. Recently the home government took upon itself to requisition the use of any ships of British register, and it has availed itself of the privilege extensively, with a resultant shortage in tonnage for general traffic. Canadian wheat consequently has been held up. The dominion government has made strong efforts to secure additional vessels required and expects to get them.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Prospects of Severe Cold Wave Has Bullish Effect on Wheat.

Chicago, Jan. 12.—Prospects of a severe cold wave had a bullish effect today on wheat. It was apparently feared by many traders that the drop in temperatures would result in serious damage to the winter crop, especially in sections where there was a lack of protection by snow. Higher quotations from Liverpool counted also against the bears.

Prices here after opening ¼c to1½c up, with May at 1.26⅜ to $1.28 and July at $1.19⅝, scored a slight further advance.

Additional gains ensued owing to talk that conditions were somewhat the same as those which produced a widespread ice pack in the fields and largely wiped out the soft wheat crop of 1912. Besides gossip of a liberal export business was current. The close was strong, 1½c to 1¾@1⅞c net higher, with May at $1.28 and July at $1.30⅞.

Corn hardened in value owing to changes that the unsettled weather would delay the movement of the crop. The market touched the topmost prices yet this season. The opening figures which ranged from a shade to ⅝c higher, was followed by a little further advance, and then a moderate reaction.

Evidence of a good export demand resulted later in temporary additional gains. The close was steady at ⅜c to ⅝@¾c net advance.

Oats rose with other grain. What selling there came chiefly from resting orders.

Higher prices on hogs lifted provisions. Considerable attention too was given to the advance in corn and to the active demand from Canada for dressed hogs.

ADVANCES IN FINAL HOUR

War Specialties Make Spectacular Close in the Stock Market.

Prices Recover From Early Losses and Close Strong.

New York, Jan. 12.—Further liquidation of specialties attended today's early dealings, with especial heaviness in Crucible Steel, Studebaker and allied issues. Latest developments in Mexico were reflected in the selling of such stocks as Mexican Petroleum and American Smelting, the latter declining a point, with sympathetic losses in other metal issues. American Can was again a strong feature and New York Central and Northern Pacific led the rails with fractional gains. United States Steel opened unchanged at 85⅛, but soon fell under that quotation on single sales of 1,000 to 3,000 shares. Irregular recoveries followed.

Prices rallied above yesterday's close before pressure against the war issues was renewed. Crucible fell to 52¾ and Baldwin Locomotive 2½ to 104½ with more moderate recessions in other stocks of that class. United States Steel was absorbed at 85, soon advancing to 85½ with a better tendency toward rails particularly New York Central, Canadian Pacific, Union Pacific and Chesapeake & Ohio. Mercantile marines were very active and strong, the preferred rising 2⅞ to 79⅜ and the 4½ per cent bonds two to the new record of 98¾. Fresh weakness in the munitions group developed at noon. Bonds were irregular.

Supporting orders speedily checked the mid-day decline causing hasty covering of short contracts. Improvement became more marked later, many representative stocks as well as speculative issues showing substantial gains.

Professional selling of war issues in the early hours with full recovery and general strength in the later dealings, marked the irregular course of today's market.

Spectacular advances in some high-priced specialties, particularly the sugar group and General Motors, occurred in the final hour. The closing was strong.

ABSENT-MINDED ABNER—He Obeyed Orders and Stayed Right in the Tub!

By Walt McDougall

A BLIND MAN'S RESOURCEFULNESS.

One of the residents of a home for railroad men at Highland Park, Ill., is both blind and armless. In spite of this handicap he is far from being helpless, and incidentally offers a rather striking example of the resourcefulness sometimes shown by men when put to an extreme test, says the Popular Mechanics Magazine in an illustrated article. Instead of depending entirely upon others, he has learned to care for himself in a remarkable way. He reads and also walks about in the grounds without assistance.

Since he has no hands with which to follow the raised characters in books provided for the blind, he uses his tongue. To most persons this would be little else than a maddening, nerve-killing ordeal, but to him it is a way to read and he makes use of it.

Stretched between two trees 130 feet apart on the lawn at the institution, is a wire on which a large spool has been strung. On pleasant days when the man wishes to exercise, he is taken in the line by one of his comrades or an attendant. He rests the stump of an arm over the spool and walks to and fro, guiding himself without difficulty.

FINGER STALLS FOR TYPISTS.

Popular Mechanics Magazine: Rubber sheaths designed to be fitted over the fore part of the fingers are being made as nail and finger-tip protectors for typists. They are invented to prevent the wearing and breaking of the nails and also to keep the fingers from being stained by the frequent handling of ribbons and carbon paper. The feeling of awkwardness disappears after they have been used for a short time, it is said.

GEN. CARRANZA PROMISES U. S. TO PUNISH BANDITS WHO KILLED AMERICANS NEAR CHIHUAHUA

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED IN CONGRESS

Developments Awaited Before Further Action Is Taken.

Ambassador Arredondo Expresses Sorrow of Mexican Government.

Bodies of Slain Americans Arrive at El Paso From Chihuahua.

Washington, Jan. 13.—Gen. Carranza's ambassador here today formally assured Secretary Lansing that the Carranza government "deeply deplores the dastardly action of the Villa forces in killing sixteen Americans near Chihuahua Monday, and added that "efficient action will be taken to bring the murderers to justice." He also gave assurances that Gen. Carranza would take steps to remedy the situation in the state of Durango, in which depredations against foreigners have been reported.

There were no new developments in the situation at the White House or the state department, but in congress both house and senate continued to give it attention.

Senator Lewis, Democrat, introduced a resolution proposing to empower the president to use the army and navy to restore order in Mexico, as had been done in Haiti and Nicaragua. He asked that it lay over without action however, and there was no further debate at that stage.

Defends Recognition.

In the house, Representative Slayden, Democrat, of Texas defended the recognition of Carranza and declared that if order were not restored a Pan-

JAPANESE PREMIER TARGET FOR BOMBS

Two Thrown at Count Okuma's Auto; Escapes Unhurt.

Tokio, Jan. 13.—Count Okuma, the Japanese premier, had a narrow escape from death early today at the hands of assassins. He was returning from the royal palace shortly after midnight and approaching his residence when two bombs were hurled at his automobile. The premier was not injured.

Okuma's chauffeur caught a glimpse of the bomb thrower as he was about to launch his missile and put on speed so that the bomb exploded behind the machine without causing any damage. A second bomb was thrown, but it failed to explode.

Count Okuma made another visit to the palace at 11 o'clock this morning.

The unexploded bomb is being examined. The assailant escaped.

MANY CHINESE REBELS KILLED AND CAPTURED

Serious Engagements With Rebels Continue for Three Days.

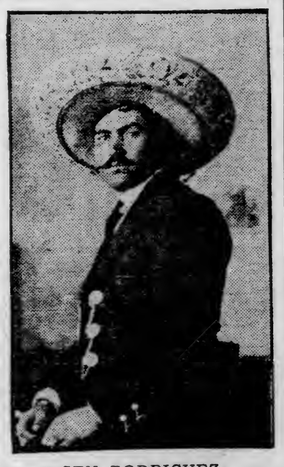

London, Jan. 13.—Many Chinese revolutionaries were killed and captured in a series of bloody engagements on Jan. 6, 7 and 8 in the districts of Tamsui, Yentzuwo and Poklo, according to information received from the Canton government by the British authorities at Hongkong and forwarded by Reuter's Hongkong correspondent.

The Hongkong dispatch says that the rebels were well supplied with arms, munitions and military uniforms. They fought until their ammunition was exhausted, when they continued to struggle with bombs. Ultimately the revolutionaries were routed and many of them killed or taken prisoners. The government forces captured munitions and horses.

Various garrisons are engaged in following traces left by the rebels who escaped, with the object of exterminating them.

LEADER OF VILLA BANDITS SAID TO HAVE BEEN TAKEN

GEN. RODRIGUEZ.

MORE KILLING IS REPORTED

Ten Americans and Two English Women Said to Be Mexican Victims.

Rumor Current in Chihuahua Lacks Confirmation From Other Sources.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 13.—A report was current in Chihuahua that ten American men and two English women had been killed by Villa troops at Madera, Chihuahua, according to Americans who arrived here early today with the bodies of the eighteen Americans who were killed last Monday.

The report, however, could not be confirmed. One of the women reported to be killed was said to be the wife of Capt. Jack Leftbridge, retired British army officer, who, with an English woman companion, a Mrs. Berry, had been staying at Babricora ranch, the Hearst property.

Mexican officials at Juarez were unable to confirm the report that ten American men and two English women had been murdered at Madera. They said troops were being dispatched to that place.

No Word at Washington.

Washington, Jan. 13.—No word of the reported killing of ten American men and two English women by Mexican bandits near Madera had reached the state department early today.

OHIO RIVER PASSES THE DANGER STAGE

Continues to Rise But Is Expected to Be Checked By Cold.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 13.—The danger stage of fifty feet in the Ohio river at this point, was passed early today and the river continued to rise at the rate of two inches an hour. At 7 o'clock it registered 51.3.

The lowlands in and about the city are inundated, most of the cellars along Water and Front streets are filled, and the water made its appearance today on the streets of Newport, Ky., across the river from this city, but little damage has been done. The continued rise is the result of the heavy rains late yesterday and according to the weather bureau it will soon be checked by the cold weather that set in today.

GERMAN, AUSTRIAN, BULGARIAN AND TURKISH FORCES BEGIN AN ATTACK ON ALLIES AT SALONIKI

STARTS WITH BOMBARDMENT OF THE BRITISH

Movement on Large Scale, According to Reports From Athens.

Armies of Four Countries to Be Used By German Commander.

Finally Decided That Turks Will Participate in the Attack.

Rome, Jan. 13, via Paris.—The attack of the Teutons on the allied forces defending Saloniki is being developed on a large scale, according to the Athens correspondent of the Giornale d'Italia, telegraphing under Tuesday's date. He reports that bombardment of the British line in the Doiran zone proceeded all day Monday.

The German commander of the attacking forces, says the correspondent, will make use of Austrian, Bulgarian and Turkish forces. The participation of the Turks had been doubtful, he adds, but it is now certain that they will be included in the attacking army.

GERMANY'S PROTEST TO BE MADE PUBLIC

Text of Note to U. S. on Baralong Case Expected Soon.

London, Jan. 13.—The Copenhagen correspondent of the Exchange agency learns that publication of Germany's note concerning the Baralong incident is expected today.

The British patrol boat Baralong came upon a German submarine while she was shelling the British steamer Nicosian off the coast of Ireland on Aug. 19, 1915. Germany alleged that after sinking the submarine the crew of the Baralong wantonly murdered the members of her crew. Germany's protest was made through Secretary Lansing and Ambassador Page at London.

PRUSSIANS IN SESSION

Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, Prime Minister, Opens Parliament.

Announces Income Tax to Increase Revenues of State.

Berlin, Jan. 13, wireless to Sayville.—After divine services in the Protestant cathedral and in the Catholic church of St. Hedwig, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the Prussian prime minister, opened today the new session of the Prussian parliament. He read the speech from the throne in the traditional White hall of the castle. Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg first recalled the fact that at present a sanguinary conflict is going on on wide battlefields.

"As our enemies forced the war upon us," he said, "they must also bear the guilt of the responsibility if the nations of Europe continue to inflict wounds upon one another."

The prime minister announced that a bill would be presented increasing the income tax as an increase of the state's receipts had become necessary. The war he said had not broken the strength of Prussia's state finances, but further means were needed to be used for the construction of East Prussia.

Von Bethmann-Hollweg said that Germany's enemies planned to demoralize her by cutting her off from the trans-Atlantic world, but that this had failed. He added:

Assures Support of Nation.

The lowest temperature ever recorded in the weather station at Duluth was 41 deg. below zero on Jan. 2, 1885.

After one of the stormiest and most trying days in the history of the city, the storm part subsided this morning, but the thermometer is not yet tamed. As low as 33 deg. below zero was registered at 7 o'clock this morning and at 10 o'clock it had not moderated perceptibly, being still 26 deg. below.

NEW LEYLAND LINER TORPEDOED DEC. 29.

New York, Jan. 13.—The new Leyland liner Huronian from Galveston was torpedoed on Dec. 29 off the Irish coast, according to reports current in shipping circles today. The International Mercantile Marine said that they had received a cablegram stating that the Huronian had met with injury and had been towed into port, but the message did not state what had caused the damage.

FIERCE STORM AND COLD WEATHER CONTINUES IN MIDDLE WEST STATES

Unusually Low Temperatures Prevail Over Widely Extended Territory.

Railroad Traffic Badly Impeded and Trains Canceled on Some Roads.

Thirty-Three Below at St. Paul and 53 at Hannah, N. D.

Chicago, Jan. 13.—The storm which began yesterday over the Middle West continued today, snow, high winds and low temperatures prevailing over Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin. From the Canadian Northwest there also came reports of unusually low temperatures, the thermometer at Prince Albert, Sask., going to 58 below.

According to meager reports today, Iowa, the Dakotas and Minnesota are the worst sufferers, on account of the heavy snow fall and the low temperatures. St. Paul reported 33 degs. below zero, Hannah, N. D., 53 below, and Des Moines, Iowa, 22 below.

Railroad traffic west of Chicago has been seriously delayed and in many instances trains have been abandoned. At Council Bluffs, Iowa, more than twenty passenger trains are stalled, being unable to move in either direction.

Telegraph and telephone communication with the west was practically shut off early today, all companies reporting that regular routes are out of commission entirely.

In this city the thermometer was at the zero mark, and the prediction is for much colder weather.

NEW TURN IN RATE BATTLE

Attorney General Smith Summoned to Duluth Court on Friday.

To Show Cause Why Fesler's Order Should Not Be Dissolved.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The fight of the state legal department on the new interstate passenger rates, as put into effect by the Northern Pacific from Duluth to points in the western part of the state, took a new turn today when the positions of the clashing interests were reversed.

Papers were served upon Attorney General Smith, and members of the state railway and warehouse commission directing them to appear in the Federal district court in Duluth tomorrow and show cause why the order issued by the St. Louis county district court mandamusing the Northern Pacific road should not be dissolved. The order referred to is the one issued by Judge Fesler and enjoins the Northern Pacific from putting into effect the increased rates permitted under a late interstate commerce commission order.

Attorney General Smith looks upon the latest move as the initiative by the roads in a general fight on the Minnesota 2-cent fare law. By putting in the rate from Duluth as permitted under the interstate commerce commission's order, the railroads have forced the state's hands, it is said, and now they will compel the state to come forward and show the sufficiency of the rate it wants to inflict.

COST OF SHOE FINDINGS RAPIDLY INCREASING

New York, Jan. 13.—The increase in the price of materials for the manufacture of boots and shoes is described as alarming by members of the National Boot and Shoe Manufacturers' association in their annual convention here. A. S. Kreider, president of the association, said that the time has arrived when the prices of all materials have reached such heights that the maintenance of present prices for shoes must be abandoned. He added that the increase in the price of leather linings and facings have ranged from 20 to 25 per cent.

STEEL WORKERS WAIT FOUR HOURS FOR TRAIN HOME

Fond du Lac Line Blocked at the Ore Docks.

Some Start to Walk and Suffer Terrible Hardships.

It was 10:30 o'clock before the majority of the workmen employed at the Minnesota steel plant and the Universal cement plant were able to get home last night. The storm tied up the evening train at the ore docks so that it was nearly 9 o'clock before it was able to continue its westward trip and the return from Fond du Lac was more than an hour later.

Heavy drifts of snow in the cut and amid the piling of the ore docks at Thirty-third avenue west delayed the passage of the train westward. Before the passenger could be shoveled out and be on its way again nearly four hours had been consumed. The train regularly passes this point about 5:30 p. m.

Switching at Fond du Lac was also made under difficulty, and here nearly another hour was consumed. Officials of the railroad company early notified the steel officials of the inability of the train to get through and the majority of the men congregated at the machine shop while waiting.

Some of the men who refused to wait, started out walking and are said to have had terrible hardships in getting home through the storm. They had to face the wind most of the way. Eighteen of the employes of the cement plant rode home in an open sleigh.

Until late in the night, street cars were being operated on all lines in West Duluth, principally with the view of keeping the tracks clear. Only in a few instances were the cars late and then only a few minutes. The cars were all operated on schedule time this morning.

The cold weather is said to have been responsible for the breaking of the trolley wires of the Grand avenue line at Central avenue this morning. Lines on both sides snapped shortly after 8 o'clock. The cars were delayed about ten minutes while the repairs were being made.

With the exception of the freezing of a few water pipes in some of the homes little damage was reported in West Duluth. None of the business places reported any damage. During the height of the storm several of the merchants who have large plate glass windows had these braced against the wind.

WEATHER—Fair and continued cold tonight with lowest temperature 20 degs. or more below zero at Duluth-Superior and along the north shore.

WILL PURCHASE ANOTHER TRUCK

West Duluth Will Have New Motor Fire Apparatus.

Another motor service truck for the fire department will be purchased by Commissioner Silberstein, head of the safety division.

In announcing his plans yesterday, the safety head said that the truck will be placed in the new West Duluth firehall as soon as it is completed. Construction on the building is progressing rapidly and it is expected that the structure will be ready for occupancy by next April.

Bids on the truck are being advertised for and will be opened by Commissioner Silberstein on the morning of Jan. 22.

COMMUNITY MEETING AT NEW DULUTH CLUB

A community meeting which wives of members will be invited to attend, will be held by the New Duluth Commercial club at the Maccabee hall on Jan. 25. A program is being arranged for the evening by a committee composed of Fred Damkroeger, L. A. Taylor, Ransome Metcalfe, Charles Strand and Robert McDermott.

An effort will be made to get all business men of the district out to the meeting. Special invitations will be issued to every merchant as well as the leading citizens of the suburbs. It is proposed to invite members of the city commission to attend.

WILL INCREASE DOCK CAPACITY

Zenith Furnace Company Lets Contract for Extending Coal Facilities.

Will Add 300 Feet and Remodel Handling Equipment.

Contracts have just been let by the Zenith Furnace company for the construction of a 300-foot addition to its coal dock, and for the installing of new equipment, which will speed up the work of handling coal in the future.

The improvements will cost the Zenith Furnace company in the neighborhood of $100,000, and the contract calls for the completion of the work by the time navigation opens in the spring.

The extension of the coal dock of the company was made necessary by the fact that during the last year the coal business has increased enormously, and because of the further fact that only last fall the Zenith company went extensively into the hard coal business and has been developing a large line of trade in that kind of coal.

The contract has been let to the Barnett-Record company, which will do the work under supervision of the J. W. Fraser company of Cleveland, Ohio.

The proposed extension of the dock will increase its length to 2,100 feet and will incease the annual handling capacity by 125,000 tons. Besides the extension of the docks the present unloading towers will be remodeled and the method of handling coal to the cable cars rearranged.

Work will start at once.

COULD USE 500 MORE MEN IN THE WOODS

Lumber Camp Foreman Says Men Shift From Camp to Camp.

"We are able to use about 500 more men in the lumber camps on the Alger-Smith line," was the announcement made this morning by Michael J. O'Brien, superintendent of the Alger-Smith sawmill at West Duluth and the company's Rice's Point mill on his return today from a week's visit at the camps. Mr. O'Brien said the shortage of men this winter was the greatest experienced in several years.

"Last winter we were swamped with men," he said. "This year they are not to be had and wages of $26 for swampers and $30 for teamsters appear to have little attraction. These wages are nearly double those paid last winter."

Mr. O'Brien said that the shortage was probably largely due to the men shifting about. He had been informed, he said, that men were plentiful in some of the camps of other companies and were drifting from place to place. There probably will be a big surplus in the woods, he said, in another two weeks.

COUNTY'S BONDED DEBT ONLY $1,067,000 AND DECREASING

OUTSTANDING BONDS OF ST. LOUIS COUNTY.

	Amount.	Pct.	Next Payment Due
Miller Trunk road bonds	$142,000	4	July 1, 1916
Court house	510,000	4½	1918
State ditches	36,797	4	July 1, 1916
County ditch, No. 1	100,000	4	1920
Judicial ditch, No. 3	100,000	4½	1919
State Rural Highway, No. 4	135,000	4½	1917
County ditch, No. 2	43,500	4	1920

Present total bonded indebtedness, $1,067,297.
Total bonded indebtedness after July 1, 1916, $922,797.
Assessed valuation of St. Louis county, $324,256,080.

St. Louis county, one of the wealthiest governmental units of its kind in the country, is pulling itself out of debt little by little each year.

On July 1 next, county officials will reduce the bonded indebtedness of the county government to $922,797. At that time County Auditor Odin Halden will redeem the Miller Trunk road bond issue of $142,000 and will also retire $2,500 in state ditch bonds.

Taking into consideration the fact that St. Louis county has an assessed valuation of more than $324,000,000, it is not an idle boast that the county has the lowest relative bonded indebtedness of any county in the state, if not in the entire country.

The present outstnading indebtedness is $1,067,297, but in July this amount will be reduced by $144,500, leaving the total amount at $922,797. This figure embraces a $510,000 block of courthouse bonds to be redeemed in 1918, and various ditch and highway bonds totaling $412,797.

Ditch Bonds.

The ditch bonds amounting to $277,797 cover State Ditches Nos. 53, 54 and 55, County Ditches No. 1 and 2 and Judicial Ditch No.3, and can hardly be considered as a direct obligation against the county, in view of the fact that the bonds are secured by ditch liens on the land benefited by the various drainage projects and that eventually the county will be reimbursed for the full amount and interest by special assessments against the benefited property. These assessments may be paid in a number of annual installments.

The Miller Trunk road bond issue, which will be wiped out this year, was floated in 1896 to finance the construction of the Miller Trunk road between Duluth and the iron ranges. The amount authorized by the county board was $150,000, but the total amount actually sold was $147,000. In June of 1913 county officials had an opportunity to pick up $5,000 worth of these bonds at a good rate and availed themselves of an opportunity to save the county the interest on this amount for three years. The bonds have been bearing 4 per cent.

Provision will probably be made in the levy next fall to take care of a portion of the $510,000 courthouse bond issue which will be retired in 1918. If a similar provision is made in the 1917 levy, the bonds may be picked up without imposing a burden on the taxpayers in any one year.

The courthouse in this city, including the site and building, cost $1,500,000 and although built but seven years ago is two-thirds paid for. The Virginia courthouse and site, costing $135,000, have been paid for and provision has been made in the 1915 tax levy to be collected this year for spending $100,000 on a courthouse to be located in the village of Hibbing.

On Jan. 1, 1917, the county will retire $15,000 more of the $135,000 4½ per cent State Rural Highway No. 4 bonds. The bonds for County Ditch No. 1 are not due until 1920, when $9,000 will be paid. For every year thereafter, $6,500 will be paid until the $100,000 block is retired.

The county board in 1913 authorized the sale of $100,000 worth of bonds to defray the expenses of constructing Judicial Ditch No. 3, which will drain approximately 80,000 acres of land in the southwestern portion of St. Louis county and the northeastern part of Aitkin county St Louis county's share of the cost is about $100,000 The bonds draw 4½ per cent interest

State ditch bonds are retired at the rate of $2,500 a year, due on July 1, and draw 4 per cent

ONLY FOUR CURLERS BRAVE THE STORM

Old "King Winter" was the principal player at the Western Curling club last night. Just four of the curling enthusiasts, who are said to have had no other place to go to spend the evening, ventured to the clubrooms during the storm of the early part of the evening and for a few moments busied themselves throwing stones on the ice.

The games scheduled for last night will be played this evening. Three of the games will be in the Esterly event and one in the Burns. The rinks to play are Zauft vs. T. F. Olsen, Forbes vs. Melvin Olson; Joe McDonald vs. Donald, and K. A. McDonald vs. Thomas Quinn.

Minnesota Commissioner Declares Standardization Bill Unconstitutional.

Appears Before the House Committee on Agriculture.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, Jan. 13.—O. P. B. Jacobson of the Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission, at a hearing before the house committee on agriculture, today declared the proposed grain standardization law was unconstitutional.

"The duties prescribed in the bill are such as can only be performed by the sovereign states," said Commissioner Jacobson. "The Constitution does not give the Federal government the power to grade grain nor does it permit the government to control the sale of grain.

"Aside from the constitutional objection, the proposed law could not be operated effectively because there is nobody in Washington or in the employ of the department of agriculture with the practical experience necessary to supervise our grain markets or the grain trade, besides, the department could not set up a standard that would be satisfactory. This is proven by the action of the government in establishing grades for corn. Formerly we had nine grades for corn that were satisfactory to the farmers and the grain trade. The department has established twenty-three grades and they are unworkable."

Commissioner Jacobson submitted a statement to the committee on the operation of the Minnesota grain inspection system, showing that in thirty years the cost of the inspection to the farmers had been 1 cent for every thirty bushels inspected.

PLAIN TALK TO TEACHERS

Denfeld Tells Why Some Have No Right to Salary Increase.

Ability Brings Advancement; No Patience With Time Killers.

R. E. Denfeld, superintendent of city schools, told principals from the various school buildings why the board of education did not favor automatic salary increases for teachers, at a meeting in the Central high assembly hall yesterday afternoon.

"The Duluth school district now is spending $400,000 annually to employ 450 teachers," he said, "and the automatic $50 increase desired by teachers would necessitate the raising of an additional $20,000 each year.

"There is no attempt on the part of the board of education to decline all increases in teachers' salaries, but there is a sentiment against the teacher who is marking time this year in the expectation that she will be doing the same thing next year."

'Tabbing Teachers' Value.

At the conclusion of his talk, Supt. Denfeld distributed new forms, known as form No. 33, upon which principals will make reports concerning individual teachers. The recommendations of the principals will be submitted by Feb. 20, and the instructors will be graded on the basis of 50 per cent for teaching ability, 25 per cent for scholarship and 25 per cent for personality. Assignment and preparation of lessons, presentation of subject matter and conduct of recitation, are the important factors in "teaching ability."

"The teacher is the life of the school and the board of education tries to deal generously with them in a financial way," Supt. Denfeld said. "There are some who do not rank as high as others. These are dropped, put on the retired list, or possibly retained at the same salary. But there is scarcely a teacher on the corps who has not received a $50 increase and we are raising teachers as fast as their ability warrants.

"I hope the maximum salary can be raised, but it is a question of funds at this time."

Difficult to Keep Your Hair Wavy? Read This

If you have not yet tried the new way, the silmerine way, by all means do so. You'll never again use the ruinous heated iron. The curliness will appear so perfectly natural and the hair will be so beautifully lustrous, instead of dried and parched. Thus liquid silmerine serves also as a beneficial dressing for the hair. It is neither sticky nor greasy, but quite pleasant to use. It should be applied at night with a clean tooth brush, drawing the latter through the hair from root to tip.

The hair will have the loveliest curls and waves imaginable in the morning, and it will be easy to manage, no matter how you do it up. A few ounces of the liquid from your druggist will last a long time. —Advertisement.

THE WHOLE BODY NEEDS PURE BLOOD

The bones, the muscles, and all the organs of the body depend for their strength and tone and healthy action on pure blood.

If the blood is very impure, the bones become diseased; the muscles become enfeebled, the step loses its elasticity, and there is inability to perform the usual amount of labor. The skin loses its clearness, and pimples, blotches and other eruptions appear.

Hood's Sarsaparilla makes pure blood. It is positively unequaled in the treatment of scrofula and other humors, catarrh, rheumatism, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, that tired feeling. Be sure to get Hood's and get it today. All druggists.

CASS COUNTY AFTER JEFFERSON HIGHWAY

Walker, Minn., Jan. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—With its new 100-mile state highway now on the map, Cass county is making a bid for the proposed Jefferson highway to travel through this county via Walker on its way to Winnipeg. The distance from Little Falls to Bemidji is over fifty miles shorter over the new Cass county road than by the proposed route through Wadena and Park Rapids, while the scenery is excelled nowhere in the state. The Walker Auto association has taken the matter up with the state highway commission. The new highway through Cass county, when finished next season, will be the best dirt road in the state, according to the assertions of engineers. Further than that, it shortens the distance to the Twin Cities from Bemidji and other points north of Walker by over fifty miles.

Cass County Marriages.

Walker, Minn., Jan. 13.—Cass county records show ninety marriage licenses issued during 1915, and for the first time since the organization of the county June failed to carry off honors with the highest number of weddings. Five other months lead June last year, and December was made the month of brides with thirteen weddings to its credit, having a big lead over June, which has only eight to account for.

LIVING COST GOING HIGHER

Colder Weather Causes Prices of Edibles to Advance.

Flour, Sugar and Meats Go Up; Fresh Eggs Very Scarce.

Material increases have been shown in the cost of living of late.

Insofar as foodstuffs go, however, recent advances have been moderate, but substantial bulges have been recorded in general commodities with the metals setting the pace in that respect. The colder brand of weather during the last few days is considered to have been partially responsible for many of the advances in the cost of edibles through interfering with shipments from growers in the district or from distant producing points by rail.

After having shown signs of weakness during the last three weeks, the butter market is slightly firmer, though the quotation in the best creamery is unchanged at 33 cents a pound.

Fresh eggs have been obtainable of late at around 38 cents a dozen wholesale, but dealers say that hens will stop laying if it stays cold for even a few days, and that consumers will be again reduced to dependence upon the storage article. A year ago fresh eggs sold at around 50 cents a dozen, and they were hard to get at that.

Flour has gone up during the last week as a result of the bulge in the wheat market, and is now quoted at $6.35 a barrel for spring patents. This is, however, about 50 cents a barrel cheaper than at this time last year.

Sugar at $5.95 per 100 pounds for standard granulated is $1 higher than a year ago. The cause of that is laid to bidding for sugar in this country by the European nations and heavy contracts entered into by France and England for Cuban raws.

The meat list is higher, owing to advances all-round in livestock at Chicago. The market in hogs is especially stiff at the present.

Record Metal Prices.

Phenomenal advances have come about in all metals.

Iron and steel products and copper and zinc are now selling at the highest basis since 1907, and their trend is still upyard. The market in copper is officially at 24 cents, but sales were reported yesterday at 25 cents a pound at New York. This compares with 12½ cents at this time last year, and goes to explain the widespread prosperity prevailing in that trade.

Steel billets at $32 a ton, Pittsburgh, compare with only $19 last year, and No. 2 pig iron is quoted at $19.75 a ton as against $14.25 a year ago. So it goes all through that list.

COLD AIR, IF FRESH SAYS DOCTOR IS BEST STIMULANT

Officials of Duluth's health department, combining with similar departments throughout the country, are distributing many circulars with advice for persons on "avoiding grip and pneumonia."

This is what Dr. James J. Walsh, who is ranked as one of the most prominent doctors in the United States in the treatment of diseases of that kind, has to say:

"It is not a question of cold, but of the lack of fresh air, or at least its great limitation, that causes the higher mortality and morbidity, the increased death and disease rate of the winter season.

"It is true that when dusty air blows by people they are likely to contract a cold because there are almost sure to be more microbes in such air than the mucuous membranes of the nose can dispose of properly.

"Of course one must be comfortable, and even, if necessary, gloves and head covering should be worn, even though the old nightcap has gone out of fashion. The reason why our grandmothers wore nightcaps was that their sleeping apartments, as a rule, were so cold that they needed them to be comfortable.

"Cold, fresh air is absolutely the best stimulant we have."

GOOD OUTLOOK FOR SUGAR REFINERS

Cuban Cane Sugar Corporation Formed With Capital of $50,000,000.

American sugar refiners are looking forward to a profitable twelve months' trade. All interests are reported to have shown better profits during the last six months than in several years.

Preliminary to the launching of an active campaign in both foreign and domestic trade, and with a view to assuring themselves of adequate supplies of raw material at first, the Cuban Cane Sugar corporation has been organized with a capital of $50,000,000. It is said that options have been obtained upon plantations equal to one-sixth of the entire sugar cane producing area of Cuba and that extensive plans for their development are proposed. More than $43,000,000 will be invested in the plantations with their railways and machinery, and $7,000,000 will be reserved for working capital.

It is figured out that the present status of the European belligerents assures a high sugar market for the next two years and that the company should be able to accumulate during that period a cash working capital of not less than $20,000,000.

The agitation for the retention of the present duties on sugar coming into this country is thought to have influenced the opinions of legislators to such an extent that no changes will be made. At present the rate of duty on Cuban sugar is one cent per pound, but it is a cent and a quarter from all other outside countries, Cuba enjoying a differential with the United States of 20 per cent.

The claim is said to be well substantiated that sugar can be produced cheaper in Cuba than in any other place. Statistics in fact are reported to show that the island can make a fair return on sugar at 2 cents a pound, while the bare cost in other producing countries is placed at 2½ cents. The American organizers of the new Cuban sugar proposition are therefore counting upon good returns on their investment.

MILAN'S ILLEGITIMATE SON KING OF SERBIA

London, Jan. 13.—The Rome correspondent of the Star says that the illegitimate son of the late King Milan of Serbia has been proclaimed king of Serbia at Belgrade by the Austrian and German authorities. He has been residing in Vienna.

King Milan was ruler of Serbia from 1882 to 1889. His only legitimate son, as given in the Almanach De Gotha, was Alexander, who was assassinated in 1903. Alexander was succeeded by King Peter.

The only available record of irregular offspring of King Milan is a cable dispatch of two years ago, concerning Milenke Christich Reitchvch, described as an illegitimate son of Milan, who was said to have become involved in financial difficulties in Bohemia.

ITCHING BURNING PIMPLES ON FACE

Also Blotches. So Severe Irritated Parts by Scratching. Very Annoying. In Six Months

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"I had a case of skin trouble that was pretty bad. It came out in pimples and sort of blotches and would itch and burn and cause me to awake in the night. The itching and burning were so severe that I irritated the affected parts by scratching. They were principally on my face and were very annoying.

"After so many speaking favorably of Cuticura Soap and Ointment I decided to try them. I noticed great relief after having used a quarter of a box of Cuticura Ointment together with the Soap and in nearly six months I was healed." (Signed) Leander S. "Y" NIGHT SCHOOL PLANS NEW COURSE

"Personal Efficiency" Will Be Taught for First Time Here.

Students at the Y. M. C. A. night school will be given a special course in "personal efficiency" during this winter, according to an announcement made last night by A. L. Turner, educational secretary of the institution.

This course, recently introduced at the Y. M. C. A. night school in Minneapolis, has become very popular, Mr. Turner told members of the salesmanship class last evening, and it is his plan to offer it to the more advanced pupils. If a success, it will be tried out in the other departments, he said.

"We are going at the work from an entirely new angle," Mr. Turner said last evening in explaining the course. "Instead of giving the student mere information or technical knowledge, we are helping him to know himself and to go step by step through the development of the qualities that more than all the knowledge in the world mean success.

Millions of men start even in the business race, but only those win who possess the dominant traits of application, confidence, memory, judgment, personal magnetism, and it is these traits that the Y. M. C. A. instructors will build into the lives of the students."

VERDICTS RETURNED BY TWO JURIES

H. A. Dreves and Lily Iron Mining Company Win Actions.

Verdicts were agreed upon by two juries in district court yesterday.

In Judge Fesler's division, the H. A. Dreves company was awarded $246.03 from the Northern Cold Storage company as damages to a consignment of fish kept in storage by the defendant concern. The fish were in storage from November, 1913, to May, 1915, and when taken out were found unfit for use. The Dreves company sued for $784.50 damages. The defendant company counter-claimed for $156.93 storage charges.

In Judge Dancer's division, a verdict for the defendants was returned in the action brought by Mrs. Josephine Engels to recover about $1,200 in iron ore royalties from the Lily Iron Mining company and others interested in the lease of certain mineral properties.

DEMURRER FILED BY DAVID LAMAR

New York, Jan. 13.—David Lamar, the so-called "Wolf of Wall Street," filed a demurrer yesterday in the Federal district court against the indictment charging him with conspiring with officers of Labor's National Peace council and Franz von Rintelen, a German agent, to instigate strikes in munitions factories.

The indictment was brought under the Sherman anti-trust law, charging conspiracy in restraint of American foreign trade. Lamar claims that the allegations in the indictment are insufficient to constitute an offense against the laws of the United States, and that the whole document is ambiguous.

Similar demurrers have been filed by Frank S. Monnett, former attorney general of Ohio, and Jacob C. Taylor, president of Labor's National Peace council.

The special Federal grand jury will reconvene tomorrow when G. F. Emmons, general manager of the General Electric company of Schenectady, is expected to appear and give particulars of the strike in the electric company's plant last fall.

Oshkosh, Wis., Jan. 13.—An engine on the St. Paul road pulling the freight which leaves here daily at 6 p. m. blew up when several miles this side of Ripon Tuesday night. Three trainmen are believed to be fatally injured. They are Engineer Robinson, Fireman Babcock and Brakeman Lucas, all said to be residents of this city.

They are now in St. Mary's hospital after a hurried trip here on an engine.

NORTH DAKOTA GIRL PRIZE PORK WINNER

Edith Penno, Living Near Grafton, Carries Off First Honors.

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—While North Dakota boys were engaged in raising record yields of corn in the boy's acre yield contest last season, both North Dakota boys and girls were busy growing litters of pigs in the big annual pork production contest and Edith Penno living near Grafton, a girl 14 years of age, carried off the first prize of $100 given by the department of agricultural extension of the agricultural college and a registered Yorkshire sow given by Thomas Canfield of Lake Park, Minn.

EDITH PENNO
Of Grafton, N. D., Winner of 1915 North Dakota Pork Production Contest.

There were twenty-four premiums offered by the department in the contest and of this number eleven were carried off by girls—another evidence of the interest that the young women of the state are taking in farming.

Of the five highest premiums offered in the contest three were taken by girls. The second prize was taken by Kenneth Wood of Arvilla; the third by Martha Penno, sister of the winner of the first premium; the fourth was taken by Mildred Pierce of Ellendale, while her brother, Milltop Pierce, took fifth place in the contest.

Won Other Prizes.

In addition to the cash prizes offered by the extension department several of the contestants won valuable premiums offered by individuals and various breeding associations. Beside the Yorkshire sow won by Edith Penno, Martha Penno received $25 in gold given by the American Yorkshire club, Mildred Pierce received $25 in gold offered by the National Duroc Jersey association and a Duroc Jersey sow given by Peter Rutten of Osakis. Milton Pierce received $15 in gold from the National Duroc Jersey association, Joseph Delaney received $10 in gold from the same association and Earl Hammer won a Poland China boar given by J. K. Campbell of Slayton.

The work of Edith Penno will be of especial interest as her success was phenomenal. She won the first place in the contest with a litter of twelve Yorkshire pigs which at an age of 193 days weighed a total of 2,993 pounds, an average of 215 pounds each. The total value of these pigs was $155.58 at the fixed price of 6 cents which was used as the basis of computing the value of the litters of all the contestants.

Hammond had learned that the shortage had been reported. He leaves a wife and four young children.

Nearly all on board the Citta di Palermo, which was an armed vessel, were saved. The Brindisi was sunk Jan. 6 and Citta di Palermo Jan. 8.

"Coffee Don't Hurt Me"

Can he get away with it?

The drug, caffeine, in coffee, about 2½ grains to the average cup, hurts many coffee drinkers, at some time of life, and often hurts them hard.

Caffeine is a powerful irritant that unsteadies the nerves, races the heart, disorganizes the digestive organs and plays havoc with the health of a large proportion of coffee users.

Of course, there are some who go on drinking coffee for years, without apparent harm, at least they don't suspect it, until the cumulative drug, caffeine, has got in its work. Isn't it the best plan to play safe with health—quit coffee and use

STUDENT KILLED IN BOWL FIGHT

Annual Event at University of Pennsylvania Ends in Tragedy.

Philadelphia, Jan. 13. — One student was killed and six others were injured in the annual bowl fight yesterday between the freshmen and sophomore classes of the University of Pennsylvania, which was won by the first-year men. The young man who lost his life was William Lifson, 17 years old, of Elizabeth, N. J., who was taking a course in arts. The most seriously injured are: Gordon Smith, sophomore, concussion of the brain; Arthur Essick, sophomore, sprained leg; John Hill, freshman, lacerations. The others suffered from shock and exhaustion.

After the news reached police headquarters a detail of the "murder squad" was sent to the university to arrest material witnesses of the affair and they will appear before the coroner when the inquest into Lifson's death is held. The fight was one of the fiercest held in years of the two classes and Lifson's death was the first fatality since 1807. There were 700 men in the struggle, 400 sophomores and 300 freshmen. Some wore football tugs and were stripped to the waist. The first half of the fight resulted in a draw.

In the second period, the side which succeeded in having the largest number of hands on the bowl when the marshals blew their whistles, won the contest.

When the students disentangled, Lifson was found at the bottom of the pile with his face stuck deep in the mud. He was unconscious. He was rushed to the university hospital where he died. The actual cause of his death was not determined.

The sophomore class and the undergraduate committee, which regulates the activities of the student body, adopted resolutions last night recommending that the bowl fight as well as all inter-class fights be discontinued in the future. The resolutions were sent to Provost Smith with the suggestion that athletic events be substituted.

HELLO GIRLS KEPT BUSY.

Cold Weather Causes Duluthians to Do Business Over Phone.

Yesterday's cold weather kept the entire force of telephone girls at both exchanges busy up to a late hour last night, according to the managers, who report at least 10 per cent more calls during the day. People stay at home on extremely cold days and transact their business over the telephone, is the explanation.

Car Hits Funeral Auto.

Chicago, Jan. 13.—Twelve women and four men were hurt yesterday, one of the women seriously, when an automobile funeral car carrying a casket and more than a score of mourners was struck by a street car. The street car hurled the funeral automobile against a trolley at the curb, which prevented the motor car from overturning.

A Kidney Remedy That Never Fails

EXPERIENCED DRUGGISTS IN EVERY STATE RECOMMEND AND USE SWAMP-ROOT IN THEIR OWN FAMILIES

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root sells well with us because it invariably produces good results in Kidney, Liver and Bladder troubles. We sold a dollar bottle to one of the inmates of our Soldiers' Home near here, and after using it he brought in about one dozen gravel stones some as large as a pea, which he had passed. He states that he obtained wonderful relief from the use of Swamp-Root.

Personally appeared before me this 28th of July, 1909, Ernest A. Brown, of the Brown Drug Co., who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

DAVID BRYAN, Notary Public.

I have handled Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, kidney, liver and bladder remedy for twenty years and have heard plenty of favorable reports concerning it from my customers. They are satisfied with the results obtained from its use. I know of many cases where Swamp-Root has cured Stone in the Bladder, Gall Stones, Gravel, Catarrh or Inflammation of Bladder, Liver trouble and Rheumatism. I have used it in my own family with good results; and I heartily endorse Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root and believe it has good curative value.

Very truly yours,

The team was standing near the aly between Superior and First streets, hd when they started to run the rig irned over. As it turned, the horses verved and entered the alley, Tourille being hurled from his seat.

ROOKSTON'S LID PRONOUNCED TIGHT

resence of Grand Jury Said to Have Put Piggers to Flight.

Crookston, Minn., Jan. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Crookston is rapidly readjusting herself to the new condition since the saloons closed under ne operation of the county option law, ov. 27 last. Of the nineteen saloons operating, only three of the buildings re now vacant. Some have been ased as pool halls, some as store uildings and the balance have been continued as soft drink parlors or lunch counters.

An immense sale of "near-beer" is being sold in former saloons, which are now operating as soft drink places, and at the present time there is not a former saloon that is eyed with suspicion. Up to the present session of the grand jury there were indications some pigging was being done, but the adjournment of the grand jury for three weeks at the end of which time it was announced there were matters requiring considerable time for investigation, threw a scare into several, and at the present time Crookston is as tight as a drum.

Import Liquor.

Considerable liquor is being used, as Red Lake Falls is but twenty-six miles away, and orders mailed here in the morning are filled by the returning train in the evening, but this drinking is done in private homes to a large extent.

The grocery and dry goods stores report collections improving and the fear that a closed town would hurt business is rapidly wearing away, some of the leading business men to fight county option now state openly that were the proposition to come up again for a vote they would fight against the saloons.

CARDINAL MERCIER OF BELGIUM ON WAY TO ROME

CARDINAL MERCIER.

Brussels, via London, Jan. 13.—Cardinal Mercier, primate of Belgium, departed on Tuesday evening for Rome.

Cardinal Mercier planned to go to Rome in December for the consistory, but abandoned the idea because he was unable to obtain guarantees that he would be permitted by the German military authorities to return to Belgium.

FIRE CAR AGAIN IN SERVICE ON POINT

George A. Ball has been reinstated as an employe of the fire department.

On Jan. 1, Commissioner Silberstein decided to discontinue the operation of the fire car on Park Point, in view of the fact that the central station will answer all the alarms in the future, but a delegation of residents recently asked that the car be continued for use in case of emergencies. They pointed out that the aerial bridge may be tied up at some time, keeping the fire apparatus from reaching the blaze in time. The new pavement now permits travel on the Point.

After a conference with Fire Chief Randall the safety head decided to place the fire car in operation again and to reinstate Mr. Ball, who resumed his duties yesterday.

Rooming House Raided.

That police patrolman are carrying out to the letter orders regarding rooming houses in the downtown section was evidenced last night when Patrolman Le Beau, in a raid on a rooming house on Superior street, between Fifth and Sixth avenues west, arrested two men and two women.

The two girls gave their names as Lillian Smith, 18, and Laura Fuller, 18. The two men, colored, said they were William Chaney, 28, and James Key, 30. The girls said they had rented the room for the night, but they were not registered. Several bottles of beer were found in the place, according to police.

The men were released in $25 bail today for a hearing tomorrow afternoon, but the girls were held. They will be arraigned on vagrancy charges, police said.

IN PAJAMAS ON FRONT PORCH AT 4 A. M. AND 30 BELOW!

Fred McQuade of Twenty-seventh avenue east and Fifth street is certain that it was cool in Duluth this morning at about 4 o'clock.

Mr. McQuade arose at 4 o'clock to see how the furnace was getting along. That job attended to satisfactorily, he noticed that the wind was not howling with its former ferocity, so he thought he would step out to see what the thermometer on the front porch was.

Clad airily in pajamas and slippers, Mr. McQuade stepped out on the porch. "Slam" went the door behind him, drawn shut by a draft. Scenario: Mr. McQuade grabbing frantically to see if the door was locked. It was. Then much business of ringing the bell, beating on the panels and dancing a jig to keep the blood pumping as well as possible.

Before he managed to make himself heard, Mr. McQuade's curiosity as to the weather had been thoroughly cooled, and when he did gain admittance is teeth made such a noise that he could not hear the others ask him why he went out.

MINING COMPANY EMPLOYES WILL GET HIGHER PAY FEB. 1

An advance in wages for employes of the Oliver Iron Mining company will go into effect Feb. 1, according to announcement made this morning by John H. McLean, general manager of the company.

Mr. McLean was not prepared to discuss the percentage of increase, as full notification has not been received from the general offices of the United States Steel corporation in New York. The advance of wages of the employes of the corporation as a whole was announced by Judge Gary, chairman of the finance committee, about a week ago. Judge Gary said at that time that laborers would be advanced 10 per cent and other employes proportionately. Just what the proportionate rate means is not yet given out.

President W. A. McGonagle of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern road and President F. E. House of the Duluth & Iron Range road, both subsidiary companies of the corporation, are in New York and nothing could be learned as to the matter of increases of wages in connection with these two roads, but it is generally believed that many of their employes will participate in the advance. Trainmen will probably not come under the benefit, it is believed here, as they are working on union scales, but dockmen, trackmen, shopmen and other employes, who are getting under a certain salary, will get increases in their envelopes on the first of next month. It is expected that the advance will apply to all subsidiary companies on the same date.

The employes of the Minnesota Steel company will also come under the benefit extended.

It is estimated that almost 22,000 employes in Duluth and on the iron ranges will be beneficiaries of the advance. This will mean considerable for Duluth and the other cities and towns in which they reside, for a general advance of 10 per cent in wages usually is taken to mean that much more to be spent.

MARINE REVIEW OF CASE ASKED

Marine Engineers, Punished By Duluth Inspectors, Appeal to Westcott.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Capt. C. H. Westcott, United States supervising inspector of the Eighth district, has been asked to review the testimony taken in the case of William A. Long, chief engineer and Joseph E. Warneck, first assistant engineer on the steamer John A. Donaldson, last season. The licenses of both were revoked early in December by the United States local inspectors in Duluth, following investigation of charges that the Donaldson was permitted to carry steam pressure in her boilers in excess of the limit fixed by her certificate.

In the report of the Duluth inspectors, it was stated that the safety valve was found to have been set to blow off at 192 pounds, instead of 180. Besides revoking the licenses of the engineers, the inspectors reported them to the United States district attorney for prosecution for violation of section 4437 of the Federal laws.

Severe Penalty Provided.

The offense alleged is one of the few in connection with violation of navigation laws for which severe penalty is provided. The section of the law reads:

"Every person who intentionally loads or obstructs or causes to be loaded or obstructed in any way or manner the safety valve of a boiler, or who employs any other means or device whereby the boiler may be subjected to a greater pressure than the amount allowed by the certificate of the inspectors, or who intentionally deranges or hinders the operation of any machinery or device employed to denote the state of water or steam in any boiler, or to give warning of approaching danger, or who intentionally permits the water to fall below the prescribed low water line of the boiler, and every person concerned therein directly or indirectly, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined $200 and may also be imprisoned not exceeding five years."

Valves Locked Sometimes.

Under the regulations of the steamboat inspection service, revocation of license almost invariably follows detection of an engineer carrying excess steam pressure and as an additional safeguard the inspectors are provided with an ingenious triple action lock to be attached to the safety valve for prevention of any tampering with it.

The severity of the penalty is explained as due to the risk which attaches to any person on board a steamer whose boilers are subjected to greater pressure than the limit fixed by the inspectors. Small economy in the matter of coal consumption is said to be practically the only advantage gained by exceeding the limit.

PIONEER DIES IN WEST.

Lorenzo Davis, Who Came to Reed Landing in 1855, Passes.

Crookston, Minn., Jan. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The remains of Lorenzo Davis, aged 85, who died at Goldendale, Wash., will be brought here for interment. He was a Minnesota territorial pioneer, coming to Reed's Landing the winter of 1855 from Peterboro, N. H., where he was born. In 1868 he moved to Pope county and homesteaded near Crookston in 1878. What Is a Good Family Remedy?

Let's see first what it should accomplish.

Disease usually enters the system through the mucous membranes, whether contagious, infectious or organic. These membranes protect every part the skin does not cover.

Hence as long as the membranes are working right, nothing harmful is absorbed. Let the membranes become sore and inflamed, or lack tone, and the first defense is down. When this inflammation becomes chronic, conditions invite disease. But these membranes absorb our food and the air we breathe. Both must pass through them to be available. When these membranes are in trouble we have an inflammation. It may be in the stomach, the bowels, the lungs, or the nose and throat. That means constipation, indigestion, cough and colds. Each one of these further poisons the system with its own toxic product.

A good family medicine must counteract these poisons and tone up the membranes.

Inflammation of these membranes is catarrh, either acute or chronic. A good medicine must therefore be tonic—that is, restore tone—and it must overcome catarrh.

When you are really sick, call a physician. Before you reach that stage, take a medicine that will relieve the catarrh. Thousands who have got help from it will advise you to take

Peruna—A Reliable Tonic Treatment

Its success in relieving catarrhal conditions of the mucous membranes has become a matter of common knowledge. It tones the whole system, at the same time relieving inflammation. It regulates the digestive apparatus by giving tone to the membranes that do the work; it invigorates the breathing apparatus the same way.

Digestion and breathing are the portals of health. Keep them well and you are well.

So, on its record of 44 years, we say

Peruna Is a Good Family Remedy

Those who desire may obtain Peruna in tablet form for convenience.

BOILING HOT BATH FATAL FOR PATIENT

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 13.—The state board of control has been advised that Leslie Hanson, aged 21, sent to the state asylum at Rochester from Chisago county in 1914, is dead of burns suffered in a hot bath.

Alvin A. C. Fratzke, a nurse, has been dismissed for carelessness and infraction of the rules in calling Henry Ellerbush, a patient, to help subdue Henson and give him the fatal bath. Dr. J. E. Crewe, coroner of Olmsted county, is investigating.

Hanson, it is said, was violent on Sunday and it became necessary to give him a bath to quiet him. He resisted and Fratzke put him forcibly into the tub, calling Ellerbush to turn on the water. Soon he saw the water was boiling hot, and pulled Hanson out but the patient had been terribly scalded about the head and shoulders.

To Aid French Shipowners.

TODAY'S AID TO BEAUTY

An especially fine shampoo for this weather can be easily made at trifling expense by simply dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox in a cup of hot water. Pour slowly on scalp and massage briskly. This creates a soothing, cooling lather that dissolves and removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt. Rinsing leaves the scalp spotlessly clean, soft and pliant, while the hair takes on a glossy richness of natural color, also a fluffiness which makes it seem very much hevaier than it is. After a Canthrox shampoo, arranging the hair is a pleasure.—Advertisement.

CUYUNA POWER CO. MAKES TRUST DEED

Brainerd, Minn., Jan. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—In order to borrow money for the purpose of refunding its existing indebtedness and to pay for property heretofore acquired and for the purpose of enlarging, extending and developing its properties, the Cuyuna Range Power company, which supplies with electric power Brainerd and the entire Cuyuna iron range, has made a deed of trust to the Northwestern Trust company of St. Paul for $1,000,000.

Bonds bear 6 per cent interest. The property embraces lands and personal property in Cass, Morrison, Hubbard and Crow Wing counties and takes up eleven pages of description of the trust deed, which is a 37-page document.

An Unfailing Way To Banish Hairs

(Beauty Notes.)

Ugly hair growths can be removed in the privacy of your own home if you get a small original package of delatone and mix into a paste enough of the powder and water to cover the hairy surface. This should be left on the skin about 2 minutes, then removed and the skin washed and every trace of hair will have vanished. No harm or inconvenience can result from this treatment, but be sure you buy real delatone.—Advertisement.

Society • Women's Clubs • Music • Drama

THE program of Russian music that was given this afternoon at the meeting of the Cecilian society at the home of Miss Winifred Hicks, 2512 East Third street, included a review by Mrs. K. A. Ostergren of the opera, "Prince Igor," and dances from the opera, which were played by Mrs. Ostergren and Mrs. Stella Prince Stocker. These numbers were especially timely as the first American performance of "Prince Igor" was given at the Metropolitan opera house in New York Dec. 30, with Pasquale Amato in the title role.

The other selections on this afternoon's program, which was arranged by Mrs Leo Ball, were Tschaikowski's fourth symphony, which was played by Mrs. W. A. Clark and Mrs. Harry Strong, and a group of Russian folk songs given by Mrs. Ball. Mrs. Joseph Kuth was the assisting hostess.

"Prince Igor" was begun by Alexander Borodin ,who writes music in the intervals between his work as a chemist, lecturer and inventor. Although he worked at this opera for almost twenty years, at his death, in 1887, he had sketched only a few choruses and arias, some dances and parts of the libretto, of which Vladimir Stessoff was part author. The opera was completed by Glazounow, Stessoff and Rimsky-Korsakoff, it being not unusual for Russian musicians to finish the work of dead composers.

The opera consists of a prologue and four acts. The libretto was written in Russian but was presented in New York in Italian.

Story of Opera.

The story is that of Prince Igor, of one of the small provinces of Russia, who goes out to meet the Tartar hordes, leaving the government in the hands of Galitsky, his brother-in-law, who spends his time in drunken orgies and plots to gain the throne. Igor and his son Vladimir are taken prisoners by the Tartars but are treated with great consideration. The daughter of Khan Konchak falls in love with Vladimir, who returns her affection. Igor, who has a chance to escape, at first refuses to break his word, but, hearing that his city has been attacked, he leaves the enemy's camp to return home and raise a new army. Before Vladimir can follow his father the khan's daughter gives the alarm and the khan, to keep Vladimir for good, makes him his son-in-law.

In the last act, Prince Igor returns to his home and the treacherous Galitsky and his accomplices obtain pardon through a semblance of loyalty. The crowd acclaims the prince, who, with his wife, enters the Kremlin in triumph and the curtain falls.

John McCormack Will Be Heard Here Feb. 5

John McCormack is generally conceded to have brought the art of enunciation to a point as near perfection as ever has been attained by any singer. And thereby hangs a tale. It is an instructive tale, as well as an interesting one, for it shows how great lessons can be learned in simple ways and how faults can be corrected by painstaking endeavor.

When McCormack was a college student in Summer Hill college, Sligo, Ireland, he was requested by a friend to appear at a concert to be given by some of the townspeople. As a special inducement he was informed that he would receive the munificent sum of 5 shillings, or $1.25. He had never sung in public before and was somewhat diffident as to his abilities to entertain an audience, but he could make good use of the 5 shillings, so he decided to accept the proffered engagement.

JOHN McCORMACK.

At the college there was an old cook named Maggie, who was very fond of "Johnny" McCormack. Of course, she attended the concert. Among those who shook his hand and congratulated him after the concert was Maggie, the cook. "And did you really like my singing, Maggie?" asked McCormack. "Shure, and it was foine, Johnny, my darlin'," she answered; "but why did you sing in them foreign languages?"

All of McCormack's songs had been rendered in English, a language which Maggie understood perfectly well. He made no comment on her remark at the time but it sank deep. "If I can't be understood by Maggie who knows me so well," he pondered, "there must be a lot of others who can't understand me."

John McCormack will be heard at the new armory Feb. 5.

Efficient Housekeeping

BY Henriette D Grauel

Eight Hours a Day For Housework

Christmas day was chosen as a fitting time to declare a strike for an eight-hour working day by groups of housemaids in some of our large cities this last year. Reports do not say the strike was successful in anything but temporarily embarrassing mistresses who were also hostesses.

Such an action as this emphasizes the lack of cordial relations existing between mistresses and maids. We think "all work and no play makes Jill a dull girl." If we would look at all sides of the question, we would come to the conclusion that we only hear about extreme cases. Many families have the same help year after year, and sometimes it is the custom to give the servants gifts commemorating five, ten or more years of service. If conditions of household servitude were so terrible this would not be.

A New York paper recently gave money prizes of $5 to servants who had been in one home more than five years, and several hundred awards were made, while scores of women were found who had not changed positions for far longer terms.

It is true help is hired to do the disagreeable things ladies do not wish to do. They must toil from 6 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock at night, and their pay is from $3 a week to $8. But remember, please, that all this time the girl is learning a business. She does not work long at the lowest figure; nothing prevents her advancement.

I have seen immigrant girls "just over," entirely ignorant of the niceties of good living, secure places in the homes of women who paid them little but taught them much, and in six months these girls would be sufficiently well trained to demand the best of wages. Housekeeping is a business it takes a lifetime to master; housework can be learned in a few weeks.

Housemaids do work fourteen hours a day, but in this time they cook and prepare their own meals, make their own beds, do their own washing and ironing. Few employers deny their girls an hour or two a day for resting, and all this is at the expense of the mistress.

The arrangement of domestic service is one of the industrial questions of the day. It is included in discussions of the labor agitator and the economist, but it is not to be settled by strikes.

In considering the wage question maids should include the attitude of the man of the house as well as that of the women who hire them. Men see quickly how inefficient the household servant often is. After the work is planned for the maid, the utensils put into her hands and the materials provided for the work, constant supervision is often necessary. Often it is the man of the house, not the woman, who declares, "No girl is worth more than $4 a week and her keep."

The solution lies in more training schools for girls, a better understanding of the rudiments of housekeeping. More adaptability on the part of the maids and more considerateness from the employers will bring about a spirit of co-operativeness. Highest wages will always be paid for the highest sort of work.

Three Child Labor Days Will Be Observed This Month

Child Labor day, which was recognized by at least 9,000 organizations last year, will be observed Saturday, Jan. 22, by synagogues; Sunday, Jan. 23, by church and Sunday schools; and Monday, Jan. 24, by secular schools and clubs. The national child labor committee says: "If you observe Child Labor day the right way you may save 150,000 children from wrong conditions of labor.

If the Keating-Owen Federal child labor bill, now before congress, becomes a law, 150,000 children will be affected. More than 27,000 children, between 10 and 14 years old, work in mills, canneries, factories and workshops; 17,000, between 10 and 16, work in mines and quarries; and 116,000, between 10 and 16, work too long hours or at night in mills, factories, canneries and workshops.

The object of Child Labor day is to bring the bill to the attention of persons who are expected to write to their senators and representatives urging them to vote for it.

Lively Contest for Federation Presidency

A lively contest for the presidency of the General Federation of Women's Clubs is predicted for the biennial that will be held in New York from May 23 to June 2. Among those who have been considered as the successor of Mrs. Percy Pennybacker are Mrs. Samuel Sneath of Ohio, Mrs. Josiah Evans Cowles of California, Mrs. John Dickinson Sherman of Illinois and Mrs. George Bass, also of Illinois. The club women of Michigan want to see Mrs. William B. Williams, now treasurer, in the office of second vice president.

In the general federation there are 2,000,000 women who represent 9,000 clubs in all parts of the United States, the Philippines, Porto Rico and Panama. That the circumstances of these women vary widely was shown by one who inquired if there is a garage near the Astor hotel, as she wishes to take her automobile with her, and by another, who wrote she was going to turn her best silk dress for the event so she could spend for traveling expenses the money with which she could buy another. Some women hope to make $10 cover the cost of room and board for a week and others expect to spend more than that a day.

The excursion committee has arranged trips to West Point, the home country of Washington Irving and to other historical spots that may be reached by train, boat or automobile.

Saturday, May 27, Mrs. William Tod Helmuth, who was one of the organizers of the federation, will give a dinner at the Hotel Astor to the pioneer workers.

Bed Time Tales

Boasting Walnuts

Close by a country roadside grew a straight, tall, walnut treet. So proud and fine was she that she worked all the days to grow bigger. And all the nights she rested patiently, so that on the morrow she would be ready for more growing.

Now you would think that so wise and careful a tree would bear very wise and careful nuts—but it didn't. The nuts that grew on that perfectly good tree were vain and boastful things and gave the mother tree a great deal of care and trouble.

"What's the use of our staying here on this common walnut tree all the time?" asked one nut of another. "We are too good for such a fate."

"What else can we do, though?" asked another. "I know it is a shame to waste us this way; but we grow on a comion walnut tree—so how can we help it?" Which surely was not a very kind way to talk about such a good mother as those nuts had!

"I know what we can do," said a nut high up in the tree. "Mr. Wind suggested it to me only this morning. We can let go our hold on this old tree and he will blow us far over the country and we can see the world. Who wants to stay cooped up onto one tree when they have an invitation to visit the world? Not I!" And the nut shook its head very positively.

The other nuts looked enviously at the nut who had talked with the wind. "How lucky you are!" they exclaimed. "Do you suppose he would take us too?"

"Ask him yourself next time he comes by," replied the nut; "maybe he will take you all."

The walnuts kept very still and listened for the wind. It was not two minutes till he came blowing into the tree. "Please, Mr. Wind," they called to him, the minute he came in sight, "w'll you take us away from this common old tree? Will you take us over the big, wonderful world? And the wind quickly answered that he would.

Without waiting for a word of goodby, without even a thought for the mother tree who had cared for them, the selfish nuts loosened their hol and dropped onto the wind's back. He tried to keep his promise—he tried to blow them over the world; but he hadn't guessed how heavy nuts were—he couldn't carry them a yard! They dropped off his back K'plunk! to the ground below the tree, and some greedy hogs gobbled them up before they had seen a single thing!

But was the mother tree left all alone? Not at all! All over her broad branches were left nuts who were too good and kind to go—maybe you will just know how proud that mother tree was to see them, too! She sent up her sweet juices to them and ripened and mellowed them till they were the best nuts she had ever grown.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

The Hot Iron Sterilizer

Did you realize that a single application of a hot iron sterlizes all fabrics superficially and fine napkins, lawns, handkerchiefs and pieces of this description are thus sterilized throughout their thickness. Heavy linen should be ironed twice on each side.

The hygienic value of ironing seems thus to be established. In the country where line and yards may be had the boiling of the family garments would seem to be amply supplemented by the whirling and blowing in the sweet air and sunshine or bleaching on the grass. In the country only certain garments whose appearance counts, require ironing. This need not apply to towels and common sheets.

In the city, however, the case is different. Even if one is not germ crazy the thought must occasionally intrude itself that these lines of conscientiously boiled clothes flying from roof tops are liable to all the ills that a great city can let loose on the air. One will be justified here in using all the flat iron sterilization one's health or purse affords, economizing on some other of the overdone household tasks rather than this one.

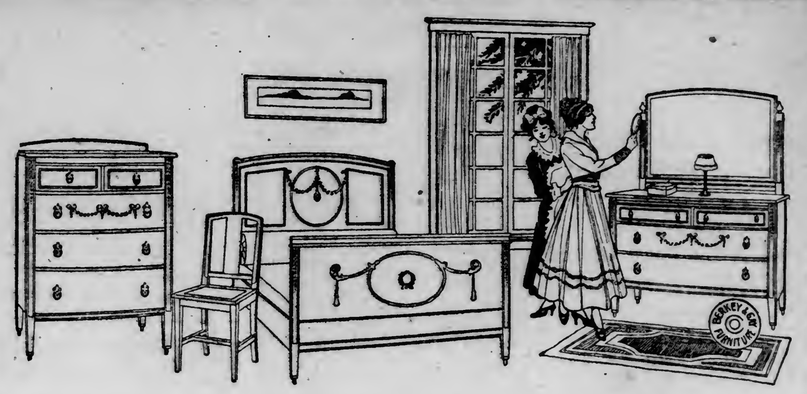

We are taking many strides along the paths of common sense and hygience in dress, and I trust that no backyard leap like that sometimes rumored of hoopskirts or petticoats may come to check this progress. Hardly this with the very much abreviated skirts that are being worn nowadays.

A dozen years ago the fitted and boned waist of silk or wool was worn by most business women during the winter months. Now the shirt waist, blessedly washable, is enregle, winter and summer. And with them part of the year we have skirts and coats of linen and other materials that can be tubbed. Indeed we are far ahead of the times when dust reigns supreme in our clothing, and we shall go farther yet.

If we can only contrive a way to prevent the fearful kickup behind of the autos so that our household goods may not be gray with dust five minutes after we dust them—but why grumble? We can't quite reach Utopia here below.

A Correct Interpretation of Prevailing Bedroom Furniture Style

DURING the years when furniture designing was at its height and the art was developed to its utmost, certain principles of design were evolved that would be followed for all time. The style in popularity changes from time to time, but if the pieces embody these basic principles mentioned, they are always in good taste.

The Bedroom Suite we are showing you here is from an organization of furniture makers whose every effort during a great many successful years has been the correct interpretation, not only of the prevailing style but of the fundamentals beneath it. So we offer this Berkey & Gay Bedroom Suite to discriminating tastes with the assurance that it is as correct as it is good intrinsically.

We would like to show it to you and also show you in the other pieces we are showing from the Berkey & Gay line the possibilities for correct house furnishing at prices you have often been asked for the very ordinary.

"THE BATTLE CRY OF PEACE" COMING

Spectacular Film Shows Invasion of America By Foreign Army.

Duluth is going to see the big "preparedness" motion picture, "The Battle Cry of Peace."

This picture, which has been classed as the equal in magnitude of "The Birth of a Nation," has been booked for all next week at the Lyceum, opening Sunday afternoon, and being shown afternoon and evening each day. The picture shows in a very spectacular way, the invasion of America by a foreign army. There will be an orchestra of twenty pieces heard at each showing of the picture.

Following is what the Boston Transcript said of it:

"A spectator at a moving picture is a callous sort. He has had sudden death and destruction served up him too often to have it ruffle calm exterior. Besides he knows this is essential to any film wo the price of admission. Thus in g eral he is able to sit unmoved, wh the dramatis persona struggle in midst of fire, or flood, or famine. is not because he is hard-hearted. is because there has become firmly grained in him the belief that so where in the last reel there will tucked away a happy ending. SIDE TALKS

Not Half So Bad

When I was a little girl I used to think that people could feel themselves grow older.

I supposed that a person of 40 or 50 felt very different in some way from a person of 20.

I shall never forget what a shock it was when an elderly lady of 50 (I don't call them that now), who used to visit my mother, told one day of going on a picnic with "the girls."

"What girls?" I asked. I wondered if any of my crowd had been included. I was then about 16.

"Why, my girls," she said; "the girls I used to go to high school with."

I didn't make any comment, or even smile, because I knew my mother's warning eye was upon me, but I got out of the room as soon as I could.

Some of the "Girls" Were Grandmothers.

"Four of them are married and have grown-up children, and even grandchildren, and I don't believe one is under 48," I said afterwards in telling my chum.

"And she calls them girls!"

We agreed that it was on the border line between the pathetic and the ridiculous.

I wonder if it would seem so now.

It's a blessed dispensation, isn't it, the way we all grow old together, and thus remain for the most part unconscious that we are growing old.

We Sigh to Find the New Years so Nimble.

We know that time passes; we see changes; we sigh over the swiftness with which the New Years arrive; we find to our surprise some day that we can look back and say, "Twenty-five years ago, when I was a boy;" but after all, these are superficial things. Our hearts don't change and our friends keep in such perfect step with us that we don't realize they are changing, and what are the great realities of life but hearts and friends?

If it were not for those younger and older than we, we should scarcely realize the passage of time at all. It's when the older ones fall out of step that we have our saddest realization of time's passage, but it's when the younger ones fall into step that we are made most sharply aware of the years.

Not long ago I went to the wedding of a neighbor's daughter. The other day someone pointed out a big boy to me and said that it was her son. "Impossible," said I. "That great boy! Why, it was only yesterday that he was a baby, and the day before yesterday that I went to his mother's wedding!" "He's in high school now," was the uncompromising answer.

The Landscape That Moves—Not We.

It is incidents such as these that push home the realization that the years are passing. But the poignancy of such experiences is mercifully brief. And for the most part we feel no more sense of being uncomfortably hurried along than one does in a limited train. It 's the landscape and the telegraph poles that are hurrying by, not we.

To those who have passed through such experiences, the recapitulation may seem hardly necessary, but it is not for them I am writing, but rather to reassure the young folks with their pathetic dread of growing old and their sense of it as something infinitely more abrupt and painful than it really is.

BEAUTY UNADORNED IN FILM.

Picture Coming to Orpheum Puzzles Mill City Censors.

The photoplay "Inspiration," which is coming to the Orpheum-Strand for four days beginning next Sunday, has caused little short of a sensation in Minneapolis, and Mayor Nye and a censorship committee were unable to agree as to the advisability of allowing the film to run. Mayor Nye, however, decided to let the film be shown. The following article appeared on the front page of the Minneapolis Tribune:

"Inspiration is proving bewildering. "Inspiration is a young women from the country. She is hit by an automobile, is carried into the studio of an artist who is seeking the model of his dreams, and provided the real inspiration for his figure of 'The Maid of the Fountain.'

Of course this is nothing but a motion picture proposition, but 'Inspiration' is none the less bewildering to some Minneapolis people.

"Somebody insinuated that Inspiration did not wear enough clothes while posing for the artist. The proposed board of motion picture censors is not yet entirely organized, so Karl De Laittre, another man and three women, all of whom probably will be members of the board, strolled informally over to the theater to take a look at 'Inspiration.'

"George Guise, mayor's secretary, reports that the two men who viewed the picture were slightly shocked and were disposed to prohibit its exhibition.

"Inspiration,' strange to say, made an immense hit with the three women critics. They were strong for her.

"That's an old state of affairs," declared Mayor Nye. 'Guess I had better take a look for myself.'

"When he saw the film yesterday he was chaperoned by Miss Julia Kriedt of his office force.

"Naughty,' declared Miss Kriedt. 'I should recommend certain changes. I agree with the men who viewed this film.'

"On the contrary,' declared the mayor, 'I agree with the women who saw it. I pass 'Inspiration' without criticism.'"

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Bennett offer a comedy playlet, "The Master." The sketch is filled with action and its moral tone has an appeal to every married couple that views the turn of the events that swiftly curb the meanderings of a husbanud who has forgotten his domestic obligations.

Lillian Walker, Antonio Mareno and others make up the star cast, presenting "The Model Wife," a two-reel subject, heading the photoplay program. One of the Marguerite stories, "The Spy's Ruse;" a cartoon comedy, "The Canimated Nooze Pictorial," and the Hearst-Selig News make up the remainder of the entertainment.

"When Jerome read 'Passing of the Third Floor Back' to my wife and myself," says Forbes-Robertson, who makes his farewell appearance in this city at the Lyceum tonight, tomorrow and Saturday, "we decided that it must be produced. We did not think that it would be a success, but even if it ran for only five or six weeks, we felt that the ideal, the optimism of the play, should be given to the public. It was the case of a misjudged public. The play ran for seven months in London, always with packed houses. Later we brought it to New York and there it had just as successful a run. Two more seasons in America did not wear out the appeal of the play, for it has been one of the most popular plays in my repertoire during my farewell tour of England and America."

PLAY WAS SURPRISING SUCCESS.

"Passing of the Third Floor Back" is without any particular situations, moving scenes or marked climaxes as these are generally understood, but nevertheless it has seemed to seize the fancy of an enormous public. Both in England and in America Forbes-Robertson has received personal visits from leading ministers of every denomination from priests and rabbis and leaders of ethical societies, all of whom seemed impressed with the message of hope conveyed in the drama.

The central character, that of the passerby, symbolizes the spirit of unselfish interest in fellow mankind. In this character Jerome has presented an unusual and daring figure, but so deftly and spiritually is the role acted by Forbes-Robertson that it stands out as one of the most notable portraits the stage has seen in this generation. There has been much discussion of his acting and of the play. Its power, which is too generally felt to be disputed, arises largely from Forbes-Robertson's marvelous ability to sweep away the footlights and bring the audience into close sympathy with the character and the theme.

"THE EDGE OF THE ABYSS."

Willard Mack—the same Willard Mack that played stock so many months in Duluth; Frank Mills and Mary Boland, who gained such a following as the popular young leading woman with John Drew, are the stars in the Triangle-Ince feature which opened at the Rex today. The story is truly a society drama and the interior scenes of men's clubs, beautiful homes, a wealthy lawyer's office, and an elaborate public banquet are no small part of its charm. The originality of the situations and the details are the elements that give the play its ability to grip and hold.

Secretary Daniels of the United States navy issued an order to allow Mack Sennett, Keystone director, the use of the latest type submarine boats, and accordingly one was detached from the San Francisco fleet to be used in the making of a "Submarine Pirate," appearing at the Rex today, tomorrow and Saturday.

MARKETS WILL BE CONTINUED

City Will Provide Facilities for Farmers to Display Produce.

Sale of Armory and West End Corner Will Not Interfere.

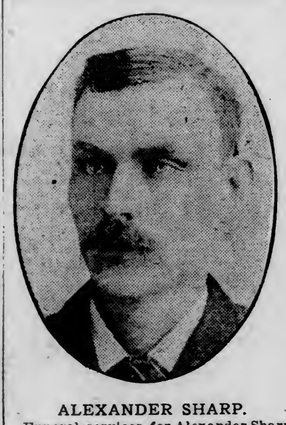

Mayor Prince this morning assured a special delegation of Duluth business men that public markets will be established in the downtown district and in the West end next spring.

Nine business men, representing the Duluth Retail Merchants' association and the West End Commercial club, called on the city executive for the purpose of learning what arrangements were being made for the establishment of market places next summer. In the past the city used the old armory and the corner at Twenty-first avenue west and Superior street for the sale of garden truck to housewives, but these places are no longer available. Those in the delegation were: Merchants' association—John J. Moe, George M. Peterson, A. B. Stewert, R. D. Annis, G. A. Wieland and T. A. Reynolds. West end club—L. A. Simonson, Walter Swanstrom and E. A. Swanstrom.

In all probability, the mayor told the delegation of business men, the northwest corner at Third avenue east and First street will be leased by the city for a market place. If satisfactory arrangements cannot be made, he said, negotiations will be started for the vacant lot back of the old armory.

"I am sure we will be able to get the Third avenue corner," Mayor Prince said, "judging from tentative plans already outlined. A market place will be erected similar to the one in West Duluth, which will be continued next year, as usual. If the West end business men will find a site suitable for a market place, we will gladly lease the property and arrange for the erection of stands. I would rather have them select the site, as they know the conditions in that end of the city better than we do. The council will take no action on a West end market until the club makes its report."

Here, give me a ticket."

Joaquin pocketed the coin, produced a ticket, and placing a twenty-five cent piece on it, exclaimed: "Children and fools, half price," and turned his back on his would-be insulter.

While bowling along at a thirty-mile-an-hour clip, a rear tire came partly off, permitting a portion of the inner tube to escape. The outer tire had pinched the inner one tight enough against the rim to inclose a considerable volume of air, thus causing the bulge.

LINDBERGH IS BOSS BAITER

Declares Interests Do Not Want Him for Governor.

Denies Personal Ambitions in Connection With Candidacy.

In a letter to The Herald, Congressman Charles A. Lindbergh reiterates his declaration that he will stay in the race for the Republican nomination for governor, and again asserts that his reason for doing so is a matter of principle and to put before the people certain ideas that he wants to advance. He also declares that the "special interests" are "pickin' on" him. He also declares party harmony secondary to the issues he is advocating.

After outlining, in detail, his reasons, Mr. Lindbergh had written "For that reason I am not a candidate for re-election to congress," and then he scratched out that sentence. The elimination of this sentence may give rise to a question as to the congressman's ultimate intentions. His statement, in part, follows:

"Inasmuch as a part of the press has been speculating as to what I may do ultimately regarding the governorship, I wish to give the facts and respectfully ask you to publish this statement for public information.

"From press reports it would appear that the bosses, who pretend to act for the party, are placing the offices which people have the constitutional duty to select, on the bargain counter for trading purposes. The death of our late esteemed governor was a sad occurrence, but the inauguration of a new governor was an official act even though it came in the form of an inheritance. The new governor may be ever so good a man—I do not question his purposes nor his ability. Neither am I rendered dumb by sudden turn of things, nor dazed by the slogan of 'party harmony.' These are not inherited conditions. I wish to know how the economic conditions will be affected before I will act in the interest of 'party harmony.'

Bosses After Him.

"The sudden and unprecedented stampede of the bosses, followed by the standpat portion of the press, all to bargain the offices that the voters have a right to select, does not betoken the people's good. Still, I would not blame the new governor for that, because there are other reasons that may be the cause. The special interests are determined to get rid of me if they can. They are willing to accept anyone except me. Why? It is not that I oppose 'party harmony.' There would be instant 'party harmony' if there were not a deliberate and adroit plan on the part of the bosses and the standpat press to deceive the voters. The opposition to me is because I treat the parties as instruments to serve the people.

"It is a thousand times more important to secure economic justice through social and economic harmony than it is to have 'party harmony' for the sake of the bosses. Economic justice is what the special interests wish to prevent. They know that I am presenting a plan for economic justice, and for that reason they would take a chance on anyone rather than have me become governor. They know that they would not have the slightest chance to work their schemes with me.

No Personal Ambition.

"I do not ask for the office for personal reasons, but I present a plan and am a candidate for that plan—not to guide me alone if I should be elected, but for any other person who might be. I speak to the voters through the plan and I say now that, if elected, I would put the plan into operation. I wish the governor to be elected upon that plan, and if the voters wish to give the new governor the office by election, I wish him to be elected upon my plan of providing a method of control by which the toilers in the field, shop and elsewhere, serving in the useful occupations, will each be substantially benefited. I shall be in the state, advocating a course on the part of the state government, which, if adopted, will make the people of the state more prosperous than they can possibly become if we continue as we have heretofore.

"I shall not trespass upon your space further, but much that the press has published of me and my position is in error, and I therefore suggest to your readers that my campaign pamphlet and a new magazine which I am publishing present the economic problems in their true bearing and will be furnished to any citizen. They make my course clear. I have not and never have been a candidate for a job, so there will be no trading with me."

REDUCTION IN EXPRESS RATES

Railway Commission Issues Sweeping Order Effective Jan. 15.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sweeping reduction in express rates in Minnesota, with special reference to Minneapolis and St. Paul, Jan. 15 next, is the basis of an order issued by the state railway and warehouse commission today. Reductions of from 5 cents to 35 cents are ordered on shipments weighing 100 pounds or less, according to distances carried.

The order, which is the result of an investigation of express rates in Minnesota dating back to April, 1914, makes St. Paul and Minneapolis a common point for rate-making purposes and further makes a reduction on what is known as second-class packages for points throughout the state. This includes the shipment of foodstuffs which have heretofore been carried at a rate of 75 per cent of the first-class tariff. The new rate fixed was at 60 per cent of the first-class rate.

By the terms of the order all express companies are instructed to keep an accurate statement of business done during the next four months so as to determine the result of changes and to see if an injustice has been done the companies. will thrill even those who have never visited Stevenson's beloved "Isle of Dreams," nor heard the distance-softened chorus floating faintly over the waters on velvet-dark Hawaiian nights.

"The Hawaiian Medley" on the reverse of this record is an odd blending of the wild melancholy and still wilder merriment of Hawaiian instrumental music. No one can remain unresponsive to the all-but-human notes of the South Sea guitar, or the rythmic throbbing of the ukulele—the appeal of Hawaiian music is well-nigh universal.

Maternity! The Word of Words

It is written into life's expectations that motherhood is the one sublime accomplishment. And if there is anything, no matter how simple, how apparently trivial it may seem, if it can aid, help, assist or in any way comfort the expectant mother, it is a blessing. And such is a remedy called "Mother's Friend." You apply it over the stomach muscles. It is gently rubbed on the surface, and makes the muscles pliant; this relieves the strain on ligaments, natural expansion takes place without undue effect upon the nerves. And as the time approaches, the mind has gone through a period of repose, of gentle expectancy, and this has an unquestioned influence upon the future child. That this is true is evidenced by the fact that three generations of mothers have used and recommended "Mother's Friend." Ask your nearest druggist for a bottle of this splendid remedy. He will get it for you. And then write to Bradfield Regulator Co., 407 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a most interesting book of information to prospective mothers. It is mailed free. Write today. It is a book you will enjoy.

STOPS FALLING HAIR

This Home Made Mixture Stops Dandruff and Falling Hair and Aids Its Growth.

To a half pint of water add:

Bay Rum ..... 1 oz.
Barbo Compound..... a small box
Glycerine..... ¼ oz.

These are all simple ingredients that you can buy from any druggist at very little cost, and mix them yourself. Apply to the scalp once a day for two weeks, then once every other week until all the mixture is used. A half pint should be enough to rid the head of dandruff and kill the dandruff germs. It stops the hair from falling out, and relieves itching and scalp diseases.

Although it is not a dye, it acts upon the hair roots and will darken streaked, faded, gray hair in ten or fifteen days. It promotes the growth of the hair and makes harsh hair soft and glossy.—Advertisement.

WHAT A SCHOOL SURVEY SHOWED.

The conventional public school system stands confronted by a gigantic question mark. It is not serving society and humanity as it should, and more and more people every day are asking why. When enough of them ask, they find out.

One result of this questioning spirit is the school survey. One result of the school survey is an arraignment and indictment of the public school system which most professional pedagogues complacently admire and labor earnestly to preserve as it was handed to them by their predecessors.

The public school is not serving society as it should. It is attempting the impossible—and utterly undesirable—thing of forcing all its products through the same mold. It is reckoning little, and that little mainly by futile methods, with society's need of intelligently equipped public school products, or with the pupil's need of intelligent equipment for the business of life. Too often the school survey condemns it as a wicked waste of good money and good energy.

Elsewhere on this page appears an article from the New Republic discussing the results of a recent survey of the schools of Portland, Oregon. These results a similarly intelligent and scientific survey would disclose in almost any community—Duluth not at all excepted. The article is offered with the earnest recommendation that it be read carefully and thoughtfully. It is particularly recommended to those who have lingering doubts about the desirability of a survey of the Duluth school system.

The system in Portland is, generally speaking, the system prevailing in Duluth. This system the survey finds to be valuable "only in its cheapness and facility of administration, and the relief it affords educational officers and teachers from all responsibility of knowing and of meeting the individual needs of their pupils." When communities get used to something better, the idea of neglecting individual needs and of laboring to crowd every pupil, regardless of capacity, talent and tendencies, into and through the same mold, will seem barbarously preposterous.

It is cool in Duluth.

ROOSEVELT AND THE PRIMARY.

Every few days Roosevelt has to call off some fool friends who try to get his name on the ballots for the presidential primary election in some state or other. And a few days later some more fool friends bob up in some fresh locality and try to get his name on their ballots. It's even said that some of the Minnesotans who would like to see the colonel a candidate are planning a trip to consult him personally and urge him to let them file his candidacy.

Of course Roosevelt doesn't want his name on those ballots, and if the fool friends would only drop their folly for a minute they would realize that there could be no greater error than to put him before the people in the presidential primary. And here is the reason:

Roosevelt couldn't run for the Republican nomination in any single state without splitting the Republican party wider open even than he did in 1912. He knows this. But he isn't despairing of getting the nomination on that account. And he is going about to get that nomination in a thoroughly logical way.

But the only way he can get it, and not bring about a certain and bitter dissension in the party, is by means of a stampede in the convention itself. Now no convention will stampede in favor of a discredited candidate. That is against all possibility. So if Roosevelt should go before the G. O. P. convention this year with less then a majority of the delegates—which he would have to do if he went before the primaries—he would by that very fact be irrevocably barred from being the objective of a stampede.

On the other hand, if enough delegates can be elected to that convention on "favorite son" votes in the different states so that nobody will have a majority of the votes present, then, after a couple of ballots, the way will be open for exchanges and swapping and log rolling and back-scratching for the next three or four or a dozen ballots.

Suppose, just at this time, somebody should start a demonstration directed at some reasonably well known individual who was not an active or avowed candidate, it would be the easiest and simplest—and surest—thing in the world to swing the convention, by clever manipulation and seizure upon psychological moments, to the nomination of that individual—that dark horse, so to speak, whether the horse happened to have flat horns and cloven hoofs or some other distinguishing mark. And thus could be accomplished something that would be impossible if that same dusky quadruped were to come into the convention with the rest as an aspirant who had fallen short of enough votes to be chosen on the first ballot.

Roosevelt's name on the primary election ballots? Not if he can help it! He knows politics and people too well. And though he may not explain the situation in just this way, it's a safe prediction that any pilgrimages to Oyster Bay to try to get him to change his position will be futile.

Maybe The Herald had better apologize for reproducing that North Dakota article about old-fashioned blizzards being a thing of the past.

THE BLIZZARD.

Piercing blasts and flying snow; the landscape blurred; snowdrifts curling curiously; the mercury reaching for the lower depths—the first blizzard and the worst weather in twenty-five years.

For the well-to-do and the wealthy, an adventure, a thing to make cheerful conversation about, perhaps a thing to grumble about a little behind fur-lined collars on the way from comfortable office to comfortable home with heating plant booming cheerily and spreading genial warmth.

For the poor in ramshackle tenements, a bitterness, a hardship, well nigh a tragedy. The cold seeps in through a hundred ancient cracks. Snow drifts in upon the floor. The stove sends its feeble warmth through a scant radius. The slender coal pile shrinks appallingly. For the poor, the blizzard is a frozen touch of hell.

Oh, yes—what's the latest report from the paper blanket users?

GOOD ADVERTISING FOR DULUTH.

The American Labor Legislative Review, in a survey of unemployment conditions during 1914 and 1915, gives prominence to the intelligent efforts made by the city of Duluth to relieve the hardships of unemployment.

This is good advertising for Duluth's public spirit and its grasp of its duty to the unfortunate.

That Duluth used intelligent kindness in its dealings with the unemployed during the war-wrought depression is a comfortable thing to look back upon.

It is also comfortable to reflect that conditions have so improved that this winter there is no unemployment problem to wrestle with—a mightily heartening thing to think about in such weather as that of the last two days.

"——An' the lamp wick sputters an' the wind goes 'woo-oo-oo——'"

WHERE DID THE MOVIE MONEY COME FROM?

The high cost of living isn't so simple a matter as some of us would like to believe.

For instance, there are the movies. It has just been reported that the movies now rank fifth among American industries, having crept up next to steel. That means that many, many millions of dollars are being contributed by the American people to support the amazing growth of this very new industry.

Only a few years ago there were no movies at all, and nobody was spending a nickel on motion picture shows!

In other words, despite the pinch of the high cost of living, the American people have been able to squeeze out nickels and dimes and quarters enough to flood the land with motion picture shows and to permit this twentieth century industry to rise to fifth place among the great American industries.

It shows an enormous economic reserve that could be drawn upon in case of need. It shows the enormousness of America's capacity for spending. It shows that not even a high living cost precludes modest popular luxuries.

After all, the Price trial may be only Minneapolis's way of coming back at St. Paul for the latter's mid-winter sport carnival.

In reading the title of Yuan I of China it is natural to mistake it for the beginning of a discussion in the first and second person singular.

Rippling Rhymes

Balmy Peace.

Oh, I believe in Balmy Peace; I wish to see War's horrors cease; I wish to see the sabre made into the farmer's pruning blade, and every gun that thunders now, I fain would change into a plow. I'd like to see the kings embrace, with rapture glowing in each face, and swear by Heck and Halidome, to keep their warlike hosts at home. And all my days I shall devote to robbing warfare of its goat; I hope to see the nations stand like loving brothers, hand in hand, remote from bitterness and strife—and to that end I pledge my life. I now am ready to orate in any town, in any state, which will put up a hundred wheels, and guarantee me bed and meals. I ask the money in advance, because I cannot take a chance on being stung by hayseed grads which hate to jar loose from the scads. Blest be the day when warfare ends! If you believe in peace, my friends, and hope to see the whole world free, arrange a lecture date for me, and I from war will take a fall, in schoolhouse, church or village hall, in tabernacle, tent or manse—the money strictly in advance.

What a School Survey Showed

Editorial in the New Republic.

If we are to have better schools in our cities we must know what kind of schools we have now. In an attempt to tell us, the school survey has in the last few years been developed with an admirable technique, and the passion for being surveyed has spread to cities large and small. No more illuminating document has come out of this effort than the recently published study of the school system of Portland, Or, made under the direction of Prof. Cubberley of Stanford university. It stirs enthusiasm because it shows the progress that has been made in clarifying the current problems and the ideals which must be realized if the public school is to prepare the child of today for intelligent participation in the society of which he will form a part. Former surveys have contented themselves with a criticism of details, or, at best, with a vague groping for constructive plan. The Portland survey represents a definite break with the tradition. It is characterized by a clear idea not only of how the system fails to meet the modern demands, but of how these demands can be met.

The investigators cannot, of course, explain how it is that one of the wealthiest and most comfortable of American cities, a city at once entirely modern and homogeneously American, should have the most mechanical and journalistic school system these educators had ever seen. One gets the sense of how without first leadership the school may become a little backwater in a community. In Portland, a city of 250,000 people, commercial and residential center for the great Northwest, these investigators found the "maintenance unchanged of a rigidly prescribed mechanical system poorly adapted to the needs either of children or community." "University practice," they say, "is enlisted in the maintenance of a rigid, minutely and mechanically prescribed system of instruction, organization, administration, supervision, examination and inspection. Any change in this elaborate mechanism meets with resistance, positive as well as negative. So far as this system is adapted at any point to the actual needs of the individual children and youth that come under it, so far as it is adapted to the needs of the communities for adequately trained recruits to serve the community, the adaptation is accidental, not the result of intelligence now operative at that point."

This is a criticism of an American institution, and Portland might be any large American city which has not had an educational awakening. The survey is significant because it shows the machinery and motives of public school education in this country for the last generation.

The viciousnesses which the investigators find in the Portland system are those which are familiar to all who feel the defects of their own schooling, or have set about to examine the reasons for the poor quality of the school output. On the administrative side there are all the evils that come from retaining a scheme of amateur control in a system which has of necessity become professionalized. A board which is directing a village school must keep all school matters under its supervision. But when that village has become a vast city, a school board which keeps the strings in its own hands is simply manufacturing wastefulness and inefficiency. A lay board which employs highly paid and highly trained principals, supervisors, etc., and then insists on directing all business—from the engaging of janitors and the personal selection of teachers to the suspension of by-laws whereby a schoolroom may be leased for an evening lecture or a teacher excused to attend the funeral of her grandmother—labels itself as archaic and unfit. It is one of the cardinal principles of modern political and industrial organization that it is a waste of money to pay salaries large enough to buy judgment, discretion and expert skill and then not permit them to be used.

This refusal to delegate responsibility, the investigators found, paralyzed initiative all through the school system. Nothing could be done without reference to an untrained body of laymen who, however conscientious they might be, must usually decide spasmodically and without any definite educational policy. Indeed their conscientiousness is often a positive vice. Shiftlessness on their part would have permitted initiative on the part of principals and teachers. Under present conditions the distinction between good teachers and bad fades out. The concern of everyone becomes to keep the machinery going, not to criticize the work and keep it adapted to the individual aptitudes of the children.

This administrative lifelessness has its counterpart in a pedagogical routine the focus of which is the "course of study." The curriculum is uniform for all children. It is "vivisected into fifty-four dead pieces," laid down in pages in certain adopted textbooks. "The only thought devoted to the formulation of the course of study," says the investigators, "was the simple mathematical thought necessary to parcel out the pages of the books." The teacher's duty is to haul the pupil through the course of study. This is done by means of the formal recitation, where "pupils answer hollow word questions with memorized word statements." Term examinations discover how many of these word statements are left in the pupils' minds. An elaborate system of inspection and supervision exists to check up and grade both teachers and principals and insure that the hallowed "course of study" is fully being carried out. Many of the teachers are trained in the local schools and turned back into the system to perpetuate these methods. A state tenure-of-office act keeps all teachers in their places.

The effect upon the children is logical. The school becomes an automatic process of elimination. Those who can be hauled through the course of study are hauled. Those whose talents do not lie in the capacity to memorize printed pages pass out of the school or become hopelessly mired in the lower grades." If the 16-year-old child has not yet transferred to his memory parts 37 to 54, inclusive, of the dead and comminuted curriculum, the chief constituents of which are abstract arithmetic and technical grammar, then he must begin with part 37 and appropriate that and each of the succeeding 17 parts in order, before he can even be associated with youth of approximately his own age, and before he can engage in study suited to his age and condition—study and exercises that will be of immediate and practical value to him in the effort he must shortly make to serve society for the sake of his own livelihood." And this system, formulated and approved twenty years ago by high educational authorities, the survey stigmatizes as valuable only in its "cheapness and facility of administration, and the relief that it affords educational officers and teachers from all responsibility of knowing and of meeting the individual needs of their pupils."

This type of public school, so bald and grotesque in the sober pages of the Portland survey that it seems more like the ritual of some primitive tribe than the deliberate educational activity of an enlightened American community, is yet the type that still prevails in the majority of our cities. This is the fact that we must face. Yet a community that asks to be surveyed is a community dissatisfied with itself. Other communities are likely to stir uneasily, and ask themselves why, if Los Angeles and Indianapolis and Gary can have modern and fruitful public school systems, other cities should not. We may even hope that it is the last of the old system and the promise of the school of tomorrow.

Too Modest.

Southern Manufacturers

By Bayard.

Washington, Jan. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The following is taken from a stand-pat Republican organ, and if true it is rather interesting:

Preliminary steps were taken at Charleston, S. C., this week for the formation of an organization of Southern manufacturers to build up a national Republican party in the South that will seek to have nominated at the Chicago convention next June an Eastern man, who will be acceptable to the manufacturers of the South. The manufacturing industries of the South have felt the effects of business depression, it is said, to a considerable extent, and realizing that the nomination of Mr. Wilson is sure, they are turning to the Republican party for the future.

It seems that at this meeting a poll was taken among 100 Southern manufacturers hailing from different states to ascertain their preferences in the presidential contest of 1916, with this startling result: Weeks, 64; Penrose, 19; Root, 10; Hughes, 6; Roosevelt, 1; Burton, 1.

A virile, healthy, genuine Republican party at the South would promote the public weal. For fifty years that party in the seceding states has been nothing but an organized appetite. One of its profitable industries was the growing of Southern delegations to Republican national conventions to be sold to the highest bidder. John Sherman knew how it was and did not keep his knowledge a secret from the world. At the South there were excellent gentlemen who sincerely believed in the principles of the party; but they were not in the majority, which faction was dominated by the carpet-baggers and the scalawags.

• • •

If the Republican party had had the wisdom and the decency to "reconstruct" the South on lines laid down by Abraham Lincoln and pursued by Andrew Johnson, at least five of the seceding states would have become as doubtful politically as New Jersey or Indiana. But Charles Sumner and Thaddeus Stevens bossed the reconstruction job, and the governments they made at the South were the most corrupt, the most odious, and the most infamous any Anglo-Saxon people ever endured. Ere ten years elapsed the Southern people overthrew these utterly scoundrelly despotisms, regained control of the state governments, and that civic revolution eclipses all other political exploits in the history of mankind.

Men forgive injuries; they never condone insults. There is the secret of your Solid South.

Of the eleven seceding states the Whig party was powerful and often triumphant in Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee and Louisiana. Maryland and Kentucky, that did not secede, were Whig states. And in Georgia, Toombs, Stephens and Ben Hill were Whigs, the last named a Know-Nothing who supported John Bell for president against John C. Breckinridge in 1860. But for the outrages perpetrated by the carpet-bag government during the day of Reconstruction, when Robert E. Lee was disfranchised and his former slave, a field hand, was eligible to the highest political station in Virginia, that political dogma of tariff protection that was a cardinal idea of the Whig party long ago would have asserted itself and a powerful Republican party would have been created in the Old Dominion. The same is true of the other states mentioned, and to them may be added Florida, where they grow citrus fruits and welcome "protection" from the pauper products of the West Indies. Even the influence of Andrew Jackson, yet living and venerated as he was, was impotent to carry Tennessee for Polk against Henry Clay in 1844.

John Sherman, a very wise and wary man, was a candidate for president in 1888. He made a tour of the South, addressed the people in many cities, and sought to awaken the old Whig sentiment. All intellect himself, he appealed to the minds of the South and besought the people to reincarnate the principles of Henry Clay. Blaine would have been a better man than Sherman for such a mission, for Blaine had flesh and blood; and even Blaine would have failed, for the memory of carpet-bag vileness was then too vivid. Before 1888 Blaine did try his hand in old Virginia, and proposed to bribe her to vote the Republican ticket with a congressional appropriation to pay the state debt that Mahone was raising the devil about. So far as I know James G. Blaine is the only great American who seriously contemplated laying the United States treasury under contribution to swell his party campaign fund.

The newspaper article quoted in the foregoing ends with the following artless passage:

> Heretofore, while a portion of the Southern manufacturers have voted the Republican ticket on national issues, they have taken little interest in the nominations. All this will be changed now, it is said. The manufacturer from the Southland will not only go to the convention, but will endeavor to see that the delegates from his state go to Chicago either instructed or pledged to the man who will be selected as the manufacturers' choice.

That's the stuff—a manufacturers' choice! Next we are to have a manufacturers' tariff a la McKinley-Aldrich, Dingley-Aldrich, Payne-Aldrich, a tariff writ by its beneficiaries, with which the vulgar herd, the vast majority, the great unwashed, have no concern except to foot the bills.

It is doubtful if it will work—this Southern end of the grab. The South's great crop is cotton. The price of that staple is fixed in the free trade market of Liverpool, England, and for nearly fifty years the cotton planter, selling in a free trade market, was compelled to buy his necessaries in the protected market at home.

And more folks at the South are growing cotton than there can be mustered manufacturers clamoring for tariff protection.

Sauce for the Gander

The New Republic: In connection with the proposal to increase our standing army to 500,000 men it is well to recall the bitter complaints that we as well as the rest of the world have uttered on the subject of German militarism. Germany, we have all found ourselves saying, is an armed camp. The military element in German life has become overgrown, choking the civil element. The omnipresence of the soldiers gives a military cast to German diplomacy, to the disquiet and danger of the whole world. A majority of Americans still believe that the present war could have been avoided if the German general staff had not been more than half willing to try their machine in action.

Now the strength of the Germany army just before the outbreak of the war was 800,000 men. Ten years earlier the peace footing was about 500,000 men, just the number our extremists would have for the United States. True, the peace footing was capable of rapid expansion to include the men who had served their two years in the army. But if we are to have an army of half a million, we shall be forced to adopt the plan of short service, and the organization of time-expired men in a reserve will follow as a matter of course.

We shall then be as militaristic as Germany was ten years ago, and to what end? Germany had the excuse that on east and west her territories were contiguous with those of two of the most powerful military nations in the world, bound together by an offensive and defensive alliance patently directed against her. What corresponding danger have we? Only a possible combination of Germany and Japan, countries traditionally friendly toward us and not too friendly toward each other, that would have to operate against us across thousands of miles of treacherous sea.

Political Straws in the Minnesota Breezes

Marvelous, Sherlock, Marvelous!

Dawson Sentinel: There is a striking note of unanimity in the announcements of gubernatorial candidates; without exception they all want the office.

Where the Justice Sees Ahead.

Benson Monitor: Charles E. Hughes refuses to be the Republican candidate against President Wilson. He is the wisest man in the Republican party and knows President Wilson's re-election is a sure thing.

And He'll Do It Again.

St. Peter Herald: Gunnar Bjornson, one of the leaders of the late lamented Bull Moose party, has issued a manifesto urging harmony in the Republican ranks. Gunnar has always been strong for harmony. He fought for it in 1912.

Naughty Business!

Jordan Independent: Despite the fact that so many learned editorial writers of Republican leaning and so many wise statesmen of Republican labeling have solemnly warned, stated, proved (to their own satisfaction) and reiterated that the last tariff law is a dismal failure, business would not wait. It persisted in booming anyway.

Think What a Tame State Campaign This Would Make!

Monticello News: In the Republican contest for president, the St. Cloud Journal-Press advises to leave slanderous criticisms of the candidates to the Democrats. If they do they can't quote Roosevelt or Taft, and most of the Republican newspapers. We don't blame the J.-P. for wanting to wash its dirty linen behind barred doors.

Don't All Speak at the Same Time.

Anoka Union: If anyone can tell the Union a single reason why Charles Lindbergh should be elected governor of Minnesota it would like to know it. His Republicanism is of the negative sort, and he's a fence jumper.

But It's Most Mightily Thus Right Now.

Belle Plaine Herald: Hughes positively declines to permit his name to go on the Republican primary ballot for president; Root likewise refuses to permit his name to be considered. Small fry like Cummins, Burton and Weeks—we'll wager hardly any of our readers know who Weeks is—are the only active candidates for the operation. In order to get a nationally advertised candidate it looks as if the party would have to fall back upon Roosevelt. It wasn't always thus in the G. O. P.

Roosevelt for the G. O. P.

Albert Lea Standard: One after another the available Republicans are declining to become candidates for the Republican nomination for president—the reason is plain. The people are for Wilson and are going to take no chances on trading horses while crossing the stream. The best bet today is Roosevelt, and this in spite of the fact that there are hundreds of thousands of Republicans who have a fit at the mere mention of his name—they would much prefer Huerta.

Fully Explained.

Fairmont Sentinel: "It seems to be uphill business to stir up enthusiasm for any presidential candidate in this state at present, and the presidential primary is less than three months away."—Princeton Union.

Want to know the reason? We'll tell you. The people are satisfied with Woodrow.

The Fire of Driftwood.

We sat within the farmhouse old,
Whose windows, looking o'er the bay,
Gave to the sea breeze, damp and cold,
An easy entrance, night and day.

Not far away we saw the port,
The strange, old-fashioned, silent town,
The lighthouse, the dismantled fort,
The wooden houses, quaint and brown.

We sat and talked until the night,
Descending, filled the little room;
Our faces faded from the sight,
Our voices only broke the gloom.

We spake of many a vanished scene,
Of what we once had thought and said,
Of what had been, and might have been,
And who was changed and who was dead;

And all that fills the heart of friends,
When first they feel, with secret pain,
Their lives thenceforth have separate ends
And never can be one again;

The first slight swerving of the heart,
That words are powerless to express,
And leave it still unsaid in part,
Or say it in too great excess.

The very tones in which we spake
Had something very strange,
I could but mark; the leaves of memory seemed to make
A mournful rustling in the dark.

Oft died the words upon our lips,
As suddenly, from out the fire
Built of the wreck of stranded ships,
The flames would leap and then expire.

And as their splendor flashed and failed,
We thought of wrecks upon the main,
Of ships dismasted that were hailed
And sent no answer back again.

The windows rattling in their frames,
The ocean roaring up the beach,
The gusty blast, the bickering flames,
All mingled vaguely in our speech;

Until they made themselves a part
Of fancies floating through the brain,
The long-lost ventures of the heart,
That send no answers back again.

O flames that glowed! O hearts that yearned!
They were indeed too much akin,
The driftwood fire without that burned,
The thoughts that burned and glowed within.

—Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

The Usual Fate of Favorite Sons.

New York Times: Certain Gopher politicians, classified scientifically by The Duluth Herald as "a delegation of Aggressive Progressives," invited Cyrus Northrop, president emeritus of the University of Minnesota, one of the most respected and most eminent of Minnesotans, to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for president, that he might emerge from the presidential preference primaries as Minnesota's favorite son. Dr. Northrop answered the sly ones setting a trap for him with this fine mixture of irony, shrewdness, and truth:

> My friends, you honor me, indeed! You propose to make me a candidate for president, to send a delegation to Chicago under my banner, and then to have them desert me at the first opportunity!

Exactly. That is the usual history of favorite sons. Whoever writes a monograph on that never-ending race should take Dr. Northrop's words as its motto and philosophy.

Correcting an Error.

Kansas City Journal: It is wrong to say that the Democrats are the only ones interested in the proposal to nominate Roosevelt on the Republican ticket—very, very wrong. The colonel himself is intensely interested.

Finance Committee Reports.

Philadelphia Press: George W. Perkins declares himself eager for another Progressive campaign, so there must be some of it left, after all.

THE WOLF BOUNTY.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Some time ago I noticed an article in The Herald written by Mr. Cox of St. Paul concerning the wolf bounty problem. Mr. Cox seems to be in favor of raising the bounty on timber wolves to $25, which I think a very good idea. He speaks of the large amount of money paid in bounty on coyotes or brush wolves, which I think was very well spent. He seems to be in favor of removing the bounty on the brush wolf as there have been a great many fellow dogs taken in and the bounty secured.

Now if he thinks these brush wolves are so harmless and should be left to the hunters and dogs to exterminate, I could not agree with him, for I have seen a great many times in the fall after snow came, where a bunch of these night prowlers had come to a deer runway and forthwith proceeded in council of war. Perhaps two or three would be detailed to watch said runway and the rest would take a large circle and come back on this runway and invariably they would bring home the venison.

Besides, they resort to other tactics to get a square meal, as they cover a large scope of country in a short space of time, and especially in the spring, when the fawns are yet too young to leave their birthplace, these sleuths certainly run on to a great many of them. Every young fawn they devour means one deer less the coming season. We have seen trappers smooth enough to present the same wolf hide to more than one county auditor and get the money; but any town clerk whom it might fall his lot to issue a wolf bounty certificate, or any other county official that would be such a chuckhead as to allow any man to slip by with a yellow dog, we suggest he be removed from office and sent to the home for the feeble-minded at the earliest possible date.

PREPARING FOR PEACE IS OUR PRINCIPAL DUTY

To the Editor of The Herald:

While the war is being fought, there is little we can do or say to influence its conduct. We can do what we have done—keep alive some remembrance of the rights of neutrals. That is not much, for nations at war do what they think is necessary.

After the war we will have all the influence we choose to exercise on shaping peace. If we have made ourselves ready, we can lead the way in establishing civilization—the true civilization that overcomes war because it is stronger than war.

We are now talking a great deal about the means of making war and thinking very little about the means of establishing peace. In other words, we are neglecting our job.

I do not ask any man who believes in having more ships and guns to abate by one syllable his demands. I complain only that those who can promote the cause of civilization are doing so little, thinking on it so little, preparing so little.

For example, the Pan-American scientific congress last week did a great deal to enhance the American system of national defense. As President Wilson said, the members came to discuss scientific affairs, but they could not help talking politics. The United States and the other American states did a great deal in that conference to make the common affairs of America a common trust, just as the convention that formed the United States' Constitution helped to make the common affairs of the independent states a common trust.

We have given that very little heed. If one man had been killed in an international wrangle, we should have seven-column heads on every front page, curbstone debates on every street corner, protracted discussions in every lodge meeting, fervent appeals from every pulpit.

But this quiet getting together of the American republics is briefly noticed in the press, and that little is more than we make any use of. We are too lazy to read even that.

Here is the way to peace, the way to permanent peace of a large part of the world, clear before us. And because no gunpowder is burned, we do not even bat an eyelash.

Whatever we ought to do about the means of preparing for war, we ought to be using our best intelligence and thought and earnestness in preparing for peace.

The American system of national defense is already sufficient for the purposes of a continent. Backed by alert public opinion, it can be made effective at once for governing the relations of these American republics with half the Old World, if not with every nation. Yet public opinion, which would cheerfully subscribe a billion in case of war, won't even take the trouble to find out what all this is about, let alone form a clear conception on it.

We shall have as much to say about peace when this war is over as we may earn the right to say by diligent attention to the ways of peace.

Reader, Eaglehead postoffice, Pine county—(1) What is the "fourth dimension? What mathematician discovered it?

(2) The line of no variation (the line where the needle points to the true north) is said to be slowly moving westward. Please explain the cause of its moving westward.

(3) Is Elihu Root author of the term "invisible government?"

(4) Has the currency of the Southern Confederacy ever been redeemed?

Ans.—Explaining the fourth dimension in limited space is "some task," but here goes. In a world of one dimension, everything would be in a straight line, and objects would be merely points. There would be no up and down and no side to side. In a world of two dimensions there would be no up and down. Everything would be a surface with length and breadth but no thickness. Our present world is a world of three dimensions. Every object has length, breadth and thickness. Mathematicians have suggested the possibility of a fourth dimension. We cannot comprehend it, but they argue that a man living in a world of two dimensions could not comprehend the third dimension. Nobody has discovered the fourth dimension, but many have hinted at the possibility of its existence. Speculation on the fourth dimension has little practical value, but if you are interested you will find many very interesting articles on it in the Duluth public library, and if you write the librarian she will lend you a book on it.

The line of no variation—that is the line where the true or geographical north and the magnetic north coincide—is moving westward at the rate of about three minutes of longitude a year, but scientists have been unable to explain why.

Elihu Root used the term "invisible government" in a recent speech, but he is not believed to be the originator of it. It has been a common phrase for many years, and The Herald has been unable to trace its origin.

Confederate currency has not been redeemed.

Wife, Ironwood—Will the Indian lid include the Gogebic country. If so, how soon will it take effect?

Ans.—The Indian lid has not yet been applied to the Gogebic country. The Herald of last evening contained an item giving the status of the agitation.

Subscriber, Eveleth—What railroads in different parts of the country were given land grants by the United States, and how many acres did each receive?

For what reasons were they given?

How many acres were given to the D. M. & N. and D. & I. R. by the state, and for what reason were they given?

Thanking you in advance for the answers, I remain.

Ans.—Land grants were given to railroads in the early days of the country, to encourage capital to invest in railroad building when the country was young and there was no prospect of immediate return on the money invested. The practice was doubtless abused in many cases. The Herald has been unable to find any complete list of railroad land grants, but some of them were as follows: 2,000,000 acres from the state of Illinois to the Illinois Central; 3,840 acres per mile from the government to the Missouri Pacific; 12,800 acres per mile from the government to the Union Pacific.

The Duluth, Missabe & Northern road did not receive any land grant from the state when it was built by the Merritts. The Duluth & Iron Range road had a grant of 606,720 acres. If you seek further information on the subject you might write to the librarian of the Duluth public library for some books on the history of railroad building in America.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Home Remedies For Sick Headache

WILLIAM BRADY M.D

Migraine or sick headache, which is much more common in women than in men and usually begins at puberty and continues until middle life, is probably a hereditary toxemic neurosis—or, in more humane language, a nervous disease inherited from one or the other parent, characterized by periodic seizures, like epilepsy, which are produced by some poison retained in the blood, by fatigue, by excesses, or by mental excitement.

But causes aside, what should be done for migraine?

Since attacks recur with more or less frequency it is obvious that the patient must beware of drug habits. Practically all of the popular migraine or headache tablets contain, as the pain-killer, either acetanilide, phenacetin, or an analogous coal-tar derivative, which, while it certainly knocks out any kind of neuralgic pain, also knocks out the heart and breaks down red-blood corpuscles. The acetanilide habit is more destructive than the morphine habit. It sends many a victim direct to the insane hospital. And this notwithstanding the fact that the tablets are "Guaranteed Under the Pure Food and Drugs Act," or "perfectly harmless."

Persons overweight who have attacks of sick headache ought to join the Bread and Milk club—no dues, but members struggle along somehow on a plain fare of bread and milk or crackers and milk one day in each week, to give the stomach a rest and sort of catch up with their toxins.

A diet containing little or no meat, but plenty of bread and butter, vegetables, fruit and sweets, has done much good for migraine. If there is a tendency to constipation in spite of such a diet, then either a mineral water laxative or any of the undoctored saline laxatives, like Epsom salts, or phosphate of soda, or Seidlitz powders, may be taken every few days, to favor the elimination of toxic matter.

Rest in bed, bathing the head with cologne water containing a few grains of menthol, or rubbing it gently for ten minutes with coryfin (a menthol derivative), and a tepid pack will give relief. Instead of resorting to the pain-killers, it sometimes suffices to take a little strong tea or coffee, hot, unsweetened, without milk, in sips; or in lieu of that the stimulating principle of coffee, caffeine, may be taken, a grain or two, with or without ten grains of sodium bromide in solution.

Certain cases of migraine respond well to prolonged and heroic use of our most hated domestic remedy, castor oil. About an ounce a day as a regular ration is advised by those who believe in it.

The cause for some periodic headaches is found in the nose.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Albumin Not From Food.

When albumin is found in the urine, must meat, eggs, white bread and salt be omitted from one's diet? Please give me a diet.

Answer—Not without particular directions from the doctor. Albumin in the urine doesn't signify any special kidney disease in itself. A diet cannot be determined upon such meager information. The albumin does not necessarily come from albuminous foods. There should be a microscopical examination also, and a blood pressure and heart examination.

Dr. Brady will answer all questions pertaining to Health. If your question is of general interest it will be answered through these columns; if not it will be answered personally if stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed. Dr. Brady will not prescribe for individual cases or make diagnoses. Address all letters to Dr. William Brady, care of The Herald. All questions will be answered, whether they come from people residing in Duluth or outside, provided they comply with the rules here stated. (Protected by Adams Newspaper Service.)

POEMS ASKED FOR.

The Herald acknowledges with thanks the receipt of the following poems:

"The Dying Cowboy," from Mrs. P. Carlson of Crosby.

"Sweet Bunch of Daisies," from Miss Florence Haley of Duluth.

Requests have been received for the following:

"The Tale of Two Glasses," from Louis Guyer of Ironwood, Mich.

Sweet Bunch of Daisies.

Sweet golden daisies,
Oh, how dear to me;
Ever I hear them,
Whispering, Love of thee;
Murmuring softly,
In a silent theme
Of love's bright morning,
Now one sad, sweet dream.

(Chorus.)

Sweet bunch of daisies,
Brought from the dell,
Kiss me once, darling,
Daisies won't tell.
Give me your promise,
O sweetheart, do,
Darling, I love you,
Will you be true?

Sweet withered daisies,
Treasured more than gold,
Bring back to mem'ry
Those sweet days of old,
When we together
Strolled thro' forests green,
Gathering daisies
Growing by the stream.

The Dying Cowboy.

As I rode from London, from London quite early,
As I rode from London quite early one morn,
It was then that I spied on a hand-some young cowboy,
All dressed in white linen prepared for his grave.

(Chorus.)

Then blow the fife lowly and beat the drum slowly
And play the dead march as you carry me on,
Take me to my grave and lay the sod o'er me
For I am a young cowboy and I know I did wrong.

Once on my saddle I used to go dashing,
And once on my saddle I used to be gay;
I first took to drinking and then to card playing,
Got shot in my breast and now I must die.

Go write me a letter to gray-headed mother
And press it so gently to sister so dear,
But there's another still dearer than mother,
How bitterly she'd weep if she knew I was here.

Go get me a glass of cold water,
A glass of cold water the dying boy said,
But before they appeared the spirit departed
And flew to the Savior. The cowboy is dead.

A FINE TREATMENT FOR CATARRH

EASY TO MAKE AND COSTS LITTLE

Catarrh is such an insidious disease and has become so prevalent during the past few years that its treatment should be understood by all.

Science has fully proved that Catarrh is a constitutional disease and therefore requires a constitutional treatment. Sprays, inhalers, salves and nose douches seldom, if ever, give lasting benefit and often drive the disease further down the air passages and into the lungs.

If you have Catarrh or Catarrhal deafness or head-noises, go to your druggist and get one ounce of Parmint (Double strength). Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved; take one tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head-noises, clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and mucus stop dropping into the throat.

This treatment has a slight tonic action which makes it especially effective in cases where the blood has become thin and weak. It is easy to make, tastes pleasant and costs little. Every person who wishes to be free from this destructive disease should give this treatment a trial.

Serving the Public Well

We believe that the public welfare is best served by our constantly making extensions and improvements to our existing property to meet the continuing requirements of the public for additional service.

In order to get new money for extensions, it is essential that we pay fair dividends. No man will put his money in an enterprise unless he is reasonably sure that it will be safe and that fair dividends will be paid promptly.

We have absolutely no "watered stock." A dollar has been invested for every dollar's worth of securities issued. This has been proved beyond all doubt by hundreds of investigations by commissions and governing bodies.

In order that we may keep the investment of our security holders safe and our service to the public dependable and continuous, we maintain a sufficient reserve to rebuild or replace our property when it is destroyed by fires or storms, or is worn out or becomes obsolete.

A consistent adherence to this policy has enabled us to give you the best, the most comprehensive and the cheapest telephone service in the world.

This Week's Sunday School Lesson

Written for The Herald By Rev. J. S. Kirtley, D. D.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON: JAN. 16.

Acts II, 14-17: Peter's Sermon at Pentecost.

CONNECTION.

We studied the coming of the Spirit in our last lesson. We saw the two objective symbols of the Spirit, fire and wind; we saw the evidences of His power—the unction of the people and the use of foreign languages. We saw that Peter was the spokesman, both to explain what had taken place and to appeal to the people for their response. The charge that the foreign languages were the babble of men drunk on new wine was disproved by the statement of Peter that, in accordance with the regulations, it was too early for them to have drunk enough wine as they could not drink it till after that hour, and, still more, the people whose tongues they spake understood them and said "we do hear them speaking in our own tongues the mighty works of God." But Peter was not on the defensive. He was aggressive as we shall see.

THE LESSON.

I.

The Appeal to Facts. 22-24.

"Ye men of Israel, hear these words: Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved of God unto you by mighty works and wonders and signs which God did by him in the midst of you, even as ye yourselves know; him, being delivered up by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye by the hand of lawless men did crucify and slay; whom God raised up, having loosed the pangs of death; because it was not possible that he should be holden of it."

1. CHRIST.—Peter told them of Him as a reality, told of His deeds and those deeds were known to them as "mighty works and wonders and signs," the very three words used to describe what we call miracles. A miracle is simply something that neither man nor nature nor both combined can do. But Jesus did such things, to the knowledge of Peter and even of those who put Him to death. Christ and His deeds were facts, are so today. Peter dealt with them as facts known to His enemies and murderers. His resurrection was another fact frankly urged, failure to which was unthinkable in the divine Messiah.

2. GOD.—God was seen in Him, for the reason that it was by the power of God that he did these things, and those things were the way God was showing that He was with Jesus. Peter saw something more, saw that God was giving up Jesus to the fate that befell Him as a part of the redemption of mankind; it was God's purpose that Jesus should go the full length of His sacrificial life. His death was the fact; His fulfillment of a divine method of salvation was the explanation. We admire the clearness and confidence with which Peter said it to the guilty people.

3. MURDER.—That was another fact. Some of those present must have had part in the bloody deed that Passover day. Anyhow, they were members of the nation whose representatives did it and they approved the deed. Here were clear thinking, courage and personal interest of a most passionate kind, interest in them, interest in Christ.

II.

The Appeal to Scripture. 29-36.

"Brethren, I may say unto you freely of the patriarch David, that he both died and was buried, and his tomb is with us unto this day. Being therefore a prophet, and knowing that God had sworn with an oath to him, that of the fruit of his loins he would set one upon his throne; he foreseeing this spake of the resurrection of the Christ, that neither was he left unto Hades, nor did his flesh see corruption. This Jesus did God raise up, whereof we all are witnesses. Being therefore by the right hand of God exalted, and having received of the Father the promise of the Holy Spirit, he hath poured forth this, which ye see and hear. For David ascended not into the heavens; but he saith himself,

"The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand,
"Till I make thine enemies the footstool of thy feet.

"Let all the house of Israel therefore know assuredly, that God hath made him both Lord and Christ, this Jesus whom ye crucified."

1. FULLNESS.—The Scriptures were full of the idea of the death and the resurrection of Christ. So said Peter, as he quoted their own favorite, David, and showed that was what he meant. That idea was expressed in figure and direct prophecy and, very strikingly, in the ceremonials given by Moses. The omitted verses, 25-28, should be read, as they give the words of David, on which the argument of Peter is based.

2. VISION.—It was the event that explained the prophecy. It was the resurrection itself that cast light back on the teachings of the prophets. It was the Spirit who had opened Peter's eyes to discern the truth. Here is the argument. David was promised a permanent and perpetual heir to his throne. That could be done only by such a one as Jesus, for the visible throne had long ago crumbled and Jesus could do it only as He continued to live after death. That required the resurrection. Such is Peter's argument, just what a Jew needed, though not the argument we need. There was another argument that Peter used, the incongruity of the death of Christ with out the resurrection. To live on in the grave was impossible to Him, the Master of death and life. David felt that and expressed it in the psalm. Here was another fact that convicted those Jews of the awful murder. The power that Jesus now has to send the Spirit and through Him do such deeds as they were witnessing. And further, Peter himself and the other disciples were witnesses to bear perfect testimony. Here then is the appeal to the facts they already know and to the teachings of their own prophets. That appeal is made with tremendous power, because this man had denied Jesus and had had an experience, he had been taught by the Spirit, had been given a vision into the nature of Jewish history and experience. It was all linked up with the purpose of God and the power of God. Such a sermon, so full of facts, so personal, so shocking and so full of God's power and His immediate presence could not fail to bring some sort of results. Let us see.

III.

The Powerful Effects, 37-41.

"Now when they heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and said unto Peter and the rest of the apostles: Brethren, what shall we do? And Peter said unto them: Repent ye, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ unto the remission of your sins; and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit. For to you is the promise, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call unto him. And with many other words he testified, and exhorted them, saying: Save yourselves from this crooked generation. They then that received his word were baptized; and there were added unto them in that day about 3,000 souls."

1. ALARM.—The man they had murdered rising from the grave and showing such power awed them. The Spirit who was doing such deeds stung them through their conscience. The meeting broke into personal conferences. Convinced they had slain their Messiah, they were filled with sorrow and perplexity. Peter's reply was that they must change their attitude of mind and then their conduct and show it by obedience to the command of the parting Christ to be baptized.

2. CONVERSIONS.—There were 3,000 genuine conversions. Repentance means the change of attitude and right about face, and that would bring a new recognition from God of forgiveness, God would send away their sins. This was for their children and everybody else who would accept it. They must commit themselves fully to Him and come with His people.

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

The Lord Jesus has no use for soldiers who are unwilling to wear His uniform. A hypocritical smothering of one's penitence would soon send one back to the world so much worse for having made the start toward Christ. Honesty demands that we make it clear just where we stand. If we wish to belong to the world let us not pretend that we care for Christ. If we give ourselves to Christ at all let us go the whole way and make the consecration complete. God and men alike have more respect for a stanch rascal than for a limp, lackadaisical fellow who carries the name of saint.—Goodchild.

Now, one thing is certain, you can't please everybody. If you please the good you will displease the bad, and if you please the bad you will displease the good. Start out with the idea clear in your mind and then you won't be worried at the antagonisms you will certainly generate (unless you are a mere nobody). But I hold it to be a true and defensible proposition that if you live in a community of good people and don't gain their good will, you are no true disciple of Jesus. For the divine life in a human soul wins love and devotion.—Goss.

FOR BRONCHITIS, SEVERE COUGHS COLDS AND WHOOPING COUGH

Make the Best Medicine at Home—128 Teaspoonsful for 50 Cents.

Money spent for the old style, ready-made medicine usually sold in bottles holding only 2 to 2½ ounces (16 to 20 teaspoonsful) is largely wasted, because most of them are composed principally of sugar and water. Yet you have to pay the same price as if it were all medicine. Stop wasting this money. You can make a better remedy for bronchial affections, at home at one-fifth the cost. Merely go to the Lyceum Pharmacy and ask for 2 ounces (50c worth) of Schiffmann's New Concentrated Expectorant, which they guarantee will give perfect satisfaction or money will be refunded. Mix this with one pint of granulated sugar and one-half pint of boiling water, which makes a full pint (128 teaspoonsful). This new, simple, pleasant remedy is guaranteed to relieve the worst cough or cold, Bronchial Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, Hoarseness and Whooping Cough. One bottle will make enough home-made medicine to probably last the whole family the entire winter. Children like it, it is so pleasant to take. It is unlike any other medicine, and positively contains no chloroform, opium, morphine or other narcotics, as do most cough mixtures. Keep it on hand in case of emergency and stop each cough before it gets a firm hold. The above druggist, in fact any druggist in this city, will return the money (just the same as done with Schiffmann's famous Asthmador) in every single case where it does not give perfect satisfaction or is not found the best remedy ever used. Absolutely no risk is run in buying this remedy—under this positive guarantee.

DIES FROM EXHAUSTION

Storm Is Indirect Cause of One Death in Duluth.

Grant Snider, 50, 23 East Sixth street, dropped dead in the kitchen of his home early last night, after a long walk in the storm to escort his wife home from work.

Mr. Snider had been ill with grip for nearly three weeks, and recently has been confined to his home. Overexertion caused by facing the strong wind while climbing the hill to his home is believed to have been responsible for his death.

"Before Mr. Snider went to the kitchen," his wife said in telling of his death, "he told me he thought his nose had been frozen. In the kitchen he took off his overcoat and overshoes, while I stood warming my hands by the stove in the dining room.

"Suddenly I heard a moan, and glancing up, I saw him fall. When I reached his side he was dead. He had never been ill with heart trouble. It was the exposure that killed him."

Ralph Snider, a son, is seriously ill in the pnuemonia ward of St. Mary's hospital, the mother said. The other surviving son is Elmer Glenn Snider, also of Duluth. Mr. Snider was a painting and carpentering contractor. He had made his home in Duluth about two years.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed, pending word from relatives in Western Nebraska, where Mr. Snider lived before coming to Duluth. He was born in Kansas.

FIVE INJURED DURING STORM

Five persons were injured in accidents due to the blizzard which swept Duluth last night and early this morning.

Oscar Engstrom, 705 Sixty-eighth avenue west, is at St. Mary's hospital with a crushed chest and internal injuries, as a result of a fall from a street car at Lake avenue and Superior street. He was standing near the edge of the rear platform, and the wind swept him off into the street when the gates opened. His condition was reported as serious this morning.

Patrolman Haus Thompson, 719 East Eighth street, sustained two broken fingers in a fall on icy pavement near Superior street and Third avenue west.

Ole Widing, 2302 West Second street, an employe of the street railway company, sustained a crushed foot while at work on a trolley snow plow at Carfield avenue and Superior street. A street car bumped into the plow, and Widing was standing too close. He was taken to St. Mary's hospital.

Ole Olson, Sherwood apartments, was slightly injured by a fall at First avenue east and Superior street. He was taken home in the police emergency.

Mrs. Anna C. Larson of Superior hurt her knee when she slipped and fell while crossing Superior street and Fourth avenue west. She refused to be taken to a hospital and was carried to the St. Louis hotel.

WIND SUBSIDES AFTER ONE OF STORMIEST DAYS

point was reached, outdoor existence was almost impossible, for even with a moderate wind the cold was so intense that it was almost unbearable.

The snowfall for the day aggregated 2.8 inches, and it added its modicum of misery by whipping the faces of pedestrians and those in open vehicles.

Property damage from fire and wind was considerable and cannot yet be estimated. One man died of exhaustion after fighting his way home against the storm, and five people were hurt by falls. There were also many small fires from overheated stoves and furnaces.

Stores Close Early.

Warned of the approaching storm by the weather bureau and alarmed by the rapidity of its increase, nearly all department stores closed early yesterday afternoon. The George A. Gray company closed at 2:30 and sent its clerks home and other stores closed shortly after, the latest to remain open closing at 4:30. In that way most of the clerks of the city escaped the worst of the wind in the labor of getting home. Trade was a blank during the hours in the afternoon that stores were kept open, nobody venturing downtown for anything unless it was a matter of life and death.

As a result of the storm two deliveries of mail to residences were abandoned yesterday and one business district delivery was omitted.

As has been noted, schools closed at noon yesterday, but resumed this morning.

The worst period of the storm, so far as the effect on people was concerned, was at 10 o'clock last night, when the temperature was 23 deg. below zero and the wind was sixty miles an hour, the combination being almost unbearable.

Weather Forecaster Richardson says that there will be some moderation of the temperature today, but it will again be 30 to 40 deg. below zero tonight. However, the wind part is over, the worst of it having passed about 11 o'clock last night.

The whole Northwest suffered from the storm, but at all points moderation is reported this morning. The coldest reported was 50 deg. below at Battleford.

All Trains Delayed.

The storm seems to have dealt lightly, comparatively speaking, with railroad traffic and telegraph and telephone wires up this way, but south, east, west and north of here considerable damage was done and trains delayed. All trains were late in arriving in Duluth this morning, but the Omaha and the Canadian Northern got the worst of the blow.

The railroads all report that the lines are clear today, as the worst of the storm is over and the matter of keeping the tracks clear has become a comparatively easy matter.

The Canadian Northern train which left here at 7:05 last night had not reached Fort Frances, Ont., at 10 o'clock this morning, and the train due from the north over that road at 9:25 this morning had not reached this side of Fort Frances at that hour, and there is no telling when it will arrive in Duluth, for after its release from the drifts there it is a good five-hour run into Duluth. The storm seems to have been more violent and the drifting of snow heavier around Fort Frances than in most Northwestern points reported, and all traffic thereabouts is tied up.

The Twilight Limited on the Omaha road, due at 10:05 last night from the Twin Cities, was held up the other side of Spooner, Wis., by the drifts and did not get in until after 10 o'clock this morning. The Chicago train due here at 8:30 this morning was over two hours late, and the second Chicago train, due at 1:20 this afternoon, will not get in until about two or more hours behind her schedule. On the Omaha road all or most of the trouble seems to have centered about Spooner, for it was there that the trains were blocked. The road is being cleared this morning, however, and no difficulty is looked for today.

Cut in City Fills.

The Northern Pacific trains in and out of here had considerable difficulty yesterday afternoon, last night and this morning at the cut inside the city, just beside the baseball park in the West end. About as fast as, or even faster than the snow was taken out of that cut it would drift in again, and considerable difficulty was experienced in getting the trains through there. The N. P. Limited, which left for the Twin Cities at 1:55 yesterday afternoon, was an hour getting to West Duluth because of blockade in the cut mentioned. The Northern Pacific train due this morning at 6:30 did not get in until 8:30, and the train from Fond du Lac, which many Duluthians patronize coming and going between their homes and business, due here at 7:20 this morning, did not get in until a few minutes before 10 o'clock. The Northern Pacific train from Staples, due at 8:15, did not get in until shortly before noon, and the Great Northern train from Grand Forks, due at 9:40, was several hours late.

On the Soo line, the train from Minneapolis, due at 9:30 this morning, was three hours late, and the train of the same line from Chicago, due at 9:45 this morning, did not get in until nearly 2 o'clock this afternoon. The Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic train from the Sault, due at an early hour this morning, was five hours late, not arriving until this afternoon.

Not Much Wire Trouble.

Wire trouble, according to wire chiefs of the Duluth Telephone company, the Zenith Telephone company, and the Western Union and the Postal Telegraph companies, was scarcely more than ordinary so far as the city and immediately surrounding territory is concerned. About midnight was the worst, for with the temperature rapidly reaching its lowest point, wires snapped here and there, but not enough to delay business out of Duluth for plenty of cables and single wires remained intact. Some telephone wires to Minneapolis are out on the Bell company's lines, but not all, and so far as the Zenith is concerned, there was some trouble between Carlton and Barnum, but that was all in connection with long distance service.

Locally the Western Union Telegraph company suffered to some extent in its A. D. T. and fire alarm service, for these wires gave more trouble than all the rest. As to telegraph wires, there was a minimum of trouble locally, but messages have been delayed to Chicago, and are taken, subject to delay, to points East and West, and to Colorado and the Pacific coast. Sleet gave considerable bother in Missouri and other points South and Southwest, also at some points in the East. The North American reports its lines to the Twin Cities and Chicago as all right, but like its rival, business east, west and south is handled subject to delay.

Street Cars Keep Going.

H. H. Brown, the new superintendent of the Duluth Street Railway company, got his blizzard baptism yesterday, and came through it well. Despite the extraordinary conditions of storm, snow and cold, no lines were abandoned, and until darkness set in, making running uncertain, delays were slight. Cars were seven to eight minutes behind schedule up to 7 o'clock in the evening, but between 8:30 and 10 o'clock when the storm was at its height, delays were more pronounced and some cars were stalled but extricated. One car was stalled on West Third street between Fifty-seventh and Seventy-first avenues, an East Ninth street car was stalled at Fifth street, and another car, stalled at Fifty-sixth avenue east on the Lakeside line, was not stopped by the snow but because of a breakdown. The plows were kept at work, but their benefit was only temporary as long as the high wind kept up. They were kept on until 3:30 this morning, when, the wind having died down, the tracks were clear and there was no further delay. The owl cars ran all night, and after the storm had passed, had little difficulty in making time.

FIERCE STORM AND COLD CONTINUES IN THE MIDDLE WEST

The Herald.)—On the anniversary of the memorable storm of 1888, St. Paul today experienced the coldest weather of the season. The thermometer registered 28 degs. below zero at 2 a. m. and had dropped to 31 below at 6 a. m.

The one thing which saved St. Paul from a repetition of the 1888 storm was the lack of snow. Although there was a fall of about seven inches yesterday, it was too light to cause the widespread damage that resulted years ago. It ceased snowing at 8 p. m.

A northwest gale, rated at thirty-five miles an hour, increased the intensity of the cold last night, but aside from that did little damage in the city.

The St. Paul road train from Seattle was eighteen hours late. The Seattle train on the Great Northern was sixteen hours late, and the Seattle train on the Northern Pacific was eight hours late.

Trains Delayed.

Grand Forks, N. D., Jan. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Railroad service is completely disrupted throughout this district as a result of the intense cold. One Great Northern train, Minot to St. Paul, which was due in the latter city this morning, did not reach Grand Forks till shortly after noon today. Trains from the Twin Cities due here this morning will arrive during the afternoon. Branch line service is completely paralyzed, and in one or two instances has been abandoned.

The temperature here dropped to 40 deg. below zero during the night. It went to 50 below at points along the Canadian border, but early moderation set in today under the influence of a southerly wind.

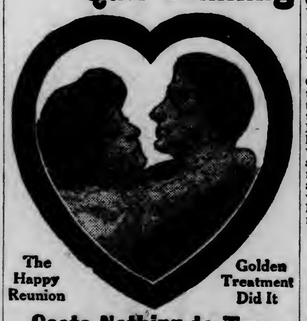

Gopher Thermometers Drop.

Brainerd, Minn., Jan. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local thermometers read 21 deg. below here at 5 p. m. Wednesday, 35 below at midnight and 42 below at 8 o'clock this morning. International Falls reports 42 below this morning and Bemidji 39 below.

35 Below at Barron, Wis.

Barron, Wis., Jan. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The local government thermometer registered 35 deg. below zero here this morning.

RUSSIAN TROOPS TAKE SADGURA, AN IMPORTANT CITY IN EAST GALICIA

the second object was attained, that the situation in the Balkans was sensibly relieved, and that the operation undertaken by the Germans against the French in Champagne was robbed of its force.

The fact that the French flag is now waving over the palace, on the island of Corfu, which belonged to the German emperor and that the occupation of the Greek island by the Entente is considered as complete, has, it is reported, already evoked a protest from the Greek government. It is said that the protest is largely formal and that the allies have given Greece guarantees regarding their intentions. The occupation is for the purpose of preventing the Serbian army from risking the danger of starvation.

Failure Complete.

The German offensive in Champagne, which reached its culmination Sunday, is insistently reported from French headquarters as having been undertaken on an important scale and with a definite military purpose. The failure is declared to have been complete, and the strong German forces which were employed suffered terrible losses.

The Austrian forces are steadily developing their campaign in Montenegro and military experts believe the fall of Cettinje is possible in the near future.

the support of the nation. Relying upon our own strength, on our industries and on our trade, we can produce what we need for our defense. These maintain the millions of workers who have remained at home, and they maintain our economic life in spite of the war. But above all things are the deeds of the nation in arms, filled with ineffaceable grandeur and heroism."

Dr. Hollweg insisted upon the fact that Germany, together with her faithful allies, not only resisted a world of enemies, but carried her flag into the enemy's countries. He continued:

"We are and always will be proud, together with our other German brethren, that the old Prussian spirit has shown its impenetrable vitality and has added new immortal glory to the heroic heads of our fathers and ancestors. Together with our king and emperor, we march toward the turning of the roads sure of victory. One thought fills us: To give all until the very last depths of the nation's power for the life and the safety of the nation."

GEN. CARRANZA TO PUNISH BANDITS

American coalition of nations should do it.

Senator Sheppard of Texas today received a telegram from Dr. C. C. Young of El Paso, saying that the Americans slain in the San Ysabel massacre had been invited into the country by Obregon. The senator said he would lay the message before the state department.

President Wilson told Senator Sheppard today that the Americans had been specifically warned to keep out of Mexico in reply to a suggestion from the senator that the situation was serious. Senator Sheppard said the president did not say what further action would be taken.

Letter From Ambassador.

Eliseo Arredondo, Gen. Carranza's ambassador here, delivered to Secretary Lansing today a letter saying he "deeply deplores the dastardly action of the Villa forces," and giving assurances that the Carranza government will act at once to "remedy the situation."

The killing of Bart Kramer, an American, by Mexican bandits was officially reported in dispatches to the state department today by Collector Cobb at El Paso. The collector reported Kramer was killed near Guerrera, sixty miles west of Santa Ysabel.

The department was informed that the band which killed the party of Americans Monday, was commanded by two former Villa colonels, Lopez and Bettran. Gen. Reyna also was said to have commanded part of the Mexican forces.

According to the dispatches eighty-five men were assigned to shoot the Americans. A force of about 500 men was reported near the scene apparently held in reserve. After killing the Americans, today's dispatch said, the Mexicans robbed the train and later retired toward Carretas.

Bodies at El Paso.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 13.—The bodies of eighteen Americans killed Monday by bandits near Santa Ysabel, Western Chihuahua, reached El Paso early today and were taken in charge by undertakers preparatory to sending them to relatives in various parts of the country.

The body of Joseph Enders, reported to have been killed, was not among those arriving today. F. E. Stephenson, secretary of the Mining and Smelter Men's association of Chihuahua, who organized the party that recovered the bodies, said that the heads were almost blown off.

"They were stripped of clothing before being dragged out of the cars and killed," said Stephenson. "When we arrived at the scene of the massacre a Carranza guard remained at Santa Ysabel, where we found a number of the bandits encamped. We returned to the troop train to get a machine gun, and then proceeded to the place where the bodies were heaped.

An expedition which left Chihuahua City to recover the bodies of the nineteen slain Americans were informed by the station agent at Santa Ysabel that two other men, Benjamin Snell and Frank Woods passed there bound west half an hour after the Watson train was reported in trouble. The station agent said he warned the two men to return, but they said they were armed and feared no trouble. Nothing later was heard of the party, and it is believed that they met the fate of the men on the train.

Massacre Deliberately Planned.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 13.—The Villa generals, Pablo Lopez, a Yaqui chief and Gen. Reyna led the men who killed a group of American miners on Monday near Santa Ysabel, Mex., and the massacre was completely close in the wake of a Carranza troop train, according to information gathered here.

Official statements made by J. Guadelupe Gardena, conductor of a train bearing the Americans, and Thomas B. Holmes, the only known survivor of the American party, indicate that the murder of the American citizens was deliberate.

Conductor Gardena, in an affidavit given to the British consul at Chihuahua, said that the train bearing the Americans was stopped by a derailed train in a cut. This train is said to have been part of the equipment bearing Carranza troops. The conductor said that Gen. Reyna held the trainmen under guard while the Americans were robbed and shot to death. Those who were wounded in the first fusillade were later shot dead.

Samuel Hill Is Sick.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 13.—Samuel Hill, son-in-law of James J. Hill, is seriously ill here with a bad cold, which had been reported at first as pneumonia. This report was denied. Mr. Hill, who is now a resident of Portland, has been in this city for a few days on business.

POLICEMEN GRATEFUL FOR SALARY RAISE

Members of the police department are grateful for the blanket raise of $5 a month, which they will receive after July 1, next.

This morning Commissioner Silberstein, safety head, received a communication from A. G. Fiskett, police captain and president of the Duluth Police Relief association, with the information that the organization at a meeting yesterday gave him a vote of thanks for the raise.

"It will help us fight the high cost of living," stated Capt. Fiskett.

The DOCTOR'S ADVICE

by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply in any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Ellwood Sts., Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

"Mrs. P. M." asks: "May I reduce my weight without exercising? I don't have time to exercise."

Answer: Would suggest you use five-grain arbolone tablets to reduce your overweight. They are harmless and many stout people have reduced from 5 to 50 pounds.

"Webb" writes: "I am nervous, tired, restless. All my ambition and energy seem to have left me. I don't seem able to apply myself to my tasks, and my duties, instead of being a pleasure, are irksome to me. I suffer with drawing pains at the base of the brain and have pains in my spine. I'm always embarrassed, afraid and listless.

Answer: Your whole system needs a tonic. Your nervous system is in an enfeebled condition as a result of impoverished blood. Three-grain cadomene tablets will overcome this condition by bracing and stimulating the circulation and building up the worn muscles and nerve cells over the body. Avoid dissipation and excesses.

"Midge" asks "How may I round out my figure, increase my weight and be healthy and strong?"

Answer: Many people increase their weight, improve their health and vitality by using three-grain hypo-nuclane tablets with their meals. I have known very thin, nervous people to gain from 5 to 50 pounds from the use of these tablets.

"Old Lady" writes: "I was always very healthy in my young days, but since I am older, I am bothered constantly with rheumatism. How may I get relief?

Answer: Thousands suffer from rheumatism, and the most successful medicine I know of is the following: 2 drams of iodide of potassium, 4 drams sodium salicylate, ½ oz. wine of colchicum, 1 oz. comp. essence cardiol, 1 oz. comp. fluid balmwort and 5 ozs. of syrup sarsaparilla comp. Mix and take a teaspoonful at meal time and again before going to bed. This has been known to relieve very stubborn and chronic cases of rheumatism.

"W. L." asks: "Why do you suppose I have such a sallow, pasty complexion? I think my kidneys may be affected, as I have pains in the small of my back all the time."

Answer: The pains in the back might indicate kidney trouble, and if you have headaches, your feet swell and your eyes have puffs under them, your urine scant with much color and bad odor, I would suggest the immediate use of balmwort tablets to relieve this condition.

"Spring" writes: "I have two or three boils on my face and my complexion is yellow. My eyes are dull and my tongue coated. I am very nervous and tired all the time. Can't sleep at night, and am constipated."

Answer: Your blood and nerves are impoverished and diseased. This results from continued constipation. Get three-grain sulpherb tablets (not sulphur). They should clean your blood, and digestion and stop constipation. The boils are indication of bad blood.

"Grace" writes: "My hair is awful looking. It is dry and broken and doesn't grow any more. When I scratch my scalp, a kind of white, scaly, oily substance comes off. I think it may be a kind of dandruff.

Answer: To overcome the itching scalp and make it healthy, use plain yellow minyol. The minyol will produce a beautiful, soft, luxuriant growth of hair by properly cleaning and stimulating the scalp.

"S. T. A." asks: "How may I get relief from a cold and cough, which 'just hangs on?' I am afraid it will become chronic, and I am already losing strength."

Answer: Start at once using concentrated essence mentho-laxene. You may either use this as it comes, in concentrated form, or mix it with one pint of simple sugar syrup as per directions on label of each 2½ oz. bottle. It is highly efficient in treatment of colds, coughs, etc. It opens up the air passages and relieves the system of the cold inflammation through the natural excretory organs.

SEVEN ARE INDICTED BY FEDERAL GRAND JURY

Blacksmith Gets Two Years for Robbing the Mails.

Tailor Indicted for Attempt to Get Rival Into Trouble.

The Federal grand jury made a partial report today and returned seven indictments. An arraignment of prisoners took place before Judge Page Morris and sentences were pronounced or trials set. Judge Morris in several instances gave some fatherly advice after pronouncing sentence. The jury went into secret session again this afternoon and a complete report is expected by tomorrow.

Arthur Ryan of Mendota, a husky young blacksmith, 23 years of age, was sentenced to two years at the Federal prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., for robbing a mail pouch on Dec. 15 last. Only a little jewelry was secured from the mail pouch and this was recovered by the postal inspectors. A large number of letters, however, were opened.

Judge Morris at first sentenced Ryan to two years at the reformatory at St. Cloud, but later changed the sentence, considering the Fort Leavenworth training the best in the country.

Robbery Poor Business.

"You are a young man," said Judge Morris in pronouncing sentence, "and there is no more honorable occupation in the world than that of a blacksmith. When you get out of prison go back to work and lead an honest life. You will find horseshoeing a more paying business than robbing the mails."

John Welhaven, a Duluth tailor, was indicted on a charge of sending an obscene picture through the mails. He pleaded not guilty, and will probably be tried next week. Welhaven is alleged to have been actuated by jealousy of a rival in the affections of a young woman in Duluth. Welhaven is said to have taken a partially nude picture of this young woman and mailed it to his wife, signing his rival's initials, hoping to stir up trouble for his rival. When the picture reached his wife, Welhaven took it to the postal authorities, charging his rival with the offense. Postoffice inspectors allege that the writing on the picture was Welhaven's although an effort was made to disguise it and make it appear like that of his rival. The girl admits, it is said, that Welhaven took the picture sent to his wife.

I. Fuda, former merchant of New Duluth, who was indicted for misuse of the mails to defraud, was indicted, but entered a plea of not guilty. His trial was set for Jan. 31.

William Peterson, about 21 years of age, was indicted on a charge of robbing the mails, and sentenced to eighteen months at Fort Leavenworth. Peterson has the appearance of being a clean cut young man, and Judge Morris took six months from his term after deciding to make it two years. Peterson was arrested while acting as telegraph operator at St. Peter, Minn. He said his home was in Minneapolis.

Viola Jones, colored, was indicted for smuggling a small amount of opium into the United States from Canada without paying the duty. She pleaded not guilty, and the date of her trial will be set later. She resides in Superior.

P. J. Rockett of Detroit, Minn., was indicted on a charge of introducing liquor into Indian territory, and pleaded guilty. He was sentenced to pay $100 fine and serve sixty days in the Carlton county jail. Judge Morris commented upon the good appearance of the prisoner and questioned him closely as to the cause of his entering into such a business. He advised the prisoner to lead a straight life after serving his sentence.

Justin Juln of Ballclub, Minn., was given a similar sentence for a similar offense.

A large number of liquor cases are still to be threshed out and one or more postal law violations.

Verdict Is Directed.

Judge Ensign in district court this morning directed a jury to return a verdict for the defendant in the personal injury suit brought by Harold J. Hanson against the Alliance Real Estate company. Hanson sued for $1,500 claiming that he had received injuries from being dumped out of an automobile which was employed by the defendant company in transporting prospective customers from Exeter farms to the street railway line at Lester park.

Ice and Snow Conditions.

According to the latest snow and ice bulletin issued by the weather bureau under date of Jan. 10, there were eight inches of snow in Duluth and the ice in the bay was seventeen inches thick. The current cold wave will probably greatly increase the thickness of the harbor ice and in the storm of yesterday 2.8 inches more snow were added to the eight inches reported.

CAR TICKETS TO SCHOOL CHILDREN

Six thousand street car tickets for use on Duluth trolley lines were distributed among public school principals yesterday, and will be used to transport pupils from school to the new national guard armory tomorrow and Saturday, when a "safety first" program will be given.

Railroads operating out of the city have combined with the Duluth and Superior Rapid Transit company in staging the program. H. A. Wright, director of the safety first department of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railroad, will come from Chicago to deliver illustrated lectures.

The various railroads interested and the traction company made donations to the committee in charge of the affair. Much of the money was spent by Chairman Glenn S. Locker in purchasing street car tickets. The traction company is prevented by the state laws from carrying the children free.

This was done to insure the attendance of every school child of the fifth grade or above. Teachers will be in charge of their respective classes and will pay all the fares, following instructions from Supt. R. E. Denfeld.

HEAR PROTEST OF LUMBER CONCERN

Arguments Made Against Increase of Rates From Duluth to Chicago.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, Jan. 13.—Arguments on the protest of Northwestern lumber concerns against the increase from 11 to 12 cents in the rate from Duluth and Minneapolis to Chicago was heard by the interstate commerce commission today. K. F. Burgess appeared for the Chicago & Northwestern road, against which the complaint is directed, and A. W. Clapp represented the lumber men. The commission has taken the case under advisement.

MONEY SENT FOR CRIPPLED SOLDIERS

John Cyrol, acting for a number of former German and Austrian subjects, now residing in Duluth, has just forwarded to the American Aid committee in Vienna, Austria, $105.25, collected during the last few days, to be used as part of a fund for taking care of wounded Teutonic soldiers. The object of the committee is given as follows:

"This committee undertakes to bring relief to at least a part of the unfortunates who have become blind or who have lost some of their limbs in the unfortunate European war. Many of these men have been thrown into abject poverty, although they have others depending on them for their living, while they themselves must be helped with artificial limbs or otherwise. They are unfortunate in the extreme. They did not bring on this war. All they did was to support their country when their country called on them. This was their duty, just the same as it is our duty to support our United States if it needs us. But now they are crippled and need help."

DIVORCE FOR ONE IN SIX

Statistics for 1915 Show Dan Cupid Often Aims Badly.

One divorce applied for to every six marriages.

That's the Duluth record for 1915, which has been compiled from marriage license records and statistics from the divorce court.

In 1914, the proportion was identical, showing that Danny Cupid is still the same little blundering, blind love sprite.

Closer calculations indicate that there has been a slight gain in the number of marriages and a slight decrease in the divorces, but the difference is hardly appreciable.

Comparison of marriages and divorces in Duluth for the last three years follows:

Year—	Marriages.	Divorces Applied For.
1913	1,209	191
1914	1,243	204
1915	1,252	194

The divorce courts seemed as busy as ever last year and, although no record is kept of the number of divorces granted from year to year, the number of applications for divorce may be easily counted. In 1915 there were 194.

During certain periods of the year—particularly at the opening of every term of court—the divorce court vies with the marriage license counter for the honors of the day.

RAIG TO BE HEAD AGAIN

uluthian to Be Re-Elected President of State Agricultural Society.

orthern Minnesota Delegates Are Working for Amendment No. 1.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 13.—(Special The Herald.)—President Charles P. aig of Duluth, president of the nnesota State Agricultural society, pears to have no opposition to re-ection and is expected to be unani-usly chosen when the election of ficers comes up at the meeting of e society tomorrow.

Yesterday's session was taken up gely with the work of the Asso-tion of Federated County Fairs, ich works in conjunction with the te fair in preparing annual ex-bits.

The association was unanimous in oring a larger appropriation for the nty fairs than was given by the t legislature, which voted $85,000 the work.

apers were read yesterday by Miss ues K. Burns of Sauk Rapids, who d of the relation of schools to fairs; C. Churchill of Windom, who spoke the concessions, and John Dwan of o Harbors, who spoke of the gen-al result of the county fairs.

Many of the delegates from North-n Minnesota are carrying on an ac-e propaganda for the passage of endment No. 1, which will head the ite ticket at the November election d which creates a revolving fund r clearing a part of every forty of the land offered for sale, the cost be added to the purchase price and be repaid in installments.

President Craig's Address.

The feature of the morning session day was the annual address of Presi-t C. P. Craig of Duluth, delivered response to an address of welcome, cretary J. C. Simpson also reported. her addresses today were: "Enter-nment and Its Economic Relation the State Fair," Ray P. Speer, su-rintendent publicity, M. S. P. & E. ilr. Drainage," Walter Madsen, tchinson, Minn., F. E. Gardner, nson, Minn.; "Benefit of a State ir to a State," De Witt C. Wing, as-iate editor, Breeders' Gazette, Chi-go; "What the City Visitor Can Get t of the Minnesota State Fair," E. Warner, St. Paul; "State Fair Farm ys' Camp; Its Value to the Farm ys of Minnesota," R. C. Coffin, as-tant state secretary, Y. M. C. A., naeapolis, Minn.

What Fair Needs.

President Craig, in his address, spoke the high rank of the Minnesota ir and of some of the needs. He said, part:

President Craig said in part:

"The two outstanding problems be-re us today are: First, more and a tter permanent equipment; and, sec-d, a fuller recognition on the part of e people of this state of the true ction and value of the state fair as educational institution.

"Our state fair, holding an undis-ted first rank in state fairs of the ion, but possessing an equipment, ich, in proportion to the size of the r and its importance, ranks it among lower 25 per cent of state fairs, not certainly be said to be properly ipped.

"We are today suffering in our live ck department. That department being held back by reason of the merous scattered, poorly adapted, anitary, fire-trap buildings in which compel the breeders to place their luable animals. We all recognize d admit this to be a fact.

"There are entirely too many small nporary buildings of every nature the grounds, which scatter the ex-bits to an extent that dissipates ir value and makes it burdensome for visitors to get from one exhibit to another in good weather, and impossible in bad. Each one of the three remaining angles in the Agricultural building should be improved similar to what was done in the southeast angle for housing the exhibit of the college of agriculture, thereby making of this a large exposition building into which can be moved the school exhibits and other homogeneous departments, so as to concentrate as far as possible allied exhibits, thus making it easier for visitors.

Would Have Cafeteria.

"The northwest angle of this building, on account of topography, lends itself admirably to a large cafeteria on the ground floor and under the main exhibit floor. This ought to be lined with glazed tile and fitted up in a perfectly first-class, permanent, sanitary way, and operated in a first-class manner. The northeast and northwest angles should be built in this year.

"What is the duty of the state to this institution? Should it support the fair measurably, at least, as it does other educational institutions, or should the fair be left to shift for itself, and be operated on the principle of collecting from patrons and exhibitors sufficient for not only the conduct of the fair and paying for premiums, but the maintenance of the nearly $2,000,000 worth of property belonging to the state, and the replacing of the same as it wears out, or becomes obsolescent, and for the construction of new and permanent accommodations for the state as the demand arises? In short, should we compel the board to subordinate the educational to the commercial?

"The state fair is, in my judgment, the greatest existing exponent of that most important of all methods of imparting instruction, viz., exposition and model. It brings together the highest accomplishment in products from the farm and from the factory, acceptably staged, at nominal admission cost, thus bringing it within the range not of the few who can attend schools, but of the great masses who are performing the world's work, and surrounds it all with good music, high-class entertainment, art and science, in such happy equipoise as to make it not alone a people's school of practical, liberal arts and sciences, but of fine arts and entertainment as well.

"Our fair is and has been a leader among state fairs. It can and will continue to lead, if provision is made for it which, in proportion to its size, is the equal of what other states in the last five years have been providing for their state fairs in larger and larger degree.

Why the State Should Pay.

But why should not the state assume financial responsibility? Does not the nearly $2,000,000 worth of property at Hamline belong absolutely to the state of Minnesota? Is not the Minnesota State Agricultural society provided for by the statutes of Minnesota, and authorized, through a board of managers elected by the society, to conduct a fair as a branch of the state's educational activities? This clearly makes the Minnesota state fair a department of state. And yet many men in the state and biennially in the legislature stumble and become obsessed with the idea that this is a private institution conducted for the glory and profit of the Minnesota State Agricultural society, which is being given the use of the state's property without charge, and ought to be thankful that a rental is not insisted upon for its use.

"This is unfortunate, but it will continue for another decade and hamper the progress of this institution unless one of two things happens: Either you gentlemen must, in your several localities scattered in every county in this state, create a positive sentiment in contradiction of this feeling so that men will come to the legislature with a different attitude of mind, or else you must adopt some method by which you hitch this institution more closely to the state and make it correspond in every respect, including the matter of appointment of management, with the other departments, so that the legislature must assume the financial responsibility for this educational department of state as well as for the university and all others.

Not Ready for Free Fairs.

"The matter of free admissions to state fairs is just now attracting much attention in different states. A few have given it a trial. While this step may come about in time, it is not, in my judgment, worthy of serious consideration by us today. I believe there is no place a man can go in the state of Minnesota where he gets so much for his money as when he pays 50 cents at a turnstile of the Minnesota state fair. I do not believe any Minnesotan, however humble, objects to paying. But I do believe that an institution which annually collects an exposition of products, agricultural and industrial, of livestock, machinery, art, entertainment, etc., of the educational value of that which is presented each year at the Minnesota state fair, and distributes nearly $60,000 in premiums to the exhibitors who make the fair, ought to have furnished it by the state adequate equipment for the staging of these exhibits to the best advantage and for the convenience of the exhibitor and patrons, and there should be money provided for the permanent maintenance of such equipment. All expenses proper of the fair can well be expected to come from the receipts, but not the equipment.

As to the Twin Cities.

"When my service on this board began six years ago there was a serious contention as to whether the Twin Cities did not monopolize an undue proportion of the benefits from the state fair, and that therefore no support should be given to appropriations for the fair on the part of country members. Happily, in the intervening years that question has solved itself, and we now understand that our state fair could not be the fair of largest attendance of all the states, nor would it be able to disburse the largest premium fund annually of any state fair in the Union, except for the support given it by the attendance of Twin City people. On the other hand, I have found no Twin City man who is not willing to go to the limit in any direction that will make the fair of larger value to the state. We may now consign this acrimonious question to the rubbish heap.

About County Fairs.

"There was at the commencement of my service on this board a very widespread impression that you must minimize the value of the state fair and cut off from it all state support in order that county fairs might be built up. Happily the intervening years have solved this problem, and today we understand that the county fair is merely the complement of the state fair, just as the grade schools are the complement of the high schools, and that without the grade schools the scholarship standard of the high school must be low indeed, and per contra, without the high schools the limitations placed upon the more ambitious youth of our land would be greatly curtailed. This is another controversy which can go glimmering down to oblivion.

"So far as I know this disposes of all of the real controversies that exist, and I see no reason why at this annual meeting, and from this day on, there may not be the greatest possible degree of co-operation and enthusiasm in the making of a better Minnesota state fair, springing alike from the city and the country, county fair managements and the state fair management, universities and other educational institutions, and that we may today take new life and make new resolutions for the future that will effect such a change in sentiment throughout the state as will insure adequate equipment and make your fair easily the 'premier' institution of its kind on the American continent."

GRAND JURY IS IN BORDER CITY

Number of Cases to Be Considered By Koochiching Inquisitors.

International Falls, Minn., Jan. 13.—Judge F. B. Wright opened a term of district court here yesterday. A number of important matters are expected to come up.

The grand jury was charged and Emil Peterson named as foreman, after which they retired to take up their duties. Three men are in jail and several others are out on bonds awaiting the grand jury's action, but none of them are for very serious crimes.

Oscar Ness of Bear River and R. H. Bennett of this city are bailiffs.

Among the attorneys present are Handler of Big Falls, Arnold of Duluth, Scrutchins of Bemidji, Richardson of St. Paul and Brown of Bemidji.

Judge Wright's reporter, Mr. Wyman, died in Chicago last week. The judge is expecting an experienced man from Chicago to arrive here to fill the vacancy and for that reason will not start jury cases until today.

BOARD OF REGENTS TO MEET AT FARGO

Preliminary Report of State School Survey to Be Presented.

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The next meeting of the state board of regents will be held in Fargo, beginning Jan. 17. The meeting is regarded as important as the preliminary report of the commission having in charge the survey of the educational institutions of the state will be made at that time.

This report will roughly outline the changes recommended by the commission to the board and the complete report will probably not be filed for sixty days. The preliminary survey is being conducted by Dr. W. T. Bawden of the U. S. department of education at Washington; Dr. E. B. Craighead of Missoula, Mont., who has been president of an agricultural college, a state normal and two state universities, and L. D. Coffman, dean of the college of education of the University of Minnesota.

INDIAN'S PLEA FUTILE.

Redman Who Illegally Killed Michigan Game Punished.

Negaunee, Mich., Jan. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The plea that, because he is an Indian, the state permitted him to kill game at any time without a license did not save Henry James from a jail sentence. Several weeks ago the Isaac Stephenson Lumber company brought sixty Indian woodsmen from Southern Michigan and gave them work at its logging camps in Marquette county. Shortly afterward it was reported the newcomers were killing deer. Deputy game wardens investigated. Venison was found in the cabin occupied by James. Judge Verran of Negaunee gave the Indian the alternative of paying a fine and costs of $50 or serving sixty days in the county jail. James chose the latter. The Indian is 72 years of age.

DON'T MATCH AGIN' OLD FATHER TIME

To Frank A. Gotch.

I'm inclined to believe it was a very wise man
Who invented the phrase "The public be damn."
You can do for the public till you are blue in the face,
They'll hoot you the moment you slacken your pace.

In seeing you wrestle, whenever they went
They got the worth of their money; you don't owe them a cent.
You made many an American heart beat with glee
By dumping the giants from over the sea.

They came to this country, their fortune to seek
And made all our wrestlers look very meek.
Then for a match with Frank Gotch, these mighty men yearned,
But when they got before you, to rabbits they turned.

In praise of Joe Stecher, I am going to be fair,
Some stunt to throw Cutler without mussing a hair.
He beat Cutler and other great mat men, 'tis true,
When he throws Zyb in six seconds, we'll class him with you.

To pin Zyb in six seconds and beat Hackenschmidt twice
Would have kept him a going, now take my advice,
You were champion of champions for years in your prime,
Now don't make a match against old Father Time.

—Alton B. Heimbach.

FRANK MORAN MAY MEET JESS WILLARD

FRANK MORAN.

By his second defeat of Jim Coffey it looks as though Moran has pushed himself to the place in the sun where a fight with Willard is in order. The blonde Pittsburgh boy is not anything to kick your heels over as a boxer, but he is tough and rugged and carries a pretty fair wallop. Luther McCarty gave Moran a good licking, but you can't tell, Moran might surprise the populace and give Tom Jones' meal ticket a real argument. Another little thing: wait and see whether Willard will fight. You know, he's signed up with a circus for all of next season.

JAP PLAYER TAKES TENNIS TITLE

Kumagae Defeats C. J. Griffin, Crack American, in Far Eastern Tourney Held at Manila; May Play in America Next Year; Chicago Baseball Team Makes Clean-up in Orient.

New York, Jan. 13.—The defeat of Clarence J. Griffin, ranked seventh among the American tennis players of 1915, by the Japanese expert, Kumagae, in the championship match of the Far Eastern title tournament at Manila, on Saturday, Jan. 8, is another illustration of the progress being made in all branches of sport by the Japanese. Kumagae is far from being a novice with the racquet, as his victory over Griffin demonstrates, yet there are several other native players of Japan who can always be counted upon to give Kumagae a hard battle when they meet him on the court.

As far back as 1913 Kamagae was making it interesting for American tennis players, although he was comparatively new to the game at that time. In company with three other Japanese players he entered the Far Eastern tournament played at the beginning of 1914 and succeeded in working his way to the semi-final round of the singles and with Nomura reached the final of the doubles. The entry list included the leading English, German and American resident players of the Far Eastern countries as well as William M. Johnston, the present American champion, and Elia Fottrell, who made the trip from California especially to play in the tourney.

At that time Kumagae was a student at Keio university, who had taken up tennis only two years before and who had played the game with a plain rubber ball, such as children bounce on the sidewalks of the country, up to within a few months of his first tournament. Notwithstanding his limited experience, Kumagae made it decidedly interesting for both J. Fottrell and Johnston. In the semi-final of the singles it required five sets of the hardest kind of play by Fottrell to defeat the Japanese. The scores were 7-5, 4-6, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2 in favor of Fottrell, but the match was carried over a day—on account of darkness when Fottrell led at two sets to one with the fourth 5-2 games in favor of Kumagae. This unfinished set was thrown out the next day and the Japanese won the play over at 6-4. Had he received credit for his overwhelming lead of the preceding day he would have undoubtedly won the match and met Johnston in the final. As it was, Kumagae, with Nomura for a partner, gave Johnson and Fottrell another hard battle in the final of the doubles, although their lack of team work was a heavy handicap against the clever play of the Americans and they were defeated, 6-2, 6-4, 6-2.

Kumagae is a short, stocky Japanese with a powerful overhead and forearm drive, while his service and backhand play compare favorably with that of the average American big tournament player. He is exceptionally fast on his feet and possesses remarkable powers of endurance. If he should compete in this country next season, as has been suggested, it will be found that Kumagae will be entitled to rank among the first fifteen of American lawn tennis. In all his matches he had shown indomintable spirit and determination, never conceding a match lost until the last point is scored against him. Another factor in his favor is that the experience and reputation of an opponent never appear to overawe the Japanese racquet expert.

The University of Chicago baseball team, which has just returned from a tour of the Far East, had better success with the bat than Giffin had with the racquet. While in the land of Nippon the Maroon nine played ten games against Waseda and Keio university teams and won them all, scoring a total of 48 runs to 10. All told Chicago played twelve games in Japan, winning one against the All-Americans by a score of 20 to 0 and the other 5 to 1 from the All-Japan team. A majority of the contests with the Japanese collegians resulted in shut-out victories for the Maroon players. The entire trip is considered to be one of the most successful ever made by a Middle Western university nine. Out of a total of forty-one games played, thirty-three were won, seven lost and one tied. Fifteen games were played with Far Western and Pacific coast teams, six in Hawaii, twelve in Japan and eight in the Philippines. The total number of runs scored in the forty-one games were: Chicago, 230; opponents, 93.

OLD RIVALS ARE TO MEET

Big Duluths and Universals Will Clash in Hockey Contest.

Bagleys and Northerns Are Also on Double Puck Bill.

The Eagleys and Northerns will clash at 8 o'clock this evening in the first game of a double-header to be played by amateur league teams in the Duluth Curling club rink. At 9 o'clock those two old and honored rivals, the Big Duluths and Universals will clash, and the game promises to be a torrid affair from first to closing bells.

There is an ancient rivalry existing between the clothiers and flour makers, therefore the contest should develop some stirring qualities. Both teams have been preparing for this meeting and, figuratively speaking, some fur should fly.

Bill Bogan will be in at cover point for the Big Duluth team. Nelson and Dykins will also be seen in action on the forward line of the clothiers and that team should present by far the strongest lineup of the season.

As the Bagleys have also been strengthened, the clash with the Northerns should prove close and interesting.

The bill for tonight is the best offering of the season to date and should result in some real hockey.

BLIZZARD FAILS TO STOP GAMES

Despite the low-down condition of last night's thermometer, some bold curlers kept their curling dates and played games in the Universal and Herald events. One of the distinct features of the evening was the winning of a game upon the part of the Artle Michaud rink. This came in the nature of a surprise and goes to show how uncertain curling dope is.

Eight games are on the draw for tonight.

Results of last night's games and the draw for tonight, follow:

ENTRIES ARE COMING IN FOR BIG CURLING SPIE

Sandy McNabb's Famous Rink Is Surely Comi and George La Batt Will Send Strong Aggreg tion—Range Towns Will Be Represented Many Strong Rinks—Walter Hall Enters Stro Four.

There is little doubt but that the 1916 bonspiel of the Northwestern Curling association will be a great and unqualified success—Sandy McNabb is coming.

Some doubt was registered in regard to Sandy and the members of his genial Scotch clan. But today's mail brought the official entry of this rink and also the assurance from McNabb himself that he would be on hand.

There is a possibility that Hibbing will send five rinks. Eveleth is sure to send three rinks, while there is a strong possibility that five rinks may represent that village. It is certain that the range will make the greatest curling representation in its history in this year's spiel.

Pratt and Robb are to bring rinks from Eveleth. Both of these skips made strong showings in last year's spiel, and it is expected that their rinks will be even stronger this season.

Donald's Rink Entered.

The justly celebrated Donald Kid rink of West Duluth has also entered. This rink is the holder of the Merriam medal and is classed as one of the strongest curling aggregations in the city.

In addition to the entry of the strong Sandy McNabb, Grand Rapids, Mich., rink, it is expected that the furniture city will send at least one more rink. There is a possibility that Grand Rapids, which came into the Western Curling association this year, may be represented by three rinks.

La Batt will have a great rink here this year. Walter Poehler is to play lead for La Batt, with L. J. Covell as second and J. A. Hunter as third. This will make up a combination that any rinks will be compelled to travel some to defeat.

Hunter is considered one of the best curlers in Minneapolis, and with a curler of the ability of La Batt as sh this on paper looks to be the s woolly goods.

Local Rink Enters.

Walter Hall's rink is the first of Duluth Curling club's representati to file an official entry.

Hall will have Henry Ketchum, Deetez and Ray Bishoff as co-pa ners, and this aggregation should pr one of the strong rinks of the spiel.

Work on getting the skating rink shape for the spiel will be started morrow night. There will be six sh at least marked off on the skating The rink caretakers promise to h the sheets in perfect shape by M day morning, when the twenty-t annual curling bonspiel will get un way.

Following are the official entries ceived to date:

Grand Rapids, Mich.—C. P. Palm lead; A. R. Hurst, second; A. B. H ner, third; W. J. McNabb, skip.

Minneapolis—W. C. Foehler, lead; J. Covell, second; J. A. Hunter, th G. K. La Batt, skip. A. T. Burgli lead; Fred Cone, second; R. W. Cl bourne, third; Dr. Thomas Warh skip.

Hibbing—Three rinks that will skipped by Michael T. Flanigin, J. Rooney and W. J. West, while J. R lead; P. Willard, second; Dr. Bull third; N. T. Flanagan, skip.

Eveleth—Sam Eller, lead; H. Schultze, second; G. H. Murray, th T. A. Pratt, skip. H. E. Griswold, l S. E. Farley, second; C. B. Hoel, th J. A. Robb, skip.

Western Curling club—D. Scan lead; Ernest Anderson, second; Baker, third; R. Wade, skip. A. derson, lead; Earl Scanlan, sec James E. Donald, third; Alex Don skip.

Duluth Curling club—Henry Ket um, lead; E. W. Deetz, second; Bishoff, third; Walter Hall, skip.

WOULD MATCH BIG FELLOWS

Tex Rickard Backs Fat Offer to Willard and Moran.

Also Has Ambition to Match Gotch and Joe Stecher.

New York, Jan. 13.—Jess Willard, world's heavyweight champion, and Frank Moran were yesterday offered a purse of $45,000 for a ten-round no-decision bout in this city on Friday, March 3. Tex Rickard, promoter of the Jeffries-Johnson battle at Reno, Nev., July 4, 1910, is the backer of the contest, although Sam McCracken, a circus man and a personal friend of Rickard's, is named in the articles as the promoter.

Neither Willard nor Moran has yet signed articles of agreement, although both have signified their willingness of accepting the terms offered by Rickard through McCracken. According to the contract, Willard is to receive $30,000 and 30 per cent of moving pictures, and Moran $15,000. Willard also has been offered $5,000 for signing the contract. Moran's share of the picture receipts and bonus, if any, is not stated.

The articles of agreement are on their way to Chicago for Willard's approval. The promoters say they have received word from Tom Jones, the champion's manager, that the terms are satisfactory and that the articles will be signed as soon as they are placed before Willard.

Looking After Finances.

Willard will be required, on signing, to post a forfeit of $5,000 for appearance. The promoters plan to deposit the total amount of the purse in the hands of stakeholders forty-eight hours before the bout. It is estimated that the aggregate expense of the bout will be close to $65,000 and the receipts about $100,000.

No place, as yet, has been selected for the bout, although Madison Square Garden, a large theater, and a structure formerly used as a carbarn by one of the local traction companies, are being considered. According to Rickard all seats will be reserved and prices will probably range from $10 up to $100 or more for ringside boxes. Reservations, it was said, already have been made for several boxes.

No interference is expected by the promoters, either from the local or state authorities, since ten-round no-decision bouts are permitted under the New York state laws upon a payment of 7½ per cent of the gross gate receipts and in compliance with other minor rules and regulations provided for by the statutes.

Rickard said he was not going to manage the proposed bout, but was simply furnishing the financial backing for McCracken.

Would Match Gotch and Stecher.

"Beyond that I am not going to be interested," said Rickard. "But I will back other contests if I find the receipts and the attendance equal my expectations. If the Willard-Moran bout is a financial success I will offer a large purse for a championship wrestling match between Frank Gotch and Joe Stecher, who I understand is thought to be the best of America's young wrestlers."

Excelsior Springs, Mo., Jan. 13.—"I will not sign Willard for less than $30,000 for his share and there is no chance for the fight to take place before April," said Tom Jones, manager of the world's heavyweight champion, in discussing here the proposed Willard-Moran match in New York, on March 3.

The price placed on the club thus far by Mr. Hempstead does not warrant serious consideration. While the Giants have made big profits in the past they have made it on a capital stock of $250,000, which is entirely different from making big profits on an investment of from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000."

FORMER TEACHER SUES FOR DAMAGE

E. J. Colovin Demands $5,000 of Floodwood Board Because of Dismissal.

Suit was filed in district court yesterday afternoon by E. J. Colovin, school teacher, who is suing J. D. Moore, M. W. Hingeley, J. E. Brandemier, E. N. Johnson, Jean W. New and William Isaacson, members of the school board at Floodwood, and Frank Chounard, janitor at the Floodwood school, for $5,000 damages because he was dismissed as instructor. Colovin alleges that a conspiracy existed among the several defendants to deprive him of a job, and that without any complaint, notice or hearing he was dismissed and exposed to ignominy and disgrace.

CONSCRIPTION BILL GIVEN SECOND READING

London, Jan. 13.—Amid scenes of uproar and enthusiasm, the house of commons at 11 o'clock last night defeated a motion to reject the military service bill by a vote of 431 to 39. Immediately afterward the house acceded to the premier's request by passing the second reading of the bill without division. The vote was chiefly interesting on account of the changed attitude of the 105 members who opposed on the first reading.

IDEAS SUGGESTED IN HERALD CONTEST BOTH PRACTICAL AND IMPRACTICAL

"Poet" Satirizes Preparedness By Suggesting Defenses for Harbor; Woman Would Stop Spitting on Streets and Raise Wages of Girl Workers.

Suggestions made in the letters received daily by The Herald for its "What I Would Do for Duluth" contest column contain many good ideas, some, perhaps, too advanced for immediate adoption and many others that are impractical. Charity is not overlooked and one young woman who signs herself "M. A. M." suggests a means of eliminating poverty, which she regards as largely caused by ignorance, by financing pupils who need it through the high school or business college. "A. Mossback, Poet," deals sarcastically with "preparedness," as applied to Duluth harbor, evidently without expectancy of obtaining one of the prizes and apparently merely with the desire to get it out of his system.

"M. A. M." deals with the educational cure for poverty as follows:

"If I had power to do things for Duluth, for one thing I would have a law passed compelling every eighth grade graduate to take a high school

WHAT WOULD YOU DO FOR DULUTH?

What three things, if you had the power, would you do for Duluth, and how would you do them?

Write out your answer, LIMITING IT TO TWO HUNDRED WORDS, put your name and address at the top of the sheet, and send it to the Problem Editor of The Herald before Jan. 20. WRITE ONLY ON ONE SIDE OF THE SHEET.

For the best answer to this question The Herald will give a prize of $10.

For the second best answer The Herald will give a prize of $5.

For the third best answer The Herald will give a prize of $3.

or a business course. To make this possible in nearly every case I would establish a money-lending system, such as they have at the universities. The call from the business world is for trained men and the uneducated man has very little chance. This system would eliminate a great deal of poverty, which is due to ignorance.

No Pull in City Jobs.

"I would have for city employes men who knew their business to the last word. Road inspectors would see that not one inch of poor pavement was put in and building inspectors that not a poorly constructed building went up. No city employe would get into office on a 'pull,' but by efficiency only.

"I would establish a greater taste for art by having a gallery and school erected. Duluth has as much field for art as any city in the country if it were awakened. We have critics and lovers of art who would push through the idea if it were once agitated.

"M. A. M."

Charity, mercy and public spiritedness are the salient points in the desires and suggestions of the boy who wrote the following:

Remembers Humans and Animals.

"What I should do to make the city better if it was in my power: I would provide the means whereby I could give the poor mothers and their children outings every summer.

"Next I would erect an electric sign with the words 'Welcome to our city,' where the visitors to Duluth could see it from all points.

"Next I would provide some means whereby a stray dog or cat would not suffer from want of food or be cold and suffering.

"I am a school boy 13 years old.

"BASIL DALGLIESH,

"620½ West Third Street."

With an apology to Walt Mason, whose style of poesy is copied, "A. Mossback, Poet," humbly presents the following:

"How would I spread our city's fame if I had the power? Would I give free crutches to the lame or build a lofty tower? Oh, no, nix, and likewise nay, I have no time for trifles; I'd put seventeen warships on the bay and give everybody rifles. I'd mine the lake from shore to shore, though it cost a million beans, and ask our Uncle Sam for more to buy some submarines. For the Somebody's of Oh Somewhere, naught but war and conquest seek, threats and rumors fill the air. 'They may get here next week.' 'Preparedness' is the proper thing if you'd be up to date, so get out musket, club or sling before it is too late.

"A. MOSSBACK, POET."

Range Boy's Suggestions.

The range country possesses at least one well-wisher for Duluth, despite past contentions, for this 10-year-old boy is strongly in favor of a breakwater for the harbor and a new county jail building "to be built in Duluth only." His letter follows:

"First—If I had the power Duluth would have a breakwater. I would go to Washington, D. C., while congress was in session and visit every congressman and tell them it is needed.

"Second—Duluth would have a new county jail. I would have it go to a straw vote conducted by The Herald, and then get the consent of the county board, and have it put on the county ballot in this form, 'A new county jail to be built in Duluth only.'

"Third—Duluth would own its street car lines. I would work hard, go and visit every ward, get the feeling of the public, then go to the council and ask them to put it on the city ballot or get the assistance through the labor of the business men, and have it in this form on the ballot, 'Duluth should own its street car service—Do it for Duluth.'

"CEDRIC DAVID BISSONETTE,

"122 Third street south,

"(Ten years old.) Virginia, Minn."

Mrs. C. E. M., who indites the following letter, probably speaks the feelings of most sanitation-loving people, against spitting on the sidewalks. Her ideas concerning other "ills" will likely find many indorsers:

"First—I would surely enforce the law prohibiting spitting on sidewalks anywhere from Seventh avenue west along the business district. It is sickening to pedestrians, and must look disgraceful to strangers.

For Better Wages to Clerks.

"Second—If it was in my power I would see to it that these big manufacturers and corporations would pay their employes living wages. The city would not have so much on its hands. Just think of girls that have worked in a place for two years, supposed to be experienced, standing on their feet nine hours for $1. Those who have to board, or help support a home, haven't enough left to even buy warm clothing. These same firms get big notoriety for their Christmas charity. All well and good, but why don't they remember them all the year, and pay them at least enough to exist on. Yes, sir, if it was in my power, I would see that no one got less than $1.50 a day. Any firm that can't afford that much should quit business.

"Third—I would have Superior street widened. It looks to me something like a lane. Have it kept cleaner, try to beautify the street, also, from the Union depot up, so it would appeal to outsiders. Also I would have a platform a few inches high where the safety zones are. I haven't the space to say how I would have these three things enacted but I surely would if it was in my power. "MRS. C. E. M."

Practical Ideas.

"Practical," is the word that would seem to fit the nature of the person who wrote the following letter, which contains some good ideas:

"First—Good roads: These are essential to the development of any community. Good roads attract both settlers and tourists. Without them there will be neither.

"Second—Fill the roundabout country with settlers—good, careful farmers. They would benefit Duluth merchants, Duluth jobbers, Duluth manufacturers, in fact everybody, and also establish a name for this section as a great agricultural center. It would not be long before every 'four corners' would have its store, church and garage.

"Third—'It pays to advertise.' Every up-to-date merchant advertises his goods. Why not advertise a city? That is what needs to be done here. We have the goods to sell and goods that are worth buying. Advertise them! The public goes to the place that is favorably well known and not such as by Duluth's frigid reputation which has yet to be lived down. So I say, advertise the comfortable summers, bracing winters, winter sports, good roads, agriculture, dairying, industries, mines, beautiful scenery, fishing, hunting. Tell everything that tends to make this home of ours 'The Zenith City of the Unsalted Seas.'

"V. F. E."

DON'T

COAST ACROSS A STREET CAR LINE EITHER ON SLEDS OR SKIS

A STREET CAR CAN'T DODGE!

We want to impress this fact upon the children of Duluth, and upon their mothers and fathers as well, at this season of the year.

With the first snowfall, coasting weather is here again, with all its pleasures, and also with its many dangers. Every year brings its toll of accidents, and sometimes fatalities, due to coasting. We want to eliminate that list this year, if it can be done, and it can be if children and their parents will give us their co-operation.

Coasting across street car tracks is inviting a fatal accident. A street car CAN'T DODGE, and when a loaded bobsled comes skimming down an avenue a motorman has little or no warning no matter how careful he may be. The sled is under the fender almost before he can think what to do. Often after a snowfall the rails are slippery, adding to the difficulties of the motorman and making it impossible to stop the car within several times it length.

There is only one rule to follow:

There are countless hills in Duluth suitable for coasting, where the street cars do not run, and where the sport may be enjoyed in safety. We ask the parents of Duluth to see that their children use these hills and only these. It may save you the horror of having a mangled little body brought home to you some afternoon or evening. It may save you from having a child who will be a helpless cripple all his life. You owe it to your child to protect him from this danger. We owe it to the people of Duluth to issue this reminder, and to instruct our motormen to exercise every possible precaution. We have done this, but there is only one sure way to prevent accident, and that is to observe this rule, which is also a police regulation:

Don't Coast Across a Street Car Line Either on Sleds or Skis!

BREAK YOURSELF OF THE LAXATIVE HABIT

LAXATIVES and cathartics cause more constipation than they cure. Nujol is the modern treatment for constipation. It conforms in all essentials to the requirements of the mineral oil treatment as prescribed by its discoverer, Sir William Arbuthnot Lane.

Nujol is odorless and tasteless, absolutely neutral, and is not digested or absorbed into the system. It acts merely as a mechanical lubricant.

Nujol is not a drug. Its use will not give quick, temporary relief. But Nujol is a genuine remedy in that it relieves constipation in the most natural way by lubricating the lining of the intestines, softening the intestinal contents, and thus promoting healthy and normal bowel activity.

WOULD MODERNIZE GEOGRAPHY STUDY

Supt. Denfeld Broaches Revision, Believing Improvement Possible.

Fifth grade geography, as taught in public schools, will be revised to give students a more practical idea of the country in which they live, if plans suggested to principals of the various schools by Supt. R. E. Denfeld yesterday are carried out.

"Ordinary geography could well be eliminated in favor of a history of the people and what they do," Mr. Denfeld said. "Visits to stores in the city would teach them more of the occupational side of their lives and practice of that kind would ably supplement a part of the book learning in commercial geography."

A committee of principals and teachers now is at work on the outline of a plan for teaching language in the school. It will include everything from the first grade to the high school.

To all such people we say with unmistakable earnestness—"Take Scott's Emulsion after meals for one month and allow its rare oil-food to enrich and enliven your blood, quicken your circulation, stimulate nutrition, and aid nature to develop that real red-blooded life that means activity, enjoyment, success."

HEN LAYING CONTEST.

Pupils Living Within Twenty Miles of Bemidji to Compete.

Bemidji, Minn., Jan. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Feb. 1 will be the opening day of the annual egg laying contest, in which many of the Bemidji pupils are interested, and who are now making preparations to enter their hens for competition.

As a prize a silver loving cup has been offered by E. A. Barker, a jeweler. The cup was offered last year and the students with the highest record had their names engraved on the cup with the records of their hens for the six months as follows: Alice Dyer, 138; Clair Vincent, 120; Earl Black, 116. Should Miss Dyer again win first place she will earn permanent possession of the cup.

Last year the contest was limited, only the children of the city of Bemidji being eligible, but now any boy or girl, under 20 years of age within twenty miles of this city will be permitted to enter the contest.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

ON THE IRON RANGES

MESABA HAS COLDEST DAY

Forty-Two Below at Hibbing With Snow Banks Delaying Trains.

Many People Treated for Frost Bites in Hibbing Hospitals.

Eveleth, Minn., Jan. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The government thermometer at the Duluth & Iron Range station here registered 50 deg. below zero at 6:40 this morning and 48 at 9:30. It got considerably warmer toward noon, but was still very cold all day. It is the coldest day in the history of Eveleth, old-timers saying that last night's and today's weather have never been equaled here.

Hibbing, Minn., Jan. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—With the weather observatory at the Mahoning Ore & Steel company registering 42 degs. below zero at 10 o'clock this morning, Hibbing is experiencing one of the coldest days in years.

Railroad transportation is demoralized by heavy snow banks, the Great Northern and the Missabe trains had trains had to buck from Duluth all the way to buck from Duluth all the way into the range country.

Huge rotary plows forced passageway for the trains which were off their schedule from a half hour to more than an hour in most instances.

No Fatilities Reported.

Local hospitals report no serious cases of any accidents or people suffering injuries from the cold. Both local institutions report the treating of many for frost bites. Particularly was this true in the mining locations where the men were exposed to the cold in the open.

May Lose Both Hands.

Steve Polish, who frosted both hands in yesterday's storm, may lose them as a result of kerosene being applied. Polish, while working for a mining company near here, discovering his hands were freezing called for help and a companion applied kerosene, with the result that it put his hands in worse condition than ever. He was rushed to a local hospital, where doctors state his hands may have to be amputated.

It was a day of suffering for all those who had to face the cold wind. The thermometer dropped to 22 degs. below zero at 10 o'clock last evening and old-timers, who have put in many cold Northern Minnesota winters, states that yesterday, although the temperature did not indicate it, was one of the most miserable days they had experienced in years in Hibbing.

Hard On Children.

Children who faced the cold to drive into Hibbing from Kitzville and the surrounding locations found the cold quite severe while a local driver of one of the busses, whose name could not be learned, had his face frozen.

Frozen ears, faces and hands were common. All the trains coming into Hibbing last evening were from a half an hour to an hour late, while street cars were also off their schedule.

The roads leading into Hibbing were blocked with great banks of snow.

47 Below at Virginia.

Virginia, Minn., Jan. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The local school professor, who keeps tab on the weather for the government, reported it was 47 deg. below here at 7 a. m. today and 41 below at 8. It gradually moderated as the day advanced and was about 20 below at noon. Up to noon no fatalities due to the unprecedented weather had been reported, although there was the usual complaint of frosted hands and feet, none apparently serious. Train service was badly delayed last night. The Canadian Northern train from Duluth, due at 10 p. m., did not arrive till this morning. Last night's Missabe passenger train from Duluth was an hour and a half late, while this morning's Missabe train from Duluth was only thirty minutes late.

Reports from all over the Mesaba range are that the weather eclipses anything in severity experienced in years. Despite the unusual cold, mining operations are proceeding in many places today as usual.

President Vincent's Lecture.

Clear, Peachy Skin Awaits Anyone Who Drinks Hot Water

Says an inside bath, before breakfast helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Sparkling and vivacious — merry, bright, alert—a good, clear skin and a natural, rosy, healthy complexion are assured only by pure blood. If only every man and woman could be induced to adopt the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance, awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.—Advertisement.

EVELETHIANS ARE AFTER CONVENTION

Seeking Next Year's Gathering of Slovenian-Croatians.

Eveleth, Minn., Jan. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Agnich and George Kotze are attending the convention of the Slovenian-Croatian union at Calumet, Mich. Mr. Kotze is vice president of the union. The delegates from Eveleth are making a strong bid for the 1917 convention. Other range towns have sent delegates who will work with the Eveleth men to secure the convention for the Mesaba range.

Convention at Red Jacket.

Calumet, Mich., Jan. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The national convention of the Slovenian-Croatian union, held at the Red Jacket hall this week, was largely attended, the principal social feature being the big banquet in Italian hall last night. The convention approved a proposal for a uniform scale of death and accident benefits and to centralize the collections of fees and disbursements of benefits at the headquarters of the union here.

Reports of the secretary and treasurer showed that disbursements during the last year in benefits amounted to about $21,000. The union now has a membership of approximately 1,600 in all parts of the Northwest, a substantial increase having been shown in the last year.

Discuss New Code.

The consideration of a new code of by-laws occupied the attention of the delegates all of one afternoon and evening and the next morning.

The fact that by-laws adopted at other recent conventions of the union were not approved by the state insurance department, has had the effect of forcing the union to operate under the code of by-laws approved in 1906, which are considered inadequate for present needs. To meet the situation an entirely new code of by-laws, covering the ideas advanced at other recent conventions has been compiled by Attorney Anthony Lucas and submitted to the delegates. This code, if adopted, will replace the codes now in use. Attorney Lucas appeared before the delegates to discuss the new code and urge its adoption.

WILL DUMP SEWAGE INTO LONGYEAR LAKE

Chisholm Council Decides on That Action Temporarily.

Chisholm, Minn., Jan. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—To avoid the overcrowding of sewers in the south end location, the village council Wednesday afternoon decided to run sewage from that part of the town into the storm sewers. This means that sewage will again be dumped into Longyear lake, but is not considered to be any menace to the health of the people on account of the high water this year and the certainty of an overflow in the spring.

R. M. Heskitt, president of the Commercial club, requested that the village president appoint a committee to confer with a committee from the Commercial club in regards to necessary preparations for the state firemen's convention which is to be held here June 14 and 15. President Fugere appointed as a committee all those persons who were a part of the Pine City delegation.

In behalf of the bowlers of the village, C. A. Kimball and Howard Winslow requested that the council give financial assistance toward sending a team to the National Bowling association tournament to be held at St. Paul early in February. Action was deferred until next meeting.

Pay roll for the month of December amounting to $3,947.07 and a few bills were approved and passed.

A bill from John Enrico for scavenger work, after some discussion, was laid on the table.

OLD-TIMERS NEVER SAW SUCH BLIZZARD ON RANGE.

Eveleth, Minn., Jan. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Old-timers on the Mesaba range declare here today that the blizzard last night was the worst they ever experienced in this section. The high wind and very cold temperature made life outdoors almost unbearable and many frosted hands and ears are reported today. As the elevation of Eveleth is about the highest in the state the unusually low temperature reported this morning of 50 deg. below is attributable largely to that fact.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

The premier storm of several years gave Duluth-ians time to think about warmer climes and sunny skies, for outdoor work was impossible. The thermometer got to 33 deg. below zero before the storm ended, and at one time—10 o'clock last night—with the temperature at 23 deg. below, the wind was blowing sixty miles an hour. In the extreme West and Western Canada the temperature has moderated a little, but in the lake region, Central and Southwestern states the weather is anywhere from 20 to 50 deg. colder than Wednesday morning. At Duluth yesterday the 50 to 60-mile gale continued all day and until 11 p. m. At Buffalo this morning the wind was blowing a 70-mile west gale. LIQUOR IN BOOTS.

Come to Chisholm Postoffice But Matter Is Hushed.

Chisholm, Minn., Jan. 13.—Using the mails to evade the provisions of the treaty of 1855 was brought to light at the local postoffice, but in compliance with strict orders from Postmaster D. J. Harrington, employes at the postoffice refuse to talk on the subject.

It is learned that a large package, addressed to an anonymous person, but in care of a man who was formerly a large liquor dealer in the village, arrived at the postoffice last Sunday. The package was wet and had a strong odor of liquor about it. It was opened by the postal clerks and found to contain a pair of wornout rubber hip boots. Tucked in each boot was a pint flask of whisky. The breaking of one of these bottles and the saturation of the package led to the discovery.

Grand Forks, N. D., Jan. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Bart Cramer, son of A. Guerrero, Mexican rancher, reported slain by Mexican bandits, is a brother of Mrs. J. G. Haney of Grand Forks, and she fears that her father and two other brothers, residing on her father's ranch, have met a like fate.

HAS MERCY ON LETTER CARRIERS

Duluth Postmaster Curtails Delivery Because of the Storm.

Because of the severity of the storm yesterday the delivery of mail during the afternoon was curtailed by Postmaster William E. McEwen, who said that he acted in the interests of humanity, although he had not received any authority from the department at Washington to do so. There was no delivery in the residence district during the afternoon and the last delivery for the business district of the city was eliminated.

The deposits of mail at the postoffice yesterday were not so large as usual as only a limited number of people braved the storm to go downtown. While the carriers had heavy loads today, the service became almost normal.

IF BACK HURTS TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Says Backache Is Sure Sign You Have Been Eating Too Much Meat.

Uric Acid in Meat Clogs Kidneys and Irritates the Bladder.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Advertisement.

FIGHT FIRES IN BITTER COLD

Firemen Given No Rest During Coldest Night in Years.

Only One Real Blaze—Many False Alarms Are Turned In.

Hampered by intense cold, drifting snow and a fifty to sixty-mile wind, firemen made a remarkable record last night and early this morning.

Alarms were frequent, and the motor apparatus used in the department was put to the most severe test possible, but in no cases were there any delays.

One blaze was recorded that caused a material loss, and that was at the residence of W. C. Swan, 2705 Huron street, where damage was estimated at $1,200.

A kerosene heater, placed in the bathroom about 7 o'clock to heat the room before a member of the family took a bath, was responsible, according to Assistant Chief C. W. Wilson. The second story was badly damaged, but members of the family escaped without injury, and were sheltered from the cold by neighbors.

Chimney fires and false alarms, commencing about noon yesterday, kept the force busy throughout the night. Five calls were sent in between 6:30 and 7:30 p. m. alone.

The list included: 927 Fourth avenue east; 423 East Fourth street; Lake avenue and Second street; 4328 Dodge street, Lakeside; 2703 West Second street; 209 East Fifth street; the Lyric theater, Superior street between First and Second avenues west; Piedmont avenue and Ninth street, and 1429 East Superior street. A sprinkler head at the Northern Drug company's warehouse, lower Fifth avenue west, let go during the night, and the salvage corps responded to the alarm.

But one alarm disturbed the fire fighters this morning. A pedestrian passing the Ninth avenue east and Fifth street corner saw a nearby blacksmith's forge flaming up, and thought there was a fire.

Plate glass windows in several downtown stores were blown out by the high wind, or broken in accidents, during the afternoon. Wind blew out a large section of plate glass at the Frerker Bros. wholesale liquor establishment, 418 West Superior street, early in the afternoon. The loss is estimated at $50. The window of the Economy Clothing company's store at Fourth avenue west and Superior street also was blown out.

SPOONER SLAYER SEEKING PARDON

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 13.—Merton S. Munn, a life prisoner at Stillwater, who killed August Franklin, his partner, in a restaurant, at Spooner, Sept. 28, 1907, has applied for a pardon, and his case will be considered by the state pardon board next Tuesday. He was first sentenced to be hanged, but was granted a commutation to life imprisonment, and now asks his release, alleging he killed Franklin in self defense.

Thin People Can Increase Weight

Thin men and women who would like to increase their weight with 10 or 15 pounds of healthy "stay there" fat should try eating a little Sargol with their meals for a while and note results. Here is a good test worth trying. First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Then take Sargol—one tablet with every meal—for two weeks. Then weigh and measure again. It isn't a question of how you look or feel or what your friends say and think. The scales and the tape measure will tell their own story, and many thin men and women, we believe, can easily add from five to eight pounds in the first fourteen days by following this simple direction. And best of all, the new flesh stays put.

Sargol does not of itself make fat, but, mixing with your food, it aims to turn the fats, sugars and starches of what you have eaten, into rich, ripe fat-producing nourishment for the tissues and blood—prepare it in an easily assimilated form which the blood can readily accept. Much of this nourishment now passes from your body as waste. But Sargol works to stop the waste and do it quickly and to make the fat producing contents of the very same meals you are eating now develop pounds and pounds of healthy flesh between your skin and bones. Sargol is safe, pleasant, efficient and inexpensive. Boyce Drug store and other leading druggists in this vicinity sell it in large boxes—forty tablets to a package—on a guarantee of weight increase or money back as found in each large box.—Advertisement.

JURY DECIDES AGAINST WINDOM

Former Municipal Judge Loses Horse Case in District Court.

At noon today, a jury in Judge Bert Fesler's division of the district court returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff in the suit brought by Mrs. Rachael Devaney against Judge W. L. Windom, formerly of the municipal court.

The plaintiff sued for a writ of replevin to attach upon a horse which Judge Windom was holding for a $42 bill for boarding the animal. The defendant claimed that the bill was a lien against the horse and the question which went to the jury was whether or not there was any contract existing between Judge Windom and Mrs. Devaney with reference to the keeping of the horse for a sum of money to be paid by Mrs. Devaney.

The jury answered the question in the negative, holding with the plaintiff. Pursuant to a stipulation which was entered into before the issue was submitted to the jury, the court will probably hold that Mrs. Devaney is entitled to possession of the horse and that Judge Windom has no lien on the animal.

DULUTH'S POOR WELL CARED FOR

Duluth's poor with but few exceptions were well fortified for the present cold snap and although the poor commission has received many calls for assistance within the last two days, the suffering has not been as great as would naturally be expected with such low temperatures.

According to the Associated Charities, few calls for assistance have been made despite the severe weather. The demand for clothing has been increased but many families which were in want before Christmas time seem to have secured enough fuel and provisions at that time to tide them over quite a period of time.

SALE OF WATER AND GAS NETTED CITY PROFIT OF $95,000 IN LAST YEAR

Department Also Purchased 10,000 Meters During That Period.

Added 800 New Consumers of Gas and Water to List.

Bonded Debt Decreased and City's Proprietary Interest Increased.

Duluth's water and light department earned a total of $95,981.02, reduced its bonded debt $27,000, gained approximately 800 new gas and 800 new water consumers, purchased 10,000 water meters formerly owned by the consumers, and increased the city's proprietary interest to $1,168,963.03 during 1915, according to the annual report issued this morning by Manager D. A. Reed.

This is the first time in the history of the department that its report was ready for publication before the last week in January. The figures were prepared and compiled by George L. Gross, chief accountant, and Chauncey Pattison, assistant accountant, under the direction of Mr. Reed. This report will be submitted to Commissioner Merritt, head of the untility division, within the next two days and then turned over to the city auditor, for his annual report on the city's business during the last year. These department reports must be filed by Feb. 1, according to the charter.

During the year a total of 2,482,809,231 gallons of water was pumped from the stations at Lakewood, New Duluth and Duluth Heights. The gas consumed for all purposes amounted to 358,674,100 cubic feet, for which the department paid the Zenith Furnace company a total of $142,712.77.

Meters Purchased.

Although the department's profit is slightly below that of last year, when the net income totaled $106,445.22, it is pointed out that nearly 10,000 water meters were purchased from the consumers during 1915 at a cost of about $40,000. This would have swelled the department's earnings above the $120,000 mark.

Some of the distinct features of the report include the reduction of the operating revenue for the sale of gas, despite the addition of 800 new consumers; the increase of but $200 in the operating cost for the sale of water; only slight increases in the maintenance and upkeep cost, regardless of the department's growth; the elimination of the deficit in making gas extensions, and the increase of $150,-$13.83 and $61,318.09 in the investment of the water and gas plants, respectively.

Total receipts for the year from all sources amounted to $741,732.83, while the disbursements totaled $647,899.80, leaving $93,832.85 as cash on hand and in the bank on Jan. 1 of this year.

The report, giving the gas and water income accounts and balance sheets, showing comparisons with 1914, follows:

CLUB DOESN'T MEET.

Weather Protection More Important Than Public Questions.

Weather proved too much for Lester Park Improvement club members last night, and their regular monthly meeting, to have been held at the Lester Park school, was postponed for two weeks.

The proposed armory referendum, the proposed building, plumbing and electrical code and military drill in public schools, are some of the questions which were to have come up for discussion.

DULUTH HARBOR WORK COMPLETED

Report of Maj. Peek Issued By Government Shows Condition.

The annual report of the United States engineer here, Maj. E. D. Peek, has just been issued in pamphlet form by the government. It shows that up to the end of the fiscal year, which was June 30, 1915, the Duluth harbor basin was completed by dredging an additional area of 11.5 acres under contract, thereby bringing in as a part of the basin 15.5 acres of what was Rice's Point channel. The amount dredged was 283,536 cubic yards at a cost of 7.9 cents per yard, a total of $22,399.34. Superior entry stilling basin was completed by dredging by contract of an additional area of 5.9 acres. The amount dredged was 158,047 cubic yards at a cost of 7.5 cents per yard, amounting to $11,853.53, or a total of $32,584.79 for work of improvement.

The report further says, concerning conditions in this harbor at the end of the fiscal year:

"The present project is regarded as completed, and the following has been accomplished: Seventeen miles of channels dredged to a depth of twenty feet, with a width of 100 to 600 feet and with turning basins at channel junctions; the Duluth harbor basin, with an area of 446 acres, dredged to a depth of twenty-two feet, the approach to Duluth entrance to a depth of thirty feet, and the Duluth canal to twenty-four feet. At the Superior entry the 500-foot channel deepened to a depth of twenty-four feet; the approach, 600 feet wide, to thirty feet; and the stilling basin, with an area of thirty-five acres, protected by the breakwaters, to a depth of twenty-four feet, together with the widening of the north side of the inner channel by 200 feet.

"The original estimate of cost of improvement at the Superior entry, including 20 per cent for administration and contingencies, was $1,702,999.20. The actual cost of the completed work, without credits for plant sold, transferred, etc., was $1,510,454.78. The maximum draft that can be carried in this harbor and up the St. Louis river to a point opposite the southerly end of Big Island is twenty feet at low water. Total expenditures under the present project to close of fiscal year, not including outstanding liabilities for new work, are $5,231,551.67; for maintenance, $745,082.11; total, $5,976,633.78. The project has been completed for $5,231,551.67, or $979,501.33 less than the approved estimate."

MONTENEGRINS WILL EVACUATE CETTINJE

Paris, Jan. 13.—In view of the success of the Austrian offensive against Mount Lovcen, Montenegro, measures have been taken by the Montenegrin government to evacuate Cettinje immediately, according to a Scutari dispatch, says the Petit Journal's Milan correspondent. The government, however, has decided to continue the struggle against the Austrians, the dispatch adds.

London, Jan. 13.—A wireless dispatch from Rome says that Queen Sophia of Greece has been summoned to the bedside of her brother, Emperor William, whose illness is described as serious. The queen, the message says, is to depart at once for Berlin.

NOT SORRY TO RETIRE

Sir Johnston Forbes-Robertson Looks Forward to Rest From Stage.

Expects Wonderful Things of American Drama; No Fear of Films.

Sir Johnston Forbes-Robertson has no regrets that he is going to leave the stage and expresses no particular sorrow that he is to give up a profession that has been his for more than forty years. At least this is what Sir Johnston said today, and he added the statement that it is well to leave before the public should want you to leave.

"With a painter or a musician it is not so much how old you are, if one is still able to do his work," said the great English actor, "but with the work of an actor it is entirely different. When one begins to feel the loss of some of his physical attributes, the loss of perhaps his enthusiasm, it is time to give up the work."

Sir Johnston was asked whether he would be satisfied to remain in private life—whether he would not miss the indefinable something that has always called to the people of the stage.

"I don't think so," he replied. "I have many interests. There is the actor's school in London, to which I shall devote much of my time. I have other interests as well. As for the stage, I have struggled hard and worked incessantly, and after forty years of it, I find that I am ready to give way to others, to lay aside its cares. No; I do not feel now as if I shall feel unsatisfied or restless in private life."

Owes Much to America.

Sir Johnston harbors a very kindly feeling toward America and American theater goers. It was here, after he had striven for years for serious recognition in his native country, that he met with his first great success, and, as he added today, it was America also that gave him his wife.

"I worked hard for many years for the greatest success," said he. "For a while it seemed as if failure and disappointment might attend my efforts. Then I came to America, and were it not for this country and the appreciation for my work that has been shown by the American theater goers, possibly I would not be able to retire. You can say, therefore, that I entertain the very kindliest regard for this country and its people."

The eminent Englishman has a very high opinion of the American drama. He characterizes it as distinct and an institution apart from the drama of other countries.

"America does not have to depend upon Europe for its drama. When I came first to this country the case was quite different. Then you possessed only a few great dramatists. I believe that the future of the American drama is a great one. Also I believe that interest in the right kind of plays was never greater. Colleges have taken up the study of the drama, and this interest, I feel sure, reflects the great interest felt on all sides. Regarding the future of the theater, I feel most optimistic."

Faith in Drama's Future.

While Mr. Robertson says the motion pictures have possibly affected the theater, he expressed the belief that in the end the good plays, the plays distinctly worth while, would achieve their place, also stating that he believed that no form of entertainment could take the place of the spoken drama.

Harvard university has invited Sir Johnston to give a performance of Hamlet at the university. This will be his last performance in this country. The date is set for April. Mr. Robertson has also promised the people of Dublin to give a farewell performance there, which may prove to be his final appearance on the professional stage.

MEETS WAGE RAISE OF U. S. STEEL

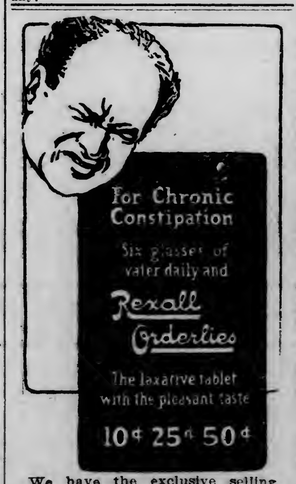

Great Northern Ore Properties Will Increase Pay to Employes.

Earl E. Hunner, general superintendent of the Arthur Iron Mining company, which is the operating concern of the Great Northern Iron Ore properties, announced today that effective Feb. 1, the wages of all employes will be raised. Mr. Hunner said that he was not prepared to make any further statement on the matter, as to the percentage of increase or what employes would get it, just at present.

It was expected that the independent iron mining companies would meet the raise in wages made by the United States Steel corporation, which will also become effective Feb. 1, and the other independent companies are expected to follow soon the example of the Great Northern concern.

PRICE CASE NEARS END

Severe Cross-Examination of Defendant Is Completed By State.

Defense Has But Three More Witnesses to Present.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The cross examination of Frederick T. Price, accused of murdering his wife for her fortune, was completed in district court this afternoon and M. C. Brady, counsel for the defense, announced that the defense would rest its case after the examination of three more witnesses.

During the cross examination of the defendant, who is charged with having pushed his wife from a river bluff and then killed her with a rock, there were frequent clashes between opposing counsel. Price took exception to some of the questions asked regarding his early life and once was admonished by Judge Fish for being evasive.

Under vigorous cross examination the witness adhered closely to his story that Mrs. Price accidentally fell to her death.

It was not believed the case would reach the jury before tomorrow.

Makes Sweeping Denial.

Price, in direct examination, made a sweeping denial of the story told by Charles D. Etchison, state's chief witness, that Price pushed his third wife from a cliff more than a year ago and then crushed her head with a rock for the purpose of inheriting her money.

The witness repeated the story of his wife's death, told by him at the trial of his suit against the city in which he sought damages because the cliff had been left unprotected. He declared that he was making a slight repair on his auto when his wife fell to her death. Price testified that the money paid to Etchison, his former associate, since the death of Mrs. Price, was to aid Etchison in business enterprises and was not paid for silence regarding the alleged crime, as claimed by the state.

Attacks Etchison's Story.

In outlining the case of the defense, M. C. Brady, chief counsel for Price, attacked the story told by Etchison, declared that it would be shown that Etchison had lived on money obtained from Price, and asserted that "if Mrs. Price was murdered, it was by Etchison, who believed that his generous friend Price would be still more liberal when he inherited his wife's money.

Early in his testimoney Price said that he had suspected Etchison of being addicted to the use of drugs, but admitted that he had never seen him administer any.

"On the night of Mrs. Price death," the witness said, "I had stepped from the automobile and was looking into the hood of the machine when I heard my wife scream 'Oh Fred.' Etchison, who was standing near me, said, 'something has happened to your wife.'

"I hurried to the edge of the cliff and saw her huddled upon the rocks below. She was moaning. Etchison and I rushed between a steep path to her side and as I knelt down I found she was still breathing."

"When you knelt down did you have a rock in your hand?" He was asked.

"I did not."

Price said that he asked Etchison for help and rode in the ambulance with his wife to a hospital where she was found to be dead.

AUSTRIANS BOMBARD THE CITY OF ANTIVARI

Paris, Jan. 13.—Austrian forces advancing from Cattaro and Budna have reached Mitchitz, five miles from Antivari, which is being bombarded by the Austrian long range guns, according to a dispatch to L'Ouvre under Tuesday's date.

The correspondent, telegraphing from Scutari, says that the Montenegrins, aided by Serbian contingents, are making a stout resistance, although outnumbered 5 to 1.

POPULAR DULUTH BOY ENTERS U. S. NAVY

W. J. GREEN, JR.

W. J. Green, Jr., son of Capt. W. J. Green, government ship inspector, has just been passed upon by the naval recruiting officers and will be sent to New York for six months preparatory to entering service on board ship. Mr. Green was recruited at the local office, and Officer E. A. Nippa received information from Minneapolis today that the young man had passed his final tests there.

Mr. Green was one of the popular young men of Duluth, having made a good record at Central high school and also as wireless operator on the Great Lakes, where he served one year on the steamship Chester A. Congdon and the Harry D. Goulder. He is the only Duluth boy holding a first grade wireless license on the Great Lakes. He is only 20 years old, but has had four years' experience as a radio operator. He is well known among local musicians, having played in the orchestra of a local theater for some time.

BLIZZARD CLOSES MILLS AT CLOQUET

Planing Mills Had to Close Half Day on Wednesday.

Cloquet, Minn., Jan. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The worst blizzard in many years raged in Cloquet yesterday, thermometers registering around zero early in the morning, dropped gradually during the day reaching 22 deg. below about 10 o'clock last night.

With the thermometers below zero and a forty-mile gale all outside work was practically abandoned. All the planing mills of the lumber concerns being compelled to close down before noon, and difficulty was experienced in getting the Upper mill of the Northern Lumber company started on its winter run.

The wind subsided during the night but the thermometer dropped about 20 deg. registering 40 deg. below at the experimental farm.

All trains into the city were from two to five hours late.

GOOD ADVANCE IN GREENE-CANANEA

Stock Moves Up on Reported Active Operations at the Mines.

Apart from a reaction in the spelters with profit-taking on their recent sharp advances, changes in mining stock quotations at Boston today were not striking.

Butte & Superior closed off $1.87 at $75 and American Zinc 87 cents off at $66.12.

Greene-Cananea moved up $1.50 to $49, on reported good operating conditions at the mine.

Calumet & Arizona closed 75 cents off at $69.50; Copper Range a shade up at $63.25; Lake unchanged at $17.50; North Butte 25 cents off at $29.50, and Shattuck 25 cents off at $32.75.

A New York wire said: "A block of 35,000 shares of Inspiration Copper, which has acted more or less as a check to the stock's advance, is said to have been cleaned up at a private sale at a price of between $45 and $46 and placed in strong hands. This fact, coupled with belief that stockholders may obtain an initial quarterly dividend of $1 in the near future, is looked upon as influential in the recent advance in the stock."

* * *

Paine, Webber & Co. had the following from New York: "A large copper interest says copper producers as a result of the soldup conditions would not have to sell another pound in the first quarter of the current year. A continuation of demand such as experienced in December, he said, would put copper up to 30c a pound, although producers would rather have the price remain around 24c."

* * *

Copper exports for the week ended Jan. 1 were sent principally to the following: France, 12,500,00 pounds; Sweden, 3,811,000 pounds; England, 3,250,000 pounds; Italy, 2,800,000 pounds, and Russia, 2,880,000 pounds.

* * *

Electrolytic copper has been raised equivalent to 25c in London.

* * *

All the copper mining companies are making every effort at present to increase productions.

"The Shattuck-Arizona Copper company made a gratifying record in December, its output for the month beinb 1,542,812 pounds at a cost of below 7 cents a pound.

The Greene-Cananea company only resumed mining on Dec. 11, but it produced up to the end of the month 1,740,000 pounds of copper, besides 76,801 ounces of silver and 396 ounces of gold.

The cutput of the Anaconda Copper Mining company in December was 25,600,000 pounds of copper, which compares with 24,400,000 pounds in November. This brings the total for the year up to 255,800,000 pounds, against 223,720,292 pounds in 1914 and 241,893,323 pounds in 1913.

The Neversweat mine of the Anaconda company has resumed operations after being closed a year.

UPPER MILL IS STARTED AT CLOQUET

Cloquet, Minn., Jan. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The upper mill of the Northern Lumber company, which has been down undergoing repairs since the midle of November, started on its winter run yesterday. The mill will operate full capacity on a night and day shift giving employment to a large number of men. Enough logs have been hauled in over the Duluth & Northeastern railroad to insure continuous operation of the mill. Most of the mills ran day shifts only last season and the starting of this mill with a day and night shift would indicate that probably all the mills will operate double shifts next season, resulting in a greatly increased payroll over last year.

NEW GOVERNOR'S FIRST APPEARANCE IN PUBLIC

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Governor Burnquist made his first public appearance today when in a brief address he welcomed the delegates to the sixty-seventh annual meeting of the Minnesota State Agricultural society at the state capitol.

RIVES HEIR TO A BARONY

N. M. BUTLER AND G. L. RIVES.

George L. Rives, who is seen here walking with Nicholas Murray Butler, the president of Columbia university, is addressed by his friends these days as "Baron Rives." This is because the committee of privileges of the English house of lords has decided that Mr. Rives, together with the early of Ancaster, the marquess of Lincolnshire and the marquess of Cholmondeley, is one of the heirs to the barony of Wharton now vacant. As the title has been declared "at his majesty's disposal" however, it does not seem likely that it will be conferred on Mr. Rives. The original title was granted to one of Mr. Rives' ancestors, Thomas Wharton, a noted soldier under Henry VIII in 1545. The honor is an expensive one for the title carries with it no estates.

Philndelphia, Jan. 13.—Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of the president, was operated upon at Jefferson hospital here today, adenoids and enlarged tonsils being removed. The operation was pronounced highly successful.

FRANKSON FILES FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Thomas Frankson, a former member of the Minnesota legislature from Fillmore county, today filed with the secretary of state for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor. Mr. Frankson is now a real estate dealer in St. Paul.

Dr. J. A. Gates of Kenyon, the early part of the week secured filing papers for lieutenant govenor, but so far he has not deposited the required $50 for a place on the primary ticket. James A. Peterson of Minneapolis, also mentioned in connection with the lieutenant governorship, visited Governor Burnquist and Secretary of State Schmahl but he did not file. Mr. Peterson said there was plenty of time in which to do so if he made up his mind.

LINER MAY SAIL WITH HER TWO GUNS MOUNTED

Washington, Jan. 13.—The Italian liner Guiseppe Verdi will be permitted to clear from New York with her two guns still mounted. The state department had given its assent on accurances that the pieces are to be used only for defense and has so notified the treasury, which will instruct Collector Malone.

BABIES' FOOTPRINTS IDENTIFY THEM.

One of Chicago's largest maternity hospitals has adopted a plan of identification which obviates practically every chance for either the accidental or malicious substitution of new-born babies, says the Popular Mechanics Magazine in an illustrated article. Before a baby is an hour old, ink impressions are made of its feet. In doing this an ink pad is used on the soles of the feet and a pad of glossy paper then pressed against them. One of the advantages of the footprint system is that it furnishes a permanent record which is kept on file at the office of the hospital. Every child is born with certain lines on the soles of its feet which are distnctive. As the feet develop in size the markings are likewise enlarged, but the general pattern remains the same.

TIME TURNS BACKWARD.

A jeweler has devised a watch which runs backward, the figures on the dial being arranged in opposite direction to the usual kind. The watch was invented at the suggestion of a left-handed person who complained that it was always hard for her to tell time, on the average clock, because she thought "left-handed." With the new type of dial the process of reading the hands was easier. Other left-handed persons seeing the new watch agreed that they could read it with more facility than the other type. This odd timepiece, which makes "time turn backward in its flight," is described and illustrated in the Popular Mechanics magazine.

WHEAT EASY AT THE CLOSE

Market Breaks at Finish on Liberal Offerings; Strong at Start.

Flaxseed Again Bulges But Reacts From Day's High Quotations.

Duluth Board of Trade, Jan. 13.—The market was weak at the close with liberal offerings and profit taking.

May wheat closed ¼@⅛c up, and July ⅛c up.

May durum closed ½c off and July ½c off.

Oats closed ⅞c up at 46⅛c for on the track; rye unchanged at 93c, and barley unchanged at from 63@74c for on the track.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed 1c up at 48⅝c.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.24 and calls at $1.28@1.28⅛.

With the reported putting through of a fair volume of export trade at the seaboard and higher Liverpool cables, wheat prices were advanced to new high levels on this crop in today's market.

An expected falling off in the grain movement, for a few days at least, as a result of the burst of stormy weather over the country, helped to create bullish sentiment, and operators showed readiness to pick up grain on any easy spots. There were buyers in the market ready to take everything offering, so that recessions appeared to be out of the question for the time being. Predictions were again made that more vessel tonnage would be available at the seaboard shortly as a result of the efforts of the British and French governments to obtain shipments of the grain bought for export with as little delay as possible.

Marketings showed a sharp falling off today, and it is predicted that a still worse showing will be made during the next few days. At Duluth, wheat receipts were 98 cars against 21 last year. At Minneapolis they had only 100 cars, compared with 455 a year ago, and Winnipeg arrivals were down to 118 cars. The Canadian Pacific and Canadian Northern railroads have embargoes in effect at present against shipments of wheat from interior points to Fort William and Port Arthur, and that is being reflected in the current movement.

The demand for cash wheat with the pressure of deliveries taken off, is strong at all the Northwest markets, with millers especially good buyers, owing to the improvement in the flour demand of late. It is taken for granted though the recent advances in the grain markets will lead to a slowing down in new flour trade.

May wheat opened unchanged at $1.26¼, advanced 1c in the first few minutes trading and held there up to the noon-hour. July opened 1c up at $1.26⅜, and gained ¼c more. May durum opened unchanged at $1.22⅜, and gained ½c.

Flax Moves Up Again.

As shown in a bulge of over 7c crushers and speculators were again strictly under the flax market. Supplies of seed are reported short and with light current receipts and prospects of relief through Argentine importations in the dim future conditions are regarded the most bullish in years on the American markets. A reaction came in late today and the advance was largely cut down.

Cables were strong. Buenos Aires closed 5⅛c up at $1.41⅝, and London 7⅛c up at $2.91¼.

May flax opened 1½c up at $2.41½, eased off to $2.40¼, then moved up to $2.47¼ and closed 3½c up at $2.43½. $2.47¼ asked. July opened unchanged at $2.39 asked, and closed 3½c up at $2.42½ nominal.

At Winnipeg May flax closed 4⅜c up at $2.25.

Cash Sales Thursday.

Up to date 192,000,000 bu Canadian wheat has passed Winnipeg returns show. Allowing 35,000,000 for bread and seed and 10,000,000 in country elevators, 267,000,000 bu of this crop is accounted for. The balance of the crop should not prove burdensome it is thought, with eight months to go to the new crop. Demand is keen and supplies will fade away at the opening of navigation, dealers predict.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Wheat opened steady, only partially, reflecting the strong American cables yesterday as the advance has been too rapid and importers are pausing. Later the market firmed and there was a fair demand for winters at 3d advance with Manitobas 3 to 4½d over. Plates 6d higher, and Australians unchanged. Corn was strong with advancing spot and strong parcel market. Spot was 2d higher and Parcel market 6d to 1s higher."

B. F. Snow's report on farm reserves: "Returns from country agents show a farm reserve of corn on Jan. 1 of two billion bu of which only 439,000,000 bu is of a quality which can be sold for its ordinary uses. Apparently the amount of merchantable corn is now about the same as was sold a year ago. Wheat on the farm in bulk and regardless of quality is 33.4 per cent or 338,-000,000 bu of which only 281,000,000 bu is merchantable. Farm reserves of merchantable Gold wheat are smaller than a year ago. Farm reserves of oats measured by bulk are reported at 768,-000,000 bu, of which 658,000,000 bu is merchantable. This is rather more than ordinarily so held, the surplus evidently being retained to meet added farm requirements because of the corn shortage."

T. W. Lewis wires C. E. Lewis & Co. from Winnipeg: "Railroads are making further demands on shippers. They now ask you to show you have ocean space when you order out cars to go to seaboard points. This really is in the interest of the legitimate shippers and is designed to cut out the speculators loading out cars and taking a chance of getting a big price when they arrived at seaboard."

CHICAGO MARKET.

All Deliveries of Wheat Rise to Highest Prices in 1915 Crop.

Chicago, Jan. 13.—All deliveries of wheat rose today to the highest prices yet in the 1915 crop. Chances of severe damage by the cold wave in the winter wheat belt formed the chief cause of the advance, which was also influenced by cable dispatches that British import requirements would be larger than expected, and that the amount of wheat on ocean passage was likely to show a decided falling off. There were also bullish estimates current as to the quantity of wheat still remaining on farms in the United States. After opening ⅝c to 1¼c higher, the market scored additional gains before beginning to react. Final prices for May were $1.28⅝ to $1.29 and for July $1.22 to $1.22¼.

Assertions that English buyers refused to follow the advance, led afterward to setbacks. The close was unsettled, ¼@⅜c to ¾@⅞c net higher, with May at $1.28¼@⅜ and July at $1.21⅝@¾.

Corn sympathized with wheat. Drouth in Argentina counted, too, against the bears. Opening prices, which ranged from ¼c to ⅜c higher, were followed by a slight sag.

Bad weather cutting down receipts tended later to uphold prices. The close was nervous at ⅝@½c to ½@⅝c net advance.

Oats traders took their cue from the strength of other grain. Selling was only of a scattered sort.

Curtailment of hog receipts brought about an upturn in provisions. Longs who unloaded yesterday were conspicuous buyers.

STOCKS ARE IRREGULAR

Gains and Losses Feature Day's Dealings in Securities.

Close Heavy With Trading in Issues Below Average.

New York, Jan. 13.—Irregular gains and losses were recorded in today's initial dealings on a relatively small turnover. United States Steel was the only stock to issue in more than moderate amounts, lots of 500, 1,900 and 2,500 shares changing hands at 85¾ to 85⅞ against yesterday's close of 86⅛. The Mexican situation was again reflected in the heaviness of Mexican petroleum and American Smelting, while some of the war issues lost substantial fractions. Yesterday's active specialties, notably the sugar group, industrial alcohol, Crucible Steel and Mercantile marine, were again to the fore at material advances.

The short interest resorted to recent tactics soon after the stock market opened today in an effort to depress prices. Steel fell to 85⅝ and Mexican Petroleum, which was more active than Steel, repeated yesterday's minimum of 113½, while other speculative favorites showed marked heaviness. Liberal buying of representative rails and some of the more stable specialties caused partial rallies, after which the market became dull. Dealings in the first hour were below the recent average with further diminution later. Bonds were steady, with a new high record for Mercantile Marine 4½s at 99¼.

Further covering of short contracts in special stocks and depression of Mexican issues featured today's professional market.

Recurrent weakness in Mexican petroleum and smelting with some reversal in high grade rails marked the final hour. The close was heavy.

AUSTRIANS CAPTURE CAPITAL OF MONTENEGRO

ELECTRIC EXPLOSIONS AND FLYING IRON CAUSE PANIC AT DETROIT, MICH.

Fire and Short Circuits in Edison Light Company's Tunnel.

Many Hotels and Offices Without Light or Heat.

Flying Manhole Covers in Street Endanger the People.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 14.—Fire today in a tunnel of the Edison Illuminating company, the main artery of its downtown plant, caused several underground explosions, principally on State street and brought about a panic in a crowded street car and cut off power, light and heat in many of Detroit's largest hotels, office buildings and stores, while the mercury stood at seven above zero. For several hours after the accident there was no heat and it was said there would probably be no light and power before late in the day.

Short Circuit Follows.

The melting of an overloaded cable caused the trouble. A short circuit followed and, with that, the water main, which supplies the plant of the Central Heating company, broke. In the meantime, the insulated cables in the tunnel caught fire, the underground passageway became filled with gas, explosions followed and man-hole covers were flying in the air. So violent were the explosions, in some places, that large buildings trembled and windows were broken.

Manhole Cover Flies Up.

One manhole cover shot up directly in front of a crowded street car. The car was stopped instantly throwing some of the passengers out of their seats, and two women became hysterical. When all of the passengers had rushed through the exits to the streets, it was learned, however, that no one was seriously hurt.

With heat and light unavailable, hotel guests suffered greatly during the cold morning. In several office buildings, no elevators were running, and, in inside offices, candles and kerosene lamps had to be used for lighting purposes. Among the public buildings without heat and light were the city library, and police headquarters.

OTTUMWA, IOWA, HAS TWO MORE BAD FIRES

Second and Third Blaze Starts During Investigation of Fire Marshal.

Ottumwa, Iowa, Jan. 14.—The third fire in the business district within three days today destroyed the Dunbar indoor baseball court with damage estimated at $10,000. Early last night fire destroyed the Graves Cigar factory and damaged four other firms to the extent of $35,000. Both fires occurred while Deputy State Fire Marshal Zimmerman was here investigating the $400,000 fire of last Tuesday.

BRAZIL REDUCES DUTIES ON IMPORTS

Rio Janeiro, Jan. 14.—The president has signed a decree reducing the imports on a number of North American products. The new duties, which are in effect as from Jan. 1 of the present year, show the following reductions from the tariff now in force:

Thirty per cent on wheat flour; 20 per cent on condensed milk, articles of rubber included in article 1033 of the tariff law, clocks and watches, inks (Article 173 of the tariff law) except writing inks, varnishes, typewriters, ice boxes, pianos, scales, windmills, cements, corsets, dried fruits and school furniture.

BRITISH TAKE U. S. SOLDIER

Remove Him From Ship at Jamaica But Soon Return Him.

First Time Such Event Has Occurred Since War of 1812.

New York, Jan. 14.—Albert Clark, a private in the Fifth infantry, was removed from the steamship Santa Marta at Jamaica by a British neutrality officer, according to passengers who arrived here on the ship today. After being detained ashore several hours, Clark was allowed to return to the ship and proceed here.

This is said to be the first time a United States soldier has been removed under similar conditions from an American vessel since the war of 1812.

The Santa Marta flies the American flag. At Jamaica the British officer boarded the vessel and closely questioned all passengers as to their nationality. Clark said he was born near Vienna, but had taken out his first American citizenship papers some time ago.

Returns With Soldiers.

The neutrality officer left the ship without comment on Clark's case, but soon afterward, passengers said, three negro soldiers in uniforms boarded the Santa Marta and told Clark to accompany them ashore.

Subsequently Clark said he was taken to what is known as the tower concentration camp on the outskirts of Jamaica, and there closely questioned by the commanding officer. While he was absent, American passengers on the Santa Marta decided to appeal to the American consul, but before this could be done, Clark returned.

Clark said today that he would make a full report of the incident to the war department. He had just finished nineteen months' service in the canal zone and was proceeding in full uniform to report to the adjutant general in Washington.

BRYAN AND FORD MEMBERS OF PERMANENT PEACE BOARD

Five Selected to Try to End the European War.

Each Member Will Receive Salary and Expenses From Ford.

The Hague, via London, Jan. 14.—The Ford peace expedition has elected the following American members of the permanent peace board to sit in Europe indefinitely with the purpose of using all efforts to settle the war: William Jennings Bryan, Henry Ford, Miss Jane Addams, Rev. Charles F. Aked and Mrs. Joseph Fels of Philadelphia. Five other members will be chosen as alternates.

The board will be composed of an equal number of members from the various neutral countries and will remain in The Hague or Stockholm, with the financial backing of Mr. Ford.

Each member will receive a salary and the entire expenses of the board, probably will amount to $500,000 yearly. Dr. Aked announced that he would offer his resignation from his San Francisco church.

Lively discussions among the members of the expedition marked the election. It is not known when Mr. Bryan and Mr. Ford will come here. Judge Ben B. Lindsey of Denver refused to accept a nomination to the permanent board but probably will remain in Europe indefinitely.

The body will later choose between The Hague or Stockholm for the sittings of the permanent board. Most of the Americans will leave for New York on Saturday.

AMERICANS TO COME INTO SAFETY ZONE

Condign Punishment to Be Meted Out to Guilty Ones.

Washington, Jan. 14.—At today's cabinet meeting, it was decided that the present policy would be maintained and Gen. Carranza would be depended on to punish the Villa bandits who killed American citizens.

Gen. Carranza's ambassador here today suggested to his government that all Americans in dangerous districts be compelled to come into garrisoned places where Carranza troops can protect them. Secretary Lansing asked Mr. Arredondo to request Gen. Carranza to provide at once trains and guards for the removal of Americans who wished to leave endangered localities. Mr. Arredondo forwarded the request with his indorsement, and his own suggestion that Americans in danger be compelled to come into a safety

Port Arthur, Ont., Dec. 14.—A loss of $150,000 was caused by fire in the Walsh block in the center of the business section here today. WHEREABOUTS OF THE KING OF MONTENEGRO UNKNOWN

KING NICHOLAS.

OIL TANK EXPLODES; FOUR PERSONS KILLED

Chicago, Jan. 14.—An oil tank, partly filled with oil in the West yards of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad exploded early this morning killing four persons and injuring two. Only six persons were near the tank at the time of the explosions.

The killed and injured men were in a small building adjoining the oil tank which was covered with burning oil and burned quickly. Two of the bodies were burned beyond recognition. Police and firemen subdued the flames and recovered the bodies, the two men injured being taken to a hospital where it was said they had a chance for recovery.

The cause of the explosion was not given. The damage to the property was small.

MR. GOODFELLOW, DON'T WAIT 'TILL NEXT CHRISTMAS.

KING NICHOLAS' MEN FAR OUTNUMBERED BY INVADING ARMY

Montenegrins Hemmed in on Almost Every Side With Little Opportunity to Retreat.

Rumors From Rome Say Armistice Has Been Arranged With View of Concluding Peace.

Vienna, Jan. 14, via London.—The capture of Cetinje, capital of Montenegro, was announced by the war office. The official announcement states:

"The capital of Montenegro is in our hands. Our troops, pursuing the beaten enemy yesterday afternoon, entered Cetinje. The residence of the Montenegrin king and the town are undamaged. The population is calm.

The fall of Cetinje before the invading Austrian forces, which greatly outnumber the comparatively small Montenegrin armies, was regarded as a matter of only a short time after the capture by the Austrians of Mount Lovcen. Cetinje is only six miles from that stronghold.

The present location of the Montenegrin capital is uncertain, but it is assumed the seat of government was removed to some point in the interior when it became apparent that Cettinje was in peril.

Probably in Mountains.

There have been conflicting reports as to the whereabouts of King Nicholas, but he and the officials of his government probably have taken refuge in the mountains.

With Cetinje in the hands of the Austrians, the Montenegrins are hemmed in on almost every side, and, unlike the Serbians, have little opportunity to retreat beyond the borders of their country. It is doubtful whether they will be able to escape into Northern Albania, and, should they do so, they would be opposed by the hostile tribes of that region.

Cetinje is a small and unpretentious town. Its population twenty years ago was less than 3,000. It is situated in a narrow valley at an elevation of 2,000 feet.

Armistice Rumored.

London, Jan. 14.—A wireless dispatch from Rome, reiterating the report of an armistice between Austria and Montenegro, states that it was Austria which proposed cessation of hostilities, with the purpose of negotiating a separate peace.

Attack on Saloniki Not Begun.

London, Jan. 14.—It is authoritatively announced today that the reported offensive of the Teutonic allies against Saloniki, did not occur. The rumors that the attack had been begun against the forces of the allies, apparently originated in the activity of the French in blowing up the bridges connecting Saloniki with the road over which the attackers would normally travel. Bridges were destroyed by the French, not only at Demir-Hissar, on the Struma, in the neighborhood of Serres, but also at Kilindir, south of Doiran. All the bridges destroyed were in Greek territory.

The rumors that Austria and Montenegro have suspended hostilities for the purpose of discussing arrangements whereby further warfare on Montenegrin soil would be stopped, may be based simply on the fact that the Austrian advance in Montenegro has become so slow that suspicion of a suspension of hostilities is naturally aroused. Many military critics, however, are of the opinion that Montenegro is now in such a position that some form of arrangement with her adversary has become imperative.

Italy's Attitude Mysterious.

Speculation is rife as to the attitude which Italy has adopted with regard to the invasion of Montenegro by the Austrians, which constitutes a grave menace to Italian interests. The fact that Italy's superior fleet did not prevent an Austrian squadron from assisting in the reduction of Mount Lovcen, which dominates the harbor of Cattaro, is being commented upon, though experts admit that there is not a sufficient basis of information from which to draw conclusions, and they suggest that Italy's action in the present juncture should be awaited, before judgment is passed, and that action they point out, would naturally be kept secret as long as possible.

Little News From Galicia.

News of the developments in the military operations in Galicia and Bessarabia, is awaited with much interest here, and it is observed that both sides are unusually reticent with regard to the operations. Austria usually sends out the first information on the military activities in that region but beyond a general review of the Russian offensive movement, she gives today but little light on the happenings on her eastern front.

The Austrian military authorities affirm that the sole result of the Russian offensive to date has been the

RIOTING AT EL PASO QUICKLY SUBDUED BY AUTHORITIES

Killing of Americans Arouses Wrath Against Mexicans in City.

Few Mexicans Wounded in Uprising in the Border City.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 14.—Vigorous action by the police, aided by the United States soldiers, had this morning restored order in this border town, for three days in turmoil growing out of the massacre of eighteen foreigners, most of them Americans, by bandits in Western Chihuahua last Monday. Today sentries were stationed on all the principal street corners.

Despite efforts of the municipal authorities to control the demonstration against Mexicans, apprehension was felt for their safety. Numerous fights broke out between foreigners and Americans, with soldiers participating. The Mexican quarter was invaded and the foreigners sought shelter from enraged Americans. Policemen went from hotel to hotel advising Mexicans to seek safety.

One hundred and fifty arrests were made during the night. Beyond a few minor wounds, it was found none of the Mexicans had sustained serious injuries. Funerals of three of the victims were held yesterday.

Others will occur today, and the bodies of several of the men will be shipped to their former homes today or tomorrow.

No Advices of Martial Law.

Washington, Jan. 14.—Secretary Garrison said today he had no advices that martial law had been proclaimed in El Paso and pointed out that the army probably was aiding the civil authorities of the city only in maintaining order by using a provost guard

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

Cetinje, the Montengrin capital, has been taken by the Austrians. It now seems inevitable that Montengro will experience the fate that befell Serbia, as there appears to be little to interfere with the speedy over-running of the remainder of the kingdom by the powerful Austrian armies which already have eaten deeply into Montengrin territory on the north, east and southwest.

The fall of Cetinje was seen only to be a question of time when the Austrians took Mount Lovcen. The Montenegrin force that was offering a desperate but hopeless resistance in the Lovcen sector, is being pursued, the Vienna official announcement states. Its only avenue of retreat seems to be into Northern Albania, which is hardly friendly territory, owing to the attitude of the tribesmen there.

Today's official announcement from Vienna regarding the Montengrin campaign seems to dispose quite effectually of the reports that a truce with Montenegro has been concluded.

Although the expected drive of the Teutonic allies against Saloniki has not yet been begun, numerous minor operations are being carried out along the front in that region. An Athens dispatch reports a raid by a squadron of French aviators on first line Bulgarian trenches in the Strumitza sector in which heavy damage was done the entrenchments and the Bulgarians suffered the loss of a number of men killed and wounded.

MANY NEW IMPROVEMENTS SUGGESTED BY CONTEST WRITERS, FOR CITY'S BENEFIT

Unifying of All Suburbs and Districts, Greek Theater, Municipal Tennis Courts and a Subway Under Ship Canal Among Numerous Suggestions.

Suggestions for the benefit of Duluth continue to increase in the "What Would I Do for Duluth?" contest. Among the many things suggested today are the following: A Greek theater, the uniting and unifying of all suburbs and districts of Duluth, the cleaning and beautifying of the city, providing better means of ridding the city of smoke and the taxing of unimproved property.

"Meteor" of Chisholm suggests the unification of the districts and commercial and improvement clubs of the city and their working together for a bigger and better Duluth. He says:

"Had I the power, I would make Duluth a unit in fact as well as theory. Today the city is a group of smaller towns having a common government. It consists of eighteen different towns, and has at least nine different commercial clubs or improvement societies. Each section is working for its own advancement, without taking always the proper thought for the betterment of the whole.

"I would begin this work by perfecting an organization made up from the representatives from the different commercial organizations from the different sections, and have matters of greater weight come before this organization. I would also drop the name West end, Lakeside, West Duluth, etc. These, in my opinion, help to keep the sections apart.

"I would also promote a more friendly spirit with Superior, and seek with that city to draw things to the Head of the Lakes. What helps one, helps both.

"I would also extend the publicity of the real worth and natural advantages of the section. Duluth has everything necessary to make a large city, why not let folks know about it?

"METEOR."

"H. W. B." would clean up and beautify the city and cut out the smoke nuisance. He says:

"The first two things that I would do go hand in hand—cleanliness and beauty. I would provide rubbish receptacles at downtown corners, and enforce their use. I would prohibit the passing out or throwing around of handbills, cards or other advertising matter. Would make property owners keep vacant lots and property cleaned up, and have condemned all unsightly and insanitary buildings. Would enforce a practical smoke ordinance. Would have the city purchase park property for future generations, but only develop it as fast as needed. Would arouse, if possible, civic pride to such an extent that every citizen would do his part toward beautifying and keeping clean the city.

"Thirdly comes transportation, and under this would come a lake breakwater, municipally owned docks, railroad freight and passenger terminals; docks and terminals closely grouped with a view to convenience and efficiency. Also tunnel, or tunnels, under the Duluth ship canal, and also tunnels connecting Duluth and Superior. Would build viaducts down Fifth avenue and Garfield avenue from Superior street to end of avenues, and build viaduct over Michigan street connecting with Superior street at the downtown avenues. This would open up a new business district and relieve congestion on Superior street. Would also make preparations for the future viaducting of Superior street instead of widening it.

"H. W. B.,
"824 East Second street."

A West end resident would group and plat Duluth systematically with a view of providing for future growth and also cleanup and beautify the city. His suggestions follow:

"I would authorize:

"Entire abatement of smoke and dust (a) by means of some method for laying the dirt in smoke before it escapes from a chimney, (b) by means of establishing larger paving programs during the following years, and substantially paving all streets in Duluth, in the order of their importance as to traffic.

"Mapping out Duluth, as we know it should be in the future; when the population of Duluth will be many times what it now is; and when the residence districts will be largely situated along a stretch (which we might call Upper Duluth) one step back from what now is the populated stretch or portion of Duluth; placing the streets of this Upper Duluth in an effective and practical way, bringing the whole branchwork down to a simple system of highways leading to Lower Duluth. (By some method of laying these highways, all unreasonably steep grades should, and must, be averted.)

"Cleaning the city of all such things and such places as tend to vice and crime, many of which, seemingly, are allowed simply because they are a means of raising funds for the municipal expenses. We gather taxes for this purpose. Taxes should be sufficient.

"C. A. WALLENTIN,
"328 Twenty-sixth avenue west."

An East end man suggests a Greek theater, municipal tennis courts and a subway under the United States ship canal so that the aerial bridge might be eliminated. He says:

"The three things that I would do for Duluth had I the power are:

"I would build a Greek theater in one of the hilly portions of the city. This would be very attractive in the summer time and would be a great booster for Duluth.

"I would also have the city provide and support public tennis courts in different parts of the city. This is done in a great many cities throughout the country.

"I would have a subway built under the canal in order to do away with the inconveniences of the aerial bridge. The aerial bridge has never been a success and has been out of commission a great number of times.

"HENRY JENSWOLD,
"5820 London road."

Another contestant advocates the taxation of unimproved property thereby putting a premium on improvements and wiping out the undeserved profits of outside property holders who benefit from the improvements made by persons living near their property. He says:

"Herewith are three propositions submitted for consideration:

"Decrease tax upon personal property and improvements, have tax on unimproved property raised. In other words, have tax levied upon the real estate valuation regardless of the improvements thereon. Under the present tax system we punish an industrious citizens who improves his property in proportion to the amount of improvement—the more valuable the improvement, the higher the tax—while on the other hand we reward Eastern plutocracy, speculators and their agents by permitting them to gather in rich harvests of profits for preventing somebody building or improving their property until they have been amply rewarded without any great amount of difficulty or tax—the increased valuation is the result of thrifty neighbors, but those who are a hindrance are the ones who receive the benefit.

"Have the city own the public utilities that they may be operated for the benefit of Duluth and her citizens instead of the profit-hunting bond holders.

"Have a public produce exchange so that the farmers who wish to sell in Duluth will get the market price for their product and the citizens of Duluth can obtain produce that is home grown at a reasonable price.

"A. G. C."

The patronizing of home merchants in preference to catalogue houses is urged by another writer. He says:

"If I had the power or money I would see that no mail order house would get any trade from Duluth, at least I would try and make a law that people of Duluth should do their trading in their home town, and not of any mail order house out of Duluth.

"I would also see that we could get a large home built for the old and the aged, who can't work any longer and make their living.

"I would see that we got a home for all men, women and children—men on one side, women on another and children on another, unless they are small, then they would stay with their mothers.

"I would also provide food, clothing and shelter for those who would not want to go in that home, because they would have to part with their children.

"I would see that the saloon was eliminated. Many children cry for a piece of bread as the father carries the money into the saloon.

"And I would see that we get a hospital built for the poor so that if there is anyone who is badly hurt we could take them there and give them what care is needed. And I would see that no one is suffering for want of food, clothing or shelter or fuel in the hospital or outside of it.

"GEORGE WAGNER,
"621 East Second Street."

CRIME IN ST. LOUIS COUNTY SHOWS DECREASE FROM 1914

Annual Report of County Attorney Shows Law's Net Closely Woven.

Prosecutors Convict 88 Per Cent of Defendants Brought to Trial.

St. Louis County May Be Second in State for Business Handled.

WARREN E. GREENE.

Instead of finding their path strewn with roses, those who threw law and order to the winds in St. Louis county last year discovered the existence of an effective agency engaged in avenging crimes against society. This, at least, is the natural inference to be drawn from the annual report of County Attorney Warren E. Greene, completed today.

Statistics from the 1915 report of the prosecutor show that convictions were secured in 88 per cent of the cases wherein defendants faced trial charged with crime and which were prosecuted by himself and his aides, Mason M. Forbes, first assistant; Edward L. Boyle, second assistant, and Richard M. Funck, third assistant. While this does not establish a new record for the office, it is believed that it outdistances all other counties of Minnesota for the percentage of convictions obtained during 1915.

St. Louis county saw less crime last year than in 1914. The volume of business in the office of the local prosecutor was heavier in 1914 than in Hennepin county, in which the city of Minneapolis is located, and it gave St. Louis county the honor of leading the state for the first time in years. The work of the office during 1915, however, shows a falling off in the number of cases handled as compared with the previous year.

Many Cases Handled.

The 1915 report which was prepared by First Assistant County Attorney Forbes shows that during the year the total number of cases handled was 706, as against 787 for the previous year. The figures cover the work done in the range courts as well as in Duluth, and the decrease is due entirely to a falling off in the number of prosecutions carried on in the range branch of the office, which more than offset the slight increase to be noted in the number of cases handled in the Duluth courts.

Of the 706 cases handled last year, 300 were brought to trial. In 1914, there were 350 offenders obliged to face trial. Of the 300 cases for 1915, there were 264 convictions and thirty-six acquittals. This makes the percentage of convictions 88 which will probably be the highest in the state for 1915. The average percentage of convictions for the state as a whole has been 60.

The following table shows the number of cases handled and the number of convictions secured for the last five years:

Year—	Cases Handled.	Brought To Trial.	Convictions.	Acquittals.	Pct. Convictions.
1915	706	300	264	36	88
1914	787	350	315	55	90
1913	753	277	245	32	88.5
1912	624	245	211	34	86
1911	478	251	212	39	84.5

Fewer Fugitives.

Of the 706 cases handled by the office during the year, 406 were not brought to trial. Fifty-six of these were pending trial, however, at the time the report was made. Grand juries returned no true bills in 50 cases and there were 242 prosecutions dismissed by the courts.

An interesting feature of the report is that with reference to the fugitives. There were 58 during 1915 who were "wanted by the authorities" as compared with 94 for 1914 and 166 for 1913.

Nearly every crime known to the law was committed by offenders in St. Louis county last year. The offenses range from the crime of taking human life to vagrancy. As has been the case in former years, larceny proved to be the most popular diversion of the law, there being 169 thieving cases handled by the office.

The number of homicides in St. Louis county during 1915 was 13 as compared with 21 for the previous year. These were divided as follows:

	1915.	1914.
Murder, first degree	4	12
Murder, second degree	1	4
Murder, third degree	1	1
Manslaughter, first degree	2	3
Manslaughter, second degree	5	1
Totals	13	21

The Calendar of Crime.

Among the homicide cases there was but one fugitive and he is under indictment on a charge of manslaughter in the second degree. Four cases were dismissed at preliminary hearings, three defendants were acquitted, three were convicted and at the time the report was made two men were in jail awaiting trial on a charge of murder in the first degree. They are Mark Hammond and Mike Hastings, charged with the killing of William Saari, Brookston homesteader.

Cases other than homicide take the following classification:

Larcenies, all degrees	169
Assaults	87
Burglaries	46
Violation liquor laws	61
Statutory crimes	56
Violation game laws	25
Robberies	23
Bastardy	35
Desertion of family	18
Arson	4
Keeping house of ill-fame	9
White slave	1
Practicing medicine without license	6

The list of offenses also includes such crimes as oppression, abduction, disturbing meetings, violation of forestry laws, drunkenness, vagrancy and petty misdemeanors.

Two Sent Up for Life.

Only two men went from St. Louis county to the state penitentiary for life terms during 1914. One was Edward J. Poole, negro, who shot and killed his wife, and the other was a range man, who was found guilty of a criminal assault upon the person of a girl under the age of 10 years. The following table shows how prisoners convicted in the courts of St. Louis county have been sentenced during the last four years:

	1915	1914	1913	1912
Life imprisonment at Stillwater	2	4	3	2
More than 7 years at Stillwater	20	20	22	8
Seven years or less at Stillwater	12	39	47	32
State reformatory	25	53	45	41
County jail or work farm sentences	70	97	58	23
Suspended sentences	54	55	67	49

Fines collected during the last year in the criminal courts of St. Louis county amounted to $2,703.95 as against $5,553.78 for the previous twelve months.

Two Cases Appealed.

During the year, County Attorney Greene had two cases in the supreme court. One was an injunction proceeding against William Orr, saloon keeper at Orr, restraining him from operating his saloon, and the other was an appeal from a conviction for adultery in a range case. The injunction suit was won by the county attorney, but the conviction in the adultery case was set aside and a doubtful point of law decided. In this case the supreme court held that in a prosecution for adultery the injured spouse could not testify against the offending spouse without his or her consent.

The report includes all cases handled by the county attorney's office in the municipal and district courts of Duluth and on the ranges. In addition, the prosecutor and his assistants frequently attended insanity examinations conducted in the probate court. The law requires that the county attorney be present at such hearings and protect the rights of the accused. There were 109 hearings of this kind last year.

The report does not show any statistics with reference to the number of cases investigated in which no complaints were issued nor the number of coroner's inquests attended by the county attorney or his assistants.

"RECOMMENDS SIMONDS SAWS TO CARPENTERS"

F. H. WADE.

Mr. F. H. Wade's prosperous hardware firm of Wieland & Wade at 329 Central Ave. is liberally patronized by the public of his locality. In his tool department Mr. Wade has received a recent consignment of Simonds Saws, which will be of interest to the carpenters in this neighborhood.

Mr. Wade, in an interview, said: "The Simonds Saw is a money-making machine. It saws faster and straighter than any other saw in the world. Saves 50 per cent of time and labor. No other saw takes so fine an edge so easily. And they stay sharp. It is because the steel is tough without being hard—that is, it is perfectly tempered. The Simonds Saw is famous for the breast which makes it saw fast, and for its perfectly set teeth. In my opinion there is no saw like the Simonds."

Mr. Wade has been in the hardware business all his life and for the past 20 years in West Duluth.

Since 1832—for 84 years—Simonds has been making steel products, but Simonds Saws are sold on merit, not on tradition. Simonds Saws have always borne the same guarantee: "You can't own a Simonds Saw and be dissatisfied." —Advertisement.

STATE SUPREME COURT DECISIONS

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Decisions were handed down today by the Minnesota supreme court in the following cases:

ST. LOUIS COUNTY.
All Proceedings Void.

State ex rel, Lyndon A. Smith, attorney general, relator, vs. Village of McKinley, et al., respondents.—

Quo warranto requiring the village officers and authorities to show by what right they claimed municipal jurisdiction over territory outside of the original limits of the village. The statute provides that: "Five or more of the legal voters residing within such territory may petition to the governing body of such city or village to call an election for the determination of such proposed annexation. G. S. 1913, Section 1801. Held, that the words "legal voters residing within such territory" mean resident citizens who would have been entitled to vote in the territory proposed to be annexed on the date they signed the petition, and none others. The petition not having been signed by five legal voters, residing in the territory to be annexed, held that it conferred no jurisdiction on the village council either to entertain the petition or to call an election, and that all the proceedings are void.

Let a writ of ouster issue.

SCHALLER, J.

HENNEPIN COUNTY.
Evidence Sustains Finding.

William F. Behrens, respondent, vs. Simon Kruse, appellant—

1. Plaintiff had furnished certain labor and material to defendant. In some cases he purchased the material from others. He submitted an itemized statement of his account charging defendant in some instances with the respective amounts paid or agreed to be paid for the material, and charging a percentage for his services. After negotiations defendant drew a number of checks on the bank account of his wife, in whose behalf the transactions were had. The checks were for the exact amount shown by the statement as due to respective creditors from whom purchases had been made by plaintiff. The checks were handed to plaintiff, each was indorsed by him to the proper creditor and handed back to defendant with the absolute agreement that he should mail them to the respective indorsees. He failed to do so.

2. The evidence sustains a finding that the checks became the property of plaintiff and that defendant converted them. Delivery of a check may be complete though the payee after delivery hands it back to the drawer, if the circumstances are such as to give rise to an implication that the drawer is to hold or dispose of it as trustee for the payee.

3. The giving of a check for an account operates as an account stated. Parties may agree upon the correctness of certain items of an account between them though they do not agree as to all, and this agreement is of binding force and effect. Such an agreement is an account stated as to the items agreed upon and it can be assailed only for fraud or mistake which must be pleaded and proved.

4. A reservation of an amount pending a complete settlement must, under such circumstances, be regarded as a retention to cover discrepancies in the portions of the account as to which the parties did not agree, and the retention of the checks on account of claim of such a discrepancy is a conversion.

5. The testimony does not make out the defense of payment either alone or in connection with testimony offered.

6. It is no defense to an action for conversion that the plaintiff has not paid debts which he intended to pay by realizing on the property converted.

7. Where parties by stipulation make an admission without reservation as to what testimony an absent witness would give if present and stipulate that their admission may be used as evidence, it may be so used, though in the form of conclusions.

Order affirmed. HALLAM, J.

HENNEPIN COUNTY.
Damage Award Affirmed.

Nancy E. Smith, respondent, vs. Minneapolis Street Railway company, appellant—

Plaintiff, while a passenger on one of defendant's cars, was injured in a collision. About nine days after the accident plaintiff and defendant, believing the injuries to be slight, and relying on the statement of their physicians to that effect, settled the claim. Plaintiff received a cash payment from defendant and signed a release. About six weeks afterward plaintiff brought this action for damages for severe injuries received by her in the accident. Defendant set up the release, which plaintiff sought to avoid on the ground of mutual mistake of the parties and physicians in overlooking substantial injuries, of which the parties and the physicians had no knowledge at the time of settlement. Held, that the law of the case as contained in the charge not having been challenged by the defendant by motion for a new trial, there is, under such charge, evidence sufficient to support the verdict for the plaintiff.

Judgment affirmed.

SCHALLER, J.

HENNEPIN COUNTY.
Judgment Reversed.

Herman Hokanson, appellant, vs. Western Empire Land company, respondent—

Attached to and made part of a contract to purchase land was an agreement of the vendor to resell the land by certain dates, at a certain price, provided the vendee gave notice by a specified prior date of his desire to have it resold. The vendee gave the notice, but the vendor failed to resell. In this action to recover damages for a breach by the vendor of the agreement, it is held:

The agreement is not inherently impossible of performance; the inability of the vendor to find a third person willing to buy at the required price does not render the contract void as being impossible of performance; nor should the agreement be so construed that the only consequence of a failure to resell would be an extension of time upon the deferred payments, to be made by the vendee for the land, until a resale.

Reversed. HOLT, J.

HENNEPIN COUNTY.
New Trial Granted.

Frank L. Kempf, appellant, vs. Joseph T. Ranger, respondent—

1. In an action to rescind a contract for fraud, any representations made prior to the making of the contract may be considered. This is true even though an earlier contract was entered into between the parties embodying similar terms if such earlier contract was repudiated and abandoned.

2. A representation as to "cost" of a building is a representation as to the original cost of production. Such cost may be proved by the opinion of witnesses familiar with the cost of such structures.

3. In action for relief on the ground of fraud, the question is not whether the representations would deceive the average man. It is a question whether they were of such a character and were made under such circumstances that they were reasonably calcuated to deceive the plaintiff; and the diligence and prudence that is required of the plaintiff is not necessarily such as an ordinarily prudent person would exercise, but such as may reasonably be expected of a person of the intelligence and character of the person seeking the relief.

Order reversed and new trial granted. HALLAM, J.

HENNEPIN COUNTY.
Trial Court Right.

Arthur Martin, appellant, vs. Great Northern Railway Co., respondents—

It conclusively appeared from the evidence in this case that plaintiff was guilty of contributory negligence.

Order affirmed. BUNN, J.

HENNEPIN COUNTY.
Appeal Dismissed.

Eva Greenberg, respondent, vs. National Council of the Knights and Ladies of Security, appellant—

Plaintiff had a verdict. Defendant moved for judgment notwithstanding the verdict or for a new trial. The court granted a new trial and denied the motion for judgment. The new trial was not granted exclusively for errors occurring on the trial. Defendant appealed from the whole order. Held, that c. 31, Laws 1915, does not repeal that part of c. 474, Laws 1913, (G. S. 1913, section 8001) which permits an appeal to be taken from an order granting a new trial in a certain specified case only, and that (following Kommerstad vs. G. N. Ry. Co., 125 Minn. 297, 146 N. W. 975) the order herein is not appealable.

Appeal dismissed. SCHALLER, J.

RAMSEY COUNTY.
Western Union Exempt.

State ex rel, Western Union Telegraph company, relator, vs. Samuel Lord, et al., respondents—

Laws 1913, Chapter 483, classifying for purposes of taxation "all real and personal property subject to a general tax, and not subject to any gross earnings or other lieu tax," construed and held to apply to the property within the state of telegraph companies.

Reversed.

HALLAM J.
BUNN, J. Dissenting.

CLAY COUNTY.
Judgment Affirmed.

Kate M. Stein, respondent, vs. J. A. Kemp, as receiver of the Barnesville National bank, appellant—

1. H. contracted to sell land to S. for $12,800, $4,800 of which was paid at the time the contract was executed. The balance, $8,000, was to be paid on delivery of deed, $5,000 in cash and $3,000 in notes secured by mortgage on the land. The cash, notes and mortgage were to be deposited in the bank until title was perfected and furnished to S. The note and mortgage and the $5,000 were deposited according to the terms of the contract. Some months later the bank became insolvent and went into the hands of a receiver. H. never owned the land, or made any payment to the real owner of the land, who subsequently sold and conveyed it to a third person. H. was unable to carry out the contract and S. seeks to recover the $5,000 cash deposit. Held that this was a special, not a general, deposit.

2. Appellant contends that, although the money was traced into the hands of the bank, the court erred in ordering the receiver to pay it over because it is not shown that there was more than $5,000 passing from the bank to the receiver. There is no evidence as to the amount coming into the hands of the receiver from the insolvent bank. The plaintiff placed the $5,000 in the bank as a special deposit and the money is presumed to be there still. If it was returned to the depositor or paid to any one under her authority, that would be a matter of evidence in defense.

Judgment affirmed.

SCHALLER, J.

CLAY COUNTY.
Trial Court Reversed.

Carrie Haugen, respondent, vs. Northern Pacific Railway company, appellant—

1. Plaintiff was struck by a train while crossing a railroad track at a street crossing protected by safety gates. There is evidence that the train approached the crossing at a high rate of speed without signals and without a seasonable closing of the gates. This is evidence of negligence.

2. Plaintiff testified the gates were open as she passed them, that when within six or seven feet of the gates she looked and saw no train. It may not have been then within her sight. In view of the assurance and invitation conveyed by the fact of the open gates it cannot be said that she was negligent as a matter of law in not looking again.

3. The evidence as to injuries caused by the accident is such that it does not sustain a verdict for the amount awarded.

Order reversed and new trial granted. HALLAM, J.

AITKIN COUNTY—
De Factor School District.

J. H. Evens, et al, respondents, v. Peter Anderson, et al, appellants—

1. Five school districts in Aitkin county undertook to consolidate. The proceedings were in good faith and sufficient in form. After the order of consolidation, meetings were held, officers elected, bonds voted, and other business done. It is now alleged that some of the signers of the petition for consolidation were disqualified.

2. A public corporation de facto exists where there is (1) some law under which a corporation with the powers assumed might lawfully have been formed, (2) a colorable and bona fide attempt to perfect an organization under such a law, (3) user of the rights claimed to have been conferred by the law for an appreciable length of time. The consolidated school district was a de facto corporation.

3. Where a municipal body has assumed under color of authority to exercise the power of a public corporation of a kind recognized by the organic law, the validity of its organization can be challenged only by the state, and neither the corporation nor any private party can in private litigation question the legality of its existence.

4. The fact that the organization was so defective as to be void in its inception does not change the rule.

5. Time of exercise of the functions of a corporation is not of controlling importance.

6. These rules preclude direct as well as collateral attack by private litigants. Quo warranto, at the instance of the attorney general of the state, is the exclusive proceeding to determine the legal existence of a public corporation.

Order reversed and judgment ordered for defendants. HALLAM. J.

RICE COUNTY.
Premature Writ Quashed.

State ex rel, F. L. Klemer and H. F. Klemer, doing business as Klemer Bros., relators, vs. district court of Rice county in state of Minnesota, and Hon. Arthur B. Childress, judge thereof, and Hans Wester, respondents—

Writ of certiorari to review an intermediate order made by the district court of Rice county in a proceeding under the workmen's compensation act. As the writ lies only to a final decision of judgment and the district court had made no such decision, it was prematurely issued.

Writ quashed. TAYLOR, C.

WINONA COUNTY.
Cannot Abandon Highway.

State ex rel W. J. Landon, respondent, vs. C. W. Anding, appellant—

In this mandamus proceeding there were no issues for the jury, and hence no error in refusing appellant's demand for a jury.

The provision of section 14, chapter 230, L. 1905, requiring the auditor to advertise for bids for the construction of a state rural highway within ten days after the order has been made for its establishment and construction is directory and not mandatory.

The state highway commission is required to approve the petition for the establishment of the state rural highway, but is not to approve the order of the county board establishing the same. However, the first mentioned approval having been obtained, no prejudicial error resulted from the admission in evidence of a subsequent approval and the finding to that effect.

The board of county commissioners duly established and ordered constructed certain state rural highways in the county, and appellant thereafter duly advertised for bids for their construction. Bids were received within amounts permissible of acceptance, if the bidders were found responsible. Appellant by his answer virtually admits, and the evidence conclusively shows, that he refused to consider any bid on its merit, but rejected all because he considered the county board had abandoned the whole project.

For the purpose of this decision we assume that the county board has manifested an intention to wholly abandon the construction of the state rural highways herein referred to.

But it is held that the county board has no authority or power to abandon duly established highways, nor has the auditor been invested with discretion to determine whether or not the county board has attempted to abandon the construction ordered.

Appellant was not justified in refusing to consider the bids on their merits on the ground that it appears that the contemplated project cannot be carried out.

Judgment affirmed. HOLT, J.

SCOTT COUNTY.
Will Not Disturb Verdict.

Alex Ruppert, respondent, vs. Fred Muelling, appellant—

1. Neither the testimony of the principal nor the testimony of the agent as to the employment as agent is hearsay; and in an action by the principal against a third party, in which it becomes material to establish the agency, such testimony cannot be excluded as hearsay.

2. Whether plaintiff procured the purchaser for defendant's farm, and whether defendant agreed to give him as compensation for procuring such purchaser, whatever was received for the farm above an amount which would give defendant $16,500 net after paying for the cancellation of a lease, were made questions for the jury by the evidence, and their verdict cannot be disturbed.

Affirmed. TAYLOR, C.

WASECA COUNTY.
New Trial Denied.

O. B. Anderson, respondent, vs. Butterick Publishing company, appellant—

In an action to recover for merchandise returned by the plaintiff to the defendant pursuant to a contract between them it is held:

1. That a purported three-year extension of the contract was without authority of the plaintiff.

2. That the case was tried upon an issue as to whether there was a three-year extension; and the defendant was not in position to claim that the original contract was automatically extended for a year by a provision in it.

3. That for a prior judgment to operate as an estoppel upon an issue in a subsequent suit the record must show that the determination of such issue in such a way as to be an estoppel was necessary to the judgment rendered; or it must be shown by extrinsic evidence that such issue was actually litigated and so determined; and the court did not err in excluding a judgment in a former suit in proof of the extension of the contract.

4. The evidence sufficiently proved the return of the patterns as alleged.

Order affirmed. DIBELL, C.

TRAVERSE COUNTY.
No Prejudicial Error.

F. A. Monroe, respondent, vs. G. W. Rehfeld, appellant—

1. Plaintiff at defendant's request sold for him certain wheat and oats for actual future delivery out of the crop then being raised by defendant on his farm. Under the terms of his agreement with the defendant, plaintiff made certain advances to protect the trade, which was finally closed at a loss. Plaintiff brought this action to recover the amounts paid by him for the defendant for commissions and margins. Plaintiff had a verdict. Held, that the evidence is sufficient to sustain the verdict.

2. The admission of certain testimony in evidence, over the objection of the defendant, held not prejudicial error.

Order affirmed. SCHALLER, J.

HOUSTON COUNTY.
Statute of Frauds.

Richard Chapel, respondent; vs. Julia Chapel, et al., respondents, Thomas Chapel, et al., appellants, John D. McMillan, etc., appellant, vs. Julia Chapel, et al., respondent, Thomas Chapel, et al., appellant—

1. The statute of frauds renders an oral agreement to convey land unenforcible by the vendee, unless he has performed it upon his part, and has changed his situation in reliance upon it in such manner and to such extent that he can neither be placed in statu quo, nor be justly and fully compensated in money for such change in situation.

2. The doctrine of specific performance rests upon the theory that one party has estopped himself from invoking the statute by permitting the other party to change his situation in reliance upon the contract to such an extent that enforcing the statute would operate as a fraud upon him.

3. The respondent has not changed his situation in such manner or to such extent in reliance upon the oral agreement as to bring this case within the class of cases in which specific performance is decreed.

FAVORITE CIGARETTES

Hair Often Ruined By Washing With Soap

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonsful will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

THREE MORE ADVANCE PAY

Independent Mining Companies Following Lead of Steel Corporation.

Pickands-Mather, Republic Company and Shenango Join Great Northern.

Three other independent mining companies, operating in the Lake Superior district, have announced that the wages of their employes will be advanced on Feb. 1. These are Pickands, Mather & Co., the Republic Iron & Steel company and the Shenango Furnace company. These companies operate on the Menomonie, Marquette, Gogebic and Mesaba ranges. As in the case of the others, the amount of advance is not yet given.

This makes four independent companies to announce such an increase in wages, the Great Northern Ore Properties making a similar announcement yesterday through The Herald.

The independents are following the lead of the United States Steel corporation, which, a short time ago, announced that its employes would be given an advance of 10 per cent for laborers and proportionately for others, and yesterday John H. McLean, general manager of the Oliver Iron Mining company, announced through The Herald that the advance would take place for employes of that company on the first of next month.

The four other companies which have announced the advance are the largest independents in the Lake Superior district and employ thousands of men on the Mesaba range and on the Michigan ranges. The advance in wages of the Steel corporation alone was heralded as vastly important for the reason that it will benefit thousands of employes in this section and means that a good deal more money will be spent. The advance of the independents adds thousands more to the list in this section and benefits the territory surrounding the Michigan operations in proportion.

operated on about two weeks ago at the Mayo hospital. Mayor Boylan declares that Virginia is at the height of prosperity, with lumber mills running full time and preparations for the most extensive mining in the history of the range now under way. Mr. Boylan looks for this year to be the most prosperous his home city has ever enjoyed.

The mayor will be up for re-election on Feb. 8, and is going home now to get his campaign going right. His opponent will be W. H. Eaton, a former mayor. Last time, Mayor Boylan had two opponents and won out by a narrow margin.

ALEX SCOTT MINE SOLD

Anaconda Company Takes Over Property for $750,000 Cash.

Will Yield $10 a Share—Subject to Stockholders' Approval.

The sale of the Butte-Alex Scott Copper company's mine and interests to the Anaconda Copper company has been effected, according to Skillings Market Letter of Jan. 15. The consideration is reported at $750,000, equal to approximately $10 a share for the outstanding stock of the Alex Scott Copper company, of which there are 79,311 shares. There will be a cash balance in the treasury of $80,000 after all debts are paid. A meeting of stockholders of that company has been called for Feb. 2 to ratify the sale. The transfer books will close on Jan. 21 next.

Negotiations for the sale had been on for more than a year. The deal was prompted by the consideration that the mine could be more profitably operated by the Anaconda interests, which own the adjoining property, and work it from a shaft run through a portion of the Scott holdings.

The Alex Scott Copper company has had a somewhat checkered career. In June, 1912, the stock was placed on a 50-cent quarterly dividend basis, and dividends at that rate were paid up till October, 1913. The stock sold at around $10 and $12 a share during 1912 and 1913, but a year ago it could have been picked up at as low as $3.75. Dividends at the rate of 15 cents a share quarterly have been paid during the last six months.

DECLARES BIG DIVIDEND.

Minnesota Implement Mutual Fire Insurance Company Elects.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 14.—The stockholders of the Minnesota Implement Mutual Fire Insurance company, in session here this week, elected the following officers: President, D. H. Evans of Tracy; secretary, C. I. Buxton of Owatonna; directors, A. C. Hatch of Battle Lake and A. Marckel of Perham.

The meeting was addressed by S. D. Works, state commissioner of insurance, on "Fire Insurance Rates." He advocated the patronage of home institutions in preference to sending money to New York and other places. He also said that he believed all towns should be rated according to their present condition in the matter of fire protection instead of taking old ratings. This, he said, would do away with many of the high rates to be found in many parts of the state.

A dividend of 40 per cent on $3,502,376 risks was also declared.

COMMERCIAL CLUBS PLANNING BUSY YEAR

Grand Forks, N. D., Jan. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Another season of active work by the commercial clubs of North Dakota cities has opened, and many of those organizations are making plans already for their 1916 efforts.

The gradual trend in club work in the state has been towards co-operation between the cities and the rural communities, and in this, excellent results have been achieved in many instances. The closer co-operation has operated to the mutual advantage of the cities and the rural communities, and that fact has attracted the attention of other clubs to this field of work.

On Shooting Charge.

Bowbells, N. D., Jan. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Julius Carlson, charged with attempting to shoot Martin Helseth, a farmer, will be the first man tried when the Burke county district court session is opened here Jan. 17.

"TIZ" FOR TIRED AND SORE FEET

"TIZ" for Puffed-up, Burning, Aching, Calloused Feet and Corns.

Why go limping around with aching, puffed-up feet—feet so tired, chafed, sore and swollen you can hardly get your shoes on or off? Why don't you get a 25-cent box of "TIZ" from the drug store now and gladden your tortured feet?

"TIZ" makes your feet glow with comfort; takes down swellings and draws the soreness and misery right out of feet that chafe, smart and burn. "TIZ" instantly stops pain in corns, callouses and bunions. "TIZ" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more shoe tightness—no more foot torture.—Advertisement.

BUYERS ALREADY AFTER 1916 WOOL

Saves Expenses and Lives

Home-Made Cough Syrup

An item like labeled cough syrup costs the people several million dollars a year. Every item the housewife can save on, is worth while, so that this home-made, reliable, laxative cough and cold medicine will be welcomed by thousands, who have never tried it. Many hundreds right in this community already know its worth, according to a well-known druggist.

Buy at the drug store a 2½-ounce package of Essence Mentho-Laxene, a concentrated fluid; empty it into a pint bottle. Then make a syrup by pouring a half pint of boiling water into a pint of granulated sugar, stir, cool and fill up the bottle with syrup. Full directions and dosage are contained in each package. A saving of $2.00 to $3.00 is effected, and it cures any curable cough. Contains no opiates or poisons. —Advertisement.

SNIDER FUNERAL WILL BE HELD SATURDAY

E. G. SNIDER.

Funeral services for E. G. Snider, who died at his home, 23 East Sixth street, Wednesday night after walking a considerable distance in the blizzard which swept the city that night, will be held from Crawford's chapel tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be at Forest Hill cemetery.

Heart failure, brought on by overexertion, is said to have been the cause of death. Mr. Snider leaves a wife and two sons, Ralph L. and Elmer G. All of them live in Duluth.

The Snider family came to Duluth about two years ago from Nebraska. Mr. Snider was a decorating and carpentering contractor. He was 50 years old.

VETOES REDUCTION OF HIS OWN PAY

Jamestown, N. D., Jan. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—H. W. Kelley, mayor of Jamestown, does not take kindly to the city council's effort to abolish the $60 monthly salary allowed for the mayor, substituting a nominal allowance of $2 a month, and has vetoed the proposed ordinance.

Mayor Kelley declares the duties of mayor require a great deal of his time, and he is honestly of the opinion that the official is entitled to the salary.

Pioneer War Veteran Dies.

Mankato, Minn., Jan. 14.—W. A. Clark, a nearly settler of Nicollet county, died Jan. 11 at his home west of this city. He was born in Pennsylvania in 1828 and came to Minnesota in 1855, locating in this county. He served throughout the war in Company H, Second Minnesota volunteers, and received a medal for bravery at the battle of Nashville. His wife and son survive him.

In Treating Tuberculosis

It should be remembered that one of the aids to relief is found in abundance of fresh air—day and night—the largest possible freedom from overexertion and well-cooked, pure food.

Attention to these should do much toward arresting the progress of the malady, but in many cases there is need for extra help. Where Nature has to work with a weakened body her power is limited. Before she can do her most, there must be a return to normality of functions.

Under such circumstances, try Eckman's Alterative, which has been used with large benefit by many sufferers from tuberculosis, in numerous cases it has helped to bring about recovery.

And since it contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, its use is not attended with danger. At your druggist's or direct.

STANTON TO HEED CALL?

Beltrami County Judge Listening to Urging for Governorship Candidacy.

Declines to Discuss But Does Not Forbid—Talked By Democrats.

Bemidji, Minn., Jan. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Following the wide publicity given the name of Judge C. W. Stanton of this city as Democratic candidate for governor, and the open indorsement by leading Democrats that has been given him, Judge Stanton was asked today to affirm or deny that he is to become a candidate for governor. Judge Stanton said, in reply:

"While I should like to answer your question, it appears indelicate and immodest on my part to do so, because I am not aware of any such demand for my candidacy, or mention of my name in that connection, such as would warrant any consideration of the matter by me at this time. I fear that any declaration by me at this time would appear presumptuous."

The judge did not say or intimate that, under certain conditions he would turn down the proposition to become the Democratic candidate.

It is freely talked that Lindbergh, Iverson and Schmahl may oppose Burnquist for the Republican nomination. In the event of such a scramble on thepart of the Republicans the Democrats naturally would wish to take advantage of such complications by placing at the head of their ticket the man who can get the largest number of votes.

The impression prevails here that when the Democratic state central committee meet in St. Paul Feb. 3, it will decide that Judge Stanton is their one best chance. If this is done and other conditions so warrant and he is assured the harmonious support of the Democrats, it is felt that Judge Stanton will be the next Democratic candidate for governor of Minnesota.

MATCH MEN IN SESSION

City Managers of Local Branch Holding Annual Conference.

Branch managers of the Union Match company are in Duluth for their annual two days' conference. Meetings are being held today at the office of J. L. Washburn and tomorrow night a banquet will be served at the Spalding. Every phase of the business of the sales department is being considered.

The following are in attendance at the meeting: R. N. French, Minneapolis; W. E. Taube, Omaha; N. B. Marriott; C. A. May, Pittsburgh; F. G. Hill, Buffalo; L. J. Hemen, Kansas City; A. O. Tschappler, St. Louis; William Nuness, Minneapolis; and George E. Bannister, Minneapolis.

Officials of the company point out that the price of matches to consumers has not been advanced, despite the fact that the cost of potash has risen from 7 to 45 cents a pound owing to the European war. An advance to the trade was, however, made last summer, and a second one at the beginning of this month.

The factory is being strained to its fullest capacity to meet the demands of salesmen.

The managers all came to Duluth this year with the knowledge that they have closed a most successful year's business.

These managers have offices and a corps of salesmen in the cities in which they are located and this brings the company in close touch with its customers.

WOMEN SHRINK FROM MODESTY

Bear Grievous Ailments Rather Than Make Condition Known.

Tanlac Is Designed to Combat This Modern Malady.

The subjects of complaints peculiar to women is a delicate one, yet it is a plain duty to let these sufferers know that the most of the derangements from which they suffer are due primarily to nervous debility. Many a suffering woman, influenced by shrinking modesty, has borne this grievous condition without complaint rather than make a personal appeal. When women say, "I am all run down, so nervous and weak," that means they are victims of the modern malady. Such women, and they are legion in every community, suffer from headaches, backaches, loss of appetite and sleeplessness. Their spirits are always depressed and their lives are not the normally happy ones of their more fortunate sisters. Often, too, there are spells of nausea, weakness, or even fainting, that makes them feel insecure and to wonder when they will be embarrassed, or even in danger, because of their condition. For such suffering women, Tanlac, the tonic, tissue builder, appetizer and invigorant, is ideal. Tanlac builds up the system, promotes digestion and proper assimilation of food, vitalizes the blood and brings back healthy color to the cheeks and a real sparkle to the eyes.

Tanlac may now be obtained in Duluth at the drug store of William A. Abbett, 219 West Superior street, and at the Abbett branch stores, 101 West Fourth and 932 East Second street.

GETS NORTH DAKOTA LAND THROUGH ERROR

Mandan, N. D., Jan. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Peter Geise, through a mistake made in the United States land office at Bismarck, gets title to land owned by the state of North Dakota, and which was given to the state years ago by the government for the support of schools.

The Bismarck land office issued a patent to Geise for the land and later it was found that the government did not own it. An appeal to the department of the interior brought a decision permitting Geise to hold the land, settlement for the same to be made between the United States and the state, without jeopardizing the homesteader's rights.

Proposed Dickinson School.

Dickinson, N. D., Jan. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Petitions are being circulated here for the construction of another school building, the present accommodations being inadequate to care for the increase during the last two or three years. Under the plan proposed, the city would bond for $25,000 for the erection of a modern grade school.

HOW TO SELL EGGS BY MAIL

Parcel Post Marketing Methods By Uncle Sam.

Government Publishes a Pamphlet Giving Tips to Producers.

Washington, Jan. 14.—The farmer who wishes to sell his products by parcel post, and the housewife who wishes to use this method of securing country produce for her table, will find many useful points in Farmers' Bulletin 703, "Suggestions for Parcel Post Marketing." This bulletin, in addition to explaining the postal rates and measurement limits for parcel post matter, discusses in some detail the types of containers which are most successful and the methods of grading and packing produce, so that it will reach the consumer in good condition, and be attractive in quality and appearance. In treating standards for parcel post shipments, the bulletin tells how to select, handle and pack poultry and how to grade and pack the various fruits and vegetables which the average farmer is likely to market through the postoffice.

The Question of Price.

The bulletin points out that one of the common obstacles to establishing parcel post communication between farmer and consumer is that the farmer may be unwilling to offer goods at a price which attracts the customer, or that the consumer may offer a price lower than the farmer can obtain at a local market. To quote the bulletin:

"Not only must the farmer have something additional to the usual price to compensate him for the extra work, container and postage required, but the consumer must also have something to attract him to marketing by parcel post. In determining what the price shall be, both the farm price and the retail price paid by the consumer when he markets in the ordinary way should be taken into consideration. The consumer must receive either a better article at the usual retail price, or an article of the grade usually purchased at some concession in price.

"It is probable that the point which will make the strongest appeal to the average consumer is that he can secure by parcel post a fresher, brighter, more attractive, and thus possibly a better product, than he can obtain otherwise.

Appearance Is Important.

"The average producer, as a rule, does not realize the importance of appearance as a factor in selling goods and frequently is careless and indifferent in preparing produce for market. The consumer, on the other hand, relies very largely upon appearance in selecting food supplies and unattractive articles are passed by promptly.

"A personal acquaintance should be established between producer and consumer, when they come into business contact. This will help a great deal in furthering parcel post marketing, and also will eliminate many of the misunderstandings which may occur from time to time. A definite understanding should exist as to the duties of each in regard to remittances, claims for damaged or spoiled produce, and the preservation and return of containers."

SUFFER AT HAND OF ENGLISH TRADERS

American Firms in China Complain of Injustice Worked There.

Tientsin, China, Jan. 14.—Two American firms here have protested to United States Minister Reinsch at Pekin concerning injustice they have suffered at the hand of the English traders acting under the screen of laws and regulations designed to cut off the trade of England's enemy and her allies. The two complaining firms are exporters of wool and formerly did a large business in Mongolia. At the time the war broke out these firms had extensive contracts for Mongolian wool. There was much delay in effecting the delivery of this wool and finally the Trans-Siberian railway said that it could not handle it. Russian officials took the position that Russia and her allies needed the wool and could not allow it to be exported by the Americans.

However, the complaining firms say that an English concern doing business in China and Mongolia was permitted to purchase the wool under contract to the Americans, had it hauled out on the Russian railway, shipped it to the United States and realized a handsome profit on the transaction.

SAFETY CABLE FOR SHIP CANAL

Harbor Master Recommends Device to Safeguard Against Drownings.

Capt. W. E. Hoy, harbor master, in his annual report to Commissioner Silberstein recommends the installation of a safety cable along the ship canal piers to avert drownings and regulations for preventing the overloading of row boats by laborers crossing from the shore to docks in the bay.

"At present," states Capt. Hoy in his report, "should anyone accidentally fall into the canal from the piers, there would be no possible way of getting out without outside assistance. Owing to the swift current and the coldness of the water, it is impossible to remain afloat more than a brief time.

"A cable should be stretched from the inner to the outer ends of both the north and south piers. It should be placed about three inches above the water line and fastened with bolts to the pier walls at various places. Such a cable would at least provide means for anyone falling into the canal to support himself until help arrives."

This recommendation, Commissioner Silberstein said, will be referred to the government authorities, as supervision over the canal is not under his division.

"WHO IS THIS FELLOW?"

Rotarians Adopt Unique Way of Becoming Better Acquainted.

"Who is that dark fellow next to Mackintosh?"

Harry Bate faltered and the seventy members of the Duluth Rotary club at their regular weekly luncheon at the Spalding yesterday gave him the laugh.

Thomas Walker was called upon next.

"Who is the tall man sitting alongside Bate?" he was asked.

And he, too, faltered, but for a moment, and then guessed the name. But he was given a laugh, anyway.

This new plan of introducing all the members to one another received its innovation at the meeting yesterday and not only provided considerable amusement for those present, but aided the members in getting acquainted. It will be a part of every meeting in the future, officers of the club announced after the luncheon yesterday.

J. Alfred Smith, local representative of an adding machine company, gave an interesting account of his line. Various members of the club, it was announced, will be called upon from time to time to give a talk on his business. Charles Mackintosh gave a short talk on the relation of Rotary to the public.

ENGLISH POLICE DOGS VALUABLE

Perform Many Deeds of Rescue on Russian Battlefields.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Headquarters First Russian Army, Dec. 20.—English police dogs, of which there are six attached to the Twenty-first Flying Column of the Russian Red Cross, have proved their worth in many instances on Russian battlefields. In one night, near the village of Kute, vicinity of Lovitch, these wise animals hunted out in grain fields over which the battle surged and brought relief to forty-nine wounded men.

The dogs had been brought from London by authorities of the city of Vernaya for use in tracking down thieves and murderers with which the place was infested. Within a few weeks they enabled the police to round up these criminals. One dog, who still retains his English name, "Jack," slightly Russianized, was several times sent to Moscow, Kief and Odessa to similarly aid the police of those cities.

In times of inactivity of the troops the dogs are frequently used to convey dispatches from one section of the column to another and always perform their task with unerring fidelity. During battle, even under heavy fire, they search out the wounded by scent and the sanitars may be certain the man to whom they are led is still alive since the dogs instinctively ignore the dead. Having found a wounded man the animals will carry his cap or a mitten back to the sanitar, who follows to the spot. Each animal wears a pair of miniature saddlebags, in which he carries flasks of brandy.

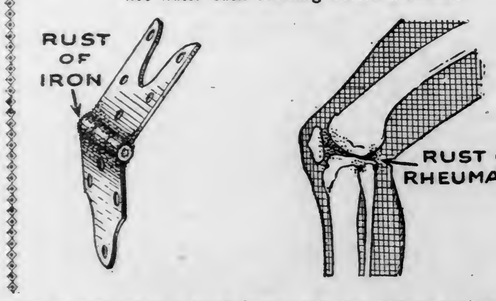

In appearance the dogs resemble the Airdale, or the Irish terrier. An exhibition of man hunting was given for the benefit of the correspondent at headquarters of the First Siberian corps. A soldier was directed to hide in a clump of bushes two blocks distant in a field. The sanitar released the dog and directed him in the general direction of the spot. After making several wide circles the animal caught the scent and made straight for the hiding place at top speed, returning presently with a glove. The sanitar tucked a small package in the saddle pocket and away went the dog on his return journey. The sanitar, to carry out the deception, followed and appeared to assist the hiding man, while the dog looked on with apparent interest.

OFFICERS' SWORDS ARE TO DISAPPEAR

Berlin, Jan. 14.—The officer's sword, whose usefulness had long since vanished and whose sole remaining function was to trip its wearer up at inopportune times, is now to disappear officially at the German front. The emperor has just issued an order permitting officers at the front, with the exception of the commanders of large detachments and staff officers, to wear a short knife or bayonet. The order approves a custom which had already established itself with the tacit acquiescence of the military authorities.

DRINK HOT WATER AND RID JOINTS OF RHEUMATIC RUST

Why rheumatism and lumbago sufferers should drink phosphated hot water each morning before breakfast

Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not completely eliminated each day, becomes food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels. From this mass of left-over waste material, toxins and ptomaine-like poisons, called uric acid, is formed and then sucked into the blood where it continues to circulate, collecting grain by grain in the joints of the body much like rust collects on the hinge as shown above.

Men and women who suffer from lumbago, rheumatism or sore, stiff, aching joints should begin drinking phosphated hot water, not as a means to magic relief from pain, but to prevent more uric acid forming in the system. Before eating breakfast each morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will first neutralize and then wash out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's accumulation of toxins and poisons; thus, cleansing, sweetening, and freshening the entire alimentary canal, each morning, before putting more food into the stomach.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make any rheumatic or lumbago sufferer an enthusiast on the morning inside bath.

Millions of people keep their joints free from these rheumatic acids by practicing this daily internal sanitation. A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate, drank before breakfast, is wonderfully invigorating; besides, it is an excellent health measure because it cleanses the alimentary organs of all the waste, gases and sour fermentations, making one look and feel clean, sweet and fresh all day.

Those who try this for one week may find themselves free from sick headaches, constipation, bilious attacks, sallowness, nasty breath and stomach acidity. —Advertisement.

MANY LASTING RESULTS LEFT BEHIND

SAYS MR. RANCK

BY LAYMEN'S MISSIONARY CONVENTION

"What are some of the benefits of the series of conventions of the Laymen's Missionary movement held six years ago? Thousands of laymen throughout the country, including a large number in this convention area, Duluth, Superior, and surrounding towns, obtained a broader vision of their responsibility to God and the whole world. Formerly the interest of these men in missions—in the work of men and women working for the spread of the gospel in the hard places of the world, at home and abroad—as well as their prayers for and gifts to missions, was of a very spasmodic character. Men became aroused under occasional special appeals, but the conventions of the Laymen's Missionary movement brought these important matters home so forcibly that interest, prayers and gifts became regular; the men became better citizens with a deeper interest in religious matters right at home. 'The light that shines farthest shines brightest at home.'" so says E. D. Ranck, who is arranging for the convention coming here Jan. 19 to 23.

"As with individuals, many churches were stirred to a greater sense of responsibility for others, especially those in the far corners of the earth," he says. "But interest in and gifts for home missions increased proportionately with those for foreign fields.

"Another great benefit has been the co-operative effort between men of the many denominations. The Laymen's Missionary movement campaign and conventions of six years ago brought about a splendid unity of effort. Co-operative work brings results which wipe out or cause men to forget differences.

"Many of the denominations have formed Laymen's Missionary movements of their own which work for advanced conditions within their own denominations; and at the same time furnishing a basis for co-operation in conferences and conventions.

"On the great program of the convention for this territory, which will be held in Duluth on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week, with a Conservation day on Sunday, Jan. 23, appear the names of noted speakers from at least seven different denominations.

"This is a campaign of education, inspiration and co-operation.

"No collection will be taken at any session of the convention of the Laymen's Missionary movement, either for missions or for the Laymen's Missionary movement."

DIGNIFIED ADVERTISING FILLS THE CHURCH

SAYS DR. HOVIS

TRIES THE EXPERIMENT IN MILWAUKEE

The old idea that churches and ministers should not advertise and that it was perhaps a sin is fast disappearing, according to a new items in the Milwaukee Journal of last Monday. The Journal discusses in detail the newspaper advertising campaign being conducted by Dr. William Forney Hovis, former pastor of the Endion M. E. church of Duluth, and now pastor of the Grand Avenue M. E. church of Milwaukee. Dignified advertising is given credit for breaking all attendance records at the church for fifteen years. The article follows:

"Preliminary experiments at the Grand Avenue Methodist church indicate that advertising may be made a splendid success in furthering church work, and may become a permanent means of attracting attention to church services. The plan at the Grand Avenue church was inaugurated Friday with a display in the Journal. Other means of advertising were also used.

"'We had a magnificent attendance at our Sunday services,' said the Rev. William Forney Hovis, pastor. 'A member of many years' standing telephoned me in the afternoon that at the morning service the attendance was the largest in fifteen years.

Due to Dignified Advertising.

"'We used three plans of advertising. First there were many tickets distributed bearing announcement of the services and entitling the holder to a free seat in any part of the house. Of course anyone was welcome without the tickets, but they probably served to emphasize the importance of the services. Then I sent personal appeals to as many people as I could reach. Lastly, we used the display ad in the newspaper. I think the marked success of our service was no doubt due to the impetus gained through dignified advertising.

"'Our people are most enthusiastic over the success of the plan, and if the preliminary results are verified in continued successes we will no doubt keep up the use of advertising. It may even become a permanent part of our church forwarding movement.

Must Deliver the Goods.

"'Of course we realize that, just as in the case of a business house, when we attract people to our church through advertising we must be able to give them something of value, something that will make them want to return. The sermon, the music, the whole setting for the services must be made to do its part in the total impression gained.

"'Yes, advertising seems to be a success in bringing the work of the church before the public eye.'

"Mr. Hovis will adopt the special feature plan of advertising for next Sunday. For the night service the Lyric Glee club, comprising sixty men's voices, will be on the program."

ROUGH RIDERS FOR RUSS ARMY

Mounted Scouts One of Most Perilous Branches of the Service.

Daring Raids of Corps Play Important Part in War.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Headquarters of the Russian Army of the Center, Dec. 15.—One of the most perilous branches of army service in Russia is that of mounted scouts, an organization peculiar to the Siberian corps. There are 100 of these scouts to each regiment, and a hardier, more daring lot of rough riders would be hard to find. They are for the most part plainsmen, whose life has been spent in the open and on horseback.

This organization played an important part in the Japanese war where by their impetuous attacks they saved the Russian troops in many instances from heavy losses. After the Japanese war they were disbanded, but with the outbreak of the present conflict, were reorganized by Capt. Benjamin Pessotsky, who become their commander. During the recent months while the Russians and Germans have been facing each other in the trenches these scouts frequently have raided the German lines and during the last week in November on the eastern front they bagged a German staff, consisting of two generals, a doctor and six noncommissioned officers. A colonel and many soldiers were killed in the action.

Scout Activities.

The following incidents concerning the scouts' activities earlier in the war were given by an officer at the front who participated in events related.

At 3 o'clock on the afternoon of Sept. 29 the last companies of the first division left their positions before Warsaw to take up others behind the defenses of the city. The entire defense of the city was left to the Siberian scouts. Commander Pessotsky, who had remained with the scouts, took upon himself to order his men to spread out and occupy the left wing of the positions between Yulanova and Novo Ivitchni, in front of a wood.

The Germans began to advance on Novo Ivitchni, sending a flying column in front. Pessotsky ordered his men to open fire. The German column to their surprise began to fall back, firing. Pessotsky got on top of a small house and through his glasses observed the enemy, ordering changes in position to give the impression that the trenches were fully manned. The Germans began shelling the village and the house where he was. In face of this, he sent an officer to the rear, saying that he was holding the position and asking that reinforcements be sent. The enemy began pressing forward in force, but Pessotsky's heroic action had given time for the whole Russian column to move forward again and by a flanking movement, to drive back the Germans. This was the beginning of the German retreat that ended at their frontier.

It may also be said that during this war the Russian Red Cross has done more than ever could have been expected of it. The doctors, surgeons and sisters, on the one hand and the volunteer organizations on the other have worked with marvelous efficiency.

Work of Flying Columns.

One of the most interesting phases of the work is the operation of the flying columns, which move along with the army and work while engagements are in progress. In each flying column there is an officer in charge with all the rights of a military commander of a separate military unit, although he may come from civil life. Besides him there are two or three aides. The medical side of the organization is represented by three surgeons, eight students and two sisters. One hundred and eighty men to each column are assigned and trained to the work required of them, from the ranks of enlisted men. The column has also a large number of sanitary carriages, several field kitchens, field operating rooms and in case of necessity tents to live in.

During battle the column is divided into three sections. The commander, either mounted or afoot, moves forward with the sanitars, as near as possible to the trenches. Sometimes they locate in the trenches themselves. Very often when trenches or positions change hands the flying column has to stay on until the last, to take away the wounded in spite of the danger of falling into the enemy's hands. Two columns have been entirely destroyed by the fire of the enemy, and several have been captured, to say nothing of individual losses among other columns. Not only have they to bring first aid to the trenches, but frequently they must transport the wounded in their sanitary carriages through the zone of artillery fire.

During battle the columns also organize field feeding points and bring to the trenches not only first aid, but food for the wounded who often must lie for hours before they can be moved.

The Battle Cry of Peace.

Every officer and every man in the army and navy urges every American citizen to see it.

APPEAL TO HURRY RELEASE OF CARS

Railway Association Urges Aid of Shippers and Receivers.

The shortage of cars caused by the congestion in the East of goods, grains and other things held for export, made more extreme by the disposition in some quarters in the West to hold cars longer than necessary, has caused the Association of Western Railways to issue an appeal to shippers and receivers of freight, traffic managers and commercial organization to try to help out by hurrying the release of cars. Copies of this appeal have been received in Duluth, and it is in part as follows:

"In 1912, and again in 1914, this association appealed to the shippers and receivers of freight for co-operation in obtaining the maximum use of freight equipment. The results in both instances were gratifying. Reports that are coming from all parts of the country, and the conditions indicated in the attached tables, call for a similar appeal at this time in our endeavor to avoid a most serious car shortage.

"In a recent circular on this subject the interstate commerce commission states: 'In order that the business of the country may go forward without interruption, the commission urges shippers, both individually and through their associations, to co-operate to secure the prompt and full loading of cars and their prompt release. One of the chief causes of failure of car supply in past seasons has been the unnecessary detention of cars by careless shippers and by shippers using them for storage purposes. In the general public interest, shippers should endeavor to release cars at the earliest possible moment without regard to the free time given by the tariffs.' To this end the following suggestions are made, for which the widest publicity is solicited:

"First, load and unload all cars as quickly as possible.

"Second, load all cars to the full capacity.

"Third, anticipate the disposition of freight before its arrival.

"Fourth, only order such cars as can be loaded promptly.

"Fifth, do not order special type of car when ordinary type will answer the purpose.

"Sixth, reduce to the minimum the practice of billing cars to intermediate points to be held for reconsignment.

"On account of excessive rain and other adverse conditions which delayed the threshing of wheat and oats, the movement of grain for the first crop months of 1915 (July, August, September, October) is 25 per cent less than the movement during the same months of 1914 at the terminals of Chicago, St. Louis, Omaha, Peoria and Milwaukee, and as the government reports indicate an increase in the amount of wheat and oats raised in 1915 of over 450,000,000 bushels in excess of 1914, it is evident that there is an enormous amount of wheat and oats left in the country awaiting transportation.

"It is estimated on the best authority that there are 96,000,000 bushels of the old 1914 corn crop on the farms, an increase of 16,000,000 bushels compared with the same month a year ago, and the time is at hand for the movement of the 1915 corn crop, which is next to the largest in the history of the country. The increase of 913,081,000 bushels of grain, if loaded in cars at 1,350 bushels to he car, would make 676,356 more carloads than in 1914."

INSANE MAN CAPTURED IN BARRICADED HOUSE

Brazil, Ind., Jan. 14.—Jacob Barra, an insane man who has been holding out against the officers since Dec. 8, having armed himself and barricaded his home south of this city, was captured by William Garribus, sheriff, and a posse of seven men.

They were notified by Barra's son that the father was going to sleep. The men hurried to the Barra home, hid in the washhouse and waited until Barra went to bed.

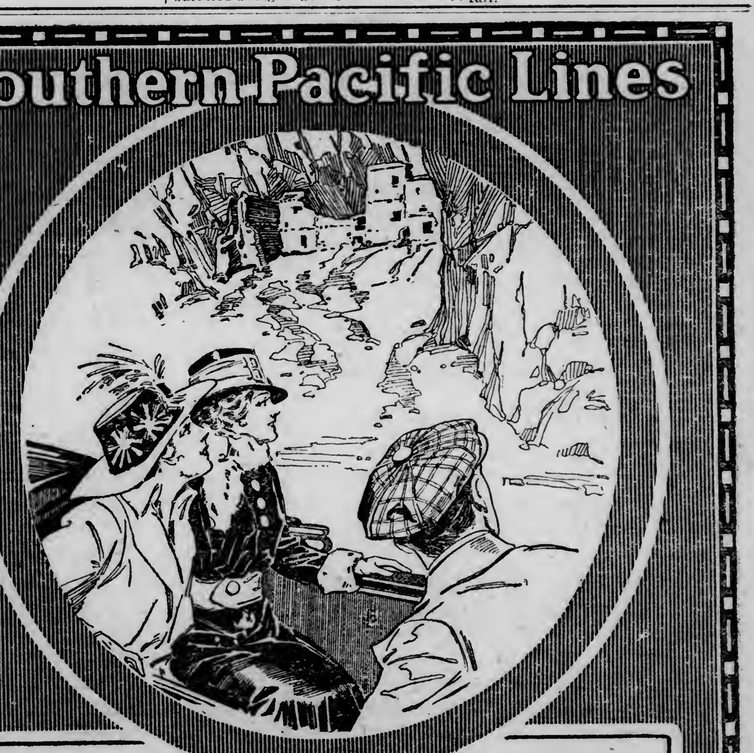

The men then went into the house and caught the sleeping man. He had been sitting up all night, taking short naps only. He was armed with a six-shooter in his hip pocket, a double-barreled shotgun at the foot of his bed, a sharpened ice pick and a sharpened corn knife.

WOMAN IN GRAVE IS "RELEASED OF FETTERS"

Huntington, W. Va., Jan. 14.—Orders for the arrest of a band of "Holy Rollers," a religious sect at Brownstown, a suburb of Ceredo W. Va., after the members had exhumed the body of Mrs. Leonard Smith, who died a year ago, believing she would arise from the grave if "released of her fetters," were issued by Mayor James O. Marcum.

The act was the second performed in the last ten days. This affair was planned Sunday night at a meeting of the sect. The grave was opened before the authorities were aware of the affair.

SLIGHTLY WARMER ON MESABA RANGE

Virginia Reports 37 Degs. Below at 6 in Morning.

Virginia, Minn., Jan. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—The cold spell has slightly abated on the Mesaba range but it is still very cold all over this section. The thermometer maintained by Prof. Quickstad at the high school for government observation recorded 37 degs. below zero at 6 a. m. today. The weather moderated as the day advanced but at noon the thermometer was still below zero and very cold weather is expected tonight. No fatalities due to weather were reported here today.

Warmer at Hibbing.

Hibbing, Minn., Jan. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hibbing experiencing the second coldest day in years yesterday was beginning to thaw out Thursday evening and the thermometer began rising just a little. About 6 o'clock last night the temperature showed a rise of over 10 degs.

It was warmer this morning than yesterday.

At 10 o'clock last evening the temperature again took a drop and it registered 28 degs. below.

Railroad trains were all on time last evening and buses had less difficulty keeping on schedule.

No seriouos cases of frost-bite or injuries suffered because of exposure was reported at the local hospitals.

Ten lodgers took advantage of the free beds at the village jail.

The Associated Charities report a few destitute cases with assistance rendered immediately.

A truck, No. 2, was stalled in the big snow banks at the Pool location on Wednesday morning's fire but was soon set free. In the meantime Chief McIlhargey's car came to the assistance and carrying chemicals to a fire not far off succeeded in putting out the blaze.

ANNEXATION IS ANNULLED

McKinley Village Has No Jurisdiction Over Mining Land.

Annexation of mineral-bearing lands of an assessed valuation of about $2,000,000 to the village of McKinley last year was nullified today when the state supreme court, in a quo warranto proceeding, held that the village council was without authority or jurisdiction in the territory purported to have been annexed.

On Feb. 10, 1915, a petition purporting to have been signed by five legal voters, residents of the district to be annexed, was presented to the village council asking for a special election to be held in the territory at which time the question of annexation should be voted on by the residents in the territory proposed to be added. Subsequently an election was held and the vote was in favor of annexation.

The court held that the petition was insufficient because five legal voters and residents had not signed. Also subsequent proceedings were nullified and a writ of ouster as to the village officials in the annexed territory ordered. The annexed territory will revert to the town of Biwabik.

How Soldiers Keep Strong

Preparedness against sickness is the big, important thing to fighting soldiers. A sick soldier cannot work with vigor any more than you can work with energy when you are weak, tired, almost sick.

One efficient warring government is giving each soldier a vial of cod liver oil every day because far-reaching experiments show how wonderfully it increases the calories of human energy and gives them strength to prevent winter sickness. Is this not convincing proof that you need it at this season to enliven your blood to prevent sickness?

Cod liver oil is scarce and high-priced this season and many inferior grades may be offered. But remember that which guarantees pure cod liver oil—free from alcohol and drugs.

If you are subject to colds, throat or lung troubles; if you are easily tired, run-down or have thin blood, you should take Scott's Emulsion at once. If your children are backward in growth, frail or anæmic, nothing will do them so much good as Scott's Emulsion, and for girls and women in home or business it is nature's great strength-builder.

Scott's is not a "secret" medicine. It is a rich blood-food and a pure tonic; it contains nothing harmful and is pleasant to take. It is prescribed by physicians and liberally used in hospitals and private schools.

One bottle may prevent a sickness. At any drug store—Start it to-day.

Imitations are sometimes offered but this Trade-Mark has stood for supreme quality for the past forty years.

COLD DELAYS SHIPMENTS

Fruits and Vegetables Unable to Withstand Severe Weather.

Frost-Proof Cars Help the Ranges; Coast Shipments Reduced.

The cold weather during the last three days has seriously interfered with the movement of fresh fruits and vegetables and in fact all produce on the Duluth market.

Except for the possession by the Duluth, Missabe & Northern and the Duluth & Iron Range railroads of absolutely frost-proof refrigerator cars, it is said by local commission houses that consumers in the range towns might have found themselves on short allowances in some perishables. The two local roads received shipments of fruits and greenstuffs as usual during the days when the cold was so intense and residents in their territories benefited accordingly. On the other hand, the movement of those supplies this way from California, Florida and Louisiana points was largely cut off. Though the shipments were received at producing points, the cars were invariably held up as soon as the low temperature belt was reached and practically nothing was permitted to go through. In spite of this obstacle, Duluth commission houses are able to supply the requirements of customers in staple articles during this period of railroad traffic interruption, as they were fairly well stocked up.

Good Apple Sales.

Apples and oranges still hold the boards in the produce market in point of movement, according to the Fitzsimmons-Palmer company, the Culbertson Bros. company and the Stacy-Merrill Fruit company. New York barrel apples have been going out in good volume in spite of the cold weather. The market in oranges is firm owing to rains in California having cut down shipments. Provided weather conditions become normal, a drop in quotations is predicted within the next ten days or two weeks. Trade in grapefruit came next in importance in point of volume.

Potato Market Soars.

A striking development in the home-grown vegetables list was an advance of 25 cents in the potato quotation, making it $1.25 a bushel. This compares with 75 cents at this time last year. The bulge in the potato market has been brought about through heavy shipments to the South where supplies were short owing to unfavorable growing conditions last season. As the yield of potatoes in Minnesota was materially cut down through severe frosts at a critical period in the fall, a further advance in their cost is predicted in the near future.

Decline in Eggs.

Despite the cold, receipts of fresh eggs have improved, according to the Bridgeman-Russell company and the Victor Produce company, and their quotation has consequently taken a drop of 2 cents today to 34@36 cents a dozen. Which way the market will move during the next couple of weeks depends almost entirely upon the weather, dealers say. The quotation in storage eggs is unchanged at 23@24 cents a dozen. Produce men fear that supplies of storage eggs in the associated warehouses throughout the country will be cleaned up within a few weeks. That will be attributable in a great measure to strong export demand. Duluth operators participated largely in that trade in shipments made up to the close of navigation. Substantial expansion in it is looked for next year as the result of negotiations recently opened up with European importers.

Butter prices are unchanged at 32@34 cents a pound for the best creamery. No material change in that market is expected within the next four or five weeks. Ordinarily butter production begins to increase about March and market developments will be in order then.

FOREIGN LOTTERIES ON THE INCREASE

Postoffice Authorities Kept Busy Restraining Their Publicity.

Washington, Jan. 14.—Increase in the number of government lotteries abroad as the war drags itself out is forcing United States postal authorities to be especially watchful to prevent their advertisement in this country. The lotteries are given publicity in the United States in two ways, it was said at the postoffice department today. Individual letters are written to American citizens in an effort to induce them to purchase tickets, and news stories are circulated of fabulous sums won.

Letters soliciting clients, if they fall into the department's hands, never reach their destinations. Some get through the department if on the outside they do not present a suspicious appearance. All the suspected letters are diverted and opened.

With news stories the department does not find it so easy to deal. The solicitor's office of the department holds that any news story advertising a lottery must be barred from the mails. Under the department's ruling, this means any story giving publicity to a lottery. It does not have to be a paid advertisement.

Many news stories of European lotteries have been printed recently, the department says, which approach closely a violation of the law. A story that mentions the name of a winner or winners of a lottery is held to be a distinct violation. A story, too, that might be expected to attract such attention to a lottery that readers would investigate is held to be a violation.

A section of the law quoted by the department reads:

"No newspaper, circular, pamphlet or publication of any kind containing any advertisement of any lottery, gift, enterprise or scheme of any kind offering prizes, dependent in whole or in part upon lot or chance, or containing any list of the prizes drawn or awarded by means of any such lottery, gift, enterprise or scheme, whether said list contains any part or all of such prizes, shall be deposited in or carried by the mails of the United States or be delivered by any postmaster or letter-carrier."

Most of the lotteries being carried on in Europe now are for war benefits. Hospitals, the wounded, soldiers' dependents and other war victims are aided.

Kraut Kills Horse.

Georgetown, Ky., Jan. 14.—A mare valued at $150, belonging to Shelby Barnhill, a Scott county farmer, died as a result of an unusual appetite for kraut. Sensing a barrel of pickled cabbage must be a food for young horses, the animal proceeded to give it a trial. The taste called for more, which resulted in death.

PROTECTION TO INDIANS

Cato Sells Tells How Sale of Liquor Has Been Stopped.

Refers to Closing of Saloons Under the Chippewa Treaty.

Washington, Jan. 14.—A dramatic story of the government's fight to stop the sale of liquor to Indians is outlined by Cato Sells, commissioner of Indian affairs. So well have the efforts of the Indian service succeeded, he said, that the traffic virtually has been broken up.

Not only has the government cut the sale of liquor to Indians on reservations and elsewhere, but in one instance it has made a fifth of a state dry through enforcement of a sixty-year-old Indian treaty. Older treaties are being studied now to determine if saloons in other territory partly populated by Indians can be closed.

Minnesota is the state in which a vast area was freed of saloons by treaty enforcement. The agreement revived by the government is known as the Chippewa treaty of 1855 For many years its provisions regarding the sale of whisky had been forgotten until one day last summer it was discovered in the Indian bureau here that the convention was a perpetual bar to the sale of intoxicants in Northwest Minnesota.

Determined to Enforce Treaty.

Indian officials determined to enforce the treaty and began, too, the study of similar agreements in other states. On Oct. 20 last, an order went forth that saloons in several of the larger towns in the territory must close within ten days. Liquor dealers refused to close and took the fight into the courts, where it has just been decided that the treaty provisions still are in force.

Indian officials say the Indian himself first realized that alcohol was a menace to the race and that in the Minnesota treaty as well as in most of the other Indian treaties the Indian and not the white man stipulated that intoxicants should not be sold in Indian territory.

In other parts of the country officials charged with enforcement of laws against sale of whisky to Indians worked through court action. Several officers were killed.

An educational campaign against the use of alcohol, Indian officials declare, did much for the enforcement of laws. A pledge-signing campaign also was an aid. Education of the Indian against drink was undertaken through the schools, where students were interested in essay writing contests.

Forgotten Law.

While investigating treaty arrangements Indian officials discovered a forgotten law permitting the government to hold up annuity payments in regions where liquor was within easy reach of Indians. This, officials assert, was one of the most fruitful methods tried. Payments were stopped until headmen of the tribes promised cooperation and until officers were convinced white residents in contiguous territory would aid in law enforcement.

One Indian official has declared this touching of the white man's pocket book by cutting off payments was so effective as even to surprise the Indian service.

Reservation officials in the Southwest have bent their energies towards stamping out the fermentation of tulapai, a native Indian liquor made from sprouting corn. The use of peyote buttons, or dried cactus crowns, for making an intoxicating drink has been checked by a department of agriculture order prohibiting their importation. Legislation has been asked to give the Indian office large powers over traffic in peyote.

State legislation is declared to have been of material assistance to the Indian office.

Commissioner Sells concluded his review of efforts to stop the sale of liquor to Indians by saying:

"The sentiment of the people is strongly with our work, regardless of the attitude of the individual on the question of prohibition as it is understood in white communities."

RETRIAL OF NEW HAVEN DIRECTORS IS ORDERED

Washington, Jan. 14.—Retrial of five former directors of the New Haven railroad under indictment for conspiracy to violate the criminal provision of the Sherman anti-trust law, was ordered last night by Attorney General Gregory. William Rockefeller, Lewis Cass Ledyard, Edward M. Robbins, Charles F. Brooker and Charles M. Pratt are the five in whose cases a jury in New York disagreed last Saturday.

Mr. Gregory also announced that the case against G. F. Baker, T. N. Vail, T. DeWitt Cuyler, Francis T. Maxwell, Edward Milligan and Alexander Cochrane, indicted on the same charge, and granted separate trials, would be dismissed, because they did not become connected with the New Haven board until recent years, and were not interested in many acts of which the government complained.

Cook of 1021 East Second street, the hostess and those who assisted her received in costume, in an appropriate Chinese setting. A program of Chinese music and readings was given and typical Chinese dishes were served. Those who assisted Mrs. Cook were Mrs. E. Mrs. J. B. Cook, who is a recent addition to Duluth musical circles, having come from Minneapolis, gave a group of Chinese piano numbers. Miss Mary Shesgreen read "The Yellow Jacket" and Miss Gittleson, with Mrs. Robert Bruce Liggett at the piano, gave a musical reading, "A Japanese Love Song," in which the characters were a Japanese boy and a Chinese girl.

Dutch Dramatist Is Subject of Class Study

Mrs. Dudley Holland talked on the Dutch dramatist, Herman Heijermans, and read from his play, "The Good Hope," and Miss Frances Sibbald spoke of the work of the Italian dramatist, Giacosa, at this morning's meeting of the literature department of the Twentieth Century club. Miss Sibbald and Mrs. B. H. Hayes read a part of one of Giacosa's plays.

Miss Sibbald gave as Giacosa's chief characteristic as a dramatist his ability to understand and portray character and his mastery of technique. "On account of his popular themes, simple dialogue, tendency to moralize, more or less bourgeois attitude toward life and its problems, he was often accused of being a cheap dramatist and of cultivating the public," she said. "This was unjust. He pleased the theater-going public because he was one of them and knew their tastes."

Bread Leavened With Snow.

The use of fresh, dry snow as a leavening agent is not new, but the way in which it acts seems to be misunderstood to some extent. The popular explanation is that the raising of the dough is due to ammonia in the snow. As a matter of fact, snow contains but a very slight amount of free ammonia, probably not more than one part in a million. This quantity is, of course, by far too small to cause any expansion of the dough. The leavening action is due to the entangled air in the snow. The air expands on heating to several times its original volumes, thus expanding the dough. Steam is formed at the same time and aids in the rising process.—C. E. Candied Cranberries.

Springfield Republican: Cranberries candied according to the method developed by the home economics division, United States department of agriculture, are firm, plump and semi-transparent, and can be eaten as a sweetmeat, used like citron in cakes or puddings or chopped up and added to "tutti-frutti" ice creams. The secret of candying cranberries lies in handling the fruit so that it will become saturated with sugar. This calls for slow cooking on the installment plan and the use of a dish large enough to permit all the berries to float at the top of the syrup during cooking. The skins are so tough that they must be pierced before cooking to let the syrup into the pulp or interior. To do this three little slits each one-eighth inch long should be made in each berry with the point of a penknife. Use selected, large, firm cranberries. The directions for cooking are as follows:

For 1½ cups of berries, make a thin syrup by boiling together until clear two cups of sugar and 2½ cups of water. When the syrup is cool, add the berries and bring very slowly to the boiling point. If the berries are heated too quickly the skins will burst before the syrup soaks into the pulp. As soon as the syrup boils, take the dish off the stove and let it stand over night. Next day drain the syrup from the berries and boil it until it is reduced to about half its original volume. Put the berries into this medium-thick syrup and heat slowly; boil gently for three or four minutes, and then allow to stand for two hours or more. Then boil gently a third time for five minutes. A smaller dish probably will be needed for the third and last boiling. When thoroughly cold, or better still, on the following day, drain off the syrup and spread the berries out on a lightly buttered plate or a sheet of clean, waxed or lightly buttered paper until the surface of the berries dries.

The berries, if directions have been followed, will candy separately and not into a sticky mass. To make a delicious ice cream, add one-half to three-fourths of a cup of chopped berries to each quart of the cream mixture. They also can be combined with bits of candied orange or lemon peel, or other glace fruits to make "tutti-frutti" ice cream. The syrup left over after the berries are candied has a pleasant sweet-acid flavor and fine color and is excellent in pudding sauce or even, when diluted with water, for use on pancakes and waffles.

My Kitchen Table

In reply to many who have asked about the most convenient work table for the home kitchen I am going to tell about mine.

It used to stand before a sunny window, and on its left was a kitchen cabinet, and at the right a sink. In front of it, but behind me, when I stood working at it, stood the gas range. This seemed convenient for several years, when I had castors put on the table and drew it into the middle of the room and placed a lower table and a chair at the window. Finally, I grew tired of the kitchen cabinet, which, like most of them, was a mere makeshift, not large enough to do much work at, and planned a real work table. It has been in daily use now about six years, and it is the most complete I have seen.

This stand combines sink, cabinet and work table. The height is thirty-eight inches. There are three sides to it, so when standing in it to work the side that is fitted with the sink is at your right hand; in front of you is the work and baking table proper. At the left is a utility stretch, holding scales, stationary food chopper, bread and cake mixers, and other tested cooking helps. Beneath this section is an electric motor that runs all these, beside furnishing current for an electric iron.

Now if you have a picture of the three-sided table in your mind, I will tell you its size. The width across the top is three and a half feet, and each section is four and a half feet long. Standing in this three-sided table one can reach everything needed without taking a step. The range is opposite the open side of the square, and is placed in a good light.

Beneath the sink end of this work table is a long shelf to hold dish drainers, pans, dish mops, and at the open end is a drawer for fresh wiping towels and silver polish. The flour is kept in a patent holder attached to the middle stretch of the table, and the flour is sifted from it as needed. However, one has need of more than one sort of flour, so there are small but practical bins under this middle part for pastry and various other flours. On the left hand end of the table and beneath the top are wide, deep shelves that hold three sizes of mixing bowls, cake tins, bread pans, and a generous assortment of cooking utensils. My kitchen is light, so it is usually easy to see everything on the under shelves at a glance, but tiny electric lights in each side can be flashed on if more light is needed.

The top of this table is two-inch thick white pine, and the middle section is covered with a sheet of heavy plate glass to save scrubbing and to add to the beauty of the table. The end opposite the sink was covered with a sheet of aluminum before the utensils were placed.

A rack to hold two trays for carrying dishes was built on one end of the table last year, and is a convenience I should miss now if I did not have it.

As I do not like to stoop any more than you do, I had a rack made to hold mixing spoons, forks, knives, beaters, and everything that could be hung up. This rack is made of three sections of small pipe, and it is fastened to the table at each end, so I reach up for these things as I need them.

This table will last me as long as I live, and I believe my grandchildren will still find it a splendid place for tools and utensils and practicable work when they receive it.

The Pony's Joke

Tom and Jack were two brothers who always had very good times together. Perhaps that was because they liked the same things. If Jack got interested in baseball, Tom was sure to think that baseball was the best game that could be played. When Tom got a dog Jack immediately begged for one, too, and many a jolly time did the boys have with their pair of fine Scotch collies.

But one day Jack happened to think of a pony. "Wouldn't it be fun, Tom," he said, as soon as the thought occurred to him, "if we had a pony?"

"Fun? I should say it would!" replied Tom with enthusiasm. "Why didn't we think of it before? Ponies are a lot more fun than dogs!"

"Yes, and we could ride all over town," said Jack. "Let's ask father for one tonight."

"One?" asked Tom. "You mean two! We're too big for riding on one—we'd have to have one apiece!"

So that very evening at the dinner table, they asked their father for the ponies.

"Ponies?" asked father thoughtfully, when they told him about their wish. "Ponies cost money to buy and money to keep. Can you earn money?"

Of course they could! And, after some talk, father agreed to buy them one pony whenever they had earned enough to get the other. How those boys did work! They ran errands; they cleaned yards; they carried ashes and they washed automobiles. All through the winter they worked, and when the first pleasant spring days came they counted up their money and found they had enough—maybe they were not happy!

Soon the ponies were purchased, and then began jolly days. The boys found the care of their new pets almost as much fun as riding, and they kept Black and Prince looking as fine as silk.

One day Prince was sick, and a doctor had to be called. He prescribed medicine and a rest. So Tom could not take the ride he had planned for that day.

But would Black go without Prince? Not he! Jack put his bridle on and tried to get him out of the barn, but he laid right down on the floor and stayed there! The doctor was called again, this time to see Black. He examined him carefully, then he laughed and said: "You boys have spoiled these ponies. They each think they must do exactly the same thing the other does—just as you both do! Black is not sick. Just wait till tomorrow, when Prince is well enough to go out, and see if Black won't go, too!"

The boys found the care of their new pets almost as much fun as riding.

And would you believe it? The next day, when Prince, now well, trotted out of his stall, Black looked up quickly, saw his friend being harnessed, and of his own accord trotted out and put his head down for the bridle! Wasn't that a good joke to play on his little master?

HIS FAREWELL ENGAGEMENT

Sir Johnston Forbes-Robertson Delights Duluth Audience in "Hamlet."

George Bernard Shaw's Review of Remarkable Shakespearian Play.

Once in a decade or a generation perhaps, comes an artist of the type of Sir Johnston Forbes-Robertson, who opened his farewell engagement at the Lyceum last evening, playing "Hamlet."

When he does come his appeal is direct and unmistakable. Not a dilettante but a student, not a poseur, but an artist, he makes Shakespeare live. Any review of Sir Johnston's "Hamlet" would necessarily be an appreciation rather than a criticism. George Bernard Shaw has said what there is to say better than it can be said by any other, and his criticism is published herewith.

There were some local aspects of the performance, however, which deserve special mention. The stage setting has been changed since Mr. Shaw wrote his review, or it would be even more fulsome than it is. At last an adequate and artistic method of staging Shakespeare has been discovered. The great green curtains make a most beautiful stage picture, far more satisfying and unobtrusive than either conventional scenery or the complete absence of there is still an opportunity to remedy scenery which some extremists advocate.

The attendance last evening was kept down because of the extreme cold, but ther is still an opportunity to remedy that tonight in "The Passing of the Third Floor Back" and tomorrow when both plays will be repeated, and Sir Johnston will bid a final farewell to Duluth, "Hamlet" will be played at the matinee giving school children an opportunity to hear it.

Only one feature—that a minor one—marred last night's performance. A stage hand obtruded himself in plain view of about two-thirds of the audience and mingled his light grey overalls in the picture, nonchalantly waiting for the curtain at each scene. If the management of either company or the theater could arrange it so that last night was the farewell appearance in public of this stage hand, there would be no regrets. If his appearance is necessary he might at least be given a costume and a sword. J. E. R.

Mr. Shaw's review follows:

Shaw's Review.

"Forbes-Robertson is essentially a classical actor. What I mean by classical is that he can present a dramatic hero as a man whose passions are those which have produced the philosophy, the poetry, the art, and the statecraft of the world, and not merely those which have produced its weddings, coroner's inquests, and executions. And that is just the sort of an actor Hamlet requires. A Hamlet who only understands his love for Ophelia, his grief for his father, his vindicative hatred of his uncle, his fear of ghosts, his impulse to snub Rosencrantz and Guildenstern, and the sportsman's excitement with which he lays the 'mousetrap for Claudius, can, with sufficient force of virtuosity of execution, get a great reputation in the part, even though the very intensity of his obsession by these sentiments (which are common not only to men but to many animals), shows that the characteristic side of Hamlet, the side that differentiates him from Fortinbras, is absolutely outside the actor's consciousness. Such a reputation is the actor's not Hamlet's. Hamlet is not a man in whom 'common humanity' is raised by great vital energy to a heroic pitch, like Coriolanus or Othello. On the contrary, he is a man in whom the common personal passions are so superseded by wider and rare interests, and so discouraged by a degree of critical self-consciousness which makes the practical efficiency of the instinctive man on the lower plane impossible to him, that he finds the duties dictated by conventional revenge and ambition as disagreeable a burden as commerce is to a poet. Even his instinctive sexual impulses offend his intellect; so that when he meets the woman who excites them he invites her to join him in a bitter and scornful criticism of their joint absurdity, demanding 'What should such fellows as I do crawling between heaven and earth?' 'Why would'st thou be a breeder of sinners?' and so forth, all of which is so completely beyond the poor girl she naturally thinks him mad.

Schopenhauer and Shakespeare.

"And, indeed, there is a sense in which Hamlet is insane; for he trips over the mistake which lies on the threshhold of intellectual self-consciousness, that of bringing utilarian or Hedonistic tests, thus treating it as a means instead of an end. Because Polonious is a 'foolish prating knave,' because Rosencranz and Guildenstern are snobs, he kills them as remorsely as he might kill a flea, showing that he has no real belief in the superstitious reason which he gives for not killing himself, and, in fact, anticipating exactly the whole course of the intellectual history of Western Europe until Schopenhauer found the clew that Shakespeare missed. But to call Hamlet mad because he did not anticipate Schopenhauer is like calling Marcellus made because he did not refer the Ghost to the Psychical society. It is, in fact, not possible for any actor to represent Hamlet as mad. He may (and generally does) combine some notion of his own of a man who is the creature of affectionate sentiment with the figure drawn by the lines of Shakespeare; but the result is not a madman, but simply one of those monsters produced by the imagination of combination of two normal species, such as sphinxes, mermaids or centaurs. And this is the invariable resource of the instinctive, imaginative, romantic actor. You will see him weeping buckets full of tears over Ophelia and treating the players, the grave-digger, Horatio, Rosencrantz and Guildenstern as if they were mutes at his own funeral.

"A True and Classical Hamlet."

"But go and watch Forbes-Robertson's Hamlet, seizing delightedly on every opportunity for a bit of philosophic discussion or artistic recreation to escape from the 'cursed spite' of revenge and love and other common troubles; see how he brightens up when the players come; how he tries to talk philosophy with Rosencrantz and Guildenstern the moment they come into the room; how he stops on his country walk with Horatio, to lean over the churchyard wall and draw out the gravedigger, whom he sees singing at his trade; how even his fits of excitement find expression in declaiming scraps of poetry; how the shock of Ophelia's death relieves itself in the fiercest intellectual contempt for Laertes' ranting, whilst an hour afterwards, when Laertes stabs him, he bears no malice for that at all, but embraces him gallantly and comradely; and how he dies as we forgive everything to Charles II for dying, and makes 'the rest in silence' a touching humorous apology for not being able to finish his business. See all that, and you have seen a true and classical Hamlet. Nothing half so charming has been seen by this generation. It will bear seeing again and again.

"And please observe that this is not a cold Hamlet. He is none of your logicians who reason their way through the world because they cannot feel their way through it; his intellect is the organ of his passion; his eternal self-criticism is as alive and thrilling as it can possibly be. The great soliloquy—no, I do not mean 'To be or not to be;' I mean the dramatic one, 'Oh, what

Pay Or Go Without

It is hard enough, anyone will agree, to work at some task for small pay, without being able to collect at the end of the week. But this is what happens to many employed in dress-making and tailoring establishments according to one interested as a humble wage earner. She asks—can anything be done? I can only answer—let folks pay their bills or go without the new gown or suit.

The men and women at the head of most of these small concerns are without capital. In order to complete the clothing that people decide they must have in a hurry, help is required. Men, women and children are pressed into service at heart breaking wages, considering the nature of the work. And when it is finished the garment either hangs on a rack uncalled for or it is borne away by the owner upon receipt of partial payment, or perhaps nothing more than a promise to pay.

This leaves the dressmaker doing business on a small scale in a serious predicament. After all her labor she is out of pocket herself and has nothing to pay those whose services she has hired. It is little wonder that prices for making fashionable clothes is steadily on the increase for there is no profit in waiting until a suit is worn out before one receives pay for its making. And that is the situation today with most tailors and dressmakers.

People amply able to pay their bills owe large sums. They never have been without funds. Some of these people are actually rich but their extravagances are far in excess of their income. The result is that someone must wait. Someone to whom money is due must be deprived of what is rightfully theirs.

And so it goes down the scale from the top to the bottom. People must have things no matter what the cost may be or who pays. If they can postpone the evil day of settling they will do so. And in the meantime they will go garbed in fashionable raiment.

The honest man and woman who means to pay will not take umbrage at what is apparent on the face of it—it takes money to keep any business going, and unless it is taken in at regular periods when work is done and delivered, it must come to demoralization and failure.

The Mother-Judge

One of the favorite objections to equal suffrage in the communities which do not have it is that if the women vote they will also be eligible to juries and judgeships.

"And just imagine a woman in the position of judge," says a woman friend of mine with uplifted hands in her tone. "Women haven't the judicial mind at all. They don't need it, and they've never developed it."

The other day, when I was visiting a friend of mine who is the mother of two energetic youngsters, I thought of this argument.

We went out to walk, and the two youngsters accompanied us on their new cycles. The boy has a velocipede, the girl a tricycle.

She Wanted to Swap—He Didn't.

The little girl (doubtless imbued with the spirit of the age) wanted to try the boy's velocipede. We proposed a swap, but the boy didn't care for her tricycle. (Another example of the spirit; not of the age, but of all ages—who ever knew a boy who wanted to be a girl?)

The dispute which arose was referred to their mother. It seemed simple to say, "It would be kind of brother to let you take his velocipede, but if he won't you must be satisfied with your nice, new tricycle," but there were complications.

"I let him take my paints yesterday afternoon."

"Well, I read her a story this morning."

"You wanted to read it."

The Evidence Was Very Complicated.

So the evidence came in, first from one side and then from the other, until the case was so complicated that it quite made my head swim.

Women don't need the judicial mind, indeed!

What happens, when motherhood elects them willy nilly into a judgeship of a most important character.

Every mother is a judge.

She may be a bad judge, handing out her decrees arbitrarily, making decisions hastily and carelessly, and giving sentence not according to the heinousness of the crime but according to the amount of trouble it causes her.

All Honor to the Conscientious Mother-Judge.

Or she may strive with all her heart and conscience to be an upright judge, fair, impartial, just and merciful.

I know mothers who do the latter, and I honor them with all my heart. Just as truly as Portia do they deserve to be called "a Daniel come to judgment."

Perhaps more truly since their position is more trying. A judge is not mixed up in his cases, and he does not have to enforce his decisions.

The mother-judge does.

Moreover, another thing which makes her position a difficult and delicate one is her great power. There is practically no appeal from her court, and we all know that absolute power is a great test of character.

All honor to the mother-judge, I say, and don't show that you do not appreciate the importance of woman's sphere by denying her the ability to cultivate the judicial cast of mind and the need to possess it.

a rogue and peasant slave am I!"—is as passionate in its scorn of brute passion as the most bullnecked affirmation or sentimental dilution of it could be. It comes out so without violence; Forbes-Robertson takes the part quite easily and spontaneously. The lines help Forbes-Robertson instead of getting in his way at every turn, because he wants to play Hamlet, and not to slip into his inky cloak a changeling of quite another race. It is wonderful how easily everything comes right when you have the right man with the right mind for it—how the story tells itself, how the characters come to life.

As Shakespeare Should Be Played.

"Forbes-Robertson's performance has a continuous charm, interest and variety which are the result not only of his well-known familiar grace and accomplishment as an actor, but of a genuine delight—the rarest thing on our stage—in Shakespeare's art and a natural familiarity with the plane of his imagination. He does not superstitiously worship William; he enjoys him and understands his methods of expression. Instead of cutting every line that can possibly be spared he retains every gem, in his own part or anyone else's, that he can make time for in a spiritedly brisk performance lasting three hours and a half with very short intervals. He does not utter half a line and then stop to act again, with the clock running away with Shakespeare's chances all the time. He plays as Shakespeare should be played, on the line and to the line, with the utterance and acting simultaneous, inseparable and, in fact, identical. Not for a moment is he solemnly conscious of Shakespeare's reputation or of Hamlet's momentousness in literary history; on the contrary, he delivers us from all these boredoms instead of heaping them on us. We forgive him the platitudes, so engagingly are they delivered. His novel and astonishingly effective and touching treatment of the final scene is an inspiration, from the fencing match onward."

ANOTHER WAR FILM COMING TO LYCEUM

"Battle Cry of Peace" Will Be Feature Attraction for Next Week.

"The Battle Cry of Peace," the well-known Vitagraph comedy that has been creating a sensation in New York and Chicago at $2 a seat, will be played on the Lyceum screen all of next week, beginning Sunday. It has been the talk of filmdom for some time and has received flattering reviews by the leading critics of Chicago and New York. Following is a "first night" criticism by James W. Currie of the Chicago American:

"A sermon was delivered at the Olympic theater last night—a twentieth century sermon entitled 'The Battle Cry of Peace.'

"It was a moving picture sermon which will be preached every day in the future, as long as people will look at it, and it is a sermon most of us need.

"It is the reviewer's task to choose a course between extravagant superlatives and the commonplaces of mere fact. 'The Battle Cry of Peace' does not make for moderation. It causes the blood to pound through the veins, driven by a heart aroused over the prophetic picture of a vital menace of the future, rather than a sentimental portrayal of past hisotry. It is an unapologized-for appeal for preparation against war and that it demanded no apology was evidenced by its enthusiastic reception by a large audience.

"It was a typical first night. Even the author, J. Stuart Blackton, who based his scenario on Hudson Maxim's book, 'Defenseless America,' was present and made a curtain speech. He was welcomed on behalf of the city and introduced by Health Commissioner Robertson. It was a real occasion.

"'If you are surprised, if you are horrified and shocked by this picture, I am glad of it,' the author said. That was the intention, for what is set forth is only to a trifling degree as terrible as what is taking place in Europe today. We are preaching propaganda — a peace propaganda—but not the Bryan kind.

"Then, to add to the dramatic atmosphere, there was a picturesque lovable old man made known to the audience as Capt. Jack Crawford, who served the Union throughout the Civil war. 'Capt. Jack,' too, talked for preparedness, and aroused great enthusiasm when he recited patriotic verses and waved an American flag. England should devise a 'Battle Cry of Peace' in her enlistment campaign and recruits will tumble over themselves to serve 'king and country.'

"Technically the Vitagraph picture violates most of the established traditions of cinematography, but by so doing the story is told more effectively. When the first reel is flashed on the screen Hudson Maxim is disclosed delivering his lecture on preparedness against war. His words are made known by frequent captions and these are followed by graphic portrayals of his statements. He tells what a foreign enemy could do, and lo, the enemy does it. The producers have blazed a new and interesting trail into the 'movies.' They have dared much and their judgment was well founded. 'The Battle Cry of Peace' will achieve a vogue because it is essentially sincere."

CLASSY BILL AT GRAND.

Good Combination of Vaudeville and Pictures in New Show.

A corking good combination of vaudeville and motion pictures opened a week-end engagement at the New Grand yesterday and large audiences turned out, despite the bitter cold. The theater was crowded last night and the new show was well received.

"A Jolly Dinner at Maxim's" is the subject of the offering put on by Les Agoust Family and it is a pantomime act of unusual cleverness. It comprises juggling, balancing and acrobatics, all combined in the serving of a dinner. Dishes are juggled, but in no instance is there any part of the dinner spilled.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Bennett offer a comedy playlet, "The Master," and the theme of the playlet centers around the problem of domestic rule. An equal division of labor and authority appears to be the answer of the problem. The act is cleverly played.

Three boys, Brooks, Rauth and Brown entertain well in a musical act. Singing and banjo playing are the features, and both are well done.

George Rosner as a character actor was one of the most entertaining players on the bill. His impersonation of an old soldier and several other characters was done remarkably well, and elicited a storm of applause.

Lillian Walker, Antonio Mareno, and other star Vitagraph players make up an interesting cast in presenting the film comedy "A Model Wife," one of the Marguerite stories, "The Spy's Ruse"; a cartoon, "The Canimated Nooze Pictorial" and the Hearst-Selig News events round out the film program.

PRETTY AMERICAN GIRL VOTED A MODERN VENUS

"The American Venus."

Such is the title conferred upon Miss Audrey Munson, heroine of "Inspiration," which will be shown at the Orpheum-Strand for four days.

"Miss Munson," said one of New York's most prominent sculptors recently, "is beyond a shadow of a doubt the nearest approach to a modern Venus that it has ever been my good fortune to meet. I am not alone in this opinion, I might add, because a number of my friends, for whom Miss Munson has posed at various times, agree with me in this assertion."

AUDREY MUNSON IN "INSPIRATION" FIVE ACT MUTUAL MASTERPICTURE MADE BY THANHOUSER

Miss Munson, it is said, boasts one of the most perfect forms of any of her sex in this country and possibly in Europe. Numerous artists for whom she has posed have made diligent efforts to find an equal of Miss Munson, but have failed.

"Inspiration" is not only based on the rise to fame and fortune of Miss Munson, but presents her in the leading role.

"Inspiration" will be shown for four days only, commencing next Sunday afternoon, at the Orpheum-Strand, reopened especially for this picture.

Theater Gossip.

For real hair-raising thrills and honest-to-goodness shudders, coupled up with mirth that develops into roaring fun, "The Submarine Pirate" at the Rex today and tomorrow is in a class by itself. Imagine a Keystone-Triangle being educational. Yet this one is—Secretary Daniels of the United States navy detached one of the latest type submarine boats from the San Francisco flotilla to be used in making a "Submarine Pirate" one of the biggest things in a comedy line ever attempted by any company. You see it submerging at sea (with its captain in the person by Syd Chaplin, climbing the turret, and finally the periscope, to escape the ducking he is doomed to. You see the vessel emerge and give chase to a real ocean liner, and actually catch it. Syd Chaplin does some new stunts, among them being shot through a torpedo tube hanging on to the torpedo itself and being dragged through the water at 'steen miles a minute.

"THE SUBMARINE PIRATE" AT THE REX

Willard Mack plays the rather thankless role of the burglar in "The Edge of the Abyss" at the Rex today and tomorrow, but no matter what Mack does, he makes a good job of it—and he is "sure a dandy burglar." Mary Boland as the butterly wife is a wee bit camera shy although she gets by very well considering this is her first picture work, and the part rather trying.

* * *

Admirers of beautiful Pauline Frederick of the Famous Players will be glad to know she is at the Lyric today and tomorrow in another of her emotional roles for which she has become noted. "Lydia Gilmore" is the character and as the name indicates, the entire action revolves around the life and love of one woman and Miss Frederick has, according to critics, surpassed her work in "Bella Donna," her most recent success.

PAULINE FREDERICK AT THE LYRIC

Pauline Frederick is a true screen artist. While her picture parts can be counted on the fingers of one hand, she has won a unique place among the stars of the screen. Her first appearance in Duluth was in "The Eternal City," which was made in Rome. Following this she appeared in "Sold." Then the French success, "Zaza," and next the story of the dangerously beautiful Nile "Bella Donna." One critic has said that "Lydia Gilmore" contains the grandeur, the tragedy, the pathos and the allurement of the foregoing productions in addition to its own charm.

Grip Claiming Indians.

Devils Lake, N. D., Jan. 14.—Father Jerome's little Indian mission near Fort Totten is shrouded in mourning as a result of the series of funerals which has broken the ranks of the Indian church people during the last two weeks. Ten Indians have died of grip, which developed into pneumonia, and half of the congregation is suffering from the same ailment.

SEVERE COLD HANGS ON IN SOUTHWEST

Third Day Without Any Prospect of Immediate Relief.

Kansas City, Jan. 14.—The third day of the cold wave in the southwest dawned today with no prospect of immediate relief, though slightly moderated temperatures were predicted. Charity organizations were overwhelmed with calls for aid, and appeals for funds to relieve the destitute were issued here. Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma slept last night with the mercury still below the zero mark.

A temperature of minus seven was recorded here early today. The Missouri river was frozen near Leavenworth for the first time in three years.

Temperature Rising at St. Paul.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Gradually rising temperatures throughout the central northwest states today brought relief from the intense cold of the past two days and enabled railroads to resume near-normal train service. In several sections, freight traffic had been entirely tied up, while passenger trains had been up to twelve and fourteen hours behind their regular schedules. In the Twin Cities, the temperature was 17 degs. below zero early today, as compared with 31 below twenty-four hours previously.

WHO IS GUILTY?

Men in El Paso, despairing of President Wilson, are signing petitions asking Roosevelt to change the Mexican policy of the United States government.

They are, in large part, men who own mines in Chihuahua and Durango.

These men and those who sympathize with them—and some others who do not think deeply—are condemning President Wilson.

Many American miners, on their way peaceably to work in Mexican mines owned by American interests, have been murdered in cold blood by Villa bandits.

The employers of these men are blaming Wilson, and demanding war with Mexico.

Blaming Wilson!

What about these mine-owners themselves, who ordered their men to enter this bandit ridden territory?

Despite the repeated warnings of the government, despite their full knowledge of the lawless conditions that prevailed, knowing full well that anarchy, not law, reigns there and that no man's life is safe, these mine-owners deliberately, out of too precipitate hunger for dividends, sent men into that hell-hole to operate their mines. They sent them, after dividends, TO THEIR DEATH!

Yet they blame President Wilson, and demand war with Mexico—demand that more American blood be spilled to water the soil for dividends!

Lovers of excitement are hoping the colonel will be able to do a lot better next time than a mollycoddlish expression like "Byzantine logothete."

MUNICIPAL SKATING RINKS.

Recreation Director Batchelor reports that in the few weeks since the municipal skating rinks were opened nearly forty thousand persons have made use of them.

And to every one of these patrons of this free municipal enterprise the city is a closer, more intimately realized entity than it was before. That is true, too, of the nearly fifty thousand young people who used the municipal playgrounds during the summer. They form a coming generation to which the city will be something nearer and dearer than a mere policeman and tax-gatherer.

This works for closer relations between city and citizens, and so is worth many times the little it costs.

Certain Republican standpat arguments tempt one to rename the "tariff issue" and call it the "tariff tissue."

THE A-B-C OF FOREIGN COMMERCE

The Wall Street Journal notes that while there is much talk of winning Mexican trade, what is being planned is a vigorous selling campaign. "Only in rare instances do we hear of any emphasis being laid upon the necessity of buying what the Mexicans have to sell."

The Chicago Tribune takes it up and reads a lecture that is needed: "The situation is characteristic of our ignorance of the conditions of international trade. We do not yet know that to sell we must buy, that trade is reciprocal, and probably we shall not learn it for some time."

That's good, and it's true, and we wish the Tribune and the Wall Street Journal would both remember it the next time they feel inclined to renew their clamor for a protective tariff designed to shut out foreign goods. To sell, we must buy: and we can no more expect a lively foreign trade when we put up the bars against imports and seek to make our foreign trade one-sided than we can lift ourselves by our bootstraps.

Who doesn't feel a distinct thrill at the very thought of home-made sausage and buckwheat cakes?

THE TREK OUT OF THE CITIES.

There's no use talking, man wasn't made to be packed into cities like gasping sardines in a box. There is in him a kinship with the soil that makes him thrive better in the free, open places. So long as he had to, he did the best he could in the crowded cities; but just as soon as conditions make it possible he begins to get out of them.

The recent state census in New York disclosed the interesting fact that in the last five years there has been a shrinkage of nearly two hundred thousand in the population of Manhattan. This despite the enormous increase in flats and apartments that make possible a fairly comfortable congestion. Even Greater New York, while it gained, fell far behind its former rate of growth.

What has done this? There isn't the slightest doubt about what has done it. The development of suburban and semi-rural life has eagerly kept pace with the development of street car and suburban train service—not to speak of the automobile, which has solved the problem for those who can afford more than street car fare.

The same tendency is noted in other communities all over the country. The expansion of business and industry and the growing congestion of the cities has made them less and less fit as place of human habitation. The development of suburban property made possible by the extension of transportation facilities has given a ready outlet for the urban population that is not tied down by circumstance.

It goes without saying that this is a wholesome tendency. It means larger and better living—better air, better surroundings: it means lawns and gardens and flowers: it means yards for the children to play in and grow in.

The benefit in health and wholesomeness to American life from this tendency away from the congestion of the city to the freedom and fresh air of suburban and semi-rural life is incalculable.

The lawnmower, too, may feel a bit neglected these days.

HE NEEDN'T COME BACK.

Editor Harvey of the North American Review comes back from Europe full of old wives' tales about the low state of Europe's opinion of us: also about the low state of the opinions of us held by some so-called Americans who spend a good deal of time on the other side.

Among the tales he relates is one about an American, "a Princeton man," who gloatingly told of firing on an ambulance and of standing up twenty-four helpless German prisoners and having them slaughtered in cold blood.

"And my only regret," said this American (save the mark!), "was that the kaiser and one other—whose name I need not mention—were not there to be shot, too."

It is made very clear that the nameless other person this genial Princeton man regretted not being able to murder was the president of the United States.

There has been some talk about what happens to citizenship of Americans who have enlisted in foreign armies. In order to enlist they must swear allegiance to the country in whose cause they fight; and under United States law that automatically cancels their American citizenship, even though their forefathers and foremothers all came over in the Mayflower.

Of course this law will not be invoked; but if it is possible in any way to find out the name of this Princeton man who boasts of such a dastardly, cowardly infamy, it is to be hoped that it will not only be invoked in his case, but that if he applies for citizenship anew his application will be rejected and his person ejected from the country.

One could almost suspect that the interests so anxious to have Uncle Sam do their dirty work in Mexico hired those people to go there and take a chance on being massacred.

THE WATER AND LIGHT DEPARTMENT.

The annual report of the water and light department, which manages Duluth water and gas plants, shows continued success in this city business enterprise. During the year the department earned $95,981.02, gained about eight hundred new customers for both gas and water, charged twenty-seven thousand dollars off the debt, which is now $3,374,000, and increased the city's proprietary interest from $1,072,880.90 to $1,168,963.03.

Besides, during the year the department has taken over the water meters, which were formerly bought and owned by the patrons, paying for those held by older patrons and buying and supplying meters to new customers. The department handled 2,482,809,231 gallons of water and 358,674,100 cubic feet of gas. The department's profit is about ten thousand dollars less than last year, but that can be accounted for by the new deal on meters.

The showing is good and promising, and Duluth can still be proud of its successful excursion into business.

The only really straightforward circulation contest is one between yourself and white corpuscles.

Rippling Rhymes

By Walt Mason

Convalescent.

When one's recovered from the grip, and fit to walk around again, he likes to take a little trip downtown among his fellow men. He wants to tell his cronies there about the tortures he has known, of how the anguish grayed his hair, and harrowed thew, and twisted bone. He meets a friend and says, "Oddsfish, be patient while ten minutes skip and harken to me for I wish to tell about my case of grip. That learned chirurgeon, Dr. Daw, who saved me from a box of pine, hath told me that he never saw a case one-half so bad as mine. My lungs refused their proper graft, my windpipe, like defective flue, was all clogged up, there was no draft, it whistled every breath I drew." "Come off, come off, and soak your head," exclaims the friend, so brash and flip; "I just have risen from my bed, where I had forty kinds of grip. And any of the forty brands was worse than your denatured case, so push yourself with both your hands, and spring your yarn some other place." That's all the sympathy one gets, when he's allowed to run at large, by all the doctors, nurses, vets, who've had him for six weeks in charge.

Wilson and the Single Term

Editorial in the New York World.

President Wilson's personal attitude toward the one-term issue is made clear in a letter written to A. Mitchell Palmer in February, 1913, and made public by The World yesterday. The letter itself is well worth careful study as a contribution to the general discussion of the powers, limitations and responsibilities of the presidency.

Although the issue of a single presidential term has been raised many times, the American people have never taken it seriously. They have been greatly aroused at least twice in the history of the United States over the issue of a third term, but the second term is part of the political traditions of the people. It is one of those numerous matters reserved to them by the Constitution which they choose to decide for themselves when the occasion arises.

Mr. Wilson's view of the personal attitude of a president toward a second term is that he should "resort to nothing but public opinion to decide that question." No president, in the long run, has been able to resort to anything else. Although he may have controlled the machinery of his party through the use of patronage and thereby dictated his own renomination, public opinion has invariably decided the matter of his re-election, and it must so decide as long as the American people retain their fitness for self-government.

It must be said for Mr. Wilson that he has not tampered with his own rule and has not undertaken to manipulate the machinery of the Democratic party in order to obtain a renomination. It must be said, also, that there is no reason why he should, even if he held opinions directly opposite to those expressed in the Palmer letter. His renomination is inevitable. There is no other candidate to whom the Democratic party could turn, there is no other candidate whom the party wants, and it must stand or fall on the record of his administration.

But more than that, events have made Mr. Wilson's renomination a political necessity in the broadest sense of the term. To realize that, we need only try to imagine what the situation would be if it were known that the president had decided not to be a candidate for re-election. Our foreign relations would at once be thrown into inextricable confusion. Every European capital would construe the president's acceptance of the vague and indefinite terms of the Baltimore platform as proof that he believed the American people did not support him in his foreign policy. It would be assumed abroad that the president and secretary of state were unable to enforce their demands, and the foreign affairs of the United States would be reduced to chaos, with the practical certainty of an ensuing war.

At home the situation would be equally serious. Domestic policies would be thrown into no less confusion than foreign policies. National defense, revenue and the like would be without effective championship or leadership. Congress would be torn by warring factions, none of which could command a majority on any measure, and the government would be adrift.

Even the domestic issues on which the American people are divided could not be adequately presented in the coming campaign if Mr. Wilson were not a candidate for re-election. His candidacy in 1916 is as essential as the candidacy of Abraham Lincoln was in 1864. It is only through his candidacy that the people can divide intelligently on the momentous questions that confront the nation. Circumstances are such that only Mr. Wilson can represent the issues for which his administration is responsible, although any regularly nominated Republican could represent the opposition to them. Mr. Wilson could not patriotically refuse to go before the country on these issues, whatever might be his personal attitude toward a second term. There are great crises in history that have to be met as they arise, without regard to platform or theories.

It happens that the opinion expressed by Mr. Wilson in the Palmer letter coincides with his present duty; but if it were otherwise, if he himself firmly believed in the principle of a single term, his obligations would not be changed, and national necessity would demand that he subordinate his individual views to inexorable events.

An Irvin S. Cobb Tragedy

Doran's Publicity Sheet: Irvin S. Cobb, besides being the reporter-de-luxe and an author, is what the late and never sufficiently regretted Bill Nye would have called "an humorist." He is also a practical joker who practices upon his friends. Also on himself—for he has made fun of his own illness in his latest book, "Speaking of Operations."

Last winter when in California delivering his lecture upon the war, it pleased Cobb to practice a bit upon his friend, Charles E. Van Loan, author of "Buck Parvin and the Movies." Cobb had asked Van Loan to introduce him to his Los Angeles audience and Van Loan had refused, being a reasonably modest man with a poor stage presence and a bad speaking voice. On the night of the lecture Cobb walked out upon the stage alone, spied Van Loan in a box and proceeded to flay him alive in an introductory speech which began thus:

"Owing to a totally unexpected and hitherto unheard of modesty on the part of Mr. Van Loan, I am compelled to appear before you without a sponsor, but——" and here Mr. Cobb proceeded to remove Van's hide, vastly, to the amusement of the audience and the embarrassment of the sweating victim.

At the end of his lecture it was Cobb's custom to answer questions, but when he thought the people had had enough for their money he would place his hand on his forehead, which would be the signal for his manager, in the rear of the house, to ask him the "planted" question: "Are you going back?" This was the cue for a neat retort from the lecturer, followed by a story apropos of the question, and on the laughter and applause thus obtained, Cobb would make a graceful exit.

After the Los Angeles lecture, Cobb filled an appointment in a nearby city and Van Loan still smarting from his public humiliation at Cobb's hands, went along for company. The manager could not be present, and in the emergency Cobb planted the closing question with Van Loan, rehearsing him several times.

"When I put my hand up, so, you ask me 'Are you going back?' Just that way, remember, because the wording of the question is important—'Are you going back?' And speak up loud."

The lecture was a great success, and at its close the questions came thick and fast. Finally there was a lull and Cobb put his hand to his forehead and waited to make his snappy retort, but this was what came floating up from the back of the house:

"Where do you go from here?"

Then, having spoiled Mr. Cobb's exit, killed his funniest story and left him dumb and stranded before several hundred people, Van Loan slipped out into the night and took the first car for home.

One Dollar on the Farm Worth Three in City.

Robert Lane Wills in the Woman's Home Companion: It is commonly understood that an income of one thousand dollars a year in the country, that is, on a farm, is equivalent to three thousand dollars in the city. I judge this is a fairly safe estimate. In fact, a good many farm families seem to have no income at all, in the city sense. In the course of the year they handle surprisingly little cash. Their actual needs are few and plain, and are met in an almost direct fashion by good old Mother Nature.

Our family account books, which I have not quoted, show that we spent the first year about one-half as much for clothing as in previous years; only a little more than one-half as much for food; nothing for rent or fire wood; practically nothing for travel or amusement. We feel, though, that we ought to spend more on amusements.

"The Other Girl"

Editorial in the Tipton, Ind., Times.

Over in Akron, Ohio, 400 bright, young misses of the classroom are waging war on snobbery. They are giving "the other girl" a chance.

Four hundred strong, they have voted unanimously to adopt a school uniform, and incidentally, they have tabooed the smart designs of fashion, which a select few had exhibited at the expense of pride of that "other girl"—that girl whose widowed mother, perhaps, was pinching the family income to give her the best education the city had to offer.

And the uniform they have adopted costs no more than $3 if the garments are sewed at home. It consists of a middy blouse and a plain, blue skirt.

A middy blouse and a plain blue skirt! Rather sounds like those Akron, Ohio, school girls are really going to school to learn something, doesn't it? And it appears that already they have learned a good deal, doesn't it?

But it is an extraordinary lesson those 400 girls are preaching to the world.

It all came about after the occurrence of one of the incidents which happen ever so often in any school attended by girls who have reached the age of between 15 and 20 years.

One of those Akron, Ohio, high school girls slipped into a classroom, by mistake, and found a crumpled little piece of humanity, huddled up in a classroom chair, her head buried in her hands, sobbing.

She was one of the "other girls."

Day after day she had come to school wearing peculiarly out-of-style and much worn frocks. A fellow school girl had noticed it, as, perhaps, had many others, but this particular school girl, possibly not with any intentions of wounding the feelings of this certain "other girl," had spoken of the condition and the word had finally come around to the little piece of humanity, who now sobbingly told her story to her who had found her.

And it just happened that the one to whom the story was told, although not one of the "other girls" and not perhaps the best dressed girl in the school, saw the situation in its true light and began a fight to secure the uniform which now has been adopted.

Now, in that school building, the one who sobbed out her story is on an even basis with the girl to whom she told it. Now those girls who formerly wore such pretty frocks and wasted many moments admiring the dresses of one another, are intent upon their books. Now, in that school building, there is greater fellowship and there is real democracy!

It must be repeated that this is an extraordinary lesson those girls are preaching to the world.

And will the world see the value in that lesson?

At least it's something for school girls to think about; it's something for parents to consider, and it's something that should be discussed at parent-teacher club meetings.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quinlin, the Sunshine Man.

If Christ be not raised, your faith is vain; ye are yet in your sins.—I Cor. xv, 17.

The belief in the incarnation stands or falls with the doctrine of the resurrection of Jesus Christ. You may just as well shut up the Bible, recall the missionaries, pull down the churches, and let us eat, drink and be merry, for tomorrow we die and don't know what is coming next, if it be not true that Jesus Christ rose from the dead.

If a man should tell me now that a man who had been buried two days ago had been seen today I should not believe it. On an ordinary question I will believe the testimony of men; but if I should be told that an ordinary man who had been in his grave two days had come out, I should say the presumption against it was enormous. But Jesus Christ was not an ordinary man. We take the specific evidence after the resurrection of Christ as an argument for that resurrection; but the Old Testament also creates a presumption in behalf of the resurrection of Jesus Christ in advance. The ordinary man dying and going into his grave, it is presumable that he will not rise from the dead. Jesus Christ stands so manifestly at the climax of Jewish history, and is so organically related to it, that when he came into the world he came as an exceptional man, and when he died there was an antecedent presumption of His resurrection as was the case with no other man. So that you can say, as it is said in the Acts, "It was not possible that he should be holden of death."—Francis L. Patton.

This hymn, by Watts, is much used at burials:

Hear what the voice from heaven proclaims
For all the pious dead;
Sweet is the savour of their names,
And soft their sleeping bed.

They die in Jesus and are blest;
How kind their slumbers are;
From sufferings and from sins released
And freed from every snare.

Far from this world of toil and strife,
They're present with the Lord;
The labors of their mortal life
End in a large reward.

An Impossible Butchery

New York World: Is it possible that there is an American in the British artillery service—"a Princeton man"—who would deliberately murder with his own hand helpless prisoners?

Frankly, we do not believe it; yet Col. George Harvey in the current number of the North American Review tells the story in the words of the "hero" of this ghastly atrocity:

> And, mind you, they were my prisoners. We found the reversed bullets in their guns all right—remember that. Well, I took one glance at the sickening mass at my feet and looked into the eyes of my boys and they looked into mine. I didn't want to get them into trouble, and my chances were better than theirs anyway. All I had them do was to stand those twenty-four up in a row, and then, one after another and without any particular hurry, I dropped every man in his tracks dead as a door-nail.

And by way of conclusion:

> But, say, there is one thing you may as well know, and I swear to you I speak for every fellow from America in the bunch. There are just two men in the world I should have liked to have in line with those twenty-four. One is the kaiser and—well, never mind who the other is.

The context shows that "the other" is obviously the president of the United States.

If this story of wanton butchery can by any possibility be true, and if this man suffered no other punishment for his offense than a mere reprimand, as Col. Harvey asserts, it is hardly worth while for Americans to waste further moral indignation in denouncing German atrocities.

To Prevent "Petromortis."

Kansas City Star: Here's the latest safety hint of Coroner Hoffman of Chicago for motor car owners, evolved from an experience of his own in which his son and he were nearly overcome by fumes from the engine in a closed garage:

Get a dozen feet of cheap 2-inch iron gaspipe. Cut a hole through the nearest wall of the garage and fix a wooden flap outside to cover the opening loosely.

When running the engine in the garage clap the gaspipe over the end of the muffler and let the car's burned gas go outside.

Then perhaps you will not be one of the persons killed next year by carbon monoxide, an odorless gas. Six persons were killed by it last year.

Recently a resident opened his front door at 6 a. m., where he discovered visitors, two wolves. He didn't invite them in but quickly closed the door and hunted up the old shotgun. By the time he returned the pair had vanished. Heavy snows and the epidemic among the rabbits, on which they feed, have driven them, as much as they fear and regret the same, to civilization.

Tower News: Congressman C. B. Miller is quoted as saying that he would work for a $7,000,000 armor plate works plant for Duluth. This talk should please the "preparedness" people mightily. But why armor plate? Why not a $7,000,000 plow works? Why not the same priced farm machinery plant? Why sink all the iron mines of the Vermilion and the Mesaba ranges in some mountain or plain in Europe, or rust it out on some ship looking for a job of murder? Why not use our metal for something worth while instead of to depopulate the earth? That $7,000,000 armor plate factory should meet up with an 1855 treaty. Duluth is the natural site for manufacturing plants of every description for times of peace. Steel bridges, structural iron, rails, locomotives and machinery of all kinds should be made there. Armor plate is the last anywhere. For fifty years we have been preparing armor plate and then some, and we are no nearer the end than when we began. What a country this would be without armor plate and the price of it spent in things useful! And for fifty years what country will show us the need of armor plate after this struggle is over?

The Publisher Turns.

Stanley Republican: It has never cost anybody, except the publishers of the Republican, a cent to publish a card of thanks in this paper. It does cost the publisher something. But these cards of thanks give thanks to everybody except the Republican. Time and again we have seen a grateful person use from 5 cents to a dollar's worth of good space to thank the public for this, that, and the other thing, and still never think of thanking the publisher for using his space, when the fact is that the publisher is really making a greater sacrifice than anybody else. A Ballad of Trees and the Master.

Into the woods my Master went,
Clean forspent, forspent.
Into the woods my Master came,
Forspent with love and shame.
But the olives they were not blind to Him;
The little gray leaves were kind to Him;
The thorn-tree had a mind to Him
When into the woods He came.

Out of the woods my Master went,
And He was well content.
Out of the woods my Master came,
Content with death and shame.
When Death and Shame would woo Him last,
From 'under the trees they drew Him last:
'T was on a tree they slew Him—last,
When out of the woods He came.

What You Should Eat, and How

William J. Cronie in the Outlook.

Proper chewing of food is one of the great secrets of good digestion. I believe in "Fletcherism," but not to the extent of chewing the food till it becomes liquid, or, as someone has said, "till it swallows itself." Chewing can be overdone, if it involves rejecting or refusing to swallow bits of fruit, vegetable or cereal pulp that cannot be completely liquefied. The cellulose matter contained in food is quite necessary in order to increase intestinal activity. Foods, such as meats, which are completely digested and leave no residue are constipating.

One's diet should consist of a laxative and a bulky food. Those of a laxative nature are baked apples, pears, tomatoes, barley, cherries, grapes, prunes, peaches, strawberries, raspberries, currants, green corn, figs, dates, oatmeal, plums, grapefruit and rhubarb. Foods which contain bulk and relieve constipation are lettuce, celery, carrots, turnips, raw cabbage, asparagus, cauliflower and sterilized bran. Foods which are both bulky and laxative are whole wheat bread, spinach, dandelion and pineapples. We need bulk just as the horse requires hay. Too much chewing (Fletcherizing) or a too concentrated diet will make a man, like a horse, "go stale."

The diet of the "faddist" should be cautiously approached and would be better shunned. The normal appetite is a trustworthy guide, and what one craves is usually what one ought to have. The Eskimo, for instance, requires an enormous amount of hydrocarbons in order to keep up bodily heat, and so he consumes great quantities of seal oil and whale blubber. In contrast, the inhabitant of the tropical climate finds heat-producing food superfluous and subsists largely on fruit and grains. If the child demands candy, it should be supplied in a wholesome form, such as sugar and fruit.

The most practical diet for the system is a little of everything, and not too much of any one article of food. Chew the food thoroughly and omit those things which experience has shown to be harmful. It requires about four hours to digest a meal, and we should not eat oftener than every six hours, in order to give the digestive apparatus a couple of hours' rest; and a 10-minute rest before and after a meal is a digestive aid.

Water is one of the principal bodily constituents. It is the agent for dissolving and removing waste products, and the average person should drink from six to ten glasses a day, one or two upon rising and retiring and before each meal. Too much liquid during the meal, however, dilutes the digestive juices and hampers digestion.

Price of a Derby Hat

A. M. Jungmann in the Popular Science Monthly: When you pay $5 for your fine derby hat do not imagine you have paid the price of the hat. The real price is paid by the unfortunate victims of "hatters' shakes" who contract mercurial poisoning while engaged in preparing the fur and making it into your hat.

There are many trades which are dirty and hazardous, but it would be difficult to find one as objectionable as the hatters' fur trade. From the moment the fur receives a scrubbing with a solution of nitrate of mercury until the hat is finally completed, mercurialism is a constant menace to the workers.

Three hundred and fifty employes of the hatters' fur trade were examined through the Occupational Clinic, in New York. Of these 14 per cent were indisputably suffering from mercurialism. Many suffer violent tremors of the hands, face and tongue. Unfortunately, most of the workers fail to realize the danger of their occupation, and it is exceedingly difficult to get them to observe the first principles of self protection against the hazards of the trade. In some instances it was found that the employer had to lock the carroting rooms and the drying rooms at noon time to prevent the employes from eating their lunches there.

The constant breathing of dust and fur-laden atmosphere affects the nose, throat and lungs of the workers. This could be obviated by sweeping after hours or by the employment of a vacuum device. But no matter how much may be accomplished through cleaning up the factories and installing safety devices the condition of the workers cannot be very greatly improved until they themselves are made to understand the peculiarly dangerous character of their work.

DULUTH'S CHAMPION COW AND HER RECORD

To the Editor of The Herald:

The article in Wednesday's issue concerning Jean Duluth Beauty might and probably has unintentionally misinformed a large portion of readers who do not follow the dairying industry.

Congratulations and due respect should be given to Jean Duluth people for producing such a record in a breed of cattle that are not generally considered in milk production tests. In fact they are the only breeders of note who have paid much attention to butter fat production in Red Polled cattle. The statement that she has beaten any official record of Jersey and all but one of the Guernsey for milk production is true, but nothing was said of butter fat production, which would have been a different tale.

As a matter of information to those of the general public who may be interested, I wish to mention that at the present time and for some time past all of the official world records both for butter fat and milk production are held by Holstein-Friesian cows. These queens of the dairy breeds have established the almost unbelievable records, carefully certified to by agricultural departments and official associations, of over 1,200 pounds of butter fat in one year (a Minnesota owned and bred cow) and of over 60,000 pounds of milk (a California cow). With the best of wishes for the Red Poll milking strain, but with a desire for fair comparison, your attention is called to the difference between 871 plus and 1,200 plus pounds in butter fat and between 20,270 and 60,000 plus pound milk.

Your columns are not the place for a discussion of the merits of the so-called dual-purpose cow. However, the dual-purpose cow has not as yet proven her worth and the milk type for milk production and the beef type for the butcher are still carrying off the prizes. Respectfully,

C. A. M'FADDEN.

WE SHOULD ADVERTISE OUR SUPERIOR GOODS

To the Editor of The Herald:

Old world diplomacy, for all its polished phrases, always reduced itself to one formula: "You do as I say or I'll knock your block off."

Under such a system, wars are, of course, inevitable. Sooner or later somebody is going to call the bluff, and once in so often someone is going to make his bluff good when called, or die trying. So long as that is the system, wars must come.

But it is not necessary to have that system. How do we know? Because one half the world is already under a different system of diplomacy. In America we have substituted co-operation for compulsion.

The old world method would be to say, in extremely polite words, "You must do this," or "Don't you dare do that."

The new world method is to say, "Let's do it."

The American system of diplomacy finds its best expression in the Pan-American gatherings where certain common concerns are discussed as though we were all under one government. And in fact, for all necessary purposes we are. We are under the government of a public opinion that manages to get done the things it wants without special machinery for it.

If we will pay more attention to what the new methods of diplomacy have accomplished in America we will know better how to dispose of troubles that may arise in connection with European affairs. If we will take pains to know that we have and advertise it, Europe will be quicker to adopt it. You don't suppose Europe is enjoying this anguish, do you?

Don't you suppose Europe would be willing to adopt a better system if it saw that it worked? The demonstration is up to us.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

"While the Shots and Shells Were Screaming," from A Subscriber.

Requests have been received for the following:

The poem beginning, "Only me, only me, sobbed in a weary tone," from Mrs. Arthur Andberg of Gilbert.

"Sitting by the Kitchen Door," from W. A. Jenson of Niagara, Wis.

"The Story of the Year," a little poem for children, from a McKinley subscriber.

"While Shot and Shell Were Screaming."

While shot and shell were screaming
Upon the battle field,
Brave boys in blue were fighting
Their noble flag to shield,
Came a cry from their brave captain,
"See, boys, our flag is down;
Who'll volunteer to save it from disgrace?"
"I will," a young boy shouted,
"I'll bring it back or die,"
Then jumped into the thickest of the fray,
Saved the flag, but gave his young life
All for his country's sake,
They brought him back and softly heard him say:
CHORUS.
"Just break the news to mother,
She knows how dear I love her;
And tell her not to wait for me
For I'm not coming home;
Just say there is no other
Can take the place of mother,
And kiss her dear, sweet lips for me
Then break the news to her."

From afar a noted general
Had witnessed this great deed;
"Who saved the flag, speak up, lads,
'Twas noble, brave indeed."
"There he lies, sir," said our captain,
"He's sinking very fast;"
Then slowly turned away to hide a tear.

The general in a moment
Knelt down beside the boy,
Then gave a cry that touched all hearts that day;
"'Tis my son, my brave young hero,
I thought you safe at home."
"Forgive me, father, for I ran away."
CHORUS.

The above song was very popular during the Spanish-American war.

WILLIAM BRADY M.D.

To every person who has suffered for many months with neuritis of one arm we would put this seemingly irrelevant query, Have you a little rib in your neck?

Practically every case of "cervical rib" is treated as a case of "brachial neuritis" for a long time before the real nature of the trouble is discovered, if it ever is discovered.

There shouldn't be any ribs in one's neck. The place for ribs is farther down the spinal column. But now and then one is discovered with a rib or usually a pair of ribs in the neck, and the symptoms, if any, are very much the same as those of neuritis. There is pain of a most persistent kind, although it is not continuous. The patient notices blueness of the hand, numbness and at times cramps of the fingers. There is remarkable sensitiveness to cold—an attack of pain will come on at night if the arm becomes uncovered. Perhaps the patient finds temporary relief from pain by elevating the arm above the head—a symptom which in itself speaks against the diagnosis of neuritis. But pain from the pressure of a cervical rib on the nerve plexus of the arm and the great vessels in the neck is not accompanied with much atrophy or wasting of muscles, as is the case in neuritis.

There is but one way to diagnose cervical rib. An X-ray photograph, or rather two or three X-ray photographs of the neck taken from the different planes will show the superfluous rib. It usually can't be felt by the physician. As a rule a cervical rib is only an inch or two or at most three in length—but that is long enough to keep one miserable for years.

The symptoms generally do not appear until early adult age, often not until nearly middle age.

Any victim of an old neuritis of the arm which has not responded to medical treatment inside of a year will do well to consider the investment of a small wager on an X-ray photograph, especially if some slight symptoms are occasionally noted in the well arm.

The neck is a bad place to have a rib.

A pulsating mass just above the collar bone is pretty sure to be caused by cervical rib.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

"Foety" Pills.

A year ago I read that pills of asafoetida are a tonic for weak nerves. I have been taking them ever since with good results. Is there any harm from their prolonged use?

Answer—No harm. They are mildly sedative, and are also taken for "gas." Old-fashioned people used to call them "foety" pills.

From Calomel to Salol.

After reading what you said about calomel I stopped taking it for my liver. Some friends advised me to try salol and nux vomica. Are these medicines good for liver trouble?

Answer—Salol is a combination of carbolic acid and salicylic acid. Nux vomica consists of strychnine and other less important things. How either can affect the liver is more than we can understand. Salol is used as an intestinal antiseptic and in elimination it probably affects the urine. You had better consult some physician who will try to determine why your liver troubles you—if it is the liver.

EMPLOYES STUDY "PREPAREDNESS"

Street Railway Men Will Stage Amateur Boxing Exhibitions.

Amateur boxers who are in the employ of the Duluth Street Railway company will have an opportunity of showing their skill in the near future. A program of three bouts each of from three to five rounds is being planned to take place within the next three weeks at the clubrooms of the company at Twenty-sixth avenue west and Superior street.

The exhibition will be staged by the Duluth Street Railway Employes association. The affair will be exclusively for the employes. There will be no admission to the "stag" affair, but all outsiders will be excluded.

Raymond Smallidge, who is a follower of the sport and said to be a fair boxer, is chairman of the committee that is planning the arrangements. The bouts will include exhibitions in three classes, lightweight, middleweight and heavyweight. Among the contestants will be some of the conductors and motormen.

The athletic association was organized about a year ago to control the activities of the baseball team and provide other forms of sports for the men. Last winter several wrestling exhibitions were promoted by the organization among the employes.

At present many of the employes are busy with a pool tournament. Seventeen conductors and motormen are entered in the car men's contest. At present Joe Vitall is leading with seven straight games to his credit. The other men entered in the match are Harry F. Patterson, Dewey Busch, J. O. Peterson, W. H. Howard, E. H. Bullock, Ben Craven, Ed Baxter, A. Barboni, H. P. Castor, James Fitzpatrick, O. L. Gunder, R. E. Borgeson, A. Knudson, Peter Rigstad, I. Trawick and F. M. McCorrison.

The office men entered are R. P. Williams, Henry Norman, William Johnson, Harry Hokanson, William G. Byers, E. T. McManus and Ernest Anderson. The shop men are A. C. Hunter, Morris Goss, Charles Pollock, John Ransbottom and A. C. Peterson.

MILL RUNNING DAY AND NIGHT

Mullery-McDonald Plant Gives Employment to 220 Men.

With a force of 220 men put to work the Mullery-McDonald sawmill at the foot of Twenty-fourth avenue west began cutting lumber yesterday afternoon. Of this number about 120 were put to work on the day shift and about 100 on the night shift.

The sawmill will now operate day and night with the exception of twenty-four hours each week-end until it is necessary to close down for want of logs or for repairs. Officials of the company say that there is about ten months of sawing in sight now and that this may be stretched.

After testing the machinery at the mill yesterday forenoon and selecting a crew to operate, the cutting of the lumber began early in the afternoon. The night shift started work at 7 o'clock.

The company has now a large stock of logs on hand at its hot pond and additional supplies of logs will be received daily from the company's camps. The mill will cut about 300,000 feet each twenty-four hours.

The mill has been closed down since early last fall. Repairs have been made, including the replacing of much of the machinery with new parts.

Lodge Installations.

Joint installations will be held this evening by the Duluth camp, No. 2341, Modern Woodmen, and Greysolon camp, No. 627, Royal Neighbors, at the Woodman hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street. A social program will follow the ceremonies.

McGonagle circle of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers will also install its officers this evening at the Woodman hall. Dancing will follow the work.

Salvation Army Concert.

The concert given last evening under the auspices of the Scandinavian Salvation Army at its hall, 1631 West Superior street, was well attended despite the cold weather. The program was supplied by the choir of the Swedish Mission church, under the direction of Mrs. J. J. Daniels. Among the numbers were vocal solo numbers by Mrs. Daniels and piano solo numbers by Miss Ruth Larson.

FINDS NO ADULTERATED ASPERIN IN DULUTH

There is no fake arperin in Duluth, according to Health Director Fahey, who has made an investigation at the request of Safety Commissioner Silberstein.

"At the outbreak of the war," said Dr. Fahey, "there was considerable trouble in importing enough asperin to supply the demand. Four-grain capsules were filled partly with sugar of milk and part asperin and many other methods of substitution were resorted to.

"But so far as I know, nothing of the sort has been tried in Duluth. We have had absolutely no complaints about lack of effectiveness of asperin and I have no reason to believe the public is being defrauded. Should anyone wish an examination made of their purchases in that line, we will, of course, be only too glad to oblige them."

Allen, the leader of the gang, is still at large.

Lohr, in a statement to the court, said he met Allen, who was the leader of the gang, in Minneapolis. He said they had planned to rob the bank the day before they did, but as things did not look good, they robbed a laundry instead. Lohr said the bank loot was divided among the participants in a room in a hotel in Minneapolis and that each received $432.

To Have Perfect Skin Throughout the Winter

These days the face and hands need special care and attention. Strong winds, quick changes of temperature from indoors to outdoors, are severe on the skin. Their despoiling effects are best overcome by the application of pure mercolized wax. This keeps skin and pores in a cleanly condition, the complexion beautifully white and spotless. Chapped, reddened, blotchy and roughened cuticle are actually absorbed by it. One ounce of mercolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, is sufficient to completely renovate a weather-beaten complexion. It is used like cold cream, allowed to remain on over night, and washed off in the morning.

As the skin tends to expand in a warm atmosphere, cheeks and chin to sag and wrinkles to form, a good astringent lotion should be used by the woman who keeps pretty much indoors these days. Dissolve one ounce powdered saxolite in one-half pint witch hazel. Bathe the face in this mornings or before going out for theater or social affair. It is a remarkable skin tightener and wrinkle eraser. —Advertisement.

HUMANE AGENT ROSS DISCUSSES QUESTION OF BEST PAVEMENT FOR CITY'S STREET GRADES

Deals With Subject From Humanitarian and Business Point of View; Declares Sandstone Is Best; Advocates Stone Trackway for Much-Used Avenues Already Paved and Sprinkling With Trap-Rock Screenings for Foothold on Others of Lesser Grade.

JOHN G. ROSS.

What is the best kind of pavement for hillside streets constantly used for horse travel?

This is a question in which John G. Ross, agent for the Duluth Humane society, believes the public should be deeply interested. Mr. Ross began looking into this matter several months ago, when he became humane agent and has many valuable suggestions to offer along the line of obtaining such roadways as will afford freedom from slipping and skidding and at the same time insure the greatest ease of traction.

Mr. Ross says that the subject has been forcibly brought to his attention during the last summer not only through his own observations of conditions existing in Duluth but also from protests from various members of the Humane society. In an article prepared for The Herald, he writes as follows:

"The fact that all our main arteries of communication between Duluth and the farming and mining centers around us are, and always will be, of exceeding heavy grade, and also because right inside of the most populous districts of our city on almost every one of the avenues there are very heavy grades, the matter of obtaining roadways which will afford the greatest ease of traction, and at the same time freedom from danger of slipping and skidding, both for horse-drawn and motor vehicles, makes the subject of suitable traffic surfaces one in which our society must be interested.

Horses Fall Under Loads.

"Witnessing the fall of man's noblest friend in the animal world is no pleasant sight, but how often have all of us seen a splendid team, after wallowing around in an attempt to gain a footHold on a glassy pavement, fall on their knees and permanently damage themselves, and this through no fault of the driver, and despite their own best endeavors to maintain a foothold on a surface which, however durable, cheap, sanitary or noiseless, should never have been laid for horse travel on account of its slipperiness.

"The number of horses sustaining injuries from falling on our streets during the year 1915 cannot be computed at less than 500, and the danger from a slippery road surface is not confined to horses, for when a horse will slip, the tire of an automobile will skid, and when tires skid, injury and death to human beings is close at hand. It is not an edifying sight to observe the frantic efforts of a fine pair of horses attempting to pull a four-ton load up an avenue having an 8 per cent grade, where no secure foothold is available, and to see them, despite the encouragement (?)—sometimes with a whip—of their driver, be compelled to back down to the level of the street from which they started. This condition is due, not to any inability on the part of the team to draw the four-ton load, but to their failure to gain a footing on the slippery road surface. The horse cannot speak, but if he could, I have no doubt he could explain what agonies he endured from the racking effort to secure a footing on a polished surface.

Security of Intersections.

"It is commonly admitted that any pavement surface we have in Duluth gives a sufficient foothold on a level street or one having only small grades, but this is only true when the intersecting avenues are also of little or no grade. Where avenues having steep grades—say more than 3 per cent or 4 per cent—paved with a non-slippery material, intersect a street paved with a slippery material, the following conditions are seen: The horses attached to loaded teams approaching the street on a steep down grade are pushed onto the slippery surface by the weight and momentum of the loads behind them, which makes it very difficult for a horse to keep his balance and regain his feet. On the other hand, the horses drawing loaded wagons which approach the street from below on a steep up-grade when the slippery surface is reached are unable to get sufficient foothold to draw the load onto the street and may frequently be seen to be pulled back down hill, and sometimes to be pulled off their feet by the weight of the loaded wagon behind them. Thus it is seen that the fact that a street itself is level or of small grade is not a sufficient reason for paving it with a slippery material, and that such a material can only be used when all the intersecting avenues have also little vertical inclination.

What Horses Can Haul.

"While considering the matter of grades, it would perhaps be well to go a little into the matter of what loads a pair of horses can, without distress, haul up our avenues, in ordinary four-wheeled wagons, such as are in common use here. A proper study of this subject must include, in addition to the matters of slipperiness of surface and steepness of grades, consideration of the tractive resistance of the various pavements in use on our avenues, the starting and hauling power of horses and their ability to exercise such power on the different pavement surfaces over which they have to travel. The resistance to traction presented by different pavement surfaces is precisely similar in its effect upon the horse or motor, as are different grades. For instance, a wagon hauled across a ploughed field would take as much power to move at the rate of, say three miles per hour, as would be required to move it at the same rate of speed up an incline twelve feet vertical height in 100 feet horizontal distance on a perfectly smooth roadway. It may therefore be said of tractive resistances of roadway surfaces that the more smooth they are the easier a load may be hauled over them. An ideal pavement, it follows, would be one which combines absolute smoothness of surface with perfectly secure foothold—an ideal which cannot be realized, but which can be more or less nearly approached.

Depends on Foothold.

"It has been stated that the ability of a horse to haul a load depends upon his strength and his foothold. If all a horse's strength can be exercised without slipping, the weight of the load will only be limited by his muscular force, but if the surface over which the load is being drawn is so smooth as to not afford a secure foothold, so that he maintains his feet with difficulty, his available strength will be greatly reduced and his ability to stand up while exerting his strength will be a controling factor. It is to be deducted from this that the very first prime requisite for any humanitarian pavement is security of foothold. The effect of grades in increasing the burden to the horse of loads hauled over them is about twenty pounds per ton of load for each 1 per cent of grade when a team is moving at its ordinary walking pace of between two and one-half and three miles per hour. To this pull must be added the tractive force necessary to overcome the roughness or resistance offered by the roadway surface over which the wagon and load is being drawn, in order to obtain the total resistance of the load or force required to be exerted by the horses. This force varies greatly with different kinds of pavements. Thus to pull a total load of three tons

Resistance of Pavements.

"Requires a force of 75 pounds on an asphalt pavement.

"Requires a force of 95 pounds on a brick pavement.

"Requires a force of 100 pounds on a bithulithic or tar macadam pavement.

"Requires a force of 103 pounds on a sandstone block.

"Requires a force of 106 pounds on a sandstone, trap rock or gravel concrete pavement.

"Requires a force of 110 pounds on a creosoted wood block pavement.

"Requires a force of 150 to 240 pounds on a macadam pavement (depending on age).

"Requires a force of 175 to 300 pounds on a gravel pavement (depending on age).

"Requires a force of 250 to 600 pounds on an earth road (depending on condition).

"If the grade of the asphalt pavement were 5 per cent the pull would be 175 pounds.

"If the grade of the asphalt pavement were 10 per cent the pull would be 275 pounds.

"If the grade of the brick pavement were 5 per cent the pull would be 195 pounds.

"If the grade of the brick pavement were 10 per cent the pull would be 295 pounds.

"If the grade of the bithulithic or tar macadam pavement were 5 per cent the pull would be 200 pounds.

"If the grade of the bithulithic or tar macadam pavement were 10 per cent the pull would be 300 pounds.

"If the grade of the sandstone block pavement were 5 per cent the pull would be 203 pounds.

"If the grade of the sandstone block pavement were 10 per cent the pull would be 303 pounds.

"If the grade of the concrete pavement were 5 per cent the pull would be 206 pounds.

"If the grade of the concrete pavement were 10 per cent the pull would be 306 pounds.

"If the grade of the creosoted wood pavement were 5 per cent the pull would be 210 pounds.

"If the grade of the creosoted wood pavement were 10 per cent the pull would be 310 pounds.

"If the grade of the macadam pavement were 5 per cent the pull would be 250 to 340 pounds.

"If the grade of the macadam pavement were 10 per cent the pull would be 350 to 440 pounds.

"If the grade of the gravel pavement were 5 per cent the pull would be 275 to 400 pounds.

"If the grade of the gravel pavement were 10 per cent the pull would be 375 to 500 pounds.

"If the grade of the earth road were 5 per cent the pull would be 350 to 700 pounds.

"If the grade of the earth road were 10 per cent the pull would be 450 to 800 pounds.

Resistance and Security.

"When loads are so great as to be only movable by the utmost exertion of muscular force on the part of the team hauling them, the difference in smoothness between different pavements becomes a secondary matter to the animals doing the work. Therefore, the smoother the roadway surface can be made, so long as the first requisite of a good roadway is satisfied, that of a secure foothold, the easier the work of hauling loads will be made for the team engaged in it. It must also be borne in mind that it is much more difficult for a team to start a load from a condition of rest on a yielding or rough surface than it is to start it when the pavement is hard and smooth. When it is remembered that 'tacking' up our easiest grade avenues has to be resorted to, in order to truck even moderate loads up to and above Fourth street, with frequent stops to rest the team, the importance of having our avenues paved with as smooth a material as is consistent with good foothold will be recognized. The effort required to start a load from a condition of rest is between three and four times the effort needed to move the load after it is in motion, which makes the tractive pull cited previously only one-quarter of the actual pull exerted for a short period when starting.

"The tractive strength or pulling power of an average sized healthy horse is usually taken to be from 100 to 150 pounds, although it can, for short periods, exert ten to twelve times this force. The weight, strength and condition of horses makes their working capacity differ greatly, but the ordinary horse should not be subjected to loads which entail a greater average continuous tractive load for the day's work than from 150 to 175 pounds. This would make the greatest average pull for a two-horse team 350 pounds. Referring to the figures already given, we find that for a total load of three tons, a team does not exceed what may be called the allowable pull of 350 pounds on a 10-per-cent grade, except in the cases of poorly maintained or worn-out gravel and macadam, and on earth roads, but as heretofore stated, the ability of a horse to pull a load depends upon the foothold afforded by the surface he is traveling on, and we know that a majority of the pavements which appear in the preceding table are so slippery that they are unfit for use, except where the grade is nil or very slight. The best foothold for horses is undoubtedly on a macadam or gravel surface, but there are so many valid objections to these pavements that they are now, and probably always will be, laid only on country roads and in suburban and semi-suburban districts. The application of oil to gravel and macadam surfaces somewhat mitigates the natural dustiness of these roadways, but it must be applied frequently and in rainy weather it makes a very sticky and unpleasant mud.

Sandstone the Best.

"Of all the other pavements in common use in our city the only ones which combine ease of traction with a stable foothold for horses are sandstone blocks and sandstone concrete, and they are the only ones which should be used on heavy grades.

"The following table shows what I believe to be the maximum grades upon which the various pavements mentioned in this paper should be used, taking into consideration the slipperiness as well as the tractive and grade resistance:

	Per cent.
Asphalt	0 to 2½
Brick	0 to 3
Bitulithic and tar macadam	0 to 3
Sandstone blocks	0 to 15
Trap rock or gravel concrete	0 to 4
Sandstone concrete (silica)	0 to 15
Creosoted wood block	0 to 2
Macadam	0 to 5
Gravel	0 to 4

"In the above statement only the dry slipperiness has been taken into account, but it is common knowledge that in wet weather some pavement surfaces, such as asphalt and creosoted blocks, are very much more slippery than in dry weather, and also all pavements during sleety, snowy or freezing weather become harder for horses to gain a foothold on. In our climate only those pavements which afford the best foothold under all weather conditions should be used. Existing pavements, of course, cannot be changed until they have been worn out and are ready for a new surface, but certainly some action should be taken to palliate the present dangerously slippery condition of many of them. Such avenues as Sixteenth avenue east between Superior street and Fourth street, Seventeenth avenue east between Superior street and Second street, Nineteenth avenue east between London road and Fourth street, Twentieth avenue east between Superior street and Fourth street, and Twenty-third avenue east between Superior street and Fifth street should be frequently sprinkled with trap rock screenings, from which the dust has been removed, or sharp sand.

Sprinkle Roadways With Grit.

"If the sidewalks on our avenues can be sprinkled with sand during freezing weather for the accommodation of pedestrian travel, cannot some at least, of the most slippery of our avenues be similarly treated to accommodate horse travel? The avenues are not fit to put a horse burdened with even a small load onto, in their present condition, and they are examples of the folly of permitting taxpayers to select at will any pavement they like. In 'City Roads and Pavements,' by W. P. Judson, commenting on unsuitable pavements for steep grades, he says, 'In examining these steep grades, it should be borne in mind that the selection of a pavement for a given street may have been made directly or indirectly by the property owners, who have not necessarily chosen the pavement best suited to attract traffic, but who, preferring a quiet street, sometimes select a pavement which traffic will shun.' Which goes to show that Duluth is not alone in its unsuitable pavement surfaces and that other cities experience difficulties similar to ours. St. Louis, which has a large yardage of creosote block pavement, some years ago commenced coating the block surface with heavy oil and sanding over the oil, which is said to greatly assist the foothold of horses and grip of automobile tires. This could be tried on First street, which very badly requires something to reduce its slipperiness.

"Regarding the slippery condition of Superior street, most of the falls of horses on this street occur when the team is being driven up or down an intersecting avenue, and is either attempting to turn into it, or to cross it. If the brick were taken up at these intersections and replaced with sandstone blocks, horses would have a good foothold, and the many falls, which now occur at each of these avenue intersections would be avoided. The avenue intersections on the creosote block pavement on First street should be treated in the same way, or if the introduction of stone paving upon a wood block street is thought objectionable, special grooved cerosoted blocks, which cost only a trifle more than the regular square blocks may be obtained which give the necessary security of foothold and which, it is claimed, make paving with these blocks perfectly safe for horses or tires on an 8 per cent grade.

Stone Trackways.

"On such long grades as we have on Mesaba and Piedmont avenues, where the low value of the abutting property makes it prohibitory to pave with an expensive pavement—which is the only kind of pavement which combines ease of traction with secure foothold—I believe that stone trackways spaced the gauge of an ordinary wagon or vehicle apart (4 feet 4 inches) paved between with sandstone blocks, should be provided by the city for the accommodation of the rapidly increasing suburban and rural travel, which use these two avenues for coming to and going from the city. The trackways, which might be 18 inches in width by 8 or 10 inches in depth made in slabs 4 to 8 feet long, could be quarried and cut from trap rock such as the city is now excavating from the Point of Rocks. The paving between the tracks would only be 2 feet 10 inches in width, so that a square yard of paving would pave 3 feet 2 inches of the length of the trackway. This would, therefore, be inexpensive compared with paving the entire street and the smoothness of the hard stone wheelways combined with the excellence of foothold afforded by the sandstone would make the conveyance by team of loads up the hill infinitely easier on the animals hauling them. As the trackways would be laid flush with the existing gravel or macadam on the avenues, teams could turn into, or out of them at will, thus no obstruction to traffic would be caused by their installation. The cost of these trackways would probably have to be borne by the city at large as it would be hard to show that they benefited the abutting property owners.

"In conclusion, if it were possible to influence the city government to expend the necessary outlay to make existing pavements safe for horse-travel by sanding, etc., the most slippery of the pavements now in use, and also, to endeavor to persuade property owners on streets and avenues which are about to be paved or repaved, to select non-slippery surfaces, it would certainly be lightening the horses' burden in our city."

MORE SCHOOL, LESS VACATION

Supt. Denfeld May Recommend Forty-Eight Weeks of Work.

Four school terms, each of twelve weeks, with but one month of summer vacation annually may be recommended to the board of education by City Supt. R. E. Denfeld at the February meeting of the board.

Newark, N. J., has a system of this kind, and the one proposed for Duluth will be patterned after the city's plan. In informal discussions of the possibilities of the scheme, with principals, Supt. Denfeld has indicated his belief in the plan.

"Newark schools save $20,000 annually this way," said Supt. Denfeld yesterday, "and I believe we would be able to save about $7,000 annually in teachers' salaries here. Furthermore, the student gains one year in every four he attends school.

"As the teachers know, I have always been in favor of continuation schools, although I have been accused of trying to kep the pupils in school the year through.

"At the present time Duluth schools are operated on a 38-week basis comprising the school year. The first term is of fifteen weeks, the second term fifteen weeks and the third eight weeks. In addition to these terms a summer school of six weeks is operated. In this way, it is seen, Duluth has had a sort of a continuous school for several years, but the system has never been established as one all-inclusive operating school."

Supt. Denfeld denied that year-round schools are detrimental to the health of students.

THREE SMALL FIRES.

Frozen Water Pipe, Automobile and Ashbox Figure as Causes.

A torch used to thaw a frozen water pipe gave too hot a blaze and set fire to the wall of the residence of Mrs. Pearl Stein, 27½ West Fourth street, about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The damage by fire and water was estimated at $150. Persons living in the house were driven to the street by the smoke and flames, but did not suffer from exposure.

An ash box at Piedmont avenue and Second street was also responsible for a short run early in the evening, as was an automobile fire in front of 316 West First street.

MAMMOTH EXHIBITION BUILDING FOR LONDON

London, Jan. 14.—Ground has been broken here for a huge permanent exhibition building to be known as the palace of industry.

The building, located at Willesden Green—about six miles distant from the center of the city—will cover an area of 610,000 square feet, nearly four times the size of any similar building in London. It will be opened early in 1917 with an exhibition known as the "Industries of the Empire Fair," which is planned to be "the greatest trade exhibition ever organized." The fair will be under the co-operative auspices of all the principal trade organizations of the British empire and over 3,000 exhibitors, representing seventy distinct lines of business, have already applied for space. The frontage of the stalls will reach an aggregate twelve miles in length. It is to be solely a display of British goods, no foreign exhibits whatever being allowed.

FIFTH AVENUE WILL BE PAVED

Fifth avenue west from Superior street to the courthouse will be ordered paved by the city council next Monday afternoon.

A resolution ordering the improvement has been prepared by Commissioner Farrell, works head, who estimates the total cost at $4,540.25 for sandstone blocks. Fifth avenue is now paved with cedar blocks and is in bad condition for traffic.

Another measure, requiring all cement used in street work to be tested, will be introduced by Commissioner Farrell at the Monday meeting. Tests have been made for the last year, but it is the plan of the works head to make this provision a mandatory one. The cost of testing, amounting to about 3 cents a barrel, will be charged to the improvement.

Indigestion May Be Due to Constipation

Neglect of Important Function May Seriously Impair The Health.

There are many people who believe they suffer from indigestion when their discomfort really is due to a constipated condition.

Bloat, with its attendant mental depression, sick-headache, the belching of sour stomach gases, etc., are frequently due to inaction of the bowels. Relieve the congestion and the trouble usually disappears. The use of cathartics and purgatives should be avoided, however; these shock the system unnecessarily and, at best, their effect is but temporary. A mild laxative is far preferable.

The compound of simple laxative herbs known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and sold in drug stores for fifty cents a bottle, is highly recommended. Mr. Benj. Bassin, 360 Madison St., Gary, Ind., thinks Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin a wonderful medicine; for four years he had a severe case of indigestion and constipation before trying Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which he is glad to recommend to all who suffer with stomach and bowel trouble.

A bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin should be in every home for use when occasion arises. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 454 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

WILLIAM C. SARGENT

U. S. TO MAINTAIN PRESENT POLICY

zone, even if it be necessary to force them to do so.

Gen. Obregon reported to state department agents at El Paso today that all danger of an attack upon Torreon by Villa troops had been averted.

Word From Carranza.

Gen. Carranza today telegraphed his ambassador here as follows from his headquarters at Queretaro:

"The murderous attack on the passenger train near Chihuahua was made by the only remaining band of outlaws in that region. This band is being pursued by my troops with a view to insure its capture, whereupon condign punishment which they deserve, will be applied to every guilty participant.

"Troops of the Constitutionalist government have been ordered to establish patrol from end to end of the railroad line in order to forefend against similar outrages."

Gen. Carranza's dispatch was the first direct assurance that he will comply with the urgent representations of the United States government.

After Chairman Stone of the senate foreign relations committee had discussed the situation with the president, he returned to the senate chamber and again expressed the view that the United States should not move toward armed intervention until the Carranza government had demonstrated whether it was capable of controlling the country.

Proposes Intervention.

Senator Works, Republican, introduced a resolution proposing armed intervention and declared that congress should share with the president the responsibility for whatever is done.

The resolution was so referred to the foreign relations committee. Senator Lodge submitted the same resolution he offered April 21, 1914, as a substitute for the resolution the senate then adopted, authorizing the president to use armed forces in Mexico to enforce its demands upon Gen. Huerta, and asked that it be reprinted in the record.

"That resolution," said Seantor Lodge, "expressed the Republican attitude regarding the war against Huerta. That war has reached a successful termination inasmuch as Mr. Huerta has just died in jail."

Confers With President.

Washington, Jan. 14.—Chairman Stone of the senate foreign relations committee conferred on the Mexican situation today with President Wilson. He said he was gathering information of the administration's attitude with which to meet attacks in the senate.

After the conference the senator said he did not expect American troops would be sent into Mexico unless there were further developments to force it. He considered that the Villa element, enraged by the recognition of Carranza, were determined to attack Americans to force intervention.

He plainly indicated that the administration would look to Carranza to control the situation and punish the bandits.

Senator Stone said there was no present intention of calling a meeting of the foreign relations committee to consider the pending resolutions proposing interference in Mexico. White House officials indicated that the resolution of Senator Lewis of Illinois, the Democratic whip authorizing the president to use the armed forces, was introduced without their knowledge.

ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

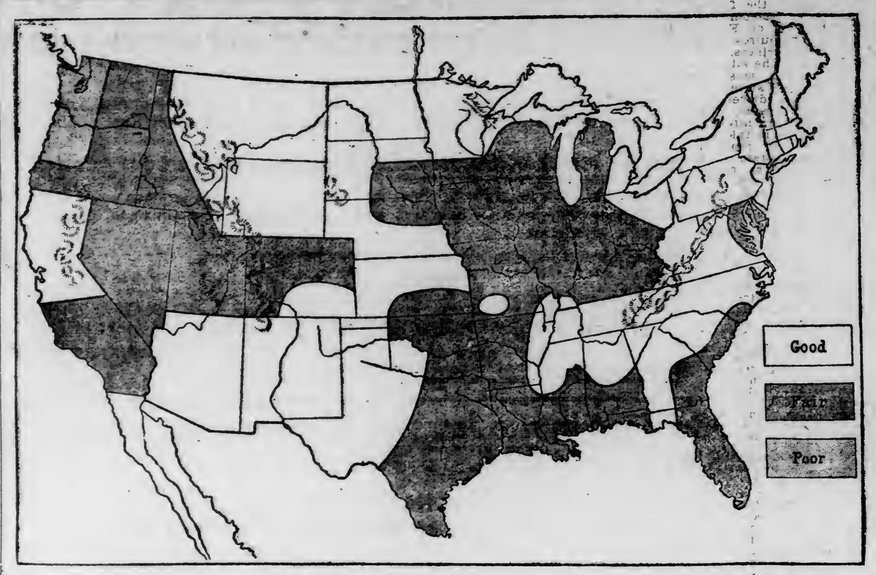

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion.

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion is nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acrid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas, or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash, or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescing, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.—Advertisement.

GENERAL PROSPERITY FOR COUNTRY PREDICTED BY FEDERAL EXPERTS; DULUTH'S "FUTURE GOOD"

MAP PREPARED BY FEDERAL EXPERTS, SHOWING BUSINESS OUTLOOK FOR THE NEXT FOUR MONTHS.

The accompanying map, which is self-explanatory as to divisions, was arranged for the committee on statistics and standards of the chamber of commerce of the United States, to accompany its report on the business outlook for the first four months of 1916. It is interesting because it shows the conclusions the members of the committee have reached as to business conditions and prospects, as a result of a study of reports from men well versed in business in every part of the country.

Duluth, it will be noticed, is in the territory indicated under the general description of "good." In fact, the only territory labeled "poor" is the coast territory of the states of Washington and Oregon.

In its report, after reviewing conditions for the last year, the committee gives the following opinion on the outlook for the first four months of the year:

"The outlook for business for the first four months of 1916 is in striking contrast to that prevailing this time last year. There are spots where much caution and conservatism yet remain, and the influence of high prices for the future further accentuates this caution because dealers feel that high prices will curtail buying by the consumer. There are other sections where the apprehension caused by the European war still hangs on. Broadly speaking and in a general way it may be said that the spirit of optimism and hopefulness prevails to a degree that has not been apparent for nearly a decade and the general belief and expectation is for such prosperity during 1916 as will recompense the people of this country for all their past misfortunes."

The committee consists of the following: A. W. Douglas, chairman, St. Louis, Mo.; A. Rose Hill, Columbia, Mo.; Byron W. Holt, New York; C. J. McPherson, Frankfort, Ind.; Dan Norman, Chicago; M. C. Rorty and N. I. Stone, New York.

AUSTRIANS CAPTURE THE CITY OF CETINJE

More Allies Land at Saloniki.

Berlin, Jan. 14, wireless to Sayville.—Dispatches from Sofia say that information has been brought there by a person who left Saloniki Jan. 8 that the allies continue to land forces on a considerably increased scale at Saloniki, and at Orfano bay, fifty miles to the northeast of Saloniki. Despite the heavy forces already landed and concentrated in the Saloniki camp, no purpose of taking the offensive has yet been displayed on the part of the allies, who, according to this informant, have completed their second line of defense and are working actively to finish the first line.

The allies at Saloniki are said to have grown exceedingly optimistic and their officers express the belief that they can make a second Ypres of Saloniki.

Other dispatches from Sofia give details of an attack by a squadron of twelve German aeroplanes on the British camp at Kilindir, near Saloniki, on which occasion, it is stated, several conflagrations were started by the dropping of incendiary bombs. Details are also given of the counter-attack by French airmen, two of whom we forced to descend.

RIOTING AT EL PASO QUICKLY SUBDUED

to control troopers about the city.

Brig.-Gen. Pershing, he said, had no power to intervene unless the situation was of an international character influenced by physical acts from beyond the border. If any citizen of El Paso sought vengeance upon a Mexican there for an act committed in Mexico, he added, it did not constitute an international situation, but was an invasion of the local law of Texas, and subject to state authorities only.

Appeals Must Be Made.

Even should the state authorities find themselves unable to maintain order, the secretary said, an appeal would have to be made by the governor to the president and formal authorization issued at Washington before martial law could be declared. A provost patrol has been maintained by army authorities to aid the police in keeping soldiers in order. It has power only over troops, and even they are responsible to city authorities for any infraction of local laws.

Army officers here believed that if soldiers participated in the rioting in El Paso as indicated, Gen. Pershing probably increased the provost patrol for arresting soldiers only, but that army sentries in no way interfered with the police in controlling civilian disturbers.

Americans Safe at Madero.

Washington, Jan. 14.—All Americans at Madera, Mex., are reported safe in official dispatches today to the state department, which specifically deny the report of the murder of ten Americans and two English women. The colony there was attacked by bandits, who were routed.

Administration officials today anxiously awaiting the outcome of Gen. Carranza's efforts to round up and punish the Mexican outlaws concerned in the killing of American citizens near Chihuahua City. Assurances that this would be done have been given by Eliseo Arredondo, ambassador-designate of the de facto government of Mexico.

Officials indicated today that the steps thus far taken by the Carranza authorities to apprehend the bandits apparently were satisfactory. Carranza will be expected, however, to punish the murderers and furnish evidence of it.

Secretary Lansing again warns Americans in Mexico to leave districts "where there is revolutionary trouble," and he indicates that all American consuls may be withdrawn from the states of Durango, Chihuahua and Sonora, pending the restoration of order.

WEATHER MODERATES BUT MERCURY IS STILL BELOW ZERO MARK

fall to about 20 degs. below, shading that figure either way.

Tomorrow it will go up again to around the zero mark, and it may be that the cold wave will break about that time, but there is nothing sure about it. The weather will remain cold until that time anyway.

Moderates Through Northwest.

The Northwest in general has enjoyed a moderation of temperature, it being "only" 30 to 40 degs. below zero in Western Canada and along about 30 degs. below in North Dakota. However, it was colder than yesterday in Alberta and British Columbia, another cold wave having set in there. There is little wind in any of the Northwestern territory, however.

The cold wave has been getting in its work in the East and South. This morning there was heavy frost and freezing weather in New Orleans, and in the East the temperature is falling rapidly. The storm, which swept this portion of the country and traveled eastward from here, has, however, passed out over the North Atlantic ocean and the land is free from it.

Another depression is developing over Nevada and other points in the Far West, carrying rain and snow with it in most of the real western country.

In the meantime this section of the country is awaiting a break in the cold, or other developments.

Linton, N. D., Building.

Linton, N. D., Jan. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Buildings operations here in 1915 amounted to $50,000, and for its size the city probably saw as much construction work as was done in any city in the state. The improvements consisted principally of new business buildings.

Wrecked Crew Landed.

London, Jan. 14.—The Dutch steamship Prinzes Juliana arrived at Gravesend today, bringing the body of the captain and seven members of the crew of the Dutch steamer Maashaven, which was abandoned, on fire, after striking a mine. A Lloyds dispatch from Rotterdam says the members of the crew were saved.

BURNED OUT SECOND TIME

Devaney-Jordan Suffer a Heavy Loss in Spectacular Blaze.

Firemen Nearly Caught on Falling Floor; Crowds Defy Temperature.

Flames, believed to have started in an upholstering shop gutted the Devaney & Jordan blacksmithing and wagon repair building at Second avenue east and Michigan street about midnight last night. Loss is estimated at $10,000, evenly divided between building and contents.

Narrow Escape For Firemen.

William Rose, driver on No. 1 engine company's truck, was floored by falling timbers and narrowly escaped being buried by a floor when it crashed in. The heavy joists barely missed Bert Smith, chauffeur for Assistant Chief C. W. Wilson, who was working with Rose.

The two men entered the building to examine the joists, in an attempt to learn whether it was safe for the firemen to use the second floor. There was a crash and they stumbled back, blinded by smoke, just as the floor crashed in. Rose was not seriously hurt.

A squad of men working on the floor above with Assistant Chief Wilson lined up along the lower wall just before the joists gave way. They were cut off from the exits by the flames, and escaped by crawling through windows at the rear of the building.

It was the most spectacular and the largest blaze in the downtown section of the city since the Empress theater fire last March, and crowds braved the sub-zero temperatures to watch the fire-fighters work. A little over a year ago the Devaney & Jordan company sustained a heavy fire loss, being burned out of their building on First avenue west.

Seven horses, stabled in the rear of the building, were led to safety by patrolmen from police headquarters, across the street, who did emergency work until the apparatus arrived. An automobile and several wagons also were saved, but other contents of the shop are a total loss.

Firemen Near Fatality.

A squad of firemen who succeeded in penetrating to the heart of the blaze, in a room used by M. Usan, upholsterer, on the second floor, narrowly escaped serious or fatal injury when the floor fell, leaving little more than the walls.

The fire was discovered by J. Omerberg, storekeeper for the National Hardware company, who was on his way to the Northern Pacific railroad yards to look after fires in the boiler of some of the company's machinery. Catching sight of the smoke, he ran to police headquarters, and officers turned in the alarm.

Helped by a high wind, the flames gathered headway quickly, and although apparatus arrived on the scene within a few minutes of the time the alarm was turned in, fire soon broke through the windows and roof.

Quick work on the part of the firefighters kept the blaze from spreading to adjoining buildings, but it was soon apparent that the Devaney & Jordan structure was doomed.

The building is owned by the Dickerman Investment company, and is insured.

CUMMINS' PLAN TO INCREASE THE ARMY

Washington, Jan. 14.—Increase of the national guard to a peace strength of 400,000 and a war strength of 800,000, is proposed in bills introduced today by Senator Cummins, Republican. Three year enlistments; three times the camp maneuver and rifle practice now required; no obligation to perform police duty after 1920 and conversion of six army posts into Federal schools for reserve officers are their principal features.

"The national guard, as I have proposed to reorganize it, will, in my judgment, furnish a trained army, that can be much more quickly mobilized and that will be much better trained than the proposed continental army," said he.

PRICE CASE NEARS JURY

Closing Arguments Being Made in Minneapolis Murder Trial.

Prosecutor Scathingly Arraigns Defendant in Address to Jurors.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Closing arguments to the jury were resumed in district court here today, where Frederick T. Price is on trial for the murder of his wife, Mary Fridley Price, member of a wealthy family. It was expected that the case would reach the jury some time this afternoon.

In making his argument in behalf of the state, Prosecutor George Armstrong summed up the state's charges when he said:

"Price wanted two things. One he wanted desperately; that was money. The other he just wanted; that was Carrie Olson, his fourth wife. Mary Fridley Price had a loving father who had given her $23,000. If it hadn't been for that, she would be alive today."

The prosecutor also declared that Charles D. Etchison, the state's chief witness, who swore Price killed his wife and paid him for his silence, did not know the defendant intended to commit the crime on the night of the woman's death.

Did Not Think Price Would Kill.

"Etchison did not believe Price would kill," he said. "And Price did not want Etchison to know his exact plans, for he knew Etchison would again refuse to be his witness.

"When Price hurled his wife from the cliff Etchison made the big mistake of his life by not running to the passing automobiles and shouting, 'A man just brutally murdered his wife for her money.'

"But Etchison feared to speak lest Price carry out his threat and charge of little Mrs. Price rang through his ears and haunted him and commanded him to speak."

"Price," said the prosecutor, "is able, intelligent, a natural leader of men. He marches forward and shouts, 'come on.' He has an audacity that is almost recklessness. If this trait were manly, we would call it courage; if it were human we would call it bravery. But it is plain brutality."

M. C. Brady, chief counsel for the defense, began his address to the jury, shortly before noon.

Reviewed by Prosecutor.

In a court room packed to overflowing, the prosecutor tersely reviewed the evidence, which, he declared, "shows beyond the shadow of a doubt that Price lured his wife to the East River road cliff on the night of Nov. 28, 1914, on the pretense of giving her an outing, hurled her on the rocks below, went to her side and knelt down, but instead of praying for forgiveness, seized a rock and crushed her head."

"This, gentlemen," the prosecutor shouted, "is the crime of the man who asks you for freedom that he may continue his checkered career."

Price, who has been referred to during the trial as the "iron man" listened closely to the words of the prosecutor with no show of emotion.

Before resting its case, the defense placed on the witness stand Dr. D. C. Cowles, who was present at the autopsy on the body of Mrs. Price. He testified that in his opinion Mrs. Price's injuries about the head could have been caused by a blow from a monkey wrench. The defense has tried to show that if the woman was murdered, Charles D. Etchison, the state's chief witness, who swore that Price killed his wife, struck the blow while Price was repairing his automobile.

Beat Women When Lad.

During cross-examination Price admitted that when a lad of 15 years old he was sent to a Wisconsin training school for beating a woman over the head with a club.

"But I was a mere boy," he said.

The defendant later said that at the age of 18 years he played a trombone for a religious organization that holds street meetings.

"I played and sometimes preached to the crowds on the street," he said. He added that his first wife also was a member and that they were married in 1897.

Leading up to the night of the alleged murder, the prosecutor asked Price what he did after reaching his wife's side at the base of the cliff.

"I knelt down and loosened the neck of her waist and asked her to speak to me," was the reply. "Then I told Etchison to run for help."

Pointing a finger at the defendant, Mr. Armstrong suddenly shouted:

"What did your wife weigh?"

Weighed Less Than 100 Pounds.

"Between 90 and 100 pounds."

"And you weigh 185 pounds."

"Now," continued the prosecutor, "why didn't you pick up the body of the little woman whose life blood was flowing away and carry it to the top of the cliff?"

"The path was too steep."

"Isn't it true that you waited until witnesses arrived, so that your wife could be seen lying there on the rocks?"

The defendant replied in the negative. Etchison, a young traveling salesman of Washington, D. C., who, after his arrest on a joint indictment with Price, swore that the latter paid him for his silence regarding the alleged crime, was recalled to the stand by the state and testified that Price had twice told him he had destroyed Mrs. Price's will.

Mrs. Etchison also took the stand and wept as she denied Price's testimony that she lived with Etchison before their marriage. Hundreds of women present also wept.

Contrary to expectations, Carrie Olsen Price, the defendant's fourth wife, was not called upon to testify for the defense.

"I have already caused her enough sorrow," Price said.

HOT TEA BREAKS A COLD—TRY THIS

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.—Advertisement.

GOOD ROADERS ARE TALKING HIGHWAYS

Sixth District Club Expected to Be Formed at Virginia.

Virginia, Minn., Jan. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—A meeting is being held at Elks' hall this afternoon of local men and delegates from Commercial clubs of Eveleth, Gilbert and Biwabik, at which it is proposed to form the Sixth District Goods Roads club to bring about a more equitable distribution of road money among the several town in this section. A county engineer is here from Duluth to discuss road matters at the meeting.

Want Road to Border City.

Local good road advocates have received word from International Falls that it is hoped there St. Louis county will build twenty miles of road in the northern part of this county connecting with the Koochiching road and making a good highway from the Rainy Lake country to the Head of the Lakes. As Koochiching county expects to be on the proposed Jefferson highway, such a connecting link would prove a big benefit to all Northern Minnesota, it is claimed.

WILL STAGE ICE CARNIVAL

Automobile Races on Harbor Feature of Annual Show.

Baseball on Skates and Other Unique Games Are Planned.

Duluth's second annual winter ice carnival will be staged on the harbor on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 13, by the Duluth Automobile Dealers' association. The carnival will bring to a close the annual automobile show at the new armory during the week of Feb. 7-12.

This announcement was made late yesterday afternoon by Ray Buchanan, chairman of the carnival committee, following a meeting held in the offices of E. J. Filiatrault, president of the association. A total of $1,000 in prizes will be awarded to the winners in the automobile races, while a program of sports is now being planned, Mr. Buchanan said.

The program will begin at 2:30 o'clock with a series of automobile races on a three-mile circular track extending from in front of the Boat club grandstand to the Superior entry. Officials of the association will ask officers of the boat club to open up its building and grandstand for the use of the public, while the Duluth Ski club will be invited to send its expert ski riders to participate in a ski-running race.

An Official Race.

This morning a telegram was sent to the American Automobile association with a request that the local race be placed on the list, so that the records made will stand as official. In the event that the request is granted, it is expected that an official timekeeper will be sent here to attend the races. The track will be prepared for the occasion, with special side curves and sanded turns to avoid accidents and enable the drivers to attain the greatest possible speed.

Baseball on Ice.

One of the features of the carnival will be a baseball game on ice, two picked teams to be selected for the contest, which will take place in front of the boat club grandstand. All the players will wear mackinaw uniforms and caps and play on skates. The regulation indoor baseball will be used. This will be the first time in the city's history that the national sport will be staged on ice.

During the afternoon members of the association will pull sleds and skaters all over the ice, this sport having proven very popular during the carnival a year ago. The machines will be equipped with long, heavy ropes, it was announced today.

The members of the carnival committee follow: Ray Buchanan, chairman; S. L. Potts, secretary; Earl Bradley, J. W. Arnold, Clifford Oppel, J. S. Stafford and W. J. Carpenter.

THREE MORE INDICTMENTS

Federal Grand Jury Finishes Its Work for Term.

The Federal grand jury completed its work at 2 o'clock this afternoon, returning three additional indictments today, making a total of forty-three in all for the entire session.

The three men against whom the indictments were returned today are in custody. One of them was against John Ewelsh, who is alleged to have robbed the postoffice at Scanlon. The other two are against Joe La Valley and Milo Sipoe, both of whom are charged with having introduced liquor into an Indian reservation.

The sixteen members of the grand jury filed into the United States court room at 2 o'clock and were discharged by Federal Judge Page Morris, who compliment-d them on the thoroughness of their work.

On the forty-three indictments returned, ten of them have been made public. The other seven were published yesterday. The persons against whom these have been returned are now in the custody of the United States marshal. The other thirty-three have not been arrested.

RESTAURANT OWNER HELD.

Charged With Selling Liquor Without License; Result of Raid.

Charges of procuring, and of selling liquor without a license, may be preferred by police against Louis Campbell, 22, manager of the Palace restaurant, 513 West Superior street, as an aftermath of the arrest of two white girls and two negroes Thursday morning.

Campbell was arrested last night, after the two girls had told police their story. Giving their names as Lillian Smith, 18, and Laura Fuller, 18, they said that Campbell brought beer to the rooms they were occupying with the two negroes, and that he was paid for it on the spot. Campbell was released on $100 bail and will be given a hearing this afternoon.

The negroes, William Cheney, 28, and James Key, 30, are said to have a good reputation. They were released on $25 bail after being charged with disorderly conduct, and will be tried this afternoon. Police intimated that the charges against them might be changed to furnishing liquor to women.

Effie Golden, alias Myers, 21, and Edward Golden, 28, were arrested by Sergt. A. V. Youngberg and Patrolman Le Beau last night as suspects. When Golden said he was married in Minneapolis and "Mrs. Golden" chose Chicago as the place in which she was married, charges of disorderly conduct were preferred against them.

The man pleaded guilty and paid a $27.50 fine today, while the woman pleaded not guilty. She will be tried this afternoon.

SNOW LAW TO BE ENFORCED

Safety Commissioner Orders Police to Compel Its Observance.

Commissioner Silberstein, safety head, this morning issued instructions to the police to enforce the old snow removal ordinance, which was passed on Jan. 11, 1892.

Because a new snow ordinance would not become effective until early in March, the safety head will not introduce the proposed measure next Monday, but will enforce the old one, which has been on the books for the last twenty-three years. Copies of the ordinance were made this morning and distributed to the police officials.

The ordinance compels the removal of ice and snow from walks in any part of the corporate limits of the city. A violation means arrest and almost certain conviction, as the measure is very specific.

"If people have any pride at all in their city," said Commissioner Silberstein, "they will clean their walks without special enforcement of a law by the police. Superior street looks like a thoroughfare in a country town and the merchants should be ashamed of themselves.

"Should an accident happen, the city is always held liable and the money paid out to the injured comes from the pockets of the taxpayers. It would pay the public to clean the sidewalks, if only from a business point of view."

ROAD FOREMEN ARE NAMED BY BOARD

Commissioners Also Discuss Road Measures; County Ditch Hearing.

County commissioners met for a short session this morning at the courthouse to discuss road matters for the coming year and to announce appointments of the various road foremen in the several districts of the county. Appointments made were:

Second district—S. E. Machnikoski, foreman.

Fourth district—Nick Nelson, general superintendent; John Edblom and C. J. Johnson, foremen.

Fifth district—J. B. Dykins, foreman.

Sixth district—Otto Nyyssonen, S. Johnson, August Knuti, Matt Turja and Nestor Salin, foremen.

Seventh district—Alec Watt, general superintendent; M. Farrington, C. A. Hughes, Adolph Olson, Thomas Forrest and Thomas Cochrane, foremen.

All appointments were approved by the board and bonds of the appointees were accepted.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock the board will conduct a final hearing on the matter of establishing County Ditch No. 4, which will drain a large area of low land lying just west of the St. Louis river between Elmer on the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railway and Floodwood. It is probable that bids will be called for at once.

SUPERIOR

Robbed of Large Sum.

Although Chris Olson, a saloon porter, had his money in a pocketbook, sewed up in his trouser pocket, and his trousers stuffed under the mattress on which he slept, it did not prevent a thief from stealing the cash from him during the night. A sum said to have been between $600 and $700 was contained in the wallet. He told the police that he had no suspicion as to who took the money.

Raise Money for Bowlers.

In a canvass of the Superior business men yesterday by members of the City Bowling league, the sum of $100 was subscribed towards a fund to send a representation to the international tournament to be held in Minneapolis on Feb. 10 to 18. It is planned to raise sufficient funds to send five teams to the tournament.

Raise $11,705 on First Day.

The sum of $11,705.50 was subscribed in Superior yesterday during the first day of the campaign to raise $75,000 for the completion of the Y. M. C. A. Of this sum, three individual subscribers gave $2,200, in sums of $1,000, $700 and $500. A banquet at the Y. M. C. A. headquarters featured the close of the day's work last night. A similar affair is planned for this evening at the close of today's canvass.

Spent $87,000 on Roads.

The Douglas county supervisors spent during the year 1915 the sum of $87,616 on road improvements in the county, according to the report submitted yesterday by C. J. Morriset. The money was expended principally on the highways, and the largest single item is for the improvement of the Grand avenue road from Spalding avenue to the Bayfield road, amounting to $9,674.77.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

LEARN WHERE MONEY WENT

North Dakota Congressman Wants Congress to Probe Old Expenditures.

Norton Proposes Looking Into Army and Navy Appropriations.

Williston, N. D., Jan. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Instead of vast military and naval appropriations, P. D. Norton, congressman from the Third congressional district of North Dakota, believes congress should determine what has become of the large expenditures made in the past, if the army and navy are in the condition the preparedness propagandists declare it is.

Congressman Norton addressed himself at some length on the question in a letter to Rev. H. A. Harriss of this city, who had previously written the congressman, urging him to work against any increased military expenditures.

"Notwithstanding the huge expenditures we have been making for our army and navy, those clamoring loudest for preparedness and big appropriations tell us that we now have neither an army nor navy of any account; that our army would not be a good police force for New York city, and that as far as our navy goes, our fastest ships are slower than the slowest ships of Great Britain and Germany. That our aeroplanes will not fly, and that our submarines will not dive," says Congressman Norton.

Should Probe Expenditures.

"Instead of the present congress making large appropriations to be expended for military and naval purposes several years hence, I am firmly convinced that an investigation should be made of the manner in which our appropriations for military and naval purposes are now being spent to the end that in the future every dollar spent for the army and navy bring a decent return in efficiency and preparedness.

"My judgment is that congress will not be carried away by the present hysterical clamor for big appropriations for the purpose of laying the foundation for building up in this country of a large army and navy, but that in the final analysis only sufficient appropriation for a sane and reasonable preparedness will be passed."

WOMAN WEAK, DIZZY, NERVOUS

Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Jamaica, N. Y.—"I suffered greatly with my head and with backache, was weak, dizzy, nervous, with hot flashes and felt very miserable, as I was irregular for two years. One day when I was feeling unusually bad my sister-in-law came in and said, 'I wish you would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.' So I began taking it and I am now in good health and am cured. I took the Compound three times a day after meals, and on retiring at night. I always keep a bottle in the house." —Mrs. L. N. BURNHAM, 35 Globe Ave., Jamaica, N. Y.

Women who recover their health naturally tell others what helped them. Some write and allow their names and photographs to be published with testimonials. Many more tell their friends.

If you need a medicine for Women's Ailments, try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) for anything you need to know about these troubles.

ITCHING ECZEMA IS A CONSTANT BLOOD CRY

The Blood Reaches Every Part of the Body Every Twelve Seconds

There are approximately 70,000,000 pores or openings in the skin of a human body. These connect with the blood channels by means of little canals. These canals are sometimes filled with poisons, and thus the skin scales and blisters, becomes red and raw and the skin of man is like so much tissue fire. Salves and lotions, plasters, etc., do not reach the source of the trouble. To make the blood pure is the only sensible and scientific method of relief. To make the blood pure you must assist nature in the way she wants to be helped. S. S. S. is the greatest blood purifier because it is a natural one. There is not a mineral of any sort in it. It is purely vegetable in every essence. The blood welcomes S. S. S., and it quickly reaches the seat of the trouble. So great is the fame of this blood remedy that many substitutes trail along in various sections of the country. They all, sooner or later, die a natural death. S. S. S. builds up weak and acidy blood, gives prompt relief to almost every case of eczema, winter tetter and other troublesome skin maladies. You owe yourself the duty of trying a bottle of S. S. S. Take no substitute. Write for our free book on skin diseases. Confidential letters replied to by our Medical expert if you will write Swift Specific Company, Department 33, Atlanta, Georgia.

Mr. Morrow is now at work in Minnesota, where, he states, things are also looking well.

DESIRE TO HUNT WOLVES NEAR ELY

Victor Johnson Seeks Permission to Kill Animals on Preserve.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 14.—Urging that a "game refuge" is also a refuge and breeding place for wolves, which multiply and destroy deer and other game, Victor Johnson of Ely, applied to Carlos Avery, state game and fish commissioner, yesterday for a permit to hunt wolves in the Superior national forest, which is a state game preserve. As no one is permitted to carry firearms in the forest, Johnson says the wolves multiply there without stint and are destroying the deer.

Johnson, who is an experienced cruiser and trapper, wants to take a crew into the forest to hunt the wolves for their pelts. The game commissioner said he was disposed to grant the request, but would have to consult first with L. M. Brownell, Federal supervisor in charge of the Superior national forest.

INTERVENTION COSTLY AFFAIR

Declares Grand Forks Woman Who Lost Brother in Mexico.

Grand Forks, N. D., Jan. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. J. G. Haney of this city has wired John Dutchi of El Paso, Texas, for definite information respecting the death of her brother, reported killed by Mexican bandits in Chihuahua. Dutchi knew her brother.

Mrs. Haney is opposed to the idea of Pan American intervention.

"It would be one of the biggest mistakes the United States ever made, and would cost in bloodshed and young manhood of the United States much more than it is worth," she declares. "Even if my whole family has been murdered by the Mexicans, I say 'Let them alone.' Gen. Carranza cannot be expected to enforce the law all over the country for a long time to come, on account of the treacherous nature of the people, any more than the army of the United States could enforce the law all over the world, and especially where the awful outrage was committed recently, and where my brother was killed as it is one of Villa's old strongholds.

Would Join Against Invaders.

"If the American army ever stepped across the border into Mexico, the whole of Mexico would at once lay aside any feudal trouble, and unite against the invading forces. The Mexican people are one of the most loyal nations on the face of the earth, singing their national anthem and hymns much more than the Americans. Every national holiday is religiously observed."

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens Gray Hair So Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft luster and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair—Advertisement.

SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

NEWS, GOSSIP, COMMENT AND VIEWS OF SPORTDOM

BY BRUCE.

SURE, by all means, Minnesota boxing commissioners, give a decision in the Gibbons-Ahearn bout and all of the rest of the bouts staged under your auspices. If you empower the referee with the authority to render a decision, you will relegate the stalling boxer to the bread line. It's the stalling boxer that is killing the game.

After empowering your referees to render decisions, it will be possible for boxing promoters to offer winning and losing purses. If that practice is ever put into effect, believe us, Bill, there will be some real fighting, and we assume that is what the public wants.

While predicting the success or failure of a boxing match nestles along in the same hazardous circle as predicting glow or sob finance in the theatrical line, nevertheless it is generally believed that decision bouts would draw more than the no-decision ones. Verily, some stimulant is rather needed in the boxing game, basing this conclusion merely on the box office statements.

The War and Hockey.

IT HAS always been stated that the Canadian hockey players were faster than the American puck chasers. Judging from the manner in which the Canuck stick handlers have beat it across to the American side when the recruiting officers got down to the final search of the highways and byways, there is little doubt of it.

Pal Brown Through.

NOW comes rippling in a stream of information to the effect that Pal Brown is good and through with the ring game. As the story goes, the Chisholm boxer has decided to give up pugilism for all time.

Time there was when a legion of loyal followers ardently believed that Pal was destined to win the lightweight championship of the world. A tough kid, immune to punishment, game to the dropping point, Brown possessed some ring qualities to inspire his friends and followers with high anticipations. That the little range battler has never gained real ring fame and has never climbed up in the big money class, may be attributed in some degree at least, to the fact that he has never been properly managed—or at least was never properly handled when in the formitive period of his career.

CRACK CURLER TO LEAD FOR LABATT

WALTER POEHLER.

A former Duluth curler, Walter Poehler, who is coming to the big bonspiel as lead for Labatt's strong rink, is considered one of the best leads in the state. Entries are coming in fast. It is expected that all of the strong rinks of last season will be entered, with the addition of some curling faces new to Northwestern curling circles.

DULUTH WINS MANLEY CUP

Joel Gates Only Superior Skip to Win; Duluth Wins Three Games.

Duluth clinched its right to the Manley-McLennan curling trophy for another year at least by winning last evening the second and deciding game of the series by the score of 50 to 35.

Joel Gates of Superior succeeded in capturing the lone game that went to the credit of the village rock throwers, Brewer falling before the Superiorite by the score of 11 to 15.

Clough Gates fell before Ralph Bradley, 8 to 6; Dinham took A. K. Smith down defeat alley by the count of 14 to 7, and Walter Hall vanquished Grace by the count of 17 to 7.

As Duluth won the initial contest of the series Tuesday evening by the aggregate score of 5 to 30, the result of last night's games spoiled any chance of Superior transferring the cup across the bay.

Except in the case of Joel Gates' rink, Duluth clearly had it on the Superiorites. Clough Gates made Bradley play at top form, but Dinham and Hall won in hollow fashion.

FAST HOCKEY FEATURES AMATEUR LEAGUE GAMES

Big Duluths Defeat Universals 4 to 3 and Take a Game From the Northern Hardware Septet By 4 to 2 Count—Universals Protest Big Duluth's Final Score.

Standing of Teams.

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Big Duluths	2	1	.666
Bagleys	2	1	.666
Universals	1	2	.333
Northerns	1	2	.333

Last evening the Big Duluth hockey team defeated the Universals in one of the best games of the season, a neat goal shot in the last minute of play tossing uncertain victory the clothiers' way by the narrow margin of 4 to 3.

Manager Edward Tecumseth Harris of the Universal team protested the victory, holding that Judge of Play Crassweller had rung his bell before the final goal was shot. The protest directors will hear both sides of the argument before rendering a decision.

Intense cold weather made the ice flinty. It was so hard, in fact, that the players' skates failed to cut in and this condition interfered somewhat with fast work. Nevertheless both games were real exhibitions.

The Universals registered first. Jimmy Owens got away and skated through nearly the entire defense of the clothiers and caged a goal. A minute later the followers of the flour makers were elated when Owens passed to Ward Brown and the beaner one neatly caged old Mr. Puck.

Just before the close of play Arnie Olson passed one near the front net to Nelson and that individual lost no time in slamming the rubber in. The half ended with the score set at 2 to 1.

Play Warms Up.

In the second half there was a real battle waged. Just as 5 minutes and 30 seconds had been ticked off Early Harris received a pretty pass from Owens and, feinting the goal guard to one side, shot a pretty goal.

Blais scored from scrimmage a few minutes later and Artie Sullivan, the Two Harbors streak, tied up the count by getting a goal from near the sideboards.

Blais then shot the disputed goal and the game was over. Whether the score will be counted is a question.

Bagleys Show Speed.

A surprise was sprung by the Bagleys, who for the first time in two seasons of play defeated their old rivals, the Northerns, by the score of 4 to 2.

The jewelers' defense was strong and many times the rushes of the hardware dealers were broken up before they advanced to the Bagley territory.

Gow and Kerr featured the work of the jewelry dealers, their wing work being fast and effective.

Olson scored in the first eight minutes of play from a scrimmage shot. Gow made a pretty rush down the ice and scored unassisted in fourteen minutes of play. With the count tied Gow untied it at the 18-minute period, getting a pretty goal from the side. Before the close of the first period Kerr received a pass from Gow and shot a neat goal.

Kerr shot a goal in seven minutes after the start of play in the second period, shooting the puck from a rebound. Peterson slammed the puck in from scrimmage for the last score of the game.

BOB DUNBAR MAY CURL IN INTERNATIONAL EVENT

Efforts Being Made to Persuade World's Most Famous Curler to Compete Against Canadian Rinks in Big Event of Bonspiel.

James Hughes will lead for John McLeod's strong Minneapolis rink in the bonspiel of next week. The entry of the Mill city rink was received today. Williams will play second and Holland third. Like La Batt's rink, the veteran McLeod looks to have a real rink and one that will step along some before taking a beating.

H. S. McGregor's rink, made up of H. A. Carmichael as lead, Totman in as second and Phil Helmick as third, is also entered. The Brewer-Whytes, for the last few seasons one of the dark horses of the spiel, have also entered. The Dinham rink, classed as one of the real contenders, is also in.

It is expected that the entries of sixty rinks will be received before tomorrow evening.

Efforts are being made today to induce Bob Dunbar, the world's most famous skip, to ship his St. Paul rink up here and play in the International event, even if he does not compete down through the other events.

With Dunbar aligned with the American rinks, it is believed that the handsome International trophy will be lugged away from Canadian internment.

Extensive plans are being made for the entertainment of the visiting curlers. The social session promises to eclipse all previous efforts in this line. Some of the "Big Time" vaudeville acts that are to be staged promise to open the eyes of foreign and domestic rock throwers and bring forth peals of laughter. The vaudeville is expected to prove to good as to make a Scotchman laugh. Enough said.

New York, Jan. 14.—The proposed ten-round bout between Jess Willard and Frank Moran, which it was expected would take place in this city some time in March, probably will be postponed until Memorial day, it was reported last night.

This step has become necessary, it is said, because Willard has informed the promoters of the match that he cannot fight in March.

The Battle Cry of Peace.

Do you know that your life and property are not covered by insurance in case of war?

GEN. HUERTA, EX-PRESIDENT OF MEXICO, DEAD AT EL PASO

Ruler Who Succeeded Francisco Madero, Succumbs at Age of 65.

Professional Soldier and Moving Spirit in Mexican Military Affairs.

GEN. VICTORIANO HUERTA.

El Paso, Texas, Jan. 14.—Gen. Victoriano Huerta, former provisional president of Mexico, who succeeded the late President Madero, died here last night of cirrhosis of the liver. He was surrounded by his family when death came.

Gen. Huerta was a professional soldier, and as such he had had, up to the overthrow of President Francisco Madero, been known for his loyal support of the existing governments. He fought loyally for President Porfiro Diaz until his fall, and when Diaz was no longer chief executive, Huerta fought for Francisco de la Barra, the provisional president. After Francisco Madero was elected Huerta found it to be his duty to support one who had so long fought as a rebel. His loyalty was not challenged until the Felix Diaz revolution in Mexico City in February, 1913, when the Madero government was completely overthrown and Huerta himself elevated to the presidency.

Sixty-five Years Old.

Huerta devoted himself to the military career at a very early age. Born at Chihuahua in 1854, he entered the military academy of Chapultepec at the age of 17 and passed through the full course to graduation in 1875, when he was commissioned second lieutenant of engineers. During his academic term he was known for his predilection for scientific studies, particularly astronomy and mathematics.

When Porfiro Diaz began his reorganization of the Mexican army Huerta was promoted captain of engineers and while holding this rank devised the plan for a Mexican general staff corps. He was an active member of the military map commission created to draft a staff map of Mexico on a large scale and he had charge of all the astronomical work of the commission, leading exploring and surveying parties over the wildest regions of the republic.

During the ensuing years Huerta saw much active service. In 1901 he left the staff and took command of the infantry in the campaign against the Yaqui Indians. After this campaign he was again put in charge of the general staff's topographical work in Sonora. He participated in subsequent Yaqui campaigns and also in the campaign in Yucatan against the Maya Indians. As a reward for his Indian service Huerta was given the rank of brigadier-general and once more detailed to the general staff.

Commanded Detached Forces.

Huerta commanded all the detached forces in the state of Guerrero at the beginning of the Madero revolution. When Madero acceded to the presidency, Gen. Huerta was sent back into Morelos with a force to put down the Zapata rebellion. As a result of ill-feeling growing out of this campaign Huerta was recalled. Subsequently he led the army sent against Orozco and was in command at the battle of Bachimba. For this service he was promoted to major-general. He was then recalled to the capital and given leave of absence because of an affection of the eyes, and thus did not take part in the suppression of the first uprising led by Gen. Felix Diaz in October, 1912.

In the second Felix Diaz revolution, which resulted in the overthrow of the Madero government Huerta was immediately called to active command as the senior ranking general then in the capital. He escorted Madero from Chapultepec castle to the palace on the first of the ten days' fighting and was placed in entire command of the forces of the government. He directed the government troops during all the subsequent fighting, and the conduct of these operations led to severe criticism on the part of Madero's friends. It was charged that he did not carry out the operations with any spirit, that he disobeyed the commands of President Madero, and that before General Blanquet entered the city it was this conference which sealed the fate of the Maderos.

Moving Spirit in Plot.

Huerta was the moving spirit in the consummation of the plot that resulted in the seizure of the person of President Madero and his brother Gustave. The assassination of President Madero and his brother followed and in the meantime Huerta, with the military behind him, had been recognized as the provisional president.

Huerta took office as provisional president on Feb. 19, 1913. Three days afterward Francisco Madero, one of his brothers who had been arrested with him, and Jose Maria Pino Suarez, vice president under Madero, were assassinated while riding under guard from the palace to the penitentiary.

This crime aroused a storm of indignation throughout the United States. In many quarters there were demands for intervention but President Taft, who was on the eve of leaving office, decided to take no action which might commit the incoming administration of President Wilson.

Recognition Refused.

Immediately on assuming office President Wilson refused to recognize Huerta as the head of the Mexican government in spite of the fact that such recognition had been granted by Great Britain. At the same time the Maderistas rallied under Venustiano Carranza, governor of Coahuila, and Francisco Villa declared against Huerta.

Following the refusal of President Wilson to recognize the provisional president United States Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson was recalled from Mexico city. The situation between the United States and Mexico then remained at a practical deadlock until August when President Wilson sent John Lind, former governor of Minnesota, to the Mexican capital as his personal representative. Mr. Lind presented certain proposals to Huerta, chief of which was that the provisional president should resign and permit a national election at which he would not be a candidate. Huerta peremptorily rejected these proposals.

In the meantime the Mexican congress had been growing restive, and one senator had the hardihood to make an open attack on Huerta in the senate chamber. He promptly disappeared and when his colleagues demanded an investigation Huerta marched a body of troops into the hall of congress, seized 110 deputies and threw them in jail.

Called Election.

His next step was to call an election at which only Huertists were allowed to vote with the result that he was declared president with Gen. Blanquet vice president. Mr. Lind again demanded that Huerta resign and, meeting with a second refusal, left Mexico City on Nov. 12 for Vera Cruz.

Throughout the winter the tension between the United States and Mexico continued to grow more acute. American warships were dispatched to Mexican waters and a large number of troops were concentrated on the border. At the same time the Constitutionalists, as the Carranza faction called themselves, advanced from the north defeating the Huerta troops in battle after battle.

The climax came in April when a party of American bluejackets was seized at Vera Cruz and thrown into jail. The Americans were quickly released but Huerta refused President Wilson's demand for a formal salute to the Stars and Stripes as a measure of reparation. On April 12, American bluejackets and marines landed at Vera Cruz in force and occupied the city after some street fighting in which a number of Americans were killed.

Mediation Accepted.

Shortly afterwards a mediation proposal was made by Argentina, Brazil and Chile and accepted. Conferences were held at Niagara Falls but brought no decisive result.

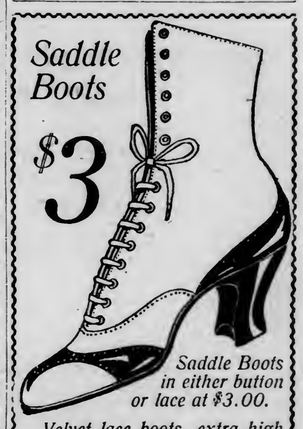

Matters dragged along until July 7 when Huerta, his finances exhausted, his army thoroughly beaten and disorganized, his enemies growing steadily stronger, presented his resignation to the Mexican congress. He sailed from Puerto, Mexico, a few days later on the German cruiser Dresden and after a short stay in Jamaica, chartered a steamer and set out for Spain. On Nov. 23 President Wilson ordered the evacuation of Vera Cruz.

On March 3, 1915 Gen. Huerta left Spain ostensibly for Buenos Aires. He disembarked at Algeciras, Morocco, and early in April board a steamer for New York declaring he was coming to this country simply on a pleasure trip. After remaining in New York for some time he started west with the announced intention of visiting the San Francisco Panama exposition. On June 27 he was arrested by secret service agents at Newman, N. M., on a charge of conspiring to incite a revolution against a friendly country. He was released on bond but was rearrested by secret service men at El Paso on July 3 when apparently planning to cross the border.

Huerta remained in jail until Dec. 28 when he was permitted to be removed to his home in El Paso on account of the serious nature of his illness.

During Huerta's stay in America numerous stories were circulated from various sources asserting that he was being backed by German agents in a plot to embroil this country with Mexico. These stories were officially denied by Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador. They were revived again, however, by statements by Federal officials that Franz von Rintelen, a German agent, had spent large sums of money endeavoring to cause disturbances on the Mexican border.

There were 266 arrested for indecency, etc., with 29 charged with assault and battery. These were the leading crimes tried before Judge Thomas Brady.

Seven single women and seven married women faced the court. Those sentenced to serve time in the county jail in Duluth amounted to forty-seven in number. Thirteen were given a sentence of thirty days in the county bastile. Nineteen prisoners were bound over to the grand jury. Fifty-one people paid fines. Forty-seven served time on the county work farm.

The birthplaces as given by those placed under arrest showed that the United States lead with 148 offenders; Finland second, 80; Austria third, 61.

COLD HAS STOPPED STRIPPING WORK

Outdoor Operations at Two Nashwauk Properties Are Halted.

Nashwauk, Minn., Jan. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Hawkins Mining company has suspended stripping operations for the remainder of the winter owing to the extreme cold weather of the past two weeks. The workmen found it very difficult to work outside and many of them have to remain at their homes. Stripping at the Mace mine No. 2 was also suspended for a couple of days this week owing to a shortage of labor. Stripping operations have been abandoned at the Quinn-Harrison owing to the shortage of common labor.

Snowplow on Streets.

The heavy snow and winds of Wednesday made it necessary for the village to employ two teams and a large snowplow which was used in clearing the large drifts along the different streets which were almost impassable Thursday morning. A large crew of men was also put to work Monday in shoveling the snow from the walks.

The fire department was called out in a 20 deg. below blizzard Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. A defective chimney at the Charles Martin home on Third street was soon extinguished and no damage done.

STUNTZ PEOPLE TO PUT UP FIGHT

Will Oppose Creation of Proposed Village of Mahoning.

Hibbing, Minn., Jan. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—That the town of Stuntz will make a decided fight against the object of Mahoning taxpayers to incorporate as a village, thus taking away $25,000,000 of assessed valuation that the town of Stuntz now receives, is the opinion of a man high in the affairs of the township.

Victor J. Benoe, town clerk on Tuesday stated that the matter would go to the courts and that counsel would be engaged to fight the case.

The assessed valuation of the town of Stuntz is now $36,000,000 and taking away the amount that is received from the Mahoning territory, it would make a big hole in the treasury.

At the meeting of the town board on Jan. 21 that question will be taken up and a plan of action decided upon by the town supervisors. The election of the taxpayers of Mahoning, deciding whether the little village should be incorporated with Hibbing or not will take place on Jan. 28.

MISSIONARY MEETING.

Grand Rapids to Join in Laymen Missionary Work.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Jan. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Grand Rapids will join in the national laymen's missionary campaign and services will be held at 11 o'clock a. m. at the high school auditorium Sunday.

The laymen services which are to be held Sunday are in charge of local citizens. G. C. Wilcocks is looking after the necessary publicity. Supt. Freeman is in charge of the seating of the attendance at the service, Dr. F. R. Harrison will look after the finances and C. C. McCarthy will introduce the speakers, which will include Messrs. Bert N. Wheeler and Andrew Nelson of Duluth, and W. J. Corwin will look after the musical program.

Much interest is being taken in the proposed services, which are unique in that they are to be entirely in charge of laymen of the various churches joining the movement.

FOR ITASCA ROADS.

Large Sum Has Just Been Received From the State.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Jan. 14.—State aid for 1915 to the amount of $27,220 for the construction and maintenance of roads has just been received by Itasca county, according to J. O. Lidberg, superintendent of highways. Of this amount $22,400 is for the construction fund and the balance goes into the maintenance fund. No state aid is received by any county unless the work is done in such a satisfactory manner that it is accepted by the state highway commission following a personal inspection by the state engineer or his deputy. As the tax for the state road and bridge fund is 1 mill, Itasca county receives back from the state practically the same amount that it pays in, the valuation of the county being $25,178,515.

FEW PIGGERS ON NORTH SIDE NOW

That Is Claim of Virginian Who Led War on Them.

Virginia, Minn., Jan. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Few blindpigs remain on the North side, is the belief of Alderman Ernest F. Murray of the First ward, who has led a fight on the piggers of the city.

"Last fall I had evidence against seventeen blindpiggers and several convictions were scored against the North side residents who sold liquor illegally," said Alderman Murray. "There is still room for improvement, but the police and fire commission is after the piggers and they are being restricted in their operations.

Ten Families Piggers.

"I know of ten families which were engaged in blindpigging on the North side who have been forced to leave the city through the enforcement of the law by the police. The North side is being cleaned up and is attracting the best residents of the city. The piggers are being forced to the outskirts of the North side and are afraid to operate in the neighborhood of strangers. Some of the piggers have removed to other parts of the city.

"Conditions have changed for the better on the North side, and it is now a fine place to reside in. It has changed wonderfully the last three years. I believe that in five years the entire North side will be entirely free from piggers."

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

FAIR

Certainly the cold is not as bad as it was, but the moderation is nothing to boast about. It's still below zero and will stay there for another day at least. Tonight will also be around 20 degs. below. So it will behoove the public not to get careless about the furnace and wraps. Aside from the temperature the day is fine, for it is bright and there is little wind.

A year ago today was bright and rather balmy. The sun rose this morning at 7:50 o'clock and will set this evening at 4:44 o'clock, giving eight hours and fifty-four minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The temperature has fallen decidedly over Eastern and Southern states. The cold wave in the Middle, Western and Northwestern districts has moderated somewhat except that in extreme Western Canada the weather has again turned colder. New Orleans reported frost and freezing temperature. During the last twenty-four hours snow fell over the Northern and Eastern lake region, and rain or snow over South Atlantic and Pacific states, Nevada, Idaho and Montana. Heavy rain fell at San Francisco."

Jenkins Bros. of Two Harbors, in a letter to the Commercial club, offered to begin buying cream at once if they could be permitted to use the market temporarily while a creamery is being established. No answer could be given them regarding the market until the return of Commissioner Joseph S. Wilson, who has charge of the public buildings, but it is thought that the request can be granted as the purpose of the market is to provide a market for farm produce and it might properly be used for the disposal of cream as well as any other product of the farm.

The creamery committee, consisting of G. A. Perham, N. Toppari, W. H. Nichols, J. C. Poole, Solonon Sax, S. H. Owens and Joseph S. Wilson, will meet Saturday afternoon at the courtroom at the city hall to give further consideration to the matter.

A GIRL'S COMPLEXION

Very few girls get through their 'teens without eruptions or pimples showing on their faces.

These may be due to indigestion resulting from improper diet. If so they will quickly disappear when the proper food is adhered to. If they are accompanied by pallor and listlessness you must look to the condition of the blood.

Because these eruptions on the faces of school girls are so common they seldom receive the attention from parents that they require. When they indicate thin blood or anemia there is a ready remedy in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These tonic pills, free from harmful drugs, are pretty sure to help growing girls because they build up the blood at a time when the demand on it is greatest. As the blood is made rich and red, fickle appetites become normal, lassitude gives way to vigor, the cheeks and lips show the glow of health and the whole system is toned up. The nervous system is invigorated and with proper attention to diet many dangers are averted.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be mailed, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. The pamphlet, "Building Up the Blood," is free on request.

REFERENDUM UP TO TRADES ASSEMBLY

Will Be Dropped Unless That Body Indorses It.

Advocates of the referendum on the sale of the old armory this morning secured a petition from City Clerk Borgen, calling for a special election.

Postmaster McEwen, who is leading the forces arrayed against the sale of the armory building to the Shriners, said this morning that the petition secured by State Senator Richard Jones, prominent in local labor circles and attorney for the Federated Trades assembly, will be presented to that body at its weekly meeting this evening. If the members of the assembly favor a special election, then the petition will be placed in circulation, he said; otherwise, it will be dropped.

The petition, to be legal, must have at least 1,322 signatures, or 10 per cent of the total vote cast at the last municipal election.

Unless the petition is filed before Feb. 5, the ordinance will go into effect.

Instantly Clears Air Passages; You Breathe Freely, Nasty Discharge Stops, Head Colds and Dull Headache Vanish.

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning! the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake to-night struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.—Advertisement.

DULUTH FIRE LOSSES IN 1915 LOWEST IN DECADE

Chief Randall Urges Many Improvements in Annual Report.

Wants Ten More Men and Fire Boat for Harbor.

CHIEF JOSEPH RANDALL.

Fire loss in Duluth amounted to $173,764.60 during 1915, the lowest record in a decade, according to the sixth annual report of Fire Chief Joseph Randall. It is the twenty-sixth annual report since the paid department was established.

In a lengthy statement, Chief Randall covers in detail the work of the department during the year and makes various recommendations to the council, which, he believes, will help materially in improving the efficiency of the force.

Here are the principal recommendations:

Ten additional men, four for New Duluth and six downtown.

A hose company for Woodland Park.

A hose company for Hazelwood Park.

A fire boat, to protect harbor property.

A triple combination motor truck to replace engine at No. 2.

A city service motor ladder truck.

"You all know," reads the report, which is addressed to the city council, "of the need for a fire boat, and it is not necessary to speak at any further length upon the subject at this time.

"The triple combination truck is needed and would increase the efficiency of the work done from engine company No. 2. It would do away with four horses." No comment is made upon the other recommendations except to refer to the growth of New Duluth and the consequent need for better fire protection.

Few changes, aside from minor repairs, were made at the various buildings owned by the fire department during the year, according to the report. The new building which will house engine company No. 8, in West Duluth, will be ready for occupancy in about sixty days, according to the report.

Smallest Loss Since 1905.

Results obtained by the new motor equipment are apparent in the report, as fire losses were cut down from $256,964.25 in 1914 to $173,764.60. The department made the best record since Chief Randall has been in charge, and a lower one than for any year since 1905.

The following tabulation shows the losses for the past few years:

1915	$173,764.60
1914	256,964.25
1913	252,746.21
1912	213,003.64
1911	441,384.82

In 1906 fire losses were the heaviest in the city's history, totaling $1,134,417.13. This was due principally to a $750,000 elevator fire.

One feature of the report was the unusually small amount of uninsured loss. Fires in uninsured buildings caused a loss of but $7065.

In all, the department answered 503 alarms during the year. Of these, 103 were box alarms, 380 were turned in by telephone, 13 were "stills," and 5 were special. One second and third alarm came in from a box and one second alarm.

March was the busiest month of the year, according to Chief Randall's statistics. The Empress theater fire and the Seekins' Floral shop fire at Third avenue east and Superior street, were responsible for the high total of $35,034.99 in losses.

The year's record, showing the loss to buildings and contents, by the months, follows:

	Building.	Contents.	Total.
January	$17,618.86	$ 9,061.19	$26,680.10

Insurance covering buildings and contents damaged was about ten times the aggregate amount of damage. Insurance on buildings damaged by fire amounted to $1,024,385, and on the contents was $761,745.

There was but one death in the department during the year, that of Assistant Chief Frederick E. Granzow, who was killed in an automobile collision at Twenty-fourth avenue west and Superior street, while responding to an alarm on Sept. 10.

Most of the fires were in dwellings, the report shows, as 246 of them were damaged. Ten barns were burned partially or wholly. Hotels, groceries and garages are tied for next place, with seven fires in each.

The annual report of Martin Johnson, captain of the salvage corps, is appended to the chief's report. It shows that the corps answered to 240 alarms during the year, traveling 577 miles while on duty.

F. E. Hough, superintendent of fire alarms, in his annual report, states that the city of Duluth now has 100 miles of wire in the fire signal system. Thirty "movie" operators were granted licenses by him during the year.

He also has installed signal bells at the aerial bridge, to warn the operator to hold the bridge for apparatus, when downtown firefighters are called to Minnesota Point for work.

OPENING TO BE DELAYED

Cement Plant Will Not Begin Operations on Feb. 1.

Delay in Filling Orders for Machinery the Cause.

Inability to get machinery necessary to complete the plant makes it a question as to when the Universal Portland Cement plant will begin operations. It is now conceded by local officials that it will be almost impossible to begin making clinkers on Feb. 1, and it may be March, April or even May before the first product is turned out.

Orders for machinery placed early last year and some that should have been delivered here a month or two ago have not yet been filled, and according to advices received from the companies that are to furnish these parts, it is indefinite as to when they will be able to ship them. Every plant in the East is said to be working at capacity filling earlier orders.

Last fall orders were received from the headquarters of the Universal Portland Cement company to have the first unit of the plant ready for operation on Feb. 1. Local officials believe that it would be possible at least to have a part of the raw material mill in operation on that date, but are now convinced that it will be considerably later than that before the machinery can be set in motion.

Work is being rushed as fast as possible at the plant. More than 200 men are working on the construction. The principal work during the last month has been that required on the interior of the buildings and the placing of what machinery has arrived.

SUES TO GET MISSING CASH

Adams Acts in State's Name Against Palmer's Bondsmen.

Misappropiation of County Funds Is Charged to Deputies.

Civil proceedings to collect from the bondsmen of the late M. C. Palmer, former register of deeds, the sum of $3,462.13, claimed to be the aggregate amount missing from county funds handled by Thomas Clark and William A. Anderson, former deputies in the register's office, were instituted in district court yesterday afternoon by Charles E. Adams, as counsel for the board of county commissioners.

The suit was brought in the name of the state on the relation of St. Louis county against the American Bonding company of Baltimore and its successor, the Fidelity & Deposit company of Maryland, and the two alleged defaulters. Permission to bring the suit was granted by District Judge Dancer. As the bond of the late Mr. Palmer ran to the state instead of to St. Louis county, it was necessary to secure an order of the court before the action to recover could be filed.

Charges Misappropriation.

The complaint alleges that between January of 1905 and Oct. of 1912, Clark and Anderson appropriated to their own use the sum of $3,462.13 and that books in the office of registrar of titles, where peculations are believed to have occurred, contain fraudulent and false entries as to receipts for fees received by the deputies.

Under the law, the register of deeds is responsible for the actions of his deputies, and the bonding company, which furnished a surety bond for the late Mr. Palmer, is held responsible. This firm was the American Bonding company of Baltimore, which in 1913 sold and transferred its insurance and bonding business in Minnesota to the Fidelity & Deposit company of Maryland.

MANY HORSES SHIPPED.

Animals Valued at $104,388,938 Exported in Ten Months.

The enormous development in exports of horses and mules to Europe as a result of the war is shown in a report just issued by the United States treasury department.

During the ten months ended Oct. 31 there were shipped 391,059 horses and 196,238 mules, valued at $104,388,938, as compared with a valuation of only $5,471,170 of animals exported during the corresponding period of 1914. It is estimated that the total shipments for the year will exceed $120,000,000 in value. France, England and Canada took 75 per cent of the shipments.

The Treatment of Influenza or LaGrippe

It is quite refreshing these days to read of a clearly defined treatment for Influenza or La Grippe. In an article in the "Lancet-Clinic," Dr. James Bell, of New York City, says he is convinced that too much medication is both unnecessary and injurious.

When called to a case of la grippe, the patient is usually seen when the fever is present, as the chill which occasionally ushers in the disease, has practically passed away. Dr. Bell then orders that the bowels be opened freely with salts, "Actolds" or citrate of magnesia. For the high fever, severe headache, pain and general soreness, one anti-kamnia tablet every three hours is quickly followed by complete relief. Ask for A-K Tablets. They are also unexcelled for headache, neuralgia and all pains.

WARNING TO CHILDREN

First of Safety First Meetings Held at Old Armory.

Several hundred school children gathered at the old armory this afternoon to hear the opening "safety first" lectures, which are being delivered today and tomorrow by officials of local railroads and the street car company.

With the aid of stereopticon slides and special photographs, the lectures showed the children how to avoid accidents in crossing streets, boarding trains and street cars and how to avoid injuries by keeping in mind the "safety first" slogan. George L. Wright of St. Paul, chairman of the central safety committee of the Omaha road, and H. L. Brownell, safety inspector of the Chicago surface lines, are the chief speakers.

Some of the warnings given the children this afternoon were the following:

"Never run across the streets.
"Don't get excited.
"Never play on streets or boulevards.
"Do not roller skate on streets; use only the sidewalks.
"Never crawl under freight cars.
"Look both ways in getting off a street car.
"Never run in front of an automobile or wagon, because there may be a street car coming up from behind.
"Never trespass on railroad tracks.
"Stop, look and listen, always."

The children from the outlying districts were taken to the armory in street cars, tickets being furnished free by the committee. All children were accompanied by their teachers.

The lectures this evening and tomorrow evening begin at 8 o'clock and the one tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

MANY CONTRACTORS AFTER BIG JOB

Rogers & McLean Likely to Get West First Street Award.

Nearly fifty contractors from all parts of the country were present when bids on paving West First street were opened by Commissioner Farrell in the council chamber this morning.

Because of the many figures and detailed proposals, the result will not be known until tomorrow. It is believed, however, that Rogers & McLean made the lowest bid on a brick pavement, which is the kind favored by a majority of the owners. The roadway, which is to be paved from Twentieth to Thirtieth avenues west, will cost approximately $70,000.

Former Governor Eberhart, representing the Widell Company of Mankato, was present at the opening of the bids this morning. Among the other out-of-town contractors were the following: J. A. Smith and O. C. Olson of the Kettle River company, Minneapolis; S. G. Cutter of Chicago, representing the Bitulithic company, a Boston concern; S. R. Oakes of Minneapolis; H. S. Davis of St. Paul, representing the Barber Asphalt company, Philadelphia; Arthur Larkin of Minneapolis, representing the Republic Creosoting company; Arthur Leahy of the General Contracting company, Minneapolis, and Joseph Shepley of Fielding & Shepley, St. Paul.

WOMAN "AFTER HIM" FOR THREE MONTHS

Negro Testifies Mrs. Mohr Repeatedly Asked Him to Kill Husband.

Providence, R. I., Jan. 14.—Mrs. Elizabeth Blair Mohr had been "after him" for three months to kill her husband, Dr. C. Franklin Mohr, according to the alleged confession to the police of Cecil V. Brown, as introduced in evidence today at the trial of Mrs. Mohr, Brown and their alleged accomplice, Henry H. Spelman.

The recital of murder as the state claims it was made to Chief Inspector O'Neil by the negroes following their arrest, and described by O'Neil on the stand yesterday, was corroborated to a considerable extent today by Police Commissioner Moulton and Thomas E. Robbins, chief of police at Barrington.

Both stoutly denied that the confessions had been obtained by threats. Counsel for Mrs. Mohr attempted to bring out that the negroes introduced her name in the hope that they would thus mitigate their own punishment.

OLD, OLD STORY OF THE GOOD SAMARITAN

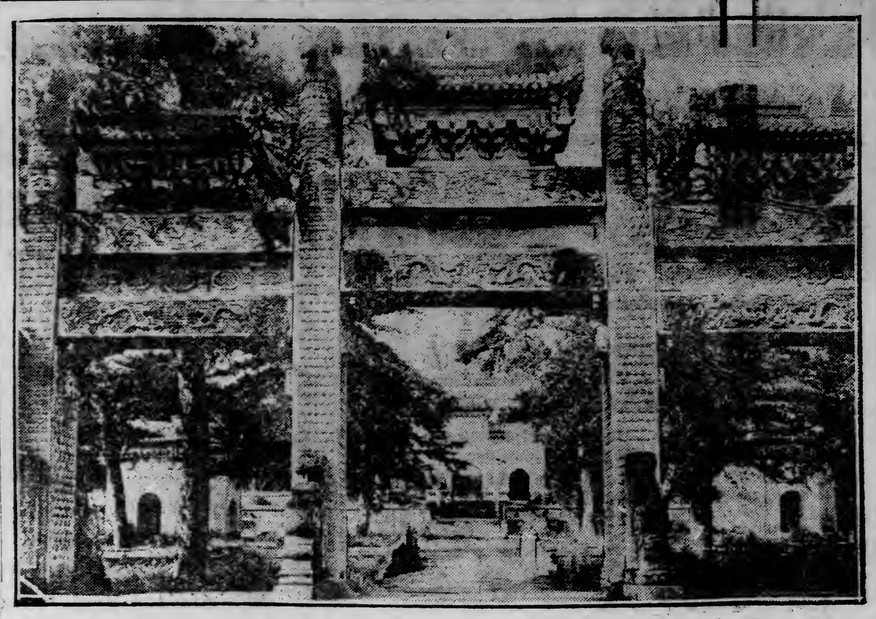

It was the old, old story of the Good Samaritan that Gus Karpinnen told Lieut. Gustav Lahti at police headquarters this morning.

Karpinnen came here from Superior with a friend, he said, and they took rooms together at the Sixth avenue hotel, Sixth avenue west and Michigan street. Karpinnen paid for the rooms.

This morning he awoke to find his watch and his "roll," consisting of about $10 gone. His "roomy" also had disappeared.

Police are looking for the "friend," and incidentally for the watch and money.

DULUTHIAN'S BOAT GOES TO BOTTOM

The Thor, Coming South With Fish, Wrecked at Two Harbors.

Two Harbors, Minn., Jan. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—The gasoline boat Thor, laden with fish, ran into the breakwater here last night when attempting to make the local harbor and her bow was so badly damaged that she afterwards sank. After she hit the breakwater those aboard realized that the water, which was coming in through the wrecked bow, would soon sink her and called for help. The Iron Range tug Torrent went to the rescue. The disabled boat was brought to the local dock and her cargo of approximately twenty tons of herring unloaded. The tug had just gotten her away from the merchandise dock when she went to the bottom in the harbor.

The Thor, which is owned by John Coventry of Duluth, was a 21-ton gasoline boat, sixty feet in length. She was just returning from the north shore with a consignment of fresh herring for Duluth. Just before they arrived opposite the local harbor they discovered they were out of gasoline, so they immediately made for the local harbor for a fresh supply. Ice has formed in and about the local harbor and the Thor was coming in at a good rate of speed in order to get through the ice when the engine stopped. It appears that on account of the ice and slight breeze that she could not be steered clear of the end of the breakwater. The value of the craft is not known.

SUSPICIOUS OF REVOLVER BUYER

About a year ago someone held up Morris Daneiko, proprietor of a second-hand shope at 511½ West Michigan street.

Since then he has been very suspicious of all men who buy, sell or carry revolvers.

When Fred Trau, alias Frank Straus, 23, entered his place of business last night and bought a revolver, Morris grew suspicious.

"What are you going to do?" he asked as Straus began to fill the chamber.

"I've just had some trouble down the street a ways," was the response, "and I'm going to go back and clean out the place."

"No, you don't," cried Morris, making a dive for the revolver.

He called Sergt. A. V. Youngberg and Patrolman Wanvick, who took Straus to headquarters as a "drunk." He was fined $7 by Judge W. H. Smallwood this morning, and will serve seven days at the work farm instead of paying his fine.

WILL RETAIN ITS PRESENT QUARTERS

The present quarters of the water and light department in the Commercial club building will, in all likelihood, be retained by the city council. The sentiment of a majority of the commissioners is for the present offices.

A conference of the commissioners is being held this afternoon in the offices of Manager Reed and indications are that the five-year lease offered by the N. J. Upham company, agents for the building, will be accepted. This lease gives the city the right to move out on ninety days' notice before May 1 of any year. The rental will be $3,600 a year, not including the corner store, which is to be given up by Commissioner Merritt and Manager Reed on May 1, next.

DIKES BREAK; PART OF HOLLAND FLOODED

Zuyder Zee, at Katwoude, Gives Way Under Severe Strain.

Amsterdam, Jan. 14, via London.—A message from Edam says that the dike protecting Polderezee Evang is in danger, and that if it breaks, the result will be the flooding of the greater part of North Holland.

The Telegraaf reports that the Zuyder Zee dike at Katwoude has burst and that Zuidpolder has been flooded. The inhabitants of that place were obliged to abandon it and have fled to Edam, which is partly flooded, the newspaper adds.

At 7 o'clock this morning, adds the message, an alarm bell was rung at Broeck, also in the province of North Holland, about six miles northeast of Amsterdam, as the flood was pouring in with terrific force. Many farms were completely inundated, the inhabitants proceeding in boats to surrounding villages. There was great consternation in the water land district as the water came over the dike, and the inhabitants are fleeing to Amsterdam.

Form Court of Neptune.

The members of the First division, Minnesota naval militia, have organized "the Royal Court of Neptune," and it is said that its initiation ceremonies and stunts are worthy of the worst that the old salts give the novices when they are crossing the line. CRAIG RE-ELECTED HEAD OF SOCIETY

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Harmony prevailed at the closing session of the Minnesota State Agricultural society at the state capitol, when Charles P. Craig, president of the association, was named to succeed himself, and all the other officers re-elected.

The early hours of the session indicated a fight on the two retiring members of the state board of managers, F. W. Murphy of Wheaton and Thomas H. Canfield of Lake Park, but all opposition was swept away. Both were re-elected unanimously.

George Johnson of Thief River Falls was groomed for Mr. Canfield's place, but friends withdrew his name at the last hour. The closing meeting of the convention was largely attended.

Attacks Wisconsin Law.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 14.—Action was started in the United States district court here today by the Curtice Bros. company of New York against a state dairy and food commissioner, George J. Weigle, to restrain the enforcement of the state food law prohibiting the sale of any article containing benzoate of soda. The complaint, which was filed by Attorney H. C. Fairchild of Green Bay, declares that the Federal law permits the use of benzoate of soda as a preservative and that state law is in contravention with the Federal law.

STATE LOSES RATE CASE

Federal Judge Morris Dissolves State Court's Restraining Order.

Court Decides That Crossing of State Line Makes Rate Interstate.

The passenger rates on the Northern Pacific railway between Duluth and all western points in the state, except to the Twin Cities and that territory where the tracks cross the Wisconsin line in making the trip, will be advanced from 2 to 2.4 cents a mile at midnight tonight because of a decision of Federal Judge Page Morris this afternoon. The decision came after an argument by representatives of the state and of the Northern Pacific railway.

Judge Morris based his decision on the grounds that the crossing of the state line by a railway constituted interstate traffic. A motion made by Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith to have the case remanded to the district court was denied in effect by the decision of the Federal court. The decision dissolves the restraining order of the district court to prevent the road from advancing its rates. This order was issued this week and was to have been returnable tomorrow in special term.

Comes to Acute Stage.

The question was brought to an acute stage yesterday afternoon when papers were served on Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith of Minnesota, and members of the state railway and warehouse commission, directing them to appear in the United States district court at Duluth and show why the mandamusing of the Northern Pacific by Judge Fesler of the state district court here should not be dissolved. Arguments for both the state and the railway were heard by Judge Morris this afternoon.

The whole point of the issue as outlined by Attorney General Smith, was whether the passenger traffic of the Northern Pacific, crossing a portion of the state of Wisconsin but between points within the state of Minnesota, was interstate or intrastate traffic.

Attorney General's Argument.

Mr. Smith argued that the crossing of a part of the state of Wisconsin by the Northern Pacific did not necessarily make the traffic interstate, if the beginning and the destination of the journey were within Minnesota. The route to the Twin Cities and several points in the western part of the state from Duluth is over tracks beginning at Duluth but crossing a small loop in the Badger state.

Mr. Smith cited numerous cases to show that state courts and the United States supreme court had handed down decisions where a similar problem had been at stake. The United States supreme court had held, he said, that where the road passed back and forth across the line, such a route did not necessarily constitute interstate traffic.

Attorney Donnelly for the Northen Pacific argued that the crossing of the state line by a road constituted interstate traffic. He said that the Northern Pacific did not propose to raise its rates where the tracks between the two points were wholly within the state of Minnesota. What the road wanted to do, he said, was to raise the rates for the long haul over the Wisconsin line and the roundabout route to the Twin Cities and Western points.

DEAN OF ALL WAR CORRESPONDENTS HERE TO TELL DULUTH ABOUT CONFLICT

Frederick Palmer, the most distinguished war correspondent of the day, who was chosen not only as the official correspondent of the Associated Press with the allies, but who was also chosen by the British government on the recommendation of the American secretary of state, to be the one American correspondent to accompany the English army to France, arrived in Duluth this afternoon, the train that bore Mr. Palmer from Chicago being three hours behind its scheduled time.

Mr. Palmer will lecture this evening in the First Methodist church, under the auspices of the Collegiate Alumnae association. After being nearly a year with the French and English armies and witnessing nearly every phase of the world's greatest war, it is to be expected that the lecture of the distinguished writer will be filled with wonderfully interesting facts.

At the present time Frederick Palmer is merely on a vacation, resting from the arduous work of gathering news from two great armies. He arrived in New York on Nov. 11 and will return soon to Europe, there to take up again the duties of informing the American people of the terrible events that are daily transpiring on the bloody battlefields of Europe.

Palmer was with the French army when Edith Cavell, the English red cross nurse was shot by the Germans. He declared today that the effect of this startling news on the morale of the army was instantaneous and far reaching in its effect. The execution of the English nurse, Mr. Palmer has declared, made every soldier of the vast army of France eager for revenge.

FREDERICK PALMER.

THE TERRIBLE END OF WHALE EATIN' JOSHTON

New York Herald: Squinting thoughtfully through sun-reddened eyes, Capt. Bulling of the three-masted bark Moonshine, at anchor off Staten island after a voyage of three months around the Horn from Valparaiso, watched the tug carrying his crew dwindle in the shadows toward the Battery.

"We rescued a whale eatin' Mainsailor who was cast ashore on an Island off Terra del Fuego," the captain remarked thoughtfully. "But we lost him again, 'cause he couldn't get used to our food. Whale oil is worse'n liquor on a Yankee. And then, between savage attacks on a terrible cigar, he spun this harrowing yarn:

"We were beatin' it in a fair wind off the Horn late one night when the lookout sights a fire on an island to our win'ard and sings out. I clapped the glasses to my eye and saw a lot of niggers wavin' and jig from in front of 'em is a big fellow who looks like a bear.

"After a while a boat come back with this sailor, Joshton, who is sitting in the stern, with his mouth openin' and shuttin' like he is a clam.

Wrecked Near the Horn.

"It seemed he was aboard the Mary Banter, with a load of lumber from 'Frisco to Norfolk, fourteen years ago. Comin' around the Horn they met up with a blow and when Joshton woke up next he found himself on this coral island we took him off of.

"He must have fainted from hunger, when he was woke up by niggers pokin' him, and when he yelled they yelled too, and fell down on their faces and kicked their toes up.

"He signed he wanted food and the niggers brought him whale blubber, which he hit one over the head with, signin' for water. They brought him a bowl of whale oil and he nearly went crazy. But that was all he could get, so he chewed the whale blubber and drank the oil slow, and it put life into him.

"When I heard that yarn I yelled for the cook to fix him a meal that would make him forget his whale diet. He looked at it with glistenin' eyes when it come, and filled his mouth, but he can't eat it—and he can't drink any water.

"Twa'nt any use. He drank some water one night and went staving wild, pullin' the lamp from the bracket and drinking a quart of coal oil. I watched him, expectin' any minute to see him die, but it done him good. Yessir, he smiled and said: 'That's fine. I believe, captain, I could stand another.' So I had 'em broach a keg o' oil we had on deck, and gave him a schooner of it.

"Lit Up" on Coal Oil.

"That oil agreed with him. But two weeks ago—I'm off Hatteras—I heard a terrible roar from the galley and hurried out. I saw Joshton lit up inside so I could see his 'innards,' like his outside with a lamp chimney. Flames was issuing from his mouth, and he leaped into the sea, right over the rail. As he hit the water there was a explosion and he was gone.

"Joshton was just drinkin' his hourly scooper o' coal oil, and he wandered into the galley, just as the cook was pulling a hot pie out of the oven. Poor Joshton smelt that pie and it brought back memories so strong he couldn't resist. He reached over and picked that pie up and took a big bite, washing it down with a swaller of coal oil. The heat was too much, there was combustion or something, and he lit up all over, being filled up for years with whale oil, you known, and in agony he jumped overboard."

Capt. Bulling sighed morosely.

"I lost the address of his folks, too," he said. "I can never tell 'em how he wanted to be remembered to 'em."

And he threw away his cigar, and cocked a sage eye toward the Statue of Liberty—she seemed to be smiling a bit in the sunset.

Woman's Home Companion: "There is a very excellent reason why a girl shouldn't smoke."

"What?" she demanded.

"Makes her less agreeable to kiss."

"Well, I'll wait till somebody wants to kiss me," she said; "when they do, I'll give up cigarettes—and take to a pipe!"

GERMAN ICE TANDEM

Germans have adapted the bicycle idea to sledding. They mount a frame with two seats on runners, the forward runner being pivoted and controlled by a bicycle handle above. Balancing on this is as difficult as on a bicycle and, friction being reduced to a minimum, the speed attained in coasting down hill is tremendous.

HOW TO MAKE AN ACTOR

Under David Belasco's Methods, Great Beauty Is No Requisite—Imagination Is Essential, and Personal Magnetism a Godsend.

How can I tell whether or not a young person has the qualities that are essential to success on the stage? That is a question easy to answer in a general way and hard to answer when details are asked. (It is David Belasco who speaks to a New York Times interviewer.) To me it is a simple enough process, but if I attempt to describe it I am not sure I can explain exactly what I mean. There are a great many applicants for positions in my companies. I see as many of them as I can, and usually I reach a decision within a few minutes. I notice the tone of the voice, the carriage, the expression of the face when talking or smiling, the manner of sitting down and getting up, the readiness with which replies are made to questions. All of these matters help me to reach a decision, though I am guided more by my intuition than by any tangible reasons.

Both Men and Women.

In what I am about to say I will use the feminine pronoun; but, you must understand, my words apply the same to young men. And I am discussing only the raw material. I am not referring to the trained actors and actresses engaged for my companies because of their past training and experience, persons that I am certain in advance can and will do what is required of them.

One of the greatest pleasures of my life is in taking raw material and developing and molding it. I do this more for the pleasure of the work than for the results attained. To me it is a delight to play on the human emotions; to watch the bud of human imagination expand and the latent but dormant talents awaken and come to life. I like to reach into the very soul, to play on the sensibilities and to bring out all that is best in the subject. Were this not true—did I not enjoy the hard work of training promising material for the stage—I would never do the hard work required. The results attained are seldom worth the effort to one who does not truly enjoy the task.

No Raving Beauties.

I often have been asked what I must see in a girl before I can tell if I can do something for her, and always the first point mentioned is beauty. I hardly give the matter of looks a thought. Of course, a girl could not be really ugly and achieve a great stage success except within limited lines. But I do not recall any woman who has achieved real greatness in any line who was what one would call a beauty. By that I mean that classical features and the beautiful face do not go with success in life—success that requires endeavor. Think over the actresses who are successful. Can you name one who is a raving beauty?

Attractive, yes. I want the woman who is attractive, whose face lights up when she speaks or when she smiles; the woman who is so bright, whose face is so expressive that you forget that her features are not especially regular. The successful actress must be attractive, she need not be beautiful. Education? Well, it depends upon what is meant by education. I do not care whether or not a girl knows anything about arithmetic or geography, but she must be well read, she must know what is going on in the world today. So I look for intelligence rather than education.

Imagination Essential.

And the girl must have imagination. That is absolutely essential. She must be able to imagine all sorts of experiences, all sorts of situations in order to portray them on the stage. I am often asked if she must really undergo these experiences. Certainly not. That is a fallacious notion.

Let me explain. I ask a girl to play the part of a queen. Now, it is obviously impossible for her to be a queen, even for a day. And yet many actresses have essayed the role of queen and have played it sincerely and convincingly. And I have no doubt that for the time they imagined they were really of royal blood. Well, if a woman can play a queen without ever having been a queen, is it not possible for her to play an outcast without having been one? She does not need to go through a divorce court to imagine how she would feel under such distressing circumstances, and she need not be a deserted wife to portray one on the stage.

I could, I have no doubt, play the role of a burglar or a second-story man with fair success. But to do so it would not be necessary for me to commit a burglary or to climb a porch. I would not require one of my young actors to go out and kill a man merely because the part he is to be called upon to play requires him to commit a murder on the stage.

Personal Magnetism.

Then, the girl who would succeed on the stage must have personal magnetism. This raises the question: What is personal magnetism? I do not know. I have read many definitions of it. I have studied it as described in books and as it unfolds itself in the great living drama of today, but I do not know what it is. I have never formulated a definition of it. I only know that it is God-given, that it cannot be acquired; that some have it and use it; that others lack it and must, therefore, work harder to achieve their purposes. It manifests itself in all sorts of places and in all manners of men and women. It marks the difference between Abraham Lincoln and some of the other men who have been president of the United States, but whose names can be recalled only with difficulty.

Personal magnetism? James G. Blaine had it, and, as a contrast, Richard Croker and even Charles F. Murphy, the leader of Tammany hall, have it. All the great actors, Booth and Forrest, McCullough, Jefferson, Irving, had it. Men who are leaders, no matter in what walk of life, must have it. Napoleon had it in the superlative degree.

Meaning "Work."

I look for personal magnetism when I am considering the candidate for my instruction in stagecraft. With passable good loooks, fair intelligence, an imagination, and some personal magnetism, the rest is merely a question of cultivation and development, which are two longer words meaning work. Take, for example, Miss Starr, who has done what no other actress on the stage, I sincerely believe, could have done in her truly wonderful portrayal of the innocent little novice in Mr. Knoblauch's remarkable play, "Marie-Odile."

I first saw Frances Starr, now playing in "Marie-Odile," when she was in a stock company at the Murray Hall theater about a dozen years ago. She had a minor role, but I was struck by her voice the moment she spoke. I also liked the way she made her entrance. I did not stay to watch her performance, and I cannot say whether it was good or bad, according to the standards of the audience. I had no place for Miss Starr at the time or I should have made her acquaintance.

Her Face Told It All.

The next time I saw her was down at the Garrick theater. She was standing on the steps of a stage coach listening to a description of a race as witnessed by a man on top. She did not say a word, but her face told the story of that race—told how deeply concerned she was in the fate of one jockey, her sweetheart. Her countenance fell as the man on the stage announced that her sweetheart's mount was falling behind; it glowed with pleasure when he forged to the front. She did not say a word; she did not need to speak. Her face told it all. The next day I sent for her, and she has been with me ever since. I trust she will be with me forever.

A Throb in Warfield's Voice.

Then there is David Warfield. It is now, I might say, a matter of history, the manner in which this great artist came to my particular notice while he was appearing in burlesque on the stage of Weber & Field's old music hall. For several years before that time Mr. Warfield had been keeping New York audiences in roars of laughter with his inimitable characterizations of Jewish types, so true to life that one felt while witnessing them as if he actually were strolling through the Ghetto. That he could have such remarkable possibilities for pathos and tragedy had never occurred to anyone, nor, for that matter, would it have occurred to me had I not caught a glimpse on a particular night of a certain fleeting expression on his face and heard a throb in his voice that touched my heart as no human voice ever has done before or since that time. And, strange to say, this was during one of his most hilarious moments in a burlesque!

This expression I can characterize only as a "Savonarola smile." In that smile, elusive, fleeting, saintly, I read the capacity for infinite pathos, and at that moment the determination was born in me to have Mr. Warfield associated with me, an association that has given me much inspiration and happiness. To these two most striking instances I might add the names of scores of others, both men and women, whose talents it has been my good fortune to have observed with more than passing interest. Many of these have since gained distinction both here and abroad, nor has there been in a single instance the least surprise to me that they have done so. In each and every case there was that peculiar indefinable something which even now keeps green the memory of my first meeting with them—that indefinable something which was later to spell for them the word "success."

Also—Luck.

Hardly a day passes but some one asks me the secret. Well, I have said intuition, magnetism and intelligence are essentials. To them I must add—luck. Much depends on that, and there is no way it can be controlled—no way it can be influenced. In any walk of life you see some men succeed and others—equally brilliant, equally daring, equally industrious, equally deserving—fail. These contrasts can be accounted for only as the whims of chance—luck. It is fate; it cannot be controlled. But given a certain amount of intelligence and understanding, and some ability, I can make an actor.

THE "POWDER HOUSE JAG."

Alcohol is greatly feared by the powder people and rightly so. But they cannot eliminate a strange malady that appears among their workmen in the powder mills. As subterranean labor in compressed air produces "the bends," work in the powder mills creates the "powder house jag," which is described as follows by Merle Crowell in The American Magazine:

"A powder house is no place for an unsteady hand or an unseeing eye. But the 'powder house jag,' a freak product of the plants themselves, is something which no amount of diligence can forefend. Large quantities of alcohol are used in the making of smokeless powder, and the air in the shops frequently gets heavy with its fumes. Men have been known to leave the plants reeling and stupefied, while one serious accident recently was caused because a fume-fuddled workman threw on both the high pressure and low pressure brakes at the same time.

"A weird nervous disorder that steals upon powder makers has been called 'powderitis.' Treading all day with rubber-sole shoes in a shop which a vagrant spark will change into a crater, they get keyed up to a nervous tension that never runs down, with the result that even when off-duty they nearly jump through their collars at an unexpected flash of light. Although powder, unless it is confined, does not explode at a spark under normal condition, a powder shop may be changed into an inferno of wildfire in a few seconds."

The use of lime as binding material for mortar, originated in the remote past. One suggestion is that some savages, when using limestone rocks to confine their fire, noticed that the stones were changed by the action of the heat.

MARKET HAS FAIR BREAK

Lack of Export Buying Leads to Weakness in Wheat.

Flaxseed Sells Off Slightly, With Crushers Waiting for Recessions.

Duluth Board of Trade, Jan. 14—The market rallied at the close on a burst of bidding and prices were moved up substantially.

May wheat closed ⅝@¾c off and July ¾c off.

May durum closed ⅞c off and July ⅞c off.

Oats closed ⅜c off at 45¾c for on the track; rye unchanged at 93c and barley unchanged at from 63c to 74c for on the track.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed ¼c off at 48⅜c.

At St. Louis May wheat closed at $1.23⅜ bid, and July at $1.17⅞ bid.

At Kansas City, May wheat closed at $1.18⅞ bid, and July at $1.13¼ bid.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.24, and calls at $1.27¼.

A break was precipitated in the wheat markets today under the influence of a combination of bearish factors. It was reported, for example, that a bill had been introduced into the Canadian parliament proposing reciprocity in wheat. Exporters were also advised to be holding off, and their bids were 2@3c out of line. Philadelphia wired that there does not appear to be much prospect of the embargo against shipments to that port being lifted in the near future, unless considerably more vessel tonnage is supplied. An advance in the freight rate on wheat from New York to the channel ports to 48 cents a bu, a new high point, was regarded with disquitude as showing that shipping conditions are growing worse rather than better.

The effects of the severe storms and the tying-up of railroad traffic over the Northwest was emphasized today in a further falling off in receipts at terminal points. Wheat inspections here today came to 162 cars, but there were only 71 cars of all grains on the tracks for the day. Minneapolis had only 34 cars, compared with 378 a year ago, and Winnipeg reported arrivals of just 144 cars.

Shipments of grain were somewhat better at the seaboard, clearances of wheat and flour amounting to 1,054,600 bu.

With conditions as they were, trading became somewhat quiet on the Duluth market throughout the session. Operators showed an indisposition to increase their commitments, and there was a dearth of outside orders on hand for execution.

May wheat opened ½@⅝c up at $1.26¾, advanced ¼c more and eased off to $1.25, where it stood at the noon hour. Operations in durum were comparatively light, and its market tone was distinctly weak. May durum opened ¼c up at $1.22½, and sold down, 1½c.

Flaxseed Nervous.

Flaxseed showed marked irregularity. After strength at the opening on the execution of a number of buying orders, the market turned easy, with crushers awaiting recessions before again coming to any extent. The close, however, was weak with renewed selling.

Cables showed marked strength, Buenos Aires closed 4½c up at $1.45¼, and London 2⅝c up at $2.93⅞.

May flax opened 2½c up, at $2.46, and closed ⅜c off at $2.43¾ asked. July opened unchanged at $2.42½, and closed ⅝c off at $2.41¾.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed 1¼c off at $2.23¾.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Argentine weather in the past week has been favorable for wheat, but unfavorable for corn. Freights continue to advance, being two shillings six pence higher than Tuesday at 162s 6d. Bidding for tonnage is urgent and the scarcity continues to preclude but very light clearances.

"Buenos Aires wheat closed quiet and more freely offered, owing to congestion at docks. Corn is strong with rain insufficient and higher export bids."

Modern Miller says: "Extremely low temperatures over the entire winter wheat belt gave the wheat plant a severe test. The plant had no snow protection, but the blizzard was preceded by rain and a trace of snow. Temperatures ranged from zero to 20 below and in North Texas 9 deg. below was recorded. In districts where the plant was weakened by insects, it is probable winter kill will be shown. The Ohio river has reached flood stage in the Evansville district, and the Wabash and White rivers and tributaries are out of their banks, flooding adjacent wheat fields. The forecast is for the highest stage of water in this district since 1913."

Russell's News, New York, said: "Export demand as so far developed is very quiet. Cables, generally, were very dull. Some of the cables brought inquiries, and sales of wheat were reported in the English markets at the highest prices of the season, but this was offset by the condition of freights. The rate to Bristol Channels was up to 15s 6d paid with 16 shillings asked, or 48c per bu.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Rumors of Advance in Freight Rates Has Bearish Effect on Wheat.

Chicago, Jan. 14.—Rumors that a fresh advance in freight rates to Europe was likely, had a bearish effect today on wheat. In this connection, Liverpool reports said that buyers were holding off on the chance that the British government might soon intervene to control the rapidly growing tendency to hoist vessel charges. The passing of the cold wave operated also as an advantage to the bears. Opening prices, which ranged from ⅛@¼c decline to ¼@⅜c advance, were followed by a slight upturn, and then a material setback all around.

Later the market suffered a further drop to reports that a bill to remove the Canadian duty on wheat had been introduced at Ottawa. Besides, pessimistic views were circulated as to chances that the railroad embargoes East might continue for an indefinite time. The close was nervous, ¾@⅞c to ⅞@1c net lower, with May at $1.27½ and July at $1.20¾.

Better weather conditions eased the corn market. Longs showed a disposition to realized profits. After opening half a cent off to ⅛c up, prices underwent a moderate general sag.

An additional decline resulted from advices that corn was being bought to come here from Kansas City. The close was weak at ¾@⅞c to 1⅛c net decline.

Wheat—No. 2 red, nominal; No. 3 red, $1.21@1.23½; No. 2 hard, $1.23½@1.23⅜; No. 3 hard, $1.17⅜@1.20.

Corn—No. 2 yellow, nominal; No. 4 yellow, 72½@74c; No. 4 white, 72@74c.

Oats—No. 3 white, 45¾@47c; standard, 48@48½c.

Rye—No. 2, 96½@97c; barley, 66@79c; timothy, $6.00@7.85; clover, $10.00@19.00. Pork, $18.00@19.00; lard, $10.27@10.47; ribs, $10.00@10.45.

Oats weakened with corn and wheat. Pit traders were free sellers.

Scattered selling by longs was sufficient to weigh down provisions. The selling appeared to be based on the lowering of prices on grain and hogs.

ACTIVITY IN MANY STOCKS

Specialties and Other Issues Recover From Recent Decline.

War Stocks Make Further Gains in the Final Hour.

New York, Jan. 14.—Recoveries from yesterday's late decline were scored at the opening of today's market, American Smelting and Mexican Petroleum soon rising 1¾ and 2¾ points respectively from final prices of that session. There were gains also of 2 to 5 points in shares of the special class, particularly American coal products, Industrial Alcohol, International Nickel, Agricultural Chemical, Crucible Steel and American Tobacco. Bethlehem Steel rose 1 to 440, but United States Steel made only a small fractional gain. Other recognized leaders showed minor changes.

During the dull first hour today the stock market was diverted by further activity in manipulative specialties, but heaviness again ensued when selling of Mexican stocks, notably Smelting and Petroleum, was resumed. War shares like Crucible Steel and Baldwin Locomotive also denoted pressure or liquidation, and United States Steel fell back ½@1 point from a rise to 85½. The only constructive feature of the morning was activity in Mercantile Marine issues, preferred shares rising 2¼ to 80⅝ and the 4½ per cent certificates 1½ to 99¾, both new records. Prices hardened again at midday. Bonds were irregular.

War industrials led the mid-day rise, Crucible advancing 7⅝ points over yesterday's final price to 67¾, and Bethlehem Steel extended its gain to 455. Other steel shares, as well as the telephone and telegraph issues displayed marked strength.

Less apprehension concerning Mexican affairs contributed to today's broad and active market with appreciable recoveries in numerous specialties.

Prominent war shares, particularly Crucible, Baldwin and American Locomotive, American Car and Air Brake, made further gains in the final hour. The closing was strong.

ABSENT-MINDED ABNER—This Shows His Versatility--and Mobility

By Walt McDougall

MORE FREIGHT CARS AT HAND

Grain Movement Crisis Past; Other Traffic Still Heavy.

As a result of the peak of the grain movement being over, the railroads are gradually getting into a better position as regards available freight cars. Traffic of the Northwestern roads continues heavy, current earnings showing substantial gains over last year. Earnings of the Northern Pacific, Great Northern, Milwaukee and Soo railroads are reported to be setting new high records for the season and their traffic departments are confident that the heavy freight movement will continue right through up till the summer months.

Reports from the seaboard are to the effect that conditions are beginning to improve and it is hoped that the embargoes against shipments to New York and Boston will be at least partially lifted within ten days. In the meantime some shipments of domestic grain and Canadian bonded wheat are going forward from Duluth to Philadelphia. The storms and cold weather conditions of the last few days have, however, acted as a break against that movement.

The surplus of idle freight cars increased during December, according to the report of the American Railway association. On Jan. 1 there was a net surplus of 46,955 cars, as compared with 38,199 on Dec. 1. There were 3,391 idle boxcars as against 596 the month previous. The flat car surplus was 8,835, compared with 7,292 and the surplus coal cars stood at 14,706, as against 7,292 on Dec. 1.

District Doctors Elect.

Grand Forks, N. D., Jan. 14.—The annual meeting of the Grand Forks District Medical society elected the following officers: President, Dean Harley E. French; vice president, Dr. Thomas Mulligan; secretary, Dr. H. G. Woutat; treasurer, Dr. C. S. Marsden; censor, Dr. A. S. Braerud; delegate to the state society meeting, Dr. L. D. Belstol.

Busy N. P. Division.

Jamestown, N. D., Jan. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Never in the history of the Dakota division of the Northern Pacific railroad have the traffic demands been as heavy as during the last two months, according to Supt. Berner of the division.

DO YOU WANT TO BE A LANDLORD

There is no better way than to first buy your own home. It will take only a few years of your usual rent money to pay for it.

THEN YOU WILL HAVE FORMED THE HABIT of making a monthly payment on an investment, and as surely as night follows day you will buy another house, or build another, and resell it to someone who has not yet learned the lesson of paying rent to himself.

On the second investment you make, the terms will work out easier because while you will be paying something out every month you will also be collecting a similar amount from your customer.

OTHERS HAVE DONE THIS and why not you? The majority of our middle rich people started with a small investment, just as a baby learns to walk by creeping.
